GLEASON — GUTTERSON

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at Watch Hill, R. I., on Saturday, June 26, when Miss Mary Taylor Gutterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Gutterson of Watch Hill and New York City, became the bride of Frederick Carlisle Gleason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gleason of Montpelier, Vt. Miss Gutterson's father lived in Winchester as a boy, his father being the late Rev. George H. Gutterson, a Congregational clergyman and for many years a resident of this town.

Saturday's ceremony was performed in the Watch Hill Chapel by the Rev. John H. Esquirol of Southport, Conn. The bride wore a cream satin gown trimmed with rosepoint and Duchess lace, and an heirloom lace veil.

Miss Idella L. Tapley of Winchester was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. David G. Nichols of Westbury, L. I., sister of the bridegroom; Miss Anne Curtis of Southport, Conn., Miss Susanne G. Rhoads of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Miss Priscilla P. Green of Chicago, Ill., cousin of the bride. All the bridal attendants were gowned in aqua and yellow marquisette.

David G. Nichols of Westbury, L. I., was best man for his brother-in-law, and the usher corps comprised, Wilder Gutterson, Jr., brother of the bride; Laurence Carstensen of Cambridge, cousin of the bridegroom; Joseph W. Potter, Jr., also of Cambridge; and Dr. James M. Bunce of Hartford, Conn.

After their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Gleason will live in New York City. The bride attended the Shipley School and was graduated from Smith College. During the war she served as a lieutenant (j.g.) in the WAVES. Mr. Gleason served as a lieutenant commander in the Navy. He prepared for college at the Loomis School and is a graduate of Yale.

FERRO — DE SANTIS

At Sacred Heart Church in Waltham on Sunday afternoon, June 27, Miss Angelina Rose De Santis, daughter of Mrs. Rose De Santis of Oak street, Waltham, became the bride of Joseph Peter Ferro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guiseppe Ferro of Harvard street. The ceremony was performed at 3:30 o'clock by Father Joseph and a reception followed at Howard Johnson's in Waltham. Soloist at the wedding was Miss Rose Columtano who sang appropriate hymns.

Given in marriage by her nephew, Carl Toscano of Waltham, the bride wore a Queen Elizabeth style gown of white satin with a beaded front and rosettes on the long train of the skirt. She wore a matching illusion veil arranged with a self cap and carried a white prayer book with an orchid.

Miss Dorothy Rose Toscano of Waltham, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a dress of blue taffeta with a crown of red roses and a bouquet of matching flowers. Charles Ferro of Winchester was best man for his brother.

After a wedding journey to Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Ferro will live at 17 Oak street in Waltham.

KEYES — WHASAL

Miss Virginia Eve Whasal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Whasal of Spring street, Brockton, and Samuel Symmes Keyes, son of Mrs. Walter Prescott Keyes of Sanborn street, and the late Mr. Keyes, were married at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 26, at St. Patrick's Rectory in Brockton by the Rev. Joseph W. Kenney. A reception followed at the Toll House in Whitman.

The bride, wearing a white suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white orchids, was attended by her sister, Miss Leona Whasal of Brockton. She wore brown orchids with her coral suit and her accessories were cocoa brown. W. Prescott Keyes of Winchester was his brother's best man.

The bride attended Boston University College of Practical Arts and Letters. Mr. Keyes, who is associated with the Aetna Life Insurance Company, graduated in June from Boston University College of Business Administration. During the war he served with the United States Army in the European Theatre, being discharged with the rank of captain

MISS NUZUM, MR. BOND ENGAGED

Mr. George R. Nuzum of Belmont announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Kathryn Genevieve Nuzum, to Donald F. Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Bond of Winslow road.

Both young people are graduates of the School of Practical Art. Mr. Bond attended Boston University and served with the Navy in the South Pacific area during the war.

CIMINA — VALENTE

Miss Anna Valente, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Valente of Franklin street, Stoneham, was married to Dominic Cimina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Cimina of 895 Main street, on Sunday afternoon, June 27, at St. Patrick's Church in Stoneham by Rev. Fr. Charles Duggan. White gladiolas decorated the altar for the ceremony which took place at 3:30 o'clock. Miss Frances Koprek sang "Mother at Thy Feet is Kneeling" and the "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown having a pearl embroidered nylon net bodice and a satin skirt extending to form a long train. Her full length matching veil was caught to a tiara of pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white gladiolas and babies' breath.

Miss Mary Valente of Stoneham, was her sister's honor maid and Miss Joanne Bono of Everett, small niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

The honor maid wore a dress of orchid marquisette and lace, with a matching hat and carried yellow roses and gladiolas. The flower girl wore a yellow marquisette frock with yellow satin streamers and matching bonnet. Her flowers were orchid gladiolas.

Joseph Cimina of Charlestown was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Salvatore Valente of Stoneham, brother of the bride; Louis Fionda of Stoneham, cousin of the bride; Joseph Russo and Dominic Provinzano, both of Winchester.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Marconi Hall in Stoneham, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the bridal attendants.

After a trip by motor to Washington, D. C., and through Virginia and Connecticut, Mr. and Mrs. Cimina will live in Winchester. They will be at home after July 11 at 895 Main street.

EWELL — CROSIER

White flowers and ferns decorated the First Baptist Church on Friday afternoon, June 18, when Miss Marion Frances Crosier, daughter of Mrs. William W. Crosier of Pine street, and the late Mr. Crosier, became the bride of Philip Lawrence Ewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Ewell of Grayson road. The Rev. Walter Lee Bailey performed the marriage ceremony at 2 o'clock and the bridal music was played by Mrs. Frederick C. MacDonald. Mrs. Robert Abrahamson was soloist.

Miss Crosier was attended by Miss Vivian F. Blundell of Lynn, and John Harris of Winchester was Mr. Ewell's best man.

The bride wore a pink suit with white accessories and a white rose corsage. The honor maid wore pink roses with her aquamarine suit.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parlors where the setting was also white flowers and ferns. The bride's mother and the parents of the bridegroom assisted in receiving with the maid of honor.

After a wedding journey to New York Mr. and Mrs. Ewell will live in Cambridge at 27 Irving street.

The bride attended Waltham and Winchester High Schools and is a graduate of Westbrook Junior College. Mr. Ewell, who is a surveyor's assistant, graduated from Winchester High School and served in the United States Navy during the war.

SIEHDHOF — DEAN

In the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon, June 26, at 4 o'clock, Mrs. Ethel Knowlton Dean of Stetson Hall and Mr. Carl F. A. Siehdhof of Harrison street were married by the Reverend Paul Harmon Chapman.

Mrs. Dean has taught French in the Winchester High School for the past twenty-four years. She is a graduate of Colby College, did postgraduate work at the University of Toulouse and the Sorbonne in Paris and received her Master's degree from the Middlebury French School. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Chi Omega, the Winchester Teachers' Club, the Winchester Art Association, the Alliance Francaise, and the French Library Association of Boston.

Mr. Siehdhof is a graduate of Harvard College, a member of the Institute of 1770, the Hasty Pudding, the Boston City Club, the Telephone Pioneers of America, the Sons of the American Revolution, and the Winchester Historical Society. He is now retired having for many years served as Secretary of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Siehdhof will reside in Winchester.

Miss Dorothy Jansen, formerly an executive at Filene's, and who has spent the winter as a member of the teaching faculty at LaSell, has returned to Filene's for the summer.

CLAXTON — SMITH

Wearing her great-grandmother's wedding gown of white moire with a lace veil belonging to the bridegroom's mother, and carrying a bouquet of white iris and stephanotis, Miss Barbara Jane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Smith of Wildwood street, was married on Saturday afternoon, June 26, at the First Congregational Church to Edmund Van Stralen Claxton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Claxton of Wheatland ave, Lancaster, Pa. Dr. Theodore C. Speers of the Presbyterian Church of New York City officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony, being assisted by the pastor of the First Congregational Church, Dr. Howard J. Chidley.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor attendant Miss Cornelia C. Claxton of Lancaster, Pa., sister of the bridegroom. Miss Jean Bunten, Miss Anne Richardson, Miss Ruth Tapley and Miss Virginia Wallace, all of Winchester, were bridesmaids.

All the bridal attendants wore identical dresses of ice-blue taffeta with Peter Pan collars, cap sleeves and full skirts styled with a Polonaise drape. The honor maid carried a bouquet of purple iris and white daisies while the bridesmaids' bouquets combined purple iris and marguerites. Flowers matching their bouquets were worn in their hair.

Arthur R. McElfish of Chicago, Ill., was best man for Mr. Claxton, and the usher corps comprised William J. Harrington of Willimantic, Conn., John H. Hess of Lancaster, Pa., John F. Kibbe of Winchester, cousin of the bride; and Kenneth F. Spoor of Birmingham, Mich.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Music Hall, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with maid of honor and bridesmaids.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, was gowned in pale lavender chiffon and satin. Her hat was of purple, coral and light blue bands and she wore a corsage of purple orchids. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Claxton, wore a pale gray dress of lace and chiffon with a gray hat trimmed with lavender and pink roses and lilacs. Her corsage was of butterfly orchids.

After a wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Claxton will live in Philadelphia for three months and then go on to Schenectady, N. Y.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Smith College in the class of 1948. Mr. Claxton, who is associated with the General Electric Company, prepared for college at the Hill School in Pennsylvania and is a graduate of Lehigh.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDAL AWARDED TO HAROLD B. RICHMOND

At a public ceremony held Tuesday afternoon at New England Mutual Hall in Boston General Courtney Hodges of Governor's Island, N. Y., pinned the Medals For Merit on a small group of scientists in the Greater Boston area. These medals were awarded by order of President Truman for outstanding accomplishments during World War II. The Medal For Merit is the highest civilian award given.

This medal was conferred on Dr. Harold B. Richmond of 30 Swan road for his outstanding work in the field of Guided Missiles including the use of television. During the war, in addition to his position as Chairman of the Board of the General Radio Co, Dr. Richmond served on a voluntary basis, without compensation, as chief of the Guided Missiles Division of the National Defense Research Defense Committee. It was under his direction that there was developed the only guided missile which received effective use in the entire allied armies. This missile was used in the Italian and French campaigns and also was largely responsible for the re-capture of Burma in the Pacific Theatre. Some of the basic principles developed in this work are now the basis of a very extended program on the part of the military for a new type of warfare and defense Since the end of the war Dr. Richmond has been serving as chairman of the National Academy of Science' Advisory Committee to the Army Ordinance Department in the field of Guided Missiles.

McCORMACK'S CHANGES HANDS

It's still in the McCormack family, but on July 1 McCormack's Apothecary at 588 Main street passed from the ownership of Henry J. McCormack, who has moved to Billerica, and became the property of his younger brother, Fred W. McCormack, who will continue the business. The apothecary is an old line Winchester institution, run in the late nineties and early nineteen hundreds by Young & Brown, and later for many years by the late Frank H. Knight.

The new owner is a graduate of Winchester High school and one of its best football linemen during his undergraduate days, being a watch-charm guard who won all-Middlesex honors. He is a registered pharmacist, a graduate of Franklin Union School of Pharmacy, and served during the war as a Chief Pharmacist's Mate in the Navy.

SENIOR LIFE SAVING NOTICE

Senior life saving classes will start on Monday evening, July 5, at Palmer Beach. All applicants should report to Instructor Donald Armstrong by 7 p. m.

WINCHESTER'S "JIMMY DAY" SUCCESSFUL

Winchester had a successful "Jimmy Day" in aid of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation last Saturday, raising $496.07 by contributions during the day, which with previous collections totalled $805.51 for the town. This total does not represent all that the town has given to the "Jimmy Day" campaign, Beggs & Cobb employees having raised $450 at the Swanton street plant, while many others have sent contributions direct to the radio sponsors or the Boston Braves committee.

Winchester's active participation in the "Jimmy" cancer campaign is really due to "Larry" Penta of the Star press-room staff who, while listening to Jim Britt announce contributors to the fund at a Braves baseball game, was disappointed to hear no Winchester contribution mentioned.

"Larry" decided something ought to be done about it and talked with a buddy, Fred "Polock" McCormack, of McCormack's Apothecary, who shared his feelings and agreed to take steps with "Larry" to get some sort of campaign going in Winchester.

Fred got a lot of ice cream cartons and Larry went into the Star press-room printing signs for the cartons, which the pair, assisted by Don McFarlane of McCormack's and Nancy Woodward, placed in stores and banks around town. From these boxes was realized $200.43 as a starter.

A barrel was also placed in front of McCormack's Pharmacy, properly designated with signs, lettered by big "Bob" Jackson, Navy veteran and one of Winchester High's great football stars in recent years. This barrel finally yielded $59.01. Checks to the amount of $50 were received by "Larry" and Fred, who were finally named co-chairmen for Winchester's official "Jimmy Day," sanctioned by the Selectmen last Saturday.

Organized and directed by the indefatigable Don MacFarlane of "Ubangi" fame, a group of Winchester girls were sent out after contributions on Saturday. In the group were Ann Ordway, Pat McDermott, Shirley Hamilton, Carolyn Smith, Mary Penta, Terry Faieta, Wanda Whiting, Betty MacIsaac, Lyssie Norian, Doris Zimmerman, Nancy Woodward, Sally Carlisle, Lois Hottel, Mary Principe and Martha Crockett. Boys selling tags during the day, besides McFarlane, were Dick Madden, Bob Roth, Jack Morgan, Jerry Groden, Peter Clark, Bob Horne, and John Hammond.

Shirley Hamilton brought in $51.22 to win the orchid corsage, donated by Neil E. Boyle, florists, of Malden, for the girl making the largest collection during the day. Second prize, donated by McCormack's Apothecary, went to Lois Hottel, who collected $47.30 in a relatively short space of time. Bob Horne made the third largest collection, $32.73.

Helping to maintain interest in the drive were the Rhythm Makers, high school jazz band, comprising Fred Walsh, John Hammond, Jim Hennessey and Bob Mason, who whooped it up with snappy strains all afternoon at vantage points in the center, attracting plenty of attention.

The Winchester Committee for "Jimmy Day" included "Larry" Penta and Fred McCormack, chairmen; Don McFarlane, assistant chairman; Bob Goodhue, Nancy Woodward and George Butler.

FIFTY-FOURTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Noonan of 27 Sheridan Circle, long time and highly esteemed residents of Winchester, observed their 54th wedding anniversary Sunday, June 27. The observance was a quiet one of a family nature, although many old friends took the opportunity to extend congratulations and best wishes. A year ago Mr. Noonan was in the Winchester Hospital with a broken hip. Both he and Mrs. Noonan are now well though Mr. Noonan's eyes bother him so that his principal activity is following the ballgames on the radio. He is a retired employee of the Highway Department and has the distinction of being the first permanent member of the Fire Department, in which he was later for many years a call captain.

Among the Noonan children are two well known servants of the town, Captain J. Edward Noonan of the Fire Department and Patrolman James F. Noonan of the Police Department. Another son, the late John H. Noonan, was a sergeant in the Police Department when he died.

FIRST UNION SUMMER SERVICE AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The first of the Union Summer services of the Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Unitarian churches of Winchester will be held in the first Baptist Church Sunday morning, July 4th. The pastor, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, will preach on "This Country Under God." Mildred Zwicker Abrahamson will be the soprano soloist.

A cordial welcome is extended to everyone to worship at these Summer Union services during the summer months.

ELECTED TO ORANGE KEY

William Carlyle Cusack, Jr., a student at Hobart College has been selected for the Orange Key Sophomore Honor Society. This honor is conferred each year upon those members of the freshman class who are deemed to be outstanding in extra curricular activities. Cusack the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cusack, Sr., who reside at 2 Lakeview road has earned his freshman football and lacrosse numerals.

BETA SIGMA PHI INITIATES NEW CHAPTER

Twenty-four pledges were initiated Tuesday night into Beta Sigma Phi, international cultural and social sorority, at a candlelight ritualistic service at the Masonic Hall under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Fekays of the sorority's headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri.

Hostesses for the ceremony were members of the Boston Omega Chapter. Official hostesses were Mrs. Della Currie, director of Omega; Mrs. Robert W. Murphy, sponsor and Miss Bernice Holmes director of Arlington Alpha Pi; Mrs. Ruth Fuller, director of Arlington Alpha Omicron.

Tradition was carried out in the decoration motif, which consisted of yellow roses and black candles in crystal holders.

Following the initiation pictures were made of the new chapter and refreshments were served.

The following officers and committees were named:

President - Janet Sargent
Vice President - Margaret Hodgdon
Recording Secretary - Marie Barron
Corresponding Secretary - Genevieve O'Melia
Treasurer - Barbara Bucci
Program Chairman - Marjorie McGaw
Program Committee - Adelaide Hansen, Marguerite Troop, Margaret Hoag
Social Chairmen - Esther and Frances Capone
Social Committee - Audry Rice, Louise Perkins, Phyllis Russell, Ruby Brown, Barbara Stone
Ways and Means Chairmen - Virginia Danforth, Evelyn Hawes, Dorothy Osborne, Mildred Swanson, Barbara Patterson, Margaret Port, Catherine Guiliani
Publicity Chairman - Barbara Stone
Historian - Susan Joyce
Courtesy Chairman - Dorothy Osborne
Contact, Committee - Marie Barron, Mildred Swanson, Evelyn Hawes, Susan Joyce

It was voted that regular bimonthly program meetings will be held the second and fourth Mondays of each month starting in September.

A "get-acquainted" party in the form of a weinie roast will be held Monday evening, July 12th at 7 p. m. at the home of Miss Adelaide Hanson, 2 Ainsworth road.

The basic principles of the sorority are cultural and social, and its purpose is to enroll young business girls and young married women to continue their cultural interests with a congenial and active group.

MRS. AMY PRESCOTT WILD

Mrs. Amy Prescott Wild, widow of Benjamin F. Wild, died Wednesday afternoon, June 30, only four days before her 90th birthday.

Mrs. Wild was born in Billerica July 5, 1858, the daughter of Luther W., and Martha (Merriam) Faulkner. She attended the Billerica schools and was a member of the first class at Wellesley College.

In 1880 she married Mr. Wild and they lived in Somerville until 1920 when they came to Winchester. Her husband, a member of the firm of Wellington, Wild Co., coal dealers, died in 1930. In addition to several organizations of a social or service nature, Mrs. Wild was a member of the Unitarian Church and the Unitarian Woman's Alliance.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Thomas R. Aldrich of Winchester; two sons, Paul R. Wild of Medford and Prescott F. Wild of Winchester; 10 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 3:30 at Bigelow Chapel in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. The Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, will officiate.

POLICE CHIEF ASKS CARE OVER FOURTH

Police Chief Charles J. Harrold is reminding readers of the STAR that possibilities for accidents are always at their peak over a holiday weekend like the coming observance of the Fourth of July. Cars will be on the road in great numbers as people head for mountain and beach resorts and the authorities are planning an intensive traffic safety program with a view to keeping motor mishaps at a minimum. Most of the nation's cities and towns are carrying out traffic regulation enforcement programs to prevent the high death toll which the National Safety Council says usually occurs during holiday periods.

"The Fourth this year will be a time of real hazard," Chief Harrold told the "STAR," because of the long weekend, the holiday spirit and large numbers of new cars adding to those already on the road.

"We Police", he said, "are urging all residents of the town to make Winchester one place where death and disaster do not become the price our people must pay for their Fourth of July celebration."

Incidentally, neither the sale nor discharge of fireworks is permitted in Winchester, or anywhere in the State. Inquiries which the police are receiving daily and complaints of the premature explosion of firecrackers have lead the authorities to believe that many do not know about this public safety repulation.

REP. CHADWICK CANDIDATE FOR REELECTION

Harrison Chadwick, 24 Everett avenue, announced this week that he will be a candidate for reelection to the office of State Representative. Mr. Chadwick is a Republican and is currently serving his first term in the General Court. He represents the 29th Middlesex District, covering Winchester and Ward I in Woburn.

Dr. and Mrs. William D. Barone and daughter have returned from a short vacation in Lanesville on Cape Ann.

TEA MARKED 80TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Nathaniel M. Nichols of Mystic Valley Parkway and her daughter, Mrs. Frederick N. Pierce of Wellesley Hills, were hostesses at a tea in the Music Hall on Bacon street on Tuesday, June 29th. The tea celebrated Mrs. Nichol's eightieth birthday.

Mrs. Nichols, a resident of Winchester for the past forty-seven years, has been unusually active in the affairs of the town during this time. At a recent meeting of the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross she was made honorary Life Member in recognition of the devoted service she has given that cause for many years. She was formerly President of the Winchester Fortnightly Woman's Club and for over thirty years has been almost continuously a member of its board of directors. She was founder and twice president of the active Mothers' Association of Winchester. She was also founder of the Winchester Historical Society. For years she has been a member of the Winchester Hospital Association serving on various committees. She is a past president and active member of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton Association. She has served as Treasurer and Secretary of the Woman's Republican Club of Winchester and director of the League of Women Voters. A member of the First Congregational Church, she has always had a keen interest and active part in the work of the young people of that church, organizing the children's choir and serving as director of the Sunday School. She recently completed her term of office as Regent of her Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and is at present one of the twelve State Councillors. She was a delegate from her Chapter and represented the State officers at the recent Congress in Washington.

Besides her activities in Winchester, Mrs. Nichols has served as Vice-President of the New England Women's Club of Boston and was for years on its board of directors. She was a charter member of the President's Club of Massachusetts and has held many offices in that club made up of past presidents of the Federated Clubs.

Acting as pourers at the tea were Mrs. Warren S. Currier of Newburyport, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. Frank S. Larkin, of Wellesley, State Treasurer of that organization, and Mrs. Terry Schuman of Arlington, State Secretary; Mrs. Melville T. Nichols, and Miss Ruth Lawrence of Medford, Mrs. R. C. Hodgkinson and Mrs Paul Ingraham of Wellesley Hills, Mrs. Bowen Tufts of Arlington, and Mrs. George A. Dutting and Mrs. Ruth D. Hilton of Winchester.

MISS ALICE EUDORA CHAPMAN

Funeral services for Miss Alice Eudora Chapman, formerly for many years a resident of Winchester, were held recently at the Union Congregational Church in Groton. She was the daughter of the late Charles H. Chapman of 94 Highland avenue, and lived in Winchester until 1934 when she went to make her home in Groton. For several years before faculty members were assigned to this service she coached Winchester High School Junior-Senior Class plays in the days when they were held in the town hall.

A native of Lunenburg, Miss Chapman was graduated from Lawrence Academy, and later studied elocution and the dramatic arts at the New England Conservatory of Music and Emerson College, before returning to the academy to serve it for a time as preceptress. She subsequently operated her own dramatics school in Fitchburg.

During the past 14 years, Miss Chapman had divided her time between Greater Boston and Florida, where she each year directed the dramatic program of the Three-Quarter Century Club of St. Petersburg.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Cora L. Farwell of Groton, and three brothers, Charles H. Chapman of Winchester, Frank B. Chapman of Nashua, N. H., and Fred Chapman of Pepperell.

MRS. ANNIE B. MARION'S BEQUEST TO THE WINCHESTER LIBRARY

The Trustees of the Library are deeply grateful for the $500.00 bequest from Mrs. Marion, legal notice of which they received at their last meeting.

They have been happy to learn from the librarian that Mrs. Marion for a considerable number of years, prior to leaving Winchester, had spent a large part of her time at the library, coming in practically every day, and taking special enjoyment in reading there the current newspapers and magazines.

MR. RODGERS LEAVES WINCHESTER HIGH

Mr. William H. Rodgers, since 1939 a member of the teaching staff at Winchester High School, has resigned to become superintendent of schools in the West Bridgewater-Raynham Union. He assumes his new duties August 1.

Mr. Rodgers, a teacher of mathematics and varsity tennis coach, has been for the past year assistant to the principal of the high school, serving in the Wadleigh building. A graduate of Maryville College in Tennessee, he received his Master's Degree in Education from Harvard in 1937.

Mr. and Mrs. Erskine N. White are spending the month at their summer home "Brae Head", Center Sandwich, N. H.

COMING EVENTS

July 6, Tuesday. Flower Mission. Leave flowers at Railroad Station for 9 a. m. train.

July 6, Tuesday, 8:00 p. m. Regular meeting of Winchester Lodge of Elks Lyceum Hall.

JULY FOURTH PROGRAM

Winchester's July Fourth program will be curtailed this year, due largely to the fact that the amount appropriated by the town is insufficient to provide an all day program in view of greatly increased prices all along the line.

Tom Duddy, of Aberjona Post, V. F. W., who with Ralph Scott of Winchester Post, American Legion is in charge of arrangements, has announced that there will be no playground games at Leonard Field this year.

Instead it is planned to give the children a better show in the morning at the town hall with the possibility of a couple of novel features at that time if all goes well.

The town hall will open at 9:30 and the show will commence at 10, continuing for two hours, with a magician and Punch and Judy Show as the principal features. All children attending the show will be given flags upon entering the hall, and at the conclusion of the entertainment will be given ice cream. Only children who are Winchester residents will be admitted to the hall.

The town bells will be rung as usual at 7 o'clock in the morning, at 12 noon and at 6 p. m.

P. T. FOLEY IN NEW OFFICE

On Wednesday of this week P. T. Foley & Company, plumbing and heating contractors as well as realtors and insurance brokers, moved their offices from Main street near the First National Market to the quarters formerly occupied by the Snug Haven Gift Shop in the Lyceum Building on Mt. Vernon street.

Now chairman of the Board of Assessors and serving his second term on the Board, Mr. Foley went into the plumbing and heating business in 1922, soon after his return from service in World War I. He was then located in the old Taylor store on upper Main street opposite Blanchard's.

He moved to the old Cogswell Bakery building on the site of the present First National Building, and then temporarily to Common street while he was tearing down the bakery and the old Winchester Hotel to make room for the building occupied by the super-market.

He returned to occupy an office in that building in 1941 and has remained there until this week.

Mr. Foley went into the real estate business in 1924. In 1927 he sold the Jenney Station on Main street, built several houses in Rangely in 1928-29, erected the big building on Main street in 1941 and acquired the Lyceum Building in 1947.

CONGREGATIONAL HONOR TO DR. LOBINGIER

At the recent biennial meeting of the General Council of Congregational Christian Churches, held at Oberlin, Ohio, June 17-24, Dr. John Leslie Lobingier of 4 Manchester road was one of four men from different parts of the United States to receive citations for "distinguished service". These awards were made by the Board of Home Missions.

It is the custom of the Board, at each meeting of the General Council, to give four citations, one being for service in the field of religious education. At the 1946 Council meeting this honor was conferred upon Dean Luther A. Weigle of Yale Divinity School. At the 1948 Council, just concluded, it was given to Dr. Lobingier, who is Secretary of Religious Education for the Massachusetts Congregational Conference.

The closing paragraph of the citation reads as follows: "John Leslie Lobingier, a cooperative protestantism has honored you with many important responsibilities. We of your own fellowship, grateful for your faithful service to Congregational Christian Churches, covet your continued counsel in our expanding program of Christian education. The Board of Home Missions, representing the Congregational Christian Churches of the United States, cites you for meritorious service."

FLOWER MISSION

In spite of the inclement Spring weather the gardens seem to have flourished and The Flower Mission hampers have been full to over flowing. Last week the peonies were plentiful and very beautiful.

The ladies of St. Mary's Church have done a fine work. In July, Mrs. Galucia will be chairman of the group from Crawford Memorial Church.

Please keep up the good work and remember, that even a few flowers will make some "shut-in" happy.

The Town Softball League continued on its merry way during the past week with frequent upsets taking place, although no team has been able to muster sufficient strength as yet to defeat the strong V. F. W. The Rockets won three games during the week to establish themselves as strong contenders for one of the play-off positions. The Maguire Motors edged the Sons of Italy 5 to 3 in one of the best played games of the week and also took a forfeited game from the Sachems to considerably improve their league standing.

Most of the teams have now completed their first round schedule and appear to be very evenly matched except for the Vets who look too strong for the others, and the Comets and Red Shirts who are having more than their share of hard luck. It should be a great fight among eight teams for the three other play-off positions, conceding one position to the Vets. A lot can happen during this second round, however, as the teams have their personnel definitely established by this time and are through experimenting.

One of the best games of next week should come on Tuesday evening at Ginn Field when the V. F. W. and the Sons of Italy cross bats. The first game between these two teams was a thriller with the Vets pulling it out of the fire in the final inning on a long home run smash by Joe Duran.

The schedule for next week:

Tuesday, July 6

V. F. W. vs Sons of Italy (Ginn)
K. of C. vs Beggs & Cobb (West Side)

Wednesday, July 7

Atomics vs Maguire Motors (Ginn)
St. Mary's vs Rockets (West Side)
Sachems vs Red Shirts (Shore Rd)

Thursday, July 8

Comets vs V. F. W. (Ginn)
Beggs & Cobb vs Sons of Italy (West Side)

Friday, July 9

K. of C. vs Comets (Ginn)

JUNIOR LEGION GAME RAINED OUT

The Winchester Junior American Legion baseball team was leading the Arlington Junior Legion team at Arlington on Wednesday evening by a 1 to 0 score when the game was called because of rain in the last half of the third inning. Winchester had scored in the second inning on a nice hit to left center by "Major" Daniels, who advanced to second base as John Power grounded out, and scored as Paul Amico singled sharply to center field. Paul Roche, on the mound for the locals, was pitching good ball and had not allowed a hit with two out in the last of the third when the game was called.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Russell Mann of Fenwick road, have left for their summer home in Cushing, Maine, where they will spend the summer.

WINCHESTER WON PAUL REVERE OPENER

Winchester on its first start in the second half of the Paul Revere League series on Leonard Field Tuesday evening, beating the Belmont Braves, 7-2.

Tall Vern Slack, high school fast-baller, held the impressive looking visitors to four hits while walking one for a good seven-inning chore. The locals got only six hits from three Belmont hurlers, but bunched their bingles effectively, especially in the three-run third when Coon, Donaghey and Slack hit safely.

Gibson, Holy Cross freshman first sacker playing for Belmont, was the only player on either team to hit safely twice. Belmont made a very snappy appearance in white suits and given, effective pitching, will be hard to beat. Winchester has a good fielding team that could stand more punch at the bat, though as long as the locals get the brand of pitching Slack showed Tuesday the other League teams will have no cinch with them. ST. MARY'S INTERMEDIATES BEAT NORTH READING 4-3

St. Theresa's of North Reading fell to a never say die team on Friday evening at North Reading when St. Mary's rallied behind Don Kenton to emerge the victors 4 to 3. Jack Nowell pitched to two batters before relinquishing to Don. The North Reading field was poorly laid out and the mound gave Nowell a bit of trouble. St. Theresa's got 2 runs in the 1st and 1 in the 2nd but St. Mary's rallied in the 3rd when Williams walked and Nowell slashed out a pretty double then Sammy Kenton who has been hitting wonderfully, knocked in the second run with a single. In the 4th St. Mary's clinched it when Don Kenton walked, Patterson and Williams both singled O'Brien got a "fielder's choice" and Nowell hit safely total 2 runs. The score St. Mary's 4 runs, 5 hits 2 errors; St. Theresa's 3 runs, 5 hits no errors. Kenton for St. Mary's had 8 strike-outs while Spindler had 6. Each pitcher walked two men. Playing for St. Mary's were S. Kenton, left field; Barry, center field; Power, short stop; D. Kenton, 1st base and pitcher; Haggerty 2nd base; Patterson, catcher; Williams, 3rd base; O'Brien, right field; Nowell, pitcher and 1st base; and Rogers alternate in right field; and 1st base coach. Runs batted in by Kenton, 2; Williams, 1; and Nowell, 1.

ST. MARY'S GAME HALTED BY RAIN

On Monday, June 28th, St. Joseph's of Wakefield attempted to retaliate for the defeat they suffered when St. Mary's played them at their home grounds recently but with St. Mary's on the losing end old Jupe Pluvius fortunately put an end to the hostilities and the game was called by the umpire (Saunders, base umpire, Keating). During this brief encounter St. Mary's switched their battery with Leo Williams going behind the plate and Freddy Patterson toeing the mound, in an effort to stop Wakefield's batting power. That the boys never give up was evidenced by Jack Haggerty's running out an infield ground ball in World Series fashion, despite the fact that St. Mary's were many runs behind. There are only a few league games left and St. Mary's are determined to finish high up in the standing in this their first year of league ball in the C. Y. O. Then no doubt there will be scheduled, games with various opponents for example the Winchester Legion and other Winchester and outside teams. With some of the C. Y. O. boys playing for the Legion there ought to be a good skirmish coming up with a distribution of the players taking place.

WINCHESTER TEAM FINALISTS

Marjorie Norris and Richard Hills carried Winchester's hopes to the championship round of mixed doubles in the junior class of the State Tennis Championships at Longwood on Monday, losing in the finals to Phil Mahoney of Quincy and Clarissa Nash of Milton, 6-3, 6-1.

Another Winchester team, Ruth Murray and Sheldon Caldwell, gave the champions a stiffer tussle in the semi-finals before yielding, 6-3, 1-6, 6-4.

Still another Winchester team, Ann Albree and Larry Harrison, fell before the Norris-Hills combine in the semis, losing 2-6, 3-6.

Priscilla Alden Morrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Messer of Priscilla lane, has completed her junior year at the School of Dramatics, Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh. Miss Morrill will spend the summer at New London, N. H., as a member of the New London Players, with whom she has been for the past two seasons. She returns this year as the Players' leading actress.

WINCHESTER "PAULS" SPLIT

Winchester's entry in the Paul Revere League split two games over the past week-end, losing a 4-2 decision to Melrose at Melrose Saturday and beating the Wilmington Town Team at Leonard Field Sunday, 11-5.

Slack worked six innings of the Melrose game, and while he allowed only two hits, his own poor throws to third after fielding bunts, plus a wild pitch proved his undoing. Jimmy Olivier finished up. Lucas, Melrose hurler, handcuffed the locals all afternoon.

Winchester had its batting togs on Sunday against Wilmington, belting out 11 hits while Pete Twombley, in his first start of the season was holding the visitors hitless during the five frames he worked. Paul Roche was also effective, though he was naturally coasting with an 11-1 lead.

Cousens, a new centerfielder, was in the Winchester lineup and made a fine impression. Left-handed all the way, he is very fast and is a former all-scholastic from Newton High. "Fran" Poirier is also back in Winchester lineup. The summaries:

ST. MARY'S JUNIORS TIE FAST ST. PAT'S OF STONEHAM 3-3

On Sunday afternoon, June 27th, St. Mary's Juniors tied St. Patrick's of Stoneham in a C. Y. O. League game 3 to 3. Leonard Field was the scene of action with the game going 6 innings to give the Paul Revere League a chance to play their game. St. Mary's were not downhearted to be on the wrong side of a 3 to 0 count and rallied in the 4th to pick up 3 runs. In this round Serica led off with a hit and with two outs Russo walked and Goodrow came through with a fine hit, Farrell walked, Di-Iorio hit safely and the total for St. Mary's 3 runs. Roberts for St. Pat's allowed 5 hits, struck out 4 and gave 8 bases on balls. Rennie Goodrow for St. Mary's allowed 7 hits struck out 3 and gave up 4 walks. In the 6th Goodrow struck out Leduc with the bases loaded who had previously singled and doubled for St. Pat's. Danny Joyce made the fielding gem of the game with a onehanded catch in right center. Billy Rand made two nice catches in left. A little more punch in the hitting is all that is needed and the next game will show it.

NORRIS JUNIOR NET CHAMP AGAIN

Won Both Singles and Doubles Titles at Longwood

Winchester's "Marnee" Norris, former high school girls' tennis ace, now a freshman at Rollins College in Florida, repeated her 1947 win of the Junior Girls State Tennis championship by winning this year's final at the Longwood Cricket Club last Saturday.

A year ago, "Marnee" won her title by default when the other finalist and defending champion, was prevented from playing by illness. This year she won her crown at the expense of "Ruthie" Murray, a former teammate at Winchester High. "Ruthie" was able to take only two games from her old number 1 in the two sets they played, the scores being 6-1, 6-1.

In the Junior Girls' Doubles "Marnee" picked up another title, just as she did in '47, though this year she played with Clarissa Nash of Milton to beat the all-Winchester team of Ruth Murray and Ann Albree, one-two on this year's W. H. S. team. The scores were 6-3, 6-4, showing that "Ruthie" and Ann made a match of it. A year ago "Ruthie" paired with Clarissa Nash while "Marnee" won her title with "Lib" Fenno, former Winchester high school player, now at Wheaton.

In the semi-final round of junior singles "Marnee" accounted for Edith Ann Sullivan after a tussle, 6-4, 6-4. "Ruthie" Murray put out her doubles partner, Ann Albree in this round in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4.

In the doubles play "Ruthie" and Ann beat the Belmont team of Edith Ann Sullivan and Jane Frisbee, 6-2, 7-5, while the Norris-Nash team was beating the sister team of Marion and Katherine Kerr, 6-2, 6-2.

On the boys' side of play "Dick" Hills got into the semi-final round of the junior singles, losing to Gerald Slobin of Hartford, Conn., 6-4, 6-4. Hills and Sheldon Caldwell reached the semi-finals of junior boys doubles before losing to the ultimate champions, Josiah Welch of Newburyport and George Kirkpatrick of Providence, 6-2, 6-3.

In mixed doubles "Ruthie" Murray and Sheldon Caldwell won their quarter final match from Gladys Pelangi and Robert Slatterink, after a titanic struggle 11-13, 7-5, 7-5.

WINCHESTER JUNIORS SWAMPED WILMINGTON

Winchester Junior Legion won a 13-1 victory over the Wilmington Junior Legion Sunday afternoon at Wilmington. The size of the score gave Manager Bartlett an opportunity to use a number of his second stringers in the lineup. Kenton and his relief, Major Daniels, allowed Wilmington only three hits while Winchester was combing the offerings of two Wilmington hurlers for 15. The summary:

WOMEN GOLFERS ON HOUSE PARTY

Members of the Women's Golf and Bowling Committees at the Winchester Country Club have been guests this week of their chairman, Mrs. Alan F. Howard of Glen road, at a houseparty at the Howards' summer home on Lake Sunapee, N. H. The party left Winchester Wednesday morning, returning tonight after three days of golf at the Sunapee Country Club interspersed with swimming and other activities.

Those enjoying the party and Mrs. Howard's hospitality are Mrs. Clark Collins, Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, Mrs. Charles Weimer, Mrs. James Beale, Mrs. Donald Belcher, Mrs. Forrest Pitman, Mrs. Dana Sawyer, Mrs. Henry Reeves, Mrs. Allen Kimball and Mrs. P. S. Cooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell D. Mansfield of Pomfret, Connecticut, and their big bull-dog, Susie, are spending the summer at their camp, "The Mansfields" in Canton, Maine.

HARVEY - DOHERTY WON MEMBER - GUEST AGAIN

Jim Harvey, Arlington member of the Winchester Country Club, paired with Ernie Doherty of Woburn to win the final round of the annual three day member-guest golf tournament at the Winchester Country Club last Sunday, repeating their win of last year.

The Winchester-Woburn team had no easy path to the title this year, being forced to play extra holes in both their semi-final and final round matches. In the semi-final Harvey and Doherty were forced to 21 holes before winning from Judge Joseph W. Monahan and Lt. Joseph Worthington of Texas. In the championship bracket Joseph W. Monahan, Jr., and Joseph L. Kierce of Concord carried them to 20 holes before yielding. Monahan and Kierce won 1 up in the semi-finals from David Shean, Jr., and Milan Heath of Weston.

Harvey's putter kept his team in the competition in both the semi-final and final round matches. In the morning around against the Judge and Lt. Worthington he holed a beautiful 25 footer for a half at the 17th. In the afternoon against "Young Joe" and Kierce he evened the match with a 15 footer at the 18th. Both were crucial shots.

In the semi-final round Harvey and Doherty each had par fours to even the match at the home hole and won the match with par fours at the 21st. In the championship round Harvey and Doherty were even par for th 20 holes, with Monahan and Kierce a stroke above their figures. Doherty's birdie four at 20th finally won the championship gonfalon. Following are the final results:

W. H. S. CLASSES OF 1922-23 HELD REUNION

The Winchester High School gymnasium was the scene of a gala reunion last Saturday evening when members of the classes of 1922 and 1923 joined to celebrate the 25th and 26th anniversaries of their graduation. Black and gold, the class colors of '22, and blue and gold, the '23 colors, predominated in the decorations which were conceived and executed by Miss Marjorie Bradford. Giant-size mortar board and diploma cut-outs formed the background for the display, with the class numerals carried out on the walls and on the tables.

A display of graduation photographs of members of both classes, together with information and highlights in the lives of each for the past quarter century, attracted a great deal of attention. Of particular interest, too, were letters from classmates in distant places who were unable to attend but who were there in spirit.

Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stacy, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Benshimol, Mrs. Warren Johnston and Miss Helen Bronson. Following the dinner, the toastmistress and chairman of the committee, Miss Marjorie Bradford, class of 1923, welcomed former classmates and friends. Greetings and informal talks were also given by the former teachers of the classes: Mrs. Stacy, Mr. Benshimol, Miss Bronson and Mrs. Johnston.

After the dinner, the school was thrown open, and the teachers and students of 25 and 26 years ago toured the corridors and classrooms to reminisce and marvel at the growth of their Alma Mater. After the tour, former classmates and friends gathered again in the gymnasium to renew old acquaintance.

Among those present were Philip Bartlett, Guy Barbaro, Fletcher Barnard, Marjorie Bradford, Mrs. Pauline Brown Grant, Mrs. Dorothy Cummings Robinson, Margaret Cassidy, Mrs. Marjorie Chapman Spring, Dr. Philip G. Corliss, John Davy, George DeCamp, Frances Dineen, Mrs. Dorothy Elliott Warden, Mrs. Elinor Erskine Howard, Mrs. Concetta Ferrina Derro, John Kenerson, Henry Simonds, Mrs. Alice Lawlor Sanford, Esther Lydon, Ruth McLaughlin, Mrs. Hazel MacKenzie Bresnahan, Ruth Mathews, Rudolph Mortensen, Mrs. Mary McCarron Meade, Ruth MacBrine, Stanley McNeilly, Mrs. Jessie Nauffts Ripley, Evelyn O'Connell, George O'Connor, Pearl Prime, Joseph O'Connor, Mrs. Catherine Price Dirlan, Mrs. Alice Rennert Mahoney, Mrs. Madeline Robinson Lake, Aurora Rondina, Joseph Ryan, Mrs. Girvan Skillings Caldwell, Mrs. Marion Smith Stetson, Mrs. Grace Stone Nolan, Mrs. Martha Salice O'Connell, Mrs. Lucy Shaughnessy Henderickson, Walter Skerry, Mrs. Dorothy Smith Chapman, Lydia Smith, Mrs. Mary Stone Casey, George Swymer, Donald Tucker, William Wait, Mrs. Alice Webster Leonard and Mrs. Marion Winn Dade.

The committee in charge of the reunion included Miss Marjorie Bradford, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Martha Salice O'Connell, George DeCamp, Miss Evelyn O'Connell, Stanley McNeilly and Miss Ruth McLaughlin.

BEGGS & COBB EMPLOYEES AIDED "JIMMY FUND"

Employees and officials of the Beggs & Cobb tannery on Swanton street raised $450 for the "Jimmy Cancer" fund last Friday.

Mark Margolskee was in charge of the campaign, assisted by Angelo Gentile. With the cooperation of the shop management the two canvassed their fellow workers, office help and officials during the day and collected slightly over $400 for the fund. Mr. Margolski reported that subsequent contributions would bring the total to around $450.

Of added assistance to the campaign to raise funds for the Cancer Research Foundation is the fact that several tanneries upon hearing of the activity at Beggs and Cobb notified the local leatherworkers that they too were planning similar campaigns at their plants.

SELECTMEN HELD HEARINGS

New Garbage House Protested, Roads Around New School Discussed

The Board of Selectmen held hearings Monday evening at the town hall upon the new garbage house voted at the March town meeting and on the acceptance of several roads necessary to the approach to the new west side school.

Only a few persons appeared in connection with the roads and there was virtually no opposition to their acceptance. Definite action by the Board was postponed and is somewhat dependent upon the completion of the new building.

The School Building Committee has set February 1, 1949, as the date for the completion of the building, and if this schedule can be maintained Superintendent of Schools Forbes Norris says that the school will be occupied March 1. This would mean that the road construction work would have to be done this summer and fall.

If occupancy of the building is not possible by March 1 the building will not be put in use by the School Department until the following September, in which event the road-building program can be spread over a much longer period. Actual acceptance of the roads of course will have to come at a town meeting.

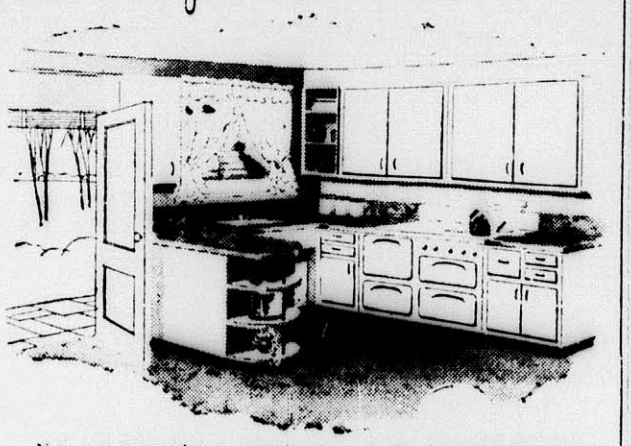

Ten or a dozen persons appeared in opposition to the erection of the new garbage house at the town yard. Mr. Chandler W. Symmes, chairman of the Board of Health, spoke for the opponents, though it was not recorded that he spoke in his official capacity. Mr. John H. McCarthy, another member of the Board of Health, was also recorded in opposition, both speaking about the odor of the garbage and the danger of drawing pests like rats, and other vermin and flies.

Mr. Thomas Quigley brought to the hearing a master plan of the proposed system of State highways, one important branch of which is supposed to go through Bacon and Church streets across Wedge Pond and through the town yard. It was Mr. Quigley's opinion that a garbage house would add little to that portion of the new highway in its immediate neighborhood. Mr. Alfred Elliott, assessor, and Mr. Hugh J. Erskine, were others heard in opposition.

Generally speaking the opposition was to the erection of the garbage house in its proposed location, which is to be substantially on the site of the present garbage house now serving the town, though facing the opposite way. Opponents felt that the house, if erected, should be at the town dump or on the outskirts of the town, instead of in such a thickly settled area.

The Selectmen made no decision on the protest after the hearing. They were somewhat surprised to receive the protest, since there was no opposition of the particular sort expressed at Monday's hearing heard at the time the vote was taken for the erection of the garbage house at the March meeting.

"God" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, July 4.
Golden Text: "I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Exodus 20:2,3).
Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God. . . Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness" (Isaiah 44:6; 41:10). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:
"There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God" (p. 228).

The Honeymoon is over! Believe it!
PRICES ARE SURE TO TUMBLE!
Why? Because people are running out of money — and fast!
However, I am still paying big money for a few items:
First—Old Singer sewing machines. Why? Because they are being shipped out of the United States: (Folks in South America and Europe seem to have more money than Americans).
Second—Marble top tables: (they call them antiques down South).
Third—Fine antiques and art objects: Because there are still some Americans with good taste, a few dollars, and a firm conviction not to "sell America short."
So, cash in on these items before the balloon goes up and while I still have the cash to buy!
Yours truly,

The Fourth of July

One hundred and seventy-two years ago the thirteen United States of America proclaimed that governments derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed." The Declaration of Independence marked the birth of our nation and established principles of democracy which have influenced the history of the world. In observing Independence Day, let us remember that the rights we enjoy as a free people are a heritage which must be maintained and defended by each generation.

IN ARLINGTON RECITAL

Several from Winchester were among the pupils of Miss Eunice M. Kiley of 12 Grove street, West Medford, who participated in a recital of pianoforte music Sunday evening, June 20, at the assembly hall of the Junior High School East in Arlington.

Among those from Winchester on the program were Vernor Carrier of Highland avenue, Elizabeth Anne Hood of Everett avenue, Kent Wright of Symmes road, Deirdre and Jack Donovan of Grove street, John Swazey of Main street, Roberta Coon of Brooks street, June and Curtis Ryan of Grove street and Carolyn Padelford of Ravenscroft road.

Two Winchester pupils, John Swazey and Carolyn Padelford were among the first prize winners in the scale and cadence contest, "I Love America", which covered the entire circle of keys, both major and minor scales, and the various cadences. Carolyn Padelford and Deirdre Donovan were among the memory contest winners. Roberta Coon and June Ryan were Winchester pupils who also won contests or prizes during the past season.

MISS SNOW'S PUPILS IN ANNUAL RECITAL

The pianoforte pupils of Miss Hattie E. Snow gave their annual recital last Friday evening in Waterfield Hall, presenting a varied program of solo and duet selections which pleased a friendly audience of parents and friends of the young musicians.

Varying the piano music, Miss Shirley Farnham, who was also heard in a piano number, presented two cornet solos, accompanied by Miss Snow, which were well received.

Also very popular was a group of songs by Miss Wanda Whiting, soprano, who was also accompanied by Miss Snow. Miss Whiting, a member of this year's graduating class at Winchester High School, sang "Spring is in My Heart Again" by William Wooding. Following is the recital program.

Charge of the Uhlans
Miss Snow and Albert Simone
Toy Soldiers on Parade ... Jackie Callahan
Marines Hymn ... Jackie MacLean
Quick Step ... Peggy and Ruth Rogers
March Militaire ... Peggy Rogers

Harry W. Dotten, superintendent of the Water and Sewer Department, is having his annual vacation.

CARS COLLIDE ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

Two Oldsmobile sedans, one driven by Charles P. Doyle of 288A Dudley street, Roxbury, and the other, operated by James V. Tibaudo of 52 Swanton street, were in a collision last Sunday afternoon on Cambridge street at the intersection of Wildwood street at 2 o'clock.

According to the police the Doyle car was headed south on Cambridge street, while Tibaudo was crossing Cambridge street from Wildwood street. The impact of the collision spun Tibaudo's car around and pushed it thirty feet, the back wheels going over the curbing on the south side of Wildwood street extension, damaging the right rear fender and wheel.

Tibaudo was cut when his head struck the right side of the windshield, shattering the glass.

Four passengers were riding with Doyle in the other car. Of them, only one, Dorothy Kelleher, 20, of 45 Pine street, Arlington, complained of injuries to her right ankles.

WINCHESTER TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

Mrs. Edna Crede, President of the Winchester Toastmistress Club announced two appointments at the Tuesday evening meeting.

Miss Hilda Hope of 37 Glen Green, will be the permanent Program Chairman and Mrs. Rena Bagley of 21 Ashcraft road, West Medford was appointed to the office of General Evaluator.

Richard Lynch, popular clerk at Lynch's Market is on a two weeks vacation. Destination unannounced.

TUFTS SUMMER THEATRE OPENS JULY 6

John R. Woodruff of Sheffield road, assistant professor of drama at Tufts, is co-director of the Tufts Summer Theatre which opens its season July 6 on the hillside campus in Medford. Another Winchester resident, Boardman O'Connor of 160 Main street, a student at Tufts, is a member of the theatre's technical staff. He has appeared in many of Tufts feature productions as an actor and is also well known in Winchester through his frequent appearances with the Parish Players in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire.

A tropical review, "Rise Above It" with songs and sketches by a Tufts economics instructor, Jack Gold, and a Boston business girl, Phyllis Stohn, will be the first production staged at Tufts this summer.

BADLY CUT IN FALL

Edward Duran, Jr., 18 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Duran of 44 Mt. Vernon street, was badly cut in a fall at his home last Friday forenoon.

The little boy fell while running across the floor and a glass which he had in his hand was broken, a piece of it cutting the child badly about the forehead, the gash extending from the nose over one eye.

Officer John J. Dolan took Edward and his mother to the Winchester Hospital where Dr. Phillip J. McManus took several stitches to close the wound. No serious results are anticipated but it is fortunate that the accident did not have a much more tragic ending.

Miss Gayle Sawyer of 19 Everett avenue flew to Cleveland, Ohio, last week with some of her Colby Junior College classmates.

A nice looking sign entitled Bus Stop can be plainly seen on the bottom of the river on the easterly side of Main street, where Wedge Pond empties. This sign is made of metal and no doubt who ever owns it would like it back.

Joseph Riley, 14, 113 Allston street, Medford, sustained a gash in his head requiring five stitches while bathing at Sandy Beach recently. He was taken to the hospital and, after treatment to his home.

What do WAGE INCREASES mean to the Eastern Massachusetts?

They mean that recent wage adjustments will boost our payrolls by at least $1,000,000 in the next twelve months.
. . . that payrolls will aggregate more than $9,350,000 a year, as compared with $3,500,000 in 1941. That's an increase of nearly 165% in eight years.
Wages of operators have risen from 88¢ an hour in 1941, to $1.42½ an hour under the new agreement . . . an increase of 62% over 1941. On January 1, the rate will go to $1.50 . . . an increase of 70% over 1941. (A similar increase is effective with respect to mechanics.)
Maintenance costs have more than tripled in that period . . . and our gasoline bill is almost five times as great.
Yet during this time, our average fare increase has been less than 15%.
If we are to continue to furnish transportation service without disastrous financial losses, an increase in fares is unavoidable.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Winchester Playgrounds opened their 1948 program this week with excellent attendance at all three playgrounds. Every youngster found a number of activities in progress that appealed to him and the swings, see-saws, and sand boxes were in continuous use, along with such activities as croquet, softball, baseball, kickball, paddle tennis and horseshoes.

Tryouts were held during the week for positions on the three divisions of boys' baseball teams, for the girls' softball and kickball teams, and for the junior boys' softball teams in preparation for the Playground League schedule which opens next week. Last year the Loring Avenue youngsters pretty much dominated the baseball picture by winning the championship in all three divisions of boys' baseball. Ginn Field and Leonard Field appear to be much improved over last year, however, and will make the Loring Avenue youngsters hustle all the way to repeat their triumphs of last year.

All these programs will be well under way and all youngsters are urged to come to the playgrounds and join up with the activities that appeal to them. Parents can be assured of constant and careful supervision of their children at all times and the children of Winchester can look forward to a pleasant and profitable summer on the playgrounds.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Dr. James F. McDonough has successfully passed the examinations set by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology, one of the examining boards in Medical Specialties established by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals. This Board is the highest accrediting authority in Dr. McDonough's specialty.

On July 15th Dr. Nelson C. Fontneau, Jr., will begin a year's appointment as Resident at the Winchester Hospital. He is a graduate of Tufts College, where he was granted a B.S. in 1942, and of the Harvard Medical School in the Class of 1945. He served his internship in the Rhode Island Hospital, Providence, and had war service in the Mitchell Field Hospital on Long Island. From December, 1946, to May, 1948, he was a member of the staff of Murphy General Hospital in Waltham. He comes to the Winchester Hospital with very high recommendations from his former chiefs, and his arrival is being looked forward to with special eagerness because of the favorable experience with the quarterly appointments of surgical residents at the Hospital during the past year. Both staff and patients profitted from the service given by Dr. Giles, Wool and Ferraro, and the full year's appointment of Dr. Fontneau should prove even more satisfactory.

Dr. Fontneau is married and has two children. His home is at 20 Curtis street, Somerville.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

In response to the request of Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, for the use of the old Mystic School building as a clubhouse the School Committee has reminded the veterans of the action of the Town Meeting on March 21, 1946.

At that time it was voted that if the School Committee had no further use for the building, until such time as the town shall otherwise direct, the care and control of the building shall be in the hands of the Recreation Commission for use as a recreation center, with the recommendation that it be made available to the Hobby Center for such a program of activity as the Recreation Commissioners shall approve.

The School Committee has elected Mrs. Evelyn Brown, Mrs. Janet Greene, Miss Patricia Doherty and Miss Martha McManamy teachers in the Winchester elementary. Mrs. Martha Genicot and Miss Mary Regan have been elected teachers in the Winchester High School.

MARSHALL JONES ENGLAND

MARSHALL JONES ENGLAND

Marshall Jones England of 1 Ledgewood road died suddenly Friday evening, July 2nd, following a heart attack suffered at his office in Boston Friday afternoon.

Mr. England, long a resident of Winchester, was born in Zanesville, Ohio, April 2nd, 1888, the son of Sanford Heber England and Margaret Jones England. He was educated in the Zanesville, and Indianapolis, Indiana schools. A nephew of the late Marshall W. Jones, he established a residence in Winchester in 1906. Interested in community activities, he was a past Vice Commander of the Winchester Post No. 97 American Legion. Serving in World War I, he joined an American Expeditionary Force under the French Army and later became a captain in the American Army, serving as Motor Transport Officer in the London and Winchester, England, area. He was a past member of the Finance Committee and was Vice President and Director of the Winchester Home for the Aged. He was a member of Winchester Country Club.

His entire business career centered around the memorial industry. He was Vice President and General Sales Manager of Jones Brothers Company of Boston and Barre, Vermont, one of the largest monumental manufacturing concerns in the industry. He was also President of Wells Lamson Quarry Company of Barre Vermont.

A devoted family man, he is survived by his wife, Ethel Grace England, and three daughters all living in Winchester, Mrs. Thomas Worthen, Miss Betty Jean England, and Miss Carolyn June England; also a sister Mrs. Eri J. Shumaker of Granville, Ohio and two brothers, I. H. England of Traverse City, Michigan: and H. G. England of Montpelier, Vermont.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chidley, officiating. Kenneth Moffatt played favorite selections on the organ.

Honorary bearers were Edward V. French, Ben R. Schneider, Carl L. Eaton, Robert M. Stone, Carl W. Wood, Daniel P. Morse, Jr., R. Ronald Wyman and Gordon Parker. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

OWEN E. REARDON

Owen E. Reardon, a resident of Winchester for more than half a century and a retired railroad man, died Thursday afternoon, July 1, at his home, 12 Westley street, after a short illness.

Mr. Reardon the son of Owen E., and Mary (Creedon) Reardon. He was born 76 years ago in Ireland, but had lived in Winchester for 55 years and was for 35 years until his retirement in the employ of the Boston & Maine Railroad. He was a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

He leaves his wife, the former Delia B. Lally; four daughters, Miss Christine W. Reardon and Mrs. James F. McLaughlin, both of Winchester; Mrs. Madeline M. Sullivan of Melrose and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton of Woburn; three sons, Ernest E. Reardon and Patrolman D. Irving Reardon and John F. Reardon, both members of the Winchester Police Department; 26 grandchildren; three sisters, Miss Nora Reardon of Brookline, Miss Katherine Reardon of Watertown and Mrs. Ellen Waugh of Brighton; two brothers, Timothy Reardon of Woburn and Jerry Reardon, living in Ireland.

The funeral was held Saturday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvery Cemetery.

MRS. THELMA I. BOOTHBY

Mrs. Thelma Isham (Knight) Boothby, wife of Donald M. Boothby and a former resident of Winchester, died suddenly Thursday, July 1, at Emerson Hospital in Concord following a heart attack. She and her husband had been living at 1 Turf Meadow road in Bedford since leaving Winchester in 1946.

Mrs. Boothby was born April 26, 1897 in Concord, N. H., daughter of Perley Hazen, and Jessie Maud Knight. She was a graduate of Simmons College and before her marriage was assistant manager of the cafeteria of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston. She and Mr. Boothby were married June 19, 1923, and came to Winchester in 1929, their home being at 380 Highland avenue. Previously she had lived in Somerville. She was a member of the En Ka Society and enjoyed a wide circle of friends about town.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN WINCHESTER

Four Year Old Mary Mawn, Struck by Truck, Died of Injuries

Mary Lou Mawn, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Mawn of 51 Forest street, died at 5:30 Friday afternoon at the Winchester Hospital of injuries sustained shortly after 4 o'clock that day when she was struck by a heavily loaded coal truck on Cross street near Forest street.

According to the police account of the accident Mary Lou was on her way home from Leonard Field Beach, accompanied by her sister, Marilyn, 9, and several neighborhood children. As they came through a path from the beach to Cross street there was a car and truck approaching along Cross street in an easterly direction.

The children stopped to permit them to pass, and all but Mary Lou remained at the side of the road. She ran across the street behind the easterly-bound truck directly into the path of a White tractor and trailer, owned by Spencer Trucking Co., of 89 Winn street, Woburn, and driven westerly on Cross street by Harold V. Spencer of 93A Winn street, that city. The truck was loaded with 13 tons of soft coal.

Spencer told the police he didn't see the child until his tractor was within a few feet of her. He swung the machine sharply to the right and over the curbing at the side of the road. The child, however, kept running and was struck by the left front wheel of the tractor.

Kenneth P. Spencer, who was riding with his brother, got off the truck and found Mary Lou on her hands and knees crawling toward the sidewalk. He picked her up and gave her to Margaret Coughlin of 10 Forest street. Assistant Superintendent James Halwartz of the Water Department took the child and her brother, James, to the Winchester Hospital where Mary Lou was attended by Dr. Phillip J. McManus.

The little girl was conscious when she arrived at the hospital, but later lapsed into unconsciousness. An autopsy disclosed that she had sustained a fracture of the base of the skull.

Mary Lou was born in Winchester, daughter of James F., and Anna (Oliver) Mawn. She leaves three sisters, Patricia, Madeline Judith and Marilyn; and seven brothers, James, Richard, John Thomas, Kevin, Joseph and Peter.

The funeral was from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon.

A mass of the Angels was celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Robert J. Supple. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. ANNIE A. HOBAN

Mrs. Annie A. Hoban, widow of Joseph M. Hoban, of 7 Bridge street, died Friday morning, July 2, at her home, after a six years illness.

Mrs. Hoban was 82 years old and a native of Woburn. She had lived for 55 years in Winchester and had many friends among the town's older residents. She leaves three sons, Patrick and Luke Hoban of Winchester, and Thomas Hoban of Cambridge.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Robert J. Supple. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were also read by Father Supple.

PETITION DELAY ON NEW GARBAGE HOUSE

A group of citizens opposed to the erection of the new building at the town yard, a part of which is to serve as a garbage house, appeared at the Selectmen's meeting Tuesday evening to present a petition, signed by some 360 residents asking the Board to delay construction of the building until further consideration can be given to its location.

It is unofficially reported that opponents to having the garbage house at its present location in the town yard are considering calling a special town meeting to make their protest to the town.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Blank formerly a resident of Winchester and later Melrose, now of 4705 Drummond avenue, Chevy Chase, Maryland, announce the engagement of their daughter Mary-Alice to William E. Turner of Bristol, Tenn.

Miss Blank is a graduate of Sullins College, Virginia and Mr. Turner graduated from University of Tennessee, and served as a 1st Lieutenant, Army Air Force in the Pacific during the war.

B. KENDALL WAY

EAST METROPOLITAN RED FEATHER CHAIRMAN

B. Kendall Way, East District manager of New England Telephone and Telegraph Company at the Everett office, has been appointed chairman of the East Metropolitan Division in the fall Red Feather campaign. He is one of 10 leaders of the money-raising divisions being enrolled by Powell M. Cabot, campaign chairman, for the annual appeal of the Greater Boston Community Fund in 48 affiliated cities and towns.

Twelve communities will be under his supervision - Chelsea, Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Revere, Somerville, Stoneham, Wakefield and Winthrop.

His experience as chairman of the Winchester Board of Public Welfare, Mr. Way says, emphasizes the indispensable part Red Feather services of the Community Fund play in helping the public agencies help people.

WITHINGTON — SOUTER

Of Winchester interest was the wedding of Miss Jo Ann Elizabeth Souter to Frederick Burnham Withington, Jr., at the First Congregational Church in Rowley on Saturday afternoon, July 3. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walter Souter of Rowley and Harpswell Center, Me., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Frederick B. Withington (Margaret Adriance) of 174 Mystic Valley Parkway and the late Rev. Frederick B. Withington.

The marriage ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Richard J. Schaper and the Rev. Sidney Lovell, chaplain of Yale University, and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of white organdy and lace with a circular train. Her finger-tip veil was caught to a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis

Miss Nancy Jane Davenport of Melrose was her cousin's maid of honor. Wearing an amethyst organdy gown, which had a round neckline and a bouffant skirt, she carried white marguerites and ivy to match the flowers in her hair.

The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Ann Light of Melrose and Mrs. Philip J. Clough of Boston, cousins of the bride; Miss Sylvia B. Lunt of Newbury and Mrs. L. George Cannon of Marblehead. They wore identical gowns of gentian blue and carried bouquets of white marguerites and ivy, with similar flowers in their hair. The flower girl was Ann Elizabeth Jessup, a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Souter, mother of the bride, wore a pink and black print and a corsage of roses. Mrs. Withington, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in beige crepe and wore a corsage of tea roses.

William Adriance Withington of Winchester was his brother's best man and the ushers were Arthur Withington of Plymouth; Donald Hugh Souter of Rowley, a brother of the bride; and William Johnson of Springfield.

The bride has been secretary to the registrar of Governor Dummer Academy. The bridegroom is a member of the faculty there. He attended Punahou Academy in Honolulu and Phillips Exeter Academy and was graduated as of the class of 1945 from Harvard University where his clubs include the Owl, Hasty Pudding, and Varsity. During the war he served as a lieutenant in the USAAF and received the Distinguished Flying Cross. He and his bride will spend the summer at Center Harpswell, Me., and will make their home in South Byfield.

WINCHESTER PROFESSOR PLAYER-DIRECTOR

John R. Woodruff, of Sheffield road, assistant professor of drama at Tufts, will play the title role and direct the production of S. N. Berhman's comedy, "Second Man" which will be presented by the Tufts Summer Theater next Tuesday through Saturday (July 13-17) at 8:30 p. m., in the unique arena theater on the Medford campus.

The Winchester professor is the designer of the Tufts Arena Theater.

The Behrman play was written especially for Noel Coward, who played the title role with great success in England. Introduced in this country by Alfred Lunt and Lynne Fontaine, it was one of the first plays in which the famous couple appeared as a sophisticated comedy team. The intimate setting of the Tufts arena, with the audience surrounding the oval stage, is ideal for Behrman's subtle comedy, Mr. Woodruff feels.

WINCHESTER FOURTH QUIET

Winchester's observance of July Fourth was on the quiet side, with the entire community celebration limited to the ringing of the town bells at 7 a. m., 12 noon and 6 p. m., and a show for the kiddies during the forenoon at the town hall.

There were two big bonfires Saturday night, built by neighborhood youngsters, one on Cullen's lot at Richardson and Main streets, and another in the old Freight Yard off Swanton street. Sunday night there was another bonfire in the sand-pit off Harvard street.

There were no false alarms of fire over the holiday, Fire Department activity being limited to taking care of a leaking electric refrigerator at the home of Mr. Gunnar Colliander at 12:20 Monday morning. While on this run Chief James E. Callahan ordered Engine 4 to put out the remnants of the bonfire in the sand-pit off Harvard street.

Saturday morning at 7:58 Box 44 came in for a fire in the cellar of the residence of Officer John Elliott on Water street. Spontaneous combustion was blamed by the firemen for this blaze which did considerable smoke damage and also damaged the cellar rafters.

Monday afternoon Winchester's new aerial ladder truck went to Wakefield to participate in the big holiday parade held in that town. Captain J. Edward Noonan was in charge of the truck which was driven by Fireman Joe Connolly. Call Lieutenant Hugh J. Skerry rode on the truck as did Selectman Morris B. Kerr. Chief James E. Callahan went to Wakefield in the Chief's car which was driven by Fireman Charles J. Moran.

There was little activity at Police Headquarters over the holiday. One arrest for drunkenness was made the night before, and Sunday morning shortly after 12:45 a resident of Cranston road notified the police that boys were setting off firecrackers in the vestibule of his house.

The patrol car was just too late to apprehend the youngsters, but the officers did find at the house in question two Tee-markers from the Winchester Country Club and a warning lantern, probably taken from one of the construction jobs around town. One of the flags on the markers had been burned and the other was saturated with kerosene. Here and there around town the police were called to stop the discharge of fireworks, but generally speaking things were quiet enough.

Kiddies' Party

The Kiddie's Party at the town hall was one of the best put on for some time. Prompted by increased costs the committee of Veterans in charge of the day's observance decided to call off the playground games which have been held at Leonard Field and put all the money into the morning program.

As each kiddie entered the hall he or she was given a festive paper hat and a brand-new American flag, secured after considerable difficulty by Chairman Tom Duddy of the committee on arrangements.

Andy Wolandi, one of the entertainers, in costume, was at the hall early and kept the children entertained until show time at 10 o'clock. The kids went for Andy in a big way and his act was one of the most popular on the bill.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Salzman are in Winchester this week visiting Mr. Salzman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Caldwell of Bushcliff road, and calling on old friends. They are at present making their home in Pittsburg, and expect to move to Darien, Conn. shortly.

Mr. Avard L. Walker of 11 Maxwell road was removed yesterday forenoon to the Brooks Rest Home in Dedham where he will be under a physician's care. He has not been in the best of health and his condition became worse on Wednesday.

Mrs. Michael P. Queenin of Myrtle street is reported as ill at the Winchester Hospital, to which she was removed on Monday. Her condition was said to be improved yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Rowe of Vine street are leaving this week for their summer home in Saco, Maine.

Officers Winthrop Palmer and James Noonan arrested Wilfred C. Goulding of Boston at Cambridge and Church streets at 3:25 yesdrunkenness and driving under the drunkeness and driving under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until July 16.

The fire department answered an alarm Thursday at 10:29 a. m. for a smoke-filled cellar at the home of Mr. Kenneth B. Toye, 91 Mystic Valley Parkway. Burning papers in the furnace with a clogged flue was responsible for the trouble.

PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXES

Personal property tax bills are in the mail. The Assessors have lowered the valuation limit this year so that all having houses valued at $6,500 will receive personal property tax bills on $500. In a few instances where conditions seem to warrant it the assessors have levied personal property taxes on owners of $6,000 houses. All owners of houses valued in excess of $6,5000 have been getting personal property tax bills .

This year personal property taxes have been levied on persons living in apartments in Winchester, those living in the Chambers being taxed on $400., those in the Arms on $300., and those in Stetson Hall on $200.

SAMUEL M. GRAVES

NEW PRINCIPAL OF WELLESLEY HIGH SCHOOL FORMER WINCHESTER TEACHER

Samuel M. Graves, former Winchester High School history teacher and acting principal from March 27, 1942 to Jan. 31, 1946, has been elected principal of Wellesley High School, assuming his new duties Aug. 15. For the past two years he has been principal of Attleboro High School.

Mr. Graves, his wife, Ellouise, and their daughter, Virginia, have many friends in Winchester who will be pleased to learn that they are to be located nearer town.

A graduate of Bates College in the class of 1924, Mr. Graves spent two years in the insurance field before going to Amesbury in 1926 as a teacher of history. He came to Winchester two years later as a history teacher, and during the 18 years he spent in the local system served as teacher, freshman principal, and acting principal during the years that Principal Wade L. Grindle was in the service during World War II.

He was a particularly popular member of the high school faculty and widely known in town, especially for his appearance in many leading roles with the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church.

WAYLAND — FREY

At the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rolliston W. Linscott, Jr., at 6 Wolcott road, Alice Marie Frey of Milwaukee will become the bride of W. Roy Wayland, chairman of the board of the Valley National Bank of Phoenix, Ariz., on Saturday, July 10. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, will officiate.

Mr. Wayland is one of the most prominent residents of the Southwest serving on the directorships of the Central Arizona Light & Power Co., the Valley National Co., and the Read Mullan Motor Co. He is president and managing director of Hotel Westward Ho at Phoenix, president of the Lincoln-Mercury Motor Co., of Phoenix, and has served as the only member of the R. F. C. Advisory Board in the 12th Federal Reserve District since its inception.

He is a life member of the Shrine at Phoenix and honorary life member of the Los Angeles Shrine.

The bride-to-be is a member of the Milwaukee Branch of the American Association of University Women, an organization in which she has held various offices. She is a member of the Board of the Protestant Home for the Aged and a member of the Board of the Milwaukee College Endowment Association.

Besides Mrs. Linscott, a graduate of Connecticut College, she is the mother of Frank T. Frey, a graduate of Dartmouth College, who is vice president and treasurer of Geuder, Paeschke & Frey Co. of Milwaukee.

GRUSH — WEBB

The wedding of Miss Barbara Webb, daughter of Mrs. Edward Billings Webb of St. Albans, Vermont and the late Mr. Webb, to Mr. Merton E. Grush, Jr., of Winchester took place at the First Congregational Church at St. Albans last Saturday with the Rev. Duncan Livingston officiating. Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's mother.

Miss Webb was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Charles E. Webb of Washington, D. C. and Miss Arlene Webb was her sister's maid-of-honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles E. Webb and Mrs. Vane Armstrong Denault. Miss Sandra Grush niece of the groom was flower girl.

Mr. Willard P. Grush was best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Beverlee Demeritt of St. Albans, Mr. Louis Dolbeare of Brookline, Mr. Elias Lopez of Puerto Rico and Mr. Walter Williams of New York.

Mr. Donald Frayee of Boston played an all Bach wedding service, and Miss Mary Lou Randall of Denver, Colorado sang the introits.

Mr. Grush is the son of Mrs. Merton E. Grush, 18 Everett avenue and the late Mr. Grush.

MISS KERRIGAN, MR. SCHLEGEL ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Kerrigan of Englewood road announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Eileen, to Mr. William Livingston Schlegel, son of Mr. William Schlegel of Winthrop.

Mr. Schlegel served with the United States Army Air Forces during the war, and studied at Washington University.

Miss Kerrigan has chosen July 18 as the date for the marriage.

WATSON — BRYCE

On Saturday afternoon, July 3, Miss Winifred Lillian Bryce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bryce of 979 Main street, was married at the Immaculate Conception rectory to David Theodore Watson, son of Mrs. John Marsten Watson of Medford and Clarks Island, Duxbury, and the late Captain Watson, USNR. The pastor, Rev. Fr. Edmund C. Sliney, performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Hampshire House.

Miss Bryce was attended by Mrs. A. Blaise McKeough of Winchester, and Clinton Earl Watson of Medford was best man for his brother.

The bride wore a white organdy ballerina gown, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar, cap sleeves and a full skirt. Her sweetheart hat was of matching nylon tulle and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid corsage.

The matron of honor wore an off-the-shoulder ballerina gown of ice blue dotted swiss with a pink nylon hat and matching mitts and slippers. Her old fashioned bouquet was of pink roses.

After a honeymoon spent motoring to New York and Canada Mr. and Mrs. Watson will make their home in Medford.

The bridegroom is studying at Boston University after serving in the United States Naval Reserve for four years, including overseas duty.

MRS A. ALLEN KIMBALL

Winchester Country Club Women's Champion, 1948

FISH AT THE MANSFIELDS

"Squire" and Mrs. George W. Franklin of Fairmount street, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Bartlett of Mt. Pleasant street, spent the holiday week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wendell D. Mansfield of Pomfret, Conn., at their summer home in Canton, Me.

Mr. Mansfield, former athletic director at Winchester High School, has developed into quite a fisherman; at least he had been once during the week previous to the Franklin's and Bartlett's visit, at Jackman, Me., with Principal Wade L. Grindle of the high school, Mr. Grindle's brother, Superintendent Thomas S. Grindle of the Lexington schools and Mr. Wayne E. Davis of Marshall road.

We have no record of any Grindle catch, but Mr. Mansfield, taken along for expert tutelage by Mr. Wade Grindle, an acknowledged piscatorial authority (Knowlton and Goddu please note), came back with some fine large lake trout which were described by the Bartletts and Franklins as extremely fine eating.

MISS BROWNE, MR. JONES ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Browne of the Hotel DeWitt, Lewiston, Maine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Sally, to F. Proctor Jones, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Jones of Winchester.

Miss Browne, whose home was formerly in Savannah, Georgia, is a graduate of Lewiston High School and Westbrook Junior College, where she majored in pre-merchandising.

Mr. Jones, a graduate of Hebron Academy, was commissioned a Naval Aviator at Pensacola, serving four years in the U. S. Navy during the war. He is now attending Bowdoin College, where he is a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Marriage arrangements will be announced at a later date, the wedding to take place early in September.

MISS CLARKE ENGAGED TO MR. SWIEDLER

Mr. and Mrs. A. Vinton Clarke of Germantown, Pa., and Stone Harbor, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Jane Clarke, to Edward Bernard Swiedler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Swiedler of Cambridge street.

Miss Clarke is a graduate of Germantown Friends School and the Garland School. Mr. Swiedler was graduated from the Lenox School and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John McNamara of Mountain road, Burlington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Claire, to Mr. Robert Wyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Wyman of Holland street.

ANN FARQUHAR

TO ATTEND MEETING OF WORLD ASSOCIATION OF GIRL SCOUTS AND GIRL GUIDES

Out of seven names of Winchester Senior Scouts submitted to the National Headquarters' Camp Committee, one was chosen to be among those of Massachusetts to test their camping skills for the Storrow Committee of Massachusetts. That girl was Ann Farquhar, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Allan S. Farquhar of 37 Wildwood street. At a special week-end of camping in New Hampshire the latter part of May, Ann was chosen to be one of the 24 girls to win the honor of setting up a model primitive camp at Cooperstown, N. Y., where the World Conference of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides will convene in August.

In setting up the camp, the girls will use all the skills they have learned in Scouting, digging drains, building shelters, caches, and of course building fire places. All of the girls are outstanding in their troops, and we are most happy to have a Winchester girl to share this honor with the 24 other girls representing New England Councils at Cooperstown, when the United States, Canada and Brazil will be hostess countries to the other countries of the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides

Ann is a member of Storrow Troop 1, the first troop of its kind (organized primarily for all sorts of out of door activities). This troop has been under the capable and inspirational leadership of Mrs. W. B. Hersey and her assistant, Mrs. John Q. Adams, who have given much time and energy to the Girl Scouts, for which Winchester is most grateful.

WINCHESTER STUDENTS CHOSEN FOR RED CROSS TRAINING

Margery Carroll and Blair Currie to go to Wellesley

Miss Mary Mackedon of the Winchester High School faculty, Junior Red Cross chairman, announced this week that two Winchester High students, Margery Carroll, daughter of Fireman and Mrs. Walter J. Carroll of Prince avenue, and Blair Currie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Currie of Park avenue, have been chosen to attend the Junior Red Cross leadership training centers which will be held at Wellesley College during the summer.

Margery, who has just completed her sophomore year, and Blair, who was a junior this past year, were chosen by the school authorities on the basis of leadership, scholarship and potential community service. They will attend the first of the two sessions at Wellesley from July 20-30.

Approximately 150 high school students attending each of the two centers will represent nine states the New England States, New York, New Jersey and Delaware. The Wellesley centers are the first to be scheduled in the Red Cross North Atlantic Area, though they have been held in other states.

The program will teach in general "techniques of improving basic human relationships and prepare delegates to furnish effective leadership in their communities, their Red Cross Chapters and their schools."

Instruction will be through discussion groups and classes. In addition to intensive study of all phases of the Junior Red Cross program, including international activities, community service and conservation, the delegates will also elect one of the health and safety courses, home nursing, accident prevention, nutrition and first aid. Demonstrations will be given for disaster service, home service (social work) and the new National Blood Program of the Red Cross.

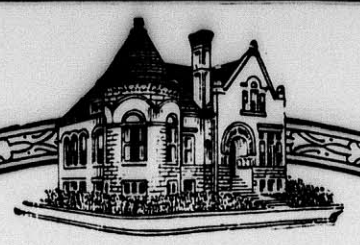

Stressing the international activities phase of the Junior Red Cross program which seeks to promote international goodwill, two Canadian Junior Red Cross members will attend the Wellesley centers as guest delegates.

Governor Robert F. Bradford is expected to address the delegates with John J. Desmond, State commissioner of education; and State Forester H. O. Cook. Recreational features include an "International Night" and a day tour of historic sites around Boston.

Austin Hitchcock, first shift gate-tender at the B & M Crossing in the center is on vacation. His place is being taken by Tom Parker who has had plenty of experience in this sort of duty.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The 50th anniversary celebration of the founding of the Harvard, Massachusetts, Historical Society last Sunday afternoon, to which our society received a special invitation, was an outstanding event.

The exercises opened at 2 o'clock at the Unitarian Church, with the president of the Bay State Historical League, Mr. Winthrop Robinson, and the vice-president, Mr. Charles S. Tapley, as speakers. Miss Clara Endicott Sears, who owns the four museums at Fruitlands in Harvard, was introduced as the "grand lady of Harvard", and read an original poem.

After the exercises the audience adjourned to the lawn in front of the church where a marker consisting of a grind stone from an old Harvard mill, with an appropriate inscription, was dedicated to the founders of the town. Following this dedication, light refreshments were served on the porch of the church.

After a short interval an historical pageant in five episodes depicting the founding of the town of Harvard was given on the common in front of the church.

Mrs. Eleanor Hudson Welch formerly of Winchester, was one of the hostesses of this celebration, which was also attended by Miss Clara Russell and Misses Louise and Eleanor Bancroft of our society.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Hale of Lloyd street were among those returning to Newburyport last month for the 50th reunion of their high school class there. Mr. Hale was salutatorian of the class, and his neighbor, Prof. Newell C. Page of Maxwell road, was valedictorian. Prof. and Mrs. Page also attended the reunion.

WINCHESTER COUNCIL OF GIRL SCOUTS

Day Camp has begun its third week all around fun for everyone. This year we have eighty-eight girls in Camp who are divided into five units according to age.

Archery has been added to our various other sports and we never realized how many budding William Tells we have here in Winchester. Kickball, too, is an innovation which appeals to all ages. The craft tent is full of new ideas, textile painting, plastic clay modeling, sunprints, and even shell painting. Each unit cooks out once a week, and the oldest unit has experimented with the new aluminum foil cooking - reports are that it is a great success - "behaves just like a pressure cooker" - but it definitely can be used by only the older girls.

Overnights at the cabin are always loads of fun, and last Wednesday night a group of Brownie Fly-ups initiated the cabin for the 1948 season. We had frankfurts with cheese and bacon, topped off with fruit cup for dessert. After supper we all sat around inside the cabin and played games while the rain poured down outside. At nine o'clock, bed was a welcome sight although the inevitable whispering continued until the wee small hours of the morning. Unit Four is preparing for their overnight this Wednesday, and all are looking forward to it.

Seven girls and two adults are planning a hostel trip to Montreal which begins on the eighteenth of July. We will write more about this later on.

Watch this column each week for news of Camp Joy.

Janet Pride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ober Pride of 37 Foxcroft road and Conomo Point, is attending the 75th anniversary convention of Sigma Kappa Sorority at Sun Valley, Idaho. She was chosen to represent her Sigma Kappa Chapter at Colby College, Waterville, Me.

TO FIX BLEACHER SEATS

Local authorities have decided to fix up the old circus, and the more recently secured bleacher seats used at football games on Manchester Field so that they will be acceptable to the State authorities from the safety angle. State inspectors have condemned the seats in their present condition after a recent inspection.

As the result of conferences in which Park and School authorities and the Finance Committee were represented, it was decided to fix up the old seats with reinforcements and clamps to hold the boards in place, at a cost of approximately $1,500. A dealer had offered to dispose of the seats for the town at a price of approximately $4,500, and the possibility of adding to this sum sufficient funds to procure permanent type steel stands was discussed and finally rejected in favor of fixing the old seats.

The circus seats, or some of them, were purchased during Mansfield's time as coach and must be about twenty years old.

DICTIONARIES CRUSHED

Two large Webster's Dictionaries, tagged for the high school, aren't going to be much good to the school authorities as a result of the carton in which they were being sent to town being run over by a Reading woman's car last Friday afternoon. Mrs. A. H. Dolben of 17 Bond street, Reading, told the police she ran over the carton as she was driving east across Main street from the Parkway. She also gave it as her opinion that the carton had been pretty badly damaged.

A checkup disclosed that it had fallen from a delivery truck.

RED CROSS NUTRITION SERVICE

Now ready for distribution at the Red Cross office in the Town Hall are pamphlets entitled "Money Saving Main Dishes." These pamphlets, issued by the Office for Food and Food Conservation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are offered to the public without charge.

Full of information about feeding your family economically and well, these booklets contain 150 tested recipes for main dishes. New ideas for meat, poultry, fish, egg, cheese and bread dishes are given in easy-to-follow form and should be of great help to the housewife disturbed by the current high food prices.

PAINE'S COME TO MEDFORD

In an expansion move aiming to give added service to residents of Medford and vicinity, Paine's of Boston, 81 Arlington street, has opened a new home furnishings store on the Fellsway at Wellington circle, Medford. William L. Shearer, 3rd, president and great grandson of the 113-year-old furniture concern, also announced the opening of a new Paine store on the City Parking Area at Cliveden street, Quincy.

These former William Leavens & Company stores were purchased by Paine's of Boston, and now present for the first time in their localities many lines of furniture and other home furnishings available only at Paine's.

Both are large, two-floor daylight stores with extensive parking facilities just outside the doors. In addition to furniture for all rooms of the home, Paine's new suburban stores have departments for summer furniture, rugs, appliances, juvenile furniture, lamps, radios and pianos. The services of the main store's decorating staff are also available through these stores.

Leisurely evening shopping is a special feature of Paine's Medford store, which is open every weekday from 1 p. m. to 9 p. m. Paine's has extended an invitation to all people in this community to visit the new store.

FISHER SUMMER SESSION

For the last eight years the Fisher School at 374 Broadway, Somerville has conducted a Summer Preparatory School for high school students. More than 600 boys and girls have taken the summer courses and most of them have been successful in meeting their requirements so that they could enter their regular high school classes in the fall.

When a student fails in a subject in high school, he can make it up provided he does some systematic study during the summer. It is difficult for a student to study alone consistently. Many outside interests take his attention. He needs the instruction and supervision of well-trained teachers to help him to review thoroughly and carefully.

The courses this summer may also be taken by any boy or girl preparing for college and by those boys who desire to win extra credits in order to complete their high school courses before they are drafted.

The Summer Preparatory School opened on July 6 and continues for six weeks. The classes will be held from 8:30 to 1:30, five days a week. The tuition rates are within the reach of all.

VACATIONISTS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Burns are vacationing at Minot.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Hintlian are at their summer home in Rockport.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Doyle are spending the month of July at New Ocean House, Swampscott, and will be at York Harbor, Maine for the month of August.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Sparks have opened their summer home in Wolfeboro, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Eaton are spending the month of July at Mountain View House, Whitefield, N. H.

WINCHESTER WON WILMINGTON SERIES

Winchester's entrant in the Paul Revere League won the odd game of its three-game series with the Wilmington Town Team at Wilmington last Saturday afternoon with Dean Blanchard pitching six-hit ball after a shakey start. Olivier and Slack's fielding aided the Winchester cause. Sammy Bellino led the locals at bat with two out of four. The summary:

WINCHESTER'S SWIMMING CLASSES WELL ATTENDED

Good-sized groups of Winchester youngsters are once again taking advantage of the annual free swimming lessons sponsored by the Winchester Red Cross Chapter and the Park Department. Red Cross Instructor Donald Armstrong reports the following numbers of children have signed up for lessons at Palmer Beach:

85 Beginners and Advanced Beginners
22 Intermediates
11 Swimmers
8 Junior Life Savers
87 Girl Scouts

Senior Life Saving classes were started last Monday evening at Palmer Beach and any additional applicants are urged to sign up immediately with Mr. Armstrong.

Miss Anna Murray, Park Department Beach Supervisor, reports the following numbers of children are receiving instruction at Leonard Pool:

69 Beginners and Advanced Beginners
13 Intermediates
7 Swimmers
4 Junior Life Savers

Classes at Leonard Pool start promptly at 10 a. m. and the schedule of lesson days is here repeated for those who may have missed it previously: Beginners and Advanced Beginners (Monday through Saturday); Intermediates, Advanced Intermediates and Swimmers (Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday); Junior Life Savers (Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday).

New ring and torpedo buoys have been purchased by the Red Cross for use in the water safety programs at the two beaches.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keyes of Lewis road left this week for their summer home at Falmouth. Mr. Keyes, released the first of the week after ten days in the hospital, is much improved in health.

CLUB MEMBERS RELAX AS TRAVELERS TOIL

While a goodly portion of the population battled traffic and risked life and limb on hot, hectic highways, members of the Winchester Boat Club treated themselves to a safe, sane and extremely satisfactory Independence Day weekend. Conditions were ideal for sailing, swimming and just plain "setting", and there's little question that just being able to enjoy the Club over the past weekend was worth the modest price of a year's dues.

The whole gala weekend wound up with a Clam Bake and Square Dance, and although rain forced the square dancing into the Club, the weather stayed clear until the last watermelon rind had been gnawed clean.

As usual, the Clam Bake was a sell out, and as usual the Club's amateur but expert chef's, prepared everything to the queen's taste. After the feast, there was a drawing for some very nifty prized and then most of the diners retired to the Club ballroom to do-see-do 'til nearly midnight.

On the lake, the Snipe Fleet races were dominated by Jack Streeton and his WILD HARE. Jack won three out of four races, the fourth going to Mel Moller, who is providing Jack with the season's most serious opposition. The Swanson brothers, Bob and Roger, as well as Ted Burleigh, the New England champ, returned to the Snipe wars and served notice, with stellar performances, that they'll be very serious contenders for the Club's crown . . .

The next Ladies' Bridge Party is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, July 14th, Mrs. Percy Bugbee is in charge of the party. Give her a ring at WInchester 6-0387 and let her know if you'll be on hand.

MRS. KIMBALL COUNTRY CLUB WOMEN'S CHAMP

Mrs. A. Allen (Ray) Kimball won the women's championship of the Winchester Country Club Tuesday morning by beating Mrs. Donald M. (Kay) Belcher, former State titlist, 3 and 2. The tournament has been in progress for several weeks. Following is the summary:

First Round

Kay Belcher beat Hope Lynch, 8 and 6
Margaret Ferguson beat Ruth Kuypers, 2 and 1
Mary Jean Buffum beat Jean Roundey, 6 and 5
Evelyn Blackler beat Doris Emerson, 2 and 1
Ray Kimball beat Agnes Wilde, 7 and 6
Flodde Collins beat Dot Farnsworth, 5 and 4
Adelaide Homer beat Rosalinde Lynch, 6 and 5
Emma Howard beat Bonnie Sprague, 5 and 4

Second Round

Belcher beat Ferguson, 7 and 6
Blackler beat Buffum, 2 up
Kimball beat Collins, 4 and 3
Homer beat Howard, 5 and 4

Semi-Final

Belcher beat Blackler, 6 and 5
Kimball beat Homer, 5 and 4

Final

Kimball beat Belcher, 3 and 2

JUNIOR LEGION BEAT WILMINGTON

Winchester Legion won last Sunday's game from Wilmington on Leonard Field, 11-3.

"Major" Daniels went the route for Winchester. He was in trouble in the second when he walked the first man, who scored on an infield out after being pushed around by an error.

In the 3rd an error followed by Fuller's double and Sullivan's triple accounted for two runs. Winchester combed the Wilmington boxmen for 12 hits with Donaghey and Daniels getting doubles. The summary:

BILLY DWYER, OLYMPIC CONTENDER, WELL KNOWN IN WINCHESTER

Billy Dwyer, Brown '48, captured the national low hurdle championship at the A. A. U. meet in Milwaukee last week.

Billy is a cousin of Franklin "Ev" Evans of Woodside road and has spent much time in Winchester.

He captured the national low hurdle championship in the Junior Division of the National A. A. U. meet at Marquette Field in 24.2 sec. last Friday.

Billy also holds the N. E. 100 yd. dash and 200 low hurdles championships.

The little Brown star also qualified in the Senior 100 meter dash for semi-finals for the Olympics at Evanston next week. He ran in the second heat last Saturday afternoon at Marquette Field but was disqualified.

He served three years in the U. S. Army in radar and was flown from Oahu in 1945 to participate in the Army-Navy Olympics at Manila. He won in his events there, also.

WINCHESTER JUNIORS TIED ARLINGTON

Winchester Junior Legion and Arlington played a 2-2 tie game at Leonard Field last Thursday evening before a thunder storm ended their activity.

Arlington put over two in the second without a hit, a bad throw to first on an attempted sacrifice and a poor throw home on a "squeeze" being the deciding factors.

Winchester filled the bases with one out in its half of the second and when Dacey erred on Dave Coon's grounder to short Daniels counted. With the sacks still jammed Kenton hoisted to short and Roche grounded out to first base unassisted.

Daniels opened Winchester's 6th with a sharp single to center. Amico sacrificed, being called out on a close decision that the Winchester bench didn't like at all.

The decision hurt, for after Murphy had grounded to shortstop Dave Coon lined a double against the center fence, bringing in Daniels.

Winchester filled the bases with none out in the 4th but failed to score.

Kenton, pitching for Winchester, had pitched himself out of several holes, once fanning two men with runs on second and third. When he passed the leadoff batter in the 8th, Coach Bartlett sent in Paul Roche and the latter did a pretty fair country job of relief hurling, fanning three men in order. Paul was very fast and the semi-darkness didn't hurt him any. The summary:

The tragic death of little Mary Lou Mawn emphasizes that highways, even of residential towns like Winchester are dangerous places to be and that only eternal vigilence is any guarantee of safety when it comes to motor traffic. Any one who gets around the streets of Winchester to any great extent was not surprised to learn of our most recent highway fatality. Rather, those traveling our highways are constantly surprised and grateful that more children do not lose their lives in the streets. An increasing number of our town children seem to be playing in the streets despite the efforts of the community to provide playgrounds where they will be supervised and reasonably safe. Often children hold their ground in the street as if to see how near a harassed driver will dare to come to them before having to stop. This is not a good situation and calls for a different attitude on the part of the youngsters with the chief responsibility for its inculcation laying in the hands of the parents. It is surprising how many parents resent anyone, even the police, ordering their children not to play in the street. Not long ago a woman went all the way down to police headquarters from the west side hill district to find out whether her boys could play ball in the street, and when told they could not, argued the question for several minutes with the desk officer, in the boys' presence. The plain truth of the matter is that it IS NOT SAFE to play in the street. The advent of the automobile and the tremendous increase in the general use of automobiles and trucks have so increased the danger of playing in streets that it is foolhardy to disregard the obvious. It isn't even safe much of the time to cross any street without looking both ways. Mary Lou's sad accident brings this fact overwhelmingly home. The name of any other child in town could have been written into her story just as well. If her tragic passing brings home to other parents the danger lurking for their youngsters in the streets, her brief young life will not have been lived in vain.

Dear Mr. Penta:

This is to thank the people of Winchester for their generous donation to the Jimmy fund.

Like yourself, all of us who have been privileged to work on this great cause are very much pleased with the spontaneous response from all over the state. We feel sure that Jimmy and all the children at the hospital will benefit immeasurably from the generosity of so many people who have contributed to this cause.

It is one of the real privileges of our work here to have had the opportunity to see how many thoughtful people like yourselves have contributed spontaneously to Jimmy.

Sincerely,

EASTERN MASSACHUSETTS STREET RAILWAY COMPANY NEW SCHEDULE OF FARES

The new schedule of fares effective at midnight Saturday, July 10th, 1948, was announced today in the 11 Divisions of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, which serves 78 cities and towns of this Commonwealth.

The most important changes are the abolition of the so-called weekly pass which sold for $1.25, the ride-all-day ticket which sold at the same price, and the discontinuance of tokens which since May 4, 1947, were sold at the rate of four for a quarter.

A statement issued by John I. Donovan, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, said:

"It is regrettable that fares have to be increased, but since they are the only source of revenue we have, we have no alternative in view of the increased cost of everything we buy and the wages we pay."

The statement emphasized that the basic fare of 10c, was being retained for the most part, and that rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, the person who formerly bought tokens at an average of 6¼c, a ride was not being asked to pay 10c, for the same ride in all cases.

The statement continued: "We have established the system of paying 10c, for a cash fare instead of a token, but for .05c, additional the rider may buy a transfer, which in effect will give him two rides for 15c, or 7½c, a ride. Formerly for the same mileage the rider used two tokens, so that the increase is from 12½c, to 15c, or 20%, instead of the 50% increase that has been rumored."

The schedule of new fares was officially released today in the various divisions, and with it was the announcement that tokens not used before midnight Saturday or any tickets bought and not used before that time would be redeemed by the Company for face value.

WINCHESTER BOY IN NEWS

Byron Wiswell Saved Dead Broker's Yacht

They are singing the praises of a Winchester boy down Marblehead way these days, following the loss of H. Harrison Proctor, Swampscott resident and Boston insurance broker, who was swept overboard from his schooner-yacht, Western Way, in Marblehead Harbor during Tuesday night's heavy storm.

Byron Wiswell, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wiswell of Fletcher street and Marblehead, whose parents summer home is near where the tragedy occurred, was watching the storm from the Windows of the house, to which he and his father had just returned. The two saw Proctor's yacht, apparently under power, circling about in strange fashion through the heavy seas and gradually approaching the jagged Black Rocks, a rugged section between the Corinthian Yacht Club and Marblehead Light.

Both Mr. Wiswell and his son are experienced yachtsmen, members of both the Corinthian Yacht and Winchester Boat Clubs. They soon satisfied themselves that the yacht was out of control and without a helmsman.

Byron, a member of the Tabor Academy crew, ran from his home to the yacht club and gathered together Dudley Shepard, 16, Clinton McKim and Martin Bjertnes, assistant boatman at the club. The group put off in the club launch, handled by Bjertnes, and overtook the circling yacht which was then not far from the rocks.

Timing things beautifully, Wiswell leaped from the prow of the launch to the stern of the yacht and spun the wheel, steering the yacht away from the rocks and into deeper water.

The launch again approached and Shepard followed Wiswell aboard in the same manner. The two maneuvered the yacht away from the dangerous Black Rocks area through the choppy seas to the comparative calm water of moorings in front of the Corinthian club.

There the boys killed the engines and found that no one was aboard. Proctor was known to have gone off to his yacht and his chauffeur was waiting for him at the club as he was not expected to be gone long. It is believed that he was swept overboard during the fierce gale.

4-POINT Car Financing

The wise car owner looks for these four virtues in the financing plan he chooses. In this community he looks no further than this "hometown" bank. Here he finds low rates — with no hidden charges . . . prompt action, without red tape . . . and a monthly payment plan suited to his pocketbook. And he appreciates the convenience of making arrangements . . . and monthly payments . . . right in his own neighborhood.

BUY AND FINANCE AT HOME

So, why not finance your car right in your own home town? Remember: your neighbors value your continued goodwill. In addition, when you finance here, you establish bank credit for the future. Stop in now, before you buy. You need not bank here to use our financing plan.

WINCHESTER AIDED INSTITUTE FOR LIBRARIANS

Winchester contributed to the successful INSTITUTE FOR LIBRARIANS of small town libraries, conducted by the Division of Public Libraries - Massachusetts Department of Education, last week at Simmons College.

At the invitation of the Division of Public Libraries, Mrs. J. Girard Chandler II of Lawson road, participated in the symposium "What We Expect In Library Service To Boys And Girls". Mrs. Chandler spoke from a parent's point of view.

As part of the program, the Institute visited the Winchester Public Library for an afternoon. Miss Corinne Mead, Chief Librarian, addressed the group and gave a demonstration of the educational film programs held weekly in the library during the winter season. It will be recalled that our local library pioneered in the use of films to stimulate reading interests.

Mrs. Margaret W. Erskine, Reference Librarian, spoke to the visitors on Winchester's FAMILY ROOM and its usefulness in education for family life. This project has received national recognition.

Forty Librarians from the following towns were present at the library program in Winchester: Westborough, Montague, Sherborn, Marblehead, Spencer, Canton, Westminster, North Reading, Upton, Hudson, Holden, Foxboro, Chicopee, South Dartmouth, Winchendon, Leominster Templeton, Townsend, Chelmsford, Ashland, Marlborough, Milford, Westwood, Lancaster, Gloucester, Medfield, Middleton, Paxton, Stoneham and Medway.

Miss Catharine M. Yerxa, Director of the Massachusetts Division of Public Libraries and Miss V. Genevieve Boisclair, Field Library Adviser accompanied the visiting group to Winchester.

BUILDING PERMITS

The Building Commissioner has issued permits for week ending Thursday, July 8, as follows:

New dwellings at:
2 Girard road
10 Risley road
63 Franklin road
196 Forest street
2 Hollywood road
8 Rangeley ridge

Reshingle at:
27 Florence street
69 Sheridan circle
20 Stowell road

Alterations at:
27 Dunster lane
1 Elmwood avenue

A through freight developed a hot-box while going through town at midnight over the week-end and was held up for about 12 minutes on the center crossing. Had the crossing been tied up for that time during the day the traffic jam would have been something.

WELCOME ADDITIONS

This paper has been informed that Mr. John Francis Navarro has taken over the building located at 7 Shore road. This is the building in which the bowling alleys are going to be operated.

Many things have been planned for this building and they all look as though they will be beneficial to the town.

On the first and second floors of what formerly was Hotin Motors, is now known as the Winchester Garage. This will be a modern, up-to-date garage that will feature repairing, servicing and storage of all types of cars. It is Mr. Navarro's intention to operate this garage on a 24 hour basis and to have a tow truck in operation for the people who need it. The garage will have five first class mechanics in attendance.

Not too much can be said yet about the bowling alleys since the contractors are just starting. There will be 14 of the most modern alleys in the country. One of Mr. Navarro's novel ideas is to have a section of the bowling alley room fitted out as a lounge where the guests may play checkers, chess or bridge while waiting their turn for an alley.

Knowing Mr. Navarro's other enterprises, the Shaker Glen House of Woburn and the Country Plate of Boston, and the excellent reputation they enjoy, it is assumed that the Sport Center and the garage will be operated in such a manner that it will be a credit to the town of Winchester.

ST. MARY'S LOSE AT MELROSE ON HOLIDAY MORNING

St. Mary's C. Y. O. Intermediates lost a ball game to St. Mary's of Melrose on July 5th with the score immaterial. The defeat can be blamed squarely upon the failure of two key players to show up, one of whom was scheduled to pitch. This necessitated the rounding up of a couple of Junior players at the last minute and these willing players, Johnny DiIorio and Danny Joyce gave their best. Courageously fighting an uphill battle even leading 4-2 at one stage, the boys all did their best with Melrose at full strength. The last time these teams met they played to a 3-3 tie with Paul Roche pitching. Don Kenton tried to personally take care of the uneven battle with a terrific home run to deep left field with a man on. He accounted for three Winchester runs batted in, for the day. Don has been unable to pitch lately because of a sore arm but has been playing in every game. Henry Barry got on base 4 times with a nice hit, 2 walks, and by error. Leo Williams came through with two hits, one a double, while other hits were made by Jack Haggerty, Fred Patterson, and Sammy Kenton. Playing for St. Mary's were: Bob Rogers, rf; D. Joyce, cf; Sammy Kenton, lf; Don Kenton, 1b; Jack Haggerty, 2b; Leo Williams, ss; Henry Barry, 3b; Fred Patterson, c; John DiIorio, p. Williams and Patterson took turns pitching also.

Malcolm, a clown juggler, got the program away to the good start, and was followed by an old fashioned Punch and Judy Show, that must have brought a nostalgic pang or two to the oldsters in the hall. Then followed Max Arnold and his trained dogs, a really good animal act that fascinated the children.

Al Stryker, a contortionist and "Oscar", his dummy, came next and the limber "Al" tied himself into all sorts of pretzyl-like knots in immitation of his inanimate partner.

Elwyn Shaw, magician, got a couple of "stooges" from the crowd, as usual, to add to the fun of his act, and then the kiddies' friend, Andy, returned in an excellent uni-cycle balancing act, climaxed by the performer's donning a mamouth feminine costume while balancing on a small wheel cycle and then riding around the stage.

The Marino Sisters, who have several times appeared in Winchester, concluded the program with a rapid fire, high class acrobatic dancing and tumbling act.

Ross Frisco Agency furnished the show which was under the direction of James T. Kennedy. Dora Van was the obliging pianist. While the children were waiting the arrival of the ice cream the irrepressible "Andy" led them in vociferous community singing with Miss Van at the piano.

Lining up, the children left the hall by the south exit and were given "Hoodsies" as they filed downstairs. Among those assisting "Tom" Duddy at the hall were Francis Murray, Commander of Aberjona Post, V. F. W.; Walter J. Burns, Commander of Winchester Post, American Legion; and Edward Mele, Bob and Tom McKee, Mark Kelly, Ralph Scott, Edward Fitzgerald, John J. O'Melia, Ed Boyle, Al Guam and Marty Foley. Officers Winthrop Palmer and Joseph Quigley were the police on duty, Officer Palmer doing yeoman duty when the kids were rushing the stage to assist "Andy" in his tumbling act.

Hat honors were evenly divided between "Al" Guam, with a pillbox model and "Mack" of the "Times" who had a light green peaked job like Merlin, the magician wore in the days of King Arthur!

Whether you shop in person or call for your order . . . you will receive the same in top quality selections.

HOGAN SAYS YOU FIND THEM HERE

Vegetables As You Like Them to Be

Thoreau may have chosen the hard way of finding the best that nature has to offer but Winchester folks don't have to go seeking for their bountiful supply of the best that nature can produce in the way of crisp, firm vegetables.

Whenever possible, native vegetables will be the piece de resistance . . . at other times, hot house varieties will make their appearance.

At Hogan's Market nothing is left to chance . . . Mr. Hogan personally selects each box of produce to be sure that his customers will receive top quality always.

GEORGE HOGAN OWNER OF NEW MARKET

George Hogan, owner and manager of the new and modern Hogan's Meat and Produce Market is no stranger to Winchester. He was with the Winchester A. & P. store for six years and then completed twelve years of service with the A. & P. system. He is a brother of Raymond Hogan who worked for the Winchester Economy Stores for 14 years.

Mr. Hogan has devoted the major part of his business life to the market business. His record was broken only for the four year period which he spent in the U. S. Army, 28 months of which was spent overseas.

This roving reporter couldn't get Mr. Hogan to speak about his war experiences but vital statistics show that he was a member of the first groups which took part in our major invasions.

We did pry out of Mr. Hogan the fact that he was Mess Sergeant for more than 1200 men in Casablanca.

When he returned to the States under the regulation rotation plan . . . the government sent him to advanced Meat Inspectors School in Washington, D. C. This extensive course covered a personal survey of the Chicago Stock Yards and the Boston Market District.

At one time in his active market career, Mr. Hogan was chief beef buyer for the Old Colony Packing Company . . . buying beef by the carload.

Mr. Hogan is a modest, well-liked man who knows the meat and vegetable business. His enthusiasm matched by his sparkling personality is well liked by all who have done business with him throughout the years.

All we could get Mr. Hogan to say about himself is that his market is the result of years of careful study and planning to bring the Winchester housewives a personalized market with top quality products. Oh, yes, the address, he laughingly reminded us, is 594 Main Street.

WHAT EVERY BRIDE SHOULD BE TOLD

Frank, Intimate Discussions on how to know Top Quality Foods

Winchester, Mass., July 9—The way to a man's heart is through his stomach . . . so, every bride should consult her market man regularly.

Let her market man help her plan hubby's meals. No one will ever know that the bride never knew a piece of chuck from a leg of lamb (and believe it or not there are some brides who really don't know the difference, yet).

Really, brides don't have to let on to in-laws that they don't know the first thing about cooking. A reputable personalized market will suggest tasty meals quick to prepare and easy to please.

(We have it from reliable sources that Hogan's Market has scores of recipes for the novice as well as the more experienced housewife.

SUDDEN RESPONSIBILITY OF A CHURCH SUPPER

Winchester, Mass., July 9—If the sudden responsibility of a church supper is yours . . . don't excite yourself unnecessarily. Mr. Hogan at Winchester's new Hogan's Market will tell you how to plan the supper . . . how much to buy for a given number of servings and how to go about it.

HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR LOBSTER

Winchester, Mass., July 9—Some like it baked, some like it broiled, some like it hot, some like it cold. Whichever way you like it . . . be sure that the lobster is freshly caught. Don't be misled by prices . . . know your fish market and rely on their integrity.

Hogan's Market will bring you table lobsters that are supreme masterpieces. Come in today and see how inviting our lobsters look.

SHAKESPEARE MAY HAVE SAID "WHAT'S IN A NAME"

Winchester, Mass., July 9—There's plenty in a name which carries with it the integrity and honor of an individual. Hogan's Market which opens today at 594 Main Street carries with it a tradition for fine service which the owner, Mr. George Hogan, established when he formerly worked for a well known super market in Winchester.

The Hogan name in the market business is your guarantee for top quality meats, poultry, fish, fruits and vegetables at comparative prices. This new market carries with it a stamp of complete personalization.

AGREE ON RECIPES FOR GOOD MEALS

Winchester, Mass., July 9—We all agree that there's nothing like a delicious home cooked meal.

In speaking to several well-known Winchester housewives . . . our roving reporter managed to cull this fine meat recipe for our readers.

Mrs. L. . . . Here is my favorite recipe for an economical roast of lamb that will have your family begging for more. Ask Mr. Hogan (whom we know so well) for a square cut fore quarter of lamb. Have him bone it, cutting off the shank and neck. Then ask him to open it from the rib and arm bone side. This is then stuffed with your favorite dressing, either bread or sausage and the edges sewn together. I call this my Boneless Cushion Roast.

THE ORIGINAL FISH STORY

Here's the One That Was Caught.... Not the One That Got Away

Winchester, Mass., July 9—We'd like to take you to the fish piers just as this roving reporter did when he went with Mr. Hogan. What a sight . . . sharp, tangy breezes playfully flitting across hot, tired brows and then the fishermen coming in with their loads of sparkling fish.

We watched Mr. Hogan select his supply from the top, unbruised sections. It was a matter of information to learn that the best fish is that which is on top . . . this supply, we were informed, was the last of the day's catch . . . therefore the best selection in the catch.

This roving reporter knows that whenever the wife prepares fish from Hogan's Market that he will remind himself of the extra care that Mr. Hogan goes to in order to supply his customers with the freshest and the best fish on the market.

The aim of this market will be to render a service to the housewife.

Winchester today welcomes the new Hogan Market. The policy of this new store will be to render a highly personalized market service to the housewife. To help her prepare more nutritious as well as more economical meals. Due to the many years experience in the market business, the management will be able to help the housewife with many hints on how to get the most for everyday meals and deluxe party meals. The staff are highly trained market men who will be more than happy to advise you on how to use your ingenuity in planning attractive, nutritious meals. Please feel free to ask any questions regarding well planned meal arrangements.

Let's Face The Issue

Winchester, Mass., July 9—Do we really know what we eat? A clever housewife can disguise ordinary cuts of meat and create tasty fancifuls. When you visit the new Hogan Market . . . be sure to ask about the many varieties of meat that you see in the attractive cases. With a little ingenuity you, too, can create those lovely, colorful magazine meals. At Hogan's Market . . . the housewife can be sure that all the meat sold is strictly top quality.

LET'S GO NATIVE AND LIKE IT.....

Winchester, Mass., July 9—Via the grapevine, we hear tell that Hogan's Market will sell native poultry exclusively. We didn't hear it from the chickens but we know for a fact that Mr. Hogan has completed arrangements with nearby farms to supply his customers with fresh, plump, milk-fed poultry. Yes, we all will go native and like it.

Families in this area can look forward to delicious chicken dinners if they shop at Hogan's Market.

BERANGER PHOTOGRAPHER AT MURPHY GENERAL

Following eighteen months in the Army plus photography training under the G. I. Bill of Rights, Mr. Robert Beranger, local man, has received a Civil Service assignment at Murphy General Hospital, Waltham, in its Clinical Photo Laboratory.

Son of Mrs. Elias Beranger of 6 Chesterford road and the late Captain Beranger, this young veteran was graduated from the Winchester High School in 1946. His Army enlistment started June 25 of the same year. After a basic at Ft. McClellan, Ala., the former soldier received Paratroop training at Ft. Benning, Ga. His next transfer was to Ft. Bragg, N. C. with the famous 82nd Airborne. In January, 1947, he was shipped overseas to Vienna, Austria, to remain there on duty until the next November. Beranger was then returned to the States and Honorably Discharged in December.

He immediately entered the Vitale Photography School of Boston under the Veteran's Bill, and easily qualified for his present position.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The jury list for the year beginning July 1st has been compiled and signed and will be printed some time before August 1st.

The Board is more than pleased to receive commendations from out of town people on the courtesy and efficiency shown by our police officers, particularly regarding those recently appointed to the force. This reflects most favorably on the department and the type of men who are appointed to protect and represent the town.

CAMP FELLSLAND OPENS FOR 24TH SEASON

Camp Fellsland located in Amesbury, is the objective for many of our local Scouts on their opening date of July 11. Everyone in the Council area, which comprises Medford, Burlington, Winchester, Woburn and Stoneham, has been laying plans during the winter and spring season to spend a week or more at his marvelous playground and recreation area located in Amesbury and So. Hampton, N. H.

Many improvements have been made during the winter and spring season including the following: the completion of the new Memorial Lodge including new kitchen equipment, and moving of Kiwanis Hall to its new location and subdividing this building into a store, office, storage room, and photographic room, the building of a new wharf made possible by the Ex Ka Society of Winchester, new sleeping beds in all the sleeping quarters, additional waterfront equipment including a new aluminum canoe.

The program for this summer has been divided on a weekly basis. The special programs made up each week for all departments will be carried on in addition to specialized subjects for each week.

Among the staff for this year is Bob Peletier of Belmont, who will be the new waterfront director. He has had previous experience in this activity at Camp Childs and Camp Loon Pond, both situated on the Cape. He comes highly recommended by the Mass. Humane Society and the American Red Cross. He will be assisted by Bob Kennedy of Medford. Cedric Thompson, a former Scout of Troop 8, Medford, and a well known athlete in these parts, will be one of the Scoutmasters and also be in charge of all athletics, and Scout Advancement.

Seymour Greenfield, who has had quite a bit of experience in both regular Scouting and Explorer Scouting, will serve as Scoutmaster in charge of nature work. He has quite a number of years service with the Boston Council camp located in Middleboro.

Fred Burtt of Winchester will be in charge of the Bangers. This unit is set aside for boys who have had previous camping experience. The boys sleep in tents instead of the regular cabins.

Mrs. Perkins, the cook, has been planning the meals that will be well prepared and varied and as usual every one can look forward to the best meals that can be prepared. Ice cream, as always, will be the dessert many times during the week.

Mrs. MacFeeley will again be the camp nurse, so that all of the campers can have cuts and bruises taken care of properly.

As previously stated the camp will be opened to receive the first of the boys on Sunday, July 11, and continue for the six weeks closing on Sunday, August 22. All local Scouts are eligible to attend this camp for any period from one to six weeks provided that they sign up through the Scout Office on South Border road, Winchester. Any additional information can be secured by phoning Winchester 0-2030.

ON WAY TO TURKEY

Mrs. C. Harold Smith, a widely known resident of Winchester, left the South Station June 25 for Westover Field en route to Ankara, Turkey, where she will join her husband who has been there since February. They expect to remain in Turkey for several years.

Mrs. Smith remained in this country to attend the graduation of her son, Arnold from M. I. T., June 11 and his marriage on the following day. Her daughter, Mrs. Thomas L. Howard of Birmingham, Ala., with her husband and six months old son, had visited here the week of June 5, and had their son, Thomas Leslie, Jr., christened at Ripley Chapel on June 12, returning home the following Monday.

WINCHESTER LODGE NEWS

The Mass Grand Lodge held its annual convention on June 27, 28, 29 at Greenfield, Mass. The Winchester Lodge was represented by John A. Volpe, who is Grand Financial Secretary; A. P. Tofuri, C. Frongillo, Dr. A. L. Maietta, as Delegates; F. Procopia as Alternate Delegate.

The Lodge Softball team is as usual, quite active. They are in the Winchester Softball league and they play games with outside teams. This year the team is being coached by Sam Corbi and F. Procopio, who is also the manager of the team. The following are members of the Softball squad, W. "Mulligan" Fiore, A. "Deadhorse" Chefalo, Sam Tibaudo, Joe Ciarcia, Al Tibaudo, Tony Saraco, Nick Molea, Gaspie Lentine, Paul Lentine, "Maxie" De Mombro, Al DeMinico "Choppers" Gange and Jimmy Tibaudo.

The players of the Lodge Basketball team were recently awarded Gold Basketballs by the Sports Committee of the Lodge. A. P. Tofuri made the presentations. The following received the Basketballs: Coaches Dom Provinzano and Frank Procopia, and players Danny Maffeo, Sam Provinzano, Sam and Al Tibaudo, Tony Saraco, Joe Russo, Frank Faietta, Nick Molea and Gaspie Lentine.

On Sunday July 11, the Winchester Degree team, with its originator and Coach Dr. Maietta and A. P. Tofuri, are going to Rutland, Vermont. They will initiate the largest class of members ever to be initiated in the state of Vermont. This class will be known as the "Winchester Lodge" class. The degree team will be guests at a banquet being held by the Christopher Columbus Lodge of Rutland, Vermont.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION FOR POLICE SERGEANT OCTOBER 30

The Civil Service Commission has designated October 30, 1948, as the date for an examination to establish a list for promotion to sergeant in the Winchester Police Department, filling the vacancy occasioned when Sergeant, Charles J. Harrold was appointed Chief of the Department.

The coming examination is open to the permanent regular patrolmen in the Winchester Police Department who have been employed in this grade, after certification, for at least one year prior to the date of the examination.

Applicants must obtain at least 70 percent in each subject, of which there are two, report, counting 2 points; practical questions, counting 10, with 3 points for seniority, making a total of 15.

Applicants who are on military duty may be allowed to take the examination provided they make request at the time of filling application and that the necessary arrangements for the proper conduct of the examination can be made. Applications must be on file not later than October 11 at 5 o'clock.

BEES ON THE WING!

Honey bees have been very much in the news during the recent hot days. One swarm entered a house on Lagrange street and had to be exterminated before they could be removed from the partitions. Another swarm settled in a chimney on Mystic Valley Parkway and found their way into the house by way of the fire place. Requests to the police and fire department brought advise from local bee keepers. A third swarm settled on the back wall of the Fells Hardware on upper Main street. Before a local bee keeper could arrive to capture them they had entered a space near the roof and had made themselves quite at home.

TROOP 12 CLOSE MEETINGS UNTIL FALL

Troop 12 of St. Mary's parish have terminated their weekly meetings until Fall when postal cards will be sent out to the Troop informing them of the resumption of meetings. With their first year of Scouting accomplished the troop can look forward to next year with its tentative program plus the big definite program of the Fellsland Council Exposition which will be held in Winchester. This will mark the first time in nine years that it has been held here so all the Winchester Troops will be gunning especially to attain many laurels. Commentaries on the recent Parents' Night which Troop 12 held recently are extremely favorable to say the least and the Scouts were really proud to perform before their parents and friends and relatives and are looking forward at this early date to next year when they know that they will be still further equipped to give them an even better show. One of the hardest workers at the Parents' Night was Scout John Connolly who helped immeasurably in lining up chairs and in other tasks. John is Patrol Leader of the Flying Eagles who received his second class badge at the candlelight ceremony while his mother received the same award in miniature. Scouts who braved the rain to assist in closing up the Scouting Room for the summer and assit in placing various items away until Fall were Patrol Leader Neil McFeeley, Robert Thorne and Dick Loftus, while Scoutmaster Doucette and the Messrs. Grant and Erhard and Fiore also were on hand.

Scout John Riordan who was accidentally hurt while in swimming is almost recovered now and the Scouts look forward to his return to the Troop in the Fall. While this is being written Scout Don Cullen is awaiting an operation at Winchester Hospital and the whole Troup and Committee offer a fervent prayer that Don has the speediest of recoveries. Don is scheduled to attend Camp Fellsland together with Scouts Coughlin, O'Connor, Thorne and others in August and all are looking forward to it. It would certainly be remiss of Troop 12 at this time to refrain from thanking the STAR for the splending coverage that they have granted each week in the paper. It is deeply appreciated and the Scouts and Committee wish to thank the STAR and say that many years from now the yellowed and time worn clippings that have found their way into many a mother's scrap book and the Scouts' books too, will bear concrete evidence of the friendship of the STAR.

Mr. and Mrs. William Duran of Loring avenue are the parents of a daughter, born July 1 at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. Duran is the former Alice Quigley of Winchester.

POWERS GRANTED PATENT WITH R. I. MAN

On June 15, 1948, the United States Patent Office granted patent number 2,443,512 on a "Treatment of Textile Fibers" to Donald H. Powers, Winchester, Mass., and William J. Harrison, East Greenwich, R. I.

This invention pertains to the treatment of textile fibers such as cotton, wool and rayon for the purpose of improving their working characteristics, reducing slippage between them, and increasing the tensile strength of the material resulting from the processing thereof.

In the past, numerous attempts have been made to accomplish the above aims by treatment of the fibers or raw stock with such substances as resins, gelatin, casein and the like, but they have been unsuccessful because the latter materials frequently became sticky or rigid, and tended to coat the teeth and rolls of the machinery.

However, Messrs. Powers and Harrison have discovered that by treating textile fibers with certain solutions of silica, it is possible to substantially reduce the slippage normally present in fibers, and consequently, to speed up the rate of spinning and greatly increase the tensile strength of the resulting yarn and fabric. Their special solution may be applied either to the raw stock or yarn, by spraying, immersion or wiping, in amount varying from .1 to 3% of the weight of the fibers; and when harsh or stiff finishes are desired, it is possible to employ quantities up to 4 or 5%.

They cite several specific tests of their invention. For example, a yarn, made from one inch staple cotton and subjected to their treatment, showed a breaking strength of 120 pounds, while untreated yarn of the same type possessed a breaking strength of only 80 pounds.

As a result of the reduced slippage, it is possible to lower the number of turns per inch in the yarn and thereby permit a considerable speeding up of spinning operations; and, in addition, it is claimed that by their process, stronger and more uniform yarn strands may be produced than have been hitherto possible.

This patent has been assigned to Monsanto Chemical Company, St. Louis, Mo.

Although the rain and the holiday week-end curtailed the Town Softball League schedule during the past week, the league continued on its merry way with several upsets taking place which shuffled the league standing considerably. St. Mary's moved into second place by virtue of their thrilling 10 to 8 victory over the Sachems last Friday night. The surprisinng Atomics moved up into fourth place by winning two games during the past week as the Sons of Italy annexed only one victory. Perhaps the most thrilling victory of the week was that of the Maguire Motors over the Rockets 6 to 5 in an extra inning battle.

There are two top notch games on tap for next week which may well juggle the league standing still further. At Ginn Field on Monday evening the Sachems and the St. Mary's meet for the third time this year. Each team already owns a victory over the other and this third and rubber game will give the margin for the season to the winning aggregation. The other feature game also involves the Sachems when they meet the Sons of Italy at Ginn Field on Wednesday evening. These teams are great natural rivals and as they have not met before this season, each will be striving to annex this initial contest and better its position in the league standing.

The schedule for next week:

Sunday, July 11

K. of C. vs Atomics (Ginn)

Monday, July 12

Sachems vs St. Mary's (Ginn)

Maguire Motors vs Rockets (West Side)

Atomics vs Red Shirts (Shore Rd)

WINCHESTER WON PAUL REVERE TILT

Winchester beat Acton at Acton Sunday in the Paul Revere League series Sunday afternoon, 14-7, in a loosely played game.

A big holiday crowd witnessed the contest and saw Dee, former Belmont left hander who handcuffed Winchester in the '47 season, harshly treated by the locals. Bellino led the attack with two hits in three times at bat, including a triple. Sammy also stole four bases. The summary:

CLAIMED ASSAULT BY SOMERVILLE YOUTH

The police were notified Friday evening at 10:45 by Neil McCarron of 23 Irving street that half an hour earlier he had been assaulted by one of three Somerville young men whom he met at Leonard Field Beach.

According to McCarron the Somerville trio had been swimming at the beach. He was talking to two of the three when the other apparently took exception to something he said and struck him on the mouth, cutting his lip and loosening two teeth.

McCarron was unable to account for the attack. He got the registration of the car, which a checkup disclosed as registered to Carl E. Crawshaw of 111 Medford street, Somerville. Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and McCarron went to Somerville where the owner of the car named Bertrand Sweeney of 19 Taylor street as the one who had the trouble with McCarron.

Police say Sweeney admitted hitting McCarron whom he said "bothered him". A complaint was secured in the Woburn Court Tuesday morning, charging the Somerville youth with assault. He will appear in court tomorrow. Incidentally Park Department regulations forbid swimming at town beaches after they are closed for the evening.

SERVICE CLUB PICNIC

The members of the P. N. G.'s Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge were guests of their president, Mrs. Robert Smith (Alice Ralph) of Forest street, at a picnic supper held Tuesday evening, June 29th. Despite threatening skies and a slight shower, the weather cleared in time to hold the picnic outdoors.

Delicious hamburgers were broiled over the outdoor fireplace and the chefs of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ralph, were kept busy keeping up with the demand for repeat orders.

After supper a short business meeting was held. The drawing for the 12 lb., 10 oz. cooked ham took place at this meeting and Mrs. Rachel Morse of Lloyd street was the lucky winner. The club is indebted to Mr. Lee Ralph, who donated the ham.

After a social hour, the members adjourned until next September.

Miss Barbara Donaghey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Donaghey of Glenwood avenue, is spending the summer as a lifeguard and swimming instructor at the Municipal Pool in Medford.

Officer William E. Cassidy of the police department had to make a trip to the Winchester Boat Club to drive away a group of six Somerville girls who were tipping over boats anchored off the club. The girls refused to leave for the club steward, giving him some vocal abuse that was described as much more pointed than proper.

WINCHESTER WELL REPRESENTED AT CAMP WYANOKE

Winchester is well represented this summer at Camp Wyanoke, boys' camp in Wolfeboro, N. H., of which Bradford M. Bentley of Sheffield road is owner and director. With Mr. Bentley at camp are his mother, Mrs. W. H. Bentley, and his son, David.

Others of the camp staff from Winchester include High School Athletic Director Henry T. Knowlton, who is waterfront director; George Gould, head of rifle range; John West, counselor; William Wilde, counselor and waterfront assistant; Junior Counselors Robert Oxford, Dick Richmond and Roger Creelman; William Rodgers, head of tennis; Mrs. William Rodgers, dining-room supervisor; Scott Doub, counselor for the midget camp; Bob Abrahamson, Ted Covert, Peter Flagg and Harry Myers, dishwashing and dining room crew; Dick Carroll, kitchen assistant; Richmond Keeney, maintenance; and the following campers, John Beggs, David Shiverick, John Richmond, Robert McNutt, Jr., John F. Donovan, Jr., J. Paul Bushell, John David Rogers and William H. Rogers, Jr.

Wyanoke Notes

Dave Shiverick is the camp bugler. He won the high jump in the senior track meet held on July 4.

John Richmond was the winner of the senior track meet hundred yard dash, with Johnny Donovan placing third in the shotput.

Three members of last year's good rifle team at Winchester High got their start in marksmanship under George Gould at Wyanoke. They would be Dick and John Richmond and Bob Oxford. (Bob is good at shootin' foxes. Remember?)

Pete Dillingham high school co-track captain-elect, is another who did a lot of shooting under George Gould at Wyanoke. Pete had planned to go to Wyanoke with the kitchen crew again this year, but finally decided to spend the summer with his parents in the west. It has been a while since the Dillinghams have been all together because of dad's army duty and it probably seemed pretty good. Pete is expected back to help the high school football team this fall.

Lally Myers, co-captain of track with Pete, is in the kitchen crew this year, with husky "Bob" Abrahamson, football center at high school. "Muscles" Covert and "Peaches" Flagg are Wyanoke veterans, of course, with Flagg doing the dropping of the larger piles of plates. "Matches" went in for the hermit stuff this year, spending four days (and nights) at camp alone before anyone got there. He had a gun, but "Sticks" was NOT on the rifle team, so he probably would have done better with a rock, or two, in the event of trouble, we mean!

We understand that there have been no big fish taken at camp thus far, but judging by the gear old "Tiffany" Knowlton loaded into the family car when headed for camp, it surely can't be long now! Ella and "Marce" had to squeeze in around that tackle box and if there hadn't been room for everyone! Well, we just wonder!

RED CROSS LOSES GOOD FRIEND

With the death of Mrs. Amy Prescott Wild on June 30, the Red Cross lost a devoted friend. During the past five years, Mrs. Wild hand-knit over 3,000 pairs of gaily striped children's mittens for distribution by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Wild, who was nearly 90 years old at the time of her death, contributed much of the mitten-yarn herself and collected odd bits from her friends to achieve the bright designs. Many letters have been received by the Winchester Red Cross Chapter from grateful recipients of these gifts. The children indeed lost a good friend.

LEGION SECURED BLOOD FOR PATIENT

Through the efforts of P. T. Foley, service officer of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, and the cooperation of John H. McCarthy of the Winchester Board of Health, who is also vice chairman of the Legion's State Department Blood Donor Committee, three pints of rare type blood were secured for a patient needing transfusions at the Winchester Hospital.

The patient, John Callahan of Manchester, N. H., nephew of Mrs. Margaret Murray of 188 Washington street, in connection with an operation which he was to undergo on Wednesday at the Winchester Hospital, needed type O RH positive blood, and several efforts to secure it failed.

Mrs. Murray appealed to P. T. Foley at his real estate and insurance office in the Lyceum Building, and Norman Noonan, a member of the Foley staff and Legion executive committee member, called the Legion State Blood Donor Committee chairman, Charles A. Neilan. Mrs. Murray had previously appealed to Chief Charles J. Harrold of the Police Department, past commander of Winchester Post, A. L., who contacted Jack McCarthy, also a past Legion commander here.

Despite the fact that young Callahan is not a Legionnaire, the Legion authorities located the blood at the Chelsea Naval Hospital and P. T. Foley drove to the hospital Tuesday night before the operation for two pints. Another pint was needed Wednesday morning after the operation and again Mr. Foley, accompanied by Motorcycle Officer William T. Haggerty, World War II veteran, made the trip to Chelsea for it.

It was a coincidence that one of the three pints of blood was donated by a Winchester veteran of World War II, Lester C. Gustin, Jr., of Wildwood street, who was one of the Winchester Legion blood donor group at Chelsea Naval Hospital June 24.

The operation was reported as successful and as the Star went to press Callahan was reported as getting along satisfactorily.

Mr. Albert G. Hale of West Medford, former Winchester boy, won first prize in this year's recent annual photographic contest held at the Royal House in Medford.

As one of the winners when 200,000 New England school children competed in a contest to choose names for the $2,000,000 fleet of new super-deluxe coaches of the Boston and Maine Railroad, Bernadette was chosen to be the only youngster in the country to take her own coach to the Fair. Her coach, the "Bobolink", will be a part of a composite train of 9 Eastern railroads which will be exhibited at the Fair. Left to right are: Governor Bradford, Bernadette, Senator Harris Richardson, of Mt. Pleasant street, President of the Senate; and Robert M. Edgar of Oxford street, Asst. to the President of the Boston and Maine Railroad and the Maine Central Railroad.

KNOWLTON — MacLEAN

Miss Florence Kathryn MacLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacLean of 104 Lincoln avenue, Portsmouth, N. H., and Hal Francis Knowlton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Knowlton of 6 Blind Bridge street, were married on Saturday morning, July 3rd, in Portsmouth, N. H. The Rev. Thomas F. Duffy performed the double-ring ceremony in the Rectory of the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

The bride wore an aqua suit with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Geoffrey G. Priestley, of Syracuse, N. Y., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Kenneth Smith of Winchester, was best man.

A reception was held at the Folsom-Salter House, following the ceremony, for members of the immediate families.

The bride is a teacher in the Melrose public schools. Mr. Knowlton is employed by the Harvard College Athletic Association as trainer.

After a wedding trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton will make their home in Melrose.

DOWDEN — WILBUR

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place in the First Parish Congregational Church of Brockton on Sunday afternoon, July 4, when Miss Constance Bradford Wilbur, daughter of Mrs. Alfred H. Wilbur of 284 West street., Brockton, and the late Mr. Wilbur, became the bride of William Morrill Dowden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Bradley of 589 Fellsway West, Medford, formerly of this town. The pastor, Rev. Edwin H. Gibson, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception in the church parlor.

Given in marriage by her brother, Alfred H. Wilbur, the bride wore a wedding gown of white satin, the skirt extending to form a train. Her short veil was caught to a crown of fresh flowers to match her shower bouquet which was of lilies of the valley and white rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. A. Wendell Holmes of Brockton was her sister's matron of honor, wearing a pale green dress with a headpiece matching the sweet peas of her bouquet.

Miss Llene Parkey and Miss Arline L. Turner, both of Brockton, were bridesmaids. They wore orchid marquisette dresses fashioned like that of the honor attendant and carried bouquets of sweet peas, wearing the same flowers in their hair.

Robert C. Ramsdell of Winchester was Mr. Dowden's best man, and the ushers were Warren E. Jackson of Portland, Conn., and F. Glen Campbell of Lowell, classmates of the bridegroom at Tufts College.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Wilbur, was gowned in old blue lace and wore pink accessories. Mrs. Bradley, mother of the bridegroom wore gray accessories with her gown of fuchsia lace, and both she and Mrs. Wilbur wore shoulder corsages of flowers harmonizing with their gowns.

After a wedding journey to Canada and the Saguenay River Mr. and Mrs. Dowden will spend the summer with the bride's parents at 284 West street, where they will be at home upon their return from their honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of Brockton High school and Lasell Junior College. Mr. Dowden, who served as an ensign in the navy and was assigned to the USS Helena during the war, is a graduate of Tufts College engineering school, majoring in mechanical and electrical engineering. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity and is employed as a field engineer for the U. S. Motors, Inc.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fahlbusch of 80 Nelson street announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to Mr. Charles Whitcomb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whitcomb of Fairmont street, Medford. Mr. Whitcomb is employed by the Economy Grocery Company.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Keith of Winchester place announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Ann, to Mr. Leroy Arthur Taylor, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy A. Taylor, of 18 Vernon street, Woburn. A fall wedding is planned.

MISS CROWLEY ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Crowley of Forest street announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Kathleen, to Mr. Arthur James Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wilson of Boston.

Special Officer Mary McGoff, clerk at Police Headquarters, has been having a week's vacation. Many who have had occasion to visit Headquarters have missed "the deputy."

ROTARY NEWS

On July 8th at the Masonic Hall the Winchester Rotary Club held its annual meeting at which time the election of the new officers for the coming year were voted upon by the members. Upon a motion from the floor the secretary cast one ballot for the following officers:

President - Don Simonds
Vice President - Charlie Murphy
2nd Vice President - Wade Grindle
Secretary - Ralph Purrington
Sg't at Arms - Charlie Donahue
Treasurer - Jim Scott

Directors For One Year

Harry Benson
Charles Howe
John McIntyre
Forbes Norris
Eugene Pollard

The various officers were duly installed by the immediate past officers and a presentation of the past president's badge was awarded to Harry Benson by Ralph Bonnell. A vote of appreciation was recorded for the excellent service to the club rendered by John McLean who has held the arduous office of secretary for some six years. John has been a living example of the leading principle of Rotary International which is 'service'. Ralph Purrington and Jim Scott were also similarly rewarded by being the unanimous choice for secretary and treasurer for the coming year.

Further business of the meeting consisted of a discussion of this summers outing. Under a committee headed by Allan Wilde it was decided to hold a golf meeting in August to be held at the Bear Hill Country Club after the regular Thursday meeting of the club. This is to be followed by a dinner and social evening at the Country Club. Final arrangements for the base ball game outing were announced by the president in the absence of the hard working chairman of that committee, Ben Brennan. Two buses are to take some one hundred members and guests to the game at Fenway Park on Thursday night July 15th. It was further voted that a summer vacation from meetings would be omitted this year. Plans are now underway for a series of interesting meetings for the balance of the summer . . .

TO LIMIT HORSESHOES AT TOWN BEACHES

The Board of Park Commissioners has decided that a crowded beach is no place to pitch horseshoes and as a consequence have decided to move the courts at Palmer Beach off the beach as a safety measure.

They were doubtless brought to this decision by the painful injury recently sustained by a boy who was struck on the head by a horseshoe as he inadvertantly stepped into a horseshoe court.

In the absence of President Royal P. Teele of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, Park Commissioner Kenneth F. Caldwell consulted the Secretary, feeling probably that any attempt to move a horseshoe court from any particular location would bring yelps of protest from that august body.

The members of the Association are, however, all for public safety, and since they seldom function at times when there is any one around to appraise their efforts, any action the Commissioners may take is not likely to affect them adversely.

MURPHY GENERAL TO SWIM HERE

The Board of Park Commissioners has granted permission to the swimming team of the Murphy General Hospital in Waltham to use the Leonard Field pool three nights a week in preparation for a meet which comes early in August. Chairman Kenneth Caldwell of the Park Commissioners were on hand for the first practice of the team Wednesday evening. The visitors will use the pool from 6 to 7 Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

MISS CARPENTER ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar F. Carpenter of 18 Ravine road announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Louise, to Mr. Bernard Van Horne of Cincinnati, Ohio.

ASSESSORS HAVE NOT LOWERED TAX BASIS

The article concerning the assessment of personal property taxes which appeared in last week's STAR was incorrect in stating that the Assessors have lowered the basis for assessing personal property taxes to occupants of houses valued at $6,500. This was the basis last year, and the present Board of Assessors has made no revision downward. They have, however, in some instances assessed personal property taxes on persons living in houses with valuations as low at $6,000 when in the judgement of the Board there is good reason to believe that these persons have personal property in excess of the exempted $1,000. Personal property taxes have also been levied this year on persons living in the Winchester Chambers, Winchester Arms and Stetson Hall.

The Assessors want to make it clear that persons receiving personal property taxes have the right to petition for abatement of them. Many seem to have the idea that there is no appeal from a personal property tax.

This tax is not new. It has not, however, until recent years been assessed on occupants of lower value houses. Law requires that every one with any personal property file a return of his holdings as a basis for assessing personal property taxes. Few do so, and as a consequence the Assessors, who can not visit every house where there is a personal property tax potential, have to set some basis for the assessment of this tax. In Winchester they have set a house valuation of $6,500, assessing a personal property tax of $500 on persons living in a house valued at this figure.

This means that in the Assessors' judgement persons living in houses valued at $6,500 have personal property worth $1,500, one thousand dollars of which is tax exempt.

If you get such a tax bill and believe your household furnishings are not worth $1,500, see the Assessors at once. If you can convince them, they will either adjust your tax, or abate it altogether.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Wood (Harriet Pilkington) are the parents of a daughter, Sara Madeline, born July 10th at Richardson House. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Pilkington and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wood, all of Winchester. The baby was born on the seventieth anniversary of the birth of its maternal grandmother, Mrs. Wood.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Lincoln Grindle Jr., are living at Long Beach, California where Dr. Grindle is resident in surgery at the Seaside Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray Twombly of Paul Smith's N. Y., are the parents of a daughter, Susan Bailey, born July 8 at Saranac General Hospital, Saranac Lake, N. Y. Mrs. Twombly is the former Patricia Bailey of New London, Conn. Mr. Twombly's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Twombly of Lawson road. Mrs. Amy Twombly of Wakefield and Mr. George Gray of Tewksbury are the baby's great-grandmother and great-grandfather on the paternal side.

Water Commissioner and Mrs. E. C. Sanderson of Dix street have returned from a week's motor trip to Campbellton, N. B., and the Gaspe.

Miss Mary E. Martin of 426 Main street, left town on Monday for an extensive trip to Portland, Oregon, where she will visit with her sister Anne J. Martin, then on to Seattle, Washington, and the Canadian Rockies.

Bob McGrath, Winchester's star sprint swimmer who is unbeaten to date in the New England A.A.U. and open competition during the outdoor season, has been accepted at Bowdoin college and will enter as a freshman in the fall. Bowdoin swimming enthusiasts ought to find this a nice bit of news.

Miss Kay Dermond of Woburn, an employee of the Friend store in Winchester will begin her annual vacation of two weeks on Saturday and is going to Lake Louise for the period.

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Loughlin of this town are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son born yesterday morning at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. O'Loughlin is the former Eileen O'Leary.

Miss Gertrude Davis of Hemingway street, proprietor of the Hobby and Craft Nook, has bought a red brick Cape Cod house in Hillsboro, N. H. She and her father, Mr. Charles H. Davis, will spend the summer in Hillsboro and Miss Davis will conduct the "Chimney-corner Gift House" at her new address there. Winchester friends are invited to drop in.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard M. Sexton of Rochester, N. Y., are the parents of a son, Thomas Richard, born July 14 in Rochester. Mrs. Sexton is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. R. J. Wallace, formerly of Rochester. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sexton of Mason street.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Burleigh, Jr., (Frances Deibert) of 108 Church street are the parents of a daughter, Lucinda, born July 9 at the Richardson House, Boston. Grandparent honors are shared by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Deibert of Wildwood street and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Burleigh of Church street.

Workmen are still busy on the job of pointing up the masonry of the town hall tower so as to waterproof it. The tower has been leaking for some time and last year the leakage was so bad that a dangerous condition was created.

RALPH WALDO EMERSON LEACH

Ralph Waldo Emerson Leach, widely known mechanical engineer and veteran of the Spanish War, died Friday morning, July 9, at his home, 32 Fletcher street. At the time of his retirement he was conducting his own business under the name of Ralph W. E. Leach, manufacturing and servicing stoker castings.

Mr. Leach was the son of Charles Henry, and Mary Elizabeth (Barrett) Leach. He was born June 6, 1874, in the Mt. Auburn section of Watertown, was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with a degree in mechanical engineering in 1888, and for a time after graduation taught at the University, being also employed by the Schuylkill Electric Railway Company.

In 1897 he became treasurer and director of the Philadelphia Construction Co., and the Philadelphia Car Equipment Company, two years later joining the Norfolk and Ocean View Railway and Hotel Company as cashier. From 1900 to 1902 he was testing engineer for the American Stoker Company in New York, leaving to spend a year in research, studying the treatment of ores in the manufacture of Portland Cement and the dissociation of hydrogen in steam at high temperatures in cement manufacture.

In 1904 Mr. Leach joined the Eldred Process Company as experimental engineer and from 1905-07 was manager of the stoker department of the Westinghouse Machine Company in Pittsburgh. After a year as manager of the Castalia Portland Cement Company he joined the American Engineering Company, serving as New England manager from 1910 to 1919 and as general representative with offices in Boston from 1919 until he resigned to take over the Stoker Castings and Service Corp., which he conducted under his own name from his residence until he retired permanently six years ago. The business is still in operation.

Mr. Leach was a member of the first Pennsylvania Volunteers during the Spanish-American War and during World War I served with the United States Fuel Administration.

He was a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, National Electric Light Association, American Electric Railway Association and the Engineers' Club of Boston. He was a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the Knights Templar and the Shrine; also of the Blue Room Club, the Square and Compass Club of Boston, Vesper Country Club, Commercial Club of Montreal, Canada; and of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Mr. Leach had lived in Winchester for over 30 years. He was twice married. On October 20, 1910, he married Avis Spurr Standing of Boston who died October 15, 1931. He subsequently married Alice M. (Grothe) Blaisdell, who survives him.

Funeral services were held on last Sunday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel.

AVARD LONGLEY WALKER

Avard Longley Walker of 11 Maxwell road, for many years a well known designer of memorials, died Monday evening, July 12, at a rest home in Dedham after a short illness.

Mr. Walker was born May 17, 1869, in Antigonish, N. S., the son of Joseph A., and Rose (Cunningham) Walker. He came to Winchester in 1919 from Wollaston, and for some years maintained a studio and yard for the design and execution of cemetery memorials in the Highlands. Later he maintained an office in the Waterfield Building, and for a time previous to World War II his son Avard, Jr., was associated with him in conducting his memorial business.

Mr. Walker's acknowledged skill as a designer made Walker memorials of a particularly high type and his more elaborate designs have aroused admiration wherever they have been erected. On several occasions Mr. Walker won contests for the design of large-scale memorials.

Mr. Walker was a Mason, a member of William Parkman Lodge of Winchester and of the former Calumet Club. He was for some years actively identified with the First Baptist Church, which he served as deacon, and a particularly genial personality and ready smile won him many friends in and around Winchester. He first lived in town on Woodside road, later living on Rangely ridge and Norwood street. He was twice married. His first wife, Jennie C. Walker, died Dec. 18, 1937. He later married Isabel Fitch Harris who died Sept. 2, 1946.

After his second marriage he and Mrs. Walker made their home in Newton, but following Mrs. Walker's death, he returned to Winchester and had been living at 11 Maxwell road.

He leaves three sons, Dr. Arnold C. Walker of Atlantic, Me., Avard L. Jr., and George Lorimer Walker, both of Owl's Head, Me.; a brother, Fred L. Walker of Lake Charles, La., and three sisters, Mrs. Lewis E. Thayer of Needham, Mrs. S. Ada Young of Spartanburg, S. C.; and Mrs. Horace M. Moffatt of Bowdoinham, Me. There are also 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Newton Cemetery Chapel. Rev. Wendell L. Bailey of Andover, son of Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate.

Vern Bickford, rookie pitcher with the Boston Braves, is making his home in Winchester with Mr. and Mrs. George C. Carens, Jr., on Brantwood road.

MISS BESSIE NORTON

Former Superintendent of Winchester Hospital

The news of the death of Miss Bessie L. Norton, aged 75, at the Beverly Hospital brings back some of the heroic early days of Winchester Hospital. During the five-year period, 1919-1924, she carried the triple duty then demanded of the head of our hospital, serving as three persons in one: Superintendent of the Hospital, Head of the Training School for Nurses, and Superintendent of the Nursing Service. With the assistance of the House Committee and the Nursing Committee, Miss Norton was responsible for everything connected with the running of the hospital from the purchase of the groceries and the making of the nurses' uniforms to the maintenance of professional standards and the keeping of hospital records. She is remembered as an able woman who carried these duties successfully.

Miss Norton's reports to the Hospital Board make interesting reading. Anyone who thinks that present nursing shortages are unique in hospital history should read such sentences as these: "Considering the shortage of applicants for training schools and the appalling conditions existing in many hospitals on account of the lack of pupil nurses, Winchester Hospital is most fortunate. The time has come when it is necessary to do everything possible to attract young women of the right type to the training schools."

Miss Norton also put on record the careful attention being paid in the Winchester Hospital to improvements looking toward approval by the American College of Surgeons, the support of the operating suite by the Pop Concert Committee, the dependable linen supply provided by the Winton Club, the crowded condition of the hospital, necessitating the heating of sun parlors for use as patients' rooms, the Winchester Hospital celebration of Hospital Day, May 12, 1923, and the widespread support of the hospital by local societies. Such records are heartening to those now concerned in helping to solve the hospital's present problems.

VETERANS BODIES COMING HOME

The bodies of four Winchester veterans who died in World War II are reported as on their way back to the United States for burial. As soon as specific dates for arrival are received arrangements will be completed by the local veterans organizations to accord military honors to the four, Charles D. McGonigle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGonigle of 360 Cross street, Calvin Blomquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz C. Blomquist of 26 Sargent road, Frank J. Burns, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Burns of 27 Wedgemere avenue, and Stephen B. Connolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Connolly of 56 Richardson street.

Staff Sgt. Charles D. McGonigle was killed in action April 22, 1944, while serving in the European Theatre as a top-turret gunner on a B-24 Bomber, based in England. Born in Winchester, he was 19 years old at the time of his death. He attended the Winchester schools and enlisted in 1943, training at Miami, Colorado and Laredo, Texas, where he received his gunner's wings and graduated as an expert gunner with a sharpshooter's medal. He went overseas in February of 1944. Besides his parents he leaves two sisters.

Pfc. Calvin F. Blomquist was killed in action Dec. 12, 1944, in France, while serving with the 328th Infantry Regiment of the 26 Division. He had previously been reported missing in action. Born in Monticello, Ind., he was 20 years old at the time of his death and had been in service a year, going overseas in August, 1944. He attended Winchester schools, graduating from Winchester High School in 1942, and completing the first semester of his sophomore year at Tufts Engineering School before entering service. He leaves his parents, a brother and a sister.

Pvt. Frank J. Burns, Jr., died Jan 3, 1945, of wounds received in action in Luxembourg, Dec. 28, 1944. He was a member of Headquarters and Supply Company, 204th Engineers, C Battalion, attached to the Third Army. He was 20 years old and had been overseas nearly a year at the time of his death, going across March 20, 1944. He entered service July 28, 1943. Born in Everett, Private Burns spent his boyhood in Winchester, attending the Winchester schools and Admiral Farragut Academy for three years before graduating from New Preparatory School. He leaves his parents, three sisters and a brother.

Pfc. Stephen B. Connolly was killed in action in Luxembourg, Feb. 4, 1945 while serving with the Army Corps of Engineers. He was 21 years old and was born in Winchester, graduating from St. Mary's Grammar School and Winchester High School. Before entering service in June of 1943 he was employed at Beggs & Cobb's leather tannery. Besides his parents, he leaves three brothers and a sister.

After getting the bubbler fountain installed in the centre it remained in good condition for about two days when it had to be removed again yesterday and a new one installed as the first one was damaged shortly after it was placed in position. The one down on Ginn Field has also had to be replaced several times already this summer.

NORRIS ON OLYMPIC SWIM TEAM

Forbes H. "Ted" Norris, Jr., son of School Superintendent and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris of Church street, made the Olympic Swimming Team last week-end in the final tryouts at Detroit.

"Ted" finished second to the sensational Jimmy McLean of Andover in the 1500 meter swim, negotiating the distance in 20m. 4s. The winning time was 19m. 37s.

Finalists were selected by time trials and Norris had the third best time in the trials, being clocked in 20m. 13.5s. The Winchester boy, who has been a Harvard swimming star in the past two seasons, went from Detroit to New York with the other members of the Men's Swimming team who flew to England Thursday.

There haven't been too many from Winchester on Olympic teams. Leon Tuck played on two Olympic hockey teams, captaining one of them, and Maribel Vinson, now Mrs. Guy Owen, skated for Uncle Sam in the Olympics two or three times.

John N. "Soapy" Watters is the only Winchester track man we can recall who made an Olympic team. He went across the year he won the I.C.A.A.A.A. half mile championship at the Stadium, running in the 800 meters event.

Strangely enough he like Norris competed for Harvard, being an outstanding half-miler while in college just as "Ted" has been an outstanding swimmer for the Crimson, competing largely in the 440 yard event. There may have been others from Winchester on Olympic teams, but not many.

URGING DELAY IN ERECTION OF NEW GARBAGE HOUSE

Those opposed to the erection of a new garbage house as a part of the new garage and service building at the town yard are asking that the Selectmen delay the construction until further consideration by a town meeting. Petitions have been circulated and presented to the Selectmen protesting the location of the garbage house at the town yard.

Among alternate proposals presented is that of having the garbage collected by contract and taken directly out of town, thereby obviating the need for a place to store garbage. This plan has had some study by local authorities who seem to feel that it will not be a satisfactory solution.

Meanwhile there are rumors of a petition for a special town meeting to consider the whole matter, or rather reconsider it, since the proposal to build a new garbage house as a unit of the new building at the town yard was first discussed in 1947 at the March meeting and was taken up again at the annual town meeting this year.

A year ago the whole plan was rejected as an economy measure, but this March the town meeting voted to go ahead with the erection of the new building, including the garbage house. No opposition to the garbage house was expressed at that meeting, but there seems to be rather strong opposition to it now.

Residents in the vicinity of the new building claim that the odor of the garbage house will be offensive and that vermin and flies are attracted to a neighborhood that contains many homes, including those of veterans. They believe that their objection to the location of a garbage house at the town yard can be sustained as a health measure.

Carrs Spending Summer in British Isles

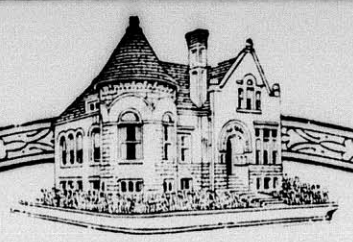

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Carr of Gardner place and their daughters, Sheila and Dorothy, are spending the summer in the British Isles, having flown overseas last week-end.

Sheila and Dorothy left Windsor Locks, Conn., last Friday on a students' flying tour and plan to spend some time bicycling in England. Sheila, a graduate of Cornell, is studying medicine at Women's College in Philadelphia and Dorothy enters Yale Musical School in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr flew from Boston on Saturday. They plan to spend a week on the Isle of Skye off Scotland and then will tour around Scotland a bit, including a visit to St. Andrews, the shrine of golf and Mecca for all golfers. Incidentally, "Shorty", who likes his golf and is one of the devotees of the "Royal and Ancient Game" at the Winchester Country Club, got some good advice from "Joe" Barton about how to approach St. Andrews before taking off.

Mr. Carr does not plan to remain abroad as long as his wife and daughters. The Misses Carr are meeting their mother in August in Edinboro for the musical festival there and the three probably will not return home until September.

Marion Ladd Symmes of Winchester and Edna Ryder of New York City have opened their Clay and Brush Shop in Antrim Center, N. H. Mrs. Symmes is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art and studied landscape painting in Rockport with Albro Hibbard. She also studied flower design with Mae Bennett-Brown. Miss Ryder is one of the Greenwich House potters of New York City.

Mrs. George A. Marks as chairman announces the present membership of the Women's Unit of the Building Fund Committee as follows: Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., Mrs. Charles Greene, Mrs. William F. Hickey, Mrs. Ralph T. Jope, Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, Mrs. Guy P. Livingstone, Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Martin S. Swanson.

The Unit has accepted assignments in the Special Gift section of the Building Fund, which must be completed before the general community appeal is launched next year. Its members enter upon this work as an undertaking in cooperation with the citizens of Winchester. It is as representatives of the whole body of citizens that the Women's Unit is serving the Hospital Building Fund, and its members define their first responsibility as an intelligent understanding of the needs of the Hospital - through careful study - and a clear statement of those needs to the men and women who can supply the funds. In creating an informed body of potential supporters the Fund workers will discharge their first responsibility. They will also give all possible help in discussing with givers the amount and nature of the financial help needed by the Building Program. They are confident the community will understand that the resulting contributions to the Building Fund will represent a test not only of the success with which the facts are presented but also of the community's good citizenship.

A second basic understanding is more difficult to establish: namely, that capital investments in community services become from time to time essential to the maintenance of those services, and such investments cannot be made without individual gifts made in capital terms. So accustomed have we become in recent years to apparent fulfillment of our obligations by annual gifts from income that we have not readily at our command the processes of thinking used in planning for capital gifts. We need an entirely new approach to such a vital demand as that now made for an addition to the Winchester Hospital. It takes its place with those capital needs more commonly within the family budget - needs for more adequate housing, for secure investments for future income, for purchases in the larger items of equipment for modern living.

The adjustment of personal and family planning to put the Hospital Building Fund in the class with these capital expenditures is particularly difficult in a community like Winchester with its closely knit family life and the deep sense of responsibility felt by hands of households to provide liberal and easy conditions of pleasant material existence, present and future. To make this community aware of a need in health protection which will result in gifts to the Hospital in terms comparable with capital expenditures for one's family - that is a task of the first magnitude. The Building Fund Committee and the Women's Unit are giving their best resources of devotion and of enthusiasm to this task. No one now working on the Fund doubts that the community will prove to have the vision necessary to place the Hospital in its right relationship to the life of every man, woman and child. Through that vision will come the completion of the Building Fund.

DUTCH ELM DISEASE BECOMING WIDESPREAD

Vigilance and Action Needed To Save Trees

The dread Dutch elm disease is spreading in Massachusetts, with 562 infected trees found last September as compared with 296 in 1946, and 42 in 1945. Quick and effective steps are necessary if our beautiful elms are to be saved.

The Massachusetts Forest and Park Association, which has for years been cooperating with State and Government agencies in fighting the disease, is calling on citizens everywhere in the Commonwealth to awake to the danger of losing the elm which has become a tradition and which was legalized as the State tree by the General Court in 1941.

Research has established the fact that DDT kills the insects which spread the fungus of Dutch elm disease from infected to sound trees. DDT in oil solution has been found to work best in this respect and technics are being constantly improved along with the training of men to do the spraying and the manufacture of the blowers which have been found most effective in the spraying operation. By now it is possible for most communities to get men and equipment for spraying and tree authorities throughout the state urges communities to prevent the spread of the dread Dutch elm disease by killing the insects which will infect the sound trees still standing. The Massachusetts Forest and Park Association warns that only quick and vigorous action will prevent the widespread destruction of the most beautiful shade tree in America.

Tree experts in classifying trees for their esthetic value rate the American elm at 100, and all others are given a percentage of that number. Courts have accepted the value of healthy elms as a dollar per square inch of cross-section at breast high.

It is estimated that in Massachusetts alone there are 1,000,000 American elms used for street and home decoration, with an average value per tree of $100.

Forresters and tree wardens generally agree that to remove and burn the average shade tree on public or private property will cost $100. Many have cost three to four times that amount.

At present costs, where all the trees in the neighborhood are being sprayed at the same time, an elm can be sprayed three times a year, as recommended, for the interest alone on the sum it would cost to remove it.

Massachusetts in general and Winchester in particular can not afford to risk losing their elms. Much of Winchester's beauty as a residential town is dependent upon its trees. Aside from the cost of removing dead trees, the loss of trees can seriously reduce real estate valuations to say nothing of the loss in beauty of individual property owners and the community.

It would be a shame to have the American elm follow the chestnut tree into extinction.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Lois Hottel recently gave a surprise birthday party for Peggy Butler of Emerson road at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Hoyt C. Hottel, 27 Cambridge street. Peggy, who was observing her 18th birthday was presented with a record album of Sigmund Romberg favorites by the young people present, who included Ann Albree, Joyce Dana, Sally Jackson, Jane Beggs, Sue McCauley, Susie St. Clair, Barbara Warsky, Alan Wright, Tom Salmon, Scott Connor, Frank Weidman, Harry Easton, Dave Rooney, Roger Swanson, Mallory Smith and Frank Strawbridge.

The party program opened with swimming in Mystic, after which hamburgers, hot dogs, potato chips, salad and cokes were consumed out-of-doors. Rain drove the group indoors for the birthday cake and ice cream, followed by singing, dancing and playing phonograph records until someone discovered the rain had let up. Whereupon the indoor activities ceased in favor of a last swim, commencing at 10 and concluding the party to everyone's complete satisfaction.

ATTENDING NATIONAL GUARD CAMP

Theodore Nelson, son of Mrs. Edward F. Sullivan of 11 Webster street, and Robert Duckworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Duckworth of 199 Washington street, are spending two weeks in intensive training with the National Guard at Pine Camp, N. Y.

Both boys left last Sunday morning from the First Corps Cadet Armory with the advance guard of the 211th Cavalry Reconnaissance Unit. Forty-five trucks and jeeps took this group of 122 members which were followed later in the day by 550 more members of the Reconnaissance unit. This is the only Massachusetts training outside the state.

BETA SIGMA PHI HOLDS "GET ACQUAINTED" PARTY

On Monday evening, July 12, Beta Sigma Phi, cultural and social sorority for young women of Winchester, held a "get acquainted" party in the form of a wienie roast on the terrace at the home of Miss Adelaide Hansen, 2 Ainsworth road.

When the mosquitoes became too active everyone adjourned to the living room. Miss Virginia Farnsworth was at the piano while the others joined in singing popular songs. Games were played, which everyone seemed to enjoy.

It was voted that a beach party be held Thursday evening, July 22, at Lynn Beach. Everyone will meet at 6:30 p. m. at the rear of the Town Hall where transportation will be provided.

Beta Sigma Phi is happy to welcome Mrs. A. Milne Blanchard of 4 Dix street, who has been chosen as social director.

McCUMBER'S IMPROVING

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. McCumber, who are patients in the Ipswich Hospital, are improving satisfactorily. They were both badly injured July 4th when their car, which they were driving to Plum Island, was struck head-on by a car traveling in the opposite direction. Mr. McCumber besides other injuries, received a fractured knee cap. His wife was badly cut about the face and head. Mr. McCumber is well known as proprietor of the Station Cleansers on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs Paul Dunn and family of Grove street are spending the month at Ashburnham.

SERGEANT FARRELL HAS GOOD MEMORY

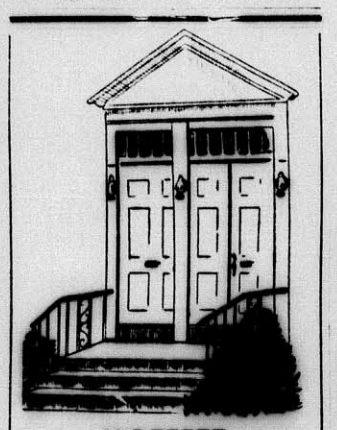

Never count on Sgt. "Dukes" Farrell forgetting anything in connection with police work. Baseball and little matters pertaining to his trade are pretty apt to stick firmly in the Farrell memory, and this faculty of Dukes stood him, and the town, in good stead Saturday morning.

On that day at 2:05 in the morning a resident of Salisbury street reported considerable noise coming from a group of men in a car outside his house, followed by what appeared to be a fight of sorts.

Sgt. Farrell and Officer Callahan drove over in Patrol 52 but didn't get there in time to apprehend the men in question. They found a Ford sedan had crashed into a tree on Salisbury street to the north of Calumet road and had been abandoned by its driver, minus its number plates, and in a disabled condition. Considerable damage had also been done the grass plot between the street and sidewalk. A resident of the neighborhood heard some one say, "Let's get rid of the number plates and get out of here before the Cops arrive."

Sgt. Farrell ran his eye over the Ford and quickly decided it was the same machine he had stopped earlier that night on Ridge street near the Woburn line. At that time he got the name of the operator, and his address on Brand street in Arlington.

Consequently he went to the address in his little book, and found the man he wanted was not at home. Later he found and talked to him. He gave his name as William J. Richardson. He said he had an accident in Winchester and had removed the plates from his car afterward, hiding them behind Irwin's piggery while he and his friends were walking home through the Dunster road section. He wasn't just clear as to why he had removed the plates and left after his car had run into the tree on Salisbury street, but Chief Charles J. Harrold seemed to think he better have a fairly good reason to give the Registry of Motor Vehicles, to which the matter has been referred.

PAUL REVERE WIN FOR MAYNARD

Maynard finally stopped Winchester's winning streak in the Paul Revere League last Sunday, blanking the locals, 4-0, at Leonard Field.

The visitors were the best balanced club Winchester has faced to date and got very effective pitching from Morrill, who held Winchester to three hits.

Kenny Wright, local third baseman played his last game for Winchester as he has accepted a job in Pennsylvania. He got two of Winchester's three hits, the other being Bellino's well hit triple, the best hit of the game. The summary:

WINCHESTER TENNIS DEFEATS LEXINGTON

Last Saturday, July 10, a Winchester team travelled to Lexington under the Aegis of the revived Old Colony League and, to the surprise of nobody, won over Lexington's septet. Up until a few days before July 10 there was, locally at least, no talk or rumor about the impending revival of the league or the specific match which was to be played with Lexington. If you think that the team from Winchester should have been differently constituted, the answer may lie in the Bumper List. Theoretically at least the team members would be the top available names on this list, which can normally be viewed any evening or Sunday morning at the Palmer street courts. If you think that your name is too low on that list, get to work and challenge, and defeat, somebody above you. If you and somebody else think that you can defeat a doubles team, get together, challenge them, and defeat them. Let us have some action; anybody, or almost anybody, can talk tennis!

The matches at Lexington went as follows:

R. Johnsen defeated Jimmy Coon 6-3, 4-6, 6-0.

Art Hills defeated W. Holland 6-1, 6-2.

Hall Gamage defeated W. Love, 8-6, 6-3.

R. Avigdory and I. L. Pespesa defeated Ted Goodwin and Jim Riley 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Ed Williams and Whit Gray defeated L. Dutka and W. Williams 6-4, 6-2.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS CONTINUES TO BENEFIT BEDFORD VETERANS

The hot weather brings an end to the activities of many social service organizations, but not the Red Cross. During the past week, 2 to 8 women gathered daily in the Red Cross Work Rooms to meet emergency requests from the Bedford Veterans Hospital for surgical caps and for draperies to brighten the wards. In addition, groups of women make weekly trips to Bedford from Winchester to help with routine mending at the hospital and to make surgical dressings.

On July 1, the Winchester Canteen sent refreshments for an open house at the hospital to serve 1,000 patients and their guests, and on July 14 a picnic was held at the hospital picnic grounds under the direction of Mrs. Ray E. Mauger, Canteen Chairman. Workers who accompanied Mrs. Mauger were Mrs. Edward M. Feeley, Mrs. Caroline Fitts, Mrs. Edwin E. MacCalmon, Mrs. Francis E. Smith, Mrs. James B. Willing, Mrs. Roy E. Wilson and Mrs. Charles A. Farrar.

LEGION JUNIORS BEAT ARLINGTON

The Winchester American Legion Junior team rallied in the late innings to defeat the Arlington Junior Legion team at Reservoir Field, Arlington, last Sunday by a 6 to 5 score. It was a sweet victory for the locals to pull out as they were facing a 5 to 1 deficit as they came to bat in the seventh inning and had been limited to one hit over the previous six innings by the brilliant pitching of Lefty Joe Swanson.

Winchester's run in the seventh came when Amico singled sharply to center with one out. Patterson and Reardon worked Swanson for passes to fill the bases, and Amico scored as Daniels grounded out.

Swanson showed signs of tiring and Winchester got him out of there as they rallied for the winning runs in the eighth inning. Roche opened the inning with a base on balls and went to second on a balk, Power singled to left field, Roche holding as it looked as though the ball might be caught. Both runners advanced on a passed ball. Williams was walked to fill the bases and Hough relieved Swanson who had lost his speed and control. Coon grounded to third, Roche scoring. Amico was walked to again fill the bases, Patterson same through with a single through second to score Power and Williams with the tying runs. Feeley relieved Hough at this point and with Reardon at the bat and the squeeze play on, Amico broke for the plate and had such a beautiful start that he stole home standing up with what proved to be the winning run.

After a shaky start in which Arlington scored twice in each of the first two innings, Paul Roche pitched superb ball and seemed to get stronger as the game progressed, giving up only three hits over the last seven innings, Paul had the Arlington hitters beating his curve ball into the ground as evidenced by the sixteen assists by the Winchester infield.

MELROSE TIED JUNIOR LEGION

The Winchester Junior Legion team blew a 6 to 0 lead and then had to rally courageously in the last inning to tie the Melrose Junior Legion team in a game at Melrose last Friday evening. The locals apparently had the game sewed up going into the last of the third inning with a 6 to 0 lead but Melrose came up with six big runs to tie the score on a combination of three hits, two bases on balls, and two errors. After a two-run triple by Kelley to tie the score, Paul Roche relieved Kenton and fanned the next batter for the third out.

Melrose went ahead in the last of the sixth when DiAngelo reached on an error, stole second, was sacrificed to third, started to steal home as Roche's wind up and scored when the throw to the plate was wild. Winchester tied the score in the top of the seventh when Paul Amico led off with a base on balls and was sacrificed to second by Williams. After Coon fouled out, Walter Murphy pinch hit for Cirurso and came through with a clean single to left to knot the score. Murphy took second on the throw into the plate and when Paul Roche singled sharply to right, Murphy tried to score the winning run but was thrown out at the plate on a close play by a perfect throw by Leahy.

Ken Donaghey hit the ball hard for the locals with a long two-run homer, as well-stroked double, and a sharp single. "Major" Daniels and Dave Coon also contributed two singles apiece to the Winchester attack. Paul Roche pitched effective relief ball, giving up only two hits over the last four and one-third innings while striking out seven and passing three.

JUNIOR LEGION BEAT ARLINGTON C. Y. O.

The Winchester American Legion Junior baseball team had an easy time in defeating the St James C. Y. O., team of Arlington at Leonard Field last Thursday evening. The visitors had figured to give the locals a difficult time as their age limit is two years above that of Junior Legion teams. The Winchester boys were hitting the ball hard, however, which combined with sloppy fielding by St. James caused the score to mount rapidly.

"Major" Daniels pitched excellent ball in registering his third straight win for the Junior Legion, giving up four scattered singles while striking out the same and passing an equal number. Paul Amico had a field day at the plate, banging out four consecutive singles and scoring three runs, while Ken Donaghey fattened his batting average with three hard smashes to left field in four trips to the plate.

We don't know whether our appearance has changed or if it is just due to natural conditions which may be prevelent in many of our best families, but undoubtedly we have had a suspicious number of our friends inquire regarding our health of late. Of course when they say "how are YOU," we know that we are mixed up in the inquiry. But when the question comes "HOW are you", there seems a decided effort to include - say, the whole family; possibly the Little Woman, the children and perhaps the pup. To be sure we have a stock answer entirely neutral in its quality. We are always "perpendicular," sometimes "better" and occasionally (if we don't feel quite up to par) just plain "rotten." We have a growing suspicion that this health inquisitiveness may have some origin in the knowledge that the Little Woman is on a "rice" diet. This is quite a diet. It consists of rice, rice, more rice and rice. No salt, water, coffee, pastry and no nothing except rice. As we said, it's quite a diet. To give the LW credit she stuck to it like a trojan, and if she sat at the table while we ate roast beef and looked at her bowl of rice till a tear stole down her cheek, she turned to after the rain subsided and cleaned her bowl. So now the reward has been won. She may now have an egg, a lettuce leaf and some fruit. We are equally pleased over the situation. Since bread contains salt, we may now have our morning egg on a lettuce leaf, and thus with two pounds of sustinance in the egg and untold mineral vitammes in the lettuce we have only to substitute a can of beer for our customary coffee and reap quite a nourishing breakfast. Perhaps it's the sight of us romping down to the office at 10 a. m. which prompts this health inquiry or perhaps its a desire to learn whether there is any rice left in Winchester stores, but be it as it may, we are not suffering from any rice diet so long as there are a few other edibles obtainable and the old bean has not forgot how to combine them. The present answer to the three word question is "swell." And the LW's blood pressure is down too, although she never did like beer.

PREDICTABILITY

Probably the greatest weakness of the New Deal or any other bureaucratic, centralized, controlled government - (if it is possible to point out any one of their innumerable fallacies as worse than another) - is their entire lack of predictability.

It is absolutely impossible for Industry, Agriculture, even the Sciences, to plan or prepare any long range program under New Deal control, as it is necessary to keep tuned in, at almost fifteen-minute-intervals, in order to determine what is possible or even safe to undertake. People hesitate to embark on new enterprises or to risk their savings in new ventures. Predictability, by exact laws instead of interpretations by bureaucrats and wilful men through directives, has in the past allowed Capitalism and Free Enterprise to create in the United States the greatest nation on earth, with the highest standard of living in the history of the world.

Unless America returns to its original ideology (called by Radicals "reactionary"), it will, in time, level itself to the standard of the rest of the old, "New Deal" countries of the world - countries that for thousands of years have had an ordered economy, kings, emperors, and dictators (with four year terms and plans) one after the other.

Whether in war or peace, the inherent "risk" trait of Americans has given the individual incentive that has developed the success of our ideology.

The first great mistake of the American New Deal was to close the banks. Why not guarantee the deposits first and not close the banks? Would the bank failures have been so many?

The next great mistake was going off the gold standard. With a gold standard we could stop inflation without trying. It would stop itself. (Gold comes, most often, from great depths in the ground. We now have it only sixty feet deep, hidden in Kentucky.)

No one can tell me what is to be done with that gold. Maybe it is the dentists of Russia who are carrying on this "Gold (Cold) War" anyway! How are the starving people of Europe going to eat all the "Marshall Plan" without filling their teeth? Under all New Deal, paper money conditions, how do you stop inflation? You keep increasing credits or print more money, then, in time, you cut it 10% or 90%, as Russia just did, and start all over again. What happens to the individual? It just does not matter. The State is all that matters in rationed, controlled countries.

I simply cannot find out what will stop this inflation - not the Marshall Plan - billions; then military training - billions more; and, so it is, for the sixth "four-year-plan"; and on and on. President Roosevelt said, in 1932, that there as no need of depressions anyway. Well, he touched off inflation - and now no New Dealer knows how to stop it. This is the most expensive peace the world has ever had. Russia does not care. What's money? Print it - or cut it down at the will of the State.

Look out, America, where is the exit? Let's all insist on "PREDICTABILITY".

—Socrates

THREE ACCIDENTS TUESDAY

Three automobile accidents, two of them taking place at 5:30 in the afternoon, were reported to the police on Tuesday.

At 5:30 a buick sedan, driven east on Swanton street by Joseph S. Galiazzo of 11 Forest Circle, collided with a Pontiac couple which had stopped before entering Washington street while also headed east. This car was driven by Lockhart H. Blaney of Newton Highlands and Concord, N. H. Three passengers in the Pontiac, Juanita Blaney of Concord, N. H., and Gladis and Lockhard Bailey, both of Wollaston, complained of injuries after the collision and were treated by Dr. Charles Rooney.

Also at 5:30 a Plymouth sedan, driven north on Washington street by Frederick L. Moulton of Reading, was in collision with a Ford sedan, operated by Catherine Flaherty of 167 Cross street, who was headed south on Washington street and attempting to make a left turn into Englewood road. Both cars were damaged and Mr. Moulton claimed injuries to his left arm and leg.

At 6:53 Tuesday evening a Pontiac sedan, in charge of Ernest G. Belanger of Boston road, Billerica, was in collision on Washington street, in front of 128 Washington street, with a Chevrolet sedan, driven by David Eldredge of 5 Cottage avenue. Belanger told the police his car was parked headed south at the time of the accident and that the Ford was also headed south. Both machines were damaged but no one was injured.

RECEIVED MEDAL OF MERIT

A Wincheser man, in addition to Harold Bours Richmond of Swan road, mentioned in a previous issue of the Star; and a former widely known resident of Winchester were among the small group of scientists in the Greater Boston area who were awarded Medals For Merit at a public ceremony held recently at New England Mutual Hall. Gen. Courtney Hodges of Governors Island, N. Y., commanding general of the 1st Army, presented medals which were awarded by order of President Harry Truman for outstanding accomplishments during World War II.

Medals For Merit, the highest civilian award, were pinned by the general on Dr. Hoyt C. Hottel of Cambridge street, and John Ely Burchard, formerly of this town. The citations accompanying the medals follow:

DR. HOYT C. HOTTEL, for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services to the United States during the recent war period. Dr. Hottel, a member of Division 11 of the National Defense Research Committee and as Chief of its Section 11.3, Fire Warfare, contributed a singularly great service by his thoroughly competent leadership in the development of the weapons of flame warfare, and in his recommendations to the armed services for their employment. In this work, his thorough knowledge of engineering principles and procedure, and his sound judgment were of the greatest value.

s/ Harry Truman
The White House
February 2, 1948

JOHN ELY BURCHARD, for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services to the United States as Chief of the National Defense Research Committee division which was concerned with the effects of impact and explosion from September, 1940 to June, 1944, and as Consultant, Assistant Chief and Deputy Chief successively of the Office of Field Service of the Office of Scientific Research and Development from April, 1944 to June, 1946. Professor Burchard's breadth of vision and knowledge, and his vivid personality were the key to his successful leadership in the several important capacities in which he served. He contributed immeasurably to several phases of the war effort of the United States by his guidance in the development of more effective bombs and projectiles and lightweight protective armor; by his supervision of the research on the navigational and demolition aspects of amphibious operations; and by his participation in the establishment and direction of a field service of combat scientists to train officers and men in the various theaters of operation in the use of new weapons and instruments. A man of scientific acumen, great administrative ability, and immense energy, Professor Burchard performed extremely meritorious service for his country.

WINCHESTER STARTED WELL IN STATE AMATEUR

Golfers from the Winchester Country Club made a good start in the defense of the Windeler Shield in Wednesday's qualifying round of the State Amateur Golf tournament at the Worcester Country Club.

Harry Ernst of Commonwealth led the field with a 69, followed by Art Stone of Sharon with a 70. Two Winchester golfers, Walter "Tkye" Wilcox and Edward Martin, were among the four who posted 71's, and Joe Monahan, Jr., was one of eight who had 73's, behind Ben Ayers of Worcester, who had the only 72.

Further down Harry McGrath, Jr., Jim Harvey and Dave Shean were among the 15 who had 77's. Judge Joe Monahan carded an 80 Jim Blackham, Jr., an 84, and Jim Wilcox, an 88.

Winchester's first day total from the Martin, Wilcox, Joe Monahan, Jr., Shean, McGrath and Harvey scores is a 369 with Commonwealth having 377 for second place.

Mrs. Genevieve M. Elwell of Marblehead, formerly of this town, recently took part with Elizabeth Bergener in "Escape Me Never" playing at the North Shore summer playhouse. Mrs. Elwell is now conducting a dramatic school of her own in Marblehead.

FELINE "A. E. F." FOR EUROPE POSES MANY PROBLEMS

The proposal to send an "American Expeditionary Force" of cats to Europe poses more problems than meet the eye.

The Old World certainly could use more cats. It has the "Help Wanted" sign out for a million of them to help combat the rats and mice which are devouring sorely needed food.

But the big catch, notes the National Geographic Society, is that a feline "A. E. F." would impose a fresh drain on Europe's availble food supplies. Contrary to widespread belief, cats don't kill rodents for their daily rations. And there is no way to sick cats after rats or mice when they are not in the mood.

Purely for Sport

Cats go after rodents, purely for the sport of it. The approach has a lot in common with that of the big game hunter. The cats proceed in their own individualistic way and in their own good time. It is quite untrue that hungry cats are good mousers. The best are well-fed cats, but well-fed on a far more appealing diet than rodents would provide.

Because of their independent nature, it would be impossible to keep an "A. E. F." of cats at "work" even on a 40-hour week. There are "work horses," "work mules" and even working dogs." But a "work cat" is a contradiction. They are creatures that refuse to be regimented.

But They Get Paid For It

Nevertheless they have long figured on government payrolls. All U. S. post offices in large cities employ cats. They have worked for the British government in offices, dockyards, and barracks at a shilling a week. The salary is for their meals. The French government maintained a large staff of cats to protect paper stock in its printing office. Cats were employed by the city of Vienna. And eight of them have appeared on the list of employees of an English railway.

Cats even have seen active military service. During World War I the British conscripted half a million. A small detachment was detailed to submarine testing service, and the remainder saw duty in front-line trenches. Their sensitive noses detected poison gas long before the human nose was aware of it. They also helped keep down the rats and mice in the soldiers' living quarters, and doubtless provided much-needed entertainment in leisure moments.

Provided the food problems can be overcome, a force of sturdy American cats could do much toward building up the depleted cat population of Europe. The majority of cats are self-sufficient and well able to cope with almost any situation. This they inherit from their ancestors, and wild cats of north Africa, Europe, and central Asia.

It is believed that the native wild cat was domesticated in the Western Hemisphere before the Spanish conquest.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bartlett left this week to spend a vacation at South Harpswell, Maine.

RICH ECONOMY FAVORS NEW MALAYA STATE

The Federation of Malaya, now virtually independent of Great Britain, is a country whose wealth is deep-set in tin and rubber.

Before the war British Malaya produced nearly half the world's rubber, mined almost two-fifths of its tin, and was wealthier than the rest of the British colonies put together, the National Geographic Society says. Today, rubber production in the southeast Asia peninsula is breaking prewar records, but tin shipments are currently down.

The new Malayan Federation includes all British Malay Peninsula possessions and adjacent islands except Singapore, which will remain a Crown Colony. The bulk of the Federation is in nine variously developed native sultanates — the small protectorates that fell one by one as the Japanese swept through the jungles to Singapore in 1942.

Immigrants Get The Jobs

Strangely enough, the native Malays have little or nothing to do with the two cornerstone industries of their country. Most rubber and tin enterprises are owned by British or Chinese firms. Chinese immigrants even hold most of the laboring jobs in the tin mines. When labor was needed for the expanding rubber plantations after the turn of the century, Tamils from southern India were brought in.

Chinese and Indians together slightly outnumber the Malays in the Arkansas-sized country. Though sparsely settled compared with China and India, the Federation's total population of about 5,000,000 more than doubles that of the Razorback State.

Malays are farm-and fisher-folk who naturally take to the sea. They live in villages of wooden houses perched on stilts, often near or over water. They grow rice in irrigated paddies. The individual Malay is a cheerful, proud, dignified man who elevates good manners and social ceremony above everything. He works hard when a job captures his interest, but otherwise nature is bountiful enough to make drudgery unnecessary.

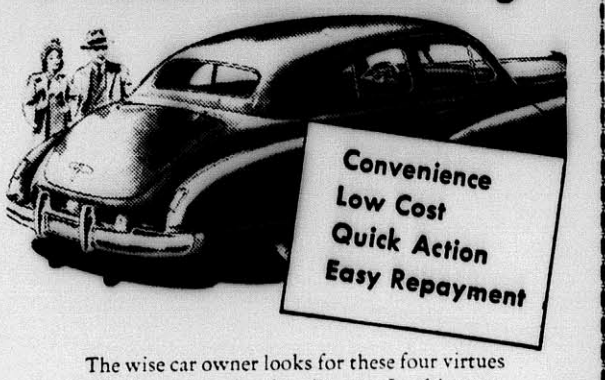

Jungles Still Enormous

An airplane ride over the peninsula reveals how little nature has been disturbed. Seemingly solid jungle blankets the land except for patches here and there in the eastern part, and along the central and western railroads. Nearly all rubber and tin development has occurred on the Strait of Malacca side, along the Singapore to Penang railway.

Arabs, Portuguese, and the Dutch preceded England in trading with and colonizing the Malay Peninsula. The island of Penang was England's first possession in the region, acquired at about the time she lost the thirteen American colonies. Singapore was founded in 1818 and the Portuguese port of Malacca was finally taken over in 1824.

"Life" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, July 18.
Golden Text: "As the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself" (John 5:26).
Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (Matthew 6:19-21). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:
"We apprehend Life in divine Science only as we live above corporeal sense and correct it. Our proportionate admission of the claims of good or of evil determines the harmony of our existence, -- our health, our longevity, and our Christianity" (p. 167).

STAMP WILL COMMEMORATE FIVE TRIBES' MIGRATION

A new postage stamp turns back the pages of U. S. history to the chapter that carries the stormy comment: "John Marshall has rendered his decision; now let him enforce it."

The stamp is a special issue which Congress has authorized to go on sale at Muskogee, Oklahoma, October 15, 1948. It will commemorate the "Trail of Tears," the enforced migration of Cherokees from Georgia to Oklahoma more than a century ago.

And back of this migration lies the controversy which produced the heated reference to Chief Justice Marshall, reputedly made by President Andrew Jackson when he challenged a Supreme Court ruling favorable to the Cherokees.

Southeast Indians Were Farmers

The stamp will commemorate the removal from the southeastern states of Chickasaws, Choctaws, Creeks, and Seminoles, as well as Cherokees. Milder climate made these tribes less dependent on hunting than those farther north. Because they were satisfied to farm and mix with the pioneer white settlers, they became known as the Five Civilized Tribes.

The Cherokees, especially, loved their ancestral farm acres. Their leaders were literate men of half or less than half Indian blood. Their nation lay east of the Tennessee River in northwest Georgia, northern Alabama, eastern Tennessee, and western North Carolina.

The proposal for banishing these tribes to lands beyond the Mississippi began attracting support early in the 19th century. Georgians led the growing insistence on removal. A gold rush on Cherokee lands in 1829 spurred the drive. After heated debate, the Removal Bill was passed by a close vote in Congress and signed by President Jackson in May, 1830.

The law was quickly challenged. High hope for the peaceful Cherokees came in 1833 when the Supreme Court ruled that "the Cherokee Nation is a distinct community . . . in which the laws of Georgia can have no force." It was this decision that is supposed to have provoked Jackson's remark.

Late in 1835, a treaty was signed at New Echota, Georgia, in a council attended by only a handful of Cherokees. It provided for removal of the tribe to Oklahoma, and for sale of its eastern lands at about 50 cents an acre. Despite protests and petitions from the tribe's vast majority, the treaty was ratified by the U. S. Senate in May, 1836. It allowed two years' time for voluntary removal.

One-Fourth Died En Route

A few hundred Cherokees had moved westward prior to the treaty. About 2,000 more joined them in the Indian Territory during the two-year grace period. Clinging to slim hope, about 14,000 remained, making no preparation to go by the May, 1838, deadline.

On May 23, the round-up began. About 8,000 tribesmen were put in stockades. Other thousands evaded capture by hiding in the Great Smoky Mountains. Half of the first group of 800 to travel westward escaped along the way.

Severe summer drought helped take a heavy toll of life in the second detachment. Barely 600 of 875 starters reached their new home. Through the winter of 1838-39, additional thousands started the journey, with illness and hardships confirming the unhappy route as a Trail of Tears.

Today, the Five Civilized Tribes in Oklahoma number about 47,000 Cherokees, 19,000 Choctaws, 10,000 Creeks, 5,400 Chickasaws, and 2,000 Seminoles. Nearly 4,000 Cherokees, descendants of those who escaped the dragnet of 1838, live on or near the Cherokee Indian Reservation now provided adjoining the southern edge of Great Smoky Mountain National Park in western North Carolina. Mississippi counts 2,400 Choctaws. A few hundred Seminoles live in Florida's swamps.

Now available in the paper line: Dustex dusting tissue, paper napkins, coffee cups, at Wilson the Stationer, Star Building.

NORTH AMERICA FARES WRETCHEDLY IN WEATHER TRADE WITH EUROPE

The weather man has pulled a "Swap" on Europe and North America in serving up winter this year.

Last year he subjected the Old World to an unmerciful buffeting. This season he seems to be making amends by switching the worst of his icy fury to the western side of the Atlantic.

The blasing sun at St. Moritz, Switzerland, ran the early February thermometer to 50 degrees. Turning skating rinks into pools, it put the Winter Olympic games not "on ice," but off. The unseasonable mildness was one small sample of how Europe and North America have traded their winter weather of a year ago, notes the National Geographic Society.

The Snows of Yesteryear

Cold, snow, sleet, and finally hurricane in 1946-47 added up to one of the Old World's hardest winters of the 20th century. When peak production was most sorely needed in the war-torn lands, transportation was paralysed by the succession of blizzards. Milk, coal, gas, oil, and electricity supplies failed.

lone more than $300,000,000 in storm-lost production. London and Paris took worse weather than New York has had so far this winter. It kept coming right to the Ides of March when the hurricane pulled the Thames River to its highest flood stage since 1894.

Toulouse and other cities in southern France in late January, 1947, registered their lowest temperatures for a century. A year later to the day, snow-clad Atlanta and Mobile matched cold with Fairbanks, Alaska, briefly in the grip of a "heat wave."

The present winter to mid-February in Great Britain and western Europe has averaged five or six degrees warmer than the same period last year. Snow and subfreezing temperatures have been rare. Spring flowers have been deceived to the point of blooming.

But meanwhile in the U. S. near-record cold has been striking Maine, North Dakota, and other border states. The country's record low, minus 66 degrees, dates back to February, 1933, at Yellowstone Park. It compares with 81 below for the Canadian Yukon, and 94 below, claimed for eastern Siberia. Admiral Byrd, reporting 90 below on Antarctica, suggests that air above the south polar, plateau probably cools to minus 100 degrees.

Snow has been bad but it's been worse in the past. Gale conditions and subzero temperature made the 30-hour blizzard of March 11-12, 1888, a paralyzing ordeal for New York City, even though the snowfall was four inches less than the 25.8-inch total of last December 26. In both 1899 and 1922, Washington, D. C., had deeper snowfalls than the one that recently blanketed New York.

Americans are likely to forget California when they think of winter record-making. But no other point in the nation can outdo the state's Giant Forest where a 60-inch snow fell on January 19, 1933, or Tamarack, near by, where the fall was 73 feet, 8 inches during the winter of 1906-07.

The Arctic ice cap, most scientists agree, is still retreating northward as it has been for 20,000 years or more. It once reached into United States territory and covered nearly all Europe. Russians say Siberia's year-round frostline retreats poleward about 100 feet a year. Stefansson finds Arctic seas one degree warmer than a decade ago. Drier, milder winters, in the long run are indicated.

JAPANESE EXPLOSIVES THWART ECLIPSE EXPEDITION

Booby traps and land mines, left behind on Kiska by Japanese invaders, have temporarily upset plans of a National Geographic Society expedition for studying the May 8 eclipse of the sun there.

The hazard of the hidden explosives has forced abandonment of the party's original intention to use the slopes of Kiska volcano at the north end of the island as an observation site.

The expedition, led by Lt. Cmdr. George R. Shelton of Memphis, Tenn., is now checking to decide on the best among the secondary observation sites available on the island.

The booby trap and land mine peril developed as preliminary work was getting under way for the eclipse study camp. Army authorities offered to sweep the slope with mine-detector teams, but the danger from overlooked explosives was considered too great, in view of the large area involved.

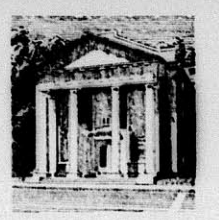

Conjecture is that the Japanese mined the Kiska volcano slopes to use them for a last stand when the expected U. S. amphibious assault on the island came in 1943. However, the Japanese secretly evacuated the island without a fight before the assault materialized.

Bask in U. S. hands, Kiska served as a base until after V-J Day, but military activity did not extend to the booby-trapped mountain sides.

MILK CHART FOR APRIL, MAY, JUNE, 1948

Published by the Winchester Board of Health

The bacteria count in this chart gives the number of bacteria found in one c. c. taken from the center of the sample after it had been well shaken. It should be remembered that another c. c. taken from the same sample might give a somewhat different count, but the difference would rarely, if ever, exceed 10 per cent.

The Playground Baseball League is in full swing with thirteen games played during the past two weeks. The Loring avenue playground continues to dominate the baseball picture, winning five games while losing one only over this stretch. The outstanding performance, however, was turned in by "Chuck" West of Leonard Field as he pitched a no-hit, no-run game for the Leonard Field Juniors over the Ginn Field Juniors. Joe Migliaccio also deserves mention for his grand-slam home run in a losing cause as the Leonard Field Seniors were defeated 10 to 7 by the Loring avenue Seniors.

As the Loring avenue boys dominate the baseball picture, so do the Leonard Field girls and smaller boys dominate the girls' and smaller boys' softball set up. The Leonard Field girls have twice defeated the Loring avenue girls at softball by scores of 10 to 4 and 13 to 8. Meanwhile, the Leonard Field smaller boys have defeated the Ginn Field boys 20 to 18 and 10 to 7 and the Loring avenue boys by a score of 18 to 13. This softball program for smaller boys is set up for boys who are too young for the Junior boys baseball teams or for boys who are not good enough for the Junior boy's baseball teams. This program provides these boys with a start and, background for later participation on the baseball teams and provides them with competitive athletics they so much enjoy.

Meanwhile, croquet and paddle tennis continue to be amazingly popular sports with the younger boys and girls. The crayon coloring of picture books, the playing in the sand boxes with pails and shovels, and the good, old-fashioned game of checkers absorb many of the youngsters for long hours. The arts and crafts program will be well underway next week and many useful and ornamental articles will be made by the youngsters in the remaining weeks of the summer.

The Town Softball League enjoyed one of the best weeks of this season as every scheduled game was played with the usual quota of upsets taking place. Chief among these was the first two victories of the season for the Red Shirts, both at the expense of the Atomics which knocked the Atomics out of the fourth place position it held a week ago. The other cellar team, the Comets, continues to improve as they won a game during the week and suffered three close defeats. One of these was a heartbreaking 5 to 4 loss to the Maguire Motors after leading 4 to 2 going into the final inning.

The Sons of Italy whipped the Sachems before a large crowd at Ginn Field on Wednesday evening by a score of 13 to 8, taking great delight in driving Andre Redding from the mound to make up in part for some of the grief he caused them in the past. The Sachems, St. Mary's and Sons of Italy are now in a virtual tie for second place as the schedule is about half completed. The Vets are building up a commanding lead and it is hard to see how their top position can be threatened, although many observers predict that they will be upset one of these evenings.

The schedule for next week:

Sunday, July 18

JUNIOR LEGION LOST AT WOBURN

The Winchester Junior Legion baseball team lost a tough 4 to 2 decision to the Woburn Junior Legion team at the Woburn High School field on Wednesday. This victory for Woburn qualifies them for the County playoffs as winners of Zone 5-A. From the Winchester viewpoint it was a combination of bad breaks and wasted opportunities as the locals out hit the Woburnites and left nine men on the bases.

Winchester opened the scoring in the first inning when Amico walked. Patterson sacrificed and both runners were safe when Bruno fumbled the bunt. Then came a bad break as Amico was picked off second on a throw from the catcher and put out in the subsequent run down as Patterson took second. Daniels singled to left field to score Patterson. Donaghey followed with a single to left to send Daniels to third. Donaghey stole second and it still looked like a big inning with one out and two runners in scoring position. Reardon flied to Ross in left field and when Daniels tried to score after the catch, he was thrown out at the plate on a nice throw from Ross to Dinardo.

Woburn evened the score in the last half of the same inning. With one out, Corry was hit by a Roche pitch. Corry was erased at second as McLaughlin grounded out, Roche to Reardon. After McLaughlin stole second, a Garvey single through the middle scored him to tie the score.

The score remained a tie until the sixth when Winchester tallied once to take the lead. Donaghey was passed to open the inning and was sacrificed to second by Reardon. After Roche fouled out, Power came through with a single to center to score Donaghey and give Winchester a 2 to 1 lead.

The sun was the villian as Woburn scored twice in the last half of the inning to go ahead. McLaughlin worked Roche for a base on balls to open the inning. Garvey Sacrificed and Roche threw to first but the sun was directly behind the throw and Murphy never did see the ball as the runners moved up to second and third on the excusable error. McManus singled cleanly to center, scoring both runners, but was tagged out at second as the throw in to the plate was cut off.

Woburn added an insurance run in the seventh inning on a hit batsman, a single to right field, and two bases on balls to force in a run.

An example of the bad breaks the locals were getting came in the fourth inning when they should have taken a commanding lead and perhaps sewed up the game. Donaghey opened with a double to left field and Reardon and Roche were walked to fill the bases with nobody out. Power smacked a line drive directly at the second basemen who doubled Roche off first. Three feet either way and it would have been a safe hit to score two runs and still have two men on base with nobody out.

ASSAULT CASE POSTPONED

The assault case involving Neil McCarron of 23 Irving street and a Somerville young man, Bertrand Sweeney of 19 Taylor street, that city, came up for disposition before Judge William Henchey in the District Court at Woburn last Friday morning.

McCarron told the Judge that Sweeney had struck him on the mouth on the night of July 2 at Leonard Field Beach after the man had asked the Somerville youth and two companions how the water was at the beach. McCarron claimed that his glasses were broken, some teeth loosened and his lip cut in the fray. McCarron also alleged that Sweeney had tried to assault him again on Winchester Beach after he and the three Somerville youths had left the Leonard Field Beach.

Sweeney, in his own defense, told the Court that he had struck McCarron in self-defense after the latter had struck him. The latter gave the Somerville youth a stiff reprimand after examining his case for over an hour. He continued the case until the full extent of the injuries claimed by McCarron are established. Court habitues claim they have seldom heard Judge Henchey talk more severely to a defendant.

PLAY TO HAVE PREMIERE AT TUFTS

The first production anywhere of "I, A Stranger," a philosophic play about a rural New England couple isolated in their old age, opens Tuesday evening, (July 20) for a five night run at the Tufts Summer (Arena) Theater on the Medford campus under the direction of Marston Balch, chairman of the Tufts drama department and co-director of the Summer Theater.

The play is by Grace Elizabeth Potter, associate editor of the University of Michigan Press, and is still in manuscript. The story of Paraclete Whitfield, his wife, Kate, and their family in the years following their 65th wedding anniversary is told in a manner both poignant and humorous, and Dr. Balch considers the play the best written, both in dialogue and stage direction, ever produced at Tufts.

Winchester men participating are Prof. J. R. Woodruff of Sheffield road, managing director, and Boardman O'Connor of 304 Main street, who is in charge of lighting.

LET'S BE SENSIBLE

If can come up with sound economic solution of the problem of meeting substantial wage increases for employes of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company without increasing fares, then there will be some justification for their meeting

Of course, fare increases are inevitable. Everything else is rising in cost—and the Eastern Massachusetts has no magic formula of picking money off bushes any more than the rest of us.

. we think that on the whole the Eastern Mass. has done a pretty good job in providing transportation in this populous section and we should like to inquire what would happen to our thousands of riders if its service were stopped.

This is only the second fare increase in 28 years by this company. Compare that record with the number of increases the butcher, the baker, the automobile manufacturer and about everyone else who provides products or service has levied in the same period.

The company has had to meet not only the terrific burden of a series of general wage increases, but everything else entering into the operation of a bus company has gone up—the buses themselves, tires, gasoline, oil, etc.

The proposed fare increase is merely part of a nation-wide economic movement. Wages are rising in all lines of activity and costs of services and products must rise with them. Until that national trend is reversed . . . no one . . . with purely local authority can do much about it.

WINNING RECIPE:

HOW TO COOK SWORDFISH

This fish often gets a "black eye" because it is so dry. The following method keeps the juices in and thus makes it very palatable.

Cut into proper serving pieces. Dip each piece in salted flour first, second, beaten egg and a little water to thin it, and last in bread crumbs sifted through a flour sifter to get a surface exactly right. Heat deep fat in a large enough kettle so that it won't boil over, and have it so hot that the fish will brown in about a minute or less. Remove to paper towel to drain and repeat until all pieces are brown. This does not mean they are done, but the surface is sealed up to prevent escape of juices, as stated before. Transfer fish to pyrex or tin plate and put into oven heated to about 300 degrees and leave about 10 minutes or until a knife-blade inserted shows it does not look raw in the middle. It is not easy to know exactly the number of minutes to cook, but once trying will solve the puzzle.

WITH TOPS, OR IN THE BRUSH?

There is a persistent rumor to the effect that it was long the practice in the town of Winchester to require that males, from the age of puberty on, should appear on our beaches and tennis courts with their manly chests covered. Then, we are told, along came The War. A kindly, stern, gray-bearded, old uncle of all of us, named Sam, began to insist that too many of his nephews accept board, lodging, and even full habiliment (no exceptions allowed) at his expense. Uncle required that all dress alike, and, in the case at issue, provided only a good-looking pair of shorts for sportswear. Entirely oblivious of requirements in our fair town, he provided no tops! Accordingly, the Town Fathers bowed, and manly chests in the brush appeared on our sandy beaches. From the beaches they trickled over to the tennis courts; and thus began a custom. Yet the above-mentioned rumor persists.

It is not to be wondered at then that serious, interested, well-meaning, tax-paying (this is quite unimportant) members of the community are confused. Specifically, is there a town regulation requiring tops of male tennis players from the age of puberty on? Sometimes we see friends covered; sometimes we see them in the brush. Sometimes the friends are covered, while misbehaving ringers from elsewhere are present in the brush. The latter, unimpressed by our ORAL traditions, have been heard to inquire as to who (infernally) the authors of these ORAL instructions may be. They know them not; therefore, they exist not. And not yet have we attained that golden age when a little child shall lead them.

To avoid any misunderstanding let us be brutally frank. The regulated and disciplined use of our town tennis courts requires the immediate, the active, and the LEGIBLE (to all) cooperation of at least two town departments. What are they waiting for?

FORBES NORRIS AND MARNIE TOWN TENNIS CHAMPS

Our superintendent of schools, Forbes Norris, and his favorite daughter Marnie emerged some time ago as the Winchester champs in the domain of tennis Family Doubles. During the last two years Marnie has been winning all sorts of championships on her own and, currently, is warming up for the national championships in her class, which she, along with our Ruthie Murray and their mutual friend Clarissa Nash, will attend under the guidance of Mrs. Lyman Olmstead. This year, to the delight of all of us, she and her father deservingly fought their way through no ordinary gantlet to become the first possessors of the trophy for Town Family Doubles. Unfortunately, no scores seem to be available, but your reporter feels that he can recall glimpses of matches against Art and Dot Hills, Jim and Dick Riley, and the finals against Ken and Dick Hills. The impression is that none of these matches lasted very long, so let us assume that all these former champs - has-beens ? ? - went down before the victors in straight sets.

As a further report on other sections of the Town Tournament which took such a beating this season from the elements, faint memory reminds us that Frannie (Keyes) Yeager and Joyce Dana won the Women's Draw Doubles, and the Draw Mixed Doubles was withdrawn after a team of ringers had defeated the number one seeds! Sic volvere Parcas.

OLD COLONY TENNIS LEAGUE REVIVED

After lying dormant for the last few years due to the stultifying effects which wars always have on normal civilian pursuits, the Old Colony League has finally come back into action in this year of grace 1948. To date only Belmont, Lexington, Lincoln, and Winchester have succeeded in getting together and drawing up a schedule of play. It is a sound season has passed other clubs will be attracted by the enthusiasm which these four are bound to generate.

In the past no small amount of the vital energies of this league were drawn from the interest shown by Winchester, particularly under the leadership of Jim Riley and Wallace Blanchard. This year Jim has been very active, of course, and, to the surprise of bet, however, that before another nobody, is team captain for Winchester. Wallace Blanchard, on the other hand, has been laid low ever since the beginning of the year by severe sickness and has been unable to play his usual active role. The League as well as the local Association sorely miss him but look forward to his return into their ranks for the season of 1949.

Winchester's schedule in the league is as follows:

July
17—Lincoln at Winchester
25—Winchester at Belmont

August
7—Lexington at Winchester
14—Winchester at Lincoln
21—Belmont at Winchester

Home games are played at the Palmer street courts.

BURLEIGH BEATS FLEET WITH LIFT FROM LUCINDA

Last Friday morning Ted Burleigh, Jr., became the proud pappy of 6 pounds of fluff named Lucinda, and last Saturday afternoon in honor of this newest addition to the Snipe Fleet, Ted took top honors in the only official point score race of the week-end. Of course, you have to be more than a proud pappy to beat the fleet and Don Simonds (who has returned to battle) Jack Streeton, Bob Morris and Jim Newman all argued the decision to the bitter end. But pappy Ted and Grandpa Ted, Sr., just had that little extra lift from Lucinda to bring home the bacon. Simonds salvaged second and Streeton was third. We hesitate to recommend fatherhood as a sure way to beat the fleet because after all, at this point Ted has yet to put in patrol duty in the wee, small hours of the a. m. Let's see if he is successful in defending his New England Championship at Marblehead the first week in August. Lucinda should be testing out her lungs about then.

A couple of weeks ago, Daw Blamire and Carl Freyer became co-owners of "The Foo," and not an eye-brow arched at the combining of these two fleet flounderers. Beyond the fact that the team made a poem—Freyer-Blamire—that is, it went completely ignored. But lo and behold, last Sunday afternoon the fleet had some Skippers' races, and these two stalwart skippers wound up on top. They scored surprising seconds in both races to beat Mel Moller, who had a fourth and a first, by a single point and thereby set back the fleet a few years. However, we don't feel that the setback to the fleet will be too severe, because the boys will probably be back where they belong when they step into their chartreuse challenger this week-end.

WINCHESTER WON PAUL REVERE GAME

Winchester beat the Lexington Town Team in a Paul Revere League game at Lexington last Thursday evening, 7-2, with big Sambo Tompkins pitching four hit ball. It was the third straight league win for the locals.

Modoono, Winchester catcher who formerly played for Lexington for seven years, drove in two runs to help beat his old mates while little Sammy Bellino continued his good hitting with a double and triple.

The locals fielded well behind Tompkins and the outfield especially covered ground well. The summary:

McGRATH WON TWO AT PORTSMOUTH

Bob McGrath, ace of the Winchester Swimming Club, won two gold trophies at the N.E.A.A.A.U. swimming meet last Saturday at Wentworth-by-the-sea, Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

Bob won both the 100 yard freestyle open and also the 100 yard backstroke, another open event. His time for the 100 was 54.6s, and he beat among others Charlie Stephanos of the Lynn Boys Club, now wearing the colors of Emery College in the South, and Donald Sonia, another good swimmer from Lynn. Stephanos was second in the 100, and in the backstroke event Bob Arwezon of Providence chased McGrath home in 1m. 9.7s.

The Winchester sprinter competed at Anthony Beach in Rhode Island, July 5, winning the 100 yard backstroke there. There was no 100 yard freestyle event for men at this meet.

Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, and the Central Fire Station have been equipped with television receiver sets, which will either stop or start a lot of arguments among the Legionnaires and Firemen.

Arnold H. Smith of Cambridge, formerly of Winchester, is one of eight young men recently selected for a year's training under the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Company's management trainee program. He will spend 10 months in the company's plants at Amsterdam, N. Y., and Thompsonville, Conn., learning basic facts and skills of the industry, after which he will spend time in the company's executive offices, retailer stores and visiting plants in other industries. The program trains for supervisory positions or skilled technical or administrative posts.

WRIGHT WAY, SKYWAY NUMBER ONE, MARKS NEW ERA IN PRIVATE FLYING

The United States is busy these days putting up aerial "road signs."

A thousand freshly painted markers on rooftops and highways emblazon Skyway Number One from Los Angeles to Washington, D. C. About 4,000 more are needed to mark every community in a 40-mile-wide band along the 4,100 miles of the forking route.

Underscoring a new era in private flying, Skyway Number One will be dedicated as "the Wright Way" at multiple exercises in cities of the route on April 24, notes the National Geographic Society.

Government Aids Small Airports

The Wright Way is the first continuous contact-flying route in an envisioned national network to be gradually achieved through efforts of local airports and chambers of commerce. Its prime movers are the Washington Board of Trade and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Running east 1,150 miles from Los Angeles to Abilene, Texas, the sky route touches Phoenix, Tucson, and El Paso, winter-season paradises of the Southwest. Eastward from Abilene, it branches into a 1,440-mile northern lane reaching Washington by way of Tulsa, St. Louis, Indianapolis, and Pittsburgh, and a 1,510-mile southern route touching Shreveport, Atlanta, Greensboro, and Richmond.

Part of the northern route—the 112 miles between Indianapolis and Dayton—was the first stretch marked for air travel in the country. Dayton, home of the Army Air Forces' vast Wright Field, was the home of pioneer aircraft experimentation by Wilbur and Orville Wright.

Of nearly 6,000 airports and landing fields now counted by the Civil Aeronautics Authority, an estimated 1,500 catering to private planes lie along or near the Wright Way. The Country's airfields numbered only 1,000 when Lindbergh hopped the Atlantic in 1927. Spurred by the Federal aid of the National Airport program, approved in May, 1946, airports increased more than 1,000 in 1947 alone.

Texas and California, with more than 400 airfields each, lead the states, followed by Florida and New York. Pennsylvania is in the van in air-marking its towns.

Second Skyway Designated

New trends in flying fields include the airpark, pioneered at Eldon, Missouri, with hotel, resort, and service facilities for the flying family on vacation; the flightstop in open areas of the west, where service stations supply both planes and auto on cross-country trips, and farmers' and ranchers' air centers as at Davis, California, where air-minded farmers by the score visit University of California experimental farms.

Besides the current rapid increase in airfields catering to private planes, pilots and aircraft are also on the rise. There are nearly 100,000 registered aircraft available for the use of about 240,000 private and 200,000 commercial licensed pilots.

Mr. Daniel J. O'Doherty of 65 Sheridan Circle, and his sister, Ellen, had the pleasure last week of a visit from their brother, Rev. James C. O'Doherty of Leemore, California, whom they had not seen for 20 years. Rev. O'Doherty, a former resident of Boston, came east to board a plane at Logan International Airport bound for Ireland and a reunion with his 88 year old mother and brother. He left the airport last week Thursday.

Last Friday morning the police received complaints from women living in the vicinity of Norwood and Central streets that girdles and other underclothes were stolen from their clotheslines during the night previous. Other articles of clothing on the lines were not touched. At one house the clothesline was cut down and the back door of the house tied up with it.

NEW INSTALLMENTS ON POMPEII STORY STILL UNCOVERED AFTER 200 YEARS

Near Naples Italys' detectives of pick and spade are now at work uncovering the 200th anniversary installment of a mystery story created by Nature's violence almost 1,900 years ago.

The date the destroyer struck was 79 A.D. The victim was the thriving city of Pompeii. And everybody knows the volcanic destroyer, Mount Vesuvius. What the archeologists are slowly revealing, through clues turned up in two centuries of digging, are details of every-day life and death in a significant ancient community.

The disastrous eruption of Vesuvius caught Pompeii in full activity and preserved in ashes and mud much of what it engulfed. Thus it has been possible for the buried city to emerge from its tomb to give moderns their most complete picture of urban life in the first century, notes the National Geographic Society. The story has been unfolding since the mammoth job of excavation began in 1748, but the narrative is still little more than half finished.

Chariot Ruts Preserved

In the shadow of still smoking and rumbling Mount Vesuvius, the dead city raises roofless walls and columns of temples, theaters, open-front shops, public baths and private homes.

Now edging the modern town of Pompeii, the excavated city was already six centuries old when disaster struck. The paved stones of its narrow, dusty streets bear the imprints of ancient chariot wheels and horses' hoofs.

To countless thousands of visitors, its undimmed paintings and court fountains, a child's scrawled words on an old wall or inscribed announcements of first-century elections and entertainments, have offered graphic evidence of real people in a once thriving commercial and resort settlement.

Many Relics Salvaged

Pompeii, however, was not left intact after the tragedy in which some 2,000 of the city's 20,000 inhabitants lost their lives. Those who escaped and returned to save their possessions tunneled through the already heavy debris and cut holes in many of the houses to take out household goods and fortunes.

In early Pompeii excavations, everyday articles of interest and value were removed to the Naples National Museum or sold to private collectors. In modern exhibition showmanship, such instructive mementoes as kitchen utensils, mosaics, religious shrines, and surgical instruments have been left as they were found.

World War II brought bomb damage to a number of Pompeii structures. In the now repaired Museum building, where anniversary celebrations are scheduled for June, thousands of glass and other objects were shattered during attacks on near-by German positions. Many of these objects have been put together for current exhibitions. But it is estimated that much more time will be required before the reassembling is complete.

Winchester boys among those at Camp Stella Maris, the boys' camp directed by Rev. John J. Sheehan, curate at the Immaculate Conception Church and promoter of CYO activities in the parish, include John and Dan Barry, Joseph Russo, Charles Breen, Earl Smith, John McCormack and Peter McElhinney.

VOL. LXVII NO. 49 — THE WINCHESTER MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1948 — PRICE SEVEN CENTS

EDGAR J. RICH

Edgar J. Rich of 11 Pine street, a long time and highly respected resident of Winchester who was for nearly forty years a trustee of the town library, died early Saturday morning, July 17, at Phillips House of the Massachusetts General Hospital. He underwent an operation for the removal of a cateract on July 12 and the following Wednesday was stricken with a shock. He would have been 84 on July 22.

Mr. Rich came to Winchester in 1895. He liked to tell how he and Mrs. Rich, after careful consideration, had chosen Winchester as a place to live; a town as he said they could work for, grow with and be proud of. Both he and his late wife were valuable citizens, Mr. Rich especially giving of his time and energy to civic affairs and often benefitting the town by the soundness of his counsel.

He had lived in town five years when he was placed on the important Committee on Appropriations, now the Finance Committee, serving in this capacity for two years until 1902. In that year he was elected Moderator over the then incumbent, Capt. John T. Wilson, 115 to 24, at an election held at the town hall with the opening of the polls for town meeting at 6 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Rich served as Moderator until 1904 and in 1910 served as a member of the School Committee. He was elected trustee of the Town Library Dec. 4, 1911, and was subsequently re-elected at the conclusion of each term until his death. From 1940 until 1947 he served as chairman of the Board of Library Trustees, and it is safe to say that the library had no better friend or stauncher advocate through the years than he.

Greatly interested in Winchester's past, Mr. Rich was one of the moving spirits in the publication of the town history written by the late Henry S. Chapman, serving as chairman of the Town History Committee. When the limited town meeting was established in Winchester in 1929 he was elected a member for Precinct 5, and he continued to serve as a town meeting member until his death, often participating in the debates upon the floor of the town hall and always being listened to with the greatest respect.

Older residents of the town will recall a bad accident which occurred at the railroad crossing in the center in the early nineteen hundreds. William Walsh, a milkman living on Old Mystic street in Arlington, and his horse were killed in the accident. Attorneys wanted a substantial slice of the $5,000 which they told the widow they could secure from the railroad in a damage suit in court. The matter was called to Mr. Rich's attention, he being at that time counsel for the Boston & Maine. Getting his friend, George Coit, to represent Mrs. Walsh, Mr. Rich secured the $5,000 for the widow from the railroad and added $300 for the loss of horse, bringing the money to a mutual friend in Winchester, who took it to the grateful Mrs. Walsh.

Later when the then Selectman James J. Fitzgerald was agitating the building of a road across Black Ball Pond from Spruce street to Railroad avenue (Shore road) as a safety measure Mr. Rich, in his capacity as counsel for the railroad, did much to assist in the furtherance of the plan, the late Arthur Bateman Cortnell of this town, railroad engineer, also cooperating through Mr. Rich's interest. Many other instances could be given of his interest in and devotion to the town in which he chose to live.

Mrs. Lillian Dickey Ward, wife of Henry Stanton Ward of 432 Washington street, died Wednesday evening, July 21, at the Winchester Hospital, where she had been for only a few days.

Mrs. Ward was the daughter of John Scott, and Sarah (Lowe) Holman. She was born December 5, 1879, at Mosher River, Halifax County, N. S., but had made her home in Winchester for the past 44 years. She was a member of the Second Congregational Church. Besides her husband, Mrs. Ward leaves two sons, Roy D., and Robert S. Ward.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Kelley and Hawes Chapel with the Rev. Donald J. Maccallum, pastor of the Second Congregational Church, officiating.

TO INSTALL NEW FIRE ALARM CABLE

Trouble has developed with the system of fire alarm boxes along north Main street, and examination disclosed that the old cable is pretty well worn out. Electrician Everett Kimball of the fire department has been working on the line in an effort to keep the boxes functioning, but it will be necessary to replace the cable to really get the system back in good working order.

A new cable, 1,785 feet of it, has arrived at the Central Station, and as soon as operatives from the Gamewell Company, manufacturers of the alarm system in use here, are available, it will be installed.

The cable, which is composed of individual copper wires, twisted together, is no longer covered with lead as in the old days, but now has a covering of neoprene, which resembles rubber and which is very flexible.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Goodrow of Forest street are registered at the Hotel George Washington in New York City.

WALLACE BLANCHARD

Wallace Blanchard of 5 Ravenscroft road, a veteran of World War I and Finance Officer of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, died Monday afternoon, July 19, at the Winchester Hospital. Ill for several months, he was taken to the hospital during the morning of the day he died.

Mr. Blanchard was the son of Denman, and Lucy (Nutting) Blanchard. He was born March 18, 1892, in Melrose, attended Manlius School in New York as a boy and was graduated from Phillips Andover Academy in the class of 1911. He was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale University in the class of 1914, being a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, and after Yale he had a year at Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he was a member of the class of 1916.

After college he was in the investment business with his father in the firm of Blanchard Co., of Boston, until 1928, when he joined the Stahleker Steel Corp., Cambridge steel dealers, as treasurer and director, a position he held until his death.

He was a member of the Boston Yale Club, of the Winchester Legion and of the Winchester Tennis Association, which he served for many years as secretary-treasurer.

Few in town took a more active interest in tennis than Mr. Blanchard. He was a member and moving spirit in the old Benedict Club with courts on Governor's avenue, from which, largely through his and Jim Riley's efforts, stemmed first, the Winchester Lawn Tennis Association and later, the present Winchester Tennis Association. He served all three organizations as secretary-treasurer, was on numerous tennis boards and committees, helped to arrange many town tournaments and for years played both singles and doubles for Winchester in Old Colony League intertown matches. At the time of his death he was secretary-treasurer of both the Old Colony League, newly revived following the war, and the Winchester Tennis Association.

He was also a member of the old Calumet Club and a former member of both the Winchester Country Club and the Boat Club. He had made his home in town since 1915. During World War I, he served in the Coast Artillery with the rank of second lieutenant.

On Sept. 5, 1917, Mr. Blanchard married Dorothy Parker of Winchester, who survives him, with three sons, Parker Nutting Blanchard of Winchester, Wallace Blanchard, Jr., of Dayton, Ohio and Charles Wentworth Blanchard of Buffalo, N. Y. There are also three grandchildren, Susan and Davis Blanchard of Winchester and Wallace Blanchard, 3d, of Dayton, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, officiating. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

ROTARY NEWS

This week the Rotary Club held an important open meeting for the discussion and announcements of plans for the year under the various chairmen. The song sessions this year will be handled by deep-toned Charlie Koch. At this meeting he was doubtfully accompanied upon the piano by two fingered Milne Blanchard and it was subsequently announced that Charlie's assistant leader would be Billy Beggs who shyly accepted the honor. 'Church' Hindes was appointed song leader 'Alouette' Emeritus.

The business session consisted of reports from the ladies night committee headed by 'Chub' Howe, Glen Browning, and Aram Mouradian. The last night was so successful that it was voted to hold one in the fall probably either October 20 or 27th. The golf outing is to be at the Unicorn Golf Club on August 12th. The members will hold the usual luncheon meeting on that day and then those planning to go will take off immediately in their own cars for the golf course to enjoy an afternoon of exercise and an evening dinner at the club. This is being ably handled by Allan Wilde and promises to be good sport in all senses of the word.

President Don also announced the election to honorably membership for the ensuing year of the following men: George Franklin, George Davidson, Lewis Parkhurst, and William Rogers. It is intended by the officers and board of directors for this year that the attendance rules as laid down by Rotary International will be adhered to as strictly as possible.

The president then announced the selection of the various committees. For this year, they are as follows: under the large heading of club service which is headed by Wade Grindle these various committees will be served as following; Programme Committee - Charlie Murphy; Classification - Ralph Bonnell; Fellowship - John Wallace; Rotary Information - John McLean; Public Information and Magazine - Gene Pollard; Attendance - Vin Ambrose. The next large committee is Vocation Service which is headed by Dave Davis. The all-important hospital drive committee is co-chairmened by Nick Fitzgerald and Al Elliot. Community Service Committee is under Forbes Norris and serving directly under Forbes are these committees. Youth - Gordon Bird; Traffic Safety - Charles Harrold; Scholarship - Harry Mueller. Finally the last committee is International Service which will be handled by Past-President Harry Benson.

EDWIN W. ZIMMERMAN

TO HEAD BOSTON DISTRICTS DIVISION IN RED FEATHER CAMPAIGN

Edwin W. Zimmerman of 390 Highland avenue, general manager of Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, will head the Boston Districts Division in the fall Red Feather campaign. He is one of 10 campaign leaders who will man the executive posts in the money-raising divisions of this annual appeal for the 300 Red Feather services of the Greater Boston Community Fund. As a speaker in Community Fund campaigns for several years, he knows the Red Feather story well.

Under the reorganizational plans for solicitation within the City of Boston, Mr. Zimmerman faces a monumental task. The new set-up of the Districts Division calls for two separate sections - Commercial including 39 business districts and Residential with 33 districts to be covered by a corps of women.

Mr. Zimmerman is a staunch supporter of the Community Fund way, as expressed in his acceptance of the appointment by Powell M. Cabot, campaign chairman, "I am firmly convinced that the Community Fund is a fundamentally democratic method for obtaining funds to maintain our Red Feather services," he said. "Each person should contribute through sacrifice, money and effort to insure the perpetuation of services for himself and the community."

He is general manager at the Everett plant of Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates and is a former president of the Everett Rotary Club. He is also vice president of New England Coke Company.

JULY 21 EFFECTIVE DATE FOR ENLISTMENT OF 18 YEAR OLDS

July 21 is the effective date that young men 18 years old may be enlisted in the Army and Air Force of the United States for one year by applying at the Woburn recruiting office located in City Hall, according to an announcement by M/Sgt. R. J. Harder, local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Sergeant.

Application must be made in person and proof of age must be submitted in the form of birth certificates or statements from the state registrar of vital statistics. Physical and mental requirements will be the same as those now in effect for Regular Army and Air Force volunteers.

For the period of July 21 to August 31 enlistments will be effective from lists that will be compiled on a first come first served basis within established quotas. All such enlistments will be made with no promise of assignment or geographical location although the enlistee will not be sent outside the continental limits of the United States. At present no extension of the 12 month enlistment period is authorized. This would mean that if the enlistee accepted transfer either to the Enlisted Reserve Corps for 6 years or joined an active reserve component for 4 years upon honorable discharge from his one year's service, he will have fulfilled his obligation incurred under the Selective Service Act of 1948. Individuals enlisting under these provisions may be discharged from the Army or the Air Force at any time after enlistment for the purpose of enlisting in the Regular Army or U. S. Air Force for 3 years. The way was also cleared for enlistments in the Regular Army for a period of 2 years following completion of one year's Service Sgt. Harder stated.

Enlistees who are accepted to fiill the first day's quota will be sent to Recruiting Main Stations for examination and, if qualified, enlisted that day. Those who are placed on the waiting list, within the established quotas, for the remainder of the first period, will be informed of the time and place to report at the time of application. All applicants will be called in the order in which their names appear on the list Sgt. Harder concluded.

WITH MARINES IN MEDITERRANEAN

Sgt. Richard L. MacNeill, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Leonard MacNeill of the Parkway, is with the U. S. Marine Corps in the Mediterranean, having sailed from Norfolk on the 29th of May. His last letter was written in Haifa where they have been since July 6th. Here he was one of an honor guard to go ashore to escort the bodies of Consul General Thomas Wasson and Chief Machinist Mate Herbert Walker aboard ship.

Police Chief Charles J. Harrold commenced his annual vacation this week, as did Patrolmen John J. Boyle and Thomas F. Hannon.

CARY — McLEOD

Miss Nathalie Goddu McLeod, daughter of Mrs. Doris G. McLeod of Randolph, Vt., was married on Saturday afternoon, July 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Litchfield in Niles Lane to Burton Wolcott Cary, son of Mrs. Burton W. Cary of Westland avenue, and the late Mr. Cary. The Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church officiated at the four o'clock ceremony which took place in a setting of Easter lilies and white delphinium with tall stands of white gladiolas. Mary Ranton Witham played the bridal music.

Miss McLeod was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Charles R. Carter of Winchester. She wore a princess style gown of white satin, having a collar of seed pearls, long sleeves and a skirt that extended into a train. Her fingertip-length veil was caught to a Juliet cap and she carried a white orchid with white roses and babies breath arranged in a cascade bouquet.

Miss June Preston of Winchester attended her cousin as maid of honor and Miss Noel Jean Anderson of Fitchburg, small niece of the bride, was flower girl. John Anderson of Winchester, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

The honor maid wore a light-blue dress with a brocaded bodice, three-quarter sleeves and a net skirt. Her cascade bouquet was of yellow roses and babies breath.

The flower girl wore a floor-length frock of white organdy with a light-blue sash, and carried a miniature bouquet like that of the honor maid.

For the reception which followed the ceremony there were arrangements of regal lilies in the dining room with white snapdragons, white scabiosa, bouvardia and white roses. The mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving.

After a wedding journey to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Cary will live in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Randolph, Vt., High School. Mr. Cary prepared for college at Kimball Union and is a graduate of Colgate University. During the war he saw service with the 10th Mountain Division in Italy.

Among pre-nuptial parties was a dinner given for Miss McLeod and Mr. Cary by Dr. and Mrs. William L. Davis at their home on Central Green Friday evening, June 16, before the wedding rehearsal.

Besides Miss McLeod and Mr. Preston, the guests included the mothers of the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. McLeod and Mrs. Cary; the maid of honor and best man, Mrs. John Anderson(Betty Cary) and Mr. David Ritchie.

SPINOSA — CAPONE

The marriage of Miss Clara Capone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Capone of Spruce street, to Alfred Joseph Spinosa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augostino Spinosa of Harding street, Somerville, took place on Sunday afternoon, July 18, at 3 o'clock in St. Mary's Church with the pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Capone of Winchester.

The bride wore a gown of white marquisette with a brocaded front and ruffled pleats in the skirt. Her matching veil was fingertip-length and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The honor maid was gowned in Nile green with matching hat and carried yellow roses.

Cosimo Macario of Winchester was best man for Mr. Spinosa and the usher corps comprised Alfred Spinosa of Somerville, brother of the bridegroom; Peter Genotti of Woburn and John Pietrantonia and Rudolph Fiore, both of Winchester.

A reception was held in Waterfield Hall and at its conclusion Mr. Spinosa and his bride left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. Upon their return they will make their home in Arlington.

MISS MacISAAC ENGAGED TO MR. COLLETTE

Mr. John A. MacIsaac of Salem street announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Mary C. MacIsaac, to Gerard R. Collette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collette of Mertzig, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg.

Miss MacIsaac graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1943 and for the past two and a half years has been employed as a secretary at the Winchester National Bank.

Mr. Collette is a graduate of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration with the degree of M.B.A. He has a Bachelor of Arts degree from the Athenee Grand Ducal in Luxembourg and the Lycee Ampere at Lyon, France, and received the degree of Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Zurich in Switzerland.

MISS ELLEN KENERSON ENGAGED

At the Winchester Country Club on Saturday, July 17, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Kenerson of Brooks street announced the engagement of their daughter, Ellen, to Mr. George E. Felton, Jr., son of Mrs. Edith B. Felton of Wellesley Hills and Mr. George E. Felton of Boston.

Miss Kenerson is a graduate of the Winchester schools and is now attending Colby College. Mr. Felton graduated from Fishburn Military Academy and attended Connecticut University while serving with the Army Air Forces. He is now studying at Colby.

SCHLEGEL — KERRIGAN

Bouquets of white mixed flowers decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, July 18, for the marriage of Miss Ruth Eileen Kerrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Kerrigan of Englewood road, to William Livingston Schlegel, son of Mr. William Schlegel of Bartlett Parkway, Winthrop. St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, officiated at the 4 o'clock service and the bridal music was played by the church organist, Miss Mary Callahan. Miss Mabel Coty, soprano, was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with a yoke and bertha of lace and a matching veil. Her bouquet was of bride's roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Ethel Kerrigan of Winchester was her sister's honor attendant, and the bridesmaids were Miss Kay Devlin of Winchester and Miss Jeanne Ryan of Winthrop.

The honor maid wore an orchid chiffon dress with picture hat to match and carried an old fashioned bouquet of orchid, aqua and yellow sweet peas tied with orchid ribbon.

The bridesmaids wore chiffon dresses, one wearing aqua and the other, yellow. Both wore picture hats to match their gowns and carried old fashioned bouquets of mixed sweet peas, tied with ribbons to match their gowns.

Niles Schlegel of Winthrop was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Frank Kerrigan of Winchester, brother of the bride; Paul Donovan and Donald Lowery of Winthrop, and James McCarthy of Lexington.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Town Line House. Assisting in receiving were the parents of the bride, the bridegroom's father and grand-aunt, Miss Annie Neilson of Winthrop.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and is employed at the Merchants National Bank of Boston. Mr. Kerrigan, a technician, and veteran of World War II, is a graduate of Winthrop High School and attended Washington University. After a wedding trip to Canada by airplane Mr. and Mrs. Schlegel will make their home in Lexington.

WHITTEN — DUNBAR

Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Dunbar of Dallas, Texas, announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia, to Mr. Charles Robinson Whitten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson S. Whitten of Everett avenue and Boothbay Harbor, Maine.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Prescott Robertson in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Friday, July 16th at two-thirty o'clock.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and had as honor attendant Mrs. George D. Whitten of this town. Mr. Bradford D. Whitten was his brother's best man and ushers were Mr. John O. McGillivray and Mr. George D. Whitten, all of Winchester.

The bride was born in Shanghai, China. She attended the Shanghai American School, was graduated from Northfield Seminary and from Wheaton College in the Class of 1947.

Mr. Whitten attended Winchester High School and was graduated from the New England Air Craft School. He served as gunner in the Army Air Corps during World War II.

After September Mr. and Mrs. Whitten will be at home at 70 Westland avenue.

GIRL SCOUTS ON BICYCLE TRIP THROUGH CANADA AND VERMONT

Word has been received from the seven senior Girl Scouts who left Winchester Sunday morning on the "Alouette" for Montreal They were met at the station by Canadian Ranger Girl Guides who "took them over completely." The Winchester Scouts stayed at Baker House as guests of the Girl Guides until Tuesday when they left on their bicycles for the trip home, carrying with them all the clothing and supplies needed for 10 days of outdoor camping.

The itinerary called for sleeping out in sleeping bags Tuesday night near Lacolle, Canada; Wednesday they went over the bridge of the Hero Islands on the north of Lake Champlain, over the South Hero Islands in Vermont, and on Thursday and Friday will be the guests of Burlington, Vt., Girl Scouts. On Friday they take the ferry to Ausable Chasms across Lake Champlain, returning to Burlington for the night.

Saturday they start across the Green Mountains, sleeping out en route until Tuesday when they arrive at the Senior Girl Scout Camp at Fairlee, Vt. After spending the night here at this mountain camp, they will be met and driven back to Winchester.

TRADERS' DAY AUGUST 4

August 4, Wednesday, will be observed in Winchester as Traders' Day. The first Wednesday in August has always been the designated date for a universal closing of the Town's stores. While a few of the stores will remain open, some 50 business houses and stores will close.

Housewives are warned to do their shopping early the first week in August.

CULLEN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

James A. Cullen of 82 Bacon street, former chairman of the Board of Selectmen, is to be a candidate for County Commissioner on the Democratic ticket at the primaries in September. He last threw his hat into the political ring to oppose the present President of the State Senate, Harris S. Richardson, for senator in the 6th Middlesex District in 1946, being defeated but making a good showing for a Democrat in a strongly Republican district. "Jimmy" expects a fight on his hands in his coming campaign since very few Democrats have been elected County Commissioners in Middlesex County through the years.

PARTICIPATED IN PERSHING FUNERAL CEREMONIES

Very Rev. John W. Suter, dean of the Washington (Episcopal) Cathedral and a former resident of Winchester was one of the two clergymen officiating at the funeral services for General John J. Pershing in the amphitheatre at Arlington National Cemetery. The other was Maj. Gen Luther D. Miller, chief of Army Chaplains.

Dr. Suter lived as a boy in Winchester where his father, the late John W. Suter, D. D., was one of the early rectors of the Church of Epiphany, heading the local parish when the present church was built. The son later was rector of the Church of the Epiphany in New York State before being called to become dean of Cathedral in Washington.

Still another Winchester boy, Pvt. Eugene H. Carlin of 33 Henry street participated in the ceremonies. Pvt. Carlin was among the twenty-one soldiers from the elite Third Infantry Regiment based at Fort Meyer, Va., who had the honor of standing guard over Gen. Pershing's Casket while the World War One Commander was lying in state in the Capitol Rotunda.

BOB ZIRKEL MEDALIST IN JUNIOR GOLF

Winchester's Bob Zirkel, one of the wheel-horses of the Winchester High School golf team, won the medal with a snappy 72 in the qualifying round of the Massachusetts Junior Golf Championship at the Winchester Country Club Tuesday.

Bob went on to win his first and second round matches on Wednesday, beating Frank Curtin of Oakley, 3 and 2, in the morning and Tom Hovey of Worcester in the afternoon, 6 and 5. Bob was the only Winchester boy left in the tournament at the end of Wednesday's play.

His twin brother, Bill, also qualified for the match play with another Winchester boy, John O'Leary. O'Leary was eliminated in the first round by John Kent, Jr., of Riverside, 1 up.

Bill Zirkel won his first round match from Leo Mullin of The Country Club, 5 and 4. In the second round the luck of the draw gave him defending champion, Johnny Nies, Jr., of United Shoe, and the latter proved too good for Bill this time at least, winning 7 and 6.

Yesterday morning Bob Zirkel beat Bernie Doherty, an Arlington boy who plays under the Woburn Country Club banner, 5 and 4.

BREAKS AT BATH AND FIELD HOUSES

The police were notified shortly after noontime on Monday that the bathhouse at Leonard Field Beach had been broken into the night previous, access having been gained by ripping a screen from an unlocked window.

Several pairs of sun-glasses, owned by the lifeguards and a stopwatch owned by the Park Department were stolen.

Not long after this break was reported, the police were notified that sometime over the past weekend the new field-house at Loring avenue playground was entered by breaking the lock on the cellar door. Two lengths of soil pipe, welded together and weighing in the neighborhood of 140 pounds, were stolen in this instance. The pipe, valued at $5.50 each length, was owned by Plumber George T. Davidson.

THOMPSON — AMO

Miss Marguerite Estelle Amo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Amo of Stoneham, and Joseph Andrew Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Thompson of Clark street, were married Tuesday, July 20, at the Stoneham First Congregational Church by Rev. Arthur J. Snow.

COMING EVENTS

July 27, Tuesday, Flower Mission. Leave flowers at Railroad Station for 9 a. m. train.

MRS. MARY A. ROACHE

Mrs. Mary A. (McHale) Roache, wife of Martin Roache and a long time resident of Winchester, died suddenly, Tuesday, July 20, at her home, 23 Harvard street, following a heart attack. Mrs. Roache had not been well for the past seven years, during which time she had undergone two major operations. Her cheerfulness and the courage with which she faced her affliction won her the admiration and affection of all who knew her.

Mrs. Roache was the daughter of Thomas, and Nora (Melia) McHale. She was born April 7, 1872, in County Mayo, Ireland, but came to this country at the age of 16 and had been a resident of Winchester since that time. She was a member of the Married Ladies Sodality of St. Mary's Church.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Roache leaves four daughters, Sister Bertille of the Order of St. Joseph; Mrs. Mary McGoff, clerk at Winchester Police Headquarters; Miss Catharine A., and Miss Helen Roache, both of Winchester; two sons, Thomas H. Roache of Dorchester and Francis M. Roache of Woburn; five grandchildren and a brother, Patrick McHale of Winchester.

The funeral was held from the late residence this Friday morning with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

NOTHING NEW IN GARBAGE HOUSE DISPUTE

The only new development in the dispute over the erection of a new garbage house at the town yard was the visit on Wednesday of State Health authorities to the old garbage house which has been located at the town yard for many years. No official report has as yet been made by the visiting officials.

Meanwhile agitation for a special town meeting has apparently cooled, and there has been no date set for commencing work on the new garbage house.

The new structure is a part of the new garage and repair-house which the town voted to erect by vote of the limited town meeting last March. Town authorities contend that the building, particularly the garage for proper storage of town trucks and adequate space for the repair of town equipment is much needed.

Objection to making a new garbage house part of the building to be built at the town yard has developed during the past few weeks, with residents living near the town yard being particularly concerned.

Petitions seeking the abolition of the garbage house at that point have been circulated and presented to the Selectmen, who have been considering the problem.

Meanwhile a new contract for the removal of garbage from the town yard was signed by the Selectmen Monday evening. The old contract expires July 31.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting by Miss Hope and Mrs. Crede.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

The fifteenth season of day camping came to a close last week when the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts ended its 1948 summer session at Camp Joy on the Brooks Estate off Chardon road.

Meeting at Wedge Pond each morning of camp, the Girl Scouts were given instruction in swimming and life saving techniques by Donald Armstrong. A special bus took the girls to the cabin where flag raising exercises were held. The camp membership was divided into six units, ranging from a nursery unit for Leaders' small daughters, through Brownie, Fly-up, Intermediate and Pioneer units. In the latter group were the older girls who helped during rest hour in the younger units, relieving the leaders, and who in turn were trained for the hostel trip to Canada, which they are now enjoying.

A program of progressive cooking was set up, giving each unit one day a week for out-door cooking. Mrs. Hollis Dyer instructed classes in arts and crafts; and inter-unit games of softball, kickball and contests of archery were included. Four of the older units brought their blankets rolled and had an overnight at the cabin, cooking their own supper and breakfast.

On the staff of this year's camp were: Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, Winchester Girl Scout Director; Mrs. Francis Parsons, Assistant Director; Mrs. Donald True, Mrs. Hollis Dyer, Mrs. Paul Lamb, Mrs. Roy Titilah, Mrs. Clarence A. Roberts, Mrs. George Halm, Mrs. F. R. Finn, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Lawrence Dallin, and Mrs. William McKlintock.

With the present closing of the camp, the curtain falls on Camp Joy in its present location, leaving hundreds of Winchester girls as well as adults with pleasant memories of days spent roaming through the woods of the beautiful Brooks Estate. For originally planned to accommodate 20 girls, the cabin has been used daily this year by 100 girls of Winchester, and civilization is creeping nearer.

So the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts and interested sponsors are planning for future camping. A fifteen thousand dollar over-night lodge, located in Middlesex Fells on South Border road, to serve as a winter sports center as well as a summer camping spot, is on the planning boards of "Van" French, who with John Volpe, Nicholas Fitzgerald, Patrick Foley and Richard Johnson are organizing the building plans.

The drive to raise the necessary funds for the camp got underway here several weeks ago and will continue until September when it is hoped that construction on the new building can begin. Present plans call for a sleeping capacity of 20 and a heating system that will make possible over-night stays during the winter for skiing and skating parties.

NEW FIRE BOXES

Fire Chief James E. Callahan announces the addition of four new boxes to the Winchester Fire Alarm system.

Three of the boxes are of the transmitter type, which means that they are put on at the Central Fire Station and can not be pulled from the street. These boxes are 341, 561 and 641.

Box 341 is a new box for the Winchester Rock and Brick Company, replacing the company's old number, 333. Box 561 is for the Westland avenue-Wildwood street extension section and Box 641 for the Hillcrest Parkway section.

A new regular box, which can be pulled from the street in the usual fashion is 333, which is located at the corner of Washington and Forest streets.

THE QUESTION OF CAPITAL GIFTS

The building of non-government hospitals, founded for the public service, must represent gifts from private citizens in capital terms. It is easy enough to make this statement, and it is easily accepted verbally by those who hear it and who are the logical benefactors of the hospitals, as well as the recipients of their service. But just what does it mean to make capital gifts?

What is a capital gift? To one citizen, a capital gift may mean one in five figures. To this man or woman a subscription of $25,000 will not seriously disturb the security of his usual habits of living, though it will usually mean a rearrangement of investment. To another person, $500 is definitely in capital terms, and will come from funds which otherwise would be put into some other philanthropic project or into invested savings. In either case the sum is at a level which does not mean simply incidental self-denial in daily expenditures over a short period, but must take its place in a plan touching the financial foundation of his living and that of his household.

Why make capital gifts. What argument is sufficiently cogent to cause men and women to make capital gifts? Certainly it must be strong enough to result in choosing to use a sum of money for such a gift rather than for private investment for future income. When the project is a hospital, the impulse to make a capital gift comes from the conviction that such a gift is in itself an investment in dependable insurance against the hazards of accidents and illness. The gifts means the giver has become convinced that he is helping to build security for himself and his family and the entire community, security which is particularly important because the situations in which it will be needed cannot be foreseen but develop unexpectedly and create instantly a life-and-death issue in which a good hospital close at hand is the only safety.

GETTING AROUND

Miss Mary Alice Fitch of 14 Sheffield West is at home for a few days after spending a week the first of the month with Mrs. Torr Harmer of Lakeview terrace at Newport, R. I., and then going on to Whitehall Inn in Camden, Maine.

On her way to Camden Miss Fitch stopped in Richmond, Me., for a visit with Mrs. Richard B. Derby of Mystic Valley Parkway, whose summer home is there. Her fine old house previously, her grandfather's, is architecturally beautiful and holds some especially fine furnishings, brought home by her grandfather from his many voyages. En route to Portland on Monday, July 12, Miss Fitch at one point only a few miles beyond the Massachusetts line saw the thermometer at 106 degrees, which is hot for Maine.

After a few days at home Miss Fitch is leaving town again this time to spend some time in Chatham.

CAMP FELLSLAND NEWS

The news and letters coming from Camp Fellsland located in Amesbury, where all the local Scouts go in the summer, there is nothing but praise for the eats and program. Mrs. Perkins, the new cook, is doing a grand job and you should have heard the yell when nice hot apple pie comes on the table for dessert. It actually exceeds the cheers given when ice cream, even including the seconds, are produced.

With such grand weather for camping, it is no wonder that practically every boy who is scheduled to go home after the first week has stayed over for the second week.

With the batch of boys that came in Sunday, there are now over 80 in camp on the shores of Tewksbury Pond. Tremendous strides in Scout advancement have been made by many of the boys in addition to learning something about craft at the Craft Shop and those who cannot swim have progressed very well under the leadership of Bob Pelletier, the American Red Cross and Humane Society instructor.

At the rifle range, Scout McCharles of Stoneham has shown the best in consistent shooting, having recorded five targets of 44 out of a possible 50. It goes without saying that when many of these boys come home they will be wearing a number of medals showing their proficiency as members of the National Rifle Association. This is because the camp is affiliated as a Rifle Club and can issue these medals to the boys as they complete their record shoot.

Last week the boys had a special trip to Salisbury Beach which was enjoyed, particularly the surf bathing. Every week through the summer a special trip either by bus or on foot is contemplated with a possible exception of a deep sea fishing trip which of course will have to be limited to boys who are well qualified.

Mr. Percy Brayton of Medford who was added to our camp staff is dong a fine job in keeping a financial record of camp so that a complete inventory of everything in camp can be in the hands of the camping authorities at the close of the season.

Camp enrollment is still open for a few who have not registered for camp, but it is advised that the parents or boys call the Scout Office at Winchester to make definitely sure as to what weeks are open and any other information about camp.

The campers themselves are very anxious to thank any sponsers who have made it possible for them to go to camp and many of them of course are writing direct to their sponsers, but in turn felt that this public acknowledgment would be very helpful. In turn all officials of Fellsland Council and more particularly the Camp Committee are very appreciative of what the Greater Boston Community Fund have done to help them open and continue the camp for the past few years, but most particularly this year with special help provided. Camp Fellsland as well as the Fellsland Council is a Red Feather agency that is helped through regular Community Fund Drive in the Fall of each year. Friends of Scouting are now urged to do their part to make this year's Red Feather Campaign a success.

The Winchester Junior Legion team easily defeated the Melrose Junior Legion at Loring avenue on Sunday by a score of 12 to 6. This was sweet revenge for the beating the locals had absorbed at Melrose last Friday when they had one of those days when they could do nothing right.

For the first three and a half innings the locals looked bad in this game as they were trailing 5 to 0 at that point. However, a three run rally in the fourth reduced that lead and a big nine run explosion in the fifth put the game on ice. The big rally was generated on five hits, three bases on balls, a hit batsman, two wild pitches, and three errors.

This was "Major" Daniels fifth straight pitching victory for the Junior Legionnaires although he was pretty shaky at the start, giving up seven hits, two bases on balls, and a hit batsman over the first four innings. After his mates began to score, he settled down nicely. Because of the intense heat, Coach Bartlett shifted his battery over the last two innings and Don Kenton was very impressive as he struck out five men over this stretch. The Winchester record now stands at seven wins and three defeats which is good going against the brand of competition they are meeting.

MELROSE WON JUNIOR LEGION GAME

The Winchester Junior Legion team suffered its worst defeat of the season by a score of 9 to 2 at the hands of the Melrose Junior Legion team at Melrose last Friday night. Don Kenton, on the mound for the locals, had trouble with his control and after passing five consecutive batters in the last of the second inning was derricked for Roche who finished out the inning.

As Coach Bartlett was fearfull of over-working Roche, "Junie" Reardon was sent to the mound in the third for his first pitching assignment of the year. Although Reardon struck out five and passed three over the last four innings, he was making them too good and Melrose banged out (believe it or not) four home runs to account for the final seven runs. The presence of football stands in left field causes many of these home runs to be rather cheap, but the Winchester boys were unable to find the range.

An oddity of the game was that Ken Donaghey on first base had only one put out and that was on a foul fly rather than from a throw from an infield mate. The Winchester infield had only two assists as the Melrose batters either struck out, hit a home run or flied out. It was a good game for the locals to get out of their system and it happens to the best of them at times.

SPORT SHOP TALK

In my early morning ride around town I see a lot of young hopefuls who don't mind getting up with the birds to play tennis. I love to see the youngsters hit rocks with their rackets; it keeps our stringing department good and busy. The owners of the new Magnan International Rackets say it's one of the best this year. Costs 10 bucks.

We have some new A B C Company bass and pickerel plugs, don't know if they'll catch any fish or not, but the fishermen say the action is great. Fishing at Spy Pond has been very good the last few weeks, with bass taken on flies, plugs, and chubs. We don't have the best fishing tackle in the world, we sell it! Got in a bunch of Atom plugs this week, Reg blue, Plastic blue and Red.

Have you seen our Vinylite surf sleds in plastic? Boy are they expensive. But boy, Oh boy, what fun! Cost 7 dollars for the 4 foot, $12.50 for the 6 foot. A big surf ring same stuff 7 dollars.

Hunters, we picked up a few boxes of 8 MM. Better get a box while they last. Have a few new Winchester 12 gauge singles. Don't forget to bring $19.95, so you can take one home with you. This is swell weather to take advantage of it.

JUNIOR LEGION SWAMPED READING

The Winchester Junior Legion baseball team won an easy victory over the Reading Cardinals by a score of 10 to 1 at Leonard Field last Thursday evening. The strange part of it was that the Cardinals were a pretty good ball club with five regulars from this year's Reading High School team. Furthermore, the pitcher, Doucette, whom the locals drove from the box in the first inning, had beaten Winchester High earlier this year. The visitors were very weak defensively, making no less than seven errors, and this combined with eight hits by Winchester caused the score to mount rapidly.

"Major" Daniels twirled his fourth straight victory for the Junior Legionnaires as he gave up only two hits while striking out three batters in the five innings he worked. Coach Bartlett is nursing Daniels along carefully and the experience and confidence he will gain this summer will prepare him for his regular turn in league competition next year. Strangely enough, Ken Donaghey who has hit safely in all seven of his previous games and who sported a batting average of .667 going into the game, failed to hit safely in this slug fest but Ken believes in getting his hits under pressure when they really count.

PAUL REVERE BEAT SUDBURY

Winchester beat Sudbury in a well played Paul Revere League game at Sudbury on July 15, 7-1, with Pete Twombly limited the losers to four hits.

Franny Poirier drove in two runs with a triple and Cousens ended the game with a spectacular catch of a long drive in deep right center, doubling a runner off first Dick Coon did some nice fielding at shortstop. The summary:

WINCHESTER WON TWO REVERE LEAGUE GAMES

Winchester's entrant in the Paul Revere League won two circuit clashes over the week-end, beating the Concord Town Team at Leonard Fied Saturday afternoon, 3-2, and scoring a surprise win over the strong Arlington D.A.V. nine Sunday afternoon, 7-4, at Arlington.

The Concord game went 10 innings and going into the Winchester 9th few figured the locals had a chance. O'Neill of Concord had limited Winchester to a single scratch hit and showed no signs of weakening as he retired the first two batters to face him in the 9th. He had two strikes on Cogan, the third batter.

Cogan fouled off four pitches and then singled. Modoono hit for Slack and walked moving up Cogan. Ken Donaghey singled to center, bringing in Cogan with the tieing run. Sammy Bellino singled with one away in the 10th, stole and counted on Olivier's single to center.

Tompkins relieved Slack in the 10th and held Concord scoreless.

Battling Sammy Bellino, dynamo left fielder, led Winchester to its win over Arlington by tripling, beating out a bunt and driving out a 400 foot home run. Altogether he was responsible for four big runs as well as fielding perfectly. The victory over Arlington put Winchester in second place in the league standing with six games won against a single loss.

Cousins saved a run in the 2nd when he made a perfect throw to the plate after a pickoff play had gone sour at second. Jimmy Olivier saved two more later when he made a circus catch of what looked like a Texas Leaguer with two on.

Tompkins was effective in the pinches and had the benefit of a couple of double plays that didn't hurt any. The summaries:

WINCHESTER BOYS "BEST CAMPERS"

William McCormack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. McCormack of 4 Ridgeway, was awarded the title of "Best Camper" at Camp Stella Maris, for the week of July 5th. Charles Craven, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Craven of 8 Wyman court, was awarded the same title for the week of July 12th.

Camp Stella Maris, located on Cape Ann in West Gloucester is conducted by Fr. John J. Sheehan, assistant at the Immaculate Conception Church. Many local boys have attended this camp since it opened June 27th. The boys who have returned from camp so far are looking forward to a stay again next year. The four week boys period will end on Saturday, July 24th.

A four week period for girls will open on Sunday, July 25. Many local girls have registered but further reservations may be made by writing Father Sheehan at Camp Stella Maris, West Gloucester, or Camp Secretary, 1004 Main street, Winchester.

KITCHEN QUIZ:
What is an Unstorable?

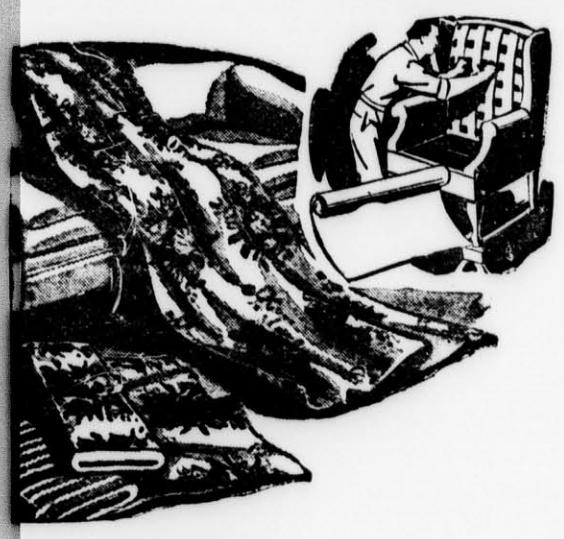

There is one contest the homemaker WINS if she doesn't know the answer. Owners of Kitchens by Carbeau, winners every time in kitchen efficiency, don't know the meaning of "unstorable."

Intelligently designed interiors of Porta-Bilt HARDWOOD cabinetry provide adequate space for everything. For example, this divided cutlery drawer with an additional sliding removable tray for flatware permits taking out the whole tray for convenient table setting. The main drawer, linoleum-lined for easy cleaning, is long enough for rolling pins and carving knives, and so constructed that even small corkscrews, bottle openers, etc., can't get lost in compartments.

A Winchester man dropped in at the Star office Monday following a visit to the Boy Scout Camp Fellsland in Amesbury. In addition to general praise of the good time the Scouts have at camp he was particularly impressed with the general excellence of the Winchester Scouts in swimming. He told us that of six advanced swimmers at the camp, five were Winchester boys, and he though this an excellent showing. It is, and it didn't just happen either. For years the local Red Cross has provided capable instructors to teach local youngsters and adults if interested, water safety, and beyond this basic instruction there has been for several years Helen Carroll, whose enthusiasm for swimming has manifest itself in many, many ways. Miss Carroll, now instructor of Physical Education and coach of girls at Winchester High School, as lifeguard, beach supervisor and swimming coach, has given of her time and immeasurably of her energy to the cause of swimming in Winchester. New England A.A.A.U. champions and former champions like Bob McGrath, Barbie Donaghey, Lynn Aitkens and Beverly Gay owe much to her interest in their development and coaching skill, while everywhere about town you see kid swimmers coming along whose ability is a tribute to her teaching. Helen isn't around this summer, being on the Cape, teaching swimming of course, but also getting a much deserved change. Her influence however is still everywhere apparent and to her more than any one individual belongs the credit for Winchester's interest in swimming and water saftey. Her ambition is to see a municipal indoor pool in Winchester so that enthusiasts can enjoy their sport the year 'round. Those who know Helen's devotion to swimming and particularly to Winchester swimming can hope that in the not-too-far future she will see this worth-while dream of hers come true.

America has come to the front again, and in the world crisis is taking in some two hundred odd thousand displaced persons. They will find a safe and democratic haven here. Of course this two hundred odd thousand are ligit, and they will join the unnamed thousands of illigit. Furthermore they will be welcomed with open arms by the New Deal because they readily understand that they are New Deal proteges and that their votes are important to the Party. To be sure, if one took heed of the controversy and news articles, there is a serious housing shortage here. It might almost be stated that the nation lacks houses for its own people. But undoubtedly the good New Deal will promptly find housing for the welcome strangers and our own population will readily recognize the necessity of waiting a little longer for their living quarters. As we picture the program, the DP's will immediately get old age and unemployment insurance, and they have only to join the Union to be set for a satisfying life. With five hundred persons being added to the Government payroll daily a promising future awaits them in this country of milk and honey — if you have the price. But the idea of furnishing them a haven is a noble one, and no employer should dare to object to the necessary tax levy or especially to the "security" given them. Keep the taxes going.

Winchester playground authorities have received a letter from a former Winchester policeman, Joey Connolly, who is now in charge of boys' baseball in the Town of Winthrop. In that community, which is about the size of Winchester, there are 28 baseball teams, many uniformed, composed of boys starting at nine years of age. Belmont and Arlington are two more towns, both larger than Winchester, who are doing a lot more with summer baseball than we are here. Recent press reports list Arlington's Police Chief, Archie Bullock, as a great believer in summer baseball to keep boys of all age-levels out of mischief. Down in Medford they hold the same view and do everything possible to encourage boys to play ball in the summer. They will give you statistics to show that interest and participation in what used to be the National game have kept the junior delinquency level down. Here in town we occasionally hear of, or talk with some one who thinks that baseball is being unduly emphasized in our summer playground program. Compared with what they are doing in other communities, we are only scratching the surface here.

ASKS LENGTH OF JAP BEETLE STAY

Editor of the Star:

Each year, after our Easter lilies have ceased to blossom; we plant them in the garden and await the coming of the new buds, the coming of summer. Today; I have nine beautiful Easter lilies in full bloom in our garden.

Owing to the swarms of Japanese beetles about here, it was necessary to cut the blossoms and bring them into the house; as it seems there is no plant that this pest seemingly does not attack the blossoms.

Is there any one who can tell me how many more years, we must watch these beetles destroy all the beauty of the garden

Sincerely yours,
Ethelruby H. Poveleite

PAPERS FOR WALLACE ELECTORS FILED HERE

Nomination papers for the electors of Henry A. Wallace and Glen H. Taylor as President and Vice President on the Progressive Party ticket have been filed with Town Clerk Mabel W. Stinson at the Town Hall.

The man filing the papers was not a Winchester man, but the papers contained Winchester signatures. The Registrars of voters were able to certify 66 names, mostly it was reported of voters in the Plains section of the town.

Mr. Rich was the son of Rev. A. Judson, and Harriet (Allen) Rich. He was born July 22, 1864, in Milton, being on his mother's side a descendent of Col. John Allen, who had charge of military operations in the Province of Maine during the Revolutionary War. Mr. Rich graduated from Harvard College with honors in Political Science in 1887, and in 1891 from Harvard Law School with the degrees of LL.B. and A.M. He gave the address of the undergraduates at the 250th anniversary celebration of the college, and in his senior year was elected chairman of the Class Committee, a post he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Rich became one of the attorneys of the Boston & Maine Railroad in 1892. In 1903 he was appointed General Solicitor, and continued as head of the law department until 1916 when he became associate counsel of the Railway Executives' Advisory Committee at Washington, D. C.

At the time of his resignation from the B & M the press both in Boston and New Hampshire praised his accomplishments in establishing cordial relations between the railroad and New Hampshire, relations which at the time he became counsel were very much strained.

Mr. Rich specialized in interstate commerce law, and in 1908 was appointed a member of the original faculty of the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard University, continuing to give courses for 25 years. At the time of his death he was general counsel of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

A profound student of Lincoln, he had a rare collection of Lincolniana and read frequent papers before the Lincoln Group of Boston, of which he was one of the founders.

He was much interested in the Civil War and gave addresses on the subject at various places, including Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Va., and the University of Virginia. He was active in securing legislation by Congress establishing the Fredericksburg Battlefield Park, and at the dedication of the Park by President Calvin Coolidge, Mr. Rich made the presentation address, other speakers being President Coolidge, Governor Byrd and Senator Swanson.

Mr. Rich was always active in town affairs. Aside from his civic interests, he was one of the founders of the Winchester Country Club and president of the old Calumet Club in 1900 when the club celebrated the 50th anniversary of the incorporation of the town. He was an honorary member of the Winchester Country Club, a life member of the Appalachian Mountain Club and a member of the Union Club since 1900.

In 1893 Mr. Rich married Mary Louise Aldrich in Fall River. She died April 3, 1948. He leaves a sister, Miss Martha L. Rich of Bedford and two nephews, Allan M. Cate of Needham and Robert Cate of Port Washington, N. Y.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, officiating. Ultimate interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

BOSTON GUILD PAINTINGS

Unusually colorful and interesting oils and water colors from The Guild of Boston Artists are on exhibit all this month at the Art Gallery, Winchester Public Library, during library hours. The public is invited to see these paintings and to enjoy the quality and variety of artists represented.

Included in the exhibit of oil paintings are the following: Richard D. Briggs, "Landscape"; Loring W. Coleman Jr., "Down the Road a Piece"; John F. Enser, "The Pasture Road"; Gertrude Fiske, "Self Portrait"; R. H. Ives Gammell, "Estelle"; William J. Kaula, "Hill and Valley"; Elizabeth O. Paxton, "Still Life"; Ruggles Sohier, "Trumpets"; Marian P. Sloane, "In the Fenway"; Arthur P. Spear, "Tanagra"; Leslie P. Thompson, "Still Life"; Margaret Fuller Tyng, "Portrait".

In the water color exhibit the following artists and their work will be seen: Sears Gallagher, "Salmon Fishing"; Lovering Hathaway, "Dun's Camp"; Elizabeth H. T. Huntington, "Spring Flowers"; William Jewell, "Abandon Mill Village"; Harold F. Lindergren, "Orchids Number Two"; Polly Nordell, "Afternoon, Southern Vermont"; A. Lassell Ripley, "Cape Porpoise"; Charles H. Richert, "Afternoon, Maine"; Forrest W. Orr, "Untitled"; Ruth Perkins Safford, "Georgetown Living Room"; Harry Sutton, Jr., "Winter Road".

It finally happened! After winning 14 straight games, the V. F. W. were defeated by the up and coming Maguire Motors 12 to 5. Indications that the Vets were headed for a defeat were given in their two previous narrow one-run victories over the Red Shirts and the Rockets, teams that they have been defeating with ease in the past. The Maguire Motors are riding a four-game winning streak and are now a distinct threat to the top four teams for one of the play-off positions.

Another feature of the past week's play was the close 9 to 8 victory of the Sons of Italy over the St. Mary's. A large crowd was on hand to witness the meeting of these two arch rivals and was treated to a fine exhibition of softball and competitive spirit as the Sons of Italy rallied to pull out a victory in the final inning and thus even the series standing for the season.

Next week's schedule shows two feature attractions for Ginn Field on Monday and Wednesday evenings. On Monday the V. F. W. tackles the Sachems in the second meeting of these two powers. The Vets won the first game 11 to 7 and are out to win the season's series in this second game and further consolidate their first place position. The Sachem's rooters remember, however, that Andre Redding was not on hand for this first encounter and figure that he can silence the big bat of the V F. W. The Wednesday evening game finds the Vets meeting the St. Mary's for the first time this year and the fur should fly in this one as both are hustling, spirited aggregations.

ABOUT TIME!

G. O. "Gus" Hakanson, Winchester master painter, had a big day with the fish up Plaistow, N. H., way on Tuesday, spending the day there with Mrs. Hakanson, his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hakanson of Kingsport, Tenn., and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Hakanson of Arlington, and their respective families. "Dick" Hakanson, missing member of the family circle, joined the group after his day's work in the STAR press-room. "Gus" caught all the fish, three whacking big pickerel, and he was very happy about it all, for previously he had not been enjoying too good luck this season. It only goes to show, at least according to Gus, that real class is bound to show, in the end at least.

WINCHESTER WOMEN INTERESTED IN B. C. PLAYS

Mrs. James H. Stewart of Fairview terrace and Mrs. William Carey of Church street are Winchester women taking an active part in the series of theatre parties at Boston College Summer Theatre, Chestnut Hill, being sponsored by Fitton Notre Dame Alumnae.

Mrs. Stewart, as president of the Alumnae has appointed Mrs. Carey chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, and the latter is being assisted by the Misses Agnes Burke, Ruth Babbin, Eleanor Burden, Mary Crosby, Barbara Feeley, Anna Gibbs, Virginia Greene, Mary Horne, Kathryn Kirby, Edith Vallen and Theresa Callahan.

Following "Sidewalks of New York" this week, the theatre will produce the New England premiere of "Padre Corillo" July 29 and 30. The Kings Henchman will be presented August 5 and 6.

SOUTH SHORE PLAYERS

The South Shore Players at Cohasset present the comedy hit, "John Loves Mary" by Norman Krasna for their fourth production of the year, beginning on Monday July 26th.

Richard Kendrick, a favorite with South Shore Players' audiences, returns to the Town Hall stage to star in "John Loves Mary." Mr. Kendrick was featured at Cohasset last year with Miriam Hopkins in "There's Always Juliet." In addition to Mr. Kendrick, Jamie Schmitt, Jane Lloyd-Jones, and Mary Howes will also be featured in this week's play.

"John Loves Mary" had a very successful Broadway run and this summer is proving to be the most popular play with Summer Theatre audiences.

The Norman Krasna comedy will begin on Monday July 26th and run through Saturday July 31st. The play will be directed by Henry Boettcher and Russell Woeltz will do the setting.

SWORDFISH RECIPE

submitted by

won a two pound steak for sending to Hogan's Market this recipe

HOW TO COOK SWORDFISH

This fish often gets a "black eye" because it is so dry. The following method keeps the juices in and thus makes it very palatable.

Cut into proper serving pieces. Dip each piece in salted flour first, second, beaten egg and a little water to thin it, and last in bread crumbs sifted through a flour sifter to get a surface exactly right. Heat deep fat in a large enough kettle so that it won't boil over, and have it so hot that the fish will brown in about a minute or less. Remove to paper towel to drain and repeat until all pieces are brown. This does not mean they are done, but the surface is sealed up to prevent escape of juices, as stated before. Transfer fish to pyrex or tin plate and put into oven heated to about 300 degrees and leave about 10 minutes or until a knife-blade inserted shows it does not look raw in the middle. It is not easy to know exactly the number of minutes to cook, but once trying will solve the puzzle.

The Leonard Field Intermediates have broken the monopoly of Loring avenue in the Playground Baseball league by defeating them three times during the past week. Roddy Delorey pitched two of these victories and Peter Coon the other, with Delorey pitching a one-hitter in his 5 to 0 victory. The Loring Avenue Seniors are still undefeated but Ginn Field hangs right on their heels with only one defeat. The Loring Avenue Juniors still lead their division but the Leonard Field Juniors are just one behind.

The smaller boy's softball league has had its share of upsets as the Ginn Field boys edged the Loring Avenue boys 12 to 11 in one game and were drubbed by them 17 to 0 in the second game of the week. The Loring Avenue boys also split their two games with the Leonard Field boys, beating them 5 to 4 in a well-played game and losing the second contest 12 to 6. The Leonard Field girls on their third consecutive softball game from the Loring Avenue girls by a score of 7 to 2 as Sylvia Crowell's continued to pitch top notch ball for the Leonard Field girls.

The arts and crafts program, under the general direction of Marjorie Mahoney, is proving extremely popular and includes children as young as six years of age. Classes of instruction are held at each playground in drawing, coloring and painting, modeling, and sewing. The potholder looms are always busy and introduced on the activity program this year for the first time is instruction in crocheting and knitting.

Mrs. R. H. B. Smith of Dix street, and her mother, Mrs. Herbert F. Mallory of Clearwater, Florida, who has been visiting with her daughter and family in Winchester, left Saturday for a month's trip to Little Rock, Arkansas They are driving to Chicago with short stops en route in Syracuse, Buffalo, Port Huron, Michigan, then flying from Chicago to Little Rock. Mr. Smith is planning to join in the return trip from Chicago to Winchester about August 15th.

"Truth" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, July 25.
Golden Text: "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (Deuteronomy 32:3,4).
Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"At the same time the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven? And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 18:1-3). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"The eternal Truth destroys what mortals seem to have learned from error, and man's real existence as a child of God comes to light. Truth demonstrated is eternal life" (p. 288).

NEW ENGLAND PUBLIC COURTS CHAMPIONSHIP

The news has just come out of Springfield that the New England Public Parks Tennis Championships tournament, last played in 1941, is being revived this year for Sept 4, 5, and 6. Only the winners of similar local tournaments (or the runners-up) will be eligible for entrance. Now no community takes more pride in its tennis than Winchester. It has even been known to boast of the quality of its tennis and of its public courts. Consequently there must be some local champs interested in taking at least one of the finals at Springfield. But to be eligible you must win your local public courts championship, or be the runner-up therefor.

Accordingly, the Wincheser Tennis Association herewith announces that through its current tournament committee it will sponsor a local tournament, for public courts players only, to determine championships in men's and women s singles and doubles. There will be no entrance fees; you will provide your own balls; and there will be no tangible prizes: only the honor of participating and helping to determine the winners.

Play will begin on Saturday, July 31, at the Palmer street courts at 10:30 a. m. sharp and will continue through Sunday, Aug. 1. All entrants must register with one of the following on or before Wednesday, July 28: Ed Willams, WInchester 6-1191-W; Whit Gray, WInchester 6-1930-M; or Bud Nutter, WInchester 6-0545-R.

Rumor has it that never in the past has Winchester had an entrant in this tournament. Fie! Shame! Boasters! Sour grapes!

Traders' Day, Wednesday, August 4, closing placards may be obtained at the Winchester Star Office.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. Charles A. Burnham of Everett avenue is accompanying his daughter, Mrs. Donald Cameron, to her home in Leicester, England, and will remain with her in England for several weeks. They sailed Wednesday from New York. Mrs. Cameron had been spending some time with her father here. Her son, Ewen, flew to England, leaving Wednesday morning from Logan International Airport.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lynch and son John, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Murphy of Somerville, are spending two weeks at Old Orchard Beach, Me.

Mr. P. L. Anderson of Dunster lane who has been ill at his home has been taken to the hospital for treatment.

Miss Ella May Emerson will spend the next three weeks in Chesterfield, Ind., going from there to Ephrata, Pa., where she will remain until Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Costello of Walpole are the parents of a son born Sunday, July 18. Mrs. Costello was the former Catherine Saracco of Hemingway street.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Lynch of 70 Nelson street returned Saturday from a vacation spent at Old Orchard Beach, Me.

Two Winchester men served in the late General Pershing's Headquarters in France during World War I. Marshall W. Symmes was a quartermaster sergeant in the office when it was in Paris. After moving to Chaumont, Theodore E. Burleigh was a lieutenant colonel on Pershing's general staff.

Mr and Mrs. S. H. Griffin, Jr., and daughter, Marjorie and son, James will spend there vacation at the Butlers' cottage at Dennisport.

Mrs. James R. Livingston of Sanborn street is reported as a patient at the Baker Memorial Hospital, having become ill while on vacation in Maine.

Saturday morning attendants at Palmer Beach discovered a porch settee and two chairs on the raft in the swimming area. They brought the furniture ashore and put it in the bath-house. It was found to have been taken from the porch of the Jackson home at 17 Pine street.

Traders' Day, Wednesday, August 4, closing placards may be obtained at the Winchester Star Office.

Miss Flora Richardson of the Department of Public Welfare clerical staff began her annual vacation on Monday.

WINCHESTER'S MARTIN STATE GOLF TITLIST

Local Club Also Retains Windelar Shield

Winchester Country Club did pretty well in the Massachusetts State Amateur Golf Tournament completed at the Worcester Country Club Sunday when "Eddie" Martin of the local club beat Clarence Earley of Salem, 1 up, in a bristling 36-hole final round match for the title. Besides Martin's triumph Winchester retained possession of the Windelar Shield with a five-man team total of 753.

Martin had to play real golf to dispose of Early in the championship bracket, but he had been playing consistently throughout the qualifying and preliminary rounds, which started last week Wednesday, so with him it was just a question of staying on his game.

This he did nicely. In winning the crown he emulated the feat of his twin brother, Leo, who won the State amateur at Longmeadow in 1941, and he had the added personal satisfaction of reversing his indifferent playing in the State amateur last year.

Earley, a steady but generally not a spectacular performer, gave Martin a real battle for supremacy. The Winchester golfer had only a one-hole lead at the end of the morning 18, though he had negotiated the round in 72 to Earley's 74.

The Salem stylist won the 19th to even the match and copped the 22nd, only to have Martin square the match at the 25th. Earley took the 26th, but Martin won the 27th and the pair were all even starting the last nine, Earley doing the third nine in 36 to Martin's 37.

The first three holes of the final nine were halved, but Martin won the 31st hole of the match, only to have Earley take the 32nd to even things once more. The 33rd, played at the long 15th at Worcester, was halved in 6s when Martin, trying for a three foot put, missed but laid Earley a dead stymie. The Salem contender, two feet nearer the cup than Martin had been, tried to pitch over Martin's ball but couldn't make it.

That stymie made a lot of difference, for had Earley taken this hole, Martin's taking the 35th would simply have squared the match instead of giving the Winchester entry a one-hole lead. He took the 35th with a corking pitch shot, one that Winchester's pro, Dave Whyte, thought was the best he ever saw. Martin pulled his second shot to the left of the 17th, leaving him with pitch-shot from heavy grass down hill. He negotiated the hazard with a shot that stopped two feet from the flag while Earley's second landed him on the green but 70 feet or so from the cup.

Martin played the final hole cagily. He hit his first one well to the left of the green and pitched on his second, stopping eight feet from the cup. Earley drove straightaway and placed his second on the lower terrace of the green 20 feet from the flag. He missed his long uphill put, leaving Martin two puts to halve the hole which was all he needed for the championship.

Of the Winchester men in the tourney only three failed to qualify. With the deadline at 154 Judge J. W. Monahan had 161, and Jim Blackman, Jr., 163. Jim Wilcox finished back in the ruck, turning in no card.

John Chew of Bear Hill, defending champion, led the qualifiers with 143. In fourth place was Martin with 146, Joe Monahan, Jr., was among those tieing for 8th with 150 and Jim Harvey and Dave Shean tied for 10th with 152. Walter Wilcox had 153 to land in 11th place and Harry McGrath, Jr's., 154 got him into a playoff for the qualifying field. He qualified all right and did right well in the match play.

Harry accounted for Ray Hansbury of United Shoe in the first round, 2 and 1. Hansbury, incidentally, is the guy the champions usually have to beat, so it looked like Harry might make it, especially when he beat Frank Giorgio of Green Hill in the second round, 3 and 2.

In the quarter final round Harry drew Clarence Earley, and after carrying the Salem finalist to the 17th hole, finally yielded, 3 and 1. Incidentally Harry's 115 pounds ringside made him the smallest quarter finalist.

"Tyke" Wilcox and Dave Shean were the Winchester golfers eliminated in the first round, Wilcox going down before Tom O'Leary of Sharon, 2 and 1, and Shean losing 2 up to Andy Gard of Andover. Jim Harvey beat Sherman Gates of Bear Hill, 6 and 5; Ed Martin beat Brad Armour of Marlboro, 1 up, and Joe Monahan, Jr., beat H. W. Smith, South Shore, 5 and 4.

Harvey had the misfortune to draw Martin in round 2 and went out, 2 and 1, while Earley eliminated Monahan, 3 and 2 in this round.

Martin's quarter final opponent was Ralph Raymond of Framingham, whom he beat, 7 and 6, his only easy victory of the tournament. In the semi-finals he beat defending titlist John Chew of Bear Hill, 1 up.

Following are the final round cards:

Martin wins, 1 up.

Winchester's new State Champion is 33 years old, stands 6 feet-1 inch and weighs 202 pounds. He makes his home in Watertown and is a court officer in the Probate Court at East Cambridge, presided over by his fellow club-member Judge Joseph W. Monahan. Martin isn't club champ at Winchester. Young Joe Monahan holds that honor.

Martin has been a member at Winchester for about three years. He is rated one of the best, if not the best golfer in the club.

Winchester's winning total in the Windelar Shield competition included Martin's, 146, Joe Monahan, Jr.'s 150, 152s by Dave Shean, Jr., and Jim Harvey and Walter Wilcox's 153.

McGRATH WON AT LEXINGTON

Bob McGrath, Winchester's star sprint swimmer won the 100 yard open freestyle event from a fast field at the New England A.A.A.U. sanctioned swimming meet in Lexington last Saturday.

Bob turned in a 57.5s performance to lead Kerry Donovan of the Providence Boys' Club, Charles Stephanos and Donald Sonia, both of the Lynn Boys Club in that order.

Barbie Donaghey of Winchester, swimming under the colors of the Metropolitan Swimming Association, made her first racing start of the season in the Women's 100-yard freestyle open, won by Coralie O'Connor of Worcester. Barbie placed fourth behind Lucy Croker of Olneyville Boys Club Auxiliary and Louise Sherlock of the Providence Boys Club Auxiliary.

LATE SWIMMERS WARNED

Saturday morning at 1:40 Police Headquarters received complaints about the noise being made by swimmers at Palmer Beach. Two cruising cars went to the beach and found four Somerville youths cooling off in the water.

Sgt. James E. Farrell possessed himself of the youths' clothes and ordered them ashore. There he secured their names and finally took them to headquarters, where they were told that Winchester beaches are restricted to use by Winchester residents and that no swimming is allowed after the beaches close for the night. The boys were permitted to go with a final warning that if they are caught again, court action will follow.

Sunday morning at 1:05 Sgt. Farrell took a look around Leonard Field Beach and discovered several boys swimming there.

He got them ashore and questioned them, learning they were from Stoneham and had come to Leonard for a swim after completing their work at a Stoneham bowling alley.

The boys were told of the restrictions of the Park Department applying to beaches and warned them not to get caught swimming in town after hours unless they want a trip to court.

REDDING GETS JUMP ON JUNIORS

Pete Redding was "redding," willing and able, (pardon the putrid pun) last Sunday afternoon, and handed the Junior Snipe sailors a sound shellacing, in the initial race for younger skippers. Pete was piloting Daw Blamire's "The Foo," and he simply sailed a leading race right from the start. Dick Moriarty, sailing Bart Sullivan's swift Snipe committed a tactical error early in the race, but made a sensational recovery, to salvage a sweet second. Young Bill Davies sailed his pappy's boat to a satisfactory third.

With the Senior Skippers, Jack Streeton and Mel Moller continued to dominate the activity. On Saturday afternoon, Jack just jumped out ahead of the fleet and won going away. There was a beautiful battle for second between Bob Morris, Don Simonds, Roger Swanson and Daw Blamire's "The Foo," with "The Foo" winning the verdict and Bob Morris taking a thrilling third.

Sunday morning's race was a three boat affair. Streeton, Swanson and Moller interchanged the lead so often, it was impossible to tell who would wind up first. Less than 50 yards from the finish line these three skippers were virtually tied. But Mel had maneuvered to windward of the other two and just managed to sneak over the finish line, scant seconds ahead of Streeton and Swanson.

Club Chatter

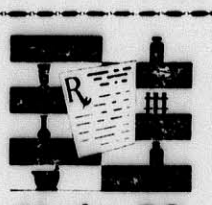

There's another of the increasingly popular Wednesday afternoon Ladies Bridge Parties at the Club July 28th. The last party broke all attendance records and this one looks like another big affair. Mrs. Stanley Howe is in charge. Better let her know if you're coming.

Mr. Frederic C. Alexander, former Park Commissioner, has sold his house on Lakeview road and is now making his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Goddu of Sturbridge.

PONTIAC
LOWEST PRICED CAR WITH GM HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE

A Product of General Motors
Fine for its Second owner too!
Recently, a large group of used car owners were asked what car they would buy if they were buying new cars today. Those who own used Pontiacs led them all in saying they would buy new cars of the same make they are now driving.
In other words—according to this survey—a used Pontiac is more satisfactory to own than any other make of used car.
Of course, that could mean only one thing: Pontiac's dependability and long life are outstanding, and Pontiac's fine performance lasts throughout the years. There could be no finer endorsement of a new car than this—and we trust you won't forget it when you order your own next car.
Remember, too, Pontiac is the lowest priced car in the world offering GM Hydra Matic Drive*—a tremendous advance in better motoring.
It's wise to choose a Pontiac—a car so fine that even its second owner is sure to like it.
*General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive and White Sidewall Tires optional at additional cost.

LEGION JUNIOR'S SWEPT ARLINGTON SERIES

The Winchester Junior Legion team swept their league series with the Arlington Junior Legion by defeating them at Leonard Field on Tuesday evening by a score of 7 to 5. The locals played excellent ball until the last inning when they apparently started to coast on a 7 to 2 lead. In that inning Arlington really threw a scare into Winchester as they rallied for three runs and had the tieing runs on second and third with two out. In that inning Arlington combined three hits, two bases on balls, and three errors to stage their rally. Up to that inning the locals had played good ball, rattling off two nice double plays, one of which came with the bases loaded with none out to snuff out on Arlington rally.

Winchester scored four big runs in the first inning to get off to a good start. Amico and Patterson were passed to open the inning. Daniels laid down a beautiful bunt which went for a base hit to fill the bases. Donaghey came through with a drive to left to score two runs, Daniels scoring to third and Donaghey to second on the throw to the plate. After Reardon went out, Roche helped his own cause with a line drive to center scoring Daniels and Donaghey.

Winchester added another run in the third as Donaghey opened with a base on balls. Kenneally erred on Reardon's ground ball with both runners being safe. Roche drove in his third run of the game with a hard smash to right, but the next three batters went out in succession to ruin what looked like a big inning.

The final two runs were added in the fourth after two were out. Donaghey again started the rally as he singled to left and went to second as the ball broke through the left fielder. Reardon singled to center, Donaghey scoring, and Reardon taking second on the throw to the plate. Reardon went to third on a passed ball. Roche was hit by a pitched ball and went to first. Reardon and Roche then worked a nice double steal, with Reardon on the scoring end.

This was Paul Roche's second league victory over Arlington and he has pitched good ball for the Junior Legion this year, losing only two tough games to the Woburn Junior Legion by scores of 2 to 1 and 4 to 2 while holding them to a total of nine hits in the two games. Ken Donaghey with two hits and three runs scored and Paul Roche with two hits and three runs batted in were the hitting stars for the locals while "Junie" Reardon was outstanding at shortstop defensively.

BELMONT BRAVES WON REVERE LEAGUE GAME

Winchester blew its Paul Revere game to the Belmont Braves at Belmont Tuesday evening, playing its worst ball of the season, in going down to a 4-2 defeat.

"Pete" Twombly held Belmont to three hits, but received miserable support, three of the Braves' four tallies being unearned.

The locals had plenty of chances to win, twice leaving the bases loaded. Failure of the Winchester batters to play percentage on several occasions contributed to their defeat. The summary:

VICTORY OF ST. MARY'S JUNIOR CYO NINE

At Leonard Field on the past Sunday afternoon, St. Mary's Junior C Y O Baseball Team defeated St. Mary's of Billerica by a score of 5 to 1 in one of the few scheduled games that has not been prevented by rain or wet grounds.

Considering the lack of competition because of previously postponed games, the local nine performed in admirable fashion as a team both in the field and at bat. John DiIorio issued only three bases on balls over the nine inning route, gave up but four hits and was supported by an errorless defensive combination behind him. Dickie Errico seemed to be all over the field and his 'will-to-win' turned what seemed like sure base hits into putouts time and again. Dave Russo stole three bases.

WINCHESTER TENNIS WINS AGAIN

For its second match in the revived Old Colony League Winchester was host to a septet from Lincoln last Saturday at the Palmer street courts. The locals used a slightly different line-up from the one the week previous at Lexington, and the result was an overwhelming victory. Remember that if you want to get into these matches, you need only to climb toward the top of the bumper list.

The results of the contest were as follows:

Jimmy Coon defeated Ted Chase 6-0, 6-3.

Ed Williams defeated John Eaton 6-4, 6-4 (yeah, it was a long, hard fight).

Hall Gamage defeated Roland Robbins 6-2, 6-3.

Ken and Dick Hills defeated Jim Dudley and Louie Todd 6-2, 6-4.

Ted Godwin and Bud Nutter defeated John Savage and Pete Todd 7-5, 6-4 (this too had us holding our breath).

Work - Work - Work - Work

Hard work created this wonderful nation. Someone has to go back to work. I hope it won't be me.

Everybody wants to be a smart guy. There isn't room for so many. Someone has to produce. Recovery can become a reality but our salvation has to come from the bottom not only from the top. Let them keep their steak at 2 bucks, their autos at 2 grand and those open air houses at ten (worth three). Goods will back up. Prices will come down. Everybody will be happy again.

Call me if you have an old Singer Sewing Machine, Antiques, Rugs, Clocks or Bric a Brac.

TENNIS BUMPER ACTIVE

Now that the Old Colony League has been revived and the inter-club contests have actually commenced, the boys are showing a keen interest in climbing toward the top of the tennis bumper list. All of them seem anxious to get "on the team" and do or die for dear old Winchester. One quiet but hardy athlete decided last Sunday to take on Old Man Tennis himself; he must have thought that he could "burrow" right through him. After what seemed to your reporter hours of play the (ought to be) decrepid, old grandfather came walking off cool as the proverbial cucumber, whereas the honored contestant for higher rating resembled that most delectable of all sea-foods. More power to ALL of you next time. At least you ALL deserved to win.

Meanwhile, far off in the northwest, or is it northeast, corner where the net was safer the battle of the centuries pursued its tireless way. The faded, but mighty, blues again (it is said) emerged victorious, and thus maintained its exalted position on the bumper list against the mighty war-cry of "Parker! PARKER!! xxx OOO!"

And while others struggle for glory and ratings Jimmy sits quietly at the top, with a grin.

Saturday morning shortly before 12:30 the police were called to the home of Mr. Edward Weber, 22 Allen road, where they were told that Mr. Weber had been awakened to find a 17 year-old boy in his house. It developed that the family keys, marked with address had been lost and evidently picked up by the boy, who entered the house believing the family was away. The boy made his escape, apparently without taking anything.

Friday night at 11:15 Richard Fiorenza, proprietor of Sheridan Farms, open air vegetable stand at 1012 Main street, notified the police that three boys about 14 years old had stolen fruit and vegetables from his stand, which was covered with canvas for the night. A bunch of bananas, ten pounds of tomatoes, several cantaloupes and some plums were found to be missing. The police couldn't locate the boys.

WINCHESTER GIRLS IN NORTH SHORE TENNIS

Mrs. Art Hills, Mrs. N. Bradford, Ruthie Murray, Lois Ladd and "Marnee" Norris were Winchester girls entered in the North Shore Tennis Championships being played at the Tedesco Country Club in Swampscott this week.

Mrs. Bradford defaulted her first round match, but all the other Winchester entrants got by their first round opponents, with "Ruthie" Murray the only one to be extended. She had a really tough match with Mrs. Annabelle Root of New York before winning, 5-7, 6-4, 6-1.

Ada Wing of Milton won from Mrs. Hills in the quarter-finals on Wednesday, after a hard-fought match, 6-3, 5-7, 11-9.

BLAIR CURRIE AND MARGERY CARROLL AS THEY ENROLLED LAST WEEK AT RED CROSS LEADERSHIP TRAINING CENTER AT WELLESLEY COLLEGE

Complete Junior Red Cross Courses Today

Blair Currie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Currie of Park avenue, and Margery Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Carroll of Prince avenue, completed today the 10 day course at the Junior Red Cross Leadership Training Center at Wellesley College. Both were chosen to attend the center by Winchester school authorities and officials of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter on the basis of leadership, scholarship and potential Community service. They were among 150 high school pupils from the North Atlantic Area of the American Red Cross.

Blair and Margery have been studying at Wellesley how to furnish effective leadership to Winchester, to the Winchester Red Cross Chapter here and to Winchester High School. They have studied intensively all phases of the Junior Red Cross national and international service programs, together with the health and safety aspects of the Red Cross as it affects communities.

Miss Carroll was honored by her fellow delegates during her stay at the Training Center by being elected to the Student Council there.

Highlighting the Center's recreational program was an international night last Sunday and a day-tour of historic sights around Boston.

In relating some of his and Miss Carroll's experiences at Wellesley, Blair wrote Miss Mary R. Mackedon, high school Red Cross director as follows:

July 22, 1948.

Dear Miss Mackedon:

I thought you might be interested in knowing about our activities here.

The college campus is so big that we got lost coming in. A lot of "red tape" greeted us when we got to Tower Court; registration, picture taking physical exams, swimming tests, etc. Each person has two courses that meet once a day and a discussion group that meets twice a day. I've got radio workshop and nutrition, the latter being my third choice. I can see myself talking to our J. R. C. about nutrition. But everyone's having a swell time, there's tennis, badminton, squash and swimming, (the indoor pool is beautiful). The grounds are something to behold!

A bunch of us fellows, "the Hungry Eight" have already become notorious for vocalizing (in a manner of speaking) and other things.

I expect I'll come home with some good ideas to improve and supplement our Junior Red Cross activities. I'll also be better prepared to take over my position as President next year.

Sincerely,
Blair Currie.

The new aerial ladder truck, purchased by the town, actually went into service at the Central Station at 11:45 last Saturday morning. Firemen Bob Haggerty, John Pearson and Joey Connolly are currently driving the piece.

ITALIANS TO OBSERVE FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION

Winchester's citizens of Italian extraction already have plans well rounded for their annual observance of the Feast of Assumption, to be celebrated this year four days and nights, commencing Wednesday, August 11.

There is to be a carnival at Shore Road Field all four days, from 2 to 11 p. m., with many old and new attractions for both old and young.

On Saturday, August 14, the final day of the celebration, a high mass will be sung at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. At two in the afternoon a procession with the statue of Virgin Mary will form at St. Mary's Church, and led by a band, will march through the principal streets of the Italian section, including Washington, Swanton, Chester, Harvard, Irving, Florence, Olive, Cedar, Tremont, Oak, Holland and Spruce street. The parade will end at Shore Road Field where at 7:30 in the evening a well known military band will play a concert program, to which the public is invited.

At 10:30 Saturday evening, August 14, the feature event of the entire program, a big display of fireworks, will take place at Shore Road Field. Last year's display attracted a big crowd to the field.

George Tofuri is heading the committee in charge of arrangements for the celebration with Robert Fiore as treasurer and John B. Mercurio as secretary. Other committee members included Richard Fiore, Orazio Fiore and Alfonso Cucolo. A cordial invitation is extended to all residents to attend the celebration.

HELP THE FLOWER MISSION!

Mrs. Leonard Griffiths, chairman of the group from the Crawford Memorial Church has tried very hard to collect flowers for the flower mission but the results have been rather disappointing.

This is a project in which the entire town should be interested.

Gather wild flowers if you have no garden and bring them to the station in ample time for them to be packed in the hampers which are put onto the nine o'clock train for Boston, each Tuesday morning, from the first of June through September.

The Episcopal and Unitarian ladies will have charge of the work during August and hope for more flowers, fruit and vegetables.

TRADERS' DAY AUGUST 4

August 4, Wednesday, will be observed in Winchester as Traders' Day. The first Wednesday in August has always been the designated date for a universal closing of the Town's stores. While a few of the stores will remain open, some 50 business houses and stores will close.

Housewives are warned to do their shopping early the first week in August.

STORES CLOSE FOR TRADERS' DAY

The majority of Winchester stores and business houses will close all day Wednesday, August 4, for the annual observance of Traders' Day. Winchester housewives should note this date and make their purchases in advance.

When this holiday was first instituted, the entire business section with many residents, held an outing, either at some nearby beach or amusement park. Eventually this outing was given up, and now the clerks and business men have gone their separate ways in enjoying the holiday. So housewives, once again, shop early! Most all stores will be closed, Wednesday, August 4, Traders' Day.

JOHN DAVID COAKLEY

President of Parker Lane Winn Co. Died Yesterday

John David Coakley, president and treasurer of the Parker Lane Winn Co., Winchester coal and oil dealers, died Thursday forenoon, July 29, at his home, rear of 158 Montvale avenue, Woburn, after a long illness. He was at the Winchester Hospital last fall and later underwent an operation at the Carney Hospital in Boston.

Mr. Coakley was the son of Dennis and Margaret Coakley. He was born June 24, 1879, in Woburn and spent his early life in that city, coming to Winchester in 1914 and living for a time on Russell road. In 1937 he returned to Woburn, to his present address which had been his father's home.

Mr. Coakley had been for years associated with the coal business. As a young man he entered the employ of Joseph F. Winn at his yard on upper Main street, becoming a partner in the business in 1920. Six years later he took over the business and in December of 1929 acquired the Parker & Lane Company, another old line Winchester coal firm. On Sept. 30, 1947, the two businesses merged under the name of the Parker Lane Winn Company, of which Mr. Coakley became president and treasurer.

Mr. Coakley was a member of the Winchester Lodge of Elks and of St. Charles Church in Woburn. While living in Winchester he served on the Finance Committee.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Caroline L. Coakley, a son, John F. Coakley of this town, who was associated with him in business; and three grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Monday morning, Aug. 2, from the late residence. High mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Charles Church in Woburn,: at a time to be announced. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. ANNIE M. NOBLE

Mrs. Annie M. Noble, wife of Frederick F. Noble of 34 Spruce street, died Friday, July 23, at her home after a long illness. She was 56 years old.

Mrs. Noble was the daughter of Edmund, and Mary (Singer) Bond. She was born in Woburn and spent her early life there, having been a resident of Winchester for the past 30 years.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Fred A. Noble of Newton; a daughter, Mrs. Frank Procopio of Winchester; four sisters, Mrs. Frances Meuse of Woburn, Mrs. Edgar Terpin of East Boston, Mrs. Peter Terroe of Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. Elizabeth Singer, living in Nova Scotia; two brothers, William Bond of Winchester and Herbert Bond of Woburn; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Lane Funeral Home with Rev. James L. Tryon, retired Episcopal clergyman of Medford, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

JOHN C. HARRIGAN

The death of a former Winchester man, John C. Harrigan is reported from the West Coast where he had been making his home in Sacramento, Cal., for the past 25 years.

Mr. Harrigan was born in Winchester 45 years ago, son of the late John, and Ellen (Stokes) Harrigan, well known residents of the North End for many years. He had been in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railroad as a purchasing agent for more than 25 years.

He leaves his wife and two daughters in California; also two sisters, Mrs. Harrison McLeod and Miss Mary E. Harrigan, both of Winchester; and a brother, James Harrigan, also of this town.

"Mack" McKenzie, Winchester reporter for the Woburn Daily Times, took his annual vacation yesterday, going down to Scituate with his son, "Alf", custodian of the George Washington School, and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Durant of Medford. "Mack" and "Alf" went fishing and early reports indicated that the North End was full of fish last night, though final confirmation had not been made.

MURRAY — JOHNSON

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Church of St. Mary's of the Annunciation in Cambridge on Saturday morning, July 24, when Miss Marguerite Teresa Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Myles F. Johnson of Inman street, Cambridge, became the bride of Francis Joseph Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Murray of Salem street. Rev. Lawrence McCarthy, S. J., performed the ceremony at 10 o'clock in an attractive setting of white gladiolas, and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.

Miss Johnson was given in marriage by her brother, John Jerome Johnson. She wore a gown of traditional white satin with a peplum and long train, seed pearl inserts on the peplum matching those at the sweetheart neckline. Her full-length veil was arranged simply, with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried a white prayer-book with matching orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Catherine E. Johnson of Cambridge was her sister's honor maid, and another sister, Miss Rita Johnson of Cambridge, was one of the two bridesmaids, the other being Mrs. Edward O'Leary of Malden, sister of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor wore a yellow chiffon gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice and long full sleeves with tight cuffs. Her headpiece was a wreath of fuschia gladiola blossoms and she carried a spray of the same flowers.

The bridesmaids wore aqua chiffon dresses like that of the honor maid. Their headpieces and sprays were of yellow gladiolas.

Henry P. Murray of Winchester was best man for his brother and the ushers were John J. Murray, Jr., of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom; and a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Neil Booker of Woburn.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Riverside Boat Club in Cambridge with the mother of the bride and the parents of the bridegroom assisting in receiving. At its conclusion Mr. and Mrs. Murray left on a wedding journey to New York and Canada.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School of Cambridge and has been employed by Lever Brothers Company in that city. Mr. Murray is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended Northeastern University and Holy Cross College. During the war he served in the United States Navy with the rank of lieutenant, and he is the present commander of Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is employed by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in Boston.

MISS ROGERS, LT. PURNELL ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crosby Rogers, II, of 10 Hillside avenue and Southwest Harbor, Me., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred Cooper, to Rodney King Purnell, Lieut., U.S.N.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dayton Purnell of Kingswood Farm, Lebanon, Tenn.

Miss Rogers was graduated from Winchester High School, class of 1940, and was a member of the 1942 graduating class at the Chamberlain School in Boston. She has been employed as an interior decorating consultant and has been residing in Philadelphia for the past year. At present, she is summering with her parents in Southwest Harbor, Me.

Lieut. Purnell is a graduate of the University of Tennessee, class of 1943, and is a member of the Alpha Zeta fraternity. He is now stationed in Philadelphia as aide to Admiral Wood at the Naval Aviation Supply Office.

An October wedding is planned.

MISS RANDALL, MR. CABOT ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Denton W. Randall of Everell road and Peaks Island, Me., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Frances Elaine Randall, to Philip Dwight Cabot, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. Dwight Cabot, formerly of Winchester.

Miss Randall is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended Wheaton College. Mr. Cabot prepared for college at Kimball Union Academy and is a graduate of the University of Maine where he was a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. During the war he served as a lieutenant in the Army Air Forces.

MISS CONRAD ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Phair Edmund Conrad of 216 Highland avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris, to Mr. Elmer Bertrand Lincoln, Jr., son of Mrs. Elmer Bertrand Lincoln of 26 Echo avenue, Reading.

Miss Conrad is a graduate of Somerville High School and is employed as a secretary. Mr. Lincoln, a graduate of Reading High School, is a draftsman for Stone & Webster Engineering Corp. During the War he was in the service for three years.

MISS GUNBY, MR. DeMERITT ENGAGED

Colonel and Mrs. Frank M. Gunby of Manchester road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rollie, to Mr. John DeMerritt, son of Mrs. Stephen DeMerritt and the late Mr. DeMerritt of Pennington, N. J.

Miss Gunby graduated from the University of New Hampshire, where her fiance is completing his studies. Mr. DeMerritt served with the United States Army in the South Pacific for three years during the war.

WINCHESTER SOLDIER DEAD COME HOME

Bodies of Calvin Blomquist and Frank J. Burns, Jr., Arrived Tuesday

Two more Winchester boys who gave their lives for their country during World War II came back home on Tuesday. The body of Pfc. Calvin Blomquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz C. Blomquist of 26 Sargent road, came in on the 4:35 train from Boston. That of Pvt. Frank J. Burns, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Burns of 27 Wedgemere avenue, arrived later in the afternoon, having been met at the South Station in Boston by Undertaker Joseph Curnane and taken to his undertaking rooms in Everett before being brought to Winchester. Meanwhile, arrangements had been completed with Winchester veterans' organizations to accord military honors in accordance with the wishes of the families of the young heroes, both of whom lost their lives in the European Theatre of Operations.

Mr. and Mrs. Blomquist met their son's body at the station with uniformed representatives of the local veterans' organizations, Commander Walter J. Burns, in Legion blue and gold, represented Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, and Mark A. Kelley, in O. D., represented Aberjona Post, 3719, Veteran's of Foreign Wars. Mr. Blomquist, with bared head, stood with the veterans and Undertaker Malcolm Bennett of Kelley and Hawes, as the flag-draped steel casket was lifted from the train to the baggage truck and walked beside his boy to the waiting hearse. Accompanying the body was Sgt. Robert D. Swenson of the United States Army Military Escort.

Led by Motorcycle Officer William T. Haggerty of the police department, the hearse was driven to the Kelley & Hawes Chapel where the body remained until the funeral yesterday afternoon. Aberjona Post, V. F. W., posted its colors at the chapel and Legionnaires and Veterans served as honor guards, during the visiting hours on Wednesday.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Evangelical Covenant Church at Beach and Orchard streets in Cambridge with the Rev. Aaron Markusson officiating. Representing Winchester Post, A. L., was Past Comdr. Edward B. Woodbury. Representing Aberjona Post, V. F. W., was Senior Vice Comdr. Thomas E. Duddy. Veterans' Officer Charles D. Roche represented the Town of Winchester. Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

Pfc. Blomquist was killed in action, December 12, 1944, at Hill 306, near Wolfling in France, while serving with I Company, 328th Infantry, of the 26th Division. He was 20 years old, and had been in the service a year, going overseas in August, 1944.

Pfc Blomquist was born in Monticello, Ind., but came to Winchester as a boy and attended the Winchester Schools, graduating from Winchester High School in the Class of 1942. At the time of entering service he had completed the first semester of his sophomore year at Tufts Engineering School.

Besides his parents, there are surviving a sister, Mrs. Muriel Swanson of New York City and a brother, Howard Blomquist of Winchester.

FRANK J. BURNS, JR.

Pvt. Burns' body was accompanied to Winchester by Sgt. James McGowan of the United States Army Military Escort, a Newton boy. The young soldier lay in state at his home with visiting hours Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. In accordance with family wishes there was no military demonstration.

The funeral took place on Thursday morning with Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of the Boston Archdiocese presiding at the solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church.

Rev. Father Raymond Burns, O. S. B., uncle of the young soldier, was celebrant of the mass with another uncle, Rev. Fr. Henry R. Burns, O. M. I., as deacon, Rev. Fr. Thomas Lane of St. James Church, Boston, subdeacon, and Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott of St. Mary's master of ceremonies.

MR. RICH MEMBER OF MONDAY CLUB

In the obituary of Edgar J. Rich of Pine street, Library Trustee, and widely known Boston lawyer, published in last week's STAR, no mention was made of his membership in the Monday Club, an important but little heard of organization of this town.

Mr. Rich was among the original members of this cultural organization which was founded by the late Dr. John W. Suter, then rector of the Church of the Epiphany, in 1904.

THADDEUS WILLIAM HARRIS

Thaddeus William Harris, Jr., passenger agent for the Canadian National Railroad and a veteran of World War I, died suddenly Friday morning, July 23, at his home, 23 Stevens street, following a heart attack. He had been at his office on the day previous and had appeared in good health, his sudden passing coming as a severe shock to his family and many friends.

Mr. Harris was the son of the Rev. Thaddeus William, and Winifred (Parker) Harris. His father, an Episcopalian clergyman, was widely known as an educator and for carrying on Episcopal mission work in rural communities by mail.

Mr. Harris was born in Keene, N. H., October 1, 1895. He graduated from the Holderness School in New Hampshire and attended Trinity College for a time, graduating from Harvard University in the class of 1918. During World War I he served with the United States Army Signal Corps as a part of the American Expeditionary Force in France.

After the war Mr. Harris spent a year at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration and then went to work for the Boston & Maine Railroad, spending five years in the City Ticket Office on Franklin street in Boston. He then became associated with the Canadian National Railroad as traveling passenger agent with headquarters on Bolyston street in Boston, remaining with the railroad in that capacity until his death.

Mr. Harris came to Winchester 22 years ago, having previously lived in Cambridge and Dorchester. He was prominent in local Masonic circles as master of Mystic Valley Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and he was also a member of Winchester Royal Arch Chapter and of Winchester Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. He was on the advisory board of Winchester Chapter, Order of De Molay, was a member of the Railroad and Steamboat Agents of Boston, Boston Passengers Club and of the Winchester Post, 97, American Legion.

He was also a town meeting member for Precinct 2, and an active member of the First Congregational Church, having served as chairman of the music committee and been for twenty years at the time of his death a member of the church choir.

On May 6, 1921, Mr. Harris married Ruth Barbara Newcomb of Keene, N. H., who survives him, with four sons, David N., now located near San Tome in Venezula as a geologist for the Gulf Oil Company; Robert E., John M., and Charles P. Harris, all of Winchester; his mother, Mrs. Winifred Harris of Northampton; a brother, Charles P. Harris, also of Northampton; and a sister, Mrs. Alan Eldredge of Auburndale.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the First Congregational Church with the Rev. John Prescott Robertson, pastor of the Congregational Church of Braintree, formerly assistant at the First Church here, officiating. J. Albert Wilson, church organist and choirmaster, under whom Mr. Harris had sung, played favorite organ selections.

Honorary bearers, representing Mystic Valley Lodge and Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, were Harold E. Gile, George F. Deroo, J. Stanley Fudge, Hugh J. Erskine, Harry S. Dyson, William H. Dyson, John F. Carruthers, Thornton F. Harvey, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, Robert W. Carlson, F. Percy Lewis, and Henry E. Drown.

Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

BOB ZIRKEL STATE JUNIOR GOLF CHAMP

Beat Warren of Woburn in Final 1 Up

Bob Zirkel, 17 year-old twin son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Zirkel of Emerson road, won the Massachusetts State Junior Gold Championship last Friday forenoon at the Winchester Country Club, beating Larry Warren of Woburn, 1 up, in the championship round of the four-day tourney.

Zirkel was never down to Warren, being two up at the turn. Warren, 16 year-old Arlington High student who works as a grocery clerk in that town, came up with a par three at the 11th to reduce the Zirkel lead to a single hole, which he erased on the 13th with a par five.

FRANK BENTON WELCH

Frank Benton Welch, Telephone Company Pioneer and resident of Winchester for the past 40 years, died at his home, 28 Lebanon street, Saturday evening, July 24. He was 58 years old and a native of Woburn.

Mr. Welch was the son of Frank B., and Theresa (Rooney) Welch. He was an employee of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for 28 years and was a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization open only to those with 25 years, or more, service with the Telephone Company. Mr. Welch served with the Canadian Army during World War I and was a member of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Catherine M. (Reagan) Welch; three sons, David J., of Billerica; Francis B., and John P. Welch, both of Winchester; two daughters, Eileen Ruth, and Mary J. Welch, both of Winchester; a brother, Irving C. Welch of this town; and a sister, Mrs. Charles Wilson of Millis.

The funeral was held from the late residence Tuesday morning with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott. Father Sennott also read the committal prayers at the interment which took place in Calvary Cemetery.

NEW BEAUTY SHOP OPENS

Announcement is made this week of the opening of a new beauty shop in Winchester. The House of Charm will be conducted by Mrs. Georgia Adractas. She is the wife of Mr. Arthur Adractas, well known as the proprietor of the Winchester Barber Shop. Spacious quarters are now being decorated and fitted at 1 Mt. Vernon street, over Hevey's Drug Store. The new beauty salon will open on Friday, August 6. The telephone is WInchester 6-3194.

PORTION OF THE WILL OF EDGAR J. RICH PERTAINING TO THE WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

All the rest and residue of my estate shall go to the TOWN OF WINCHESTER, Massachusetts, for the use of the Winchester Public Library and to be known as the LINCOLN AND LEE TRUST FUND, which shall be used for the purchase of books, pamphlets, pictures, mementoes, and so forth, relating to Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee, including books relating to the Civil War and the causes leading up thereto, and books relating to the period of reconstruction following said war, in the hope that, by the study of the lives of these two great Americans, there may come a better understanding between the North and the South. It is my desire that the income be not allowed to accumulate unduly. If it is difficult wisely to spend the entire income for the purposes specified, the income may be used to pay for lectures on Lincoln and Lee and on other great Americans; to provide for prizes for the best essays on Lincoln and Lee written by pupils of the Winchester High School; also to buy books relating to the history of the United States and other American countries. I direct that out of the income a properly engraved and inscribed bookplate be purchased.

The value of my Lincoln library lies in the fact that it contains many books, pamphlets, essays, sermons and so forth, written by men who knew Lincoln; also reminiscences and autobiographies of men who knew him and refer to him in these books. It is my desire that the Trustees of the Library, first of all, use such income as may be required, to add to this collection in the hope that the Library may have source material about Lincoln which will be unsurpassed by any other town library.

I also give to the Winchester Public Library a collection of books relating to the Jacobite Rebellion of 1745-46. This collection has some very rare items.

If Ralph T. Hale is a member of the Board of Library Trustees at the time this trust fund becomes effective I would be gratified if he would give especial attention to the carrying out of the above named purposes of the trust fund.

LUMBER THEFTS SOLVED

Last week Thursday evening Officer John Harrington of the Water Department heard hammering just off town property in the Middlesex Fells near Border road. He and Assistant Superintendent James Halwartz investigated and found a Medford boy working on a hut in a tree some 40 feet from the ground.

Questioned, the boy wasn't too clear about where the lumber for the hut had come, and was taken to headquarters where he was further questioned by Sergt. James E. Farrell of the police department.

Lumber had been reported stolen from houses under construction by Paul Nelson of Arlington at the end of Jefferson road, and by Alfred Elliott of Winchester on Ledgewood road. It didn't take Sgt. Farrell too long to learn that the lumber in the hut came from those jobs, having been taken piece by piece, from time to time, commencing July 6. Two other Med- named by the third in the thefts.

notified the Med- a request that the parents of the boys involved come to Winchester headquarters at once. They did so and were considerably surprised and not too pleased to learn of their boys' activity. The boys' ages were 13, 14 and 16.

After a conference with the owners of the lumber it was agreed that the boys should return all the lumber to the two jobs from which it had been stolen, together with a large pulley and rope stolen from a brick mason at the Ledgewood road job. Quite a bit of work was involved, for the hut was very stoutly constructed, and the parental attitude at the police station indicated that the boys would have added reason to regret their escapade.

VOICE - RECORDING ON TELEPHONE

Final arrangements have been completed for customer-owned voice recording machines to be connected to telephone lines under conditions prescribed by public regulatory authorities.

Along with other telephone companies of the Bell System, the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company has filed tariffs effective tomorrow (Monday, August 2, 1948). The Company expects to begin filling orders at that time for the necessary recorder-connector equipment for customers whose recording machines are fitted with the required cord-and-plug appliance.

The recorder-connector equipment includes an automatic tone device, the function of which is to produce a distinctive signal at regular intervals to let the person at the other end of the line know that the conversation is being recorded. Government regulations recently issued following hearings before the Federal Communications Commission require that the telephone companies install and maintain the connecting-signaling equipment.

The customer with the recording machine will be able to switch it on or off at will, but always when it is on the tone -- a "beep" -- will be repeated about every 15 seconds. The "beep" is unlike any other tone heard on telephone lines and is described as a brief, high, almost musical note.

Initially, a connector unit can be connected to only one line, but work is actively under way on arrangements to permit switching a recorder from one line to another, as may be desired.

The charge for installing the connecting equipment is $5.00, and the monthly rate is $2.00.

The police were notified last Friday afternoon that some one had cut a chain locking one of the swings at Ginn Field playground and stolen the swing. The swing was later located in the river near the field.

FORMER WINCHESTER MAN'S RESTAURANT HELD UP

Milton Turner and Employees Locked in Ice Chest

Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank, returned to his home on New Meadows road last week-end from Buckstown, Pa., bringing with him Mrs. Scott, who had been visiting her parents there, and their sons, Dick and Doug.

En route to Winchester the Scotts stopped in Ridgewood, N. J., to visit the Milton Turners, who formerly lived in Winchester on Allen road. They found that Mr. Turner, who is manager of a restaurant in Clifton, N. J., recently had the somewhat harrowing experience of being held up in his establishment and being forced at gun-point to unlock his safe for the benefit of the gun-man before going to join 21 of his employees in the ice chest.

The gun-man got to the restaurant early and covered each employee and truck-driver as he came in, ordering them into the ice chest.

He used the cashier as a decoy for a time, stationing her at the head of the basement stairs, and forcing her at gun-point to lure other employees to the celler by telling them an accident had occurred there. Once in the cellar the employee was forced into the ice-chest, the cashier being the last to go.

The gun-man did show signs of humanity. He was at all times very polite and he did give the shivering group in the cooler two bottles of whiskey from the restaurant supply to "keep them warm."

Finally, before leaving, he released the cashier, and the hysterical girl summoned the police.

JEANNE TUFTS DIRECTING SUMMER PLAYHOUSE

Miss Jeanne Tufts, daughter of Mrs. Bowen Tufts of 120 Hutchinson road, a former Winchester girl and sister of Motion Picture Actor "Sonny" Tufts, starred in the Actors' Theatre production of "Angel Street" which closed last week Saturday at the Summer Playhouse in Nantasket. She will be seen again later in the season as Miss Moffat in "The Corn Is Green".

Miss Tufts is founder and director of the Actors Theatre. As director she gets little opportunity to appear herself on the stage, but during the summer she usually manages to get into at least one play. She is equally at home acting, directing, teaching or designing for the theatre. In addition to her own school which is affiliated with the Actors' Theatre, she teaches at the New England Conservatory and at the Cambridge Center for Adult Education. Her interpretation of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night was very successful both in Boston and Worcester.

Miss Tufts began the Actors' Theatre with the expressed purpose of building a permanent repertory company in Boston. She hopes to achieve this goal during the coming year.

Earle Jr., and Hick Spencer of Yale street and Harry A. Hall, Jr., of Melrose Mass., left Kennebunkport on July 21st for a two weeks cruise along the coast of Maine, in Harry Hall's Schooner the "Emily Morgan"

CAMP FELLSLAND NEWS

The summer season at Camp Fellsland is fast slipping away now that one-third of the season is already passed. During the past week a special note for many of the campers was in the form of an over-night hike to Lone Tree Camp at Country Pond in N. H. Approximately 30 of the campers made the hike on Thursday and after a long dusty hike the fresh waters of Country Pond was certainly a grand relief to all of these hikers. After a swim the gang assembled and turned to make their supper, and it goes without saying that every one put away the equivalent of two full meals. The rest of the evening was spent in exploring this new camp that has just been developed in the past two years, and a short campfire session. The following morning the group was up bright and early to prepare breakfast and after a good cleaning up were on their way once again for Camp Fellsland arriving there just in time for the noonday meal.

One other trip that many of the boys enjoyed was a bus trip to Canobie Lake where the afternoon and early evening was spent in enjoying the amusements and a basket lunch.

Other interesting features of the past week were - a watermelon polo game that was finally won by the Rangers and their prize for their efforts was the watermelon competed for plus an additional watermelon, so that the Rangers had their fill of watermelon this day. The Camp Fellsland crew defeated Camp Pow-Wow in basketball and are now looking forward to additional competition in a water meet and baseball game.

Tommy McDermott of Medford, who has been a camper for many years at Camp Fellsland, has been one of our new counsellors for this past week and will stay over for an additional period. During the fourth week at camp Charles Forbes of Medford and Harvey Flagg of Medford, both members of the Council Commissioners Staff will be additional members to the camp staff. Mr. Francis Wall, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 21 Medford, will also be a member of the staff for two weeks starting August 1st. Additional men who will serve on the staff include Mr. Leslie Hinds, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 8, Medford, Mr. George McConnell, Chairman of Advancement in Medford, and Mr. Allen Smith of Melrose, who is the Council Commodore of Sea Scouting.

New items that have been added to camp this past week are the new aluminum canoe, plus a new shingling job on the former mess hall known as Kiwanis Building. This building has been renovated this year to include a new store, new office, new photographic room, new laundry, and three sleeping rooms for staff members.

The advancement in general Scouting has been exceptionally good this year under the general direction of Cid Thompson plus additional members of the staff. A Board of Review to qualify these boys is held at camp every Friday afternoon.

Truman Whittemore of Troop No. 3, Stoneham, became a Sharpshooter on the Rifle Range, and is the first one to arrive at that advanced stage in 1948.

Some of the boys are already talking about returning to camp for the last week, the week of August 15th, when the Annual Campers Day is held. This Campers Day is one day of 24 hour period when the campers become counsellors and the counsellors become campers. A regular election is held and a tremendous amount of spirit is put into the election of camp staff by the campers. In addition to this during the last week there will be the closing turkey banquet, and the carnival.

The boys at camp this week are:

David Ripley
Edward Cullen
Robert McElhinney
Trevor Smith
Carl Fahlbusch
Harold McKinley
Donald Murphy.

REDECORATION AT THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

This month of July has seen much progress in the redecoration schedule for the interior painting at the Winchester Hospital. On the second floor, the Women's Ward is lovely with its yellow walls and soft green ceiling, green curtains repeating the ceiling tone. The Men's Ward has green walls and a yellow ceiling. The younger generation will respond quickly to the cheerful peach color in the Children's Ward. As pretty as a picture from House Beautiful is the four bed semi-private with soft peach walls and sheer matching curtains, set off by an apple green ceiling. Several private rooms have been decorated in the same manner.

The House Committee under the capable chairmanship of Mrs. William L. Davis, has planned carefully to produce an attractive restful atmosphere.

Ernest Fitzsimmons, boss painter, who has served the Hospital faithfully and well for many years, has done the work with his assistant, Ralph Montecalvo, a G. I. trainee in hospital maintenance, to give a final picture of cheerfulness and cleanliness.

Last, but surely not least, credit goes to Mr. Paine, the Administrator, for his careful arrangement of patients in a busy hospital to allow these rooms to be empty long enough to be painted.

DONAHUE JOINS AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL CORPORATION

Mr. George F. Donahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Donahue of Mystic avenue, has recently resigned from his position as experimental engineer with the International Telephone and Telegraph Company of New York and has accepted a position as production engineer with the American Agricultural Corporation of New York.

Mr. Donahue, who has been residing for the past two years in Montclair, N. J., has been spending his vacation in Winchester with his parents. He graduated from Yale in 1946, with the degree of Bachelor of Engineering. He was co-captain of the Yale varsity hockey team in 1945, a member of the 1945-46 varsity tennis team, counsellor of his dormitory and president of his fraternity. This past winter he participated in the Olympic series in Switzerland as a member and center on the A.A.U. hockey team.

JIM'S TEAM WINS AGAIN

Under the captaincy of Old Man Tennis, Jim Riley of Church street, a team of players drawn from the Winchester Tennis Association, traveled to Belmont last Sunday afternoon and emerged victorious from the toughest match of the current season. It will be noticed that every contest was extended. Is it small wonder then that we are all waiting eagerly the return match which, heaven being willing, will be played at the Palmer street courts on Saturday afternoon, August 21. Last Sunday's match at Belmont went as follows:

C. Scott defeated Jimmy Coon 4-6, 6-2, 7-5.
Art Hills defeated D. Perkins 6-3, 0-6, 11-9.
Hall Gamage defeated D. Lamont 6-2, 2-6, 8-6.
Jim Riley and Bud Snow defeated E. Brainard and V. Hennessy 6-4, 7-9, 6-2.
R. Mueller and W. Luke defeated Bob Drake and Ted Godwin 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

LINCOLN MOHAWKS BEAT WINCHESTER

The Lincoln Mohawks won a 7-2 victory over Winchester last Thursday evening in a Paul Revere League game on Leonard Field.

Lincoln brought a strong team to Winchester, one of the more experienced groups on the circuit, led by Todd, old Harvard outfielder, not at first, who has been playing for the Mohawks for years. Incidentally he was the outstanding performer for the visitors last Thursday with Modoono showing well for Winchester.

Big Sam Tompkins, who hurled for Winchester, gave up too many bases on balls for comfort, and the locals also wasted baserunners on three occasions. The summary:

DAN JOYCE STEALS HOME FOR ST. MARY'S VICTORY

Climaxing an uphill fight at Leonard Field on Monday evening, Dan Joyce, in the final half of the sixth inning, stole home with the winning run after Dickie Errico had scored the run to knot up the game. Under the tutelage of third base coach Dave Barry, Dan Joyce made several false starts for home plate and then with two strikes and two balls on the batter, he made his successful dash to break up the game as darkness was rapidly closing in and thus give St. Mary's the game by a 9 to 8 score.

Joyce's climatic steal home was a fitting finish to a game which found St. Charles coming up with six runs in the first inning. John DiIorio brushed off the first inning in which an error, three bases on balls, a hit batsman and two singles accounted for the opening margin. DiIorio bore down in succeeding innings and did not issue another base on balls until the fifth. Then in the sixth the first two batters reached on passes, followed by a fielder's choice, another free walk and then a marvelously executed double play which DiIorio started by firing the ball to the catcher who in turn pegged accurately to first base. On the offense, DiIorio helped his own cause immensely. As a left hand batter he fooled the opposition by twice driving singles to left field. In addition to DiIorio, other St. Mary's players with two hits each were Joyce, Errico and Taylor.

TRAVEL

Your summer and fall vacation? Plan it now and well by calling McGrath Travel Service, WOburn 2-1234, WInchester 6-3130. jy30-tf

Henry Knowlton of Maxwell road, who is spending the summer as counsellor and waterfront director at Camp Wyanoke in Wolfeboro, N. H., was an over-night visitor in this town this week. He had time to look over the job being done at Manchester Field and was generally pleased with the progress made there.

All even, the pair halved the next three holes and were still even going into the 410 yard 17th. Here Warren landed in two traps and took four strokes to get on, while Zirkel, a bit short on his second, chipped on for a hole-winning par four.

At the final hole Zirkel's second took him just off the fringe while Warren was bunkered to the left. The Arlington boy, however, got within three feet of the cup in three and dropped his put for a par-four.

Zirkel, meanwhile, hadn't fared so well on his chip shot, rolling past the cup by three feet. Three footers have been missed by experienced competitors, in and out of tournament play, but Sir Robert refused to tighten, and calmly sank his put for the half that meant the championship.

Following are the finalists' cards shown against par:

Par out	4	5	4	4	4	3	4	4	3—35
Zirkel out	4	5	6	5	4	3	5	5	2—39
Warren out	4	6	4	5	4	3	5	6	4—41
Zirkel two up
Par in	4	3	5	5	3	4	4	4	4—36—71
Zirkel in	5	4	4	6	4	5	4	4	4—40—79
Warren in	5	3	4	5	4	5	4	6	4—40—81

Zirkel's quarter final opponent Thursday morning was Bernie Doherty, another Arlington boy, who like Warren plays out of Woburn. Bob won that one, 3 and 1, and then faced Bill Roberts of Wachusetts in the semi-finals Thursday afternoon.

This turned out to be quite a match, both boys having 39s at the turn and being all even for 15 holes. Roberts took the 10th, but Zirkel came right back to take the 11th, with the next four halved.

The Winchester boy won the 16th with a par four to Roberts' 5, and he had a bogey five at the 17th to end the match as Roberts needed six. Zirkel didn't start off too well at the 17th, but recovered nicely to get on in three and hole out in two. The cards:

Par out	4	5	4	4	4	3	4	4	3—35
Zirkel out	4	4	5	6	4	3	4	5	4—39
Roberts out	4	5	5	5	5	3	4	5	3—39
Match even
Par in	4	3	5	5	3	4	4	4	4—36—71
Zirkel in	5	3	5	4	3	4	4	5
Roberts in	4	4	5	4	3	4	5	6

Zirkel wins, 2 and 1.

While Zirkel was accounting for Doherty and Roberts, Warren was beating last year's champ, the redoubtable Johnny Nies, Jr., of United Shoe, in the round of eight, after 21 torrid holes, and winning from Paul Kelley of Albamarle in the semi-finals, 2 and 1. Nies and Warren were all even after 18, both posting 77s. The 19th and 20th were halved, but Warren prevailed at the 21 when he succeeded in getting a put of some four feet past a partial stymie for a par four.

Against Kelley, Warren had a three-up lead going into the 13th. A 12 foot put gave Kelly a birdie four and the 13th, after which the Albarmarle entry posted another four to Warren's five to take the 14th.

The boys halved the 15th leaving Warren one up, and he took the 16th to make his half at the 17th good for the match.

Bob Zirkel, Winchester's new Junior State Golf Champion, is 17 and will be a senior at Winchester High School in the fall. He and his twin brother, Bill, have been members of the high school golf team for the past three seasons, and in addition to golf, run on the cross country team in the fall and play basketball for Ted Bartlett during the winter. Both played regularly on last year's second team and got into some of the varsity contests. They naturally have been mainstays of the golf team.

When the Star called the Zirkel residence a day or two after the championship match to talk to the new champ, we found he was playing tennis, of all things. Mrs. Zirkel, more than a little proud of her new State champ, told us that both Bob and Bill like all kinds of sports, and later when we finally got "Bob" he admitted that was right. He'd been playing tennis with some "Joes" who could beat him at THAT game, but he didn't mind.

He admitted he felt pretty good about winning the State title, but figured that perhaps his dad was enjoying his triumph even more. One thing he was sure of, Zirkel senior suffered most of any in the family during the crucial championship tournament, worrying away plenty of poundage.

Bob, himself, lost about six or seven pounds during the play, and his pal and caddy, Larry Grimes of Cambridge street, lost an even six between totin' and worrying. There were plenty of Zirkels rooting for Bob to crash through. His parents, his three aunts, his sister, Shirley, and his three brothers, Twin-Bill, Elmer, Jr., and nine-year-old John.

The new champ said his semi-final championship rounds against Roberts and Warren, were both tough, but strangely enough he didn't figure he played his best golf in either. Of course his medal-winning qualifying round of 72 was much better, but in match play Bob figured his best golf was in his second round match with Tom Hovey, whom he beat 6 and 5. He was one over par for the 13 holes in that one.

The shot that really helped most in his final round match with Warren, in Bob's opinion, was an eight foot put that enabled him to halve the first hole. Bob hates to lose the first hole of any match, and sinking that eight-footer for a half relaxed him so he was able to play his normal game without the pressure of being behind right at the start.

He and Warren, Arlington High senior, are good friends and went to the Red Sox-Chicago game in Boston after their championship match on Friday.

Unlike some competitors, Bob really likes to have his father at his matches, claiming he brings him luck. When it looked like Zirkel-senior was going to have to miss one of the last two matches, and Mrs. Zirkel was saying that she thought he really ought to attend to whatever it was that had come up, Bob squawked loudly! He wanted that old luck dad-on-the-sidelines always brought him, and Brother! he had it! It would have taken a pretty fair man to keep Dad-Zirkel away from the Country Club last Friday.

This year's tournament isn't the first junior championship the Zirkels have played in. They were in a year ago, but neither Bob nor Bill got into the payoff rounds. Bill qualified this year, but drew last year's champ, Johnny Nies, Jr., in the second round, and got no further. Incidentally, the twins are co-captains of next year's golf team at Winchester High, which is not going to hurt "Ote" Leary's team any!

Bob hopes to go either to Tufts or Northeastern with Tufts having the preference at the moment.

His win was the second State title to come to the Winchester Country Club within a week, Ed Martin having salted away the State open at Worcester the Saturday previous. Campetitiors seldom win Junior titles on their home courses. Clark Hodder at Commonwealth in 1922 was the last to do so.

Junior medalists only infrequently win also. Bill Donnolly was the last medalist to go on to championship honors at Sandy Burr 17 years ago in 1931. The last Winchester boy to win a Junior State title was Charlie Eaton at Unicorn in 1928.

Bob added materially to his trophies last Friday, getting medals for the best qualifying round and for his championship, as well as a huge bowl-type trophy which his family is gloating over for a short time before he hands it over to the Winchester Country Club to place beside the one previously won by Ed Martin in the State open.

The Zirkel family now have nothing to look forward to but the big Father and Son Tourney at Winchester next month. Dad-Elmer is playing with all four sons, Bob, Bill, Elmer, Jr., and Johnny. He plays around 85, so he and Bob ought to make it interesting for someone at least. Incidentally, Shirley, the only girl in the Zirkel family, plays good golf, according to her State Champ Brother.

The STAR extends birthday greetings to Hon. Lewis Parkhurst, Winchester's leading citizen, who was 92 years old on Monday, July 26.

Unbeknownst to our staff at the STAR, the Editor and Mrs. Wilson snuck off last week and spent a very enjoyable visit with Mr. and Mrs. Erskine N. White at their summer home "Braehead" at Center Sandwich, N. H. With a magnificent outlook of lake and mountains the peaceful surroundings were a decided change from home environment. Numerous Winchester friends did their part in making the week particularly enjoyable. A visit to Al Brack, well known to many as a foreman at the STAR Office, at West Ossipee was made after several year's invitation. His place, "The Meadows" at the turn of the river, was delightful. Mr. and Mrs. George Hayden, former Winchester folks now living at Center Ossipee, were also on the visiting list. George is busy as head of the Y.M.C.A. drive and the Rotary raffle, both supporting worthy causes being carried on in the valley. We called on Mr. and Mrs. H. Wadsworth Hight at their beautiful home in North Sandwich, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Sanborn, and one can readily understand why these folks are content to spend much of their time away from their Winchester homes. With every comfort and convenience, beautiful views and cool, invigorating air, they are adding many years to their alloted span. Dinner at the Country Fare, Moultonboro, with the good company of the genial host, Parker Kimball, was another pleasant and satisfying experience, although it was regretted that we missed our old friend Miss Flora Jepson, who spends most of her time at her attractive home in that town. Among other Winchesterites who enjoy the excellent fare at the Country Fare, we found John West, who is spending the summer as senior Counselor at Camp Wyanoke. Pleasant contact at Center Sandwich was afforded through the entertainment by Mrs. Jeanette Thompson, Mrs. Helen Murrav and Mrs. Jean Schneider, while Mr. and Mrs. Newell Squires opened their summer home at Holderness for further hospitality. The number of Winchester friends in the vicinity was a pleasant surprise, and their warm welcome made a closer tie to the home town.

FORESIGHT VS. HINDSIGHT

Editor of the Star:

Homo insipiens is a lazy old fellow endowed with a lively imagination. Opinions may vary, of course, regarding the quality and the qualitative effects of this imagination, but all must be impressed by the fact that one result has been community living. For under community living homo has an opportunity to delegate much of his problem of self-protection and self-preservation to others, so that in the mass all the genus need do, in weather such as this, is sit in the shade of a green bay tree and criticize the delegates, all to the tune of a long cool drink - preferably with a twig of mint at the top. Homo never wearies of wondering why his delegates do not possess the wisdom of his gods.

Recently the quiet air of our fair town has been torn with the news of two - now we all know it - entirely avoidable mishaps: one proved fatal, while in the other case the guardian angel was probably working over-time. Immediately our delegates became very busy. In the one case a stop-sign has been erected, elementary designs in white paint have been traced upon the street, and the police have begun to lurk in dark corners to warn motorists who dare to choose second gear instead of first. In the other case a mandate has come down that no more will the game of quoits be played upon our beaches and playgrounds. In retrospect Homo Winchesterensis et insipiens is prone (see above) to demand why the barn door was not closed long ago. To shorten our story, homo need only contemplate the image reflected in the mirror which the obliging spouse will carry to the recumbant under above-mentioned bay tree.

Winchester lost a child, Winchester had a child in the hospital with a serious head-injury, because too many of its citizens chose to exercise no foresight. Our duty has only begun once we have elected delegates to administer the affairs of our town. Being of the same nature as ourselves, those delegates can do no more than reflect our own lively, or dead, interest in affairs. That is why the present opportunity is seized to call attention to another death-trap which lurks in our midst.

At Wedge Pond - Palmer street - is situated a sandy beach and playground which is frequented by no small percentage of our citizens and neighbors. The only normal access to this fine spot is via a rutty ramp; rutty because it is used by automobiles and trucks. That is, up and down this ramp pass autos, bicycles, little folk, old folk, and others. Anyone who can take time to observe will soon reach the conclusion of the present writer: if the present situation persists -- it presumably has persisted for years -- sooner or later some little Mary or Richard Wichit, somebody's grandparent, is going to be seriously maimed or killed on that ramp leading to the beach. The problem is by no means that of an infinity of straight lines in infinite space. A measurable number of little, adult, and old bodies pass up and down that ramp daily. Also a measurable number of vehicles pass up and down there - sometimes one will resemble a comet. It is our firm conviction that sooner or later (the recent death and hospital case would seem to indicate later) the avoidable accident -- it need only occur once -- will happen. Are we then to engage in recrimination, eulogy, tears, and protective measures?

The remedy to this monstrous evil lurking, gaping, in our midst is simple. Most of our problems have very simple solutions. Let the use of the ramp be restricted to those on foot. Let parking, preferably angular, be restricted to the court and lake side of Palmer street. Let us mark off more - many more - parking spots. For a week or ten days let the police check frequently to see that parkers occupy and stay within one parking unit. Simple, isn't it? I wonder why it was not done long ago? The answer lies in the picture of yourself and myself sketched in the opening paragraph.

FOR JAPANESE BEETLES

4 Webster street,
Winchester, Mass.
July 24, 1948.

Winchester Star
Winchester, Mass.
Dear Sir:

Have just finished reading your time-worthy editorial. Might I suggest, to Mrs. Proveleite, who is so bothered with "Japanese Beetles", she use the Aer-a-Sol bomb, which can be purchased at most hardware companies.

We have a cherry tree which these beetles enjoy - after having used my "bomb", successfully, I am hoping for a good cherry crop next year.

Here's hoping the Easter lilies can take Aer-a-sol too.

Sincerely,
Mrs. S. H. Griffin, Jr.

P. S. Use as directed.

WINCHESTER BENEFITS UNDER RICH WILL

The Town of Winchester benefits under the will of the late Edgar J. Rich of Pine street, filed for probate Monday. Mr. Rich died July 17 at the age of 83.

Mr. Rich was for many years a trustee of the Winchester Public Library, and his bequest to the town was left for the use of the library, to be known at the Lincoln and Lee Trust Fund "in the hope that with the study of these two great Americans there will come a better understanding between the North and the South."

Private bequests totalling $110,500 were provided in the will, including $20,000, the income from which is to go to the support of Mr. Rich's sister, Martha L. Rich of Bedford. A nephew, Allen M. Cate of Needham, is named trustee of this fund.

Mrs. Louisa A. Wilkins of Cabot street, niece of Mr. Rich's late wife, with Norman A. Aldrich of Providence, R. I., is left all of the testator's real estate at Wonalancet, N. H. Mr. Rich's housekeeper, Mary B. Ryan, is left $10,000.

A bequest of $5000 was made to Mary A. Davis of Harvard avenue, Brookline, and to Mr. Rich's secretary, Harriet Pillsbury, was left $2500 for each year she was in his employ at the Boston law office.

Bequests of $3000 each were made to Hilda Olson of Madison street, Woburn; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cate and Helen Cate; two cousins, Bertha T. Allan of New York city and Edith M. Allan of Hereford street, Boston; Louise G. Borden of Fall River, Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Jones, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Cate, Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Aldrich, M. Louise Wilkins and eight grand-nephews and nieces.

The Wonalancet Chapel Corporation will receive $1500 as well as the Wonalancet Outdoor Club and the Wonalancet Associates, Inc. Lillian Bowles and Walter C. Walker were each left $2000 and James Nowell of Winchester $1000. The full amount of the estate was not made public. Judge Lawrence G. Brooks of the Malden Court and Harriet Pillsbury, Mr. Rich's secretary, are named executors.

Mr. Howard A. von Suck, formerly of Norwood street and active in the Winchester Art Association during his residence in town, is chairman of the governing board of the Ipswich Art Association which is having its annual exhibition at the South Parish House there. Mr. von Suck assisted in hanging the material for the show which opened July 25, continuing until August 15.

St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, and Rev. Father Fletcher, O. M. I., served as chaplains to the Archbishop and Mgr. Walter Leach of the Diocesan House was seated in the sanctuary with 18 priests from the archdiocese.

Among those at the mass prominent in civil life was Mayor James M. Curley of Boston.

Archbishop Cushing delivered the eulogy, saying first that here is a boy home from the war! He said further that war never settled anything and pointed out that those who make wars do not have to fight them.

He emphasized the fact that Frank Burns had died for all Americans, and recalled Christ's words, "Greater Love Hath no Man than that he Lay Down his Life for his Friend." Archbishop Cushing said he wished to leave those present three words, "Live, Rest and Love", of which the best of all is "Love".

Military honors were accorded by a detail of Legionnaires and Veterans of Foreign Wars, commanded by Legion Post Commander Walter J. Burns. Legion and Veterans' Colors were posted at the mass, the Legion color-bearers being Thomas J. McKee and Neil J. McCarthy, and the V. F. W. color-bearers, Henry Height and Clement Landry. Color-guards were Edward F. Boyle of the Legion and Guy H. Washburn of the V. F. W. Pallbearers were Charles D. Roche, P. T. Foley and Martin J. Foley of the Legion and Mark A. Kelley, John T. Horn and Robert S. McKee of the V. F. W.

Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden The flag from the casket was presented to Mrs. Burns, mother of the young soldier, by Sgt. McGowan.

Pvt. Burns died January 3, 1945, of wounds received in action in Luxembourg, December 28, 1944. He too was 20 years old, and had been overseas nearly a year at the time of his death, going across March 20, 1944. He entered service July 28, 1943, and was a member of Headquarters and Supply Company, 204th Engineers, C. Battalion, attached to the Third Army.

Pvt. Burns was born in Everett but spent his boyhood in Winchester, attending the Winchester schools and Admiral Farragut Academy for three years before graduating from New Preparatory School. Besides his parents he leaves three sisters, Justine, A., Mary Patricia and Mary Letitia Burns, and a brother, Edward Burns, all of Winchester.

WINCHESTER AND CONCORD TIE

Winchester and the Concord Town Team played a 2-2 tie in the Paul Revere League series Tuesday evening at Concord, with Vern Slack driving in both local runs with a line-drive single and Fran Poirier making a grand-stand back-hand catch of a hard hit ground ball to the end of the game.

Sam Tompkins was very fast and had a nice jump on the ball, but questionable decisions on corner pitches kept him in trouble all the way. The summary:

WINCHESTER WON 13 INNING TILT FROM BELMONT

Winchester won a Marathon Paul Revere League game last Saturday afternoon on Leonard Field from the Belmont Town Team, coming from behind and scoring two runs in its half of the 13th, after the "Townies" had broken the long tie in their half.

Vern Slack, high school right-hander, went the route for Winchester, and after the 5th settled down and pitched his best ball of the year. Only 29 men faced him in the last 8 innings and he retired the side in order in the sixth, seventh and eighth frames, duplicating the feat in the 10th, 11th and 12th. The tall fast-baller fanned 10, walked only three and gave up only 9 hits, six of these coming in the first five innings.

Cogan with four hits in six times up led Winchester's batting attack and Jimmy Olivier accepted 11 chances without a slip-up. Winchester had men on in each inning after the 8th, but couldn't break through. The summary:

WORK ON MAIN STREET BEGUN

The Chapter 90 project of resurfacing Main street from Symmes Corner, northerly to Mystic Valley Parkway, is well under way, with the removal of the old street railway tracks from the middle of the street being done first. These old tracks are bringing more than $37 a gross ton, and it is estimated that approximately 100 tons of tracks will be removed.

Winchester is doing this job under Chapter 90 which means that the Town, State and County share the expense. A shovel hired from the Reed Construction Company has been removing the rails and while this work has been proceeding traffic has been proceeding more or less normally at either side of the excavation.

Mrs. C. H. Mason has returned to her home on Wedgemere avenue after spending the month of July at Osterville.

MOTORCYCLE OFFICER INJURED

Motorcycle Officer William T. Haggerty of the police department was quite badly shaken up and possibly seriously injured shortly after 5 o'clock Wednesday evening when his machine was in collision with an automobile driven by Charles Deroo of 36 Lebanon street. Officer Haggerty was following the car in a northerly direction along Highland avenue when the operator made a left turn into Lebanon street.

Officer Haggerty's cycle collided with the left rear fender of the car. He was thrown from the machine to the street and badly shaken up. Persons living nearby went to his assistance and a call was sent in to police headquarters, bringing the police ambulance with Officers James E. Flaherty and John J. Murray to the scene.

Officer Haggerty was taken to the Winchester Hospital and attended by Dr. Phillip J. McManus. He found he had sustained a concussion of the brain and contusions and abrasions around the head and body. Yesterday Officer Haggerty was reported to be having severe headaches, and X-rays were being taken to determine if there was further injury.

WINCHESTER POLICE ASSISTED

The Winchester Police were called upon to assist at the bad accident which took place in Stoneham at the intersection of Park and Marble streets early yesterday afternoon.

A woman and a baby were both killed, and two more women were injured when the automobile in which they were riding was in collision with one of the big trucks of the Winchester Rock and Brick Company. The injured women were taken to the Winchester Hospital.

Officer John J. Murray was sent by Lt. Edward W. O'Connell to assist the Stoneham Police with traffic and also to take pictures of the accident for the neighboring department.

"Love" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 1.
Golden Text: "We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (I John 4:16).
Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love" (I John 4:7,8). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"People go into ecstasies over the sense of a corporeal Jehovah, though with scarcely a spark of love in their hearts; yet God is Love, and without Love, God, immortality cannot appear" (p. 312).

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mary A. Roache wish to thank their friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers and the many expressions of sympathy extended them during their recent bereavement. They are especially grateful to the Winchester Police Department, to the employees of the Winchester Brick Company, Medford Telephone Business Office and the Continental Baking Company.

RELATIVES OF WORLD WAR II DEAD CAN GET GOLD STAR BUTTONS

Parents, wives or husbands of World War II dead can secure the necessary forms for procuring the Government issued Gold Star lapel button by contacting Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, WI 6-0175-W, or its commander, Walter J. Burns, WInchester 6-1363.

These recognition emblems come as a lapel button or a pin, showing a gold star on a suitable background, surrounded with a laurel wreath. Parents, wives or husbands of persons who died in service during World War II from December 7, 1941, through July 25, 1947, are eligible to receive them.

The 80th Congress directed the design, procurement and distribution of the button, known as the "Gold Star Lapel Button". The law provides that one such button will be furnished without cost to the widow, or widower, and to each of the parents of the deceased, with the term parents including, mother, father, stepmother, stepfather, mother through adoption or father through adoption.

It is further provided that buttons or pins be furnished upon payment of an amount sufficient to cover the cost of manufacture and distribution to the next of kin of the deceased, with this designation including only children, brothers, sisters, half brothers and half sisters; and the term children including stepchildren and children through adoption.

No gold star button will be sold to any person who has been furnished one without cost, and not more than one lapel button will be sold to any one person.

A fine of not more that $1,000 or a sentence of not more than two years in jail, or both, is provided for any one who falsely wears, manufactures or distributes these Gold Star Buttons.

Dr. Milton J. Quinn of Church street returned Saturday from a week's visit with his mother, Mrs. James Quinn, in St. Joseph's Mo. He made the trip to and from St. Jo by plane, leaving Saturday, July 17 from Logan International Airport at 12 noon, EST, and arriving in St. Jo at 9 o'clock that night. He and Mrs. Quinn left town Monday to spend three weeks in Rockport.

Out of respect to the memory of our late President and Treasurer, John D Coakley, the offices of the PARKER LANE WINN CO. will be closed all day Monday, August 2.

"FORGOTTEN" TERRAPINS ARE TOSSED OUT OF STEWING PAN INTO COLD WORLD

Another symbol of the "good old days" is passing. Waning demand for rich terrapin stew, the high point of expensive dining in the Gay Nineties, has resulted in the closing of the world's largest diamondback hatchery, at Beaufort, North Carolina.

The evicted terrapins have been spared the fate of ending in a gourmet's feast, but at the price of shifting for themselves in North Carolina's coastal salt marshes.

Whatever their subsistence problems after years of being fed and housed by a Government supported hatchery, the released diamondbacks have the advantage at least of belonging to a family with an outstanding survival record, notes the National Geographic Society. The turtle, of which the diamondback terrapin is one of many varieties, looks back on no less than 200,000,000 years of existence.

Older Than Man

To this persistent, plodding reptile, dinosaurs were merely a passing phase, and man a new development. Individual turtles themselves have a long life span. Many go beyond the century mark. Some at death have been estimated between 200 and 250 years old.

The Chinese, with their traditional respect for age, especially admire the venerable turtle. Even in the midst of famine this nutritious food is seldom sought.

Among the edible turtles of the United States, the terrapins are noted blue-ribbon winners. One of the better known species, along with the familiar mud, box, and snapping turtles, the diamondback terrapins are found from the New England Coast to the Gulf of Mexico. The first colony to be transplanted to the Pacific was set up in California in 1943.

Slave Ration Cut

Diamondbacks were sold in Philadelphia markets back in colonial days. Maryland then had a law prohibiting the feeding of terrapin meat to slaves more than three times a week. By the beginning of the 1900's, hunters threatened the reptile with extinction. The government began studies for its preservation, and various states in which the turtle occurs passed laws to protect it.

The Beaufort, North Carolina, breeding station of the Fish and Wildlife Service was established in 1909. In the years up to its recent demise, it released nearly 250,000 terrapins for restocking national refuges and other coastal districts.

At periods of peak demand, commercial terrapin caught by fishermen or produced and fattened on individual "farms" have sold for $100 a dozen. Just before World War II, specimens six and seven inches long brought six or seven dollars apiece, with prices rising sharply for each added half inch.

In natural state, in the salty, shallow marshes that provide favorable breeding ground, the turtles will eat nearly anything including small crabs, worms, snails, insects, fish, and vegetation. Although man is normally the great enemy, terrapin eggs and the helpless young are the prey of various birds, rodents, and other small mammals.

The Loring Avenue Seniors remain undefeated as they added three more victories during the past week in the Playground Baseball League. Nothing short of a complete collapse can now prevent them from winning the championship of the Senior division. The Leonard Field Intermediates gained their seventh victory of the season and now lead their division by three full games. In the Junior division, Leonard Field and Loring Avenue are separated by only half a game.

The Leonard Field Seniors defeated a visiting Stoneham playground senior team 2 to 0 in a well played game at Leonard Field last Friday morning. Roddy Delorey pitched masterful ball for the locals, granting only three hits and never being in serious trouble. In the smaller boy's softball league, Leonard Field defeated Ginn Field 19 to 2. The Loring Avenue boys kept pace with the leading Leonard Fielders by also defeating Ginn Field by a score of 23 to 6.

If you see gay spots of color bobbing through the streets of Winchester, look carefully as it is probably one of the crocheted hats made at the playgrounds. The needles have been busily clicking as the children have been active making crocheted hats with embroidery on them to dress them up colorfully. The group taking crocheting lessons is growing larger every day.

Practice on the knitting needles has been going on, too, and some youngsters are now ready to start knitting mittens for the coming winter. Bring down your needles and join the knitting classes but do not worry about a knitting bag as we will be making our own shortly. The potholders are taking on a "new look" as the youngsters are experimenting with original designs to combine complimentary colors. Some of the results may surprise mother but it is constructive, useful, and fun.

"ALL MY SONS" AT TUFTS THEATRE

The Tufts Summer Arena Theatre has its final performances of "All My Sons" tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30 on the Tufts Oval. Directed by a Tufts graduate, Norman Ashton of Medford, who returns to the Yale School of Drama in September after serving as drama instructor at Tufts this summer, the play is the one that won the Critics Circle award in 1947.

It is a novel experience to attend the Tufts theatre. The audience sits in a three-rowed tier of seats which surrounds the circular arena, near enough so that aisle-seat spectators are brushed by the actors as they make their entrances and exits through the same corridors used by the playgoers in reaching their seats. Everyone gets plenty of closeups of the actors.

Prof. John M. Woodruff of Sheffield road is co-director of the theatre. Between the acts the audience strolls on the cool porch of the theatre and sips refreshing punch, or visits with other playgoers. A fan system which has been installed in the [illegible] makes it comparatively cool in the arena even on hot nights.

ROTARY NEWS

Another open meeting of unfrocked Rotarians was held at the usual place and time last Thursday, with Jim McGrath back at the console because of Milne's sore finger Charlie Koch led one number and then called out of retirement that once great Maestro Aram Mouradian to lead a second number with all the old fire that has put him in the foremost of all Rotarian Songleaders.

There followed a business meeting which consisted a reaffirmation of various committees and their personnel. A report on bowling was made by Harry Chefalo. The plans now contemplate a league starting the first Wednesday in October with several six man teams working under the handicap system. John Navaro has kindly contributed a Rotary Cup wherein the winning teams will be enscribed for some ten years. Harry desires that all men wishing to join the league will please state their desires to him as early as possible so he can make up the schedule.

The jovial, genial outing man of the year, Alan Wilde reported final plans for the golf outing to be held at the Unicorn Golf Club. Members will attend the usual luncheon meeting on August 12th and then will proceed in their own cars to the club where golf and other sports will be indulged in for the afternoon. This will be followed by a dinner served by our own caterer at the club. Alan also announced that Rotarians may invite and pay for guests.

Clippings from the STAR Files

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

July 20, 1923

Harry Collins, 8 year old son of Harry A. Collins of 5 Elmwood avenue was struck by an automobile Tuesday noon on Mt. Vernon street in front of the E. C. Sanderson store. A bump on the nose and a sprained ankle were his only injuries.

Over 300 children were entertained at Lynn Beach yesterday by the Winchester Lodge of Elks.

Jame Gargas, the print dealer, having the store on Mt. Vernon street, has sold his business to his brother, Theodore. Mr. Gargas will sail for his native country, Greece in a few days.

Invitations are out for the approaching marriage of Miss Maude Gurney of Hemingway street and Henry Harold Dover, also of this town, on July 28, at the First Congregational Church.

Four Winchester boys were in the accident in the "Thunderbolt" at Revere Beach last Saturday night when one car was in collision with another. The party included Lawrence McLaughlin, Dean Scott, Roy Humphrey and George Nowell. The attendance at the Palmer Street Playground is reported to be about 100 during the afternoon hours daily.

The telephone strike has passed on peacefully in this town that the majority of our residents are hardly aware that such industrial strife is underway, the local office has not lost an operator, and not only have our girls stuck to their jobs but they have been particularly attentive in giving their subscribers 100% service.

Brisket corn beef, 25c; thick end corn beef, 25c; roast pork, 25c; fresh shoulders, 18c; smoked shoulders, 18c; corned shoulders, 18c; hams, whole or half, 25c; sliced ham, 45c; at Blaisdell's Market.

Mrs. Charles A. Burnham and family of Everett avenue are at Sanbornville, N. H.

Sam Mathews, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mathews, who has been spending the past three weeks with his parents, has returned to school at Dunkirk, N. Y.

Mounted officer "Ned" Shea, who patrols the Winchester reservations, has one of the new khaki uniforms, being the second officer of the town to adopt the new and cooler clothes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Crawford of Wildwood street returned the first of the week from a two month's trip to the Panama Canal, coming home by way of the Yosemite Valley and other places of interest.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

July 22, 1898

Superintendent Dotten has made rapid progress in laying the new 12 inch cast iron water pipe on Church street, and a few days more it will be completed to Bacon street, where it will connect with the iron main already laid.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the Church of the Epiphany at high noon Wednesday, when Miss Marion Tracy Eustis, daughter of George Homer and Clara Eustis was united in marriage to Mr. Francis Abraham Gray of Wellesley. The Rev. Edward Everett Hale of Boston performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Theo. P. Wilson sailed Thursday for Yarmouth, N. S., she will be absent several weeks, and among some of the places to be visited will be Kentville, Digby, Annapolis and Halifax. She will be accompanied by a party of friends.

The streets in Winchester are beginning to show the effect of improved road building, and already surpass those of surrounding towns.

Mr. Chas. E. Sanderson, accompanied by his father, Mr. Edmund Sanderson, went to camp at South Framingham, Friday by way of electrics.

Chief of Police McIntosh shot a mad dog last week belonging to Mr. Edward F. Maguire.

Miss Nellie Sullivan is passing her vacation at Port Clyde, N. S.

Work on the new Unitarian Church is progressing quite slow, and it is believed that the new year will be almost here before it is completed and ready for occupancy.

Mr. Louis Goddu and family will go to Onset for the month of August.

Next Thursday will be Traders Day and all stores in town will be closed, and housekeepers should govern themselves accordingly.

A record of the soldiers, sailors and marines enlisting for the present war is to be kept by the town and it is earnstly desired that the relatives or friends send to the undersigned the full name, the company and the regiment and, if in the Navy, the name of the ship serving in, and time of enlistment. Henry J. Winde, Committee for Board of Selectmen.

CUSACKS BACK FROM WESTERN TRIP

Mrs. William C. Cusack of Lakeview road, and her sons, Bill and Jim, returned last Saturday from a nine thousand mile motor trip to the West Coast.

The boys met their mother at the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia, where Mrs. Cusack was an alternate delegate from this district and the three drove west in a new Packard to Colorado Springs where they were met by Mr. Cusack.

After visiting the Grand Canyon and Hoover Dam at Boulder City, Nev., the Cusacks, father, mother and sons, pushed on to California where they spent ten days at famous Malibu Beach.

Mr. Cusack left the group July 11, flying from Los Angeles to New York. On Sunday he was swimming in the Pacific and on Monday showing off his California tan to his business associates on Broadway.

Mrs. Cusack and the boys drove home by way of San Francisco and Sacramento, where they had a brief, but pleasant visit with Governor Earl Warren, Republican vice-presidential nominee. After stopping at Salt Lake City and Yellowstone Park they drove to Detroit, where they put the car on the boat and sailed to Buffalo. Mr. Cusack met them at Albany for the short trip back home.

In their nine thousand miles the Cusacks had only one flat tire, having a puncture in the Utah mountains. See them by all means before planning your western trip.

BOOSTING NEW ENGLAND AT CHICAGO RAILROAD FAIR

Miss Betty Bowman, North Station information clerk, shown handing Massachusetts recreational literature to John H. Moore of Oak Park, Ill. Recreational literature of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts is being given to interested visitors at the Chicago Railroad Fair by Miss Bowman who is the Boston and Maine Railroad and Maine Central Railroad informational director at the big Fair. To those who inquire about visiting New England she is giving literature and information, as a part of the efforts of the two railroads to boost Northern New England to prospective visitors from the west. Photo was made inside Boston and Maine de luxe coach which is being exhibited at the Chicago Fair.

GIRL SCOUTS RECEIVE SWIMMING CERTIFICATES

Ten girl scouts who faithfully attended the Red Cross swimming classes held three times a week for them at Palmer Beach since June 28 have been awarded beginner and intermediate swimming certificates. Girls receiving beginner certificates were: Maureen Looney, Mary Jean Newton, Arleen Radcliff, Phyllis Schiraga, Susan Whitney and Catherine DeRivera. Intermediates were: Sally Cunningham, Nancy Morse, Caroline Padelford and Mary Purchello. Red Cross swimming instructor Donald Armstrong conducted all tests and classes.

McLAUGHLIN RED HOT

Wild Willie McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of All Nabnasset, was red hot Tuesday evening at a special session of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, held "after hours" at the beach courts.

President Royal P. Teele, up from a strenuous bout with the antiques business at Provincetown and the Brewsters-on-the-Cape, called the meeting, it having been some time since either a regular or special session of the Association had been held.

The layoff was reflected in the opening match, in which the President and Secretary went down two straight before the famous Lake Street Lancers, Mr. McLaughlin and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham. In extenuation of Mr. Teele's rather mediocre showing during the entire session it should be said at once that he came to the beach without his "googles" and as a consequence couldn't see the stake at all after the first shadows of evening slid across the pond.

Even Mr. McLaughlin was affected in the first match, and it was Mr. Pridham's sky-scraper shoe that decided the issue, the Secretary's game being unaffected by his long absence from the courts for the very good reason that he has no game to affect.

The arrival of a number of small urchins, who took an immediate liking to Mr. McLaughlin, pepped the Pride of Stow up immediately, and to the enthusiastic support of his efforts by the gallery he grew as hot as a blast furnace. Ringers and double-headers slipped from his chucking hand with monotonous regularity. In one torrid streak he flung three double headers in succession and 12 ringers in fourteen shoes. Even "Willoughby" Mobbs could have taken a just pride in pitching of that order.

Naturally the other warriors were short of this form. Mr. Teele was, as we said before, without his glasses, Mr. Pridham's shoe wasn't opening and the Secretary was generally opposing McLaughlin when his occasional ringers were thrown. Consequently the McLaughlin triumph was complete and "Wild Willie" left the beach unscathed, except by the mosquitoes. Mr. Pridham won twice with Mr. McLaughlin, Mr. Teele and the Scribe once each.

Special mention should be made of a single game which the President and Secretary won from the Lake Street Lancers, after being behind 23-10. A short stretch of for him, superlative pitching on the part of the Secretary, raised the count to 23-20, after which Mr. Teele flung on a double-header that clinched the issue. His whoops of triumph brought many a raised eyebrow from fishermen around the pond.

TENNIS CLINIC RALLY

On Monday morning, August 2, at 10 o'clock at the Palmer street courts a tennis clinic rally will be held under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Corish of Arlington. At the invitation of our Town Tennis Association the New England Lawn Tennis Association has accepted to sponsor this clinic which can be a powerful shot-in-the-arm to Winchester recreation. Mr. Corish, a lawyer with offices in Somerville, is chairman of the Sectional Association's clinic committee and has long been a tennis enthusiast. Frequenters of the Palmer street courts will have no difficulty in recalling that Mr. Corish and his wife play with us from time to time as guests; the high quality of their play, the grace of daughter Nancy, and the devotion of Boy, the family dog, never fail to attract.

An invitation to attend this clinic is being sent to all those Winchester boys and girls who registered for tennis sponsorship during the Spring. It is hoped that all of them who are still in town will come and also bring some interested friend. Any other Winchesterites interested in improving their game should also attend. In every case please wear the proper tennis gear and bring your racket. The work initiated by this rally will probably continue during the ensuing weeks under the guidance of some professional teacher; but much depends upon the Town's response to the launching.

If the weather should prevent holding the rally on Monday, it will be postponed to the following day, Tuesday, August 3, at 10 o'clock. If the weather should still be bad on Tuesday, all who are interested should appear there at 10 o'clock to register for the instruction of the ensuing weeks.

JUNIOR LEGION BEAT BEDFORD, 4-3

The Winchester Junior Legion won their ninth victory of the season by defeating the Bedford American Legion team at Paige Field, Bedford, on Sunday by a score of 4 to 3. Don Kenton pitched his best game of the season in annexing this victory as he limited Bedford to five hits while striking out nine batters and scoring only one base on balls.

Winchester opened the scoring in the second inning when Daniels reached on an error by Kase. After Reardon went out, Daniels stole second and scored on a Texas League single to center by Power.

Winchester scored three times in the fifth inning after two were out. Amico reached first as the lead off man when he was hit by a pitched ball. Amico stole second and moved to third as Patterson grounded out to second base. Reardon flied out to right field. Donaghey reached first and Amico scored as J. Cerasuolo lost Donaghey's drive to left field. Daniels and Kenton were passed to fill the bases. John Power came through with his second hit and second and third runs batted in as he singled to right field.

Bedford scored three times in the seventh as V. Adams and J. Adams reached on consecutive errors. After two men were retired, Bieren doubled to center to drive in two runs and scored as Murray singled and took second on the throw to the plate. With the tieing run on second, Kenton bore down to strike out Ricker and end the Bedford threat.

MARTIN AND MONAHAN WON JACQUES CUP

Winchester Golfers Add Another Tournament Triumph

It's getting monotonous, the way members of the Winchester Country Club are knocking off the big golf trophies this season. Already Eddie Martin had brought home of the State Amateur and Bob Zirkel, the State Junior, when last week-end Eddie paired with Club Champ Joe Monahan, Jr., to win the Jacques Cup, emblematic of victory in The Country Club's annual better ball tournament. Martin and Monahan won this tournament in 1946, and repeated this year by beating Ted Bishop of Norfolk and his brother, Leon, of Thorny Lea, in 19 holes.

"Eddie" and "Joe Jr." had to play ball to win. The Bishops were pretty torrid and copped the 14th, 16th and 18th holes to even up the match for the regulation distance.

At the 19th both Monahan and Martin had par 4s, Monahan dropping an eight foot putt for his while Martin was only two feet away in three, his putt being conceeded. The Bishops had to sink 10 and 25 foot putts to halve and missed.

Martin and Monahan had a three hole lead going into the 11th, but the Bishops came strongly over the last seven to even the match. The cards:

WINCHESTER SWIMMERS SCORED AT WORCESTER

Winchester Swimming Club made its first appearance of the summer in the N.E.A.A.A.U. meet at Worcester last Saturday afternoon, scoring in two events.

Bob McGrath, who is enjoying a great season, won the 100 meter backstroke, there being no open or senior 100 freestyle.

The Winchester relay team placed second to the capable Senior sisters, Marion, Jean and Joan, representing the Wanskuk Boys Club Auxiliary. Betty MacIsaac swam the breaststroke, Lynn Aitkens, the backstroke, and Roberta Coon, the freestyle, for Winchester.

This week-end Winchester will send a team to the meet being held at the Hotel Cape Codder pool in West Falmouth.

JUNIOR LEGION BEAT MALDEN

The Winchester Junior Legion won their tenth victory of the season by defeating the Malden Junior Legion at Leonard Field on Tuesday evening by a 5 to 3 score. Although outhit by the visitors, the locals combined four hits, four bases on balls and two hit batsmen, along with five Malden errors, to score their five runs.

Winchester scored three runs in the first inning. Amico reached first when hit by a pitched ball and advanced to second as Patterson grounded out. Reardon doubled down the left field line to score Amico, Donaghey scored Reardon with a drive through the infield. Donaghey second, advanced to third on a wild pitch, and scored as the third baseman booted Kenton's ground ball.

Winchester added another run in the fourth as Williams reached on an error by the second baseman. Coon singled to left field, Williams holding second, Amico advanced both runners with a nice sacrifice bunt. Williams scored as Patterson grounded out to second base.

The final run for the locals was scored in the fifth. With one out Daniels reached second on an overthrow of first by the shortstop on Daniel's grounder. He advanced to third on a wild pitch and after Kenton was passed, Daniels scored as Power grounded out to shortstop.

"Major" Daniels pitched grand ball for five innings, granting only two hits and no other base runners during that stretch. He ran into trouble in the sixth, however, as he passed the first batter and allowed four straight hits and a hit batsman before retiring the side. The game ended on an exciting note as the first batter in the last inning was passed. The second batter singled to left, the third batter struck out, the next one singled to left field to fill the bases. With the bases loaded with one out and the infield playing in to cut off the run at the plate, Burns lined the ball to the left of Reardon who stabbed it in his gloved hand and tossed to Coon to end the game. Winchester played errorless ball and took advantage of every opening to earn a well deserved victory over what should have been a superior team.

ACTON VETS BY 6-3 COUNT

Acton Vets won their Paul Revere game from Winchester Sunday afternoon at Leonard Field, 6-3.

Lawrence, a cagy southpaw who used to pitch for Albany in the Eastern League was just too good for Winchester, showing a variety of deliveries that for the most part had the local batters handcuffed. He wasn't fast until men got into scoring position, when it was usually a case of "Kitty bar the door".

Passes proved Phil Twombly's undoing, 11 of the Vets getting free transportation. Slack got three out of four at bat, and Olivier drove in two with a double. The summary:

KAISER

FRAZER
Service wherever you go

In just two years we've built and sold more fine cars than any other new manufacturer in automobile history.

Why? Because America fell in love with the KAISER and the FRAZER on sight. Folks are streaming into Kaiser-Frazer showrooms and learning from present owners how dependable these two great cars are. They're learning — from people who drive them — how soundly they are built ... how economical they are ... how much enjoyment there is in owning one.

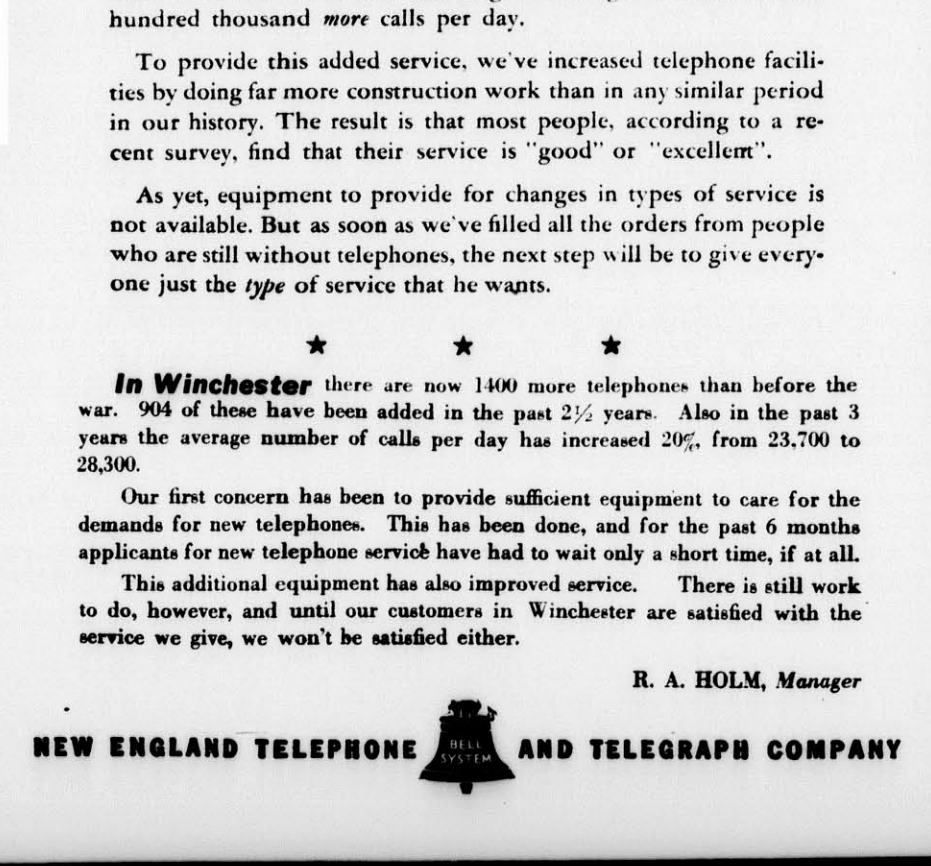

THESE ARE THE MOST-COPIED CARS IN AMERICA, road-proved by 250,000 owners in two billion miles of driving.

Because plenty of Americans insist on comfort, convenience, style and value, traditional leaders had to "move over" — as Kaiser-Frazer became the fourth largest manufacturer of motor cars in the world in two short years.

Why wait? Enjoy your new car this summer. You'll get fair treatment and highest trade-in allowance.

HOW WE'VE GROWN IN GREATER BOSTON

Yes, we've added 225,000 new telephones in Greater Boston since 1940, and we're now handling an average of a million four hundred thousand more calls per day.

To provide this added service, we've increased telephone facilities by doing far more construction work than in any similar period in our history. The result is that most people, according to a recent survey, find that their service is "good" or "excellent".

As yet, equipment to provide for changes in types of service is not available. But as soon as we've filled all the orders from people who are still without telephones, the next step will be to give everyone just the type of service that he wants.

In Winchester there are now 1400 more telephones than before the war. 904 of these have been added in the past 2½ years. Also in the past 3 years the average number of calls per day has increased 20%, from 23,700 to 28,300.

Our first concern has been to provide sufficient equipment to care for the demands for new telephones. This has been done, and for the past 6 months applicants for new telephone service have had to wait only a short time, if at all.

This additional equipment has also improved service. There is still work to do, however, and until our customers in Winchester are satisfied with the service we give, we won't be satisfied either.

AGRICULTURAL LEADERS LAUNCH FARM SAFETY WEEK

FARM SAFETY WEEK LAUDED OVER WHDH

The nation began the fifth observance of National Farm Safety Week, this week (starting Sunday, July 25, 1948).

To urge more safety precaution by all farm people, Massachusetts Commissioner of Agriculture, John Chandler, head of Governor Bradford's Committee on Farm Safety, and other representatives of agriculture and radio, appeared in a special broadcast on the WHDH "New England Farm and Food Program", heard Monday, July 26 from 12:35 - 1:00 p. m.

The individual importance of Farm Safety Week messages was expressed by Herbert K. Miller, Executive Secretary of the Middlesex County Massachusetts Farm Bureau, a former resident of Winchester; and L. Roy Hawes, Master of the Massachusetts State Grange.

Farming, it was pointed out, is the most dangerous occupation in the United States today.

Commissioner Chandler said: "It is more hazardous than most industrial occupations, more hazardous than mining, more hazardous even than the making of explosives. About 4,300 farm workers were killed and approximately 300,000 farm workers injured during 1947".

"This seems to prove", said Mr. Miller "that as farmers, we have improved more rapidly in mechanical knowledge than in safety consciousness. Farmers, and their wives and children, need to know more about safe practices."

L. Roy Hawes, Master of the Massachusetts State Grange, urged particular attention to highway safety, because, as he said: ". . . more farm people die from motor vehicle accidents than any other single type of farm hazard."

WHDH news reporter John Day, summed up the message of the broadcast when he said: "The most important news to farmers today is that this is National Farm Safety Week. Each day this week, farmers are asked to remember one important slogan: 'Remove a hazard - Save a life.'"

APPOINTED MARKET REPRESENTATIVE AT MACY'S

Miss Elizabeth Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy K. Elliott, of 40 Woodside road, has recently been appointed by the Macy Corporate Buying Division in New York to act as Market Representative for Blouses, Sweaters, Active Sportswear and Sportwear Separates.

Miss Elliott became associated with Macy's in July, 1946, after graduation from Wellesley College.

MRS. POND SECRETARY

Mrs. Shepard Pond of Salisbury street is secretary of the Boston Association of the American Neumismatic Association which is to hold its national convention in Boston August 21-25. The national association has a membership of 17,000, and people from all over the world are expected to attend its convention here. Mrs. Pond's late husband was a former president and active in the association for many years.

DEB BELLOWS ELECTED

The recent passing of Wallace Blanchard of Ravenscroft road, struck at the very base of organized tennis in Winchester. For years the Association rested comfortable in the thought that Wallace was still secretary-treasurer and a powerful mentor to prevent our ideas from getting bigger than our purse. With his sudden passing it became necessary to examine our "corporate" structure and learn that in such a crisis the Governing Board of the Association could of itself provide a new secretary-treasurer for the unexpired term. Accordingly this has been done, and we are happy to announce that our genial friend Deb Bellows of Lantern Lane has been willing to take over the heavy responsibilities of this office. We know that all members of the Association will be pleased with Deb's election to the unexpired term, and we even venture the hope that he will be willing to carry on during the years ahead. Since daughter Natalie is a steady, efficient worker every day at the back-board - the best in at least all New England - and since Deb Jr., is also learning to walk - under guidance - over to the courts, Sr.'s interest in tennis over the years to come is guaranteed.

WINCHESTER OFFICERS SIGNAL CORPS INSTRUCTORS

Major Harold W. Rice of 20 Henry street and Captain Eugene L. Weeks of 83 Grove street, are instructing in the Signal Corps ROTC Summer Camp at Fort Monmouth, N. J. The instructors for the camp are officers and enlisted men who were specially chosen and have assembled from ROTC units of Colleges and Universities throughout the country.

Major Rice is a graduate of the United States Military Academy and during World War II served in the European Theater of Operations in the Rhineland and Central Europe Campaigns.

Captain Weeks entered the service July 1, 1938, and also graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1942. During World War II he served overseas in Egypt, Libya, and Italy.

At the present time both Major Rice and Captain Weeks are attending the Harvard Business School, Harvard University.

PLANS FOR DRAFT BOARD ANNOUNCED

Governor Bradford last week announced organizational plans for the establishment of a Selective Service System in Massachusetts for the administration and operation of that System in this State. Colonel Chester A. Furbish, war time Director of the Selective Service System in Massachusetts, has been nominated to assume the duties of director.

In addition to a State Headquarters for Selective Service to be located in the Navy Building, 495 Summer street, Boston, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts will have a total of forty local boards that will operate from thirty-five locations throughout the State. Local boards are strategically located throughout the State in the interest of accessibility and convenience to registrants and board members within the limits allowed by Federal funds made available for the conduct of the operation in this State.

The figure of forty local boards is in contrast to the one hundred and seventy-three local boards found to be necessary for the conduct of full-scale operations during the war years.

The anticipated registration of approximately 275,000 persons to be conducted during the period 30 August through 18 September in conformity with the Presidential Proclamation is only a fraction of the 1,557,706 persons registered at the peak period of 1947. This, without doubt, lends ample justification to the grouping of boards and to the creation of a composite board therefrom.

Members of the newly constituted boards will be announced shortly by the Governor following the acceptance by the President of his recommendations to these positions. They will be selected almost entirely from the ranks of those persons who, having previously served in this uncompensated capacity, now indicate a willingness to patriotically assume their former duties.

Winchester is grouped with Stoneham, Woburn and Lexington under Medford in the new draft setup. During the war Winchester and Stoneham were grouped under Draft Board 161, with headquarters at the Town Hall in Winchester. W. Allan Wilde, a veteran of World War I, former chairman of Selectmen and ex-Commander of Winchester Post, American Legion, was chairman of the local board.

Fred J. Donahue, Jr., who has been on the west coast attending Leland Stanford University, is reported as confined to the Lewis Memorial Hospital at Yosemite National Park, Calif., with an aggravation of an injury sustained while serving in the Army in the Pacific area. He is reported as convalescing.

The Town Softball League enjoyed another week of hectic competition as the race for the four play-off positions becomes hotter and hotter. The St. Mary's cooled off the surging Maguire Motors by edging them 14 to 13 in a thrill packed game on Sunday. Prior to that game the Maguire Motors were the hottest team in the league.

On Monday evening the Sachems evened the season's series with the V. F. W. by defeating them 8 to 2 as Redding effectively silenced the booming bats of the league leaders. The Sachems were mentally prepared for this game and displayed their best ball of the season, giving Redding gilt-edge support, while the Vets were unsteady defensively.

The game on Wednesday evening was a thriller as first St. Mary's and then the Vets would take the lead. Neither team showed much in the way of pitching and the St. Mary's left the bases loaded in the final inning when a hit would have tied the score. Credit must be given to the Vets for rallying twice to come from behind and Paul Connors certainly keeps the Vets on their toes while adding his part toward settling the opposition.

Next week's schedule lists some attractive games which should result in some changes in the league standing. On Monday evening at Ginn Field the Maguire Motors meet the Sons of Italy in a game that should be a thriller. On Thursday evening on the same field, the V. F. W. and the St. Mary's meet again in a replay of last Wednesday's knock-down and drag-out battle. On Friday evening, also at Ginn Field, the Sachems and the Maguire Motors clash in a battle that means much to both teams.

The schedule for next week:

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors, plans for the new building of the Winchester Lodge were presented and accepted.

President C. Frongillo started the ball rolling by naming members of the board of directors to head such committees as: Building Fund Committee; Planning Committee; Pledges Committee; Publicity Committee and many subcommittees.

A meeting of the entire body was held last night, at which time the assembly was given a progress report. The members were asked to volunteer on committees, as it would be impossible for just the Board to do all the work.

On Sunday, July 11, the Winchester Lodge Degree team went to Rutland, Vt. The team initiated 50 new members into the Christopher Columbus Lodge No. 414 of Rutland.

The Winchester boys were impressed with many things about the Rutland Lodge. Among them were: The Flood Victims Fund which aided flood victims in the vicinity of Rutland; the aggressiveness of Joseph Paul, Supreme Deputy for the State of Vermont, who is working on plans to start Lodges in Bellows Falls, Burlington and White River Junction; the efficiency of the Rutland lodge in maintaining a large club house, which is done with the cooperation of all the members.

It is the hope of the Board of Directors of the Winchester Lodge that some of this spirit will be evident amongst our members. A Building that Winchester will be proud of is going to be erected. The help and cooperation of every member of the lodge is needed to make it a success.

MRS. ADELINE K. REDDY

Mrs. Adeline Kernon Reddy, widow of Hugh J. Reddy, died late Wednesday afternoon at her home, 108 Sylvester avenue, after a week's illness.

Mrs. Reddy was born 68 years ago in Wilmington, daughter of James, and Mary (Wood) Kernon. She lived in Wilmington until her marriage when she went to Woburn, living in that city for several years. She came to Winchester in 1923 and had since made her home here, being widely known among older residents of the town. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception Church.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Arthur Kinsman of Melrose, Mrs. John Cooke of Winchester, Mrs. Paul Erwin of Medford and Mrs. John Geoghegan of North Woburn; two sons, Frank J. and Eugene Reddy, both of Winchester; two sisters, Mrs. Nellie de Sloovere of Springfield and Mrs. George Browning of Beverly; 10 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning a 8 o'clock from the McLaughlin Funeral Home, 54 Pleasant street, Woburn, with high mass of requiem at the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

HOME FOR PARENTS' ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Robert E. Klein (Edith Dover) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Dover of Vine street, returned today to Roanoke, Va., where she will rejoin her husband, who is a land architect employed by the U. S. Department of the Interior on the Blue Ridge Parkway which is the southern extension of the famous Skyline Highway.

Mrs. Klein has been here for the past ten days, coming on for her parents observance of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Wednesday, July 28. Mr. and Mrs. Dover, the former Maude Gurney, were married in the First Congregational Church in 1923.

Wednesday evening they were pleasantly surprised upon returning home from dinner in town to find a group of relatives and friends waiting to greet them and extend anniversary congratulations. As a token of esteem the Dovers were presented with two pairs of silver candlesticks, their daughter making the presentation on behalf of those present.

Refreshments were served, featuring an anniversary cake decorated in white and silver.

POLICE MAKE GOOD CATCH

Get Man with Long Record for Local Breaks. Loot Recovered from Hotel Room

The police department brought to a successful conclusion last Saturday evening a case involving two house-breaks in Winchester, on which they have been working since the last of June. Local authorities say a man arrested last Saturday by Officers Thomas Parsons and James Stygles admitted the breaks in a signed statement together with other crimes, spread over a wide area of Greater Boston. The man, who identified himself as Fred G. Hughes, 65, of the Hotel Essex in Boston, is being held in $10,000 for appearance before the Grand Jury on a burglary charge. A search of his hotel room resulted in the police recovering loot, largely costume jewelry, valued at between $2,500 and $3,000.

According to Chief Charles J. Harrold the home of W. Carleton Butler at 3 North Gateway was broken into on last June 23. A quantity of jewelry was taken, and jewelry was again taken from the home of Frank B. McCullough at 38 Jefferson road, in a break there July 16. The two breaks had much in common and were believed by the local authorities to have been the work of a man seen by Officer Winthrop Palmer in the vicinity of the McCullough home on the night the break was discovered there.

The break had not been reported when Officer Palmer noticed the man, and there was nothing about him to arouse the policeman's suspicions at the time. He was however able to give a detailed and accurate description of the man, and local officers were on the watch for him.

Last Saturday evening local headquarters had reason to believe the man might be in the vicinity of Symmes Corner and route officers were notified to be on the watch while two cruisers were sent out on a hunt. Medford was also notified and a Medford cruiser came up to cover the territory from that end.

It was the Medford cruiser which finally stopped the man on Everell road near Stowell road. Previously the Medford car and the cruiser in which were riding Officers Thomas Parsons and James Stygles, had met at Highland avenue and Everell road, and had separated, the Medford car going down Everell, while the local cruiser went down Marshall road.

The Medford officers were talking to the man when the Winchester car arrived, and Officer Parsons questioned the man. He first gave the name and address of a resident of Lawson road. This proved to be fictitious, as did a second name and address on Highland avenue. As a consequence Officers Parsons and Stygles took the man in the cruiser to Box 25 where they picked up Route Officer Henry P. Dempsey. The three then took the man to headquarters where he was questioned by Sgt. Joseph Derro, booked and locked up.

When he was first brought in the man refused to talk, but Sunday morning, while being questioned by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy, he admitted having made two breaks in Winchester. While riding with Sgt. Cassidy, Officer Palmer and Lt. Edward W. O'Connell Sunday morning, the man pointed out the Butler and McCullough houses as the ones he had entered and showed the authorities the windows he had forced to gain access. In both cases the breaks were made with a chisel which the man had attempted to hide in some shrubbery at the home of Mr. W. V. Lyon at 6 Everell road, where it was recovered by Sgt. Cassidy Sunday morning. Police say the man showed the officers the bushes into which he had thrown the chisel and a screw-driver which he had before the police got on his trail.

WATER SUPERINTENDENT RESIGNED

Harry Dotten With Department Over 35 Years

The Water & Sewer Board has received the resignation of Superintendent Harry W. Dotten and has accepted it as of October 31. Mr. Dotten is at present on leave of absence and until a regular appointment is made to fill the vacancy caused by his resignation Assistant Superintendent James Halwartz will act as superintendent.

Mr. Dotten, whose father, the late William T. Dotten, was water superintendent for many years, and whose brother, the late Walter H. Dotten, was for several terms a selectman, was an employee of the Water & Sewer Department for more than 35 years. For the past 23 years he had been superintendent.

Mr. Halwartz has been with the Water & Sewer Department since prior to World War II, during which he served overseas with the Army Corps of Engineers engaged in the water supply in Italy.

They have been named Stewart and Gail. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ethier of Milwaukee and Mrs. P. Stewart Newton of Wedgemere avenue, this town. Mrs. Newton is leaving this Friday for a month's visit with her daughter.

LT. COL. RICHARD J. CLARK

WINCHESTER PHYSICIAN BACK FROM ARMY DUTY

Lt. Col. Richard J. Clark of 21 Sheffield West returned home the first of the week from a two weeks tour of duty at William's Station Hospital at Camp Edwards.

Lt. Col. Clark, one of Winchester's practicing physicians has been in the Medical Corps reserve since 1940. He wears the Bronze Star Medal and the European Theatre Ribbon with four battle stars. Two of the four years he spent in active service were spent in North Africa and Italy.

DIRECTING PLAY AT NEW LONDON

Miss Priscilla Morrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Messer of Priscilla lane, is this week directing the New London Players' production of "Parlor Story" at the summer theatre in New London, N. H.

This is the first production of "The Players" which Miss Morrill has directed, though in her younger days she directed camp plays at Camp Bonheur, Center Harbor, N. H., where she was draamtic counselor.

Miss Morrill, a graduate of Winchester High School, has been with the New London Players for three seasons, and even in her first, or apprentice year, played three leading parts with them. Last year, her second with the Players, she had five leading parts and this year returned to the theatre as a "leading actress." Last week she did an excellent job with the vampire role of Cecily Harden in the Players production of the "Two Mrs. Carrolls."

After her summer at New London, Miss Morrill will return for her senior year at Carnegie Tech, where she is a drama major. She was placed on the Dean's List for scholastic excellence at college at the close of her junior year.

NEWS FROM THE BORDENS

Dr. and Mrs. Neil H. Borden and family of Highland avenue, who have been spending the summer on Lake Minnetonka at Mound, Minnesota, report they have had a fine vacation there with plenty of good bass fishing.

Dr. Borden and three of the children, Neil, Rosanne and Johnny, enjoyed a plane trip to San Franciso and a week's visit in this California city, Dr. Borden and Neil going in the General Mills private plane and Rosanne and Johnny going in a commercial ship. Mrs. Borden and Penny remained in Minnesota.

On Sunday the entire family is starting for Yellowstone National Park, going through the Badlands, then on to Salt Lake and to Bryce Canyon and Zion Canyon.

From there they go to the north rim of the Grand Canyon and on to Mesa Verde National Park, then to Boulder, Colorado and Colorado Springs.

From this well known resort the Bordens start eastward to Kansas City and Hannibal, Mo., Springfield, Ill., Detroit, Buffalo and home, arriving in Winchester about Sept. 11.

MISCHIEF BY BOYS

Mrs. Philomena Gorrasi of 11 Irving street caught four boys pulling up vegetables from her garden at the rear of Florence street Monday afternoon. One of the boys had an air rifle and Mrs. Gorrasi claimed she was nearly struck by a slug from the gun. This boy got away but the others were held until the arrival of Officer John J. Murray, who took their names, advising Mrs. Gorrasi to seek court action.

Later in the evening police say the boy, who Mrs. Gorrasi claimed nearly struck her with his air rifle, did strike Marjorie Barksdale, 22, of 87 Harvard street as she was walking across an open field. Miss Barksdale was not badly hurt, but this time Officer Irving Reardon succeeded in locating the owner of the air-rifle, taking it from him to headquarters, notifying his parents of what had taken place.

MISS WILSON ENGAGED TO MR. FARRELL

Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Wilson of 15 Common street, Belmont, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Mr. F. Manning Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Farrell of 150 Cambridge street.

Miss Wilson graduated from Cushing Academy and served with the United States Marine Corps Women's Reserve during the war. Mr. Farrell was a member of the 9th Air Force during the war with three years service in the European Theatre.

RETURNING FROM U. N.

Dr. Ballard Attended Congress on Optics

Dr. Stanley Ballard of Lawson road, sailed Wednesday on the New Amsterdam from England, homeward bound, after serving as one of two United States delegates to the First United Nations International Congress on Optics at Delft in Holland. He is expected home next week Wednesday or Thursday.

Dr. Ballard won the distinction while abroad of being elected vice president of the permanent council of the International Congress on Optics which will next meet in London in 1950. This particular branch of the United Nations organization brought together scientists from all member countries and provided for them the opportunity to learn what has been done internationally in the field of optics during and since the war.

Dr. Ballard is a physicist, currently chairman of the Department of Physics at Tufts College. His particular speciality is spectroscopy in the field of light and he is well known in this and in other fields.

A graduate of Pomona Collage in Southern California, Dr. Ballard did graduate work at Dartmouth for two years and then got his Ph. D. from the University of California at Berkeley.

For six years after that he taught at the University of Hawaii at Honolulu, also doing research, before joining the United States Naval Reserve in 1938. He was called to active duty in June of 1941, being ordered to Washington where he was assigned to Fire Control in the Bureau of Ordnance.

Although his headquarters remained in Washington throughout the war, Dr. Ballard, with the rank of commander, traveled extensively in this country, working on guided missiles, bomb sites and on other important matters of a kindred nature. After the war he was sent to Europe to study the German developments in the field of optics, and he remained in the Navy at the request of the Department until after the atomic bomb experiments at Bikini, in which he participated.

Dr. Ballard came to Winchester in November, 1946, with Mrs. Ballard and their children, Susie, 6, and Johnny, 4. He will return to his duties at Tufts in the fall. Following the meeting of the International Congress on Optics, he visited Belgium and England where he did additional work in the optics field.

GRIFFIN PHOTOS ILLUSTRATE NEW BOOK

Louise Kent's "Village Greens of New England" Fascinating

Arthur Griffin of Euclid avenue has illustrated another book with his photographs. Those who enjoyed his photographic illustration of "The Boston Book" will be equally intrigued with his camera record of village greens, churches, taverns and fine old homes illustrating "Village Greens of New England", Louise Andrews Kent's new book from the presses of M. Barrows & Company, Inc., New York publishers.

From the purely local angle Mr. Griffin's pictures are the interesting feature of the book. Mr. Griffin is no photographic tyro. He has plenty of background and has ranged far afield throughout the world to get the snaps, color shots and stills that editors of big time publications like Saturday Evening Post and Life find add so much charm to their pages.

His color photographs of Boston have become something of a standard, and he is destined to win many new friends with his studies of old New England landmarks. There is only one color shot in "Village Greens of New England", the fronticepiece. That is of Lexington Green from the low memorial boulder, looking across seering grass to the white church with its colonial steeple rising in the midst of trees, gay with the first turn of foliage in the fall.

Not all the photographs show such familiar scenes as this, though there are included such well known landmarks as Wright's Tavern in Concord, the Frogpond on Boston Common and the old stone mill in Truro Park, Newport, R. I., immortalized by Longfellow in his "Skeleton in Armor". The swan boats in the Public Garden add a nostalgic touch for Bostonians.

Mr. Griffin has taken care and exercised technical skill to photograph his subjects for good composition and artistic appearance. Human interest is also cleverly added to many, and even without the text, the Griffin pictures would make a worthwhile record of the New England countryside. With Mrs. Kent's text they make a book to treasure.

In her story Mrs. Kent tells one all sorts of interesting things about New England places and people. For instance you learn the "why" of village "greens" and "commons". You also learn that a "green" is always a "common" but a "common" is not necessarily a "green".

There is humor in the Kent story, as well as historic fact and legend. Familiarity with and affection for her subject is everywhere apparent. Under her sympathetic pen the village green, church, tavern, surrounding houses and people, high, low and middle class, come to life in a fashion that makes for easy reading and a pride in the New England heritage.

J. Albert Horn, Jr., of Thompson street, returned home last week from Indianapolis, where he had been visiting former army buddies.

E. ARTHUR TUTEIN

E. Arthur Tutein, formerly of 53 Wildwood street and widely known in Winchester died late Tuesday night, August 3, after a short illness.

Mr. Tutein was the son of Edward Gross, and Annie Eldora (Wright) Tutein. He was born November 7, 1872, in Chelsea, was educated at the Boston Latin School and at Bryant & Stratton Commercial College, and for more than 55 years was associated with the iron and steel business, being well known to the trade. During most of his years in business he headed his own firm, E. Arthur Tutein, Inc., with headquarters in New York, and he was long a member of the American Iron and Steel Institute. Business duties necessitated his being in New York a good deal and for many years he maintained a residence there. He was however for 43 years a resident of Winchester, living first on Lloyd street and in 1918 moving to the estate at 53 Wildwood street. He had been retired for the past three years, spending his winters in Florida during that time.

Mr. Tutein was one of the organizers of the Winchester National Bank in the fall of 1917. He was the first president and one of the original directors of the bank, serving also as chairman of the board of directors. He continued as president until 1926.

He was a 32nd degree Mason and a former member of William Parkman Lodge of Winchester. He was also a member of the Old Calumet Club, Winchester Boat Club, Winchester Country Club, Boston Athletic Association and the Corinthian Yacht Club of Marblehead.

On October 15, 1892, Mr. Tutein married Edith Maud Robinson of Cambridge, who survives him, with a daughter, Mrs. Charles Ruzicka of Baltimore, Md., three sons, Dexter A., of Philadelphia, Pa., E. Arthur, Jr., of Winchester, and Richard A. Tutein of St. Paul, Minn. There are also four grandchildren and a brother, Constantine Tutein of West Roxbury.

Funeral services will be held on this Friday afternoon at 2:30 at Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, officiating. Interment will be in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

MISS MAUDE FOLTS

Miss Maude Folts, a past president of The Fortnightly, died Saturday, July 31.

She was born in Boston, May 17, 1863, the daughter of Dr. Daniel V., and Harriette (Merrill) Folts. She attended the Boston schools, and was a special student at Radcliffe College and at the University of Chicago. A member of the First Congregational Church, she was an active worker in the Mission Union and Western Missionary Society, and was for a number of years in charge of the intermediate department of the Sunday School.

Interested in all civic and philanthropic activities, Miss Folts gave much of her time and interest to the organization and running of the summer playground at the Chapin School during the first years in which The Fortnightly undertook its support.

On first coming to Winchester in 1892, Miss Folts lived with her brother at 42 Wildwood street, but for the last twenty-three years had made her home with Miss Edith Swett at 14 Hillside avenue. She leaves two nieces, Gertrude I. and Gladys M. Folts of Arlington.

Private services were held at the residence on Monday afternoon, August 2, Rev. John Prescott Robertson of the Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was at the family lot in Mt. Auburn.

WINCHESTER SKIPPERS IN RACE WEEK AT MARBLEHEAD

A number of Winchester skippers mostly from the Winchester Boat Club and Conomo Point have been sailing in the Marblehead Race Week competition this week. For the most part the local skippers have been doing very well in competition.

Melvin Moller of the W. B. C. Snipe Fleet won individual honors in the three-race series of the Eastern Yacht Club which ended Wednesday night. His Jam II took a first and two fourths which brought him in ahead of Don Simonds, Jr., who piloted his Sinbad to a first, second and sixth. The Al Litchfields —Junior and Senior—were third with their Foray II. Jim Streeton, Bart Sullivan and George Jones, Ted Burleigh, Sr., and Jr., Esther H. Larson, Carl Freyer and Don Blamire, Holbrook Bugbee and William C. Cusack, Jr., are among the Winchester Snipers competing.

Wednesday's single race, sponsored by the Boston Yacht Club, was called off because of fog and light winds.

Yesterday the three-race series under the Corinthian Club bourgee commenced and the local skippers will be battling for honors again.

George Wiswell entered his L'Derrie in the Boston Lightship Race for schooners and ketches last Sunday.

A number of Winchester skippers, including Janet and Edward Pride, Franklin J. Lane, Jr., and Peggy Richardson, are competing in the Conomo Point and Annisquam Fish Catboat series, doing pretty well to date.

One of the big oak trees at the rear of the Unitarian Church was broken off during one of the recent electrical storms. Strangely enough the tree was broken off just above a big spotlight covering the rear of the church and its parking place. The tree will have to come down.

FUNERAL FOR STAFF SGT. McGONIGLE TODAY

Body of Air Force Gunner Arrived Wednesday

Another of Winchester's hero dead came home from the wars on Wednesday. Early in the evening the body of Staff Sgt. Charles C. McGonigle, late of the United States Army Air Forces, arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGonigle, 360 Cross street, after its long journey from the European Theatre where the young soldier lost his life April 22, 1944.

Sergeant McGonigle was killed when a B-24 bomber, returning from a mission over enemy territory on the continent was intercepted by German fighter planes and disabled, finally crashing in England with the loss of the entire crew.

The body of the young hero arrived at the South Station Wednesday afternoon and was brought to Winchester by P. J. Cox & Sons, Woburn undertaking firm. Comdr. Walter J. Burns represented Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, at the home Wednesday evening with Junior Vice Comdr. Joseph Duran representing Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Representatives of both veterans organizations were again present during the visiting hours Thursday evening. Flags on the common and public buildings were displayed at half-staff.

The funeral was held from the McGonigle home this morning with military honors accorded by both the Legion and V. F. W. posts. A uniformed detachment of Legionnaires and Veterans, led by Commander Burns of the Legion and Senior Vice Comdr. Thomas E. Duddy of the V. F. W. acted as escort to the body, marching from the home to the Immaculate Conception Church with their colors and color guards.

Thomas J. McKee and Edward Boyle carried the Legion colors and the V. F. W. bearers were Creighton Horn and Thomas Mearles. Mark Kelley and Harry Lindmark were color guards.

At the church the colors were posted during the solemn requiem high mass for the young soldier which was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Barrett, S. J., of Boston College, with the pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, Rev. Fr. Edmund C. Sliney, former army chaplain, as deacon and Rev. Fr. Paul J. Moriarty, subdeacon.

Pallbearers, representing Winchester Post, A. L., and Aberjona Post, V. F. W., respectively, were Commander Burns, Martin J. Foley and Charles D. Roche and Junior Vice Comdr. Joseph Duran, William Doherty and Joseph Zaffina. The last three named were boyhood pals of Sergeant McGonigle.

Interment was in Calvary Cemeterey, where in accordance with the wishes of the family there was no military demonstration. The flag which draped Sgt. McGonigle's casket was presented to his mother by Vice Commander Duran of the Veterans' Post.

Staff Sgt. McGonigle was born in Winchester, May 19, 1924, son of Michael and Margaret E. (Kerrigan) McGonigle. He attended the Winchester schools and was a pupil at Winchester High School when he enlisted in 1943.

He trained at Miami, Fla., in Colorado and at Loredo, Tex., where he received his gunner's wings and graduated as an expert gunner with sharpshooter's medal. He went overseas in February of 1944, and was serving as a top-turret gunner when he was killed in the crash of his bomber at the age of 19. He had seen considerable action before his death.

Surviving, besides his parents, are two sisters, Mrs. Francis Perrell (Susan E. McGonigle) of Boston and Miss C. Rita McGonigle of Winchester.

BIG FIELD IN FATHER-SON GOLF

Midway through yesterday afternoon's play in the big three-day Father and Son Golf Tournament, the Winchester team of Judge Joseph W. Monahan and Joe, Jr., were still leading the field with a gross of 72, one-over-par, posted the opening day of play on Tuesday. The nearest to the Monahans on Tuesday was the 76 carded by Charles W. Mulcahy of Brae Burn and Charles, Jr. Dad Ralph and Son Douglas Wilde of Winchester was third with 77.

Ray and Bill Roberts of Wachusett, bettered the Mulcahy and Wilde cards on Wednesday with a 75, still three strokes over the Monahan figures. Winchester's Elmer and Son Bill Zirkel were one of the four teams in Wednesday's play to break 80, carding a 77, and their net 65 was as good a reduced score as any team had turned in through mid-afternoon yesterday. The Neileys, Richard and Dick, another Winchester team, also had a 65 to match the Winchester Bullocks, Archie and John, who had a 65 on Tuesday.

It was expected that the record entry of 226 teams will be eclipsed in this years tournament. For the first two days play the entry list stood at 171 with 50 teams assigned starting times Friday. Post entries are expected to enable this year's tourney to top last year's record.

REV. OTIS MAXFIELD TO PREACH AT UNION SERVICES

This coming Sabbath morning, the Union Services will again be held at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. With the pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., called to preach and broadcast from Springfield, Rev. Otis Maxfield of Wilmington will be the guest preacher. He has been prominently associated with youth work both in the New England Conference of Methodism and nationally.

COAST GUARD ON THE JOB

Reported Brother's Death to Winchester Man on Cruise

Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge W. Wyman of 65 Westland avenue are back in town after a cruise along the coast, singing the praises of the United States Coast Guard for getting an important message to them while on the water, despite the fact that locating them was quite akin to finding a needle in a haystack.

The Wymans were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Winship of Oxford street on their cruise, sailing with them on the Winship's sloop, "Kopick". Their trip started from the Winship's summer home in Wareham and took the Wymans and their hosts as far as Long Island and return.

On the return trip to Wareham the "Kopick" anchored in Nantucket Harbor, and had hardly dropped hook when the Coast Guard arrived to report the death of Mr. Wyman's brother, Dwight, two days previous in Barrington, R. I. Coast Guard cutters and stations had been trying to locate the "Kopick" for the two days following his decease. Radio messages had not been received and it was necessary to actually find the "Kopick" among a lot of boats on the coast to relay the sad news.

The Wymans did some quick checking and found that by chartering a plane from Nantucket Harbor they could arrive at Barrington in time for the funeral. They made the trip on schedule, and after two days in Barrington, rejoined the "Kopick" and the Winships at Hyannis, cruising back with them to Wareham with a couple of stops en route.

According to both the Wymans and the Winships it's the Coast Guard for service, and many others who have benefitted from this hard-bitten group of sea-dogs will agree.

OPERATOR INJURED AS TRUCK RAMMED CAR

A young woman driving an automobile south on Cambridge street at Wildwood street, Monday afternoon shortly after 4:30 was taken to the Winchester Hospital with injuries sustained when her machine was struck in the rear by a White tractor-truck, owned by the R. S. Brine Transportation Company of 194 West First street, South Boston, and driven by George T. Busby of 40 Hancock street, Somerville.

According to the police the driver of the Buick was Florence G. Rice of 73 Poplar street, Chelsea. The machine was registered to Americo Mazzone of 276 Paris street, East Boston. The Buick was also in collision with a Chevrolet sedan, being driven south on Cambridge street by Joseph A. Tanguay of 288 Textile avenue, Lowell, who told the police his car was struck in the rear by the Buick as he slowed down for traffic at Wildwood street. The rear of the Chevrolet and the front of the truck were slightly damaged. The rear of the Buick was badly smashed.

When Officers Thomas Parsons and John Boyle arrived at the scene they found Miss Rice unconscious and being cared for by James A. Deignan of 482 Wilder street, Lowell, a passenger in her machine. She was taken to the Winchester Hospital by Officers John J. Murray and Edward F. Bowler in the police ambulance, and treated by Dr. Charles Rooney. She was held for observation after treatment.

Mrs. Alma Tanguay, who was riding with her husband in the Chevrolet complained of injuries to her neck.

BAD DUMP FIRE

The Fire Department had a hard time with two fires at the town dump Sunday evening and Monday forenoon. The men were called to the dump about 5:30 Sunday afternoon, remaining until 9:30. Monday morning about 7:30 they were again called to the dump, staying until around 11.

According to the men the fires were particularly hard to fight due to the fact that the inflamable material was burning under fill, making it necessary to dig down to reach the flames and use water at very high pressure. They were a tired and hot crew when they returned to headquarters Monday forenoon.

MISS SMITH, MR. WARREN ENGAGED

Mr. Carleton D. Smith of Pine street announces the engagement of his daughter, Carolyn, to Mr. Donald Warren, son of Mrs. Viola Warren of Greeley road, and Mr. Howard Warren of Wellesley.

Miss Smith, whose mother was the late Dorette Smith, is a graduate of the Winchester schools and is planning to continue her education in the fall. Mr. Warren served with the Army for three years, two of which were spent with the Medical Corps in the South Pacific. He is now attending the School of Practical Art in Boston.

An early June wedding is planned.

ROTARY NEWS

Forty-three members were present at the weekly meeting of the Rotary held at the usual meeting place, the Masonic hall. In addition there were two reported make-ups from Jimmy Cullen down on the Cape and from "Church" Hindes up in Vermont. Church has a fine attendance record and always makes up when away from the home club. Charlie Koch called in to assist him in the song leading John Wallace who was greeted, like Ted Williams, with a mingling of boos and cheers. The singing itself left much to be desired in the way of proper pitch.

A brief report was given the club by President Don on the 196 district assembly which was held at the Hotel Statler. Charlie Murphy, Wade Grindle, Ralph Bonnell, John Wallace and Ralph Purrington all attended with President Don. Each man reported on the high lights as they saw them and as one voiced the opinion that there is much of value to receive from attendance at these district meetings.

A report from Harry Chefalo showed that the bowling committee has plans well under way for a first season of team bowling Members should contact Harry as soon as possible in order that he may reserve the required number of alleys. A deposit is required to ensure the committee of a given number of bowlers each night.

Nick Fitzgerald and Al Elliott announced plans for a giant penny sale to be held at the Town Hall on November 12th. At that time the Ford car donated by Ralph Bonnell will be drawn. Tickets of chances on this car will be printed in the near future. It is planned that prizes for the sellers of the most tickets and also for the seller of the lucky ticket will be awarded. Details on this hospital fund drive will be released to the public from time to time throughout the next few weeks.

SCOUT BIKERS IN BURLINGTON, VT.

From Burlington, Vt., through the courtesy of Mr. Robert E. Fay of Park avenue, comes a newspaper clipping showing a picture of Winchester Girl Scouts, while on an extended bicycle tour, lined up with their wheels and equipment at Morrill Hall on the UVM campus, just before starting east on U. S. Route 2 to Montpelier.

In the group with Barbara Metcalf, executive director of the Winchester Girl Scout Council and Mrs. Brad Hersey, leader of Storrow Troop, are Cynthia Morse, Kathleen Finn, Dorothy Clarke, assistant leader; Shirley Carey, Jean Farquhar, Virginia Dyer and Carolyn Padelford.

The Winchester party went to Burlington from Montreal and was entertained for two days by Burlington Girl Scouts and leaders. Parties were held and members of Girl Scout Troop 19 of Burlington accompanied the Winchester group to Ausable Chasm, N. Y. The Winchester Scouts returned home last week after a wonderful trop.

WINCHESTER "REVERES" AND LEXINGTON IN TIE

Winchester's entry in the Paul Revere League played a 2-2 tie game with Lexington at Leonard Field last Thursday night.

The game was well played on the whole with several good fielding performances, chief among them being a great running catch of a fly ball in foul territory by Bellino with two aboard which saved Winchester possible trouble. Cousens also contributed a nice throw to the plate with two on that held the runner at third.

The locals twice had the winning runs on, but wasted them. The visitors tied it in the sixth, their equalizer coming in as a couple of local fielders pulled an "Alphonse-Gaston" act, permitting a pop fly to fall safely. The summary:

ST. MARY'S GIRLS' SOFTBALL TEAM DEFEATED STRONG ARLINGTON TEAM 12-11

In as thrilling a game as one would care to see, St. Mary's Girls' team defeated St. James of Arlington 12-11, last Thursday evening, July 29, at Shore Road Field. Trailing by 7 to 0 in the 4th inning, the victors staged a steady rally, with St. James giving them no quarter, and finally emerged the winner by a single point.

The uphill battle had the spectators literally on the edge of their seats rooting for the St. Mary's girls, prompted by the fact that some of the Arlington girls seemed much older than the Winchester girls. However it will be remembered that the St. Mary's girls were League Champs last year, winning 18 games, losing 1 and tying 1 game.

This year they are not in the Essex League since the majority of the teams are so far away in Salem, Peabody, etc. They had had hoped to join a league in Middlesex but none has been formulated to date. However, they have been tackling all comers and thus far have beaten among others, St. Mary's of Ayer 10-8 and 24 to 4, etc.

To get back to the Arlington game: St. Mary's tallied 4 runs in the 4th on "Mousie" Welch's double, Fran Capone's single, Peggy O'Leary's double, a base on balls to Gerry Ciarcia and Ginger Frongillo's single.

In the 5th inning 2 runs were pushed over on Welch's base on balls, Fran Capone's single, bases on balls to O'Leary and Ciarcia and a costly error on a ball hit by Leona Wharf, after Patsy Mawn had singled.

The 6th was a real thriller with St. James now leading 10 to 6. Sally Morgan led off with a hit with Fran Oliver getting on by an error. Then Fran Capone came through with a single and a run and Peggy O'Leary hit a monstrous home run to chalk up 3 more runs for her side.

With two out Leona Wharf smashed out a beautiful triple to score Patsy Mawn who had walked and Leona scored on an overthrow at third on an attempt to cut her down at the hot corner.

These six runs did the damage to Arlington and with darkness at hand the latter pushed over a run with two outs in their half of the 7th, and the game ended 12 to 11, leaving the spectators breathless to say the least. Fran Capone got three hits out of 4 times up and scored 4 runs. Gerry Ciarcia was a much feared batter and was walked 3 times. Patsy Mawn made the fielding gem of the game with a spectacular catch in right. Peggy O'Leary had 4 runs batted in with a homer and double.

The score:

Fans at the Town Softball League never know what to expect these evenings as the race for the play-off positions continue with the regular schedule about two-thirds completed. On Tuesday evening, the K. of C. pulled the biggest upset of the year when they loosed all their latent batting power to drub the V. F. W. 22 to 10. Red Walden pitched superb relief ball in this contest, holding the Vets scoreless over the last four innings, while Jim Caulfield looked immense in center field.

Then on Wednesday evening the Rockets shocked the Sachems and prevented them from gaining any ground on the Vets by beating them 10 to 7 behind the steady pitching of Jim Hannon. Incidentally, the Rockets won three games during the past week to move up into a deadlock for sixth place and still keep their play-off hopes alive.

The Maguire Motors lost a tough game to the Sons of Italy on Monday evening by a score og 13 to 12. In this game the Maguire Motors put on the most amazing rally seen in the league this year. Trailing 12 to 3 going into the seventh inning, the Maguire Motors scored nine times after two were out to knot the score. The Sons of Italy were not to be denied, however, and came in to score the winning run in the last half of the seventh.

The two feature games of next week's schedule should come on Monday and Tuesday evenings at Ginn Field. On Monday evening, the St. Mary's and the Maguire Motors meet for the third time this year, with the St. Mary's having won the two previous encounters. On Tuesday evening, the Sons of Italy and the V. F. W. meet for the second time this year with the V. F. W. having won the earlier encounter by a slender 10 to 9 margin.

The schedule for next week:

TENNIS CLINIC BEGINS AND CONTINUES

Mr. Corish's tennis clinic which we told you about last week met on Monday morning from 10 to noon. It will continue this coming Monday at the same time and place: Palmer street tennis courts. In case of rain it will be held on Tuesday morning.

An enthusiastic group of 34 boys and girls appeared at the courts last Monday to hear Joe Corish expound and demonstrate tennis fundamentals. It is a game of motion. It is played with the whole body. The wrist must be locked; do not use it as a hinge. Fore-hand grip and stroke; back-hand grip is like your grip on an axe or a hatchet. Footwork: shift the weight. Such fundamentals as these were taught and illustrated with the help of Dot Hills. Next Monday these same fundamentals (along with the volley) will be reviewed, and something will be said and done about the serve. Even oldsters like the present scribe derive benefit from these demonstrations.

N.E.A.A.A.U. CHAMPIONSHIP MEET AT LEONARD FIELD POOL AUGUST 14

The swimming meet held in Winchester annually under the auspices of the New England A.A.A.U. will take place at Leonard Field Pool on Saturday afternoon, August 14, commencing at 2:30.

This is the big championship meet which the efforts and interest of Helen Jay Carroll, former beach supervisor and Red Cross swimming instructor, brought to Winchester. This year Anna Murray, who is taking Miss Carroll's place, is handling the arrangements, and hopes to have the usual representative list of entries. In past years, some of the best swimmers hereabouts, headed by the great Clara Lamore, have come to Winchester. Clara has announced her retirement from competition after the Olympics, but there are gals like the Senior sisters, Joanna Berggren, Connie Mills, Coralie O'Connor, Louise Sherlock and Winchester's own "Barbie" Donaghey and Lynn Aitkens who are well worth watching in action.

As a matter of fact the meet will give Winchester fans a chance to see the members of the Winchester Swimming Club go against the top fight boys and gals of New England, with Bob McGrath, ace boy sprint swimmer of the town, probably competing in a couple of events and Lynn Aitkens, Betty MacIsaac, Roberta Coon and the McGowan boys in there against the opposition.

The Leonard Field Juniors took the lead in their division of the Playground Baseball League by defeating Loring Avenue 8 to 4 in a well-played game. The Leonard Field Intermediates consolidated their lead in the Intermediate division by dividing their two games during the past week to Loring Avenue. After Charlie DeFilippo defeated them 11 to 9 in the first game, Peter Coon bested DeFilippo 9 to 4 in what was a pitching duel for four innings. Interest in the Junior and Intermediate divisions remains high as Leonard Field and Loring Avenue are closely bunched but the Loring Avenue Seniors are undefeated and are romping to a championship in their division.

The Ginn Field Seniors travelled to Stoneham Friday morning and were defeated 8 to 0 by the Stoneham ball players. In the smaller boys' softball league Leonard Field and Loring Avenue divided their games during the past week as Loring Avenue won 7 to 4 and Leonard Field won 19 to 13. Leonard Field also defeated Ginn Field by a score of 12 to 5. In girls' softball, Loring Avenue finally ended the supremacy of the Leonard Field girls by defeating them 14 to 5.

We told you last week that our friend, "Mack" McKenzie of the Woburn "Times" did well on his annual vacation-day fishing trip to Scituate. We did not however at that time know how well he did, so we hasten to add the word that he won the prize for catching the biggest fish in his party, a six-pound haddock.

JUNIOR LEGION BEAT BEDFORD SENIORS

The Winchester Junior Legion defeated the Bedford American Legion at Leonard Field last Sunday afternoon by a score of 3 to 2 in a well played game. This victory marks the eleventh of the season for the locals against three defeats.

The game was high lighted by a sparkling pitching performance by Don Kenton who struck out fourteen Bedford hitters while granting only six hits and three bases on balls. The Winchester pitcher improved as the game progressed, for after being a bit shaky in the first two innings, he allowed only three hits and no bases on balls over the last seven innings.

Winchester scored one run in the first inning as Patterson worked Adams for a free ticket to first base. He was sacrificed to second by Coon. Reardon singled to left, Patterson holding up at third. Kenton was passed to fill the bases. Power singled to right, scoring Patterson but Reardon was out at the plate on a nice throw from Cerasulo in right field.

Bedford held a 2 to 1 lead until the seventh when Winchester scored twice to win the game. Reardon opened with a single to left field and advanced to third base on a passed ball. Power grounded back to the pitcher who fumbled the ball when he took his eye off it to look at Reardon coming in from third, both runners being safe. Power went to second as Williams grounded out, advanced to third on a passed ball, and scored on a short passed ball, sliding in beautifully under the pitcher who had covered the plate to take the throw from the catcher.

Coon played well at left field and second base, cutting down a runner at the plate with an accurate throw from left field. Reardon collected two important singles to lead the locals' attack and "Major" Daniels snuffed out Bedford's last chance in the 7th when he made a nice running-in catch of a sinking liner with one out and two on doubling the runner on second.

ORGANIZED TENNIS IN WINCHESTER

The recent passing of Wallace Blanchard of Ravenscroft road makes for pause and recollection. The tennis players of our town have for so long a time identified him with their favorite sport and social activity that we feel compelled to chronicle in outline the history of the Winchester Tennis Association, which will soon attain its majority. As recorded recently in these pages of the STAR, the present Association was preceded by the Winchester Lawn Tennis Association, which, in turn, grew out of the Benedict Club and its private courts on Governor's avenue. Available materials, however, permit us to trace only the history of the present Association, and since that goes back over twenty eventful years some readers may think that even this is delving back too far into ancient history.

The Association was formed at a meeting held on May 20, 1929, and records show that the charter members, many of whom are still active in Town affairs, were as follows:

William S. Packer, honorary member
Robert B. Blackler
Wallace Blanchard
August J. Boyden
Arthur E. Butters
Marguerita Centerwall
Norman Cushman
Clinton E. Farnham
Hall B. Gamage
Wade L. Grindle
Robert F. Guild
Kenneth L. Hall
Wendell D. Mansfield
James A. Riley
Lucille Skillings
Chandler W. Symmes
Stephen E. Thompson
Leonard O. Waters

At that first meeting Wallace Blanchard was elected Secretary-Treasurer and continued to be re-elected down to his unfortunate demise a short time ago. He will continue to be greatly missed by his fellow fans.

From 1929 through 1934, Wade L. Grindle, now the Principal of our High School, was president. For 1929 and 1930 Augustus J. Boyden was Vice-President, and from 1931 through 1934 Lowell R. Smith was Vice-President. From that time on a different player each years has served as President, normally after having been Vice-President during the preceding year:

1936 Herbert F. Ross
1937 A. T. Smith, Jr.
1938 W. B. Hersey
1939 Hazen H. Ayer
1940 Richard F. Riley
1941 W. Irving Plitt
1942 W Campbell Ross
1943 Lester P. Leathers
1944 Dwight E. Bellows
1945 James R. Ware
1946 Robert A. Drake
1947 Conrad S. Rosander
1948 Kenneth M. Hills

At present W. A. Nutter of Blackhorse Terrace is the Vice-President, and Dwight E. Bellows of Lantern Lane has been named by the Governing Board to fill Wallace Blanchard's unexpired term as Secretary-Treasurer.

The Association has the fostering of tennis in general as its goal, but particularly its interest is in tennis at Winchester. Dues are only one dollar per year, and every resident or employee of the town is eligible for membership. There is also a junior membership open to younsters who are not lucky enough to have adult, tennis-playing relatives.

WINCHESTER SWIMMERS SCORED AT FALMOUTH

Bob McGrath and Lynn Aitkens won places for the Winchester Swimming Club last Saturday at the New England A.A.A.U. Swimming Meet at the Cape Codder Hotel Pool in Falmouth.

Bob was second to his big rival, Charlie Stephanos of the Lynn Boys Club in the 100 meter freestyle open event, and placed third in the National Junior 50 meter freestyle, won by another Lynn entrant, Donald Sonia. Bob had previously led both Stephanos and Sonia home in several meets this spring. Joe Michalczyk of Pawtucket was second.

Lynn Aitkens won the only place for Winchester in the women's competition when she finished third in the 100 meter breaststroke open behind Jean and Joan Senior of Wanskuk.

MAYNARD EDGED WINCHESTER IN REVERE LEAGUE

League-leading Maynard was lucky to win a 2-1 ten-inning victory over Winchester in the Paul Revere League series Sunday afternoon at Maynard. The locals threw away enough chances to win several ball games, nullifying a swell pitching performance by big Sam Tompkins, who allowed only six hits in the ten frames and was ahead of the batters all the way.

Vern Slack had a tough time of it in center in the third, dropping two successive fly balls with two out to hand Maynard a one-run lead. Tompkins pitched himself out of a hole in the 6fth when the two men to face him hit safely.

"Sambo" put on steam, forced the next man to tap to pitcher and the next to pop up. The next man walked to fill the sacks, but Tompkins really bore down to get the next batter on strikes.

The locals tied up the game in the 7th. Phil O'Rourke walked, moved up on an error and was over on Modoono's second hit. Winchester had the winning run on base in the 8th, 9th and 10th, but couldn't get it over.

A local error put the first Maynard man up in the 10th aboard. The next batter, trying to bunt, popped up, but another error put men on first and third with only one away.

Maynard tried the squeeze, but once again Tompkins spoiled the batter's try, aided by Phil O'Rourke, who made a great diving catch of his little popper not more than 10 feet from the plate.

The man on third got back, but with two out it looked good when Maynard's next effort was a routine grounder. Another bobble however let the runner on and the winning run over, spoiling Tompkins' day.

Jim Olivier handled 11 chances cleanly at second and Eddie Modoono hit 3 times in four trips. The summary:

Have you seen Winchester's Junior Legion baseball team in action this summer. If not, you should really try to see this group of youngsters play what used to be the National game. They really put on a good show, and best of all is the improvement they have shown through the season under the expert coaching of "Ted" Bartlett, Winchester High School's baseball and basketball mentor. "Bart" has done, and is doing a great job with this team of young town boys, and some of the youngsters are commencing to show real promise for future years. Winchester won no championship in the Junior Legion series, as was to be expected, but they did give a mighty good account of themselves and are continuing to play twice a week through the summer. Make it a point to see these boys. They and their coach could use some real home-town encouragement, and they deserve it!

Still another policeman, Officer William Haggerty this time, has been injured while riding the department's motorcycle. The list of Winchester officers so injured is a long one, including Lt. O'Connell, the late Sgt. Noonan, and Officers Hogan, Murray, Palmer and Reardon, to mention those who come to mind without a careful check. It is getting so now that local officers are a bit leary about doing motorcycle duty, and well they may be, for under today's traffic conditions riding a motorcycle is dangerous business, especially on short, winding and intersecting streets. Police departments having long stretches of through ways to patrol still use motorcycles efficiently and reasonably safely, and it should be remembered that the State Police, who make so much use of these machines, give their officers a very rigorous and complete training before sending them on the highway astride the tricky things. Winchester's luck with police motorcycles has not been too good. We are not prepared to say that we should get rid of the one we now have, though in view of past experience such a contention would be debateable at least. The police motorcycle has long been a traffic-control symbol and an officer mounted on one of the barking machines seems to exercise an exemplary restraint on the speed-minded motorist. Whether in view of everything a motorcycle still should have a place in our police setup is, of course, something for the Chief and Selectmen to decide.

WINCHESTER MILITARY MAN POWER COMMITTEE

Editor of the Star:

At the request of the U. S. Army there is being formed in Winchester, a Military Man Power Committee of which the writer has been asked to serve as chairman. The purposes of the committee are to bring closer together the Military Personnel Procurement Service to the people of Winchester; to be of assistance to men of Enlistment and Selective Service age and to their parents by bringing the Army's story to them and in every way possible, be of assistance to the army and townspeople. The committee will start in active operation Sept. 1, 1948.

In the meantime, may I point out that it is unnecessary for any man or his parents, to go into Boston for information. S. Sgt. William Knee is located in the basement of the Winchester Police Station and he is equipped to give any information you may desire. It is his job to take care of Winchester's needs and you will find him most courteous and cooperative. Go up and speak to him whenever you see the Recruiting jeep parked. Winchester meet Sergeant Knee!

I have been greatly encouraged by the cooperation shown by the Army from top to bottom, in this new venture of man power committees. On my return, Sept. 1st, and after a month's intensive study of this new modern Army and what it has to offer our young men, your committee hopes to set up sub-committees in the indispensable Women's Council and the various men's clubs and fraternal organizations.

The Selective Service law will, directly or indirectly, touch every family, and I know, from the number of inquiries received, that many families are puzzled as to the advisability of having their 17-18 year olders enlist now or having them wait until called by Selective Service. Cases and circumstances vary with the needs of families—your committee and Sergeant Knee are at your service to give you counsel and information as to the new educational courses, etc., etc.

I hope any mothers with doubts and questions will feel free to contact me. The Army is anxious to establish contact with the mothers of America and is fully aware of the importance of women in the American way of life.

After the spontaneous response of the Town of Winchester to the aid of Col. Jack Hanlon with sheets for Belgium, your chairman hopes to see the Winchester Military Man Power Committee operating in such a manner that it will be used as a model for the whole country. This can only be done by another demonstration of town cooperation, but this time the cooperation will be asked for the good of your sons, your town and your country.

Cordially yours,
Gladys N. Toye, Chairman
Winchester Military Man Power Commitee

Mrs. K. B. Toye

WATER AT WINCHESTER BEACHES O. K.

The following letter from the State Department of Public Health is of general interest:

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Department of Public Health
State House, Boston,
August 3, 1948

Board of Park Commisioners
Winchester
Massachusetts

Gentlemen:

The Department of Public Health, in response to the request of Mr. Kenneth F. Caldwell, Chairman of your Board, under date of June 30, 1948 for advice as to the quality of the water at Leonard and Palmer Beaches in the Town of Winchester, has caused examinations to be made by one of its engineers, and samples of the waters at these bathing places to be analyzed.

The examination shows that these beaches continue to be operated in a satisfactory manner and that adequate sanitary facilities are provided. The resuls of the analyses of samples of water collected were of suitable quality for public bathing at the time the samples were collected.

Respectfully,
Vlado A. Getting Commissioner

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Titilah (Mary Murray) formerly of Winchester, announce the birth of a daughter on July 28, at the Portsmouth Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Virginia. Mr. Titilah is serving in the U. S. Navy, being stationed in Norfolk, Virginia. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James F. Murray of Washington street, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Titilah of Shore road.

AUGUST 9 LAST DATE

August 9, 1948, is the last day for filing claims for lump-sum death benefits under the Social Security Act on account of the death outside the United States of a qualified individual after December 6, 1941, and before August 10, 1946. Any such claims filed after that date cannot be paid.

Congress amended the Social Security Act in August 1946, to give special consideration in those cases, where servicemen or civilians died outside the United States during and immediately following World War II by extending the legal limit of two years as provided by law. However, the extension was for two years from the date of the amendment and it expires on August 9, 1948.

The survivors of civilians and servicemen, who died overseas and who had earned wages in employment covered by the Social Security Act, are urged, to inquire as to possible benefits before the deadline. The office locate at No. 1248 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, will render all possible assistance. Residents of Woburn, Bedford, Burlington, Winchester and Lexington may contact the field representative at the Woburn Post Office on Monday, August 9, from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.

GARDNER CHAMP!

Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, the Dix Street Magnate, returned to the horseshoe wars on Wednesday evening after a long layoff and signalized his return by winning championship honors in an abbreviated series of special matches at the Palmer Beach courts.

Mr. Gardner was careful to announce before the start of hostilities that he hadn't touched a shoe since he last appeared at Palmer street late in the spring. His announcement was received without enthusiasm, but in the absence of the Gardner offspring, "Butchie," there was no means at hand of checking the layoff statement. President Royal P. Teele, perennial head of the Palmer Beach Horshshoe Association, was one of those whose eyebrows went upward at the Gardner lack-of-practice admission, and his early incredulity soon became openly expressed doubt in view of the Gardner form. For ol' "Garrulous" was quite good, very good, in fact, for one who on his own admission hadn't touched a shoe for months and months.

Just how good he was may be understoood by the fact that he carried the Secretary to victory in the first series, two games to one, over "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnasset, who was paired with Mr. Teele.

Mr. McLaughlin, too, was pretty torrid during this series, but Mr. Teele was considerably short of his winning "Paper Trade" form, while the Secretary was occasionally slipping on a hooker to the amazement of all, himself most of all.

With the first series over, sides were changed, Mr. Teele gleefully joining Mr. Gardner in partnership, after declaring that "McLaughlin had been feeble" while playing with him.

Darkness was rapidly settling over the courts as this second match got under way. Mr. McLaughlin and the Secretary took the first game, but as the light faded so did "Willie" and the Scribe, while Mr. Gardner continued to find the stake and Mr. Teele began to flourish like the green bay tree. It has long been recognized at Palmer street that few can cope with the doughty president when darkness has obscured the stake, and luck is of the essence.

Consequently, Mr. Gardner won again, this time with the delighted Mr. Teele. The president's only regret was that upon covering a double-header flung by the luckless Scribe his second ringer removed his first. Was he wild Brother! He was!

Monday morning the man, who had been identified as Fred G. Hughes, a native of Tucson, Ariz., and a resident at the Hotel Essex in Boston, was arraigned before Justice William Henchey in the District Court at Woburn. After hearing the evidence Justice Henchey held him in bonds of $10,000 on the charge of breaking and entering in the night time with the intent to commit a felony. In lieu of bonds he was committed to jail at East Cambridge to await trial.

Police chiefs and inspectors from departments all over Greater Boston flocked to Winchester, Monday and Tuesday of this week to question Hughes and examine the loot which was displayed on three big tables at headquarters. Householders from Winchester, Medford and Lynn claimed some of the pieces of costume jewelry, which veteran police inspectors stated constituted one of the largest hauls of its kinds they had seen.

After several chiefs and inspectors had questioned Hughes he finally made a statement before Chief Harrold and Sgt. Cassidy of the Winchester Police and Lieutenants Patrick King and Daniel Crowley and Inspector Joseph Lyons of the Newton Police.

In this statement police say Hughes admitted not only the Winchester breaks, but also three breaks in Medford and three in Lynn. It was also in this statement that he divulged the whereabouts of what was left of the loot, in his room in the Hotel Essex. Some of the jewelry he had stolen he had disposed of in New York pawnshops. Sgt. Cassidy and Inspector Lyons of Newton recovered the stolen jewelry in two suitcases at the Essex.

According to Chief Harrold, Hughes has many aliases, among them Frank, George and Fred Ferguson, Frank Anderson, Frank Hughes, J. Preston, J. M. Morrison and J. Roberts. His police record goes back to 1911 when he was sentenced to 10 years for burglary in Los Angeles. He later served a term at San Quentin, was given ten years for burglary in El Paso, Texas in 1923, and from then until 1930 his record showed several commitments to jail for burglarly and escapes from jail.

In 1930 he was arrested in Newton and given 5 to 7 years for burglary. Six years later he was given 10 to 15 years in Suffolk Superior Court for breaking and entering in the night time and larceny. His last conviction before visiting Winchester was for larceny from a shop in Boston last May, for which he served a month at Deer Island.

LONELY ISLES OF TRISTAN DA CUNHA SEE RIFTS IN OLD-TIME ISOLATION

The remote British islands of Tristan da Cunha, in the far south Atlantic, are threatened with modern industrial development—to say nothing of bubble gum.

More than 1,850 miles from the nearest mainland, the islands currently are being studied as a possible fish cannery site, notes the National Geographic Society. And the survey party from South Africa came bearing good-will gifts for the inhabitants, bubble gum for the youngster, but more practical items for their elders.

South Africa may be considered one of Tristan's closer "neighbors." As the sea gull flies, it is only 2,000 miles east to Capetown. Rio de Janeiro in Brazil is a bit nearer, lying 1,860 miles to the northwest. So seldom are the islands visited that a usually matter-of-fact mariners' guide mentions the inhabitants' "intense disappointment" whenever a passing ship fails to signal greetings.

Lashed by gales and approached by drift ice from the South Polar regions, the Tristan da Cunha group is made up of five bleak bits of volcanic land. Only the two largest, Tristan and the appropriately named Inaccessible Island, are inhabited.

World War I was nearly over before news of its outbreak reached Britain's "Lonely Isles." Years passed before the islanders heard of the Armistice.

"Spirit" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 8.
Golden Text: "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).
Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. An he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them" (Matthew 8:14,15).
Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Maintain the facts of Christian Science, — that Spirit is God, and therefore cannot be sick; that what is termed matter cannot be sick; that all causation is Mind, acting through spiritual law. Then hold your ground with the unshaken understanding of Truth and Love, and you will win" (p. 417).

HELICOPTER ONLY SHORTCUT TO HAVASUPAI CANYON HOME

Rapid transit has come at last to the unique American community at the bottom of Grand Canyon.

A helicopter did the trail-blazing, delivering piecemeal to Supai, Arizona, a knocked-down Quonset hut that has since been assembled as a chapel for Christian worship.

Never before had anything like a quick trip been made from the world outside into Supai — by man or by Quonset hut. For Supai is an Indian village on verdant bottom land along Havasu Creek far down at the base of brilliant red sandstone cliffs within the western edge of Grand Canyon National Park.

Visitors come by hundreds of thousands every year to the Park. But few are aware of the hidden valley 35 air miles northwest where 35 Indian families grow vegetables and fruits on 175 fertile acres.

People of the Blue-Green Water

Numbering in all about 250, they are called Havasupai, or People of the Blue-green Water. Their sheltered Eden and its difficult ground approach are described by Jack Breed, Boston naturalist and photographer, in the May National Geographic Magazine.

Supai is a United States post-office as well as Indian Affairs subagency headquarters. Philatelists treasure its postmark, knowing the office is one of few still served only by horse or mule.

A twice-weekly mail bus, running from Grand Canyon village to the end of the road at Havasu Hilltop, carries occasional would-be visitors part way to the hidden vale. From the Hilltop begins the 14-mile, four-hour pack-horse trudge to the village that is perhaps the most isolated Indian settlement in the United States.

In the first mile and a half, the trail drops a dizzy 1,000 feet by means of 29 switchbacks. Then follow miles of slow travel between the high cliff walls and along the dry, stony, winding creek bed.

At last, Havasu Creek gushes at the base of the canyon. The floor widens. Fine orchards, fenced fields of green corn and newly plowed earth appear, quaint hogans and cottages border the stream for about two miles.

Civilization Presses Close

Corn, beans, and squash are the truck-patch staples. Peaches, apricots, and figs tint the orchards. Two dams provide irrigation as needed for the arable acres. Periodically, floods bring disaster, driving the colony temporarily to higher land.

After one serious flood, the Government set up several small wooden cottages. The Indians rebuilt their primitive mud and brush hogans, however, and used the cottages for storage. Gradually, the younger Havasupai took to the cottages as homes.

Havasupai braves now hunt mostly in winter when tracking on the snow is easy. They have long been renowned for deer and antelope hides finely tanned with a juice made from the animals' brains and marrow.

The youngsters of the tribe are exceptional horsemen, cliff climbers, and swimmers. But not all time can be spent in the open, for they are now required to finish eight grades of school. By way of compensation, on Saturday nights their schoolhouse becomes a motion picture theater.

ALASKA HIGHWAY, BETTER SERVICED, READY FOR UNLIMITED 1948 TRAVEL

Interested in a vacation motor trip to Alaska?

This will be the first summer, notes the National Geographic Society, in which tourists may go rolling up the Alaska Highway to Fairbanks as they please, without red tape.

Addition of road patrols, service stations, and camp grounds with sheltered cook stoves and picnic tables has enabled Canada to abandon the permit system that was in force for the route last year.

Canadians now call this pioneer artery the Northwest Highway. It is known also as the Alcan, the Alaska-Canada, the International Highway, and "the Road." It was constructed in seven months of 1942 to supply airfields on the war-urgent flying route from the States to Alaska. Some 10,000 U. S. Army Engineers and 6,000 U. S. and Canadian civilian workers laid it at the average rate of eight miles a day.

Southern end of the road is at the railhead village of Dawson Creek, 450 twisting miles northwest of Edmonton, Alberta. The gravel roadway crosses the Peace River farming plains, plunges through long stretches of rugged forest land, crosses or skirts four of Canada's chief mountain ranges, and bridges 200 streams in its 1,220 Canadian and 300 Alaskan miles to Fairbanks.

Throughout the war, military transports kept the highway's dust and gravel flying with joint defense projects of the United States and Canada. In accordance with prior agreements, the Dominion Government in April, 1946, took control of the Canadian part of the route along with airfields, telephone lines, and other war-built facilities.

Since taking over, Royal Canadian Engineers with civilian aid have kept their Northwest Highway open the year around. Snowplows push away winter snows as fast as they fall. Tourirsts were banned throughout 1946, however, because service stops were few.

Even in 1947, there were 100-mile stretches without roadside service of any sort. But tourists applying well in advance and carrying specified extra gasoline, tools, parts, tires, and food rations could obtain permits to make the run. In July, 1947, about 600 cars crossed the Alaskan border.

Scenery beggars description at many points. One is where the highway skirts the shores of Kluane Lake in the Canadian Yukon, close to the Alaska border. Grades are gentle. Maximum altitude, near Summit Lake in the Rockies, is only 4,212 feet. Midsummer heat reaches close to 100 degrees.

Scenery — yes. But pleasure jaunters are warned not to expect ideal motoring conditions. Corduroy stretches, gravel, and heavy dust can make riding far from pleasant, can play havoc with tires and motors, and cut down daily mileage average. Mosquitoes and deer flies are abundant summer liabilities.

RULES LOOK THE OTHER WAY WHEN NAMES ARE COINED

The citizen of Israel should be called an Israeli, suggests the Foreign Secretary of the new Jewish state in Palestine. His preference follows an Arab-favored style which makes Iraqis of citizens of Iraq and Baghdadis of Baghdad's inhabitants. It relegates the form Israelite to Biblical use.

The Foreign Secretary breaks no rules with the word he proposes. Even if he had, observes the National Geographic Society, it seems that rules for forming words to identify people with their clans, clubs, and communities were made to be broken.

Sticking to the rules for a moment, the Israeli or Israelite could as well be called an Israelian, in the manner of the Brazilian, Egyptian, or Babylonian. He could be an Israelese, following the form for the man from China, Japan, Siam, or Portugal. Taking a leaf from the book of the New Yorker, the Asiatic, the Frenchman, or the Nazarene, he could be, respectively, an Israeler, an Israelic, Israelman, or Israelene.

The citizen of Israel might even be called a Disraeli. That is a plausible translation of the ancient family name of Great Britain's Church of England prime minister of 70 years ago.

Just to prove that rules are out, or at least, often not apparent, consider some respected English variations where ian is abetted with Latin and pig-Latin undertones. The Yank at Oxford is an Oxonian, his Cambridge rival is a Cantabrigian. Liverpool is full of Liverpuldians, Manchester holds Mancunians, Glasgow folk gaze off toward Norway and call themselves Glaswegians.

Use Brummagem advisedly for the chap from Birmingham. Haligonians live in Halifax. Aberdonians and Dundonians are at home in Aberdeen and Dundee. The Scilly Isles hold Scillonians. The Manxman and his tailless cat belong on the Isle of Man.

"DAYS OF YORE"

Clippings from the STAR Files

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

August 3, 1923

Many Winchester radio fans listened with pleasure to the piano selections rendered by Mr. F. Percyval Lewis of Washington street as broadcasted from Amrad Saturday night.

The town was the scene of a sensational liquor raid last Saturday afternoon when Chief MacIntosh and a squad of officers made the biggest capture the town has seen since the Volstead Act went into effect. Four men and an enormous amount of liquor, including a big copper still, were taken into custody.

The first intimation of the majority of Winchester residents had of the sudden and unexpected death of President Harding last evening, came early this morning when the fire whistle at Woburn commenced to toll a few minutes before six o'clock.

Have you heard the latest? Some people are saying that the reason Winchester has had no band concerts in recent years is because the Metropolitan District Commission is afraid the river will taint the music.

This past week has been one of the coldest for this season of the year for a long time, continued rain and cloudy weather, together with the low temperature has been particularly disagreeable for those who have been at the beaches.

The weasel captured in the center last week after an exciting chase by nearly 50 men and boys, and placed in a cage in the Central Garage, died last Friday night.

Mrs. James Hinds sailed Wednesday on the S.S. George Washington for a six week's trip to London and Paris.

Winchester Legion has now won six straight games and will fight to keep that record up.

In an Old Colony Tennis League match played at Lexington last Sunday, Benedict defeated Lexington four matches to three.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

August 5, 1898

It is reported that some of the citizens of the town meeting Wednesday evening were somewhat disappointed because there was no clergyman there to open it, as the by-laws prescribe. There was a time, not so very far distant when this was done, but perhaps the clergymen recognized the fact that their words were not heeded during the excitement of a town meeting, and a place more calm was necessary to attain a thoughtful hearing.

The elm tree standing in the street at the corner of Common and Church streets is the subject of much adverse comment and its removal in a short time is predicted.

The soldier who sent a letter through the mails to his sister, written on army hardtack, with the excuse that paper was scarce, showed a keen sense of satire on the government fodder. The cracker went through to its destination without a flaw or losing a chip.

The marriage of Mr. Andrew J. Lynch, a well known and popular young man of the town, and Miss Agnes Cunningham of New Haven, Conn., was solemnized at the parochial residence, Rev. Fr. Haberstroh officiating, Sunday evening last. Mr. Lynch is the son of Mr. Andrew Lynch, an old resident of Bacon's Bridge.

The Sunday School of the Bethany Chapel will hold a picnic at Lynnfield Lake, Wednesday, August 10, going by electrics. A pleasant outing is anticipated.

The library was closed last Saturday afternoon during the funeral of Horace D. Bradbury, one of the trustees, and the flags were at half mast.

The Electrolytic Marine Salts Co., will linger in the minds of some persons in Winchester, how many will never be known, for many years to come. One man had such faith in the gold extracting prochnities of the scheme that he invested $2,000 and had made arrangements to convert his real estate into stock. Happily before he could do so, the bubble burst, and no doubt he is thankful that he still has possession of his real estate.

Many are enquiring, What it is the matter with the fountain on the common? Why don't it play these warm dog days?

The Prince estate, or Prince's Grove, is to be immediately cut up into house lots and placed on the market.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Bicycles ridden by George Johnson, 13, of 6 Park avenue, and Ann Gallagher, 17, of 83 Cross street, collided Monday afternoon on the cinder path leading from Leonard Field to Cross street. Both riders were thrown from their machines and Miss Gallagher complained of injuries to her left arm after the accident.

Mrs. Margaret Fiore of Mary Spauldings Bookshop begins her annual vacation on Monday.

The police were called at the Winchester Boat Club last Sunday afternoon when the Steward spotted two non-member boys there believed to have stolen a boat some time previous. The police picked the boys up at the aquaduct and turned them over to the Metropolitan police.

CAMP FELLSLAND NEWS

There is only a limited time now to enroll for any camping experience for those who have not already enrolled for Camp Fellsland. As a matter of fact, next week August 8, is filled, which leaves only the last week of camp, August 15, that any additional enrollments can be taken. If you are a Scout in Fellsland Council and wish to go to camp get in touch with the Scout Office in Winchester immediately.

During the past week a new adventure was created when a group of six horses were brought in to camp and riding lessons and pleasure rides were provided to those Scouts who had any sort of riding experience. A few who had had no previous experience were given guidance lessons by the owner of the horses. It is planned to have these horses in camp each week until the close of camp, as there were many who participated in this activity.

During the past week the camp basketball team defeated Camp Pow-Wow, but lost a hard fought battle by signing with some of the Pow-Wow staff men to loose to the Amesbury High School team. This high school team has kept together during the summer under the Amesbury Playground System and are a fine bunch of players and expect to enter semi-professional basketball this fall.

Camp Fellsland also defeated Camp Pow-Wow in a water meet by a score of 42 to 28. There were a number of inter-Troop rallies during the week and it is a surprise to see the efficiency of some of the signaling teams that have developed this summer.

The camp bids a hearty welcome to three new adult leaders who came in to camp this week. They are Charles Forbes, Neighborhood Commissioner in Medford, and his Assistant Harvey Flagg, and Mr. Francis Wall, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 21, Medford. These men will add a great deal to the staff and additional program material can be served. Next week Mr. Leslie Hinds, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 8, Medford, and Mr. George McConnell, Chairman of Advancement in Medford, will also be added to the staff, along with Carleton Spinney of the Camping Committee, and Vincent Erhardt of Troop Committee, Troop No. 12, Winchester.

Mr. Nelson, Camp Director, along with Mr. Carl Hilton, Director of Camp Pow-Wow visited two of the Maine Boy Scout camps during the last week, namely Camp Norshoco located in Alfred, Maine. This camp was completely burned over during the Maine forest fire during last year and a remarkable rehabilitation program has taken place. It is most discouraging to see the barren areas where beautiful pines formerly flourished, but in spite of this a very worthwhile active program is underway. The new buildings have been completed and remarkable progress has been shown. From here Mr. Nelson and Mr. Hilton were joined by Mr. Ericson, Director of Camp Norshoco, and visited Camp Hines in the Sabago Lake area. This is a very fine Scout camp on the shores of Panther Lake. Many worthwhile ideas were gathered by the visitors and undoubtedly some of these ideas will be incorporated in Camp Fellsland program for 1949.

Among the Scouts at camp this week are:

Mrs. Clara H. Palmer and Miss Helen Niedringhaus of Myopia Hill were registered at Jasper Park Lodge in the Canadian Rockies last week.

CARS CRASHED ON POND STREET

One car was disabled but neither operator was injured as a Mercury sedan driven by Catherine L. Myers of 16 Hillcrest Parkway, collided with a Ford sedan, driven by Charles Johnson of Winn street, Burlington shortly after 9 o'clock Monday morning on Pond street at the intersection of Chesterford road.

According to the police Mrs. Myers was headed north on Chesterford road, entering Pond street while Johnson was driving west on Pond street. His car was disabled and had to be towed away.

After the accident the Myers car went over the curbing at the right corner of the Woburn Parkway and up onto some ledge located there. It was pulled back onto the street by "Charlie" Murphy of the West Side Filling Station at Pond and Cambridge street and left under its own power.

RETURN FROM AIR FORCE SERVICE

Two Winchester men, Maj. William D. Barone and First Lieut. Phillip D. Cabot returned last week from two weeks active duty with the Air Force. They were stationed at West Point Academy's Air Field, Newburgh, N. Y.

Both are members of the Air Force Reserve and were assigned to the 310th Bomb Group, the former acting as flight surgeon and the latter as pilot.

Major Barone practices locally and is the Winchester school physician. Lieutenant Cabot is an engineer with a New Jersey industrial plant.

JEANNE TUFTS APPEARS AUGUST 11

Miss Jeanne Tufts, daughter of Mrs. Bowen Tufts of 120 Hutchinson road, will make her second appearance on stage at the Summer Playhouse, Nantasket, in the Actors' Theater production of "Twelfth Night," Aug. 11 through 14. Although she was not scheduled to appear again before the end of August in "The Corn is Green," Miss Tufts enjoyed such great personal success in her interpretation of Mrs. Manningham in the recent presentation of "Angel Street" at the Summer Playhouse, that by popular demand she will take the role of Maria in Shakespeare's great comedy.

Miss Tufts is the sister of film star Sonny Tufts. A very versatile young lady, her talents find expression in many different phases of theater. A talented actress, she has all to little time to tread the boards because of the pressure of her duties as director of this up and coming company, which expects to be established very soon as a permanent repertory company in Boston. The performance on Wednesday evening, Aug. 11th, will mark the 22nd opening night for the Actors' Theater, and Miss Tufts has directed every production.

Besides taking the lead in "The Corn is Green" Miss Tufts will be seen with the entire company in the new musical, "Rise Above It" with which the Actors' Theater will close their summer season.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

The inauguration of the Hospital's own Blood Bank is planned for next week. In preparation for setting up this department, a technician and one of the doctors from our staff have received special training at Massachusetts General Hospital. The original donation for the necessary storage refrigerator was made by Winchester Post No. 97, American Legion, through a generous arrangement with Frigidaire. Other organizations are helping to complete the purchase fund. The local American Legion Post has also assumed primary responsibility for securing the blood donors.

The strain under which the State Division of Biological Laboratories at Forest Hills is operating made it expedient for Winchester Hospital to establish its own blood bank. Cooperation will continue between our Hospital and the State facilities as well as the blood banks of other hospitals. Expired blood from our blood bank will be sent to the State laboratories for the manufacture of plasma.

On October 24, 1947, this column carried a story of the use of blood transfusions in disease, injury, and in long and serious surgical operations. As this article pointed out, most people now realize that the processes of typing and matching blood have been steadily developed to the point where unfavorable reactions are infrequent and of minor consequence. It is also generally recognized that, whereas formerly transfusion of blood was used mainly to replace large amounts of blood lost suddenly in injury, operation or childbirth, its service has been extended to chronic blood loss from anemia and similar causes, to conditions such as malnutrition, and to support patients suffering long-standing infections in which red cells are destroyed. Everyone within the service area of the Winchester Hospital will welcome the news that the supply of blood is being made more easily available under direct control of the Hospital staff.

Miss Laura Rogers, Superintendent of Nurses, begins on September first a year's leave of absence which she plans to spend in review and refresher courses. She has served on the Staff of Winchester Hospital since 1931 and as Superintendent of Nurses since 1944 without any leave for professional study. Before beginning her year's program, Miss Rogers will have a vacation at Harwichport on Cape Cod.

While swimming at Palmer street Friday afternoon, James Stevenson, 16, of 99 Hemingway street, cut his head in a dive from the raft. The police were notified but found that Stevenson was able to go to his own physician without assistance.

NOTICE OF LOST PASS BOOK

In connection with the requirements of Chapter 167, Section 20, of the General Laws and Acts in amendment thereof or supplementary thereto, notice is hereby given of the loss of Pass Book No. 10682 issued by the Winchester Savings Bank, and that written application has been made to said bank for the payment of the amount of the deposit represented by said book or for the issuance of duplicate book therefor.

AZORES AT CROSSROADS OF SEA AND AIR

The Azores, where a U. S. military air base is to continue under a new agreement with Portugal, have served traffic between the New and Old World from sailing days to the air age.

Portugal's nine volcanic outposts, upthrust darkly from the vast expanse of the Atlantic, are known as the "Islands of the Hawks," from the Portuguese word, Azores. Equally apt, the National Geographic Society says, are other titles: "midway house of the Atlantic," and "crossroads of sea and air."

At the island of Santa Maria, 900 miles from Portugal, Columbus stopped on his return from the New World in 1493 with the epic story of his historic discovery. During World War II, United States and British stations established on Terceira and Santa Maria helped win the "Battle of the Atlantic."

Planes Over Oxen

The airfield where U. S. military base rights will continue is at Lagens, Terceira. This island is in the heart of the scattered Azores group. It is about 2,400 miles east and a little south of New York, with the entrance to the Mediterranean 1,200 miles beyond. The reopened U. S. base near Tripoli in North Africa is a little over 2,300 miles away.

In the Azores, modern airplanes roar above dirt roads where slow-moving oxen still carry much of the traffic. A familiar sound is that of the "singing carts," so-called because of the solid wheels that cry for grease, and tell the driver, according to local jest, whether he is moving.

Everywhere the volcanic nature of the islands is apparent. Crests of extinct and occasionally active volcanoes rear their massive heads against the blue skies. Lava-rock fences divide the fertile fields of grain, luxuriant orchards, vineyards, and green meadows of grazing cattle.

In the cities as well as in the villages, houses are built of white-washed lava walls, topped by bright-colored tiled roofs and big lava-rock chimneys.

Traffic Brought Wealth

Before the era of airplanes and ruled as an integral part of the motherland. They were acquired by Portugal in the 15th century.

The islands, which now have a population of nearly 300,000, are big ocen liners, gold and silver galleons, windjammers, whalers, and the graceful clipper ships brought the islands trade and wealth.

On the first successful transatlantic flight, in 1919, the U. S. Navy plane NC-4 hopped from Newfoundland to Horta, on the island of Fayal. Twenty years later, Horta—which is also the meeting point for transatlantic cables— became a regular stop for commercial air service between the United States and Europe.

HAIFA CITED AS EXAMPLE OF ARAB-JEWISH CONCORD

Haifa, thrust into sudden focus in the Arab-Jewish conflict, holds clear title as Palestine's modern maritime and industrial capital. A drowsy Arab village until 1918, the city's growth became spectacular after completion of its deep-water harbor in 1933 and of the 600-mile pipeline from the oilfields of Iraq in 1934.

Spurred by immigration from central Europe, Haifa's Jewish population quadrupled between 1931 and 1946. It was half of the city's recent 130,000 total, notes the National Geographic Society.

Despite occasional cross-currents in this mixed population, Haifa has now and then been cited by qualified observers as lively proof that Jews and Arabs can work together. Plans for a second big pipeline from eastern Arab oilfields and for adding new industries supported their predictions that the city would continue to grow mightily, unless political calamity interfered.

Suburbs Climb Mount Carmel

Soon after World War I, plans were made for a landscaped Jewish quarter close to the Haifa port area. As the city mushroomed in the 1930's, however, this garden-city project turned into a modernistic mass of streamlined apartment buildings, holding the city's greatest population density. The suburbs, where landscaped homes, villas, and hotels blossomed, were pushed southward on the slopes and clear to the top of Mount Carmel.

The work of removing the old Eastern Mass. Street Railway rails from Main street has been nearly completed and with the completion of this job the actual resurfacing work will commence.

OFFICER BOWLER ON THE JOB

Feudin' Motorists Lose Licenses Throught His Vigilance

Officer Edward F. Bowler of the Police Department doesn't get out on the street too much, being kept slightly busier than a cranberry merchant attending to the multitudinous duties that are part and parcel of the life of an officer on desk duty.

One should not, however, for this reason figure that "Connie" is not a force to be reckoned with when he is on the street, or that his efforts with pen, phone and teletype have dimmed his eye for evasions of the law, even when he is off duty all together. Two motorists, one from Somerville and the other from Arlington, have reason to know that such is emphatically not the case.

The whys and wherefors of the case are a bit vague. Apparently it all started at Buttrick's ice cream shop in Arlington on Thursday evening, July 22, when one of four youths in a Ford sedan, owned and driven by Arthur E. McDonough of 5 Park circle, Arlington, accosted a young woman, being escorted by William J. Geswell, Jr., of 7 Century street, Somerville. The boy later told the police that he thought he knew the girl, but whether he did, or didn't, his attentions were resented by Geswell, who sought an apology.

To get one he and his Plymouth club coupe, chased the Ford from Arlington to Winchester by way of West Medford, finally cutting off the Ford on the Parkway, facing east at the traffic circle at the intersection of Mystic Valley Parkway.

Both machines stopped there, but not for long. As they started up one went to the left of the circle and the other went around it to the right, after which both machines went down Washington street abreast of each other, turning left again into Mt. Vernon street headed for the center.

What neither operator knew at the time was that Officer Bowler in his own car, was at the scene of this exhibition of fancy driving, which nearly resulted in a brace or more of collisions, and saw the whole business.

Officer Bowler also drove to the center, by way of the Parkway and Main street, arriving in time to see the operators of the cars in question discussing the situation with Traffic Officer John Reardon.

Both Geswell and McDonough were stating their views to Officer Reardon, and blaming each other for such traffic violations as had occurred. The arrival of Officer Bowler interjected a new note into the debate, particularly when he requested Officer Reardon to book both operators. "Who was he?" both Geswell and McDonough wanted to know!

They found out! Officer Bowler writes a good letter, and his epistle to Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph King got results. The licenses of both feudin' motorists have been suspended, and if one wants to chase the other now for a while, they will do it on foot!

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Herbert Elliott Foote, Chemical Engineer Born: August 15, 1892 At Winchester

Herbert Elliott Foote was destined by training and experience to become a distinguished scientist and pioneer research worker in various fields of chemistry. The son of Charles P. and Minnie A. Foote, he attended Brown University, receiving the degrees of Bachelor of Philosophy and Master of Arts in 1914 and also that of Doctor of Philosophy in 1917.

The first six years of Dr. Foote's career were spent successively as chemist with the E. I. duPont de Nemours Company, United States Bureau of Mines, Industrial Chemical Co., Providence, R. I., and the Picatinny Arsenal; it being noted this period also included his service during the first World War as lieutenant, Ordnance Department, U. S. Army. Thereupon, he transferred his activities to the Phillipine Islands where he was employed by the Bureau of Science for two years and then served as assistant manager of the Negroes plants of the Phillipine Motor Alcohol Corporation from 1925 to 1927.

Upon returning to this country, Dr. Foote joined the techinical staff of the Mellon Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa., and during the ensuing fourteen years, carried out meritorious investigations on such diversified subjects as industrial alcohol, gas, tire beads and yeast. Since 1945, he has been identified with the Fleischmann Laboratories of Standard Brands, Incorporated, New York City, where his original studies on coffee and yeast have likewise earned national recognition for him.

As is to be expected, he is active in the affairs of the leading professional societies of his field, including the American Chemical Society and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Dr Foote was married to Caroline Williams in 1921 at New York City where he now makes his home.

WILL MARRY THIS MONTH

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Dorothy Ann Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Lloyd Robbins of Grosse Pointe, Michigan, and Mr. Frederick Vail Mauger of this town. The ceremony will take place on the afternoon of Tuesday, August 31st, at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe and will be followed by a reception at Miller Memorial Hall. Mr. Mauger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Mauger of Westland avenue and is widely known among Winchester's young people.

CHIEF COMMENDED PATROLMEN

Praised Four Officers for Capture of Burglar

Police Chief Charles J. Harrold had read at roll-call Wednesday and Thursday evenings a letter commending Officers Thomas F. Parsons, James E. Stygles, Winthrop A. Palmer and Henry P. Dempsey for the parts they played in the capture of Fred G. Hughes of the Hotel Essex Boston, who police say admitted breaks on North Gateway and Jefferson road in Winchester as well as in Medford and Lynn. Hughes was arrested Saturday evening, July 31, and is now in States Prison, held in bonds of $10,000 for appearance before the Grand Jury.

He was first spotted by Officer Palmer on the night the break was committed on Jefferson road, but because nothing was known about the break at the time, the patrolman had no reason to stop the man. Officer Palmer's description however proved very valuable and later the man was picked up by Officers Parsons and Stygles, two of the department's young officers, who took the suspect to Officer Dempsey at Box 25 near Symmes Corner. Officer Dempsey accompanied the two young officers and their suspect to Headquarters where Hughes was questioned by Sgt. Joseph Derro, booked and locked up.

Chief Harrold in his letter stressed the team work on the part of the officers which resulted in the arrest. He was pleased with the cooperation shown and gave it as his opinion that by means of teamwork on the part of all the members of a police department the strength of that department is built up. A copy of his letter has been sent to the Board of Selectmen.

HARVARD FOOTBALL COACH COMES TO WINCHESTER

Crimson Public Relations Man Also To Reside Here

Arthur Valpey, new coach of football at Harvard, succeeding Dick Harlow, is to make his home in Winchester, he and his wife having purchased the property at 17 Hillside avenue from Alfred Elliott. This is a new house, built by Mr. Elliott, and is as yet not quite completed.

Mr. Valpey himself is at present attending a football clinic at Canton, Ohio. He formerly was one of Fritz Crisler's assistants at Michigan, coming to Cambridge last spring and conducting spring practice. Local football fans will welcome the new Crimson coach to Winchester, a town in which many Harvard men now make their homes.

Also coming to make his home in Winchester, on Walnut street, is W. Henry Johnston, newly appointed director of public relations for the Harvard Athletic Association. A graduate of Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis., Mr. Johnston was for a time assistant director of the News Bureau at Indiana University, and before coming to Harvard, was associate director of public relations at Colgate University.

"TED" NORRIS SIXTH IN OLYMPIC RACE

Winchester's "Ted" Norris, Harvard swim star and son of School superintendent and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris of Church street, placed sixth in last week's final of the 1,500 meter swim at the Olympic Games in London.

Accounts of the swim were meager, beyond the fact that the winner was young Jimmy McLean of Andover, but placing 6th among the best swimmers of the world at 1,500 meters is no mean feat for Winchester's Forbes Junior.

After the Olympic meet Norris was one of a group of swimmers who flew to Eire for a meet there, and commencing tomorrow he will be in Paris for a week of swimming and sight-seeing. "Ted" is flying from the continent to Williams Lake in Rosendale, New York to defend his National A.A.U. Senior Men's Long Distance Swimming Championship (four miles) on August 29. He will return to Harvard for his senior year this fall after quite a summer.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL VISITED BY DR. HARLAN L. PAINE

On Monday, August 9th, Winchester Hospital received a call from Dr. Harlan Lloyd Paine, father of the new Administrator of the Hospital. Dr. Paine has been connected with the health service of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for thirty-five years. On September 15th he will retire from the Superintendency of the State Hospital at Grafton after exactly twenty-seven years in that position, and will become director of Channing Sanitarium in Wellesley. Dr. Paine is a Diplomate of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and a Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association. He is a Past President of the New England Society of Psychiatry and of the Massachusetts Psychiatric Society.

"THE CUP OF TREMBLING"

Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Winchester Unitarian will preach at the Union Service next Sunday at 10:45 a. m. when it is held in the Unitarian Church on Mystic Valley Parkway. Mr. Chapman has chosen "The Cup of Trembling" as the subject of his sermon. Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham, Director of Music and Organist will be at the console and the vocalist is to be Mrs. Dorothy Perkins, soprano soloist of the Unitarian Choir.

EMMONS — REED

There is much Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Congregational Church in Little Compton, R. I., on Saturday afternoon, August 7, when Miss Judith Reed, daughter of Mrs. George Hale Reed of Ridgefield road, and the late Rev. Mr. Reed, former minister of the Unitarian Church, became the bride of Alfred Bradlee Emmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Page Emmons of Brookline. Dr. James F. Dingwell of Little Compton and the Rev. Wilton E. Cross of the Unitarian Church in Taunton officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the summer home of the bride's mother in Little Compton.

Mr. Lucius Junius Eddy of Winchester gave his niece in marriage. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with a court train and a rose point bertha. Her veil which had been worn by the bridegroom's mother was edged with Duchess lace and her bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Suzanne Reed was maid of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids, both from Winchester, were Mrs. John Chandler Hill and Mrs. Charles L. Moore. All the bridal attendants wore white taffeta dresses and carried summer flowers shading from lavender to fuchsia.

Elliott Hedge of Lincoln was Mr. Emmons' best man, and the usher corps comprised John F. Dexter of Marblehead, Adam Rhodes of Manchester, Ct., Charles R. Strickland of Brookline and Harold G. Meyer of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Upon their return from a wedding journey to Bermuda Mr. and Mrs. Emmons will live on Beacon Hill in Boston.

The bride is a graduate of the May School and of Vassar. Mr. Emmons prepared at Browne and Nichols School and is a graduate of Harvard College and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

MARY REYNOLDS MARRIES PHILIP LIVINGSTONE

An impressive ceremony at the Congregational Church at Waterville, Maine, last Saturday marked the wedding of Miss Mary Reynolds, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Reynolds of 10 School street, and Philip Beals Livingstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Livingstone of Winchester. Dr. Winston L. King performed the single ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a gown of white satin and a veil fashioned of point Venise lace and illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Miss Alice T. Lyman of Beverly, Mass., was maid of honor. She wore white net over lime green and carried a bouquet of red roses and baby's breath.

David Livingstone of New York City was best man and the ushers were Charles B. Livingstone, Stoneham, James Livingstone, Winchester, Dr. John F. Reynolds, Waterville, and Frederic Childs of Marstons Mills.

White flowers, evergreen and candles were used for decorating the church.

Wedding music was by Horace Daggett, organist, and Miss Rebecca Green, harpist.

A reception at the Waterville Country Club followed the church ceremony.

Mrs. Livingstone was graduated from Coburn Classical Institute and Colby College.

Mr. Livingstone was graduated from the Mohonk School, Mohonk Lake, N. Y., and attended Boston University College of Liberal Arts. He is now attending Boston University School of Law.

Following a wedding trip to Calais the couple will reside in Boston.

WEEK-END FOR MYSTIC FOUR

Erskine N. "Skip" White, Jr., of Rangely is entertaining this week end at the summer home of his parents, Brae Head in Center Sandwich, N. H., his fellow members of the Mystic Four quartet, Bill Hopkins, Tommie Worthen and Al Swett, and their families.

This should prove quite a week-end, and the STAR advises to all within access of Brae Head to gather round, and listen in, for the boys are sure to get together in a sing-fest, which, uninhibited by a formal audience, should be something to hear!

CAR RAN INTO EXCAVATION

A Plymouth sedan was badly damaged, but its occupants escaped injury when the car ran into an excavation on Main street near the Medford line at 1:45 yesterday morning.

According to the police the machine, driven north on Main street, by John F. Bryan of 38 Englehutt road, Medford, knocked down a wooden horse and warning lanterns before running into the excavation, which was 10 by 5 ft. and made by the Hugh Mawn Contracting company of Boston. The Plymouth had to be towed away, but neither Bryan nor two men riding with him was injured.

WYMAN WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Todd L. Wyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Wyman of 6 Copley street, has been awarded a freshman competitive scholarship by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, it was announced today.

The freshman competitive scholarships are granted annually by the Institute to a group of entering students of high scholastic standing and personal qualifications, selected by competition from several hundred candidates from all parts of the country.

Mr. Wyman received his preparatory education at Mt. Hermon School, Mt. Hermon, Mass., and will enter Technology this fall.

EDWARD ARTHUR KELLEY

Edward Arthur Kelley, formerly of Winchester and son of the late Anthony, and Lizzie B. (Chase) Kelley, for many years well known residents of Fletcher street, died Wednesday morning, August 11 at the Quincy City Hospital. His home was at 93 Cedar street in Wollaston.

Mr. Kelley was born August 26, 1878, at West Harwich. He came to Winchester as a boy and was educated in the Winchester schools. For 35 years he was associated with his father and brothers in the Union Paste Company, now located in Hyde Park, but formerly for many years in Boston. Before leaving Winchester he lived on Church street and he was a member of the Winchester Country Club and the former Calumet Club. Mr. Kelley was a Mason, a life member of Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine, a former member of William Parkman Lodge of Winchester and a member of the Royal Arch Chapter.

He leaves his wife, the former Ruth Remick, and a brother, Herbert W. Kelley of this town.

The funeral will be held this Friday afternoon at 2:30 at his brother's home, 3 Willow street, with the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

JAMES H. WINN

Former Winchester Boy Killed by Train

James H. Winn, 29, of W. Newfield, Maine, formerly of Winchester and son of Mrs. Ursula and the late Frank W. Winn, was accidentally killed by a train while crossing the B & A tracks in W. Brookfield, Mass., July 29th while on his way to a local carnival.

His passing will sadden his many Winchester friends who will miss his sunny disposition and fine sense of humor. "K", as he was affectionally called attended the Winchester schools. In 1935, after the death of his father, who was one of the proprietors of J. H. Winn's Sons, watch-hand manufacturers, of this town, his family moved to W. Newfield, Maine, where he and his brother, Frank, Jr., carried on extensive farming.

In 1938 Mr. Winn entered the employ of the Winn Co., leaving in December, 1941, shortly after Pearl Harbor, to join the Army Air Corps, in which he became a technical sergeant. He was stationed at Guadalcanal for most of the duration, and at the war's end, he went back to the farm at W. Newfield.

He leaves besides his mother, Mrs. Frank Winn, a brother Frank, both of W. Newfield, and two sisters, Mrs. Ira Clough of S. Portland, Maine, and Mrs. L. R. Snow of Winchester.

A Masonic Funeral service was held Sunday afternoon, August 1, at the Brown Funeral Home at Newfield. Burial was at the Maplewood Cemetery near Mr. Winn's home at W. Newfield. Two Winchester boys, Robert Gibbons and Daniel Mahoney, were among the pallbearers.

AMATO TO ENTER MICHIGAN STATE

With transfer arrangements completed for 95 per cent of the eligible sophomore students, the Transfer Office of the Associated Colleges of Upper New York yesterday released an additional list of Mohawk College transferees.

Included in this group is Andrew Amato, 74 Florence street, a liberal arts student, who has been accepted for transfer by Michigan State.

Although Mohawk has closed, its sister ACUNY colleges, Champlain in Plattsburg, N. Y., and Sampson near Geneva, still are accepting applications for the fall semester. The colleges offer freshman and sophomore programs in liberal arts, pre-engineering and business administration.

THE WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Members of The Winchester Garden Club were entertained on Wednesday, August 11 at the Rockport summer home of Mrs. Robert Stone. The gardens provided a colorful setting for the terrace, where an informal lunch was served after which hostess and guests visited the Flower Show of The Rockport Garden Club, where many interesting arrangements were exhibited. Two awards were given Mrs. Stone: first prize for a pleasing arrangement of many hued garden flowers and honorable mention for an artistic grouping of red roses.

The day will be long remembered as perfect in every way.

WINCHESTER BOY WITH GROUP 20 PLAYERS

Bert Smith of 319 Highland avenue is one of a number of young people who are providing an experiment in Summer Theatre. Without the assistance of visiting stars, "Group 20 Players, Inc." composed of talented young men and women are producing Repertory Theatre at Unionville, a part of Farmington, Conn. They are putting on a different play each night from Tuesday through Saturday.

Many of these young people are planning to make the stage their career. Winchester folk who find themselves in the vicinity of Farmington, Conn., between now and September 4th might do worse than investigate, Group 20 Players Inc.

Town Treasurer and Mrs. Donald Heath are spending the remainder of the month at their summer home Ledge Hidden, South Chatham, N. H.

FEAST OF ASSUMPTION CELEBRATION TODAY AND TOMORROW

The celebration of the Feast of the Assumption by the town's residents of Italian extraction, which started Wednesday will continue today and tomorrow, closing with a big display of fireworks on Shore road field tomorrow night.

A carnival has been in progress since Wednesday, daily, from 2 until 11 p. m., and this feature will continue today and tomrrow. Many new features, including a Ferris whenn, whip, giant swings, etc., are attracting big crowds to the carnival at Shore road field, with the largest attendance of all expected tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Saturday is the big day of the celebration. High mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock in the morning, and following informal celebrations throughout the Italian section, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon a parade, which will include the statue of the Blessed Virgin, will leave St. Mary's Church, proceeding through the streets of the Italian section, including Washington, Swanton, Chester, Harvard, Irving, Florence, Olive, Cedar, Tremont, Oak, Holland and Spruce streets.

The parade will end at the carnival at Shore road field, where at 7:30 in the evening there will be a band concert by a military band. Carnival attractions will take up the evening until 10:30 when the display of fireworks will take place.

George Tofuri is chairman of the celebration committee, with Robert Fiore as treasurer and John Mercurio, secretary.

INJURED AS MOTORCYCLE AND CAR COLLIDE

Two men riding a motorcycle were injured and the occupants of an automobile were shaken up shortly after midnight Thursday morning when the cycle and car were in collision at Swanton and Cedar streets.

According to the police both vehicles were headed west on Swanton street, the cycle colliding with the rear of the automobile as the operator of the latter, Carmine C. Pizzo of 13 Tremont street, was about to make a left turn onto Cedar street.

The cycle was owned and ridden by Frank G. Farris of Pleasant street, Dunstable, and is the same machine which earlier in the week, while being ridden by Farris' brother, got out of control and landed on the front piazza of the Bolivar residence on Upland road.

The motorcycle, a Harley-Davidson, was put out of commission this time and had to be towed away. Farris was taken to the Winchester Hospital where he was treated by Dr. William Hickey and ordered held at the hospital. Riding with him was Francis Allen of 63 Loring avenue, who sustained cuts and bruises, but was not taken to the hospital.

The automobile, a Pontiac, sedan, was damaged about the rear end, but able to leave under its own power. Riding with Pizzo were his wife and mother-in-law, also Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gillotte of 20 Tremont street, and their six-year-old son, Robert. Both Pizzo and his passengers complained of being shaken up as the result of the collision and stated that they would visit their own physician.

ATTENDING NAVED CONVENTION

George E. Roghaar of Wildwood street attended the annual convention of the National Association of Visual Education Dealers in Chicago at the Hotel Sherman, August 8-11.

Mr. Roghaar, who is president of the N. E. Film Service Inc., brought home practical information on trends in the visual education field and news of the latest in audio-visual equipment and supplies.

Members of four organizations -- NAVED, Film Council of America, Educational Film Library Association and the Midwest Forum met in both separate and joint meetings.

In the NAVED Trade Show dealers and consumers were able to study the newest products of more than 82 film producers, manufacturers, distributors and others. Fifty or more new films were previewed during the show.

On the speakers' agenda were "Sunshine Gene" Flack, director of advertising and sales counsel for Sunshine Biscuits, Inc., and president of the National Federation of Sales Executives; and Louis de Rochemont, formerly of Winchester, producer of "Boomerang" and other films.

INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE

Karl E. Roteguard of 45 Upton road, Waltham, was taken to the Winchester Hospital last Saturday afternoon following an accident on Washington street at Lebanon street, in which his Dodge sedan was involved.

According to the police Roteguard was driving north on Washington street when his car was in collision with a Chevrolet sedan approaching his machine and making a left turn into Lebanon street. Joseph L. Farrell of 16 Lebanon street was the operator of this machine which was disabled and had to be towed away by Haggerty's Garage.

Roteguard was taken by a passing motorist to the Winchester Hospital where he was treated for abbrasions to the left elbow and left knee and bump on the forehead over the left eye.

Park Commissioner and Mrs. Fred M. Ives, Jr., are moving this week from Fells road to their new address at 2 Wolcott terrace.

NAME SWIMMERS IN WINCHESTER SATURDAY

Several swimmers well known in big New England A.A.A.U. circles have already sent in their entries for the championship meet to be held at Leonard Field tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Winchester Park Department and the Boston American-Record. Anne Murray, Winchester beach supervisor, is running the meet and has been a busy girl for several weeks arranging the many details.

Anne already has entries from Joanna Berggren of the Metropolitan Swimming Club, from Louise Sherlock of the Wanskuck Boys' Club Auxiliary, from Coralie O'Connor of the Worcester Swimming Association and from the Senior sisters, Marion, Jean and Joan of Wanskuck, all either champions or former champions.

Winchester's own "Barbie" Donaghey, former State 100 yard champion now swimming under the Metropolitan Swimming Club's colors, is also entered, with members of the Winchester Swimming Club, Lynn Aitkens, Betty MacIsaac, Bob McGrath and Tom McGowan.

Local fans will have a fine opportunity to see Bob McGrath, crack local swimmer in action, and as he has been cleaning up quite regularly this year in A.A.U. competition he should give the home town folks a good show.

His stiffest competition this year has come from Charlie Stephanos, big Lynn Boys' Club sprint star; and Don Sonia, another Lynn B.C. entrant. Both are expected to be on hand tomorrow and although Bob has won his share from the Lynn splashers, he will have to hustle to win tomorrow. It had been hoped that Joe Prata, Olneyville ace, would be ready for the Winchester meet, but his ear ailment will definitely keep him out for a while longer. McGrath won a surprise victory over Prata early in the season.

Ben Levias of the A.A.U. will exercise a general supervision over the meet, and others prominent in swimming circles who will officiate are Alex Houston of The Metropolitan Red Cross, who will be clerk of course; and "Dutch" Holland of the A.A.U., who will announce and act as referee.

Two visiting coaches, J. M. Latham of the Providence Boys' Club and Roy Watmough of Wanskuck will be among the officials, who also include Robert F. Guild, Melvin "Skee" Dulong, Helen Carroll, Don Armstrong and Edward A. Bartlett. L. E. Goddu will act as chief timer.

The meet will commence at 2:30 with the following events:

1. Massachusetts State 100 meters free-style championship for women — 3 heats
2. New England Junior 400 meters free-style championship for men — 1 heats
3. 100 meters backstroke open for women — 3 heats
4. 50 meters freestyle for boys 12 and under — Final
5. 50 meters freestyle for girls 12 and under — 3 heats
6. Massachusetts State 100 meters backstroke championship for men — 2 heats
7. Massachusetts State 100 meters breast-stroke championship for women — 2 heats
8. 100 yards freestyle open for men — 3 heats
9. Massachusetts State 100 meters free-style championship for women — Final
10. New England Junior 400 meters freestyle championship for men — Final
11. 100 meters backstroke open for women — Final
12. 50 meters freestyle for girls 12 and under — Final
13. Massachusetts State 100 meters back-stroke championship for men — Final
14. Massachusetts State 100 meters breaststroke championship for women — Final
15. 100 yards freestyle for men — Final

WINCHESTER GUIDANCE TEACHER RESIGNS

Mr. Curtis E. Nash of 24 Park road, for the past two years director of guidance and attendance officer of the Winchester schools, has resigned to become assistant professor of Education and Psychology at Michigan Central State Teachers College.

Mr. Nash succeeded Mr. Robert E. Swenson, who held the post of guidance director before the war, resigning to enter the service. Mr. Nash has been popular generally with the high school pupils and it is with regret that his resignation was received by the local authorities.

At Michigan Central State Teachers' College he will be associated with another former Winchester instructor, Mr. George Lauer, who was athletic director at high school before the present incumbent, Henry T. Knowlton.

PRE-SCHOOL ADMISSION TESTS

ROTARY NEWS

With the singing of 'God Bless America' forty-two members and guests of Rotary sat down to the weekly luncheon meeting at the Masonic Hall. Among the guests this week was a surprise visit from 'Jim' McGrath of Woburn who rarely is seen at our meetings. 'Jim' can usually make the long trek from Woburn but once a week . . . Among the make-ups this week was one of President Don Simonds who attended, with Phil Efromson, the Wilmington meeting the day before. It is believed by those close to the president that he can single-handedly raise the percentage of our attendance by attending other meetings himself during the week. We are awaiting a decision by the Supreme Court of Rotary as to the legality of this move . . . The other faithfuls included in the make-up column were: Wade Grindle attending in Boston, 'Jim Cullen attending in Falmouth,' Harry Benson in Arlington and Church Hindes in Vermont . . . It is hoped that the splendid example set by these men will be emulated by others while on vacation.

As has been the custom this summer the meeting this week again consisted of committee reports and open discussion. Charlie Murphy reported on some interesting though slightly nebulous plans for speakers in the future. President Don made announcement of the big outing to be held by the Wilmington Club over the Labor Day weekend consisting of entertainment, parades, raffles of a car and dancing in the streets. All Rotarians are urged to attend and by so doing aid that club in their worthy cause of raising money for a dental clinic in the schools of Wilmington. Harry Chefalo, when called upon to make a report on bowling, mettered something about already having given his report twice and announced that twenty members had already paid the five dollars entrance fee. 'Chub' Howe chafing under a desire to get away early made a cursory report on ladies night confirming the date already set of October 20th at the Music Hall. 'Ben' Brennan is on the ball again with another ball game planned for September 8th at the ball park of the hot and cold Red Sox who will be playing the New York Yankees that night. All those wishing to go will please pay Ben for the tickets in advance or stay home listening and or looking with their radios. The golf outing planned for this Thursday is all set under the guidance of a large committee consisting of Alan Wilde as chairman and Alan Wilde as the remainder of the committee.

NEW ASSISTANT AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. Donald B. Tarr has been chosen as assistant to Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, succeeding Rev. John Prescott Robertson, who resigned this spring to become pastor of the Braintree Congregational Church.

Rev. Mr. Tarr is a native of Gloucester and comes to Winchester from the Geddes Congregational Church in Syracuse, N. Y., also serving while in that city as minister to the students at Syracuse University. Before going to Syracuse he was a chaplain in the United States Army Air Forces.

Rev. Mr. Tarr holds the degree of B.R.E. from Boston University School of Religious Education and the degree of B.S.T. from the School of Theology at B. U. In addition to his duties as assistant to Dr. Chidley he will act as church director of religious education.

Rev. Mr. Tarr is married and has one son, Edward, 12. Mrs. Tarr also holds the Bachelor of Religious Education degree from Boston University and has been studying for her Master's Degree at Syracuse. The family expects to come to Winchester about September 1.

MANHOLE COVER BLEW OFF

Monday morning about 9:15 the police were notified by Steward Kent at the Winchester Boat Club that a manhole cover on Cambridge street near the club has just blown off with a loud explosion.

The heavy cover was blown five or six feet in the air, and it is fortunate that there happened to be no traffic at the spot when the explosion occurred.

It was at first reported that the cover was from a sewer manhole, but Officer William E. Cassidy who was sent to investigate found it to be an Edison Co., manhole.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Edison station in Woburn, and repair crews began a search for the trouble. Gas forms to a certain extent in these manholes and sometimes a short circuit in the cable housing 13,000 volts causes explosions. There was no way of telling just what had caused the trouble on Cambridge street. Steward Kent had replaced the cover before the arrival of the police.

NORTH SHORE TITLES TO "MARNEE" NORRIS

Winchester's Marjorie Norris is again queen of junior tennis on the North Shore, by virtue of winning the older, or junior, girls' singles championship in the final round of the North Shore Tennis Championships at Tedesco last Friday.

"Marnee" won in the final bracket from Clarissa Nash of Milton, with whom she paired to win the junior doubles from Edith Ann Sullivan of Belmont and Gladys Pelangi of Malden.

Several Winchester girls participated in the championships with "Ruthie" Murray and Ann Albree, now of Cambridge, winning their way into the final rounds. "Ruthie" was finally put out in the semi-finals by Clarissa Nash while Ann went out in the round of eight, losing to Edith Ann Sullivan. Ann lost in straight sets, but "Ruthie" carried her opponent to three sets before losing.

Besides "Ruthie" and Ann, Joyce Dana and Nancy Nutter played at Tedesco, but didn't fare too well in the draw, having respectively Edith Ann Sullivan and Clarissa Nash as first round opponents. Both lost their matches at love to their much more tournament-wise opposition.

On the boys side of play Sheldon Caldwell, Winchester High School raquet wielder, went all the way to the finals before losing to Josiah Welch of Newburyport in three straight sets, all at 6-4. Along the way Sheldon accounted for Hartley Smith of Marblehead, H. Alden Johnson of Swampscott and Richard Slatterink of Malden.

In the older boys' doubles Caldwell paired with Dick O'Hearn to win his way into the finals again, losing in the championship bracket to Josiah Welch and Ed Scheer of Jamaica Plain in a four-set match, 6-4, 5-7, 2-6, 2-6.

ST. MARY'S GIRL-SOFTBALLERS WIN PITCHING DUEL, 1 TO 0

At Loring Avenue Field on Friday evening August 8th, St. Mary's Girls' Softball team edged out a neat win over the fast playing Immaculate Conception team. The 1 to 0 score tells the story. The win was made possible by the clutch hit made by Leona Wharf in the final inning after Peggy O'Leary had walked and with two outs Ginger Frongillo singled and Leona followed suit with Peggy scoring the all important run. It was a mighty tense game with St. Mary's making only 3 hits and the Immacs only 2. Celia Generazzo for the losers had 7 stirkeouts and walked 3 while O'Leary struck out 5 and walked 3 also. Showing no sisterly affection Eileen Welch for the Immacs retired her sister on St. Mary's by catching her fly ball and Mousie Welch reversed the process by retiring Eileen when her opportunity came. These teams will undoubtedly get together again and it would do well to ascertain just when they will meet and take the game in. It will be a very worthwhile exhibition to say the least. The score:

NORRIS AND MURRAY ON JUNIOR WIGHTMAN TEAM AGAIN

Two Winchester girls, "Marnee" Norris and "Ruthie" Murray, and a former Winchester girl, Ann Albree, now living in Cambridge, have been chosen as members of the Junior Wightman Tennis Team to represent New England in the Middle Atlantic Tennis Championships in Philadelphia commencing August 30.

All three girls were members of the team last year, and "Marnee" Norris is again captain of the group as she was a year ago. Nationally "Marnee' is ranked 18th among the juniors in singles and 10th in doubles. She is the daughter of School Superintendent and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris of Church street, and is a sophomore at Rollins College, where she won her tennis letter last year as a freshman.

"Ruthie" Murray is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Murray of Washington street. She was graduated fromWinnchester High this June, after being one of the main-stays of the girls' tennis team during her entire undergraduate career. Ann Albree also graduated from Winchester High in June, winning letters in tennis, field hockey and basketball.

TENNIS CLINIC

Last Monday morning more than 30 Winchesterites again gathered at the Palmer street tennis courts to benefit from the clinic which Joe Corish, out of the kindness of a generous heart, is conducting with all his well-known and contagious enthusiasm. To emphasize the point that one should stick with the backboard until the strokes have developed and one has learned to move efficiently, the whole group assembled and worked for the morning right in the backboard court. The stress is still upon fundamentals, but if advanced players attend there will always be time for them to ask questions and be shown the answer as well as some of the more intricate techniques.

The following attended last Monday for the first time: Margaret Thomas, Mary Jane Lutes, Thomas McKee, Nelson Joyner, Nancy Donaghey, Peter Murphy, Elaine Foster, Suzanne Wadsworth, Judy Dellicker, and Susan Joyner.

The next meeting is at the same place: 10 o'clock Monday morning; 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, it it rains on Monday.

MONAHANS WON FATHER AND SON TOURNEY WITH FIRST DAY CARD OF 72

Judge Joseph W. Monahan and his son, Joe, Jr., won the Winchester Father and Son Golf Tournament with a one-over-par gross 72 posted last week Tuesday on the first day of the three-day tourney. Seventy-two equals the record for the event, established by the same Monahans in 1939 and twice equalled since then, once in 1940 by Tom Leonard and Tom Leonard, Jr., of Nashua, N. H.: and again last year by John Nies and John Nies, Jr., of United Shoe. The Monahans, now playing as a Winchester team were representing Sandy Burr and Belmont when they won before. They were out of competition in the war years because young Joe was overseas, last winning the Father-Son in 1942.

Ray and Bill Roberts of Wachusetts had a 75 to land them in second place with the Winchester team of David and Jim Wilcox posting a 76 that landed them in a tie for third. Dave and Jim outdrew the other teams for the third place award, fourth going to John Nies and John, Jr., of United Shoe, and fifth, to Charles Mulcahy and Charles, Jr., of Brae Burn. The Wilcoxes had the best inward nine of the tourney, 35, with consecutive birdies on the 11th, 12th and 13th holes.

A Winchester team of Richard B., and Dick Neiley won the low net prize with a 65. Behind them were four teams with this same reduced score, the top place going to the Neileys on their gross.

Other Winchester wins were in the class for fathers playing with two sons, won by Arlington's Police Chief Archie Bullock, playing with John, 79-65, and Bob, 84-66; in the class for fathers playing with most sons, won by Elmer Zirkel, with Bill, 77-65, with Bob, 80-70, with John, 101-73, and with Elmer, Jr., 101-85; and in the grandfather and grandson class, where Percy A., and James Goodale had 100-76, and Francis E., and David Smith, 106-83.

Other winners were:

Fathers with Sons Under 12 Years

Low gross, Franklin and A. G. Pfaelzer, The Country Club, (95); second gross, Arthur and Arthur Billingham III, (96), Needham.

LEGION JUNIORS WIN AGAIN

For the second time this week the Winchester Junior Legion edged by Greenwood A. C. by a one-run margin, this time at Wakefield last Sunday afternoon by a score of 2 to 1. This was the seventh consecutive victory for the Junior Legionnaires and their thirteenth win against three defeats.

As was the case last Thursday evening against this same team, it was a pitching duel all the way. Don Kenton on the mound for the locals pitched superb ball, granting only four hits while striking out nine and giving up three bases on balls. His Wakefield opponent, Berns, was almost as effective as he gave up seven hits while striking out four batters and granting two bases on balls.

Wakefield scored the first run of the game in the last half of the eighth when they bunched three of the four hits they made off Kenton. With one out, Doucette singled in the hole between third and short-stop. Miller followed with a single to left field. Doucette holding up at second. When Shea bounded back to Kenton, he wheeled and threw out Doucette at third on a pretty play and well he did for he cut off a run as Morris followed with a sharp single to center to score Miller.

With defeat staring them in the face, Winchester came to bat with fire in their eyes and determined to win. Power opened the inning with a single to left field. After failing to sacrifice successfully, Reardon fouled out. Donaghey smashed a long triple to deep left field, scoring Power with the tying run, and scored the winning run when the relay to the plate was wild.

The locals played good ball again in winning this game with Reardon having the only error, an excusable one on a ground ball. Features of the game were a great catch by Williams in left field of a long drive down the foul line, a leaping one-hand catch by Reardon of a looping drive, a great play by Coon on a ground ball on the left field side of second base, Donaghey's game winning triple, and above all, a grand pitching performance by Don Kenton. Kenton has allowed only fifteen hits and six runs in his last twenty-seven innings of pitching to post his last three victories.

BIKE RECOVERED AT WALDEN

On July 31, a bicycle owned by Thomas Queen of 15 Richardson street was stolen from the Winchester Theatre while its owner was enjoying the show.

The local police put the theft on the teletype and last Thursday afternoon were notified by the State Police that they had recovered the bike at Lake Walden in Concord.

The bike was taken to the Concord Barracks of the State Police where it was claimed by its owner.

JUNIORS WON TIGHT BALL-GAME

No Passes as Daniels Wins Pitchers Battle

The Winchester Junior Legion defeated the Greenwood A. C. of Wakefield at Leonard Field last Thursday evening by a score of 1 to 0 in a tight pitcher's dule between "Major" Daniels of Winchester and Bill Moran of Wakefield. The locals played errorless ball to support Daniels' brilliant pitching, with Coon and Reardon contributing sparkling plays around second base.

Daniels had pitched no-hit, no reach ball for six full innings before the first two batters in the top of the seventh singled in succession. "Major" retired the next three batters on infield balls to end Wakefield's only threat. Daniels struck out eight batters and did not issue a base on balls in the eight innings he worked. Thus, Wakefield had only two runners in the ball game. Daniels had to be at his best for Moran, his opponent, allowed only four hits while striking out four men and likewise did not issue a base on balls. It certainly is unusual to see no bases on balls issued in eight innings by youngsters of this age.

Winchester scored the only run of the game in the third inning. With one out Patterson beat out a hit in the hole between third base and short stop. He was forced at second as Power bounced back to the pitcher. Power moved up to second base on a balk by Moran, Reardon doubled to right field to drive in Power with the run that meant victory for Winchester.

MOULTON TRIPLE WINNER AT MARBLEHEAD

While Don Simonds, Tufts student, was winning the Corinthian and New England awards in the Race Week competition at Marblehead last week, another, and younger Winchester boy, was also doing all right for himself in series for Brutal Beasts at Marblehead.

"Jerry" Moulton would be the name and he just won the Corinthian Yacht Club award for the second division of Brutal Beasts, the Boston Yacht Club Award for the series held last week Wednesday and to top it all off, the Award for the Summer Series which started the first of July and continued up to Race Week.

That is very good going for a boy who will be entering high school as a freshman this fall and is only in his second year of racing, at least in the big time class.

"Jerry" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Moulton of Lantern lane. He learned to sail at Camp Wyanoke in Wolfeboro on Lake Winnipesaukee, and two years ago his parents got him a brutal beast, in which he has made long strides as a skipper, for the competition is pretty keen in this class.

"Jerry" has a sister, Ann, who occasionally sails with him, but never acts as crew for her skipper brother. As a matter of fact Ann is said to be not too frightfully keen about sailing.

MARTIN WON BELLEVUE TOURNEY

69 Sets New Course Record

Edward Martin, Winchester Country Club's new State amateur golf champion, won new honors last Friday when he turned in a 35-34-69 to win the Class A division of the two-day tournament at the Bellevue Country Club. His 69 constituted a new Bellevue record for Massachusetts Golf Association sponsored play.

WINCHESTER SWIMMERS SCORED AT PITTSFIELD

Members of the Winchester Swimming Club were among the place winners at the N.E.A.A.A.U. swimming meet held last Saturday at Pittsfield.

Bob McGrath easily won the 100 yard backstroke open event, and was second to White of South Boston in the 100 yard breaststroke Tom McGowan was a good third in his heat of the 150 medley event, but was outside the places in the final.

Lynn Aitkens also made the trip to Pittsfield with the W. S. C., but her event, the 100 yard breaststroke was scratched because of lack of entries.

WINCHESTER MOPS UP AT MARBLEHEAD

For the ump-teenth year in a row, the Winchester Boat Club's Snipe skippers hauled some of their sleek sloops down to Marblehead and walked off with the lion's share of the loot. Only one trophy, the Pleon Yacht Club cup for skippers under 21, failed to return to Winchester. Bill Wilkins of Boston Bay barely beat out Al Litchfield, Jr., to take top honors in that race.

Top skipper of the week was Don Simonds, Jr., (now known to his friends as "the beard") who won the New England Championship and the Corinthian Yacht Club series. He just nosed out Jack Streeton for the championship and although Jack failed to cop any cups he was the most consistent sailor of the week.

Mel Moller won Eastern Yacht Club Series and the Boston Yacht Club race, to account for the rest of the silver. Mel won three races but was well in the wake of too many other boats in the other races to win the championship.

Al Litchfield, Sr., sailed sensationally all week and needed only a victory or two to finish in the money but he never could quite garner top honors.

George Jones, Bart Sullivan, Ted Burleigh, Jr., Bill Cusack, Holbrook Bugbee, Gus Larsen and the Freyer-Blamire combination sailed well enough to beat out most of the Boston Bay boys but couldn't quite keep up with their fellow fleet members.

Gus Larsen's jinxed GAMBIT was tossed on the rocks one night and pretty badly battered for the only serious casualty to the Winchester boats. It's repairable, however, and we hope Gus will be back on the Mystic very soon.

Once again it has been proven beyond any doubt that the Mystic is a marvelous place to learn to sail. Our "sweet water" skippers go down to sea and lick the salt water boys in their own back yard. Come on down and join the fleet.

Edgar J. Rich, recently deceased, was a good citizen. He loved Winchester, the town he and his wife selected as a place to make their home, and during the long years of his residence he builded well for the community insofar as it lay within his power to do so. At his death it was found that his service to the town would not terminate with the ending of his days here, but would continue in the form of a generous bequest setting up for the use of the Public Library, of which he was for forty years a trustee, a Lincoln and Lee Trust Fund to be used to secure information of all sorts relating to these great men and the Civil War, in which they were on opposing sides. In addition to benefitting the town and library Mr. Rich made this bequest with the hope that in the study of these two great Americans would come a better understanding and greater friendship between the North and the South. Besides this trust fund Mr. Rich left the Library his own unusually fine Lincoln Library and other collections of books and manuscripts. There are other provisions of the will, particularly that directing otherwise unused portions of the income from the Trust Fund to be used as prizes for essays by Winchester high school pupils on Lincoln and Lee, which will also prove most beneficial. It is, however, in the establishment of the Lincoln and Lee Trust Fund and the bequest of Mr. Rich's own Lincoln Library to the town that the testator made his greatest contribution. Here he, like the man in Emerson's poem, "The Problem", "builded better than he knew." Even now the scope of his bequest has widened far beyond the boundaries of this town and state. Several letters have already been received from States in the deep south, commending the spirit of Mr. Rich's gift, and expressing the greatest interest in possibly new material on Lincoln, Lee and the Civil War which his bequest may bring to light. The particular value of Mr. Rich's Lincoln collection lies in the fact that his special hobby had been securing things about the Great Emancipator, written and told by people who actually knew Lincoln. Lincoln scholars believe there may well be among his books, pamphlets and papers material that is fresh and new in its information. Lincoln and Lee scholars all over the country are bound to be greatly interested in what the Winchester Public Library has to offer on these two great Civil War day figures as the result of the Rich bequest. Undoubtedly many will visit Winchester to see and study these important books and papers. In this way, beyond the immediate great value of the bequest, the town stands to benefit immeasurably; and if from this bequest the promotion of better understanding and relationships between the North and South should be furthered ever so slightly, that would be what Mr. Rich would like best. When the town loses a valuable citizen like Mr. Rich it is good to know that, beyond his good works, which unfortunately are all too soon forgotten, there remains something tangible to recall to the minds of all of us the breadth of his regard for, and service to the community. The Lincoln and Lee Trust Fund is such a memento to Mr. Rich. It is nice to learn that it is creating such widespread interest.

PUBLIC INFORMATION BASIC TO DEMOCRACY

Editor of the Star:

One of the basic principles of democracy is public information and, with the cooperation of the STAR, the Military Man Power Committee will make public to the people of Winchester necessary and interesting information regarding enlistment in the U. S. Army and Air Force. Perhaps it would be of help to publicly answer some questions which have already come in.

1. Should my boy enlist now or finish High School? Enlistment standards have been raised to the highest requirements in your Army's history. The average soldier now scores 30% higher than the minimum for acceptance a year ago. From a purely practical point of view the Army and Air Force want young men to stay in school until after graduation.

2. Why maintain such high standards when short of men? Our soldiers and airmen represent the United States in many countries. They must be of a caliber to earn the respect of those people, also, a single well-trained infantryman has fire power equal to a 10-man artillery squad of 10 years ago; it takes keen, well-educated minds to handle over-all aviation equipment and Army material — a military career is, indeed, a profession.

3. If my boy enlists has he any chance of doing work he likes? The Army Technical School Plan offers any high school graduate the chance to choose his training course or school BEFORE enlisting; there are more than 60 courses offered giving the young man the kind of training he wants for his future life either in or out of the Armed Services. Nothing is more valuable in preparing for a well-paid, secure future than a thorough background in a skill or trade. Without stress of war, the Army and Air Force are able to place much emphasis on placing the man in the work he desires. This builds good Army morale and turns out better citizens.

4. My son wants to leave High School and enlist, will the Army guarantee him a High School diploma? More than 1,200,000 men have taken the U. S. Armed Forces Institute courses which are accepted for credits by many of the high schools and colleges of the country, but only a High School or State Department of Education can grant a diploma and only a college or university can accept a student for admission or grant college credit. The armed services issue Achievement Certificates for work accomplished. Advise your boy to finish High School.

5. Mrs. C. G. — After further investigation, will give you further information (in the STAR) regarding the more than 59 Colleges and Universities cooperating with the U. S. A. F. I. The Army-Navy School with the World Campus.

Sincerely yours,
Gladys N. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee
Mrs. K. B. Toye

THE SPECIAL SESSION???

President Truman has either insulted the intelligence of American citizens — or the New Dealer, who said, a few years ago, — "The American public is just too dumb to understand" — was right.

Remember the 1932, New Deal, "smear" Hoover Campaign? Remember that every single thing President Hoover asked that Democratic Congress to do, they laughed and refused to pass anything? Remember when President Hoover asked President-elect Roosevelt to work with him (between the election in 1932 and Roosevelt's inauguration in 1933) and Roosevelt said: "No, that's your job." Remember all that — and more? Of course, you do. It was a matter of public record and was in the press daily.

The "New Deal" Democrats use President Roosevelt's name every few minutes. Why not Republicans follow Democratic actions of 1932 and 1933 — during that terrible depression — and wait until Dewey takes over in 1949, as President Roosevelt and the Democratic Party did in 1932? Where is the difference? Let us rely on Dewey.

If President Truman's message, at the beginning of the 80th Congress, which he said was the worst Congress in history, had been adopted by that Congress, it would have increased all taxes ten times. It would have bankrupted this nation and every person alive — for life. If President Truman's message to this special session of Congress should be adopted, it would treble the taxes and bankrupt the nation because it would create the greatest inflation ever known in America.

President Truman now has all the powers to bring about deflation and lower prices: - He can stop the Treasury Department's support of government bonds. He can stop the curtailing of planting and the slaughtering of cattle and hogs. (July 29, 1948 — 500,000 head of cattle alone while egg and pork production was cut. ((Sen. Jenner (R.) of Indiana.))) He can lower the subsidy to the farmers, which keeps up the cost of food. He has the power now; but — for votes and political reasons — he will not do anything. He will continue to blame everyone else, except himself.

The voters seem to forget that every time wages are increased in the unionized, larger industries, Small Business (the service industries, the professions, and the farmers) must all raise their costs — the bulk of American citizens. It is a fact that Organized Labor represents the smallest number of people who must eat to live, in America; and that, when they get theirs, millions of others suffer high cost of living. When President Truman said that Industry could raise wages without raising selling prices, he forgot the 90% — the small people.

The Democratic Platform asks help for Small Business. How well the writers of that plank realized how difficult it is for a "small business" to succeed — for some of them, perhaps, have tried it out. They know. What a confession, when trying to run the biggest business in the world — the United States Government — if they cannot run a small business!

This special session better go home. Let us remember the Democratic, "smear" campaigns of 1932 and "sit it out" until Dewey. Let us always remember that the majority of Democrats in the 80th Congress voted with the Republicans, for they knew that President Truman either just did not know what it was all about — or he did — which was worse?

Socrates.

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE TO EDGAR J. RICH

In the recent death of Edgar J. Rich, Winchester has lost not only one of its leading citizens, but a man whose public service and professional attainments will be long remembered. During an active life, he gave unceasingly of his time in serving his fellow townspeople for many years in the development of the cultural and educational advantages of the Winchester Public Library.

We think of Mr. Rich, with his high record of achievements, as one with whom we were fortunate to have been associated on the Board of Library Trustees. A trustee of the library since 1911, he was largely responsible for the erection of the present library building. Sound in judgment, pleasant and wise in counsel, appreciative and encouraging in the work of his associates, Mr. Rich was truly a foundation stone in the life of the community.

The keen perception and intellect of Mr. Rich as a scholar and historian of the Civil War Era, combined with his desire to contribute something of lasting value to Winchester and to his country — is clearly exemplified in the gift to the town as set forth in his will. With this splendid gift comes an impelling challenge to our townspeople to fulfill its purpose. It is our fervent hope that with this invaluable collection of books, data and manuscripts at our disposal, we may all have a better understanding of our heritage so that petty prejudices based on historical misconceptions following the Civil War, may be forever wiped away.

For his many years of faithful service, for his intelligent leadership in various undertakings, and for his contribution to the cultural and educational betterment of the town, Winchester extends her heartfelt thanks to Edgar J. Rich. We shall miss him deeply.

The hottest race in the Playground Baseball League continues to be in the Junior division where Leonard Field retains its one game margin over Loring Avenue by splitting even in the two games played with them during the past week. Both games were hotly contested and were decided by one run margins as the winning team in each case rallied to come from behind in the final inning to win.

The Leonard Field Intermediates held their three-game margin over Loring Avenue while the Loring Avenue Seniors remain undefeated in their division with eight straight victories to their credit. In the smaller boy's softball league Loring Avenue defeated Leonard Field 4 to 3 in the best played game of the year to cut Leonard Field's margin over them to one game. Leonard Field added a half game to that margin later in the week by burying Ginn Field under a 24 to 0 score. The big game in this competition will come next week when Loring Avenue travels to Leonard Field.

The arts and crafts program is functioning in great style as the youngsters have added gay colored mittens to their knitting repertoire. The knitted hats are still very popular and many youngsters are making a hat and mitten combination that is very attractive. It certainly is an accomplishment and a great source of satisfaction for a child to make a pair of mittens and a hat for herself. The pot holder looms are always busy and more looms will have to be made for next year to accommodate the number of youngsters who want to make the cherished pot holders. An innovation of the past week that has proved to be very popular in the modeling and painting in water colors of Donald Duck and other of Walt Disney's famous figures. These plaster models come out very well and the youngsters get a big kick out of clothing the figures in bright colored paints.

LAMARCHE'S BARB HAVING GOOD SEASON AT MARBLEHEAD

Although she didn't win any titles during Race Week "Barb", Paul Lamarche's 30 foot sloop, has been enjoying a good season in the MB Knockabout Class at Marblehead.

The Barb won the first half of the summer series racing at Marblehead in her class with a point total of 735, thereby enriching the Lamarche trophy case by one silver platter. Paul and his wife, Barbara, who often crews for him, are in their second year of racing at Marblehead, so winning first half honors among those who race MBs every week is nothing to be sneezed at.

During Race Week the Barb got away to a poor start on the opening Saturday when she lost her rigging in that terrific 30 mile gale on that day. She did win one first during the week, but Paul was a bit hazy on the day. He was sure, however, that "the Mrs." was aboard when the Barb came in first. He also picked up a third and a couple of fourths.

Harry Bean and Ned Morse were Winchester crew members during Race Week, and Harry is pretty much a regular on the boat, skippering the Barb when Paul isn't around.

The Lamarches sail from the Marblehead Harbor Club, run by "Tiger" and Phil Miller of this town.

The V. F. W. consolidated their grip on first place in the Town Softball League when they turned back the challenging Sons of Italy team by a score of 9 to 7 in one of the more exciting games of the past week. With just seven games left to play of the regular schedule, the Vets appear to be a sure thing to finish up in the top spot.

The Sachems and the Sons of Italy, likewise, appear to be certain to make the play offs, although the order of their finish will be a contest right down to the final evening of the schedule. The St. Mary's, however, went into a bad slump, dropping three of the four games they played during the past week. As the result a wide open contest now exists for the fourth and final playoff position with the St. Mary's only one game ahead of the Maguire Motors, two ahead of the Rockets, and three ahead of the Atomics.

Upsets during the past week occurred when the Atomics edged the Sachems 7 to 6 behind the steady pitching of Pat Patterson and a timely triple by Ed Stone. The Atomics rallied for six runs in the last inning to turn an opponent defeat into an upset victory. The Rockets upset the St. Mary's in an 8 to 4 game to keep alive their play off hopes and these same Rockets bear watching as they are the youngest team in the League and are always in there scrapping. The Maguire Motors showed that their recent upward surge is no fluke as they turned in two of the best played games of the week in defeating the St. Mary's 5 to 4 and the Atomics 5 to 1.

Next week's schedule lists several attractive games with the two best listed for Ginn Field on Monday and Friday evenings. On Monday the Sachems and the Sons of Italy meet for the second time this year with the S. O. I. having won the previous encounter by a score of 13 to 8 and the Sachems determined to even up the season's series. On Friday evening the V. F. W. and the Sons of Italy are scheduled for their third contest of the year in a game that should be a dandy.

The Vets have beaten the Sons of Italy twice by scores of 10 to 9 and 9 to 7 and that indicates how closely watched these teams are.

The schedule for next week:

Sunday, August 15
Red Shirts vs Maguire Motors (Ginn)

Monday, August 16
Sachems vs Sons of Italy (Ginn)
Maguire Motors vs Comets (West Side)
Rockets vs K. of C. (Shore Road)

Sunday, August 15
Winchester vs Beverly Junior Legion at Leonard Field at 3:00 p. m.

Tuesday, August 17
Winchester vs Malden DeMolay at Leonard Field at 6:15 p. m.

Thursday, August 19
Winchester vs Beverly Junior Legion at Beverly at 6: 15 p. m.

The Winchester Junior Legion brings one of their finest attractions of the year to Winchester when they cross bats with the Beverly Junior Legion at Leonard Field on Sunday afternoon. The Beverly team is a veteran outfit that boasts a record of seventeen victories and five defeats but the locals are pretty prowd of their thirteen and three record. Beverly ended in a tie with East Lynn in the Essex County Junior Legion competition and was defeated by then in a playoff for the County championship. Two of Beverly's victories were over the State of New Hampshire Junior Legion champions, Keene, N. H., who are now in the Regional playoffs in Vremont. It will be interesting to see how the locals fare against this kind of competition.

WATER & SEWER CREWS BUSY

Town Water & Sewer Department crews are busy installing water and sewer in Town Way below Symmes Corner and also in Samoset road in the new West Side School district. The Highway Department is going to build Samoset road as a part of the school improvement project and the Water & Sewer crews are getting their work completed before that job is commenced.

Sewer crews will commence next month the job of laying sewer in Lantern lane, the residences there being now served by septic tanks. Also scheduled for next month is the job of lay water pipes on Hutchinson road.

Commencing the first of this month 255 feet of sewer was laid in Ledyard road, and thus far this month there have been ten water and sewer house installations. In July there were 37, which is better than one a day. The town is really growing.

WINCHESTER TENNIS WINS AGAIN

Once again the Palmer street boys have emerged victorious in their Old Colony Tennis League matches. The fourth match of the current season was played last Saturday when Lexington sent a good team plus some enthusiastic rooters; but for the fourth time in succession the local group carried off the honors. Just to add more good play to the meeting a supplementary battle of doubles was joined between Jim Riley and Dot Hills against Bill Wilkins and John Durfee, and, of course, Jim and Dot won 6-4, 6-1. The official match went as follows:

Jimmy Coon defeated Bob Johnsen 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

Art Hills defeated Warren Love 5-7, 6-4, 6-0.

Charlie Watson, now No. 3 on the Bumper List, defeated Bob Sproat 6-1, 6-0.

Ken and Dick Hills defeated Win Tower and Frank Pespisa 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Bill Howland and Bill Swift defeated Bud Nutter and Whit Gray 7-5, 8-10, 6-4.

Tomorrow the Winchester team will travel to Lincoln. Good luck, boys!

Captain William W. Martin, USAAF, and Mrs. Martin (Jacqueline West), and their family are now located at 1630 Tibbetts avenue, Troy, N. Y.

ARLINGTON BEAT WINCHESTER IN REVERE LEAGUE SERIES

Arlington D.A.V. won its Paul Revere League game from Winchester Sunday afternoon, 7-5, with Reardon holding the locals to four hits. Tompkins, who started for Winchester was wild, and finally was relieved by Slack, who was very effective.

Phil O'Rourke got four straight bases on balls with no official times at bat. Tony Saraco ended the 6th inning with a perfect throw from right field to third base to cut down a runner. The summary:

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Miss Irene Lundin of 23 Pine Grove Park was pleasantly surprised last Friday evening when a group of fifty relatives and friends gathered at her home to extend congratulations and best wishes upon the occasion of her 20th birthday.

Miss Lundin, who is a laboratory technician at the Winchester Hospital, had received the usual cards and birthday greetings during the day, but had suspected no further demonstration, being completely surprised upon entering her home during the evening to find the large group assembled there.

She was remembered with many appropriate gifts, and after regaining her composure, responded fittingly to the remarks of presentation.

After the packages were opened and the gifts admired, the evening was given over to games and refreshments with all present agreeing that the occasion was one long to be remembered.

"DAYS OF YORE"

Clippings from the STAR Files

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

August 10, 1923

Winchester, in common with the whole country, has been plunged into a period of mourning over the death of President Warren G. Harding, and a general observance on Friday, the day of the funeral services at Marion, Ohio, will be held.

Another automobile was wrecked by striking the big elm tree on Church street on Monday afternoon, Adrian Kramer of Boston driving his Peerless sedan into the tree at about 2:45 He said he was looking to one side in attempting to avoid another car at the time and failed to see the tree.

As Mr. M. J. Foley of Middlesex street was starting out on a trip with a party of friends Tuesday forenoon, an axle on his Ford sedan broke, shaking up the party considerably. No one was injured.

Sergt. John A. Harrold of the local police department received a letter from his son, Charles J. Harrold, now at Capetown, South Africa. Mr. Charles Harrold left last May on the Mallory liner Weytheville, the voyage to Capetown taking 41 days.

The tax rate for this year was announced by the Board of Assessors this week as $24.40, an increase of $1.20 over last year. This is a very agreeable surprise to Winchester residents, many of whom looked for a much larger increase.

Word received this week states that Mr. Kenneth Caldwell, who is spending his vacation cruising along the Maine coast, was badly injured at Boothbay Harbor recently. According to report he fell on the engine receiving a bad cut on one leg clear to the shin bone. One report states that it was necessary to take 30 stitches to close the wound and another 18.

The Malden City Club are up on their ear because of losing the game last Monday night and will be here Saturday afternoon with a formidable array of sluggers, some of them being borrowed for the occasion.

Next Wednesday, August 15th, will be a gala day for Winchester. Including the annual Trader's Day, which was postponed from last week, and the big combined outing of Winchester and Woburn Lodges of Elks, the day will also observe the celebration by the Italian residents of the Feast of the Ascension, with a big fireworks display in the evening on Manchester Field, to say nothing of the finest band concert to be given there.

Policeman Edward O'Connell was biten on the leg Monday night by a dog, while on duty on Swanton street.

The corner stone of the new Unitarian Church was put in position Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Throughout the exercises a heavy rainstorm prevailed, the audience being protected by a large awning. Judge Littlefield conducted the exercises, and seated on the platform were Rev. Mr. Littlefield, S. W. Twombly and Herbert W. Dutch. The first church edifice of the Unitarian Society, dedicated March 17th, 1870, was destroyed by fire on the evening of November 16th, 1897.

Mr. Forrest C. Manchester, who has been quite ill with blood poisoning, is much better this morning, although still confined to his bed. Clams were the cause of his sickness.

Winchester was visited with the severest thunder and electrical storm of the season on Monday afternoon, the electric car tracks in front of Young & Brown's drug store were completely covered with sand and gravel, washed down from Church street which is being repaired. Miss Cora M. Maynard of Lynn was struck by lightning and instantly killed while with a companion in the Fells. She was a cousin to Mrs. Holcombe.

The rearrangement of the paths on the Common was commenced Monday.

St. Mary's parish will hold its annual lawn party in Prince's Grove next Thursday evening. In all probability this will be the last party to be held in this grove previous to its being cut up into house lots.

Next winter the Winchester Amateurs will present an entirely new opera, now in course of preparation, especially for this organization. It has not yet been named, but promises to outdo anything heretofore given here.

Mr. W. J. Thompson has declined to accept office as one of the Fence Viewers, to which he was elected by the Selectmen, Monday evening.

Mr. Cornelius Bowen of Somerville, his wife, his seven-year old daughter and four-year old son, and Mrs. McCormack while driving through Grove street Sunday, on their way home from the Fells were thrown from their carriage by the horse becoming frightened. Mr. Bowen's left arm was broken, Mrs. Bowen's right arm was broken, the little boy received a compound fracture of the jaw and injuries to his back, while the little girl and Mrs. McCormack received slight bruises. Later, upon the advice of a physician, the boy was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where he died from his injuries on Monday.

The fall term of the schools begins on the second Wednesday in September, which will be the 14th of that month.

Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, exemplified the first degree on six candidates Thursday evening.

Now that the war is about over, look for thrilling news from the Klondike gold fields. To place much faith in this kind of news is hardly better than investing money in Lubec gold. The exciting returns from the gold fields originate in the offices of speculators.

CHANDLER'S TO OPEN BRANCH STORE IN BELMONT

Chandler & Company of Boston have announced plans to open their new branch store, designed by E. Paul Behles & Associates of New York City, in Belmont, about October 1, 1948.

A survey to determine the needs of the community in a branch store was undertaken by the designers and the results showed that the following departments were needed in Belmont:

Basement: Piece goods, upholstery fabrics, curtains and draperies, lamps, gifts, radios and small electrical appliances, offices, cashier, credit department and layaway department.

First floor: Children's department, girls, teen age, sportswear, small accessories; jewelry, perfumes, handkerchiefs, gloves, notions and trimmings.

Second floor: Shoes, millinery, corsets and lingerie, and coats and suits.

E. Paul Behles & Associates studied the community interests and characteristics of Belmont in order to determine a basis for store design and recommendations for merchandising. According to their conclusions, they suggested a design for the exterior in a simple style, in welcome contrast to some of the blatant and over-pretentious fronts that are the current vogue in "Modern" architecture. The exterior is white painted brick, with details of cornice, molding, etc., of the colonial period and the name of the store in raised dark blue letters. The marquee is decorated with green planting, backed by floodlights which illuminate the entire facade. The modern all glass lower front was designed so that passersby can see into the store itself along the entire length of the building. Columns are set back from the street six feet for uninterrupted vision. There are no columns in the store itself, allowing for an uninterrupted view of the entire area.

Chandler's is bringing a very modern and up to date store to Belmont which will fill a definite need in that community.

George S. McLaughlin of Boston is the architect in charge of construction.

One of the girls at the Browning Laboratory on upper Main street reported seeing what looked like an egret, or one of the now nearly extinct white herons, flying over Wedge Pond at the rear of Pike's last Friday morning.

WINCHESTER BOYS IN AUTO CRASH IN MEDFORD

John Muehlig, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Muehlig of 128 Highland avenue, and Daniel Devlin, also 16, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Devlin of 4 Bonad road narrowly escaped serious injury last week Thursday when the automobile in which they were riding on South Border road left the street and jumping the curb, struck a tree. Bouncing from the first tree, the machine then crashed into a second and was badly damaged.

Both boys were thrown from the car. Devlin was thrown clear of the machine and almost miraculously landed on his feet, being uninjured. Muehlig was not so fortunate. He was thrown into the street and was knocked unconscious, sustaining cuts about the head and left arm and a broken left arm. He was taken to the Lawrence Memorial Hospital where his injuries were cared for and x-rays taken. He was released from the hospital on Monday and joined his parents who are on vacation in Gloucester.

According to the police Muehlig was driving the automobile, a new Packard coupe owned by his parents. Both he and Devlin will enter the junior class at Winchester High School this fall and both are athletes, Devlin playing basketball and baseball and Muehlig playing football and running on the track team.

The high school coaching staff will be hoping that Muehlig's injuries heal quickly as they have been counting on him for football backfield duty this fall. His arm is broken between the elbow and wrist and he had several stitches taken in the cut in his head.

Two more football players were also hurt in a recent auto accident, Mario Mascioli, tall end, and Paul Amico, sturdy fullback, receiving injuries when the car in which they were riding with a friend was struck by another machine. Amico got a crack on the head and Mascioli received some badly bruised ribs. Fortunately neither boy was more seriously injured, and if you are looking for signatures to get through a law keeping youngsters away from automobiles you can get your first names from members of the Winchester High coaching staff.

OPERATOR FORCED OFF ROAD BY CAR

A Winchester woman reported to the police last Friday afternoon that as she was driving on Wildwood street toward Church street, a light blue coupe, driven by a man, came out of Palmer street across Wilwood street into Fletcher street at high speed and without stopping at the stop sign there.

The woman reported that to avoid a collision she had to apply her brakes suddenly and drive off the road, a little girl riding with her being thrown by the sudden stop over the back of the front seat into the rear of the machine.

The light blue coupe was found to be registered to a Lynn man, who was sent by the Lynn police to talk things over with Chief Charles J. Harrold. The talk was probably not especially pleasant.

BOY DAMAGED CARS

Sten Johnson whose automobile repair yard is located at 795 Main street notified the police Tuesday morning that some time the night previous the canvas top of a Mercury convertible had been slashed and some cars ransacked in the yard of his establishment. Officer William E. Cassidy investigated and learned that another officer, Patrolman William E. Callahan had noticed a boy in the vicinity of the Johnson yard the night previous.

Further investigation disclosed the fact that Officer Callahan had to release the youngster from one of the cars in the yard, but had seen no signs of damage at that time.

The boy, living near the center was questioned and according to the police admitted having slashed the mercury and ransacked the other cars, doing about $65 worth of damage. Police say he is five years old.

Last Saturday a Cambridge boy eighteen years of age was seriously injured in a fall from a horse on a bridal path in the Middlesex Fells. He was unable to move as his spine was fractured and an ambulance had to go directly to his side. Last reports were that he was at the Cambridge Hospital and on the danger list.

BOSTON AND MAINE

A Million more calls every day

...that's the story of telephone service in Greater Boston as compared with 3 years ago

In three years, the number of telephones in Greater Boston has increased by about 26%. But the number of telephone calls has increased by 40%. How has the telephone company kept up with the huge growth in demand for service?

FIRST, we have expanded telephone facilities by a very heavy construction program.

SECOND, we have used our new equipment for the good of the greatest number by putting most new telephones on party lines.

We are continuing our expansion program. Its first aim is to provide service for everybody who wants a telephone and does not yet have one. After their needs are filled, we'll be able to start making desired changes in types of service.

★ ★ ★

Winchester has kept pace with the general trend of increased telephone usage. In 1945, an average of (23,700) calls were being made each day. That volume has now increased to (28,300), a difference of (29%). In addition to this increase in volume, there are now (904) more telephones than there were 2½ years ago. To take care of this telephone growth switchboard additions costing $97,000 have been completed. Cable work amounting to $45,000 is in progress and whatever more is needed to keep abreast of increased telephone usage will be added when conditions permit.

BAD CHECK PASSER CAUGHT

Late Friday afternoon Sergt. Thomas F. Cassidy of the police department picked up in the center a man who had allegedly passed a worthless check in exchange for merchandise at a local store.

According to the police the man first went to the Real Estate and Insurance office of P. T. Foley on Mt. Vernon street where he purchased some insurance, proffering a $20 check to pay for a charge of $6.50. He was unsuccessful in this attempt and as Mr. Foley notified the police at once the local authorities were on the lookout for the man.

Sergt. Cassidy spotted the man in the center and questioned him. It developed that he had purchased some paint at the Central Hardware Company, giving a check for $15 to pay the $1.50 due, and receiving the balance in change.

At the Central Hardware Company the paint and the money were returned.

At headquarters the man gave his name as John G. Pond of 5 Pitcher avenue, Medford. He had a checkbook from the National Shawmut Bank of Boston but police say he admitted that he had no funds in the bank. After a lecture by Chief Charles J. Harrold, Pond was warned to get out of town and to stay out. Police say that his speed out of headquarters indicated that he planned to heed the Chief's advice.

OCCUPANTS INJURED AS CAR RAMS TREE

Kenneth E., and Alice W. Downs of 13 Chestnut street, North Andover, were injured at 12:30 on Sunday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding struck a tree on Park avenue in front of the home of Mr. Walter S. Currie, at No. 2.

According to the police Mrs. Downs was driving the machine, a Pontiac sedan, which was headed west on Park avenue. She intended to stop at No. 10, but when she applied the brakes they did not hold and the machine continued down the hill until the operator drove it into a tree.

Mr. Downs, riding in the front seat, was thrown against the windshield, breaking the glass and sustaining abbrasions to his head and knee as well as a strained back. Mrs. Downs sustained a cut over the right eye.

Both were taken to the Winchester Hospital by John Keating of 16 Prince avenue and treated by Dr. Harry Benson. The machine was damaged about the front end.

PIAZZA WRECKED BY MOTORCYCLE

Occupants of the Bolivar residence on Upland road were surprised Saturday when a motorcycle, ridden by Alexander W. Farris of Dunstable landed on their porch, doing considerable damage.

According to the police Farris was riding his Harley-Davidson cycle from Sylvester avenue around the corner onto Upland road. The cycle got out of control, and going up over the sidewalk, crashed through a hedge, finally landing on the steps and front porch of the Bolivar house at No. 11. Farris, who was injured, agreed to pay for the damage done.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Conscious as the Hospital is of the limitations of space and personnel, it takes comfort and satisfaction in the readiness of patients to speak frankly of their hospital memories after returning home. From a dozen letters received this month, we make the following quotations. -- (from Winchester) "I have nothing but the highest praise for all that was done for me while I was in the hospital. The food was excellent, and the nurses kindness itself." -- (from Boston) "Before another day passes, I want to tell you how much impressed I was with the care given me at the Winchester Hospital. The nurses were most attentive, and so very pleasant. The food was perfectly delicious, and the atmosphere of the attractively decorated rooms most cheerful." (from Ipswich) "I should like to say that my stay at Winchester Hospital was most satisfactory. The entire hospital seemed to be run for my benefit, and each nurse did her best to make me comfortable." -- (from Winchester) "While in the hospital I received excellent attention and care from doctors, nurses and aides both day and night. At times I was rather uncomfortable through pain, but was always helped over it." -- (from Stoneham) "I am an 'old customer' at Winchester Hospital. I was one of the first patients of the cottage hospital on Washington street, and my daughter graduated from the Winchester Hospital School of Nursing. We feel it is our hospital. I had perfect care during my recent illness there. My only suggestion would be more nurses, but I know how very difficult it is to find nurses at this time." -- (from West Medford) "I have already thanked my nurses for the good care I received and the cheerfulness with which they fulfilled their duties. I don't know when I've had the pleasure of making friends with such a fine group of girls. The food, also, was excellent, and being a hospital dietitian myself, I appreciated the thought and the care with which the food was prepared and served." -- (from Everett) "While it sounds a little far-fetched to say I enjoyed my visit at Winchester Hospital, I can truthfully say that, thanks to your kind doctors, nurses and hospitable atmosphere, my stay with you was indeed a pleasant one. As for improvement in service, continue in your present way, it's tops!" -- (from Winchester) "Please extend my sincere thanks to the supervisors, nurses and all persons who helped in any way to make my mother comfortable. No matter what time of the day or night I visited my mother, I always found her being well cared for." -- (from Wakefield) "It was the high type of personnel-skilled, friendly and attentive-as well as excellent meals, which made my five weeks with you so truly enjoyable. Before and after my major operation I took advantage of the opportunity to visit all departments - X-ray, pathological laboratory, office, kitchen, laundry and grounds, making acquaintance with many members of your staff. My family and friends will understand how I could really enjoy a hospital stay only when the day comes for them, too, to be Winchester Hospital patients." -- (from Reading) "If I should write pages, I could never thank adequately the staff of the Winchester Hospital for all they have done in the last few weeks for my father and for me. Lucky people we were that our first hospital experience should be at Winchester!" -- (from a Winchester mother whose first experience in our Hospital was the birth of her second child) "I have come home most enthusiastic about the fine care given to both mothers and infants. I doubt whether there is a hospital anywhere in which more sweetly fragrant babies are brought to their mothers for feeding!" ---- The Hospital values highly the willingness of patients and their families to give us their uncensored appraisal of experiences in the Winchester Hospital. We believe these letters show a recognition of the fact that successful health service is a cooperative enterprise, shared by those giving the care and those receiving it.

The STAR received this week a card from Mr. William A. McLaughlin of Lake street, better known to readers of the paper's horseshoe notes as "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnasset. Willie is vacationing at Wells River, Vt., the place made famous by R. P. Teele of the Boston Paper Trade. When he "gets back from Wells River" Mr. McLaughlin writes that he will be in to see the boys!

Unfortunately his master did not see or hear his unexpected departure from the car and hours later he was still looking with the lost dog look about him.

BREAKS AT NORTH END STORES

One break and one attempted break were discovered at North End stores early last Friday morning.

At 7 o'clock at the Main Street Cash Market, 878 Main street, it was discovered that a screen had been ripped from a rear window and the window forced, access to the store being gained in that way. The back door was found open indicating that the thief or thieves left through the door.

The police were notified and Officers John H. Boyle and Henry P. Dempsey went to invesitgate. They could find nothing missing from the store, and the owner, a Somerville man, reported that there had been no money in the store.

Together with this break it was found at the nearby Red and White Market, at 888 Main street, an attempt had been made to enter, but without success. A corner of the screen had been pried from a door and attempt made to force in a side door to the store.

LIEUTENANT O'CONNELL GOT BIG FISH

Hooked 677 Pound Tuna Off Maine Coast

Lt. Edward W. O'Connell of the police department is an avid fisherman. Fishing seems to come natural-like to big "Ed" and whenever he is at leisure during the season he is as likely as not to be out after the finny spoil, big or little, shallow stream or deep water.

"Ed", like most sportsmen, has had a secret ambition. He has long wanted to catch one of the big tuna off the Maine coast, and this year, while on his vacation he saw his dream come true.

Accompanied by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Newton of Indiannapolis, Indiana, Officer Tommy Hamilton of the M. D. Police and Officer Hamilton's father, big "Ed" went down to York Village, Me., one day during his recently concluded vacation, arriving just in time to find the regular boat had left for the fishing grounds.

Ribbing up a deal with a York captain who had a 30 footer, the O'Connell party started out on their own, chugging out two or three miles or so off York Village. It was the lieutenant who first spotted several big tuna and it was big "Ed" who persuaded the captain to let him go out on the cat-walk at the bowsprit for a try at the fish with a harpoon.

"Ed" succeeded in hitting one of the fish which fought for two hours and covered some five miles before exhausting himself. It took the combined strength of all aboard to pull in the big catch, which was seven or eight feet long, and sold for $49. Now "Eddie", his ambition realized, is waiting for the pictures to prove his story. If you see him reach for his pocket with a gleam in his eye, you'll know what's coming.

HAVEN GRANTED LAMP HOLDER PATENT

On July 27, 1948, the United States Patent Office granted patent number 2,446,154 on a "Holder For Tubular Lamps" to Roger W. Haven, Winchester, Mass.

This invention pertains to an improved holder for gaseous discharge lamps, commonly know as fluorescent lights, and applies particularly to the type of holder that is adapted to receive connector pins projecting endwise from the base of the lamp. In their use, two holders are mounted, at a proper distance from each other, upon a supporting surface or upon a fixture chassis; and the ends of the lamp are inserted and securely held in their respective holders which also carry the conducting wires by means of which the lamp is energized.

In general, Mr. Haven's arrangement comprises two hollow body members of insulating material, each with a front plate secured thereto. The plate of one of these holders is provided with an opening through which the end of the lamp may be passed; and to this plate a coiled spring is attached, it being noted that the latter is in engagement with the wire that leads to the source of power.

A somewhat different structure is employed for the other holder, its front plate being provided both with a recess to receive its end portion of the lamp, and with springy metal conductors by means of which the electrical connections are made.

In the use of Mr. Haven's invention, one end of the lamp is inserted through the aperture of the first-mentioned holder and pushed inwardly against the spring a sufficient distance to permit the other end to be moved into alignment with the recess of the other holder. Thereupon, the action of the spring causes the lamp to move until both of its ends are seated properly in their respective holders.

According to Mr. Haven, his lampholders may be sealed against an accumulation of dirt and moisture by means of a special flexible ring that also acts as a vibration damper in industrial installations. Furthermore, they present a very attractive and symmetrical appearance as contrasted with prior constructions in which one or both of the lamp end-sections are exposed to view; and finally, his construction affords maximum protection against contact with live wires when the lamp is out of its operating position and also while it is being inserted in the holders.

This patent has been assigned to the Sylvania Electrical Products, Inc., Salem, Mass.

REV. LLOYD F. DEAN

REV. LLOYD F. DEAN APPOINTED TO FACULTY

Gordon College of Theology and Missions, located in the heart of one of the finest education, cultural and naturally beautiful sections of the Fenway in Boston, has announced its faculty additions for the fall session in both the College and the Divinity School.

The Reverend Lloyd F. Dean, Pastor of the First Congregational Church in Revere, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Fulton Dean of 247 Forest street, Winchester, has been appointed teacher of Christian Apologetics, a branch of the Philosophy Department which covers particularly the defense of the Christian faith.

Rev. Mr. Dean is a graduate of both the College and the Divinity School. He graduated from the college in 1944 and the Divinity School in 1946, both with the highest honors. He was a member of Phi Alpha Chi Society, membership of which is contingent upon a scholastic average of 90% and over. At the present time he is a candidate for a Ph.D. at Harvard College. Mr. Dean was ordained to the ministry May 22, 1946, but had been in the pulpit three years previous to the official ordination.

Gordon College has been training young men and women for the ministry and the mission field since 1889. It is one of the oldest, largest and finest theological colleges in the country.

"ONE THING I KNOW"

The second of the Union Summer Services to be held in the Unitarian Church is scheduled for next Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock. The minister of the church Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman will occupy the pulpit when he will preach on the subject: "ONE THING I KNOW". Mrs. Dorothy Perkins, soprano soloist of the Unitarian Choir, whose solos were so much enjoyed last Sunday, will sing two solos at this service and Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham, whose playing of the service has received so much favorable comment, will be at the console of the organ. In addition to being Organist and Director of Music, Mrs. Witham is also the carillonist of the Unitarian Church, she will play familiar hymns on the carillon before the service begins.

WINCHESTER TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

A meeting of the Winchester Toastmistress Club will be held at the Melrose home of Mrs. Rachel Bagley, 118 Bellevue avenue at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday evening, August 25th.

Mrs. Ruth Kelley will assist the hostess. Miss Mary Walsh of Boston, will be the Toastmistress of the evening.

Mrs. Helen Richardson of Winchester, will speak on "The Expectancy of a Book Review". Mrs. Helen Pietz of West Medford, who just returned from a trip to the West Coast, will tell of her meeting with International Toastmistress Club officials in San Francisco and present ideas for improving club work as discussed at that meeting. "Anything Can Happen" will be reviewed by Mrs. Ruth Kelley of Winchester.

MISS MacDONALD, MR. ANDERSEN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald D. MacDonald announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Therese to Mr. Louis Chamberland Andersen, son of Margaret Andersen McKenna of 1 Eaton street, Winchester.

ANDREW J. LYNCH

Andrew J. Lynch of 53 Grove place, a life long resident of Winchester, died Sunday morning, August 15, at the Winchester Hospital, after a short illness that followed a year of poor health. He became ill on Thursday preceding his death and was taken to the hospital last Saturday.

Mr. Lynch was the son of Andrew and Ellen (Lane) Lynch. He was born in Winchester, October 12, 1872, attended the Winchester schools and for 50 years was employed as a leather worker at the Beggs & Cobb Tannery on Swanton street until his retirement ten years ago.

He leaves his wife, the former Mary Degnan; five daughters, Miss Mary Lynch and Mrs. Theresa Nestor of Winchester, Mrs. Gertrude Hart of Medford, and Mrs. Helen McIntyre and Mrs. Catherine Linehan of Woburn; a son, Thomas Lynch of West Medford; eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Two sons lost their lives in World War II, Andrew E. Lynch being killed while serving with the American Division in the Pacific Area and Robert J. Lynch being killed while serving with the USAAF over Europe.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the M. J. Moffett Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church.

Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott was celebrant, Rev. Fr. John J. Lane of St. Charles Church, Woburn, deacon; and Rev. Fr. Robert J. Supple, sub-deacon. Six nephews of Mr. Lynch, Thomas Edward and Albert Lynch of Winchester, and Jerome, Gerard and Charles Lynch of Woburn were bearers. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

BADLY BURNED BY LEFT-OVER FIREWORKS

Carl Fohlbusch, 13 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Fohlbusch of 80 Nelson street, was badly burned about the hands and head last Sunday afternoon when some material left over from the fireworks display at the Shore road field the night previous exploded after being lighted.

As the STAR got the story, a boy friend of Carl brought to the latter's home several thin red-covered sticks of silvery-appearing stuff which he had picked up at the Shore road field. Carl opened some of the sticks and was able to scrape out some of the silvery substance which he put in a small pile on the walk at his home, and lighted.

He had difficulty lighting the stuff, but when he did succeed, things happened quickly. The stuff exploded quite violently, according to report. To shield his face, Carl threw up his hand and was badly burned about the palm. He also lost his eye-brows, eyelashes and most of the hair on the front of his head.

He was taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated by Dr. Charles Rooney, being held at the hospital. Yesterday at his home they were unable to say how soon he would be able to come home.

Carl's sister, Patsy, was with him when he was working on the fireworks, but ran off when she saw him lighting matches. Whereby she showed a wisdom well beyond her years.

Carl is a Boy Scout, a member of Troop I. He has only recently returned from a vacation at Camp Fellsland where he won his life-saving badge.

VISITOR FROM HAVANA

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Mansfield of Cabot street have been entertaining Mrs. Mansfield's cousin, Mrs. Adolf B. Horn of Havana, Cuba, who has been in Winchester for several weeks after visiting friends in New York.

Mrs. Horn, a Melrose girl and former resident of Chicago, has been making her first visit here in 26 years and has witnessed great changes. Her late husband was a manufacturer of sugar machinery in Havana and she has a son, Adolf B. Horn, Jr., who is in the American Consulate in the Cuban capitol.

Mrs. Horn flew to the States and is flying back home. She leaves today for New York, and tomorrow will leave the airport at Newark, N.J., arriving in Havana in five and one-half hours.

WILMINGTON ROTARY SPONSORS DENTAL CLINIC

A gala three day festival of fun is being planned for the people of Wilmington and surrounding communities over Labor Day Weekend by the Rotary Club of Wilmington. This carnival of action, known as Wilmington "Old Home Days", has already received much favorable publicity and ever-growing interest.

The profits realized from this carnival will be used to establish a dental clinic for all Wilmington children of school age. This worthy plan has the backing of the entire community as well as surrounding localities, with all concerned determined to make it a complete success, socially and financially.

McHUGH — KERRIGAN

Miss Ethel Marguerite Kerrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Kerrigan of Englewood road, and John Joseph McHugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. McHugh of 37 Holton street, West Medford, were married Saturday morning, August 14, at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. Mixed bouquets of white flowers made an attractive setting for the ceremony which was performed by the bridegroom's cousin, Rev. Henry T. Martin, S. J. rector of Weston College, formerly of Winchester, who was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Frank Flahive was the soloist.

Miss Kerrigan was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin gown styled with a sweetheart neckline and a matching veil. Instead of the conventional bouquet she carried a white missal with matching orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. William L. Schlegel of Lexington, the former Ruth Kerrigan, was her sister's honor attendant and the bridesmaids were four sisters of the bridegroom, Miss Katherine, Miss Agnes, Miss Anne and Miss Irene McHugh, all of West Medford.

Mrs. Schlegel wore a pale green organdy dress with matching picture hat and pale green streamers. She carried an old fashioned bouquet as did the bridesmaids, who wore organdy dresses and picture hats of pale yellow and green.

Thomas McArdle of Woburn, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Frank J. Kerrigan, Jr., of Winchester, brother of the bride; Robert Maguire of Woburn, brother-in-law of the bride; Albert Curran and Charles Campbell, both of Woburn.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Shaker Glen House in Woburn, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving.

After a wedding journey to Niagara Falls and Lake George, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. McHugh will make their home in Winchester.

OWEN — PARKIN

At the Church of the Epiphany on Saturday afternoon, August 14, Miss Carol Ann Parkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Parkin of Elmwood avenue, became the bride of Gerald Avery Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Owen of Oak street, Reading. Rev. James L. Tryon of Medford read the service, and Mrs. Mildred Abrahamson sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because", accompanied by Miss Ruth Crawford. Bouquets of white gladiolas decorated the altar.

Miss Parkin was given in marriage by her father. She wore a powder blue crepe suit with cord trimming and a white picture hat trimmed with pink camelias. White kidskin shoes completed her costume and she carried a bride's bouquet of snow-white roses.

Miss Priscilla P. Smith of Billerica, cousin of the bride, was the only bridal attendant. She wore a pale yellow taffeta suit with a matching straw hat trimmed with yellow flowers. Her bouquet combined yellow and pink roses.

William P. Parkin of Winchester brother of the bride, was Mr. Owen's best man, and the ushers were Raymond C. Walker of Woburn and Robert Owen of Reading, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the library of the church with Mrs. Barbara Walker and Miss Bertha Penny assisting in receiving.

After a honeymoon spent touring Maine and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Owen will live in Reading.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1948. Mr. Owen, a graduate of Reading High School, class of 1945, is employed by the Goodal Sanford Mills.

WEDDING OF WINCHESTER INTEREST

Winchester friends have received invitations for the marriage of Walter Clark Howland, a former Winchester boy, now living in Grand Rapids, Mich., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Z. Howland, formerly of Salisbury street.

Mr. Howland is to marry Shirley Jean Derteen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Derteen of Grand Rapids, at Grace Episcopal Church in that city on Saturday, August 21.

Frederick V. Mauger of Westland avenue is to be an usher at the Howland-Derteen wedding, and Mr. Howland is to be a member of the usher corps on August 31 when Mr. Mauger is to marry Miss Dorothy Robbins at Groose Point.

WISWELL — SARGENT

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at the First Church of Christ in Fairfield, Conn., on Saturday afternoon, August 14, when Miss Harriet L. Sargent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Burr Sargent of Passaic, N. J., and Fairfield Beach, Conn., became the bride of George C. Wiswell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Wiswell of Fletcher street and Marblehead Neck. Rev. Paul Kershner of Akron, Ohio, cousin of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony, which was followed by a reception at Pequot Inn in Southport, Conn.

Miss Sargent had for her honor maid her sister, Miss Mary Sargent of Passaic, and the bridesmaids were Miss Emily Blunt and Miss Jean Watson of Passaic, Miss Beverly Hallberg of Orange, N. J., and Miss Nancy Cutting of Nichols, Conn.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin having a high neckline and plain basque with a wide gathered sash. Her floor-length veil of rose point Duchess lace was a 200 year-old family heirloom, and she carried a bouquet of white flowers centered with a white orchid.

All the bridal attendants wore dresses of peacock-blue faille. Their bouquets combined peach gladiolas and white rosebuds, and they wore the same flowers in their hair.

Mrs. Sargent, mother of the bride, wore a mustard-color afternoon dress with a cocoa-brown Millian hat trimmed with gold Both she and Mrs. Wiswell, the bridegroom's mother, wore orchids. Mrs. Wiswell's gown was ash pink and her hat, of the same shade.

Byron Wiswell of Winchester was his brother's best man, and the usher corps comprised James A. Carroll, Jr., and Charles McIntyre of Marblehead, Ralph H. Magoon of Marblehead Neck and Matt Blunt of Passaic, N. J.

The bride is a graduate of Green Mountain Junior College in Poultney, Vt., and of Colby College in the class of 1948. Mr. Wiswell graduated from Tabor Academy and is a junior at Colby.

TO TEACH AT NORTHWESTERN

Mr. and Mrs. Dascumb Forbush (Dorothy Fitts), after a vacation in New Hampshire, are leaving in September for Evanston, Ill., where Mr. Forbush has received an appointment as assistant professor in the Economics Department of Northwestern University. Mrs. Forbush, daughter of Mrs. Henry King Fitts of Grassmere avenue, has until recently been a secretary at the School Department headquarters.

Mr. Forbush is a graduate of Oberlin and Harvard Business School. He was in business in New York previous to the war, during which he served in the Army Transportation Corps with the rank of captain, seeing active duty in the South Pacific and Australia. At Northwestern he will teach business economics.

CHILD BROKE WRIST IN FALL

Irene Kearns, 7 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kearns of 32 Grove place, sustained a broken wrist last Friday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock when she fell from a swing at the rear of her home.

Her parents were away from home at the time of the accident, but a neighbor, Donald Pooler of 36 Grove place, went to the little girl's assistance, and summoned the police.

Officer William E. Cassidy reported in a cruising car and took Irene to the Winchester Hospital, accompanied by Mr. Pooler. Dr. Charles Rooney, who attended the child, ordered her held at the hospital, after treatment.

MAN SHOT AT TARGET PRACTICE

John Bohn of 85 Lane street, Lowell, was shot in the left shoulder while at target practice with his nephew, Robert Foster, Jr., 15 at the latter's home, 39 Shore road, Monday afternoon.

According to the police the shooting was accidental. Bohn was stooping over at the target end of the cellar and young Foster didn't see him as he was aiming at the target, shooting his uncle as the latter straightened up. They were using a .22 caliber rifle which had been given as a present to young Foster.

Bohn was taken to the office of Dr. Phillip J. McManus, who gave him preliminary treatment. He was going to have the slug removed from his shoudler after his return to Lowell.

BETTY MacISAAC STATE BREASTSTROKE CHAMP

Bob McGrath and Jim Carroll Other Winchester Winners in N. E. A.A.A.U. Meet at Leonard Field Pool

Blonde Betty MacIsaac, trim little breaststroker of the Winchester Swimming Club, butterflied her way to the Massachusetts State Women's 100 Meter Breaststroke Championship in the New England A.A.A.U. Championship Swimming Meet at Leonard Field Pool last Saturday afternoon. Jointly sponsored by the Winchester Park Department and the Boston American-Record, the meet listed four championship events, and Winchester swimmers took two of them, Bob McGrath, ace swimmer of the Winchester Swimming Club, winning the Massachusetts State 100 Meters Backstroke for men.

Visiting swimmers took the other two, rangy Joanna Berggren of the Metropolitan Swimming Club winning the Massachusetts State 100 Meters Freestyle for Women and husky Bob Mattson of the Worcester Boys Club outlasting the field in the only N.E.A.A.A.U. event on the card, the Junior 400 Meter Freestyle for Men. Bob McGrath, generally favored to win the 100 meters freestyle open for men, could do no better than 4th in this event while Winchester's "Barbie" Donaghey, swimming this year under the banner of the Metropolitan Swimming Club, and defending State 100 meter freestyle champion, placed third in this event.

CAR RAMMED TREE OCCUPANTS INJURED

The occupants of a Ford Coupe were shaken up and received superficial cuts and bruises shortly after 12:30 last Friday morning when the car ran into a tree on Fletcher street near Wildwood street.

According to the police the machine was owned and driven by Robert J. Frazer of 23 Farrington avenue, Allston, who said the accident occured as he was making a right turn from Wildwood street into Fletcher street and his lights went out.

The front end of the car was badly damaged and the machine had to be towed away. Frazer was treated by Dr. William Hickey at the Winchester Hospital for cuts about the face and possible fractured left elbow. Dr. Hickey also attended two young women riding in the car who were cut and bruised. A third passenger, Gerald McCauley of Squantum Naval Air base was not hurt.

TO REPRESENT REGIS AT CONFERENCE

Miss Rosemary Drohan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Drohan, of 6 Fenwick road, will represent Regis College at Madison, Wis., August 23-28 when the first congress of the National Student Association meets at University of Wisconsin. More than three quarters of a million students from 230 public, private and sectarian colleges, universities and technological schools from all parts of the nation will be represented at the congress.

Miss Drohan, a junior at Regis, was elected a delegate to the congress with Miss Margaret Sellars of Brookline, a senior, by the undergraduate body.

At Madison she will meet not alone representatives of colleges of this country but student leaders from institutions of higher learning from France, Denmark, Switzerland, Greece and Czechoslovakia.

CARS IN COLLISION ON EVERELL ROAD

A Pontiac sedan, operated by Mr. Hildegard B. Livingstone of 8 Brooks street, while headed east on Everell road, Saturday shortly after 3 o'clock, was in collision at the intersection of Stowell road with a Ford canopy truck, owned by the Winchester Provision Co. Inc., of 553 Main street, and driven by Douglas P. Cox of 201 Boston avenue, Medford Hillside.

According to the police the Ford was coming out of Stowell road, and turning left on Everell road. Both machines were put out of commission, but none of the persons involved in the accident claimed injuries.

REGISTRATION FIGURES

Town Clerk Mabel W. Stinson announced this week that during the period of registration between June 21 and August 13 a total of 300 names were added to the Winchester Voting List, bringing the list up to 8,519 voters. Miss Stinson stated that there seemed to be no particular party predonerance among the new voters here.

ROTARY NEWS

Were is not for summer guests Rotary's attendance would be down in the ruck of the second division. As it was there were forty six Rotarians and guests in a hopefully expectant holiday mood who forgathered in the Masonic Halls for luncheon this week. Two stalwart men aided the records by make-ups this week. Harry Bigelow made up in North Sydney, N.S. where it is believed he is being held for questioning and Church Hindes made his ever-faithful visit to the Vermont club nearest his summer home.

In the absence of both Jim McGrath, an outlander from Woburn and Milne Blanchard there was no singing since Charlie Koch has been unable to find a pitch worth taking. Since the rain persisted throughout the early part of the meal Allan Wilde announced that the outing could and would be postponed until next week when there would be a double headed at the Unicorn Golf Club. Members will be contacted by postcard a nent the change inplans.

Allan did, however, make up in part for the athletic part of the postponed programme by introducing Verne Bickford who is not only a member of the pitching staff of the Red Hot Braves but is a resident of our fair town as well. Not being booked as a guest Verne very kindly consented to stand fire under a barrage of questions concerning baseball in general and the Braves in particular. Upon urging he did tell many interesting stories and inside dope on baseball. Thus a very enjoyable half hour was spent by the baseball-hungry Rotarians.

It may be of interest to note here that Tucker Vye, our former manager of the hospital and popular member is residing at 154 Mt. Pleasant street, East Gloucester, Mass., and would welcome any and all visitors from Winchester. He misses his former friends and associates here in town very much.

TERMINAL LEAVE PAY APPLICATION DEADLINE SEPTEMBER FIRST

A warning was issued to all New England Army veterans last weekend by Lt. Colonel O. R. Bowyer, United States Army Officer at the Boston Army Base, that applications for terminal leave pay will not be accepted after September 1st. Colonel Bowyer said: "It will be unpleasant for me to have to turn down late applications, but the postmark deadline of September 1, 1948, is fixed and absolute. I cannot change or disregard the law.

The Army Finance Office at the Boston Army Base can only accept the terminal leave pay applications of those Army veterans who were separated from camps or posts in the New England States. Veterans who were separated from Army posts in other sections must submit their applications to the finance office in that area of the country in which they were separated, the various finance offices being listed on the application form. Local post offices and veterans service organizations have supplies of the application forms while the United States Army Finance Office, Boston Army Base, has a limited supply available.

Colonel Bowyer was of the opinion that some veterans have delayed submitting applications because of inability to furnish complete information. He urged veterans in this group to complete as much of the application form as possible and forward it, properly notarized and accompanied by a photostatic copy of the discharge certificate, to his office before the September 1st deadline. Correction or completion of the data can be accomplished at a later date, he said, if the initial application is accompanied by a note explaining the inability to furnish complete information.

COST ACCOUNTANTS ELECT CRAVEN

Mr. Charles Craven of Wyman Court has been elected to the directorate of Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, as chairman of the Hospitality Committee. Boston Chapter, fourth largest of the 100 Chapters in the Association, has approximately 900 members representing every community in Eastern Massachusetts and all phases of industry and commerce.

Mr. Craven, well known in Winchester, is associated as comptroller with the Browning Laboratories at 742 Main street.

WINCHESTER P. R.s LOST AND TIED

Lost at Lincoln, 3-1, Tied at Belmont, 3-3

Winchester's Paul Revere Leaguers lost to the veteran Lincoln Team last Thursday night at Lincoln, 3-1, in a good ball game with Vern Slack limiting the hardest hitting team in the league to five hits while fanning six.

Jimmy Olivier got a brace of doubles at bat and also fielded well, while hustlin' Sam Bellino kept his hitting streak intact by beating out a bunt. The summary:

At Belmont Friday night Winchester lost a game it should have won when two errors on the same play in the big third for the home team permitted two runs to score. Big Sambo Tompkins pitched two-hit ball and deserved a much better fate. Belmont did bunch its two bingles in the three-run third, and a couple of walks didn't help any either. When all was said and done however it was the big two errors on a ground ball which came with two men on and one man in that did the damage.

Belmont led 3-2 at the end of the third, but the locals tied it in the 4th on a walk to Tompkins, Bellino's sacrifice and Modoono's single. Thomas robbed Modoono of a possible homer with two on in the 2nd when he took his well-hit smash on the run in deep right center. Olivier and Bellino fielded well for Winchester, but Sammy finally went hitless in one official time at bat. The summary:

The big upset of the week in the Playground Baseball League was the 8 to 7 victory of the Ginn Field Seniors over the Loring Avenue Seniors. Prior to this game the Loring Avenue Seniors were undefeated with eight victories to their credit but Ginn Field stayed a big last of the seventh rally to win. The Loring Avenue Intermediates shared the lead of the Leonard Field Intermediates to two games by rallying in the late innings to come from behind to win 8 to 6. The Leonard Field Juniors increased their lead over the Loring Avenue Juniors by drubbing them 24 to 7 behind the steady pitching of "Moose" Bellino.

Two excellent games were played in the smaller boy's softball league with Loring Avenue defeating Ginn Field by scores of 6 to 5 and 11 to 10. The first game went two extra innings before Loring Avenue added its winning run and a similar situation occurred in the second game which went three extra innings before Loring Avenue outscored the game Ginn Field team. In girl's softball the Loring Avenue girls defeated the Leonard Field girls 5 to 2 in a good game. This victory enabled the Loring Avenue girls to climb to within one game of the Leonard Field girls.

The championship baseball team in each of the three divisions and the champions of the smaller boy's softball league will attend the Braves-Philadelphia game on Friday, September 3, as guests of the Braves' management. This is a trip toward which the boys always look forward and is a fitting reward for their fine performance. A total of 48 boys and four instructors will make the trip and the competition is keen for a place on the bus.

JUNIOR LEGION WON ANOTHER

The Winchester Junior Legion added the Malden DeMolay to their growing list of victims by defeating them 3 to 0 at Leonard Field last Thursday evening. The Junior Legionnaires again received gilt edge pitching — this time from "Major" Daniels who permitted only one hit while striking out seven and passing four in this six inning game. This is the second consecutive shut out that Daniels has pitched and he now boasts a record of eight victories without a defeat.

Winchester bunched three of their four hits along with a base on balls in the first inning to score their three runs after two were out. With one out Power worked the pitcher for a base on balls. Reardon bounced out to short stop, Power taking second. Don Kenton singled to left field, Power stopped at third. After Kenton stole second, Daniels helped his own cause with a drive to center, scoring Power and Kenton with Daniels taking second on the throw to the plate. Sam Kenton singled to center to drive in Daniels with the third run of the inning.

Malden's biggest threat to score came in the third inning when Peterson was passed with one out. Lindquist singled to center, Peterson holding second. Lamson grounded back to Daniels who erased Peterson at third. Schluntz was passed to fill the bases and then came a pretty play as Patterson threw to Power at third to pick off Lindquist who had taken too big a lead on Daniels' pitch.

Reardon pulled a smart double play in the fourth to help Daniels out of possible trouble. Sim and Slade reached safely on consecutive ifield errors with one out. Favorat grounded to Coon who tossed to Reardon at second to force Slade. Sensing that he had no chance for a double play at first base, Reardon wheeled and fired the ball to Power at third who tagged out Sim who had rounded the base and could not get back in time to avoid the tag. It was a smart play and typical of the fine brand of ball the locals are providing their followers.

JUNIOR LEGION'S STREAK HALTED

Beverly 10-8 Winner as Locals Rally Fails

The win streak of the Winchester Junior Legion was haltered by a veteran Beverly Junior Legion outfit at Leonard Field on Sunday afternoon by a score of 10 to 8. This Beverly club is a good looking outfit with a record of twenty victories and five defeats. Actually the locals did well to stay within reach of the visitors and a base hit in the fourth or again in the ninth with runners on second and third in each case would have put them in the ball game.

A jittery first inning in which the visitors scored four runs cost the locals the ball game. Don Kenton really put himself in the hole in this inning for he issued three bases on balls, made two errors, while giving up only one hit for the four Beverly runs. After that he settled down and pitched fairly effective ball. It is to the credit of the locals, however, that they refused to fold up and kept picking away at the visitors.

Winchester scored two runs in the first inning when Power singled to left and Donaghey hit a towering drive over the left field fence for a home run. Two more runs were added in the fourth when S. Kenton reached on an error by the shortstop, Williams singled through the hole, both runners moved up on a passed ball, and scored when Cirurso singled to right. The locals added a single run in the seventh when Power singled to right and stole second. Daniels grounded back to the pitcher who threw him out at first and when Power broke for third, S. Kessaris threw wildly permitting Power to score.

Three big runs were scored in the ninth when Daniels and Donaghey were passed with one out. D. Kenton grounded out to short, both runners advancing. S. Kenton singled to center, driving in Daniels and Donaghey. Williams was safe when the shortstop booted his ground ball. Coon doubled to center, scoring S. Kenton with Williams holding up at third. With the tying runs in scoring position, Cirurso tried hard to duplicate his earlier scoring hit but lifted a fly which the second baseman gathered in to end the game.

The Winchester Junior Legion baseball team has been honored by being invited to play the Waltham Junior Legion at the Veterans Hospital in Bedford on Sunday afternoon. The game is to be played for the entertainment of the wounded veterans at the hospital and between 500 to 800 of them will be in attendance.

It is a great compliment to the locals to be selected from the many American Legion Junior baseball teams in the Greater Boston area. The Athletic Director at the hospital stated that Winchester had been recommended to him as a smartly dressed team and one that has played a consistently high brand of baseball. Needless to say, the locals will do their very best to live up to this recommendation.

The players will enjoy a dip in the big swimming pool after the game and will remain for Sunday night supper as guests of the hospital. The boys should have a grand day and the knowledge that they are contributing to the enjoyment of so many wounded veterans will add to their own entertainment and appreciation of the day.

SWIMMING MEET

Jim Carroll, north end boy who swims at Leonard, gave Winchester its other chance to cheer when he copped the 50 meter freestyle for boys 12 years and under. Blonde Ed Sullivan was fourth in this event for Winchester, and two more Winchester boys, David and Robert Ripley, placed in their heats with Winchester's Jack DiBona.

In the girls freestyle 50, Nancy Morse and Diane McNeil of Winchester placed second in their heats, with Sylvia Crowelli, Nancy Donaghey, Noreen Johnson and Marnee Walsh picking up places in the heat swimming.

The State Breaststroke for Women was a thriller all the way with Betty MacIsaac tagging the float just ahead of teammate Lynn Aitkens after the two had alternated the lead. Lynn got away first and led at the first turn, only to have Beverly Gouthier of the Worcester Aquamaids momentarily go out in front. Lynn quickly took over again, but Betty MacIsaac, swimming steadily in the outside lane, also passed Miss Gouthier and on the third lap was right at Lynn's shoulder to the last turn.

Betty came off the turn on even terms with Lynn and jumped to a short lead, swimming smoothly. Lynn spurted and drew up even with half a lap remaining, but Betty again pulled ahead, and though Lynn apparently caught her a yard or so from home, Betty was able to tag-up first. Both girls had a comfortable lead over Beverly Gouthier in third place.

Bob McGrath had to hustle all the way to beat out Lawrence Smith of the Newton Y in the 100 meters backstroke for the Massachusetts State Title. Don Sonia of the Lynn Boys' Club, in third place, didn't work too hard to finish there, and had a lot more left than Bob when the two toed the boards for the final of the 100 meters freestyle, which came too soon after the backstroke for the Winchester entrant.

Sonia won the 100 with Kerry Donovan and George Kouch of Wanskuck, second and third. McGrath could do no better than fourth, despite the fact that he rates away better than the boys who beat him. He just didn't have it so soon after winning the backstroke.

There were other occasions when competitors had insufficient time to rest between events, notably when Charles Weatherbee of Worcester was sent into the 100 meter backstroke right after swimming the 400 freestyle. A protest from the judges on the raft succeeded in shifting a couple of women's events so Beverly Gouthier wouldn't have to swim in the breaststroke after completing a freestyle event.

The Mass. State 100 Meters for women was a nip and tuck battle between Joanna Berggren and Coralie O'Connor of Worcester. The big Metropolitan indoor champ led most of the way, but with less than 10 yards remaining Miss O'Connor was virtually even with her rival and was going to pass her as sure as death and taxes when she got tangled in the ropes, enabling Miss Berggren to get home first.

"Barbie" Donaghey, defending champion, swimming between the taller Berggren and O'Connor girls, stayed with them to the first turn, but thereafter gradually fell back, to the disappointment of the Winchester gallery. "Barbie" never seems to have a good race for the home town folks.

In the N. E. Junior 400 meter event Edward Sargelis of Brockton set a killing pace for the first 100 yards and then faded out of the picture. Mattson, the winner took over at the half-way mark and with a smooth powerful stroke, gradually pulled away to a five or six yard win over Robert Arwezon of Providence Central Boys' Club, who had a similar lead over Charles Weatherbee of Worcester. Weatherbee, far behind at the half way mark, gradually pulled up and just nipped Bob Taylor of the Metropolitan Swimming Club at the finish. "Tom" McGowan of Winchester, after leading half way through his heat, dropped back to third place and failed to qualify for the final.

The 100 meters backstroke event for women was a breeze for comely Marion Senior of Wanskuck Boys' Club Auxiliary. She had a good five yards over her teammate Louise Sherlock, who in turn was the same distance in front of Lucy Crocker of Olneyville. The race in this event was for fourth between two Olneyville girls, Arlene Wynne and Pat Day, with Arlene just tagging first.

Jim Carroll hit the water first in the final of the 50 meters freestyle for boys 12 and under, and was never headed, winning by a yard or so from the pressing Tom Murray of Bunker Hill Boys Club, Eddie Sullivan just nipped David Ripley, another Winchester boy, for fourth place in this event.

Smooth swimming Lois Aspinall of the Worcester Aquamaids won the girls 50 easily in faster time than the boys, with Nancy Wando of Swampscott Beach Club nipping the versatile Beverly Gouthier of Worcester for third. Though she didn't win the event, little Sylvia Crowelli, got the biggest hand of any competitor at the meet when she paddled out to line up for her heat. Both Nancy Morse and Diane McNeil looked good finishing second in their heats.

Anne Murray, Beach Supervisor for the Park Department, arranged the many details of the meet and deserves great credit for a workmanlike job. The actual direction of the meet was by Ben Levias and Alex Houston, A.A.A.U. officials, and Jeff Beckingham. Following are the summaries and list of officials.

At Leonard Field on last Sunday afternoon the Winchester Junior League baseball team, played the Junior Legion from Beverly. Winchester fans at the game could find little to enthuse about in the opinion of the visiting players and management concerning the condition of the diamond on which the Town of Winchester was asking them to play. The opinion was far from complimentary and it hurt because there was a lot of truth in it. Leonard Field is really in bad shape. Home plate and the pitcher's rubber stick up dangerously above the ground, base-paths are several inches below field level, and the infield is full of weeds and so rough that infielders hate to attempt to play a hard hit ball. We are blaming no one. The Park Department men have a lot to do and not too many to do it. We have much Park property to keep in shape. However, when the safety angle is involved, as it is at Leonard field, then we had better let some of the fancy stuff wait and fix up our best available diamond in town. Winchester gets none the best of it in the opinion visiting ball players take home of the town's best ball field.

We talked last week-end with Fred Felmet, director of instrumental music in the Winchester schools, who has been spending the summer studying at Boston University. Fred is eager to get back to see what sort of band he is going to have at high school, and in the course of conversation advanced the thought that playing in an instrumental ensemble is mighty beneficial for boys and girls, beyond the educational, cultural and recreational satisfaction that comes to those who can make their own music. Band and orchestral playing is great discipline, according to Fred, and a great thing to develop a sense of team-work and cooperation in youngsters. They have a part to play, and at times that part is all-important. At other times it is subordinate and must be played down. A boy or girl learns in instrumental ensemble playing that no one has the lead all the time, and this is a good thing for youngsters to recognize as early in life as possible. The point to all this is that playing in a band or orchestra will do your boy or girl a lot of good, as well as lay the foundation for a worth-while accomplishment from which he or she can derive satisfaction for a long time. If the family pride and joy has a yen to play in Fred Felmet's band encourage his ambition. It will do him a lot of good to learn the lessons music, and especially instrumental music, can teach.

CONSCRIPTION TO AVERT WAR, NOT TO FIGHT AND WIN IT

Editor of the Star:

Answering the question "Why have we enacted a peacetime draft when we have always won in war under the old system'.. May I pass on home historical facts as pointed out by Major-General Frank A. Keating.

"In our last two World Wars men have died from lack of TIME to give them proper training. It takes time to develop self discipline and usually one must be carefully guided in the task. It takes time to harden men to stand the rigors of warfare. We like to believe that our youth are natural-born athletes. Unfortunately that is not true. It takes months to condition men mentally and physically for field service."

Now let us call the roll on one past wars and note that in every case we have had to use 3 times as many men as our enemies in order to defeat them. The United States can no longer afford that neither economically nor in the matter of prestige.

"In the American Revolution we eventually mustered 400,000 men to defeat 150,000 Britishers who were required to fight thousands of miles from their supply base and with practically no communication facilities to there homeland."

(In 1784, Congress had reduced the Army to 80 men—25 to guard the stores at Ft. Pitt and 55 to guard the magazine at West Point.)

"In 1846 in the Mexican War, it required 107,631 Americans to defeat the total Mexican Army of 36,000.

Then came the Indian Wars with massacre of white settlers and death of the U. S. soldiers which could have been prevented by an adequate and well trained Army.

In the Civil War we had to call 2,128,948 men to the colors to defeat some 1,000,000 poorly trained and badly equipped Confederates. Had we been prepared, the Civil War would not have occurred. We had less than 17,000 effective fighting men when we ventured into that one.

In the Spanish War, it took 6,653 untrained men to defeat 520 trained Spaniards at El Caney; and 9,000 to defeat 1,200 Spaniards at San Juan Hill. Our losses were serious.

On April 6, 1917, two months after war was declared, we had only 1 partly trained division available for overseas service.

By 1932 we had reduced our Army to 127,000 men and were 17 "in size throughout the world."

In other words, we had made no appreciable progress in preparation for national defense since 1775. We got away with it, at great expense, in the past, we would never be allowed to in the world of today—hence the peacetime draft and the goal of an all volunteer Regular Army. An all-volunteer Regular Army is not the job for the War Department alone; it is a job for the American people. Together, the Army and Air Force need approximately 30,000 accepted volunteers a month from civilian life. To get 30,000 ACCEPTED volunteers, approximately 50,000 must volunteer because about 40 out of every 100 will be rejected.

Very truly yours,
Gladys N. Toye, Chairman,
Military Manpower Committee.

LOCAL DRAFT BOARD ORGANIZED

The recently appointed members of Selective Service Board No. 21 which is to serve the cities of Medford and Woburn and the towns of Winchester, Stoneham and Lexington, comprised of:

Lawrence G. Brooks, 45 Mystic street, West Medford.

George L. Russell, 347 Salem street, Medford.

Ernest Martini, 70 Medford street, Medford.

All of whom served as chairman of war time Selective Service Boards in Medford.

W. Allan Wilde, 9 Edgehill road, who served as chairman of war time Selective Service Board serving Winchester and Stoneham and Robert Johnson, 751 Main street, Woburn held an organization meeting in the quarters which have been assigned to the Board at Room 9, City Hall, Medford, Wednesday evening August 18th, at which time Judge Brooks was elected chairman and Mr. Wilde secretary.

The board has been fortunate in being able to secure the services of two clerks who served the Medford Selective Service Boards during the war time period of Selective Service, and expect to have office equipment and furniture and will be organized to transact its business immediately.

Arrangements have been made for the registration of the men subjected to the current Selective Service Law in the west end of the basement of the Town Hall between the hours of 12 noon and 9 p. m. on the certain prescribed dates, at which time volunteer registrars will be in a position to assist those who have to register.

ROTARY NOTES

The Rotary Club of Winchester held its regular weekly meeting yesterday noon, President Don Simonds presiding. There was a full attendance and as might be expected the following outing at the Unicorn Country Club was the chief topic of conversation. Some 16 members entered the golf tournament and a total of 7 signed up for the dinner at its close.

A short talk was given by Staff Sergeant Knee on the recruiting campaign now underway in Winchester. He explained several features of Army life and service which have previously been conducted on a different scale and under different methods. Chairman Allan Wilde of the local Selective Service Board spoke of the coming labors of the Board and asked for Rotary members to volunteer their services in aiding the coming registration. Ben Brennan reported all tickets except twelve sold for the coming ball game, and these were immediately taken. Nick Fitzgerald reported that the chances on the automobile to be given away at the coming penny sale were being taken, about 30 percent having been sold within the few days they have been offered.

RIDER INJURED AS CYCLE HIT DOG

Robert A. Winchell, 26, of 15A Church avenue, Woburn, while driving on Fletcher street Wednesday afternoon shortly after 5:30, was thrown to the ground when he struck a dog which ran in front of his machine.

Winchell was taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated by Dr. Harry Benson for contusions and abbrasions to the left leg, arm and left side.

It is believed that the dog involved may have been a pointer, owned by John Page of 7 Lagrange street, he having come home Wednesday evening with an injured leg. The dog was also taken to the hospital, going to the Brewster Animal Hospital on Cambridge road in Woburn.

RIFLED PIGGY BANK

Between $150 and $200 in half-dollars were found to be missing from a "piggy-bank" at the home of Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, 6 Ledgewood road, when the family returned the first of the week from vacation. An additional $30 was also taken from the sum of $33 which the house caretaker had in a pocketbook under the mattress of her bed.

The police were notified and Officer William E. Cassidy investigated, talking with the caretaker, Bonnie Snelley, who said that the money had been taken from her pocketbook sometime between last Sunday and Monday mornings. The money had been taken from the "piggy-bank", a good sized affair, by enlarging the slot for the insertion of the coins.

After talking to the care-taker, Officer Cassidy went to Burlington where he questioned a 12 year old boy who had often visited Mrs. Snelley at the Bradlees'. He admitted entering the house on August 12, through an unlocked door, and also that he had been to the "piggy-bank" a dozen times in the course of six weeks or so, spending the money he took from it at the movies in Boston or at Revere Beach. He denied having been at the house on Sunday, August 16, but did admit, according to the police having taken money from the care-taker's pocketbook on two occasions.

At the time Officer Cassidy talked with the boy he had $5.56, all he had left of what he had taken. The boy lives with his father and a stepmother. Chief Charles J. Harrold stated that because of the youth of the boy, he would move rather slowly in the disposition of the case.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Kenneth Hall, who has been confined to the Winchester Hospital, returned to her home on Winslow road, Wednesday.

John Merritt, Jr., of Wildwood street underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Symmes Arlington Hospital on Wednesday.

Mrs. Allen Kimball entertained the Sunshine Girls at her summer home at Gloucester on Tuesday. The ladies spent a very enjoyable day visiting points of interest and having lunch. Included in the group in addition to Mrs. Kimball were Mrs. John E. Wallace, Mrs. Wade L. Grindle, Mrs. Clark Collins and Mrs. T. P. Wilson.

Leon Smith, popular janitor of the First Congregational Church who has been at the Winchester Hospital where he underwent a serious operation, returned to his home on Monday. This will be good news for many friends who have missed Leon and his cheery greeting and who are waiting to welcome him back around the center.

Mr. E. Everett Arnold of Chesterford road is a member of the Rotary Fall Conclave Committee for this big event of the Rotary year to be held at the Poland Spring House, South Poland, Me., during the week of October 10-17. Mr. Arnold, past president of Boston Rotary, is chairman for the 196th Rotary District which includes Winchester.

Ralph Bonnell, head of Bonnell Motors, local Ford dealers, is back in town after a trip to Philadelphia, primarily to play the trick Pine Valley golf course. His scores hadn't been made public when we dropped in at Horace Ford's yesterday.

A card from Mrs. William Falzano, wife of the local taxi-man, reports cold weather up Bar Harbor way, with the water too chilly for comfort. She saw two seals off the beach on the day she wrote, and they seemed to be enjoying the water.

Joseph A. Josephson of 23 Willow street, Woburn, and his son, Robert, 17, were cut about the face and hands from the broken windshield of their Plymouth sedan which was in collision with a Ford truck on Holton street Wednesday evening. The truck, owned and driven by Howard R. Rideout of 22 Plymouth street, Woburn, was loaded with lumber and stopped at a stop-sign. Rideout reported that the Plymouth collided with his machine and overhanging lumber, with which his truck was loaded went through the windshield.

"IMMACS" WON READING PLAYOFF

The Immaculate Conception team of the Eastern Massachusetts Twilight League won their playoff series with the Reading Legion, taking two out of three games, with the deciding contest being annexed at Loring Avenue field Tuesday evening 8-2.

Charles David Roche's two sons, "Chucker" and Paul, drove in four of the "Immacs" eight runs. Paul hit a two-run triple to left center in the third and "Chucker" singled home two more in the next frame. Reading has protested the game, according to reports, but many seem to doubt as to how far they will get with their protest.

WINCHESTER PAUL REVERES WON

Winchester won from Concord Tuesday evening in a Paul Revere League baseball game at Concord, 4-3, with Phil Twombly pitching three-hit ball for five innings.

It was quite dark when the 6th was played and Concord pieced together four hits for three runs that all but tied the game. Most of the balls hit couldn't be seen by the fielders, a routine pop-fly to short center falling safely to score two runs because Vern Slack just didn't see the ball in time to make the catch.

Twombly pitched his best ball of the season, being very fast and breaking his curve nicely. "Normie" Cogan, smallest man on the field, drove in three runs. The summary:

WINCHESTER GIRLS AT ESSEX

"Marnee' Norris, "Ruthie" Murray and Ann Albree were invited to play in the 21st annual Essex Country Club Women's Invitation tennis tournament at Manchester-by-the-Sea this week with many of the Country's best, and several international players.

The Winchester girls didn't fare too well. "Ruthie" had to default her match. "Marnee" lost to Marjorie McCord of Berkeley, Cal., in the first round, 6-2, 7-5, and Ann was also a first round victim, losing to another Californian, Dorothy Head of Alameda.

In doubles "Marnee" paired with Clarissa Nash of Milton and lost in the first round to Betty Coumbe of Westfield, N. J., and the same Miss McCorde who beat her in singles.

This Essex tourney is top-flight competition and the Winchester girls were really doing something to be invited to play.

HOME FROM CAMPING TRIP

Mrs. Walter H. Dotten, who had her 85th birthday this July has just returned to town after a two weeks camping trip through Vermont, Canada and New Hampshire with her two grand-children, Bonnie and Dick Low, and her daughter and son-in-law Phoebe and Bob Low. She enjoyed every minute of her trip seeing new country, cooking and eating outdoors and even getting into a good comfortable sleeping bag at night. This was her first experience on out door camping, and she proved herself an A-1 camper and a wonderful sport.

A GOOD DEAL!

Town Engineer Parker Holbrook reports that the town was able to sell the old steel Eastern Massachusetts street railway rails salvaged from Main street before the resurfacing job was commenced there for $4,243.

The resurfacing job is a Chapter 90 project with the State paying $10,000 and Winchester and Middlesex County paying $5,000 each. Winchester payed $1 for the old rails some time ago, so the expense to the town for the new section of road is going to be quite modest.

WATCH YOUR DRIVING

"During the 1947 Labor Day Week-end ten people were killed by automobiles right here in Massachusetts. In other words Labor Day Week-end represents one of the most hazardous hurdles in our whole year's race for highway safety. The Grim Reaper will be on hand this year - count on it! My Inspectors with all departments of police will be on the job to oppose him - count on that too! But how about you? All the best efforts of all the authorities will not be enough unless you personally are enlisted in this cause. As Registrar of Motor Vehicles I am appealing well ahead of the crisis to every motorist, bike-rider and pedestrian to play his important part. As motorists we must be unusually patient with the holiday congestion, contented to move in orderly lines at those conservative speeds which permit the heaviest flow of traffic. As bike-riders we should try to avoid those thoroughfares where the traffic is burdensome, and ride as always on the extreme right and in single file. As pedestrians let us be restrained by reason; cross streets at the corners only, and at the right time. Let us not pass the buck to the motorist! In your own behalf I ask you earnestly for your help. Will you please let me count on you? Remember our slogan: "Walk and Drive Carefully, The Life You Save May Be Your Own."

CAR DRIVEN BY 14 YEAR-OLD RAMMED TREE

The front end of a Dodge sedan was badly smashed Monday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock when a 14 year old Arlington boy who was driving lost control and the machine hit a tree at the intersection of Mystic Valley Parkway and the new end of Manchester road.

According to the police the boy took the car, which is registered to his father, James Harrison of 50 Cleveland street, Arlington, without his parents' knowledge. He was driving under the license of Malcolm E. Forsythe, 17, of 129 Broadway, Arlington, issued June 14, 1948. At the time of the accident the Dodge was headed north on the Parkway and as it got out of control it went over the curbing and crashed into a tree at the head of the triangle between the Parkway and Manchester road, demolishing the front end.

Neither of the boys was hurt, but police say that it will be some time before either does any driving again. The Registry of Motor Vehicles will see to that!

RETURNS TO SCHOOL

Mrs. Harris Parker of Vine street, the former Gunhilde Nelson joined the School Department secretarial staff in the office of Superintendent Forbes H. Norris on Monday of this week, replacing Mrs. Dascumb Forbush (Dorothy Fitts) who has resigned.

Mrs. Parker was formerly for several years secretary to Principal Wade L. Grindle. The STAR is happy to see her back in the School department fold as she was always helpful and most efficient.

WEATHER FORECASTS TELEVISED BY WBZ-TV

Weather-conscious Winchester residents can now look to television for their latest forecasts.

The first regularly-scheduled "live" studio telecast in Boston video history was five minutes of weather information, which Westinghouse Station WBZ-TV originated from its new Radio and Television Center beginning Wednesday evening (August 18) at 7:15-7:20.

Under the capable direction of Dr. James Austin, professor of meteorology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the new weather series will give the viewer the latest official United States weather forecasts for Boston and New England, and will graphically illustrate the factors which enter into the preparation of a weather forecast.

Working in cooperation with Dr. Austin are the staffs of the Boston and Washington offices of the United States Weather Bureau under the direction of Paul Kutchenreuter, head New England forecaster, and F. W. Reichelderfer, Chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The Weather Bureau at Logan International Airport will furnish Dr. Austin with all necessary weather data, including charts, diagrams and storm pictures, for pictorial presentation. Tracings of the latest weather maps showing the movements of weather areas across the country and their relation to Boston and New England will be televised on the WBZ-TV weather program.

Dr. Austin will explain the weather maps and other meteorological data to the television audience, as well as report the latest forecasts. The M. I. T. professor is also heard Wednesdays at 7:30 p. m. over WBZ-WBZA on the "Our Weather" program.

The televised weather forecasts will be seen over WBZ-TV Wednesday through Sunday evenings at 7:15-7:20.

The first official U. S. Weather Bureau broadcast in the Boston area was made by WBZ and WBZA direct from the Weather Bureau on November 1, 1933. Since that time, the Westinghouse standard band station has broadcast daily official U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts. The present WBZ-WBZA weather schedule calls for two broadcasts daily of reports teletyped from Logan Airport to the studios.

"Mind" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 22.
Golden Text: "The Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding" (Proverbs 2:6).
Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"A wise man will hear, and will increase learning; and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels" (Proverbs 1:5). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Spiritual sense is the discernment of spiritual good. Understanding is the line of demarcation between the real and unreal . . . This understanding is not intellectual, is not the result of scholarly attainments; it is the reality of all things brought to light" (p. 505).

NEWFOUNDLAND UNION WOULD MOVE CANADA 200 MILES NEARER BRITAIN

Canada may get a 10th province before the United States adds a 49th state.

Newfoundlanders recently voted in favor of joining their rocky, cod-rich North Atlantic island to the Dominion of Canada. Negotiations now under way point to Dominion Day, July 1, 1949, as Canada's date for making Newfoundland one of the family.

Visitors landing at Newfoundland on flights to Europe have expressed surprise upon learning that the bleak land is not part of Canada. They are always reminded by the proud islanders that their country is the oldest colony in the British Empire and was once a dominion itself.

Hard Times Brought Colony Status

Because of hard financial times in the early 1930's, Newfoundland became the first and only British dominion to surrender commonwealth rank and return to colony status, notes the National Geographic Society. Improved conditions during World War II aroused the old urge for more freedom — either as full-fledged dominion or as a province of Canada.

When Canada accepts the new province, large-scale geographic and economic changes will take place. The huge dominion will move 200 miles nearer its mother country, for Newfoundland juts that far into the Atlantic beyond Canada's present easternmost point.

Canada's area — are already considerably larger than that of the U. S. — will be increased by one-twenty-fourth, or 152,734 square miles. This figure includes the 110,000 square miles of Labrador, Newfoundland's dreary coastal dependency that stretches northwest along the North America mainland to Hudson Strait.

In population, Newfoundland will add less to Canada. Its 318,000 inhabitants, including about 5,000 in Labrador, are equal only to one-third the population of Montreal, the dominion's largest city.

In resources the new province would give Canada one of the world's greatest fishing grounds and a growing wood pulp and paper industry. Perhaps more important, inland Labrador contains an iron ore field believed to be as rich as and much more extensive than the fabulous Mesabi deposits in Minnesota.

Air Age Position Important

Its position, especially in an air age, gives Newfoundland war - and peace - time importance. It is the nearest North American land to Europe, lying only 1,875 miles from Ireland. A plane flying from New York to London is one-third of the way there before losing sight of the Newfoundland coast.

The United States, Canada, and private airlines have built great airports on the island or in Labrador. Gander and Goose Bay, two of them, have become familiar news datelines.

Even before the day of the airplane, Newfoundland was well established as a communications and transportation center. The pioneer Atlantic cable was laid in 1858 between Newfoundland and Ireland, and the first transocean wireless signal was sent in 1901 to Newfoundland from England.

The New World island's relative nearness to the British Isles probably helped in its early discovery by John Cabot — only five years after Columbus's first voyage to America.

EXPEDITION TO "STONE AGE" ARNHEM LAND BAGS VALUABLE MATERIAL ON FIRST STOP

With one chapter written of an adventure story already full of achievements and vicissitudes, the U. S. Australian expedition to "Stone Age" Arnhem Land has moved on to its second base of operations at Yirrgala on the mainland of northern Australia.

The first work of this scientific expedition — which is sponsored by the National Geographic Society, Smithsonian Institution, and Australian Commonwealth — was carried on for three months at Groote Eylandt (Big Island) off Arnhem Land's east coast.

There, according to a report just received here at headquarters of the Society, from Howell Walker, its representative with the party, specialists in various fields bagged an assorted collection of specimens and factual details on life in this primitive, time-forgotten region.

"Some weird things come to life," said one entomoligist, who also doubles as the expedition's cook.

Even weirder experiences may be in store for the expedition, for its new base is not far from a great swamp, believed to be populated by giant crocodiles. Specimens as large as 26 feet are reported to have been taken there by trappers in the past.

Cockroach Committee Helps

Leaf and stick insects, termites, ants, beetles, and the larvae of yet to be identified butterflies or moths, flies, wasps, and native bees are examples of Big Island's natural history which will go to Australia's Sydney Museum as the result of the first work of the expedition. A "cockroach committee" of women and children from the island's aborigines aided the bug hunt by turning in a catch twice a day, for payment in tobacco and candy.

The students of the ways of fish, birds, plants, and mammals collected hundreds of specimens in their respective fields. In one month, 16 different species were obtained of Australia's strange and primitive animals, including the kangaroo-like wallaby, the bandicoot and marsupial mouse, the echidna anteater, and the dingo, or wild dog.

"The most important result of a week-long trip," reported the mammalogist, "was a ledge-inhabiting, a fat-tailed rat of a group considered characteristic of the arid central and northwestern parts of Australia."

Saw Secret Ceremonies

The human inhabitants as well as the beasts and plants of Arnhem Land and near-by islands have been almost unknown to science. From the outside world, only a few Christian missions have been in touch with the wild tribesmen who live under stone-age conditions, without even bows and arrows for weapons.

On the first lap of their trip, expedition members had an opportunity to observe sacred ceremonies which probably no other white men have seen. Exploring caves of nextdoor Chasm Island, they also came on aboriginal rock paintings which were first discovered in 1802.

The anthropologists made plaster casts of aboriginal faces and hands, and excavated an old Malay fishing site for archeological finds. The nutritional and anatomy specialists, including the two feminine members of the expedition, studied native food habits and health conditions.

Troubles Came Early

Even before the work got under way, however, misfortunes plagued the party. Instead of the dry season which is normal for this tropical area between March and October, torrential rains and storms hampered operations and cut off supplies.

The wireless set brought to the Umbakumba camp on Big Island was damaged, preventing communication when a shortage of provisions loomed. Under the expedition's leader, Charles P. Mountford, Australian ethnologist, several of the men toiled 38 miles on foot, through heat and flood, to seek help at the island's mission station. From there a broadcast appeal soon brought food to the camp, flown in by the Royal Australian Air Force.

Meanwhile, the supply ship, Phoenix, was not only temporarily held up in Darwin with the bulk of food supplies, technical equipment, and several expedition members, but was further delayed when she stranded for days on a reef in Arafura Sea. Finally extricated, she was more than five weeks overdue on arrival at Big Island.

SIMONDS SAILS TO NEW SNIPE HONORS

Don Simonds, Jr., (the Beard) garnered his second major Snipe crown of the season, by winning the Long Island Sound Individual Snipe Championship at the Cedar Point Yacht Club, Westport, Connecticut, last weekend. "The Beard" was competing against three of his fellow Fleet members - Al Litchfield, Jack Streeton and Mel Moller, as well as twenty-five of the hottest Snipe salt water skippers on the Eastern Seabord.

Don started slowly, getting an eighth in the Saturday afternoon race - a four marker course, and a fourth in the Sunday morning windward-leeward race. But just like his amazing comeback in the Marblehead races, he sailed sensationally in the final two-lap triangular course race, to lead the other 28 skippers by a healthy margin and take home the trophy.

Once again, Jack Streeton sailed his Wild Hare superbly and wound up in third place. Jack was presented with a handsome trophy which he can keep - which gives him one advantage over "The Beard", who has to turn his trophy back at the end of the year.

Al Litchfield was in the thick of it 'til the final race but he couldn't keep his Foray II forging and wound up out of the money.

Mel Moller just couldn't seem to get his sleek speedster going - perhaps because she's better in light air and the winds were pretty powerful all week-end.

When you consider that only four Winchester Snipes were present and yet they picked up two of the three prizes, you can readily see why our fleet is becoming feared and famous near and far.

FURTHER FLEET FACTS

Ted Burleigh, Jr., and Carl Freyer shared honors over the weekend on the Mystic. Ted won Saturday afternoon's point score race very readily after staving off a single threat from Jim Newman. Jim was second and Pete Redding was third.

Sunday afternoon's race was a real thriller between four skippers - Ted Burleigh, Jim Newman, Pete Redding and Carl Freyer. The lead changed several times, with Freyer finally bringing Daw Blamire's THE FOO to the front in the final stages of the race. Ted took second and Redding got his second third of the weekend.

LADIES' BRIDGE

Just call Ed Kent at the Club or Bertie at WInchester 6-1568-W.

RED CROSS MEET SUNDAY

Winchester will close its annual Red Cross Water Safety season on Sunday with a swimming meet and novelty water events at Palmer Beach, commencing at 3 o'clock. Entries for the swimming events close Saturday at noon and may be made with Don Armstrong, Red Cross instructor; Anne Murray, Beach Supervisor; or with the lifeguards at either Leonard Field or Palmer Beach.

In addition to the various competitive events, there will be a water ballet and an exhibition of life-saving. Residents of the town, and particularly parents of children would do well to attend the meet and see what the local Red Cross Chapter is providing in the way of water safety for the youth of the town.

Featuring the meet will be the presentation of the usual Red Cross Trophies, given annually to the boy and girl who have done most to improve themselves and for swimming and water safety in Winchester during the season. Mrs. Clarence Donaghey will present these trophies, and another trophy, the Thomas McGowan Memorial Trophy, given for the first time last year in memory of the late Superintendent of the Park Department, will be presented by Kenneth F. Caldwell, chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners. This trophy is given to either a boy or girl on the basis of character, worthiness, competitive swimming and improving the town beaches. Mr. McGowan's son, Tom, was the first winner of the trophy last year.

Following is the list of competitive events for the meet:

Entries close Saturday noon.

Novice Events

10 yard Freestyle for Boys and Girls
25 yard Freestyle - 10 and under

Intermediate Events

50 yard Freestyle - 12 and under
50 yard Freestyle - 14 and under

Open Events

"IMMACS" AND LYNNFIELD IN PLAYOFF FINAL

The Immaculate Conception nine and the Lynnfield Town Team will open the final playoff for the Eastern Massachusetts Twilight League championship Sunday afternoon at Loring avenue, commencing at 2:30.

The "Immacs" won their way into the final by winning their playoff series with the Reading Legion. Lynnfield accounted for the vaunted Sinclairs of Woburn in their playoff. In the Lynnfield lineup are many former Wakefield High players, including the DeMarco brothers, Les and Paul.

BELMONT IN OLD COLONY MATCH HERE

A good match looms in the Old Colony Tennis League series for Saturday when Belmont comes to Winchester for a return engagement, commencing at 2 p. m.

Winchester nosed out Belmont in the first match between the two clubs at Belmont, 3-2, and every match went to odd games. The competition was very keen between the two teams and the local players are looking forward to tomorrow's resumption of play. Local fans shouldn't miss this one!

School custodians now on vacation include Dan O'Donnell of the High School, Al McKenzie of the Washington School, Peter Benson of the Lincoln School, Larry Kean of the Wyman School and Harry Drown of the Noonan School.

JUNIOR LEGION IN WIN COLUMN AGAIN

The Winchester Junior Legion returned to the victory trail by defeating the Greenwood A. C. of Wakefield at Leonard Field on Tuesday evening by a 6 to 0 score. This is the third defeat the Junior Legionnaires have pinned on the visitors but both of the previous victories were tight one-run margin affairs.

This marks the fifteenth victory for the locals as against four defeats for the season to date. Once again "Major" Daniels turned in a top notch performance in annexing his ninth victory of the season without a defeat. In the six innings he worked, the "Major" allowed only one hit while striking out five batters and giving up two bases on balls.

Winchester scored its first run in the second when Daniels, as lead-off batter, drove a long line drive to right center which rolled beyond the tennis courts and Daniels easily completed the circuit.

The locals iced the game with five big runs in the fourth. S. Kenton was passed to open the frame and went to second on a passed ball. On Donaghey's ground ball to second base, Merry elected to throw out S. Kenton at third and both runners were safe. After Donaghey stole second, Daniels drilled the ball through the infield to score S. Kenton and Donaghey. Daniels moved up to second as Williams grounded out to third. D. Kenton was safe when the short stop erred on his ground ball. Coon grounded out to third but Cirurso came through with a drive to left field to score Daniels and when the left fielder fumbled the ball, D. Kenton scored and Cirurso moved to second. Patterson flied to center field and when Neiss dropped the ball, Cirurso scored the final run.

As the Town Softball League enters the final two weeks of its regular schedule, the race for the four play off positions continues to be close. It is very probable that the exact order in which the teams finish will not be decided until the final night of the schedule. With such a close finish in prospect, it is no wonder that interest in this popular twilight league continues to be high and will no doubt reach the boiling point by play off time.

The big surprise of the past week has been the tremendous improvement of the revitalized Beggs and Cobb outfit in winning three games while losing one. They started their surge by defeating the strong Sons of Italy in a tight game by a score of 6 to 5. Then after losing to the St. Mary's, they bounced right back to defeat the favored V. F. W., by a score of 11 to 7. Then they passed the Red Shirts in the League standing by beating them 9 to 3. Orchids for this performance must go to "Chick" Vespucci who recently took over the managerial reins and has welded them into a winning team.

The Sachems forfeited a game to the Sons of Italy on Sunday and then turned around to defeat them on Monday by an 8 to 1 score as Redding proved to be too much for the Sons of Italy sluggers. The Atomics hit the ball very hard in beating the V. F. W., by a lopsided 17 to 6 score to keep alive their slender playoff hopes. The Vets lost two games during the past week and are beginning to worry some of their followers.

Games next week that involve the top five teams come on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Ginn Field. On Tuesday the Sons of Italy and the St. Mary's meet for the third times this year. These two rivals have broken even in their past two meetings and each is anxious to win the season's margin over the other. On Wednesday evening the V. F. W., and the Maguire Motors square away in their third contest of the year and they also have broken even in their two previous contests. The Vets have not forgotten that the Maguire Motors was the first team to beat them and end their fourteen game winning streak and will most definitely be out for revenge.

The schedule for next week:

Sunday, August 22
Beggs & Cobb vs. V. F. W. (Ginn Field)

Monday, August 23
V. F. W. vs. Rockets (Ginn Field)
Comets vs. Sachems (West Side)
Maguire Motors vs. K. of C. (Shore Road)

Tuesday, August 24

Beggs & Cobb vs. Atomics (West Side)

Wednesday, August 25
V. F. W. vs. Maguire Motors (Ginn Field)
Sachems vs. K. of C. (West Side)
Rockets vs. Beggs & Cobb (Shore Road)

Thursday, August 26
Sons of Italy vs. Red Shirts (Ginn Field)
St. Mary's vs. Comets (West Side)

Friday, August 27
K. of C. vs. Atomics (Ginn Field)
Beggs & Cobb vs. Comets (West Side)
V. F. W. vs. Red Shirts (Shore Road)

WINCHESTER PAUL REVERES TO PLAY IN MAINE

Winchester's Paul Revere League team journeys to Maine this week-end to play games on Saturday and Sunday with the team at Poland Springs.

This should prove quite a series. "Teddy" (the great) O'Rourke is first basing for Poland Springs this year while his brother, Phil, has been playing first much of the time for Winchester. Jimmy Olivier, this year playing second for Winchester, played for Poland Springs a year ago.

The Winchester boys will make the trip to Poland Springs in three automobiles. Manager Lou Warsky expects a full roster for this trip which promises to be a nice outing for the local players.

TENNIS CLINIC REMAINS POPULAR

Once again, for the third Monday in succession, the weather was favorable last Monday, so that Joe Corish's tennis clinic met with all its usual enthusiasm at the Palmer street courts. The thirty some participants included a dozen new boys and girls, as follows: Deanie Meacham, Jean Meacham, Dorothy Brandt, Christine McKay, Marge Zinn, Florence Newton, Nancy Ayer, Mary Jean Newton, Vicky Dudley, Ned Madden, Dick Rush, Bill Williams, and Stephen Buckley. That makes a total of 57 participants to date.

See you all again next Monday, Palmer street courts at 10: Tuesday, if it rains on Monday.

APPOINTED TO NORTHEASTERN FACULTY

Thomas N. Farrell of 7 Samoset road is among the 16 faculty members appointed at Northeastern University for the term commencing September 1. He will serve as coordinator of cooperative work, which means that he will coordinate the work which Northeastern students due in regular business establishments as credit toward their degree with their regular college studies. He will also teach a conference course in personnel guidance and placement.

Mr. Farrell is a Winchester boy. He graduated from Winchester High School and attended New Preparatory School in Cambridge, before graduating from Brown in 1939. After graduation he was associated with Educator Food Company of Lowell until World War II when he enlisted in the Navy, serving four years as personnel officer with the rank of lieutenant with overseas duty in the Aleutians.

Following his discharge, Mr. Farrell has been associated with the Costa Construction Company in Watertown. He has done graduate work at Boston University Night School and is commencing work for his Master's Degree at Boston University this fall.

Mr. Farrell is married to the former Margaret Skinner of Charleston, S. C., whom he met during the war, and they have two children, "Nicky" and "Meggie". Mrs. Farrell is an accomplished pianist with a Master's Degree in Music from a southern college.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

August 17, 1923

The best band concert ever given in Winchester, the finest display of fireworks yet seen on Manchester field and the biggest crowd which has ever been in town sums up the Feast of the Assumption by the Italian residents on Wednesday.

The annual father and son tournament was held at the Winchester Country Club on Wednesday with 54 entries. This years event was won by Messrs. Percy A. Goodale and Robert Goodale with a gross of 78, and a net of 64. A. P. and E. C. Smith also of the Country Club were second with a gross of 83.

Privates Theodore Elliott and Monroe Morley of Winchester, left Wednesday for Mineola, L. I., N. Y., where they will train for two weeks with the 101st Aero Squadron.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hamilton and family and Mrs. E. A. Hamilton left Wednesday for an auto trip through the White Mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. W. Bichnell of Arlington street, members of the Artists' Colony at Provincetown, were among those who attended the costume ball at that place Saturday night. The ball is said to be the greatest costume ball ever seen in Provincetown. Mrs. Bichnell was attired as a Spanish lady and Mr. Bichnell as a Chinese mandarin.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Crowley of Symmes road are leaving the first of September for a trip through England and the Continent.

Supt. Nicholson of the Tree Department and his men started Tuesday to remove the big dead elm on the High School lot.

Miss Louise Stewart who has been visiting her sister Mrs. P. H. Crawford returned last week to her home at North Wiltshire, Prince Edward Island.

The highway department has finished resurfacing lower Washington street with oil and crushed stone, much improving the roadway.

Miss Dolly Bird, who had been spending the summer at South Ashfield, returned to her home on Highland avenue the first of the week.

What a fine site for the new High School building the Howe lot will make when the proposed boulevard gracefully sweeps by it? This lot is destined to be one of the most beautiful and commanding in town, and will be open to the gaze of the thousands who will in the future pass to and fro over the boulevard.

Elizabeth Hemingway received eighteen of her little friends, Monday, August 15, the occasion being her fifth birthday. A feature of the afternoon was a peanut hunt, the prize being won by Lou McConaghy.

Refuse barrels stationed about the center of town would have much to do toward keeping the streets clean, as a great deal that is now thrown into the streets would be deposited in them.

Lieut. Herbert B. Cox, Quartermaster of the 13th Penn. U. S. V., at Camp Alger was in town last Monday on furlough, visiting friends. He declares Winchester to be the most beautiful town he ever saw.

A solution of the shade tree question for the future is to plant trees now where those at present standing are certain to be removed. This should also be done on streets where there are a scarcity of trees.

The following people were recently registered at the Pemberton at Hull: Capt. William A. Snow, Mrs. William Snow, Sydney B. Snow, Mrs. Lucia F. McLellan, T. B. Cotter, Miss Judkins, and Mrs. J. F. Dorsey.

The iced water in the fountain in front of Holbrook and Adams' store has been a great boon during the hot weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ager Whipple, of New York City, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Childs at their residence in Rangely.

The town house grounds look fine these days and attract much attention from strangers.

Humphrey's Pond, on Suntaug Lake, is proving a great attraction. Many people from this town go their daily on the electrics, and besides enjoying a delightful ride witness a first class entertainment.

It is said that some 75,000 people visited Revere Beach last Sunday, and nearly 4,000 went in bathing. The balmy days of this beach, when liquor was the drawing card never had such a gathering.

The new fish hatchery at the head of Mt. Vernon street has many visitors both from this and other towns.

Mr. George G. Kellogg and family are enjoying the scenery of Costine, Me.

To Let—On Church street, one of the most desirable parts of the West Side, a house of eight rooms, all improvements. Rent $25.00 per month. Also two tenements. Rent $6.00 per month.

It is already a question among High School scholars as to what the class of 1900 shall be called. Will it be "naughty naught," or "oughty ought". A debate should be held to decide the knotty question.

PARENTS MAGAZINE AWARDS SPECIAL MEDAL OF MERIT TO WINCHESTER THEATRES'

"Bill and Coo" by Ken Murray

Parents' Magazine which covers more than 2,000,000 parents and teachers, awarded a Special Medal of Merit to Ken Murrays "Bill and Coo" a full length Trucolor Feature "because it delights all ages." This is the first time in the magazine history that such a special medal has been awarded to any picture.

Announcement of the Award was made in the April issue, and over the 300 radio stations which carry Parents' Magazine news.

Here is what some of the Nations Top Showmen say of the "Bill and Coo" playing to-day through Saturday at Winchester Theatre . . .

"Thanks, Ken for letting me see "Bill and Coo". It won't be beaten, It won't be tied. It's great!"—Bing Crosby.

"Pic of the Week".—Jimmy Fidler.

"Wowing Audiences".—Hedda Hopper.

"Surprise of the Year".—Daily Variety.

"The Years most Novel Film"—Variety.

"I can hardly believe my eyes. Best I've seen in ages".—Bob Hope.

"Charlie thinks it great. Mortimer says its wonderful and I speak for them both."—Edgar Bergen.

SELECTMEN HELD HEARINGS

Garbage House Protestants Heard. Marchesi Again Seeks Bowling Permit

The Board of Selectmen, or all of that body available during this late summer vacation season, Messrs. Kenneth Pond, chairman, and Ernest Dade, held hearings Monday evening on the proposed new garbage house and the petition of Ralph Marchesi for a permit to erect a bowling alley on Swanton street near the Beggs & Cobb tannery. The sudden calling of Selectman James Dwinell out of town on Sunday left the Board short of a quorum, so that no definite decision could be announced on the Marchesi petition, but the two members of the Board present were able to reassure the protestants to the erection of a new garbage house on the site of the old one at the town yard that no action in this matter will be taken until after the next annual town meeting.

The hearings were amicable and devoid of personalities. There was no great divergence of opinion apparent at either hearing, and after both were over those attending lingered on for informal discussions that were friendly enough.

About 20 persons were present when Chairman Pond opened the first of the hearings, that on the petition of Ralph Marchesi. Mr. Marchesi has tried previously to secure permits to erect a bowling alley, on one occasion going so far as to seek relief in the courts from the refusal of the Selectmen to grant his request.

Speaking in his own behalf, Mr. Marchesi explained that he planned to erect a suitable building to house the eight alleys he proposes to maintain, with walls 18 inches thick and in strict conformation with the local building laws. He plans to conduct his business in an orderly manner and promised that his enterprise would make no more noise than that which residents of the district have always known from the big Beggs & Cobb tannery nearby.

SONS OF ITALY PLAN CARNIVAL

Extensive plans are in progress for a huge Community Festival to be run by the Winchester Lodge, Sons of Italy, on Sept. 15, 16, 17, 18, on the Shore Road Field.

There will be a carnival with a score of novel booths and many amusements, such as the familiar merry-go-round, ferris wheel, whip and several other novel amusements.

The committee is working hard to make this a huge success as the proceeds are going to the Building Fund of the lodge's Community Center Hall.

The committee is making plans to have a free block dance on at least one night. They also plan to give away many prizes during the four nights with a grand award on Saturday night. There are many other surprises being planned so that each and every night will be full of entertainment.

HOT IN WINCHESTER

Yesterday was the second day of wilting heat, with the glass at 82 degrees at 5 o'clock in the morning and standing an even 100 at Police Headquarters at mid-forenoon. Gunnar Abrahamson reported a high of 108 degrees at his house at mid-day and two thermometers in the center registered 98 degrees in the shade at 3 o'clock.

ROSEMAN—SNYDER

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at Temple Sinai in Brookline on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 22, when Miss Shirley Hilda Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Louis Snyder of Hillcrest Parkway, became the bride of Jacob Roseman of Webster avenue, Cambridge, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Israel Roseman.

Dr. Meyer S. Baer of the Woburn Hebrew Center performed the ceremony at 3 o'clock in a setting of tall tapers, palms and white gladiolas with white satin ribbons tieing the family pews.

Miss Snyder, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Cecelia Snyder of Winchester, as maid of honor. Miss Susan Leslie Perkins of Watertown, niece of the bride, and Miss Rhea Hurwitz of Framingham, niece of the bridegroom, were flower-girls, and David Hurwitz, also of Framingham and nephew of the bridegroom, was ring-bearer.

The bride wore a gown of ivory bengaline, styled with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves, a tight bodice and bouffant skirt. Her matching fingertip-length veil of tulle was caught to a heart-shaped tiara of lace and valley lilies and she carried a bible with a white orchid and shower of stephanotis.

The honor maid wore a dress of blue taffeta and net with a wide bertha and matching hat. Her bouquet combined pink roses and delphinium.

The flower-girls wore ruffled frocks of blue organdy with tiny pink rosebuds in their hair and carried baskets of rose petals. The small ring-bearer wore formal tails like the men in the bridal party.

Melvyn Roseman of Cambridge was best man for his brother and the usher corps included three more brothers of the bridegroom, Meyer Roseman of Philadelphia, Saul Roseman and Robert Roseman, both of Brookline. Also ushering were two brothers of the bride, Bernhart Snyder of Belmont and Benson Snyder of Winchester, Irving Marmor of Lynn, David Lipsky of Boston and Edward Oster of Cambridge.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Temple with the bride's parents assisting in reciving with another brother of the bridegroom, Samuel Roseman, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William Hurwitz. The bride's mother wore a sequinned gown of gray-blue with a flowered hat of American Beauty velvet and a corsage of American Beauty roses and stephanotis.

Following an automobile trip through upper New York and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Roseman will make their home in Durham, N. H., while the bridegroom does graduate work in bacteriology at the University of New Hampshire.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1943, and of Simmons College, 1948. Mr. Roseman graduated from Northeastern University in the same year.

GREENE - EBERLE WEDDING SEPTEMBER 11

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Patricia Louise Eberle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Eberle, and Mr. Stephen Cutler Greene. The wedding will take place on Sunday, Sept. 11, at the First Congregational Church at four in the afternoon. It will be followed by a reception at the Music Hall on Bacon street. Mr. Greene is the son of Mrs. Charles E. Greene.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

At a tea given on Tuesday, Aug. 24 at their summer home in Manomet, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bradbury Fellows of 24 Stowell road, announced the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Louise, to Mr. Charles Abbot Bean of Braintree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Bean of Winterport, Me.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Also on her selling force will be two other Winchester women, Mary von Rosenvinge and Marion Sawyer.

MILITARY HONORS FOR PFC. STEPHEN B. CONNOLLY

Body of Young World War II Hero Arrived Yesterday

The body of Pfc. Stephen B. Connolly, youthful hero of World War II, returned to Winchester yesterday afternoon. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Connolly of 56 Richardson street, he was killed in action in Luxembourg Feb. 4, 1945.

The flag-draped steel casket was taken from the 4:36 outbound train at Winchester Station by Undertaker John J. Lane of the Lane Funeral Service, and escorted by representatives of Winchester Post 97, American Legion, and Aberjona Post, 3719, was taken to the Lane Funeral Home on Main street where the young soldier lay in state last night and will lie in state tonight. Colors of both veterans' organizations were posted at the Funeral Home upon the arrival of the body and will remain until the funeral Saturday morning.

The funeral will take place at 8 o'clock with solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Detachments from the Legion under Commander Walter J. Burns and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, commanded by Past Commander Robert S. McKee, with their Colors and color guards, will escort the body to the church where the colors will be posted during the mass.

Six boyhood friends of the young soldier, themselves ex-service men, and in uniform, will serve as pallbearers. Included are M. F. Joyce, D. J. Olivadoti, Robert Callahan, John Kenton, George Wilson and James Treacy. Two more friends of the deceased, Paul McCue and Thomas Kelley, will be in the Color detachment.

Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery where full military honors will be accorded by a firing squad from Company G of the National Guard in Woburn and a military bugler.

Pfc. Stephen B. Connolly was the son of Patrick J., and Annie M. (Flaherty) Connolly. He was 21 years old at the time of his death in his country's service while serving in the Luxembourg Campaign with the Army Corps of Engineers.

Pfc. Connolly was born in Winchester and was graduated from St. Mary's Grammar School and from Winchester High School. Before entering the service in June of 1943 he was employed as a leather worker at the Beggs & Cobb Tannery in Winchester.

Besides his parents, the young soldier leaves a sister, Miss Mary F. Connolly, and three brothers, John P., Michael J., and Thomas K. Connolly, all of Winchester.

MRS. SUSAN APPLETON MOSMAN

Mrs. Susan Appleton Mosman, wife of Charles T. Mosman of 5 Wolcott terrace, died Sunday morning, Aug. 22, at the Winchester Hospital, after a brief illness which followed three years of poor health.

Mrs. Mosman was the daughter of Tristram, and Clara (Harris) Appleton. She was born April 14, 1870, in Beverly, and lived there until her marriage in 1898. Afterward she and Mr. Mosman made their home in Schenectady until 1904 when they came to Winchester. During the 44 years of their residence here they lived in the same house on Wolcott terrace.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Mosman leaves a daughter, Mrs. Stuart Stearns of Cambridge; and a sister, Miss Clara Appleton of this town.

Funeral services were held at the Kelley and Hawes Chapel on Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiating. Interment was in the Beverly Cemetery.

MRS. MARION F. SPEERS

Mrs. Marion F. Speers, wife of Dr. William J. Speers, prominent Boston orthodontist whose Winchester home is at 61 Wedgemere avenue, died Thursday, Aug. 19, in Jackson, N. H., after a brief illness.

Mrs. Speers was born in Philadelphia, Pa., in 1880. She was educated at Friends' School in Philadelphia, and following her marriage in 1908, she and her husband lived for 20 years in Fall River. She had lived in Winchester for the past 17 years.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Speers leaves a daughter, Mrs. David W. Emmons, of Lyme, Conn.; a son, William J. Speers, Jr., former Selectman and present member of the School Committee, a sister, Mrs. J. Spencer Brock of Philadelphia, Pa., and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chidley, officiating. Favorite selections were played on the organ by Kenneth W. Moffatt. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

FREDERICK JOHN LARSON

Proprietor of Fred's Home Service Died Early Tuesday

Frederick John Larson, one of Winchester's constables and proprietor of Fred's Home Service, died suddenly early Wednesday morning, Aug.26, at his home, 992 Main street. He had not been ill and had been at his business as usual Tuesday. Tuesday evening he and his son-in-law, John F. Hall, attended the outdoor motion pictures in Saugus, and it was after their return home that Mr. Larson was stricken. His long residence and the nature of his business made him widely known in Winchester to persons of all walks in life and his sudden passing came as a severe shock, both to his family and his many friends. Flags on the common and public buildings were displayed at half staff in his honor.

Mr. Larson was the son of Carl, and the late Ida Mathilda (Gustaffson) Larson. He was born Dec. 22, 1900, in Everett, but came as a boy of 8 years to Winchester, and had since been a resident of the town. He attended the Winchester schools and as a young man he was employed for a time by Herbert Nickerson at Nickerson's Haberdashery on Washington street in Boston. Later he was associated with Bonnell Motors as a salesman, but for the past 10 years he had his own business, known as Fred's Home Service, doing all sorts of cleaning, renovating and renewing homes. The business was successful and two years ago Mr. Larson added to it general painting, taking over the business of his father, one of Winchester's veteran master painters. A genial personality made Fred, as he was universally known, many friends among his patrons and throughout the town. He was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons.

Mr. Larson was twice married. On Sept. 6, 1922, he married Jennie Elizabeth Johnson of Rockport, who died Dec. 5,, 1926. On Aug. 9, 1932, he married Eva McRae of Winchester, who survives him, with two daughters, Miss Virginia E. Larson and Mrs. Natalie Hall, both of Winchester; a son, Edward W. Larson of this town; his father, two sisters, Mrs. Elna Sylven of Wakefield and Miss Evelyn Larson of Boston; and four brothers, Harold I., of Reading, Carl., of Stoneham, Bernard A., of Bedford, and Ralph D. Larson of Winchester.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 28, at 2:30 in the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., officiating. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

BODY OF PFC. JOSEPH DeLUCA TO ARRIVE MONDAY

The body of Pfc. Joseph A. DeLuca, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Gallo of 216 Cross street, will arrive in Winchester on the 4:36 train from Boston Monday afternoon, Aug. 30. The young soldier was killed in action July 12, 1944, at the Normandy beach-head near St. Lo in France.

Undertaker John J. Lane and representatives of Winchester Post 97, A. L., and Aberjona Post, 3719, V. F. W., will meet the body at the station and it will be taken to the Lane Funeral Home on upper Main street where the service organizations' flags will be posted while the body lies in state. Visiting hours will be Tuesday, Aug. 31, from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7 to 10 in the evening.

A solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church Wednesday morning, Sept. 1, and interment will be in Calvary Cemetery. Full military honors will be accorded, including the firing of three volleys by a firing squad and taps.

Pfc. DeLuca was 21 years old when he lost his life in his country's service. He was born in Pittsburg, Pa., and entered the service while living in Hartford, Conn. His family came to Winchester from Hartford, living first on Swanton street and later at 216 Cross street. His father is dead and his mother is married again.

Besides his mother he leaves a sister, Jean D. DeLuca; and three brothers, William P. Raymond. and Anthony J. DeLuca, all of Winchester.

MOFFETT TOOK BEST GROSS AT UNICORN

Twenty-seven members of the Rotary Club of Winchester attended the outing at the Unicorn Country Club last Thursday afternoon and evening, sixteen enjoying 18 holes of golf and 27 sitting down to the following dinner. A most enjoyable occasion was experienced by all, thanks to the active interest and management of W. Allan Wilde.

Joe Moffett topped the golfers with best gross score. Alexander M. Clark walked away with the guest prize and Jim Scott took honors for the most 3s with Ralph Purrington capturing honors for the most 7s. Two other prizes were awarded, one to Charlie Murphy for the most holes over 7 and Curtis Ware taking the consolation.

A lobster and steak dinner was served at the conclusion of the golf and the party returned to Winchester early in the evening.

CONSTANCE P. COREY

Miss Constance P. Corey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston E. Corey of Reading, formerly of Cliff street, this town, died on Sunday, Aug. 22. She was 28 years of age and was born in Winchester. The funeral services were held on Wednesday and the interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

LAWRENCE PRIME PINKHAM

War Veteran Polio Victim

Lawrence Prime Pinkham, member of the Crime Investigation Bureau of the City of Louisville, Ky., and son of Mrs. Evelyn Prime Pinkham of Prospect street, died Monday morning, Aug. 23 at Nichols General Hosptal, a veteran's hospital, in Shiveley, Ky., following a brief illness with polio. He became ill last Friday and was hospitalized the following day, being placed in an iron lung. His entire left side was paralyzed and the disease spread rapidly until the end came on Monday.

Mr. Pinkham was discharged from the Army only eight months ago and recently spent his vacation on two weeks' maneuvers with the Officers' Reserve Corps at a camp in Maryland. During his war service overseas in the European Theatre he sustained three bad leg wounds and spent many months in hospitals abroad and in this country.

Mr. Pinkham was born in Winchester March 29, 1923, the son of Mrs. Evelyn (Prime) and Raymond Edward Pinkham. He was graduated from Winchester High School in 1942 and was a member of the class of 1946 at Northeastern University, where he had completed his sophomore year in the College of Business Administration when he enlisted in the infantry in September, 1944.

He trained at Camp Croft, S. C., and at several other camps in the south before being selected to attend Officer Candidate School at Fort Benning in Columbus, Ga. He graduated from Benning March 22, 1942, with the rank of 2nd lieutenant, standing third in his class and being the fifth youngest to graduate from the stiff Benning training course.

On Sept. 12, 1942, Lt. Pinkham left for overseas duty with the infantry and he saw three years service in Italy and France, and in North Africa. He was wounded three times in the right leg, being thrice awarded the Purple Heart Medal and Citation and also receiving the Combat Infantry Badge. He was twice wounded during campaigns in Italy and once in France, and was promoted while overseas to 1st lieutenant.

After hospitalization abroad, Lt. Pinkham was sent back to the United States to the Rhodes General Hospital at Utica, N. Y. From there he was transferred to the General Hospital at Camp Edwards in February of 1945.

From Edwards Lt. Pinkham returned to active duty at Camp Robinson in Arkansas, where he met his wife, who was then Lt. Helen Striker of Grand Rapids, Mich., serving as a nurse in the Army Medical Corps. They were married May 24, 1946.

After his marriage Lt. Pinkham was sent to Fort Knox, Louisville, Ky., and it was while there that he transferred from the infantry branch to the military police. He was graduated from the Military Police School at Fort Knox in January, 1946, and because of his fine record in that branch of the service, when he was discharged from the Army eight months ago, he was offered a position in the Crime Investigation Bureau of the City of Louisville, heading the department at the time of his death. He was planning to commence the study of law at the University of Kentucky in September and several southern jurists and prominent lawyers had predicted a brilliant career for him in that field.

Mr. Pinkham leaves his wife, an 18 months-old son, Ray Lawrence; a sister, Marilyn Fontaine Pinkham of Winchester; and his parents, Mrs. Evelyn Prime Pinkham of this town, and Raymond Edward Pinkham, superintendent of schools in Branford, Conn. His wife and son arrived in Boston by plane Wednesday night to join his mother in Winchester.

Mr. Pinkham's body arrived at the South Station Thursday afternoon and was brought to Winchester by Kelley & Hawes, undertakers.

The casket was hermetically sealed, and the services, to be held today at the home of Mr. Pinkham's mother, will be strictly private. Rev. John Prescott Robertson of the Braintree Congregational Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

WINCHESTER RESIDENTS VISITED CARRIER LEYTE

Several Winchester residents had the thrill of their lives last weekend when they put to sea in the big airplane carrier, U.S. S. Leyte, CV 32, as guests of the skipper, Capt. Charles P. Coe, USN, brother of Captain Benjamin Coe of Lagrange street.

In the local party were Mr. John Page of 7 Lagrange st., Dr. Burton Gove of 89 Bacon st., Rev. John Prescott Robertson, formerly assistant at the First Congregational Church, now pastor of the Braintree Congregational Church; John D. West of 74 Wedgemere ave. and Captain Benjamin Coe's son, Ben P. Coe, former captain of the high school track team. Arrangements for the trip were completed with Captain Charles Coe by Mr. West through an old World War I Navy flyingmate, Guy Benedict of Darien, Conn., who was among the 24 civilians aboard the carrier in connection with the Navy's new personal relations program.

The Winchester party went aboard the carrier at Quanset Point, being taken out to the huge ship in Navy gigs. An idea of the size of the carrier may be obtained from a few of her statistics. She is 888 feet over all, with a flight deck 870 by 90 feet, accommodating 95 planes. Two catapaults and three plane elevators handle the planes and the ten-deck craft is driven by engines of 150,000 horsepower. The U.S.S. Leyte is like the carrier Saratoga and is a sister ship to the U.S.S. Philippine Sea, which Mr. West was aboard when she was christened.

The civilians on the ship last week-end had the experience of going ninety miles out to sea and actually seeing some 65 planes, bombers, fighters and torpedo planes, take off and return to the ship while engaging in maneuvers. Flying the planes were midshipmen and officers from the carrier squadron. Present on the carrier were thirty men from the Army War College at Newport.

The Winchester party spent last Thursday and Thursday night on shipboard, dining well, and were out all day Friday, returning to Quanset Point about 6 o'clock in the evening. For all it was an experience long to remember, as full opportunity was given to see all phases of Naval aviation with the various intriguing adjuncts, such as radar, gunnery and all the rest. One of the Winchester party, in commenting on the trip, spoke of the lack of motion felt on the carrier and waxed enthusiastic over the docking of the huge ship without the semblance of a jar.

The skipper, Captain Charles Coe, graduated from Annapolis in 1923, and saw plenty of active service during World War I, serving on the staff of Admiral Fitch in the South Pacific and later being chief of staff for the General commanding aircraft in the Solomons, where the Army and Navy teamed together with excellent results.

His brother, Captain Benjamin Coe, after six months in the hospital with a back ailment, has recently been assigned to duty in the First Naval District.

WINCHESTER VETERANS' BODIES ARRIVED IN NEW YORK

Commander Walter J. Burns of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, has been notified by the State Department of the Legion of the arrival in New York of the bodies of three more of Winchester's repatriated soldier dead, Pfc. Joseph DeLuca of 216 Cross street, formerly of Swanton street; of Pfc. William A. Orr, son of Mr.and Mrs. Forrest W. Orr of 21 Winslow road; and Cpl. Edward V. Manzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo B. Manzie of 10 Bridge street.

PARK DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEE INJURED

James J. Rogers of Bridge street, employee of the Park Department, lost the top of the fourth finger of his left hand Monday while helping to push a power mower up loading boards into a trailer. In some way the machine slipped into gear, and the whirling knives sheared off Rogers' finger.

He was taken to the office of Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, who gave first aid and ordered Rogers removed to the Winchester Hospital where the top of the finger to the first joint was amputated by Dr. Charles Rooney. He was released from the hospital yesterday.

It is reported that the property at 742-750 Main street, known as the Sylvester Block, has been sold. The buyers are the Broton Trust and final papers were passed last week.

The Browning Laboratories Inc., will continue to occupy the building.

ROTARY NEWS

There is no blinking the fact that our Rotary Club is no longer a contender for the pennant in the race for the attendance record for this summer. With two more weeks with games away from home which the home club has been losing with consistent regularity we can only hope for a new line-up and better team spirit when the new fall season opens. With only two regular starters on the mound—old reliable "Church" Hindes making up in Vermont every week and "Jim" Cullen making up in Falmouth—there has been added another surprise starter who may finish—that being "Ernie" Dade who won his first start at Laconia last week. President Don Simonds still has confidence in his club and if sheer will power and desire count for anything, Winchester will be up there amonog the leaders in this district in no time. It is now up to the club members themselves to justify this confidence.

This week was again an open meeting with the business consisting mostly of discussion about the forthcoming draft regulations and how it concerns Rotary. One of the guests at the meeting was Staff Sergeant Knee of the Army Recruiting Service who is holding forth at the Police Station at the present time. He spoke of the advantages to be gained by volunteer enlistment in the army now. He is working with a local manpower committee headed by Mrs. Toye and aided by Ralph Bonnell and Ted Bartlett. Allan Wilde then spoke of the coming draft registration and of his dire need of many assistants. He desires to have the Rotarians assign clerical help from their own offices to help with this registration during the hours of the afternoons and then requested that teams of Rotarians themselves help in the evening from 5 to 9 every week day night from Aug. 30th through Sept. 18th. Any men who can assist either by giving of their own clerical force or by assisting in the evening themselves will please get in touch with Allan immediately.

The meeting then adjourned rather abruptly since many of the members were eager to get off to the outing that afternoon and evening at the Unicorn Golf Club.

HEADS SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN

Dr. Forbes H. Norris, superintendent of schools, has been named General Chairman in Winchester for The Salvation Army 1948-49 Greater Boston Appeal for $500,000. The announcement was made by Henry G. Bigelow, Chairman of District 1 of the Metropolitan division of the appeal. Mr. Bigelow is also of Winchester. District 1 includes in addition to Winchester, Arlington, Bedford, Burlington, Lexington and Woburn.

Davenport F. Davis, Winchester Trust Co., is Treasurer of the appeal. Both Dr. Norris and Mr. Davis are serving in their respective capacities for the second consective year.

Mrs. Evans A. McKay, 75 Church street is Residential Chairman. In announcing the selection of Dr. Norris, Mr. Bigelow revealed that the $500,000 quota represents only two fifths of the expected expenditures of The Salvation Army in Greater Boston for this year. The other three fifths, The Salvation Army is confident of raising from internal sources. "In other words," concluded Mr. Bigelow, "The Salvation Army is to a large extent, self-supporting."

The Salvation Army operates and maintains 31 institutions, departments and corps centers in the area.

WINCHESTER GIRL TO BE BRIDESMAID

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Oliver of 21 Sargent road will attend the marriage of Mrs. Oliver's cousin, Eleanor Salyer of Norman, Okla., on Saturday, Aug. 28.

Miss Salyer will marry Bruce Morrison of Dayton, Ohio, in Christ Church, Cambridge, Mass., and will have as her only attendant, Miss Shirley Salyer of Black Horse terrace. Mr. Morrison will have his brother as best man.

Prof. and Mrs. Sandford M. Salyer, the bride's parents, of Normana, Okla., will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Oliver for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison will make their home at the Ambassador Hotel in Cambridge, where Mr. Morrison will attend Harvard Law School.

WINCHESTER WINS OLD COLONY TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Despite the fact that the Winchester team had its first and only defeat of the season last Saturday on the Palmer street courts at the hands of Belmont, score 3-2, the local tennis team emerged victor for the season with 27 points against Belmont's 25. This season has seen the first revival of the Old Colony League since before the war, and only Winchester, Belmont, Lexington, and Lincoln were able to muster teams for participation. The revival has been a good one, however, and the weather cooperated so well that it was possible to adhere to the schedule as originally drawn. May more good teams be attracted to the happy circle next year!

Last Saturday's contest went as follows:

Jim Coon defeated Craig Scott 6-2, 6-8, 6-3.

Charlie Watson defeated David Perkins 8-6, 6-4.

Gerald Huff defeated Hall Gamage 6-3, 6-2.

Clint Stevenson and Win Lucke defeated Bud Nutter and Bud Snow 9-7, 6-3.

Ed Brainard and Dick Cannon defeated Deb Bellows and Bob Drake 6-1, 6-4.

On Saturday, Aug. 14, Winchester played a shut-out against Lincoln, and the scores were as follows:

Jim Coon defeated John Eaton 4-6, 6-2, 7-5.

Arthur Hills defeated Robert Bugrave 6-4, 6-3.

Hall Gamage defeated Jim Dudley 6-2, 6-2.

Ed Williams and Whit Gray defeated John Garrison and Ted Chase 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

Deb Bellows and Bob Drake defeated Eveleth Todd and Robert Booth 6-4, 6-2.

WINCHESTER IN EVEN SPLIT AT POLAND SPRING

7-4 Defeat More Than Evened by 11-2 Victory

Winchester's Paul Revere League team earned an even split with Poland Spring in two games with the famous Maine resort team at Poland Spring last week-end. Poland Spring won the opening game, 7-4, when the locals tossed four errors into a big Maine inning that combined three hits with a base-on-balls.

Aside from that frame both Phil Twombly and his relief, Sam Tompkins, pitched good ball. A feature of the game was the verbal tilt between the O'Rourke brothers, "Ted" (the great) playing the initial sack for Poland Spring while his brother, Phil, covered for Winchester.

Teddy was flashy as usual in the field, but was trying too hard up there at the dish and fanned three times, an item that didn't pass unnoted by the elder of the Brothers O'Rourke. Phil didn't hit either, but as he modestly admitted he was a visitor and had to be polite.

Jimmy Olivier, who played with Poland Spring last year, belted out a two-run homer in Winchester's big sixth and combed his former team-mate, Paradies, for three hits. Dick Coon belted out two clean singles. As a matter of fact the entire Winchester team hit the ball hard all afternoon but in poor luck. A big crowd saw both games. The summary:

Sunday's game was all Winchester with tall Vern Slack blazing his fast ball right past the Poland Spring batters. The big high school football captain got 13 on strikes and helped his own cause by driving in three runs with a single and a double. The Poland Spring rooters were cheering him to the echo as the game wore on.

In one stretch Slack fanned eight in a row and he had 11 strikeouts at the end of four frames, when Manager Lou Warsky warned him to soften up his hard one. Winchester was leading 9-0 at the end of the second but the customers squawked when the game was called at the end of the 7th to permit the locals to get home.

Sam Bellino greeted Blackwell with a screaming single on the first pitch of the ball game, Olivier walked and Johnny Cousens belted a triple that really ended the game as far as any competition was concerned.

The locals kept belting away, using three Poland Spring pitchers roughly, while Slack coasted after the fourth. It was the first loss of the season for Poland Spring. Cogan made a great peg from right field to cut down a runner trying for third in the 6th. The summary:

POLAND SPRING SPLASHES

(by Scuttlebutt)

"Ted-the-Great" O'Rourke made excellent arrangements for Winchester's two-day stay and everyone was well taken care of. The trip was just what Winchester needed before starting the Paul Revere playoffs.

"Ted," or "Salty," was a marked man and every move he made was the signal for remarks from his pals on the Winchester bench. The great one had a tough time of it at bat, but was real fancy-Dan around the initial sack.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Philip O'Rourke of Symmes road saw Sunday's game and had a great time of it watching their rival sons, Ted and Phil, playing first base for their respective teams. No one knows which side they were for.

Manager "Lou" Warsky told Fran Poirier he was going to play second base in Sunday's game, and lived to regret the gag, "Franny" waking up all his near neighbors by getting up in the night to practice dragging his foot across the bag in making double plays. According to those nearest at hand, his foot sounded like a bow scraping a bull-fiddle. Joke was on Lou, THAT time.

All the boys think Poirier should get a job on some radio program. Few of the ether comics rate with Franny when it comes to the real funny stuff.

Winchester pitchers fanned 28 in 15 innings of play and the Poland Spring fans simply knew Tompkins as the guy who fanned seven in three frames. That was before Slack gave them a peck at his hard one Sunday.

That "Quiet, the rest of the team's asleep," bellowed by Pete Twombly on any and all occasions is something only he can explain. The crowd sure heard a lot of it!

The crowd was on Jimmy Olivier in a good natured way, Jim having played for Poland Spring last season. The Winchester boy's answer to the ribbing was four hits in seven trips including a double and a home run.

"Shorty" Mancib certainly looked the part of a trainer, dressed all in white. His medicine chest was a bit on the short side, but his appearance surely impressed.

Sammy Bellino signed the hotel register as "Captain of Football '47." Not hard to figure out where Sammy's heart is!

After the games, two elderly fans approached the Winchester bench and said they would be looking forward to seeing Winchester again next year. Both said they hadn't had so much fun at any games for years, and apparently everyone enjoyed the Winchester visit, for even the golfers were on hand for the second game.

"Toddy" Wallis went along as bat-boy, and was really exhausted from laughing. Manager Lou Warsky was still chuckling to himself all day Monday, causing many a conjecture over his sanity.

Well, it's all over for this year, but the local boys will be looking forward to next year at the Spring, and we'll bet the crowd of the season will be on hand to see them play again.

There wasn't a sour note in the entire two days. The local management had every right to be proud of the Winchester boys on and off the field, and the Poland Spring management was literally delighted with the visit. As for the fans, they were really rooting for Slack and his fast ball in th second game.

It was Sam Tompkins who dubbed the paying guests "cashees" and the name stuck. Big Sam was very popular with the paying customers, too.

Don't let that dead-pan of "Nonny" Cogan fool you. He can wisecrack with the best when opportunity presents, and was good for plenty of laughs on the trip.

TENNIS CLINIC CONTINUES

Joe Corish's tennis clinic for players of both sexes and all ages will meet again on Monday, Aug. 30, on the Palmer street courts at 10 a. m.; Tuesday, if it rains on Monday. To date 66 Winchesterites have attended the clinic, ranging from 4th grade primary to 4th year college. Your reporter has observed Joe talking and demonstrating, always on a voluntary basis, tennis for 15 years, and each time it is an inspiration. This month in Winchester the attendance at the clinics has ayways been just over the 30 mark, and it can certainly be claimed that the age distribution of the participants is representative for the future of tennis in our town. This coming Monday is likely, however, to be the last time that Joe will conduct the clinic for us personally, so we ought to feel obligated to turn out for him in really appreciative numbers as a gesture of appreciation and gratitude for his excellent service.

There will be no clinic scheduled for Labor Day, but shortly after that it is expected that for three or four meetings we shall have the services of a professional provided by a small fund appropriated by the Town Recreation Committee. Definite announcements regarding any such clinic will be made through the schools and the press. Keep your ears and eyes open!

TANSEY PLAYING FOR GROTON

George Tansey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tansey of Canal street, has been playing regular second base for Groton, N. H., in the Tri-League this summer. He has been playing a stout defensive game, leading the league in fielding, and recently beat Plymouth with a three-run triple.

George has improved greatly through the summer and should be a strong candidate for a position on the high school nine another spring. He ought to be good. His father and uncle, Francis, were among the best all around athletes ever to wear the Red and Black of Winchester High. In baseball his father, "Muggins," was a catcher and third baseman, while Francis was an outstanding left-handed pitcher, considered by many to be as good an individual pitcher as Winchester ever had.

A Message to 138,000 telephone users in Greater Boston who did not have telephones three years ago

WE think you'll agree with the policy we've followed—putting new telephones on party lines in order to give service to as many people as possible.

In this way, we've given service to thousands of people who, otherwise, would still be without it.

To add all these new telephones, even on party lines, we've done far more construction and installation work in the past three years than in any similar period in our history.

Many of you, and others who have had telephones for longer periods, are now asking us for individual service — or for a line with fewer parties on it — or for a different type of service than you now have. We are anxious to fill these requests as soon as we possibly can.

But right now we're using most of our new equipment as it's installed to fill orders — now on our books and coming in from day to day — for people who are now without telephones. That seems only fair.

The next step will be to provide the exact type of service that people want. It's a big job, and it's going to take some time.

In Winchester, there are (552) families now on party lines, who have asked us to put them on lines with fewer people on them. In addition, there are (79) others who want a change in their type of service.

All of these requests will be honored eventually. We only wish we could be specific as to when that date will be. But until we can provide some kind of service for everybody who wants a telephone and who, as yet, doesn't have it, it will be necessary to defer the installation of equipment which would permit this type of service change.

WINCHESTER SWIMMERS SCORED AT BROCKTON

"Barbie" Donaghey and Bob McGrath were among the place winners at the annual title swim meet at Campello Pool in Brockton last Saturday.

"Barbie," swimming for the Metropolitan Swimming Association, placed second to her teammate Joanna Berggren in the New England A. A. A. U. 100 meter freestyle championship event, beating Louise Sherlock of Wanskuck.

Bob finished behind the two Lynn Boys' Club swimmers, Charlie Stephanos and Don Sonia in the Massachusetts State 100 meter freestyle event, won by Stephanos in 1m. 5.2s.

JUNIORS WON BIG ONE AT BEVERLY

The Winchester Junior Legion won its most impressive game of the season when the Beverly Junior Legion was defeated at Beverly last Thursday evening by a score of 4 to 3. The locals pleased Coach Ted Bartlett no end by turning in one of their finest performances of the year before "Bart's" home town folks. The Winchester boys were on their toes and hustled all the way as evidenced by a diving, one handed catch of a foul bunted fly by Ken Donaghey that Beverly fans described as the finest they have seen this year.

Don Kenton redeemed himself for the mediocre performance he turned in last Sunday against this same team by twirling a steady and a courageous game as these Beverly boys can really hit that ball. Aside from Sammy Kessaris who drove in all three of Beverly's runs, Kenton had the other batters pretty much under control as he kept the other hits well scattered.

Beverly opened in scoring in the first inning when Abate singled to left with one out. S. Kessaris followed with a long line drive for over the left fielder's head and easily completed the circuit as the ball rolled to the fence.

Winchester came right back to score three runs in the next inning by bunching four of its hits. With one out Daniels scratched a single off the second baseman's glove and later stole second. Williams doubled down the left field line to score Daniels. D. Kenton singled to left, Williams holding up at third. Coon unloaded a long triple over the center fielder's head to drive in Williams and D. Kenton. Cirurso grounded to second and Coon was erased at the plate on a pretty play from Abate to DiVencenzo.

The locals added what proved to be the winning run in the first of the fifth to make the score 4 to 2. With two out Donaghey drove one back through the middle for a single. After Donaghey had advanced to second on a passed ball, Daniels stroked a line drive to right field to score Donaghey.

Beverly got one back in the bottom of the fifth to make the score 4 to 3. With one out, Hansbury received a base on balls. Abate lined to center field and Daniels made a nice one-handed catch but when he tried to double the runner off first, the ball hit Hansbury in the shoulder and he made second as the ball rolled into foul territory. The ever-dangerous S. Kessaris then singled to center for his third straight hit to score Hansbury.

That was all the scoring for the evening but the locals had their fingers crossed in the last of the seventh as S. Kessaris was at the plate with two out and a runner on first. Kessaris already had three consecutive hits and looked very threatening up there but hit a hard ground ball to third on which Tony Cirurso made a nice play to throw out the runner and end the game. It was a great game for Winchester to win and the ride home seemed much shorter as a result.

SWIMMING MEET CLOSED RED CROSS SEASON

Red Cross Trophies to Miss Melanson and Harrold

McGowan Trophy to Bob McGrath

The Winchester Red Cross Chapter closed its annual summer season of water safety instruction with a swimming meet and exhibition of life saving last Sunday afternoon at Palmer Beach. Red Cross Swimming Instructor Don Armstrong and Beach Supervisor Anne Murray were in charge of the meet.

A good size crowd of parents and friends of the young swimmers was on hand for the meet, nearly all of them being forced to stand during the two-hours-and-a-half that the meet lasted. No bleachers were available, due to the fact that they are being repaired and made safe for use during the football season.

Featuring the meet was the presentation of the Red Cross Trophies, given annually to the boy and girl who have done most to improve themselves and for swimming and water safety in Winchester during the season. Mrs. Clarence Donaghey, Red Cross representative, presented these trophies to Susan Melanson and David Harrold.

Kenneth F. Caldwell, chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners, presented the Thomas McGowan Memorial Trophy, given in memory of Winchester's late superintendent of the Park Department, to Bob McGrath. This trophy is awarded on the basis of worthiness, character, competitive swimming and improving the town beaches. Bob, Winchester's outstanding competitive swimmer, was competing out of town and unable to receive his trophy, which was given to his father, Mr. Edward F. McGrath of Highland avenue.

Ice cream and cookies were given all contestants and officials by the local Red Cross Chapter. Besides the swimming and life-saving there was a most enjoyable water ballet exhibition given by Lynn Aitkens, Marjorie Carroll, Roberta Coon and Betty MacIsaac. The life-saving exhibition was given by Cynthia Lincoln and Diane and Joan McNeill, who had just completed a course in junior life-saving.

Outstanding individual performances in the swimming meet were given by Tom McGowan and Diane McNeill, McGowan winning both the 100 meter freestyle open and the 150 individual medley event as well as placing second in the diving. Diane won the 50 meter freestyle for girls under 12 and was a good second in the 50 meter freestyle for girls under 14.

In the 100 meter breaststroke for girls the newly crowned State Champ, Betty MacIsaac, was defeated by "Barbie" Donaghey, former State freestyle titlist, but succeeded in edging team-mate Lynn Aitkens as she did at the N.E.A.A. A.U. meet the previous Saturday. The race between Diane McNeill and Nancy Morse in the 50 meter freestyle for girls 12 and under was a good one. The summary:

LEXINGTON BEAT WINCHESTER REVERES

Lexington blanked Winchester, 3-0, last Thursday evening in a Paul Revere League game on Leonard Field.

Big "Sambo" Tompkins pitched plenty well enough to win, but his infield fell apart behind him and kept him constantly in hot water while Lexington gave its three hurlers fine support. Sam Bellino featured Winchester's defense with a perfect throw to the plate, cutting off a run. The summary:

The Good Old Days seem to have an allure for everyone, and we note that James D. Haggerty of the Woburn Daily Times is currently writing an interesting series entitled "70 Years Ago on Main Street, Woburn of Today and Yesterday." The Star finds much local interest in its series of reprints from Star files of 25 and 50 years ago.

For the benefit of those who have been wondering about seats for the football games this fall the Star is not too happy to report that such seating facilities as we have had for the past few years will again be available this autumn. The old and new bleacher seats are being made acceptable to the State safety authorities, and according to Park Commissioner Caldwell, will be ready for the football season. The seats were condemned after last season, and for a time hope was held out that they might be sold for a reported price of $4,500 and permanent seats erected on the banking by the Junior High School in accordance with the original plan for the new athletic field. This, of course, was too good to be true and the rickety seats are being patched up for further use at a cost said to be $1,500. Those who will regret that the old circus seats especially are to be continued in use are urged to console themselves by taking a long-range view of the situation. After all, these old bleachers can not last forever, even if they do seem well on the way to such a record, and if those who don't like them do not chance to be seated upon them when they finally do give up the ghost, all should be well!

ARMED FORCES ON TRIAL

Editor of the Star:

As General Omar Bradley has well said "Enactment of a peacetime draft has put the armed forces on trial before a bar of critical public opinion to prove that not only the Nation but these young men as well, may profit from their service . . . but unless a soldier when drafted into the Army can understand and intelligently perceive the necessity for his service, he will instinctively rebel against and resent the authority centered in military command . . . in any period of selective service, the Armed Forces can easily become a scapegoat for the confusion and perplexities that plague men unable to understand the need for their service."

Passage of the Selective Service Act has thrown an added responsibility on the shoulders of our school teachers to see to it that our High School graduates reach military age with minds so trained in current events that they will have an understanding of this nation's mission. We feel sure the clergy will continue to cooperate by instilling in their minds the necessity of clean living and thinking and to so train their minds that wherever they may go they will instinctively be ambassadors of Christianity and of the best in American life. The Chaplain is an important person on any commander's staff and every soldier will be interviewed by a Chaplain. He serves to make men increasingly aware of the presence of God and the reality of moral law. He also contributes to soldiers' effectiveness by strengthening within them a living faith. The spade work begins at the grass roots—with our local clergy.

Answering a question on enlistment: A volunteer between the ages of 18 and 35 (17 with parents' consent) may enlist for 2, 3, 4, 5 or 6 years. If he is in the draft-age group, 19 to 25 years, he may enlist in the Regular Army for 21 months followed by Reserve service. If he is 18, and not yet subject to the draft, he may volunteer (within a limited monthly quota) for 1 year of active service followed by a period of Reserve service and thereby avoid being drafted. But the volunteer who signs up for 3 years or more is very much better off than the short-term volunteer for there are several important choices he can make BEFORE he enlists.

Mrs. C. G.: The USTFI (U. S. Armed Forces Institute) courses are available in 4 areas of learning: Elementary, High School, Technical or Vocational, College. The area you are apparently interested in is the Technical-Vocational and some of the courses include Aeronautics, Agriculture, Auto Mechanics, Building Construction, Drawing, Electricity and Electrical Engineering, Engines, Foremanship, Machine Industry, Marine and Maritime Mechanics, Music, Photography, Plastics, Radio, Railway, Refrigeration, Vocational Mathematics.

The U. S. Army Technical School Plan offers over 60 courses — it would overtax the generosity of the Star to list them—but on my return to Winchester on Aug. 30, I will be glad to go over them with you.

Yours truly,
Gladys N. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee
Mrs. K. B. Toye,

TO THE BOWLERS OF WINCHESTER

This is just a short explanation why I have had to refuse a good many leagues that want to hold their bowling here at the Sport Center.

Primarily my license was granted to me by the Selectmen of the Town of Winchester, therefore the Sport Center should be used for the people of Winchester. I am adhering strictly to this principle in every way possible.

It is impossible to take any out-of town leagues on any night, due to the fact that there are so many Winchester applications.

I can not book the 14 alleys solidly each night to leagues because if I do, there will be no room for you who might not belong to any league and yet want to come out to bowl a few strings.

The majority of my alleys are open to you, the public, so that you can bowl as often as you want to and as many strings as you care to.

The alleys will be open from 2 o'clock in the afternoon till 11 o'clock at night.

The most important part of this Sport Center is the manner in which it is conducted and I'm certainly going to do everything in my power to keep it the most orderly run bowling alley in the country. It will be a place in which you can feel satisfied that your wife, daughter, or son is getting good, clean sport.

John Francis Navarro

STREET PLAY DANGEROUS

Playing in or near the street is responsible for three out of four child pedestrian deaths and injuries, according to recent community studies cited today by Bert R. Harmon, Safety Director of the Boston Automobile Club.

"Surveys In Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., reported by the American Automobile Association, with which the Auto Club is affiliated, indicate that the play factor was involved in 75 per cent of child pedestrian accidents last year," said Harmon.

"In 1947, 2,500 children were killed and 120,000 injured in pedestrian accidents. The youngest of these children, toddlers up to five years of age, had the worst death record," the Club official said, warning parents to "provide attractive play yards away from traffic with one corner of the yard reserved for toys."

"The accident toll of boys and girls in Massachusetts last year was 81 killed and 6,857 injured. Five thousand of these youngsters would have escaped injury if proper play areas had been provided."

MRS. HOWARD SHOWING OILS AT NEW LONDON, N. H.

Mrs. Paul H. Howard of 345 Main street, is holding her annual exhibition of oil paintings in the art gallery of the Tracy Memorial Library, New London, N. H., this week and next. The Gallery is open every afternoon from 2 to 5 except Sundays.

The landscapes include scenes from Colorado, New Mexico and Florida, as well as New England lakes and mountains, a covered bridge and studies of autumn foliage. There are also a few "still lifes."

Included in the exhibit are two beautiful hooked rugs done by Mrs. Myrtle Crockett and Mrs. Nell Lamson, both residents of New London.

You're right if you think you saw Chairman Edmund C. Sanderson of the Water and Sewer Board in a new Ford this week. Mr. Sanderson has a very natty looking gray club coupe, secured from Bonnell Motors.

Roughly Mr. Marchesi proposes to erect his alleys on a lot he now owns on Swanton street near the Swanton street bridge off Main street, extending back toward White street with the B. & M. tracks between the building and Main street.

There was little real opposition to Mr. Marchesi's proposed plans. That which was expressed stressed the noise likely to come from the alleys, the parking nuisance likely to develop on side streets near the alleys, and the danger of youngsters congregating around the alleys in large numbers.

Mr. Marchesi got a laugh when he said he hoped the youngsters would congregate inside the alleys and not outside, and in reply to the parking objection stated that he would have on his lot ample facilities for the parking of cars off the road entirely. Mrs. Elizabeth C. McDonald spoke favoring Mr. Marchesi's petition.

Mr. Thomas M. Hennessey, chairman of the Finance Committee and Town Engineer Parker Holbrook were present at the hearing on the garbage house protest which followed the bowling alley hearing and was attended by several of those at the first meeting.

Residents of the neighborhood affected who were present included Mr. Thomas Quigley, Mr. Daniel and Mr. Luke P. Glendon of Lake street, Mr. John, and Mr. Eugene Lane of Main street, Mrs. Harold Elliott and Mrs. Donald Elliott of Linden street, Mrs. Louis Capone of Linden street, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Erskine of Lake street.

Mrs Erskine spoke principally for the opponents of the new garbage house, backed by Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald. Others also spoke, but more briefly.

It was evident that the opponents of the garbage house had been to considerable trouble to investigate what communities comparable to Winchester are doing in the way of garbage disposal and presented their findings in an orderly and very complete manner.

Mrs. Erskine stressed the point that there is nothing in the nature of a feud in the opposition to the erection of a new garbage house at the town yard, and also made it clear that those who do not want a garbage house there do not want one anywhere in the town, being unwilling to afflict what they believe to be a nuisance on residents elsewhere in the community.

She wanted to make it clear that opponents of the garbage house had sought a second hearing because they were not satisfied with the Selectmen's first assurance that the building would be built as originally planned and if it was ultimately decided not to have a garbage house at the town yard, the building could be used as a garage.

Opponents belived that acceptance of such a proposal would weaken their position, and they asked the Selectmen not to do anything about a garbage house until after the next annual town meeting when the entire subject could be completely discussed and decided in view of more recent information from many new sources.

Generally speaking the opponents of the garbage house want no such structure anywhere in town, but favor having the garbage taken directly out of town upon collection. They told in this connection of Brookline's plan, by which regular town trucks collect the garbage and take it directly to the contractor who secured the garbage by bid, without unloading it.

Some of those present criticised the lack of a roof on the present garbage house, and were told by Mr. Pond that until recently the town's zoning laws forbade the town making such repairs to the old building as were necessary.

Mrs. McDonald supported the opponents of the garbage house, but did say that it was largely their own fault that the vote at the last town meeting went through. They had at that time expressed no opposition and many living in the neighborhood of the proposed new structure had voted for it. She hoped the matter would come up again at a town meeting so that those who voted for the building before could vote against it this time.

This hearing, like its predecessor, was on a high plane as regards heat and personalities. Those opposing the erection of a garbage house at the town yard were pleased to learn Tuesday morning that the Selectmen will hold off on the whole matter until after the next annual town meeting.

SNEAK-THIEF CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

Girl Escaped from Sherburne Stole from Grove Street Home

A colored girl, who escaped from Sherburne Reformatory, was picked up by the Police last Friday afternoon after it is alleged she had stolen $29 from the home of Mr. Paul C. Dunn, 3 Grove street.

According to the Police the girl had worked for Mrs. Dunn at one time, and came to her seeking employment. She came in a taxi, for which Mrs. Dunn paid, and while the latter was on the telephone, it is alleged she took $29 from Mrs. Dunn's pocketbook on a desk in the room where the two had been talking, and left the house.

Mrs. Dunn notified the Police and Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy traced the girl to Church street. Clad in dungarees, she was fast on her feet, and although the Sergeant several times headed her off, he was unable to catch up with her.

Meeting acting Supt. James Halwartz of the Water Department in his car, Sergeant Cassidy enlisted his help and Supt. Halwartz, a special police officer, succeeded in stopping the girl on Everett avenue near Alesworth street.

Sergeant Cassidy took the girl in custody and took her to Headquarters where she was questioned by Chief Charles J. Harrold. She at first denied having taken any money from the Dunn home, but after being locked up, changed her mind, and according to the Police, admitted the theft, telling Chief Harrold where she had hidden the money in the Police car while Sgt. Cassidy was taking her to Headquarters.

All the money was recovered and returned to Mrs. Dunn. The girl, giving her name as Dorothy Jones, was found to have escaped from Sherburne on Aug. 18. She was turned over to a representative of the Reformatory where she had been serving a term for larceny.

ROTARY NOTES

Notwithstanding the heat (96°) the Rotary Club of Winchester had a full house at its luncheon and meeting yesterday noon. President Don Simonds was in charge and the members present all seemed in good form and spirits. Owing to the weather and the fact that this was the last meeting of the month, no important business was brought up, although it was learned that the tickets for the automobile are going fast. Several guests and visitors were present and Jim McGrath officiated at the piano.

WINCHESTER RESIDENT WINS G. E. APPLIANCE

Mrs. Laura Drown of 19 Fairmount street, was a recent participant on WCOP's new show, "The G-E Boston Tea Party," and was the lucky winner of a lovely G-E coffee maker. After a humorous game in which Mrs. Drown took an imaginary trip to Maine, she was given her G-E- award.

STREETON STRENGHTENS SNIPE FLEET LEAD

Jack Streeton added a few more percentage points to his already lusty 1611 last Saturday when he won the week-end's only official point score race of the Winchester Boat Club's Snipe Fleet. And Jack won it by using the simple but highly successful formula he's been following on the lake of late. Jack and his able crew, Bill Wheeler, simply sail the willing "Wildhare" to the front right at the start and fend off all challenges from there to the finish line.

There was a beautiful battle for second between Carl Freyer, Pete Redding and Ralph Swanson, with Freyer finally forging to the front in the final stages of the race. Redding repulsed a rally by Ralph to capture his third third in as many weeks.

Streeton has what now appears to be an unbeatable lead for the Fleet championship. But the battle for second is a "beaut." Mel Moller's score stands at 1495 with Don "The Beard" Simonds and Jim Newman hot on his heels with 1474 and 1470 respectively. Redding, Burleigh, Swanson and Blamire are also over the 1400 mark, so second place is far from settled. Of course, anything can happen in a race and Jack still hasn't copped the cup, but from where we sit, it looks like the struggle for second is the one to watch.

Club Chatter

The annual Labor Day Clam Bake is just around the corner. Better start thinking about picking up your tickets . . . The good old Mystic is still pure as the driven snow, in case you haven't tucked away your bathing suit.

WINCHESTER BOY WEIRS OUTBOARD WINNER

Dick Bowe, Jr., 10-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard I. Bowe of 11 Ridgefield road, won the handicap motorboat race for 10-horsepower craft and under in the big regatta at the Weirs, N. H., on Lake Winnipesaukee last Sunday, Aug. 22.

Dick, a pupil at the Mystic School, had his work cut out for him to win, for practically all the skippers in his event were years older than he and racing 10-horsepower outboards against his 7.5 horsepower job. The pride of the older racers got quite a jolt when the young fellow led home the field to the evident delight of the big gallery.

Dick had to race over a three mile course of three laps, and his turns won the praise of the judges and experienced motorboat racers at the meet. The Winchester boy is summering with his family at Melvin Village, and is looking forward to Sept. 4 when he will be presented the trophy he won last Sunday. Meanwhile he and his dad are looking for new worlds to conquer.

RENAULT AUTO IN BELMONT

For the first time in Belmont's history, direct representation of a foreign make of automobile was established there this week when Belmont Motors of 800 Pleasant street announced that they have taken the franchises for the sales and service of Renault automobiles.

These cars, made in France by a world-famous organization of 50 years' experience, are shipped by fast boats direct to Boston from the European manufacturing center. Belmont Motors, which is owned and operated by Walter and Edward Vannasse, will cover Belmont and surrounding towns.

Unusual because of the engine being mounted in the rear, the Renault which is now on display in Belmont is expected to draw many interested spectators to their attractive showrooms at 800 Pleasant street. Here motorists will find this attractively designed car to have many of the important features that American cars have, yet to be today's lowest priced four-door sedan.

Shipments of Renaults from abroad are on regular schedules so that orders for cars can now be filled almost immediately, Edward T. Vannasse, president of Belmont Motors, reports.

"Christ Jesus" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 29.
Golden Text: "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost" Luke 19:10.)
Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"And the word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth" (John 1:14). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "The Word was made flesh.' Divine Truth must be known by its effects on the body as well as on the mind, before the Science of being can be demonstrated" (p. 350).

STAR OFFICE

THE GAME OF THE CENTURY!

Clutch games in the American and National Leagues, even those affecting the final destinies of the Braves and Red Sox, pale into insignificance with the announcement that the Winchester Police Department will meet the Winchester Fire Department in a game of softball at Ginn Field on Friday evening, Sept. 3, at 6:15.

This is the game you definitely shouldn't miss. You may think you have seen softball, but brother, you just "ain't seen nuthin' " until you see the brand played by our stalwart fire-fighters and officers of the law. You take "Connie" Bowler's fly-catching technique, absolutely different; and Elliot Ward's base-running. Maxie Carey was never in it for a minute, and "Pep" O'Melia at the bat.! Mighty Casey was a piker beside "Pep" when the chips are down, or up, or in the air. It's the old boys who do it, according to "Pep," and he should know.

It should be said at once that the Fire Department will be playing under a severe handicap. James L. Nowell, the old Gifford School champ, will not be "off" that night, and as a consequence will not be available to master-mind the firefighters in their titanic struggle.

Manager "Jimma" Flaherty of the Police team, ol' "Five Yards" of the Town Team football days, expects to take the Fire Department like Grant took Richmond, and this view is shared by Assistant Manager "Billy" Haggerty, who can see nothing but a Police victory. His brother, "Bob," on the other fist, is inclined to string along with the Fire Department's chances, and it is entirely likely that Oweney Grant will also be in the Fire Department camp. Charlie "Mozart" Moran is another who seems to feel that the Police are maybe a little over-confident.

The Firemen are keeping their battery plans on the cozy side, but it is hard to see how anyone other than "Dave" Meskell can be behind the bat, if the Firefighters hope to win. Meskell's repartee alone ought to give the Firemen a big advantage to start with.

Manager Flaherty is going to go all out for this game and start Tommy Hannon and Bill Haggerty in the battery points, let the chips fall where they may.

For a game of such magnitude it is only natural that there should be some argument about the umpire. The Police have inclined toward "Archie" O'Connell as arbiter, while the Firemen's choice has been Hugh Skerry. The Star's nominee, "Big Mike" Connolly, was rejected only on the ground that he knows more about hurley than softball.

Neither team seemed to want "Paysan" Marrone, regular softball league umpire, and "Ted" Bartlett, league head, was unwilling to risk his professional reputation in a non-league engagement.

Finally, after considerable debate, not necessarily devoid of personalities, it was agreed to have "Mack," Winchester reporter of the Woburn Daily Times, umpire the game, and to this decision the Star can take no exception. "Mack" calls them as HE sees them, and when he calls them, they stay called! His decisions may be questioned, like Bill Klem's, but not changed, because, like Bill's, they are always right!

Besides those already mentioned the Police roster includes Jackie Elliott, John Reardon and Billy Callahan. Whether Sgt. "Dukes" Farrell will be available is problematical and the same goes for "Jomma" Dolan, who would be John (Brick Bottom) Conlon's first choice for shortstop. Henry Dempsey and Sgt. Cassidy definitely will NOT play.

The Fire Department has a huge roster with such stars as "Package" O'Melia, Joey Connolly, "Dee" Callahan, "Nutsy" Amico, Neil Kerrigan, "Flats" Flaherty, Joe Shea, Pete Galuffo, "Cubby" Carroll, "Bunk" Nowell, "Monk" Russell, Henry Simonds, and "Butsy" Mistretta.

Two championships have been decided in the Playground Baseball League and the members of those teams are all set for the trip to Braves Field next Friday. The Loring Avenue Seniors were the first to clinch their championship by beating their nearest rival, the Ginn Field Seniors, by a four game margin. In the Junior Division the Leonard Field Juniors broke the monopoly Loring Avenue had last year on all three baseball divisions by clinching this championship.

The only baseball championship to remain undecided is in the Intermediate division. Leonard Field leads Loring Avenue by one game in this division and has hopes of further cutting into the former Loring Avenue monopoly of baseball championships. These two have one scheduled game left with each other and if Loring Avenue wins, then a tie results and an extra game will have to be played to decide the winner of this division.

Two swell games were played in the younger boys' softball league during the past week. Loring Avenue travelled to Leonard Field and won 3 to 2 to move within half a game of the leading Leonard Field team. Leonard Field then reciprocated by defeating Loring Avenue at Loring by the identical score of 3 to 2 in an extra inning contest. Charlie Govostes out-pitched Mickey Breen to win this one while Neal Whorf scored the winning run for the Leonard Field boys. This victory practically clinched a trip to Braves Field for the Leonard Field boys as they have only to win their championship.

After leading the league since June 28 the V. F. W. dropped out of first place in the Town Softball League as a result of losing three games during the past week. The Vets were the victims of hard luck in all three of the contests they lost. In the first game against the Sons of Italy, the Vets were trailing 10 to 7 at the start of the 7th inning. They scored six runs to go ahead 13 to 10 but the game was called because of darkness and the score reverted to the last completed inning, making the Sons of Italy the victors.

In the second game against the Rockets, the Vets' scorer had 9 to 8 in the Vets' favor at the end of seven innings and the Rockets scorer had a tie game at 8 to 8. Paul Connors, the V. F. W. manager, graciously agreed to continue to play and Noonan hit a home run for the Rockets to give them a 9 to 8 victory. In the third game against the Maguire Motors, the same situation occurred as took place in the Sons of Italy game. The Vets forged ahead in the last inning but because the inning could not be completed, the score reverted to the previous inning and the Maguire Motors won 7 to 6.

A glance at the standing as the league enters the last week of its schedule shows that anything can happen in this last week. Any one of the first three teams might change places or a tie might result among these three teams. The Maguire Motors successfully completed an upward surge that has practically assured them of at least a tie for fourth place and a playoff position. The pressure is now on the St. Mary's who have dropped out of the first four for the first time this year and now must win all three of their remaining games to obtain a tie for a play-off position. Thus, the interest remains high right down to the final night of the schedule.

Practically every game on next weeks' schedule is important, but the two standout games should come at Ginn Field on Monday and Thursday evenings. On Monday the Sachems meet the V. F. W. in the game that will probably decide the first place winner for the season. It seems that these two teams are always fated to meet in crucial games and are great natural rivals. In their two previous meetings this year the Vets and the Sachems have split the victories and this rubber game may well be a preview of the playoffs. On Thursday evening the Vets and the St. Mary's meet in a contest that the St. Mary's must win in order to stay in the running and the fur will fly as it has in the two earlier games between these two.

The schedule for next week:

Monday, Aug. 30
Sachems vs V. F. W. (Ginn Fld.)
Maguire Motors vs Beggs & Cobb (West Side)
Atomics vs Sons of Italy (Shore Road)

Tuesday, Aug 31
Red Shirts vs Comets (Ginn Fld)
St. Mary's vs K. of C. (West Side)

Wednesday, Sept. 1
Comets vs Atomics (Ginn Field)
Sons of Italy vs Rockets (West Side)
Beggs & Cobb vs Sachems (Shore Road)

Thursday, Sept. 2
V. F. W. vs St. Mary's (Ginn Field)
Rockets vs Comets (West Side)
K. of C. vs Red Shirts (Shore Road).

The Winchester Junior Legion baseball team will complete their schedule for the season by playing two games over the week-end. On Saturday afternoon they travel to Malden to play a return game with the Malden DeMolay. The locals defeated the Malden outfit in the previous contest by a 3 to 0 score and will be out to make a clean sweep of the two-game series.

On Sunday afternoon the Junior Legion will be host to the Waltham Junior Legion team in a game at Leonard Field. Waltham is the team that defeated the locals at the Bedford Veterans Hospital last Sunday by a score of 7 to 4. Waltham won this game on a grand slam home run in the sixth inning after Winchester had led most of the way. Waltham boasts a strong team, finishing second to Newton in their zone, but the locals are out for revenge and feel that they have the power to set back the visitors. This will be the final Junior Legion game for Don Kenton, Fred Patterson and Dave Coon who will be too old to compete in Junior Legion baseball another year.

"DAYS OF YORE"

Clippings from the STAR Files

50 YEARS AGO

August 26, 1898

Winchester's business center shows decided increase in the addition of new stores.

Mrs. Harry Lawrence and Miss Carrie Dotten have returned from a month's sojourn in Richibucto and Dorchester, N. B.

Woburn Highlands is to have a new railroad station that is to be an ornament in that locality. It is said that Winchester Highlands is to be likewise favored in the near future.

Mr. James McLaughlin and Mr. George Dupee took a flying trip of three days to Portland this week. They visited that city also many of the numerous islands in the harbor.

Ellis Locke and two boys from Arlington went to the mountains in New Hampshire on wheels last week Monday and returned last Saturday night. They went as far as Dover Monday, stopping there over night.

Mr. D. N. Skillings finished his driveway witht block paving this week. This gentleman believes in good roads and he sets the example by giving to the approaches to his handsome residence the latest ideas in this direction.

Evil-doers dread Chief of Police McIntosh.

Miss Polly Corey observed her 8th birthday Thursday. A number of her young friends were present during the afternoon and refreshments and a general good time made the occasion all too short for the little folks.

The Fletcher family will hold its annual reunion at Tremont Temple, Boston, Thursday, Sept. 1, at 9 o'clock. Mr. F. H. Nourse, whose mother was a Fletcher, will probably attend. All members of the Fletcher family in Winchester are invited to attend.

Miss Emma Greeley is sojourning in Nova Scotia.

The engagement is announced of Miss Harriet M. Caldwell and Mr. H. Earl Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Holt will occupy the house on Stevens street, recently the home of Mrs. May.

It is seldom, even in the early spring, that such a large volume of water is seen passing over the overflow at Whitney's mill on Main street, as last week and this. The heavy rains that caused this, have been almost unprecedented at this time of year.

It was supposed to be generally understood that when the ti... came, a new library buil... to be built on the ... that was what ... for. The... and ... that ...ool building ...together.

25 YEARS AGO

August 24, 1923

Mrs. J. D. Smiley of Symmes rd. sails on the 28th on the S.S. Pittsburg for Cherbourg, France, with her daughter, Miss Helen M. Smiley. They plan to spend a year in Paris, during which time Miss Smiley will be at Sorbonne. Upon completion of her studies at the Paris Academy, she and her mother expect to return to Winchester and again take up their residence.

Mr. Dana Pond of New York, the well known painter, has been in Winchester for the past fortnight visiting his mother, Mrs. Handel Pond of Cambridge street.

H. C. Buckminster was the winner of the Third Division in the annual golf tournament at Bretton Woods where he has been spending the summer at Mt. Washington.

Sidney Beggs' class R boat "Beuveida III," finished fourth Saturday in the Marblehead races.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Meyer and son, Mr. Harold F. Meyer, are registered at the Mt. Washington Hotel, Bretton Woods, N. H.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Kelley of Oxford street returned the first of the week from an interesting and delightful motor trip to St. John and the Maritime Provinces. They spent six weeks motoring through the Provinces, covering 2800 miles, enjoying exceptional weather and a fine trip.

Warren F. Barnes returned this week from a summer spent sailing among the islands of Casco Bay, Me. He expects to return to Mt. Hermon School for the fall term.

Winchester has not varied from other parts of the country this week in experiencing particularly cold weather for this time of year. During the past week the temperature is reported to have been as low as 48 on two mornings.

Dorothy Nowell celebrated her eighth birthday Wednesday at her home. Among her guests were the Misses Florence and Emma Fisher, Mary and Catherine Murphy, Ruth Virgina, Margaret and Marion Nowell, Theresa McAdams, Constance Titilah, Myrtle Smith; Masters John Nowell, Arthur Johnson, Lawrence Smith, James Murphy and Kenneth Titilah.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Winn are spending the week at Nantucket.

RAWFORD HOLLIDGE OPENS NEW SPECIALTY SHOP IN WELLESLEY

Last night marked the official opening of the newest store in Wellesley; C. Crawford Hollidge at the corner of Cross and Central streets.

It was a long-to-be-remembered occasion in the history of the fashion store. Starting at 8 o'clock p. m., many residents of surrounding cities and towns participated in "Open House" inspection of the imposing new building. Prior to that hour Miss Ethel McGowan, treasurer of the firm and a member of the original staff which opened the first C. Crawford Hollidge-Boston in 1909, cut the ribbon at the front entrance of the new store in the traditional manner. With Mr. Crawford H. Hollidge, president, Mr. John M. Hollidge and Mr. Herbert J. Clapp, vice-presidents, who welcomed those who called to inspect this most interesting and inviting building, and the distinguished new fashions it contains.

Many outstanding manufacturers and designers in the fashion field were in attendance for this important event.

FELT WITH FOUNDRY RUBBER INC.

Frank Felt, former widely known Winchester boy and son of Mrs. Ann I. Felt of Main street, is associated as technical representative with Foundry Rubber, Inc., of 1050 30th street, N. W., Washington, D. C., manufacturers of foundry rubber products who have just put on the market a new "brush-on" rubber floor paint which was tried out earlier in the month by several Washington housewives. Known as Paracrete, the new product is expected to reach stores in Boston the end of this month.

Paracrete is a rubber-based product that smooths as easily on a concrete floor as on any wood or metal surface. The paint contains no oil or lead and may be put on with a wax applicator. It dries in about 20 minutes, leaving a glossy protective coating that needs no polishing, and tests show it wears seven times longer than ordinary paint.

Paracrete comes in 10 colors, cost about 2c a square foot and is said by its makers to be skid-proof, and weather-proof, as well as protecting against decay, mold, mildew, rust and fungus growth. Two coats, less than a quarter-inch feels like a soft asphalt road underfoot. It's not yet recommended for kitchen floors because it is soluable in olive oil.

Another rubberized paint, impregnated with DDT will be available soon for painting screens. It is claimed to kill insects and a season's protection is guaranteed. A ski-paint for winter and a barnacle proof boat paint for next spring are other Para-products in the offing.

WINCHESTER GRADUATES AT B. U.

Four residents of Winchester were among the 850 students graduated from Boston University last Saturday at the University's 34th annual summer session commencement in Symphony Hall. Four times the usual number of summer graduates received degrees as President Daniel L. Marsh lashed out against the forces that are drawing us toward war as a means of settling international problems. World War 1 gave Russia communism, said Dr. Marsh, and another world war will probably give communism to the world.

Winchester graduates included Janet Farquhar Copland of 6 Norwood street, Bachelor of Science in Education from the School of Education; Mary Vickery Sutton of 6 Prospect street, Bachelor of Arts from the College of Liberal Arts; Walter Whitman Taber of 9 Pierrepont road, Bachelor of Science from the College of Business Administration; and Robert A. Wilson of 19 Stevens street, Bachelor of Science in Public Relations from the School of Public Relations.

Have you any idea how many tests are given each year in the Clinical Pathological Laboratory of your Hospital, the Winchester Hospital? It is well over 22,000! This fact appears in the forthcoming Annual Hospital Report, and we had an opportunity this week to ask for a partial analysis of the total in conversation with the Chief Technician, Mrs. Marion Kolseth Sherman. While we were asking our questions, Dr. Donald A. Nickerson, Head of the Service, joined us, and added bits of information understandable even to laymen like ourselves.

The great proportion of the 22,000 annual examinations are routine, made for the protection of all the nearly four thousand patients admitted each year, and for the control of the treatment of their cases. Routine tests for each patient are urinalysis, blood typing, and the Hinton test for syphilis. In the case of Maternity patients, blood grouping in relation to the Rh problem is included, supplementing the blood studies made as a part of the pre-natal care. For patients in the Pediatrics service, there might be a throat culture for diphtheria. In any case being prepared for operation, the routine laboratory tests include those for kidney function, non-protein nitrogen, and determination of the blood sugar.

All patients who are to undergo such operations as tonsillectomy have their blood tested for clotting and bleeding time.

In cases involving proved or suspected anemia or a similar problem, a complete blood study gives red blood count, white blood count, the hemoglobin content, i. e., the amount of color the red cells carry, and examination of a stained smear of the blood.

What we were told about the 424 tissue examinations done during 1947-1948 was of special interest. We learned that when an operation is scheduled in which malignancy may be a factor, the Pathologist is at hand to receive a specimen from the Operating Room as soon as the surgeon reaches the seat of the difficulty. Using a rapid technique, the tissue is frozen and examined immediately. The report reaches the surgeon at the operating table within five minutes and the operational procedure is based upon these findings.

Examination is made of all tissue removed surgically.

The emergency laboratory service which is constantly saving lives in cases of accident brought to the Hospital is already well known. The patients are often victims of accident involving severe fractures or internal injury and demanding immediate blood transfusion which must be preceded by blood typing. This avoids the unfavorable reaction which sometimes used to occur before there was understanding of blood groups and the danger of mismated blood. (The use of blood plasma does not involve these hazards, so that plasma is often given as the first emergency measure in critical accident cases.) Our attention was also called to the fact that a diabetic patient in coma is as much an emergency as a surgical case, and when such a patient is brought in, the laboratory supplies the control necessary for the guidance of his treatment.

We asked about special laboratory problems presented by the service men and women returned from World War II, and were told that some patients with malaria have been followed since demobilization, but most of these have been cleared up. The other tropical diseases which might have plagued peacetime society have been largely prevented by the sulfa drugs used during the war. These drugs were effective as intestinal antiseptics, and promptly cleared up dysenteries and similar infections.

Our visit to the laboratory gave us a more understanding sense of security than we had had before. This short story touches only a few of the fifty-six different kinds of examination listed in the 22,339 made during 1947-1948 at the Winchester Hospital, but we have tried to tell enough to prove our good fortune in having the excellent laboratory service of the Winchester Hospital.

The James J. Fitzgerald Contracting Co. of this town is grading and landscaping the grounds of St. Margaret's Catholic Church in Burlington.

The Fire Department had two runs on Sunday. In the afternoon there was a brush fire in the west side well fiield, and in the evening an automobile brake-band got afire on north Washington street.

JUNIOR LEGION LOST BEDFORD TILT

The Waltham Junior Legion defeated the Winchester Junior Legion at the Bedford Veterans Hospital last Sunday by a score of 7 to 4. Failure to hit with men on bases cost the locals a chance to win as they left nine men on base in the seven inning contest. Ken Donaghey was the only member of the locals to fathom the offerings of the Waltham twirler as he connected for three solid singles in three trips to the plate.

Winchester scored once in the first inning when they should have had a big inning and perhaps have driven Noyes to the showers. Winchester filled the bases with nobody out on three consecutive bases on balls. Donaghey singled to left field to drive in two runners but the second one failed to touch third base and was called out. The next two batters grounded out to end the threat.

Winchester took a 4 to 3 lead by scoring three runs in the fifth inning. Power and Kenton were passed to open the inning. Donaghey singled to left to drive in Kenton and when the left fielder allowed the ball to trickle through his legs, the runners moved up to second and third. With Daniels at bat, Noyes uncorked a wild pitch on which Kenton scored and a passed ball by the catcher permitted Donaghey to score.

Waltham won the game in the last of the sixth when an error and two consecutive singles filled the bases. Gumpert then connected with a pitch that Daniels made too good and banged out a grand slam homer to sew up the game for the Watch City lads.

This marks the fifth defeat of the season for the locals as against 16 victories. It was also the first defeat for "Major" Daniels after nine consecutive pitching victories. Perhaps it was a natural letdown after their splendid victory over the Beverly Junior Legion, for the locals certainly did not have their batting eyes with them in this contest. The summary:

TOWN OF WINCHESTER
BOARD OF SURVEY
NOTICE OF HEARING

WHEREAS, the Board of Survey of the Town of Winchester on the 28th day of February 1927, approved and filed in the office of the Town Clerk, a certain plan submitted with the petition of William W. Thomas by Edward R. Wait, Resident Architect, of a certain private way called JEFFERSON ROAD extending from Lawson Road Extension to the Winchester—Medford Line, proposed to be open for public use, said plan being entitled "Plan and Profile Jefferson Road, made by Parker Holbrook, Engineer" and dated February 12, 1927

And WHEREAS, the Board of Survey now comtemplates the making of a change on said plan by altering the established grade line as indicated upon a copy of said plan now on file in the office of the town engineer, and which will be exhibited at the hearing;

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Survey will give a public hearing thereon in the Selectmen's Room in the Town Hall building on Monday the 30th day of August 1948 at 8:00 p.m.

By order of the Board of Survey this second day of August 1948.

ACTRESS RETURNS TO SCREEN IN COMPELLING ROLE

You may hate Leah or love her, but one thing is certain—you will never forget the heroine of Columbia's "The Sign of the Ram," at the Winchester Theatre today through Saturday.

One of the most provocative and richest film roles within recent memory has fallen to Susan Peters on her return to the screen after an absence of over two years, and the young actress comes through with a portrayal which is a superb dramatic achievement.

Based on Margaret Ferguson's best-selling novel, "The Sign of the Ram," an Irving Cummings production, is the compelling story of a beautiful and extraordinary woman who seeks to make a weapon of love. How she stops at nothing to accomplish her desires forms the basis of an intensely woven drama of tremendous impact.

Co-starring with Miss Peters and vying for acting honors are Alexander Knox, as the devoted husband of authoress Leah St. Aubyn (Miss Peters); lovely Phyllis Thaxter, as her secretary; and Peggy Ann Garner, in a startling change of pace as Leah's youngest step-child who will go to any lengths to insure her happiness. Also Ron Randell, as the family doctor; Dame May Whitty, a gossipy neighbor; and Allene Roberts who almost sees her future destroyed by a love she cannot understand.

The screenplay for "Sign of the Ram" was written by Charles Bennett and directed by John Sturges. Sturges is a comparatively new director with talent and imagination, and deserving a special nod for his handling of this high-tensioned production. Irving Cummings Jr. was the producer of the Irving Cummings production.

THE BARBER SHOP QUARTET

On Aug. 30, at Hanson, the Boston "Barbershoppers" will pry open the 1948-1949 harmony season. They promise lobster and singing galore, with emphasis on both. Legally, these "Shoppers" are members of "The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Incorporated." They're very proud of their incorporation, and ince if you omit that word.

Boston is one of the 470 chapters throughout the United States, and has a membership of 140, with room for still more. The members come from all walks of life, who sing purely for the love of singing. During the past year they did much to make happy the many veterans in our hospitals. Their coming schedule calls for a hospital visit every other week, as well as assisting other worthy charities in need of entertainment by which to raise funds.

This meeting at Hanson is to make final plans for the monster Barbershop Quartet Contest to be held on Sept. 25th at Symphony Hall, Boston. For this contest the competing quartets are coming from chapters located in New England and New York State.

DR. FORBES H. NORRIS

Superintendent of Schools and General Chairman in Winchester for The Salvation Army 1948-49 Greater Boston Appeal for $500,000. Dr. Norris announced the Winchester quota as $6500.

SALVATION ARMY ANNUAL APPEAL SEPT. 15

The Winchester Salvation Army Service Fund which will benefit from the success of the forthcoming Salvation Army Annual Appeal here is one unit that need not concern itself about a rise in overhead expenses. The Fund is administered without such expenses. It has been described as a unit which "operates just outside the perimeter of legislative welfare assistance."

Part of the amount raised here in the Salvation Army 1948-49 Greater Boston Appeal for $500,000 will go into the local fund. A committee of Winchester citizens directs the use to which the fund is put. The principles for this administration eliminate discriminations because of race, color or creed and allow any legitimate emergency of an individual or family to be solved.

The Fund provides groceries, clothing, medical and dental care, eye glasses, hearing aids and many other common items of necessity for persons who would otherwise be forced to go without them. The Fund is in reality, "A Friend in Deed . . . at Time of Need."

Dr. Forbes H. Norris, general chairman in Winchester announces that Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes is residential chairman. Mrs. Barnes resides at 7 Ravenscroft road.

Lawrence Dallin is the business district chairman. These are new appointments.

Dr. Norris also announced that the quota here is $6500. The appeal begins Sept. 15 and runs through October.

MADE PROFESSION IN HOLY ORDER

In the presence of relatives and friends, Sister Mary of St. Constance made her holy profession as a religious in The Order of Our Lady of Charity of The Good Shepherd of Angers on Saturday, Aug. 28th.

The Rev. Father Gabriel, S. A., of Graymoor, Garrison, N. Y., officiated at the ceremony which was held at the Provincial Convent, Mt. Saint Florence, Peekskill, N. Y.

Sister St. Constance is the former Ann Dolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dolan, 22 Hancock street. A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1927, she was one of the best field hockey goalers developed at the school.

Sister St. Constance took her first vows about two years ago, and it will be two and one-half years more before she takes her final vows. The Sisters teach and work with children, sent them by various agencies in many of the large cities.

Besides her parents Sister St. Constance has a sister, Mrs. Frank Riley of Kennebunk, Me.; and four brothers, Officer John J. Dolan of the Winchester Police Department; Thomas, of Rockport; and Charles and Francis Dolan, both of Winchester.

ATTENDING DETROIT WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Cullen of Richardson street are in Detroit to attend the marriage of Mr. Cullen's nephew, Donald Leo Cullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stack, also of Detroit. The ceremony will take place on Saturday morning, Sept. 4, with a nuptial mass at St. Monica's Church, and the reception will follow at American Legion Hall in Detroit.

PFC. JOSEPH DeLUCA GIVEN MILITARY FUNERAL

The body of Pfc. Joseph A. DeLuca of 216 Cross street, who was killed in action in France on July 12, 1944, arrived in Winchester on the 4:36 outbound train from Boston Monday afternoon. Undertaker John Lane of Lane's Funeral Service met the body at Winchester Station with Commander Walter J. Burns of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion; and Thomas E. Duddy, senior vice commander of Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The flag-draped casket, with its Army escort, was removed to the Lane Funeral Home where the young soldier lay in state until the funeral Wednesday morning.

During visiting hours Tuesday evening, friends of Pfc. DeLuca stood guard at the funeral home and the colors of the service organizations were psted there.

Wednesday morning the body was escorted from the funeral home to St. Mary's Church by a detachment of Veterans of Foreign Wars and Legionnaires under command of John T. Horn, past commander of Aberjona Post, V. F. W.

Veterans' Colors were carried by Senior Vice Commander Thomas E. Duddy and Norman Doucette with Thomas Mearls as colorguard. Legion Colors were carried by Commander Walter J. Burns and Veterans' Service Officer Charles D. Roche with Thomas J. McKee as colorguard. Completing the detachment were Martin J. Foley, Robert S. McKee and Edward F. Boyle. A firing squad of National Guardsmen from Co. G of Woburn was also in line.

Rev. Fr. Robert J. Supple was celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass for the young war hero with Rev. Paul D. Moriarty of the Immaculate Conception Church as deacon and Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott, subdeacon. Five friends of the young soldier, Albert, and Thomas Derro, Dominic Lionetta, Anthony Massanti and Alfred DeMinico were bearers with Robert Saunders of Aberjona Post, V. F. W. Taps was blown at the church by Frederick J. Fitzgerald.

Father Supple read the committal prayers in Calvary Cemetery and military honors were accorded by the firing squad who fired three volleys. The flag from Pfc. DeLuca's casket was presented to his mother by the commander of the firing squad. Bugler Fitzgerald again sounded taps.

Pfc. DeLuca was 21 years old when he lost his life in action at the Normandy beach-head near St. Lo in France. Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., he entered the Army in Hartford, Conn., his family coming from that city while he was in the service.

He leaves his parents, Mr. Joseph DeLuca and Mrs. Elizabeth Gallo; a sister, Jean D. DeLuca; and three brothers, William P., Raymond, and Anthony J. DeLuca, all of Winchester.

MRS. ALICE V. KEEHN

Mrs. Alice V. Keehn, widow of Frank J. Keehn and for 60 years a resident of Winchester, died Sunday evening, Aug. 29, at her home, 23 Hancock street, following a long illness.

Mrs. Keehn was the daughter of John, and Mary Ellen (Rooney) Hodge. She was born June 4, 1867, in North Woburn, and spent her early life in that city, being educated in the Woburn schools and married in Woburn in 1888.

After her marriage Mrs. Keehn came to Winchester and during her long residence here won the esteem of a wide circle of friends. Though primarily concerned with her home and family she was a member and former officer of St. Mary's Sodality, a member of Boston Chapter, League of Catholic Women; and of the old Mothers' Association.

Surviving are two sons, Russell F. Keehn of La Plata, Argentina, supervisor of supplies for Swift International in South America; Arthur R. Keehn of Winchester, a member of the Boston stationers' firm of Hobbs & Warren, Inc.; and a daughter, Pauline H. Keehn of this town.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

H. ARTHUR HALL

H. Arthur Hall of 17 Madison avenue west, treasurer of the Somerville trucking firm of C. E. Hall and Sons, died Tuesday, Aug. 31, at the Winchester Hospital, after a long illness.

Mr. Hall was the son of Charles E., and Jennie M. (Gray) Hall. He was born in Revere Oct. 29, 1885, was graduated from Boston English High School in the class of 1906, and the following year went to work for the Hall trucking firm founded by his father in 1879. Besides being treasurer of that firm, he was president of the Crane Service and Equipment Company of New England and president of the C. & H. Company, a director of the Somerville Cooperative Bank and a director and member of the executive and finance committee of the Medford Chamber of Commerce. He was also past president of the Massachusetts Trucking Association and of the Somerville Kiwanis Club.

Mr. Hall was a charter member of Seaview Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Revere, a member of Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, Hugh de Payens Commandery, Knights Templar of Melrose and Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He had lived in Winchester since 1925, coming here from Arlington.

In 1912 Mr. Hall married Maud Jeannette Harmon, who survives him, with two sons, A. Harmon Hall and Richard H. Hall, both of Winchester.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, officiating. The Masonic funeral ritual will be exemplified by the Master and officers of Seaview Lodge of Revere.

Chester L. Fox of Winchester will head the pallbearers who will include Dr. Roger M. Burgoyne and R. Darrell Harvey of Winchester and Arthur H. Curtis of Winthrop. Ushers will be Frank C. Herrick, Lewis K. Moore, William C. Seaton and J. Henry Miley, all of Winchester. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. CATHERINE A. MacDONALD

Mrs. Catherine A. (Roberts) MacDonald of 968 Main street, widow of Allan J. MacDonald, died Friday night, Aug. 27, at the Winchester Hospital.

Mrs. MacDonald was born in Boston 77 years ago. She lived in Winchester for more than half a century and was a former member of St. Mary's Church as well as of its various societies.

Mrs. MacDonald leaves three sons, John M., Archibald J., widely known building contractor, and Augustine W. MacDonald, all of Winchester; four daughters, Christine M., of New York, Helen J., and Marjorie F. MacDonald, both of Winchester, and Mrs. Esther J. Buckley of Long Island, N. Y.; a brother, Patrick Roberts of Nantucket and six grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. LOUISA LOWE

Mrs. Louisa Lowe, wife of Alfred Lowe of 166 Highland avenue, died Sunday afternoon, August 29, at her home after several years illness.

Mrs. Lowe was the daughter of Charles, and Sophia (Dawson) Pittard. She was born March 16, 1880, in Huddersfield, England, was educated in the English schools and came to this country as a girl of 15. She lived in Lawrence until her marriage and for the past 20 years had been a resident of Wnchester.

Besides her husband she leaves three daughters, Mrs. Miriam Harwood of Sanoma, Calif., Mrs. Ruth Tousey of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Gladys Buchanan of Schenectady, N. Y. There are also four grandchildren.

Services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel by Mr. Morris K. Hand, first reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Winchester. Cremation followed the service at Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

MISS FLORENCE M. BUNTING

Miss Florence M. Bunting of 75 Church street, a resident of Winchester for half a century, died suddenly Monday, Aug. 30, at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn.

Miss Bunting was the daughter of James F., and Carrie (Nichols) Bunting. She was born in Chelsea Jan. 26, 1883, and came with her family to Winchester in 1898, living then at 5 Stratford road. Her father died in 1913 and her mother, two years later. An older sister, Blanche Gertrude, died in 1904 at the age of 22.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 10:30 at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, officiating. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

WINCHESTER SCHOOLS OPEN WEDNESDAY SEPT. 8

DeMERITT—GUNBY

White flowers and woodwardia ferns decorated Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Wednesday afternoon Aug. 25, when Miss Rollie Gunby, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Frank M. Gunby of Manchester road, became the bride of John DeMeritt, son of Mrs. Stephen DeMeritt of Laning avenue, Pennington, N. J., and the late Mr. DeMeritt. Rev. John Prescott Robertson officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony and the bridal music was played by Dana Brown.

Miss Gunby was given in marriage by her father and had for her only attendant, Miss Judith Averill of Kittery, Me.

The bride wore a white satin gown with draped shoulders and long sleeves, the full skirt sweeping into a traditional train. Her matching fingertip-length veil was held in place with a halo of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white glamellias and stephanotis.

Miss Averill wore a peacock-blue silk dress with white lace gloves and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and brown chrysanthemums.

Robert S. Walker of New Britain, Conn., was best man for Mr. DeMeritt, and the ushers were George H. Kimball, Jr., of Portsmouth, N. H., and Frank M. Gunby, Jr., of Winchester, brother of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, in a setting of white gladiolas, roses and other flowers. The mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving, Mrs. Gunby wearing blue satin with brown baby orchids and Mrs. DeMeritt wearing brown with a yellow orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. DeMeritt are spending their honeymoon in northern New England, and upon their return will live in Durham, N. H.

The bride graduated from the University of New Hampshire in June and Mr. DeMeritt is completing his engineering course at New Hampshire this year. During the war he served for three years with the United States Army in the South Pacific area.

MAUGER—ROBBINS

In Christ Church at Grosse Pointe, Mich., on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 31, Miss Dorothy Ann Robbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edison L. Robbins of Grosse Pointe, became the bride of Frederick Vail Mauger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Mauger of Westland avenue. Large white chrysanthemums, gladiolas and larkspur decorated the altar for the double-ring service which was read at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Edgar Yoeman.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Robbins wore a gown of soft white organdy, styled with a semi-train, high neck, long pointed sleeves and a bertha of white embroidery, with the embroidery repeated around the bottom of the slip. Her matching fingertip-length veil was caught to a Juliet cap of white organdy and seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet combining jasmine and spathephyllum.

Miss Barbara Jean Robbins of Grosse Pointe was her sister's honor maid and only attendant. She wore a simple strapless dress of soft pale green taffeta with back fullness in the skirt and a matching bolero and mitts. Her headdress was of pale green maline and her flowers were rust and yellow baby chrysanthemums.

Ray E. Mauger, Jr., of Winchester was best man for his brother and the ushers were Walter C. Howland of Grand Rapids, Mich., formerly of Winchester; and Richard Don Robbins of Grosse Pointe, brother of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Miller Memorial Hall in Grosse Pointe, with the mother of the bride and the parents of the bridegroom and the honor maid assisting in receiving.

After a wedding journey to Saugatuck, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Mauger will make their home in a trailer at Indiana University where both the bride and bridegroom are members of the student body.

The bride is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority and Mr. Mauger of the Flame Club, an independent honorary society.

MISS MAGUIRE ENGAGED TO MR. BEEBE

Brig.-Gen. and Mrs. Hamilton Maguire of Washington, D. C., and Bluemont, Va., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Ewing Maguire, to Mr. Marcus Beebe, Jr., of Boston and Blue Hill, Me., son of Mr. Marcus Beebe of Charles River and Mrs. Harold Beebe of Winchester.

Miss Maguire, an alumna of the Madeira School in Greenway, Va., was graduated from Vassar College in 1946 and last year studied in Switzerland at the University of Zurich. She is a member of the Junior League of Washington.

Mr. Beebe, an alumnus of St. Paul's School, was graduated with the class of 1944 from Harvard University, where he was a member of D.K.E., the Hasty Pudding-Institute of 1770, the Varsity Club and the A.D. Club. He also is a member of the Harvard Club of Boston. The Country Club, and the Longwood Cricket Club. During the war he served three years overseas with the U. S. Marine Corps.

An autumn wedding is planned.

1948 TAX BILLS OUT

Tax Collector Donald Heath had all the tax bills for 1948 out Tuesday, Aug. 31. The bills represent a total of $1,206,156.60, and already 14 percent of them have been paid.

CONNERS—CARRUTHERS

At a candlelight service in the Church of the Epiphany on Wednesday evening, September 1, Miss Dorothy Winslow Carruthers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carruthers of Pine street and Winnisquam, N. H., was married to David Donald Conners, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Conners of Salisbury street. The rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, read the double-ring service at 8 o'clock and a reception followed at the Winchester Country Club.

Miss Carruthers was given in marriage by her father and heading the bridal attendants was Mrs. Emile A. Dumas, Jr., (Evelyn Carruthers) of Maynard, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor. Miss Natalie Frye of Winchester niece of the bride was junior bridesmaid, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Margery Carruthers Frye of Winchester, sister of the bride; Miss Dorothy F. Lowe of Shrewsbury, Miss Joanne Foster of Searsdale, N. Y., cousin of the bridegroom; and Miss Myrna Zamanakos, Miss Eleanor Partridge and Miss Ann Rollo, all of Winchester.

The bride wore a gown of traditional white satin fashioned with a square neckline and a full skirt extending into a train. Her full-length veil was trimmed with lace and caught to a coronet-style headpiece, and she carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Dumas wore a dress of maize taffeta, designed like the bride's gown, and carried orchid and yellow camellias with trailing ivy sprays. The bridesmaids also wore taffeta dresses of apple-green and their bouquets combined yellow and orchid camellias with ivy. The junior bridesmaid wore a maize taffeta frock and carried a miniature replica of the bridesmaids' bouquets.

Donald C. Simonds of Winchester was best man for Mr. Conners, and Bruce G. Dunn of Maynard, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Ushers were Emile A. Dumas, Jr., of Maynard, brother-in-law of the bride; and Frank B. Kelley, Jr., Kendall S. Way, Robert Johnston, Dean Squires and Charles Murphy, all of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Conners went to Sea Island, Ga., for their honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1946, and attended Westbrook Junior College. Mr. Conners attended Winchester High School and New Preparatory School. After three years service in the Navy, he is now attending the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston.

QUEEN—NIXON

Miss Theresa Marion Nixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Nixon of Chapin court, and James Queen, son of Mrs. Bertha Queen of Conn street, Woburn, were married on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 15, at St. Mary's Rectory by Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan. The 4 o'clock ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a striped gray-blue suit with a navy open-crown straw hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and stephanotis.

Miss Susan Nixon of Winchester was her sister's only attendant, wearing a teal-blue ballerina dress with gold and white accessories and a corsage of gladiolas. Lawrence E. Pierce of Woburn was Mr. Queen's best man.

Mr. Queen is employed by the International Cooperage in Winchester. He and his bride are making their home in Woburn.

FIELD— MURRAY

Miss Anne Bayard Murray, daughter of Mrs. James O. Murray of Crescent road, and Mark George Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Field of New York City, were married Saturday, Aug. 28, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon in Boston. A reception was held afterward at the home of the bride's mother where white roses and gladiolas made an attractive setting. The bride, who was unattended wore teal blue with fawn-colored accessories and talisman roses.

Mrs. Field is a graduate of the Oak Grove School and of Radcliffe College. The bridegroom is a graduate of the College Classique Cantonal in Lausanne, Switzerland, attended Hamilton College and holds the degree of B.A. from Harvard. Since his graduation he has been working at the Russian Research Center at Harvard and will do graduate work at that university. During the war he served with the United States Army, G-2, in the European Theatre of Operations.

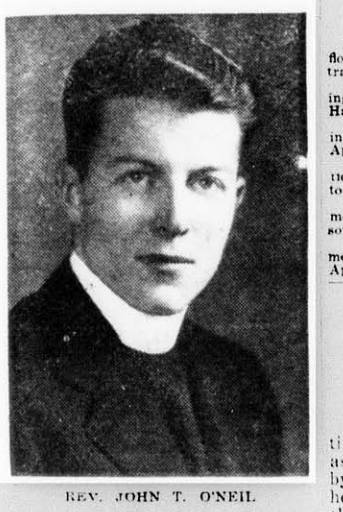

RICHARDSON — CARDINAL

The wedding of Miss Florence M. Richardson of 353 Cambridge street to Mr. Ralph C. Cardinal of 11 Russell road, was held at the home of the bride, Wednesday morning, September 1.

Rev. John Prescott Robertson, pastor of the Braintree Congregational Church, formerly of Winchester, performed the double ring ceremony. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Ethel M. Richardson, and the groom, by Mr. John P. Clement.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home attended by members of the family. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Seth B. Cole of Cape Elizabeth, South Portland, Maine.

Early in the afternoon the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to New York.

REV. JOHN T. O'NEIL

NEW CURATE AT ST. MARY'S

Rev. John T. O'Neil of West Roxbury, who was ordained by Archbishop Cushing on May 6, has been appointed a curate at St. Mary's Church. His first appointment was St. Phillip Neri Church, Waban.

Father O'Neil was graduated from Boston Latin School, St. Clement's Hall, the Junior Seminary in Brighton, and from St. John's Seminary, Brighton. He was ordained in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston.

Son of Mrs. John L. O'Neil and the late Mr. O'Neil of West Roxbury, he celebrated his first mass in the Holy Name Church in West Roxbury. He has a sister, Mary, a teacher in the Wayland High School. His father was connected with the Immigration Station in East Boston and with the Boston School Department.

Father O'Neil assumes his new duties on Tuesday, Sept. 7.

LT. SKERRY RETIRED

Call Lt. Hugh Skerry of the Fire Department retired as of July 31 because of reaching the age retirement limit of 65 years.

Lt. Skerry joined the department in 1909 and served in it continuously from that time, a period of over 39 years. He was promoted to Lieutenant in 1915 Many knew the lieutenant through his duty at dances, shows and other social functions at the town hall, where his invariable good nature and tact in handling the fire-hazard angle of his duties made him many friends.

Chief James E. Callahan, in commenting upon his retirement, stated that Lt. Skerry had been one of the most able and valuable members of the department, and that it had been a pleasure to work with him. He makes his home at 812 Main street and has a son, Walter J. Skerry, in the Fire Department here.

DRAFT REGISTRATION FIGURES

One hundred and fifty-three young men of draft age had registered at the Selective Service Headquarters in the Town Hall up to early afternoon yesterday, 28 registering Monday, 63 on Tuesday, 34 Wednesday and 31 up to early afternoon Thursday. This does not mean that only 153 Winchester boys have registered for the draft during those days, since many young men living here have registered elsewhere and several out-of-town boys have found it convenient to sign up at the town hall here.

James T. Haslan of Winchester terrace is in charge of the registration office which is occupying the old medical examination room of the selective service headquarters in the basement of the town hall.

MARCHESI GETS BOWLING ALLEY LICENSE

The Board of Selectmen Monday evening granted a license to Ralph Marchesi to conduct a public bowling alleys at 251-253 Swanton street. A hearing on the matter was held the previous Monday evening and the granting of the license concluded several years of effort by Mr. Marchesi to get permission to conduct bowling alleys in Winchester.

Besides this license the Board granted a common victualers license to Thomas Brown of Cambridge road, Woburn, who is opening a grill at 620 Main street in the Cullen Block.

The Board drew Richard Coss of 30 Salem street and Timothy J. Connors, Jr., of 103 Loring avenue to serve as traverse jurors in the First Criminal Court at East Cambridge, commencing Sept. 20.

ROTARY NEWS

To the tune of America the beautiful thirty nine members of Rotary assembled this week presided over by president Don Simonds. The heat hung so oppresively heavy that all save John McIntyre shed their coats; whether Mac was strictly adhering to the rules of the old school for gentlemen or had chicken gumbo all over his shirt front no-one was able to find out.

Among those present were George Aberjona Franklin, always welcome and Forbes Norris returned from Syracuse to take up the more mundane tasks of setting the schools in order for an early opening. Also Jimmy Cullen, he of the few faithful make-ups during the summer, graced one of the tables resplendant in a hollywood red shirt.

Charlie Koch, in a moment of heat exhaustion, called for the song "Wait Till the Sun Shines Nelly" which was loudly followed by a quaint old ballad called "Let Me Call You Sweetheart".

This being the last weekly meeting in August and also the end of the program chairman's vacation from his duties, there was again no speaker but an open and, at times, very frank meeting.

Allan Wilde gave a short, concise and diplomatic report on the outing and then, requesting not to be quoted by the press, revealed some of the more lurid events that happened. Rumors of Italian Opera, lost dinners and unpaid-for refreshments highlighted his report which ended as usual in the red. Conscious-stricken members may send anonymous donations to Allan by mail or slip two bucks under his back door in the dead of dark night.

The hospital committee reporting through the medium of Al Elliott, stated that although one thousand books were out only 2% had made financial returns. All members are urged to keep the pressure up even though hot weather may prevail. Prospects are apt to weaken and buy more during these torrid spells. It is told by those in the know that Don Heath not only sold five books to Abbot Bradlee but gave him ten books to sell himself.

The final business of the meeting was the roll call of members who would assist in the registration of the young men for the new draft. The response was very good and Allan reports that there are but a few nights and afternoons still to be filled. Members having clerical help that are willing to assist or wishing to assist themselves in this work will please contact Forbes Norris, Chairman of the Service Committee.

TO CONTINUE HUSBAND'S BUSINESS

Mrs. Eva Larson, wife of Fred J. Larson, whose sudden death last week shocked his many friends and the patrons of Fred's Home Service, the business he had conducted successfully for the past ten years, has announced that she will continue her husband's business.

Fred's brother, Harold, will act as foreman and supervise the business. He was associated with his father, Winchester master painter, for 27 years and for the past two years had been working with Fred. He will continue the business policies which have been so successful in the past and will have the same crew of experienced workmen available.

Mrs. Larson is hoping to have the continued good will of her husband's customers, and will make every effort to merit their further patronage.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Conley, Jr., of 7 Chisholm road announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Jean to Mr. Burton Edward Ewalt, son of Lt. and Mrs. Morris B. Ewalt of 23 West street, Stoneham.

Miss Conley is a graduate of the Winchester schools. Mr. Ewalt graduated from Medford High and New Preparatory School in Cambridge. He served two years in the U. S. Coast Guard during World War II and is now completing his studies at Northeastern University.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO DINE

The Winchester Softball League will hold its first annual banquet Tuesday evening, Sept. 28, in the headquarters of Aberjona Post, V. F. W., at Waterfield Hall commencing at 6:30. There will be a roast dinner with everything from soup to nuts, and an entertainment that will feature a prominent figure in the world of sport. Tom Duddy, senior vice commander of the V. F. W. is in charge of arrangements.

Miss Marguerite Asher has returned to her apartment in the Winchester Arms, after spending the summer at Kennebunk Beach, Me.

"IMMACS" WON EASTERN MASS. TITLE

Beat Lynnfield 3-2, and 12-8, Last Week-end

The Immaculate Conception baseball team won the championship of the Eastern Massachusetts Twi League last week-end by taking two straight games from Lynnfield in the final playoffs, winning Saturday's game at Lynnfield, 3-2, and Sunday's game at Loring Avenue, 12-8.

Saturday "Chucker" Roche was master of the situation, all the way, scattering seven Lynnfield hits for an effective pitching performance. "Lefty" Melanson was nearly as effective, but a home run by "Al" Plummer in the 5th proved enough to enable the "Immacs" to win.

Lynnfield nearly evened the count in the last of the 9th. O'Neil singled to center and was sacrificed to second. Roche bore down to fan Proulx, but "Bobby" Wheeler pasted a single into left and O'Neil rounded third for home.

"Scratch" Amico fielded the hit cleanly and gunned a beautiful throw to "Sarto" Walsh that got O'Neil at the plate by 10 feet.

Sunday's game was a slugfest with the "Immacs" using every pitcher on their roster to pull the game out of the fire. Guy Washburn started and was relieved by "Scratch" Amico in the fourth. "Scratch" lasted only two frames, being spelled by "Chucker" Roche who gets credit for all three of the games won by Winchester in the play-off series.

"Chucker" had to be rescued by "little brother" Paul, who worked the last three frames. At the end of the Lynnfield 6th the elder of the Brothers Roche looked like a losing pitcher, but a seven-run 6th by the "Immacs," including a triple by Brother Paul, rescued "Chucker" nicely and kept his winning record intact.

Paul Roche gave up only one run over the last three frames, but it took a great relay throw from Cogan to Connors to Walsh to save another. Lynnfield had the sacks loaded in the 8th with one run in when Les DeMarco hit one right on the snozzle to Timmy Connors, saving a lot of grief. The summary:

JUNIOR LEGION CLOSED WITH WIN

Reversed Previous Loss to Waltham

The Winchester Junior Legion ended a very successful season on a triumphant note by scoring a run in the last of the ninth to defeat the Waltham Junior Legion 4 to 3 at Leonard Field last Sunday afternoon. It was sweet revenge for the locals who had lost 7 to 4 to this same team a week ago.

Big Don Kenton pitched fine ball for the Junior Legionnaires in this contest as he limited the visitors to five hits while striking out 11 batters and issuing four bases on balls.. Waltham scored three runs in the fourth on a pass, interference by the catcher, two singles, and an error. Aside from that inning Kenton was supreme as he scattered three hits and three bases on balls over the other eight innings.

Winchester scored three runs in the sixth inning to knot the score. With one out Williams singled off the shortstop's glove. Don Kenton followed with a single to right. After Coon flied out for the second out of the inning, Cirurso was passed to fill the bases, John Power came through beautifully with a single over second to score Williams and Kenton. Cirurso, in a fine bit of base running, tried to go down from first to third on the hit and when the center fielder threw wildly to third, Cirurso scored the tieing run.

The game was won in the last of the ninth when Patterson obtained a base on balls with one out. The locals got a big break on the next play when Reardon's grounder was booted by the second baseman, putting Patterson on second and Reardon on first. Donaghey then came through with the hit that was needed by driving a ground ball through the hole between shortstop and third and Patterson beat the throw to the plate to make it a successful finish to a successful season.

WINCHESTER REVERES DROPPED PLAY-OFF OPENER

Winchester lost an 8-7 decision in the first game of the Paul Revere League semi-final play-offs at Lincoln last Sunday afternoon.

"Sambo" Tompkins was behind the batter most of the six innings he toiled and while he was not hit hard, he gave up eight bases on balls so that the few hits he allowed were converted into more than their share of runs. Vern Slack, who finished up, was making his hard one too good and the experienced Lincoln batters hit the rangy right-hander rather freely.

Dick Coon's single and Jimmy Olivier's double put Winchester out front in the first, but the home team took the lead in the third, holding it till the sixth when two Lincoln errors, a single by Phil O'Rourke and Sammy Bellino's double put over three big ones.

Lincoln scored in both the 7th and 8th to build a two-run lead, but once again the locals tied it in the 9th when Jimmy Olivier hit the longest ball of the game for a home run with Coon aboard.

Modoono doubled after Jimmy, but Bent fanned Slack for the second out. "Nonnie" Cogan singled, sending Modoono to third and immediately stole. With two runs waiting Bent bore down hard to fan Fran Poirier.

Bent won his own game in the last of the 9th when he singled in a runner from second with one away. The summary:

JUNIOR LEGION WON AT MALDEN

The Winchester Junior Legion baseball team captured a well-deserved, ten-inning victory from the Malden DeMolay at Roosevelt Field, Malden, last Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 4. Although the locals easily outhit the Malden outfit, they trailed until the eighth inning on a combination of bad breaks, poor base running, and inability to bunch their hits.

"Major" Daniels pitched excellent ball in annexing his tenth victory of the season as against one defeat. It was remarkable that he could pace himself for ten innings in the intense heat while allowing only five hits, four bases on balls, and striking out no less than 15 Malden batters. His mates failed to give him their usual good support and all four Malden runs were unearned.

Winchester scored its first run in the fourth inning when Donaghey worked the pitcher for a base on balls, went to second on a passed ball, and scored on Daniels' line smash to right field. The locals added another run in the seventh when Williams belted a long triple to left center and scored after the catch, as Coon flied to center.

Winchester scored twice in the eighth to take a temporary 4 to 3 lead. Cogan was passed as lead-off man and stole second. Daniels singled, sending Cogan to third, and Daniels stole second two pitches later. Reardon fanned but when the catcher dropped the third strike, Reardon dashed to first drawing a throw on which Cogan beat the relay to the plate for the tieing run. Williams doubled to left field, scoring Daniels with the second run of the inning.

Three runs in the top of the 10th inning won the game for Winchester. All the scoring occurred after there were two out and nobody on base as Reardon started the trouble by drawing a base on balls. Williams drove out his third straight hit, a single to left field. Coon scratched a hit off the shortstop's glove and on his wild throw to first Reardon scored and Williams and Coon moved to second and third. Don Kenton then came through with the pay-off blow, a looping single into right center, scoring Williams and Coon. It was a fighting finish for the locals to give them their 17th victory of the year. TENNIS TOURNAMENT WINNER

Ruckie and George Bodman of 18 Wedgemere avenue returned to their farm in Royalston recently after spending the summer at Camp O-At-Ka in Maine.

In the finals of the annual senior unit tennis tournament Ruckie's opponent took the first set 6-3, and led 3-0 in the second. Then Ruckie found himself and swept 12 straight games to win. His name was inscribed on the tennis trophy, awarded at the camp banquet.

SHERIFF BOUTWELL WILL SERVE

War Hero Candidate for Election

The campaign for the nomination and election of Louis E. Boutwell, present High Sheriff of Middlesex County, is receiving practically unanimous support from leading Republicans and Independents throughout that county. Sheriff Boutwell was appointed last year by Governor Bradford when the former Sheriff, Loring R. Kew, died suddenly. Mr. Boutwell's appointment was widely acclaimed by leading citizens and newspapers all over Massachusetts and his decision to run for election, despite the considerable personal sacrifice involved, has been happy news for Middlesex County citizens.

General Boutwell's brilliant military career began with his enlistment as a Private in World War I. He soon qualified as a pilot in the Air Corps, was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant, and saw considerable service in France. After the Armistice, Boutwell remained on active duty in France for another year engaged in important staff and diplomatic work involving the French Government.

Returning to his home, the General resumed his civilian pursuits as a practicing lawyer. He served in the government of his home city, Malden, rendered outstanding service as Assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County, took a leading part in civic and philanthropic affairs and, in every respect, demonstrated that the same qualities of leadership, which had characterized his military career were equally true of his civilian life.

Today, General Boutwell is a living example of the slogan, "If you need to have something important done, ask the busiest man you know." Years of experience as a top-flight lawyer, administrator and soldier have developed an infinite capacity for work and achievement in the Sheriff.

Sheriff Boutwell is fascinated by the variety of problems which come up in the course of an average day—and it is undoubtedly this keen, active interest which carries him briskly through a workday which would exhaust most men.

He sums up his philosophy in the words, "There is no greater happiness in life than the satisfaction of being able to render service to your fellow man I have had a wonderful life in that respect—I have had great opportunities to serve and my only ambition is to keep on doing so."

Sheriff Boutwell's affiliations include: Military Order of the Purple Heart, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, National Guard Association, Boston Chamber of Commerce, New England Aero Club and many other patriotic, civic and fraternal organizations.

TOWN TENNIS TOURNAMENT LOOMS

Once again the year has moved in its cycle and the moment has arrived to determine anew the Town's champions in the ennobling sport of tennis. Hear ye! Hear ye! All and sundry within the geographical confines of the fair Town of Winchester! On the dates and at the hours indicated below all of our citizens capable of holding one tennis racket are invited to participate in the multifaceted tennis tournament to determine championships in the following categories: Men's singles, Women's singles, Men's doubles, and Mixed doubles. The entry fee is 25c per person per event. In so far as it is at all possible it is hoped that each team will appear on the courts with new balls. Since one set of balls ought to be sufficient for a match, the winners will retain the unused set of balls and the losers will receive the set used in the match. Thus the costs will be evenly distributed, and the finalists will have two sets of good balls for the climax.

Heaven et al being willing, the tournament will begin as follows and terminate as soon as possible:

Men's singles: Saturday, Sept. 11, at 10 a. m.

Women's singles: Saturday, Sept. 11, at 2 p. m.

Men's doubles: Sunday, Sept. 12, at 10:45 a. m.

Mixed doubles: Sunday, Sept. 12, at 2 p. m.

Always, of course, at the Palmer street (Wedge Pond) courts.

Since the draw will be made on Sept. 7, please communicate your interest and entry immediately to one of the following: G. Ed Williams, WInchester 6-1191-W; Whit Gary, WInchester 6-1930-M, Bud Nutter WInchester, 6-0545-R.

McGRATH AND DONAGHEY BOSTON WINNERS

Bob McGrath and "Barbie" Donaghey won two of the feature races in the City of Boston championship swimming meet at the South Boston and Columbia Yacht Clubs Sunday.

"Barbie," swimming for the Metropolitan Swimming Association, in the Women's 100 Meter Freestyle, turned the tables on her previous conqueror, Joanna Berggren of the Metropolitan, who could do no better than third in the race, finishing behind the capable Louise Sherlock of the Wanskuck Boys' Club Auxiliary; Coralie O'Connor of Worcester was fourth. "Barbie's" time was 1m 38.2s, but one should remember that this course is very, very slow.

"Barbie," Louise Sherlock, and Joanna Berggren all went into the N.E.A.A.A.U. women's senior one mile championship, which was won by Louise Sherlock, with Marion Senior of Wanskuck, second, Joanna Berggren, third, and "Barbie" fourth. The time was 28m 43.3s.

On the men's side of competition "Bob" McGrath got revenge from Don Sonia, Lynn Boys' Club star, who beat him at Winchester, by leading him to the float in the Men's 100 meter freestyle open with George Kouch of Wanskuck, third. Bob's time was 1m 22.2s.

STATE BREASTSTROKE TO McGRATH

Winchester's Bob McGrath, added the Massachusetts State 100 Meters Breaststroke Title to his list of championships by winning this event last Saturday in the Second Annual N. E. A. A. A. U. Championship Swimming meet at Horn Pond, Woburn.

Bob nipped his rival, speedy Charlie Stephanos, big Lynn Boys' Club all around star in 1m 21.1s, with Don Sonia of Lynn in third place.

"Barbie" Donaghey, Winchester girl swimming for the Metropolitan Swimming Association of Boston, placed third in the Women's 100 Meter Freestyle open event, behind State Champion Joanna Berggren of Metropolitan and Marion Senior of Wanskuck.

LENTINE TO COACH AT WESTERLY

Andrew F. Lentine, former Winchester High School all around athlete and Boston College lineman, has been appointed coach of football and basketball and teacher of history and mathematics at Westerly, R. I., High School.

"Teenie" has had a wealth of football experience, both as player and coach. He captained the 1933 eleven at Winchester High, his team winning the Middlesex League championship that year by beating Belmont in one of the best football games ever seen on old Manchester Field. He also played basketball and baseball at high school, but it was in football that he made his principal athletic reputation, and he will always be considered by those who saw him play as one of Winchester's great all-time linemen.

After high school "Andy" went to New Hampshire, where he captained the frosh eleven, but only remained for one semester, leaving college for further preparatory work at New Hampton School where he played both basketball and baseball for "Hennie" Knowlton, present high school athletic director.

From New Hampton, Lentine matriculated at Boston College where he played three years of varsity football under "Gloomy Gil" Dobie, former Cornell coach and a great stresser of fundamentals. "Teenie" played center, guard and tackle for B. C., only his lack of height keeping him from the regular center slot.

From college he went to Bates for two years as assistant to his old high school football coach, Wendell Mansfield, and when "Mannie," a truly great instructor, went to Springfield College, "Teenie" went along as his line coach. He has more recently been coaching and studying in the graduate school at Tufts.

What Westerly does in football isn't known so much about in these parts, but the town is a hotbed of basketball, and almost each year is one of the contenders in the New England schoolboy tournament at Boston Garden.

"Andy" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Lentine of Swanton street. He is married and has been living in Medford. Three of his brothers have also played high school football. Mario being a tackle, Paul a blocking back and Gaspare, a center. Paul was one of Winchester's greatest blockers and many would place him at the top in that important department, while "Gaspie" was a great center for all his lack of weight while in school.

OFFICER BOYLE BRINGS HOME HIS FISH

Officer John H. Boyle of the Police Department may not be any Frank Buck. He lays no claim to "bringing them back alive," but he does contend that when it comes to fishing he is miles ahead of Lt. Edward W. O'Connell, who, according to "Honk," tells everyone what big fish he catches but never gives any visible proof of his exploits with rod, reel or harpoon.

For instance, Officer Boyle, along with many others, heard all about that 677 pound tuna that "Big Ed" harpooned recently off York Village, Me. "Honk," you understand, isn't exactly doubting that Lt. O'Connell speared the big fish, but there is, after all, something to the Boyle contention that no one around Winchester actually saw the big fellow, or even a photographic reproduction of the fish.

Now Officer Boyle believes in visible proof of his fishing prowess, and although, as we said in the beginning, he doesn't "bring 'em back alive" (you don't when they are fish) he does have the bodies to prove that he isn't just making up his fish-stories out of whole cloth, as it were; or, at least, he did last Thursday night.

As the story comes to the Star, Officer Boyle went fishing last Thursday with Capt. Jack Baumgartner of 81 Cambridge street on the latter's boat, Marion II, with Russell Moran of Cambridge. They went off Plum Island a piece, and hadn't had much luck, when Officer Boyle remembered he was due back on duty at 6 o'clock.

About that time the seafarers spotted a school of tuna, and Capt. Baumgartner talked "Honk" into calling "Headquarters" from the radio-telephone equipped "Yolanda" nearby to see if Chief Charles J. Harrold would be at all sympathetic toward arranging a shift so Officer Boyle could arrive home a bit late.

The Chief, a sportsman, gave Officer Boyle his blessing, and not long after "Honk" hooked onto a big tuna.

Who actually landed the fish is a bit uncertain, but there is no doubt at all who brought the catch to Winchester. That would be Officer John H. Boyle and Capt. Baumgartner, and their catch was the cynosure of all eyes in the center last Thursday evening.

The fish weighed about 500 lbs. and when taken to Headquarters for Lt. O'Connell's benefit, the latter was inclined to be a bit contemptuous, for hadn't his tuna weighed 677? Officer Boyle frankly didn't know, and doesn't yet.

The feud is on, and what the final result will be no one can say. It looks like a rough time of it for the fish, with Roy Nowell likely to be drawn into the controversy any time now!

THE ARMY NURSE

Editor of the Star:

Answering a question about an Army Nurse career: Appointment in the Army's Officer's Reserve Corps is required. You may elect inactive status within the Army Nurse Corps Reserve which allows you to carry on your civilian life and professional activities as usual; or you may elect extended active duty, become a member of the Army (2nd Lt. up to Lt.-Col.), your initial appointment is for 5 years but the initial tour of duty is limited to one year. Minimum requirements for nurses without prior military service are: 21 yrs. of age but not yet 45; citizen of the United States; graduate of a school of nursing acceptable to the Surgeon General; recommendations from your school of nursing, a physician with whom you have worked and a former employer. During peace time operation, married nurses with dependents under 14 years of age will not be called to extended active duty.

Requirements for each commissioned grade:

Grade	Age	Years of Prof. Experience	Degrees or Postgrad. Work
2nd Lt.	21-30	From grad. up to 3 years
1st Lt.	30-33	Min. of 3 yrs.
Capt.	33-37	Min. of 7 yrs.	Completion of a postgrad. course in nurs. spec. & 1 yr. exp. in specialty
Major	37-45	Min. of 14 yrs.	Bach. degree & 5 yrs. adm. and/or teaching exp. in a school of nursing

Monthly pay and allowances as follows:

Grade	Base Pay*	Rental With dep.†	Rental Without	Subsistence With dep.†	Subsistence Without
2nd Lieut.	$180.00	$60	$45	$42	$21
1st Lieut.	200.00	75	60	42	21
Capt.	230.00	90	75	42	21
Major	275.00	105	90	63	21
Lieut. Col.	320.83	120	105	63	21

* 5% increase of base pay is provided for each 3 years of service up to 30 years
* 10% increase of base pay is provided for oversea duty
† dependents are considered to be any child up to the age of 21 or a mother and/or father

If you have not had prior military service, you will be sent to Brooke Army Medical Center, San Antonio, Texas, for an 8-week period of training.

For the first time in Army history Army hospitals have become training institutions for doctors. This year we are spending $4,000,000 on medical and surgical research, with half of these projects being conducted in civilian hospitals. There is an important role for the valuable and essential team member—the nurse.

Yours truly,
Gladys N. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

MARINES SEND THANKS

United States Marine Corps
Headquarters
Marine Air Reserve Training Command
U. S. Naval Air Station
Glenview, Illinois
27 August, 1948

Editor of the Star:

On behalf of the Marine Air Reserve Training Command, I would like to express our appreciation for the coverage given the second Post War Marine Air Reserve Maneuver by the Winchester Star.

During this period of uncertainty and tension, the space given to publicizing the Marine Air Reserve Maneuver at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, North Carolina, 10-24 July, 1948, by pictures and stories, has proven to be of inestimable value to the program, as well as informing the people of the United States of the steps being taken by the Marine Air Reserves to "BE READY" in event of an emergency. The second Post War Maneuvers proved to be successful beyond our expectations. Thirty-two (32) Reserve Squadrons participated in the maneuvers and proved themselves ready to join with regular Marine Aviation Units in the shortest possible time to meet any emergency. In addition, the maneuvers afforded Reserve Squadrons the opportunity to work together under simulated war-time conditions.

Thanks to the Winchester Star for its cooperation and aid to the Marine Reserve Training Program.

Very truly yours,
C. F. SCHILT,
Brigadier General, U. S. M. C.,
Commanding General

NORRIS AGAIN DISTANCE SWIMMING CHAMP

Forbes H. Norris, Jr., "Ted" to his many friends, successfully defended his title of AAU senior men's long distance swimming champion of the United States last week-end by winning for the second year the four-mile event for the championship at Williams Lake in Rosendale, N. Y. on Sunday.

Son of School Superintendent and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris of Church street, Ted spent the summer abroad as a member of the United States Olympic Swimming Team, placing in the distance event at the Olympics in London. After competing in Eire and on the Continent after the Olympics, "Ted" flew to this country, arriving at Lake Williams just a week before the race for the AAU Title.

From Rosendale the Winchester boy, who starts his senior year at Harvard this fall, went on to Akron, Ohio, to compete in the National AAU swimming events there this week-end, swimming the 1500 and 800 meter races.

NORRIS FORCED OUT OF TOURNEY BY ILLNESS

Marjorie "Marnee" Norris, daughter of School Superintendent and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris of Church street, was forced out of the Middle-Atlantic Junior Tennis matches at Philadelphia by illness, having to default after starting a match. "Marnee" was serving her second year as captain of the Wightman Junior girls team representing New England, on which were both Ruthie Murray and Ann Albree of this town. Her default due to illness is particularly hard luck for the usually tireless Winchester girl as this is her last year of junior play.

Nothing has been heard as yet of the fate of the other Winchester girls in the tournament, but of the three "Marnee" is the best player, having been a member of the Rollins varsity team as a freshman last year.

IN MEMORIAM

The community is saddened by the sudden and most unexpected death of Lawrence Prime Pinkham.

This Winchester boy, a graduate of our high school, a brave soldier, wounded three times in the service of his country, especially near and dear to his family, regarded with affection by a wide circle of friends, represented a type especially needed in the troubled world of the present day, but we have faith to believe he has been called to a field of higher service in the life beyond the grave. A. C. R.

Police Officer and Mrs. Thomas F. Hannon of Westley street are the parents of a daughter, born Aug. 30 at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. Hannon is the former Dorothy Daly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Daley of Rockland. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Mary J. Hannon of this town.

WINCHESTER HIGH FOOTBALL CANDIDATES OUT

Five Letter Players in Big Squad

Winchester High School commenced active work for the 1948 football campaign on Monday when Coach Henry Knowlton welcomed a big squad of candidates for the first practice session of the year on Manchester Field. Physical examinations were given by the school physician, Dr. William Barone, last Friday and Saturday, so that little time was lost in getting down to real work.

Coach Knowlton is short handed so far as coaching is concerned, for his chief assistant, Ted Bartlett, is still busy with his duties as playground instructor. Carl Reed isn't back yet and Al Seferian is no longer teaching. Seferian's loss looms big at this point, for the big fellow was a capable line coach and the school authorities have apparently done nothing about securing someone to take his place.

Winchester faces the 1948 season better off than a year ago, when only Capt. "Sammy" Bellino was available for veteran material. This year Coach Knowlton can throw five lettermen into the lineup as a nucleus, Capt. Vern Slack, end; Bob McElhinney, guard; Bob Abrahamson, center, and Pete Dillingham and Paul Amico, backs, all were starting regulars a year ago and won first team letters. Right behind them is Dick "Skitchy" Carroll, who played the number one back for the first few games last year while Jerry Amico was on the injured list.

In addition to these, there are boys like Jim Quine, center, and Mario Mascioli, end; Merton Galucia and Charlie Capone, tackles; Lally Myers, back; Bob Roberto and Pete Kirwan, ends; and Pete Hutchins, tackle; who know the feel of varsity play and should make strong bids for first team status this season.

Tony Cirurso, Dom Suppa, R. McElhinney, Ed Cullen and Johnny Richmond are members of last year's freshman team who will be carefully watched by the coaches for varsity possibilities.

Coach Knowlton lined up a tentative first team on the opening day that had Captain Slack and Mascioli at ends, Jim Quine and Merton Galucia at tackles, Bob McElhinney and Paul Mottolo at guards and Bob Abrahamson at center. Behind the line were Carroll at blocking back, Paul Amico at fullback, Pete Dillingham at tailback and "Lally" Myers at wingback. There is plenty of weight in such a line and lots of speed in that backfield.

It's naturally too soon for Coach Knowlton to be at all sure about his starting game lineup and each one on the squad will have plenty of opportunity to show why he ought to be in there against Lexington Sept. 18. The varsity men have the edge in experience, but experience without fire isn't going to hold them their jobs. Looks like it will take a lot of hustle to be regular on the team this year.

Following is the complete player roster:

HARRY McGRATH IN NATIONAL AMATEUR

Harry McGrath, Jr., bantam golfer of the Winchester Country Club, didn't get too far in the United States Amateur Golf Championship play at Memphis, Tenn., being eliminated in the first round, but it was a distinct feather in the former Boston College student's cap to be one of 200 qualifying from a field of some 1700 golfers all over the country to play in the tournament.

Harry, described by newsmen at the scene as the best little golfer, pound for pound, in the tournament, won his right to compete in the New England trials held Aug. 18 at The Country Club in Brookline. He was one of six golfers chosen to represent New England in the tournament, which is no small honor.

Although he was eliminated in the first round by W. E. Sanders of Kansas City, Mo., 2-1, the Winchester boy caught the eye of the covering press by his great golf over the second nine holes, which enabled him to raise a four stroke deficit at the turn to a close enough 2 and 1 defeat. Harry lost no prestige by his showing at Memphis.

He drove down to Memphis with "Jake" Liston of the Boston Post, and had practice rounds of 72 and 74 before the tourney. He led the qualifying field at The Country Club with a morning round of 71, which was unsurpassed in succeeding competition.

Harry graduated from Winchester High and was studying at Boston College when he entered the service during the war. He saw service in Africa and Italy and had much experience organizing athletic programs for the G. I.'s in both places. He is now in the insurance business in Boston with his father.

WILL RESIDE IN WINCHESTER

Walter Everett, city editor of the Providence, R. I., Evening Bulletin, has resigned to join the public relations staff of Lever Brothers Company Cambridge, it was announced today.

A Providence Journal-Bulletin newsman for the past 12 years, Everett will begin his duties with the Lever organization Sept. 6, according to Thomas A. Gonser, director of personnel and public relations.

Everett served successively as State staff reporter, radio news writer, city staff reporter and Journal city editor before being named to the Bulletin city desk. Earlier he was city editor of the Greenwich, Conn., Time, and a reporter on the Salt Lake, Utah, Tribune.

A graduate of the Columbia University School of Journalism, he has written for leading national magazines and trade publications, and has been active in the American Press Institute at Columbia as a seminarian and guest lecturer.

Now a resident of Cranston, R. I., Everett will make his home in Winchester.

"Man" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, Sept. 5.

Golden Text: "Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let his shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom." (James 3:13)

Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus . . . Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ." (Galatians 3:26; 4:7). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience . . . His birthright is dominion, not subjection. He is lord of the belief in earth and heaven,—himself subordinate alone to his Maker." (pp. 106, 518).

The first three play-off positions in the Town Softball League have been decided with the fourth position depending upon the outcome of last night's game between the V. F. W. and St. Mary's. If St. Mary's were victorious last night, then they would be in fourth place by half a game over the Maguire Motors. In case of a defeat at the hands of the V. F. W. the Maguire Motors would enter the play-offs as the fourth place team.

All play-off games are to be played at Ginn Field and will start at 6 p. m. on Tuesday evening when the Sachems play the V. F. W. On Wednesday evening the Sons of Italy will meet the fourth place winner, on Thursday evening the Sachems and the V. F. W. will meet in their second game, and the Sons of Italy and the fourth place winner will play their second game on Friday evening.

The semi-final play-offs are a two-out-of-three series and if the winner of either semi-final series is not decided after two games, the third and deciding games will be played on Sunday afternoon. Thus, if both semi-final series go the full three games, a double-header will be played on Sunday, Sept. 12, at 2 p. m.

The play-offs this year may very closely parallel those of last year for the makeup of the play-off teams is very similar. The Sachems and the V. F. W. met in the semi-finals last year and all the softball fans will remember that hectic series and its protested games. The Sons of Italy was also in the other semi-finals last year. To carry the similarity even farther, if St. Mary's clinch fourth place it will be the same team that played the Sons of Italy last year except that they then represented the Christopher Columbus Club. The only chance to have a different team in the play-offs this year is for the Maguire Motors to edge St. Mary's for fourth place.

The Sachems are the defending champions and as such must be chosen as the favorites to repeat this year. They boast the best pitching in the league in person of Andre Redding and have played sound, steady ball all season as evidenced by their first place position. The Sons of Italy finished in first place last year, however, and were beaten in the play-offs by the second place Sachems and perhaps history might well repeat itself. Certainly it would be no great upset if the Sons of Italy should win for they are a veteran team and boast a three-man pitching staff which gives them greater depth on the mound than the other contestants.

The V. F. W. is the hardest hitting team in the play-offs and could easily capture the title if their pitching staff can produce. Most observers disregard their poor showing of the past three weeks for they have not been at full strength and these same observers know that Paul Connors will keep them hustling every minute. Either fourth place team, the Maguire Motors or the St. Mary's, will be in the contention all the way and each has beaten the Sons of Italy at least once during the regular schedule.

It should be a great series, perhaps rivaling that of last year for excitement. Certainly everybody will have fun except the umpires and they are not supposed to have fun anyway.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The Winchester Playgrounds bring a busy season to a close this week. Leonard Field captured the playground baseball championships in the Junior and Intermediate divisions while Loring Avenue again was supreme in the Senior division. The two Leonard Field championships brought to an abrupt end the monopoly Loring Avenue had enjoyed in baseball last year by winning the title in all three divisions.

The last of the championships to be decided was in the Intermediate division which Leonard Field won by defeating Loring Avenue 9 to 5 on Monday. This was a great victory for the Leonard Field boys for they trailed 5 to 0 at one time and staged a game, uphill fight to come from behind to win. Much of the credit goes to John DiOrio who pitched shut-out ball over the last five innings after getting off to a shaky start. Johnny Farrell contributed two sparkling catches to cut off prospective runs and must get second billing as the star for Leonard Field.

The younger boys of Leonard Field won their softball championship and will go along in the bus with their older playmates to see the Braves-Phillies game today. A total of 48 boys will make the trip accompanied by Playground Supervisor, Ted Bartlett, and Playground Instructors, Dave Merrow and John Stevenson.

The arts and crafts program proved especially popular this year with the introduction of classes of instruction in crocheting and knitting. Many a knitted hat or pair of mittens will give a lot of service to the youngsters this winter. Some of the more accomplished knitters are now ready to start a sweater as the next venture.

Among the favorite activities over the last few weeks has been the wearing of gimp bracelets by the girls and the twisting and weaving of lanyards by the boys. The colors are especially attractive and this activity has always been popular with the older children. There seems to be no end to the demand for potholders right down to the final day in spite of the fact that more than 300 of them have been made in the last five weeks.

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

The Auxiliary to Post 97, the American Legion, will hold its annual Dinner Dance at the Legion House, 34 Vine street, on Saturday evening, Sept. 11, commencing at 6:30. A good orchestra has been secured and the food promises to be equally tempting. Doris Fitzgerald will appreciate knowing if you plan to attend, and who doesn't?

The Auxiliary's next regular meeting will be held at the Legion House Monday evening, Sept. 20. On Saturday, Sept. 25, the Auxiliary will hold a joint installation with the Legion at the Legion House. The Auxiliary has been invited to attend the installation of the Melrose Auxiliary at the Legion Bungalow in Melrose Friday evening, Sept. 17. Dancing will follow the installation.

ENSIGN DANA COMPLETED SIX LANDINGS

Ensign Richard B. Dana, USN, son of Mrs. R. E. Dana of 42 Rangely road, successfully completed six carrier landings aboard the Navy's modern aircraft carrier, USS Wright, Aug 27. He has been undergoing a 29 week rigorous phase of basic training, being prepared for this milestone in his future role as a naval aviator, at the "Annapolis of the Air," Pensacola, Fla.

Ensign Dana displayed the self assurance and intricate flying skill of a veteran aviator, when taking off and landing the SNJ trainer plane on the 680 foot decks of steel.

Ensign Dana entered the Navy in 1942 being selected for the U. S. Naval Academy. He served aboard the U.S.S. Springfield until 1947 at which time he entered the Navy Flight training.

While at Annapolis Ensign Dana participated in varsity track, and boxing team activities.

PAUL REVERE PLAYOFF HERE SUNDAY

Winchester will play the second game of the semi-final playoffs in the Paul Revere League at Leonard Field with Lincoln Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. In the event a third game is necessary, it will be played Labor Day afternoon at Leonard Field at 3.

Lincoln won the first playoff at Lincoln last Sunday, 8-7, but the locals think they can take the experienced visitors this week-end. Better umpiring should help, for you can't continue to throw that ball through the middle to batters who know their way around.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Charles Coltran Reynolds, South Tremont, Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Mary Jean McKeown, 9 Rumford street.

Stephen Culter Greene, 329 Highland avenue, and Patricia Louise Eberle, 49 Cabot street.

Norman Clark Bush, Jr., 232 Washington street, and Ruth Claire Ward, 67 Newcomb street, Arlington.

Robert Gordon Heist, Main street, Chatham, and Jacqueline Carr Whitcomb, 45 Ledyard road.

Richard Francis Fenno, Jr., 75 Church street, and Nancy Davidson, 19 Park avenue.

Austin John Gunnery, 83 Linwood avenue, Melrose, and Kathleen Ann Devlin 4 Bonad road.

ON PILGRIMAGE TO ROME

The Misses Kenney of Myrtle street were pleased to hear from their cousin, Mrs. Lila Kenney Better of Beverly, formerly of this town, who is enjoying the Archbishop Cushing Pilgrimage to Rome. Mrs. Better says the voyage over on the Queen Mary was most calm and delightful, and, at time of writing she was in Paris.

Mrs. Better intends to visit Belgium, Switzerland, France, England and Eire before she returns.

LABOR DAY

The first "Labor Day" was celebrated on Monday, September 4, 1882. It has become established as one of our important holidays, now observed in all states and territories.

Workingmen and women occupy an honored position in American life. Labor Day is dedicated to them, in recognition of their vital importance to the nation's industrial progress and prosperity.

"DAYS OF YORE"

Clippings from the STAR Files

50 YEARS AGO

Sept. 2, 1898

Mr. Augustus Coffin returned home on a 30 days' furlough from Santiago where he has been fighting the Spaniards. Gus is a member of the band in the 13th Infantry (regular) and participated in all the important battles. At present he is very sick with malarial fever and the doctor has forbidden him to see any friends. Poor food and many hardships have completely broken him down, but the doctor thinks that after a season of quiet he will come around all right.

While there are not many Winchester boys in the army yet, the ladies of Winchester are doing nobly for all the soldier boys, regardless of where they belong.

Many of the vacationists have already returned. In about one week more the town will have its usual population.

The cherubs in the fountain on the common still continue to pose. But they look awfully in want of water.

A. C. Downer has purchased the steam laundry on Converse place from Wilcox and Young. He is an experienced laundry man, and he should be patronized by all who believe in this kind of work being done under perfect sanitary conditions.

Mr. D. H. Ritcey has been awarded the contract to build the large addition to the storage house of the McKay shops. It is a source of satisfaction that this work is to remain in town, and in such competent hands.

Mrs. L. A. Elliott and Miss Eustis of Stevens street are passing two weeks at East Gloucester.

Mr. T. C. Hurd and his son, Mr. Roger Hurd, returned this week from a trip along the coast of Maine.

Mr. D. H. Ritcey has completed his contract and finished the new Nutter building on Pleasant street, and a very good job he has done, too.

Boston's entire subway system of rapid transit will be open to the public on Monday next.

Among the Americans who registered in Halifax, N. S., last week, were Mr. and Mrs. Ferd. F. French, Misses Emma Greely and Hattie Cowderey at the Halifax Hotel.

The Trolley Club in goodly numbers went to Salisbury Beach Thursday. The members had a delightful ride, a good time and a fine dinner.

Miss Amanda Holton will return next week from Europe where she has been travelling.

Rev. A. W. Littlefield will leave this week for Louisville, Ky., where he has accepted a charge.

25 YEARS AGO

Aug. 31, 1923

Sandy Beach was host last Saturday to a large crowd of enthusiasts who witnessed the first swimming carnival ever held in the waters of Mystic Lake. In making the preliminary announcements lifeguard "Bill" Murray said he hoped to see the carnival an annual affair, explaining that such events go far towards stimulating the general interest in swimming that is necessary here in New England if we are to equal the crack swimmers being produced in other parts of the country. He urged all present to talk up the carnival which he characterized as "only a starter." We venture to predict that those who attended the "starter" will be present when its successors are held, for from the first event until the end of the program the spectators were treated to some real sport.

Miss Florence Bunting has returned home from San Francisco, having been with a party on a trip to Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, the Yosemite Valley and Yellowstone Park.

James Gargas, proprietor of the fruit store on Mt. Vernon street for many years, sailed last Friday for his native country, Greece. He plans to remain abroad for six months, visiting his parents and sister, whom he has not seen for many years.

Maj. Charles H. Woolley of Fells road is commanding the National Guard Air Service which has been carrying on operations in war-time fashion at the Army Air Station at Mitchel Field in a 15-day tour of duty which concluded Wednesday. The command includes the 101st Photo Section and the 101st Medical Section. The command consists of 15 officers and 76 enlisted men.

Among those attending the annual tournament at the Balsams Country Club, Dixville Notch, N. H., last week were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kidder and the Misses Mary and Caroline Kidder of Everett avenue.

Among the Americans returning home from Europe on the White Star liner Adriatic from Liverpool, arriving at New York on Sunday last, was Miss Elizabeth Downs of Arlington street.

A big snake, measuring over four feet in length, was killed on Tuesday afternoon at Long Pond in the Fells by George Bartlett, Kenneth West and Daniel West. The reptile was seen sunning itself on a stone on the shore of the pond and a well directed stone apparently broke its back. It started into a hole at the base of the stone, but one of the boys grabbed its tail when it was half way in and pulled it out, when it was dispatched. The snake was a water moccasin. About a dozen young snakes measuring about eight inches long were in the stomach of the mother snake, they running out during the process of extermination.

The O'Hara Brothers, owners of the fisherman Shamrock, one of the contestants in the fishermen's race, are nephews of Mr. F. J. O'Hara of this town.

Top round steak, 45c; bottom round, 35c; fresh ground hamburg steak, 20c; beef liver, 12c; pickled pigs feet, 20c; smoked and cured shoulder, 16c; fresh shoulders, 18c; sliced ham, 45c; boiled ham, 65c; thick end corned beef, 20c; corned spare ribs, 12½c. At Blaisdell's Market.

Roger Latham, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Latham of Harvard street, left this week to enter Florida A & M. The "Spider", a towering tackle who was very good in high school days at Winchester, should interest the football coaches of the southern school. His great height and long arms made him particularly good on defense.

MEMORIAL EXHIBITION FOR W. H. W. BICKNELL

A special attraction of the summer in Provincetown will be a Memorial Exhibition of the work of the late W. H. W. Bicknell, who died there last November, after spending 30-odd long summers in that town.

This will be a fairly representative showing of his life's work in various mediums. For many years he was etching almost entirely, and many people who have known and admired the few prints which have been shown in regular Exhibitions, there and elsewhere, will be surprised at the scope and variety of his work.

Many persons have regretted that the season at the Provincetown Art Association has heretofore . . . like many of the town's attractions . . . ended with Labor Day. They and others will be glad to hear that this large and important Exhibition will open the Sunday after Labor Day, Sept. 12, and will continue for the remainder of the month. It will occupy the entire main gallery.

Besides many original etchings there will be large etched reproductions of paintings by Velasquez, Stuart, Winslow Homer and others.

There will also be some of his early portraits in oil, painted in Plymouth in the '80's, which the present owners, grandchildren of the subjects of the portraits, are lending for this Exhibition.

There will be, in addition, a number of pencil and charcoal drawings. The nude drawings in pencil are finished with the utmost delicacy, while the charcoal portraits and landscapes have extraordinary sweep and brilliance. They make a dramatic contrast; and the whole Exhibition will be remarkable as showing one man's versatility and achievement.

A portrait of Mr. Bicknell playing the 'cello, by Nikol Schattenstein of New York, will also be shown. His devotion to music was an outstanding characteristic. He played the violin from childhood, later the 'cello, and was soloist in Church choirs for nearly 50 years.

WINCHESTER TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

Mrs. Edna Crede, president of the Winchester Toastmistress Club, announced the following appointments at the meeting held Tuesday evening, Aug. 25.

Mrs. Rachel Bagley of Cambridge was appointed as club representative and Mrs. Ruth Kelley of Winchester will be the educational chairman.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Helen Pietz, 99 Pine Ridge road, West Medford at 8 o'clock sharp, Tuesday evening, Sept. 14.

DOUGLAS LAWSON

Douglas Ladson of Boston opened his campaign for election to the office of State Auditor with a statement which signalized his intention of making a vigorous and aggressive battle for that office.

ARLINGTON ACADEMY INCREASES FACULTY

New teachers appointed to the faculty of the Arlington Academy of Music indicate the expansion of the school's curricula to include the entire field of professional and amateur musical education. Dean Frank E. Ward announced the following new appointments:

Lillian M. Endleman, who received her B. A. in Music and Education at Queens College, N. Y. and her M. A. from the University of Wisconsin with honors in Composition. Mrs. Endleman will teach piano, Composition and other theoretical subjects.

Mario Mantini, who was graduated with honors from the Royal Conservatory of Music in Naples, Italy, where he won first prize for his excellence in piano and Violin. He will coach voice for opera, radio and the theatre as well as head the string department.

Marty Abramson, former Victor and Decca Record star, lead Trumpet on CBS, NBC and Mutual networks.

"Tak" Takvorian, Former Sam Donahue, Artie Shaw and Claude Thornhill star, Columbia and Capitol records. Trombone stylist.

Beside the general school on Mass. Ave., Arlington, the Academy opens on Sept. 1st its "Intown Studio" State Theatre Bldg. Boston for the convenience of private students in Boston and on the north and south shores. Harold F. Miller, features saxophone and Clarinet soloist on CBS - WEEI, will be the Director for the "Intown Studio".

THORNTON FILES FOR PATENT

On August 10, 1948, the United States Patent Office granted patent number 2,446,794 on a "Portable Fire Alarm" to Rudolph B. Thornton, Winchester, Mass.

As is commonly known, portable fire alarms are mechanisms that may be carried from place to place to be used wherever it is deemed expedient, and they function by sounding an alarm when the temperature at such location has risen to a predetermined degree. In their general construction, they comprise a thermostat that acts to close an electrical circuit that causes a bell to ring.

According to Mr. Thornton, portable fire alarms, operating broadly on the same principle as his, have been made heretofore, but they have been cumbersome and ill adapted for convenient transportation and use. Accordingly, it is the object of his invention to provide a structure that is compact, sturdy, made of relatively few parts, and which, at the same time, will have long life.

The chief feature of his apparatus resides in the fact that its housing or cover acts as the bell member. Extending inwardly from, and over only a small area of, this cover is a U-shaped support that is welded to a mounting plate that not only carries all of the electrical and working elements but also serves as the means by which the device is positioned against a surface or wall. These Electrical units consist of the thermostat, dry cells, bell ringing coils,hammer, etc., all connected together by a suitable electrical circuit.

In operation, the bell will start ringing with a clear loud sound as soon as the temperature reaches a predetermined figure, and will continue to do so until the device is removed to a cooler place or the electrical circuit is broken. In addition, a push button switch may be provided to close the electrical circuit by hand for the purpose of testing the condition of the batteries and the operativeness of the connections.

The application for this permit was filed on July 30, 1947.

TENNIS CLINIC ENDS

Last Monday morning Joe Corish's tennis clinic held its last session at the Palmer street courts, and the four new registrants raised to 70 the number of Winchesterites who were thus exposed to Joe's enthusiastic descriptions and demonstrations. Thanks to Joe's gengerosity, 70 more people now have the opportunity of understanding tennis better. If they will practice day in and day out the principles and the movements taught, 70 of our boys and girls are going to play better tennis than would otherwise have been possible.

As we reported to you last week, paper plans do exist for a continuance through September of such a clinic under the guidance of a paid professional. To date, however, nothing of a concrete solution of the problem has reached the ears of your reporter. In some quarters there is a feeling that once September arrived such an activity belongs more particularly to the physical training department of our schools. At this writing we can only suggest that you watch your town newspaper and listen for announcements at school.

Last Monday the following appeared for the first time: Frances Noel, John Mooers, Harlow Russell, and Nancy Nutter.

CLAMBAKE AND SQUARE DANCE TO WIND UP HOLIDAY WEEK-END

The Winchester Boat Club's annual Labor Day Clambake, followed by a Square Dance on the grounds, will be the feature attraction of the long Labor Day weekend. The date, of course, is Monday, Sept. 5, the time, 5:30, and the menu, the same marvelous steamed clams, broth, broiled live lobster with drawn butter, pickles and chips and dessert. All for only $2.00 per person, tax included. And following the feast there'll be another of those very popular square dances—free to one and all.

There's only one hitch—today is the last day tickets will be available. Ed Kent only has a few left so if you've overlooked this mighty important item, you'd better beat it over to the club right now and pick up your tickets. No reservations, please . .

Fleet Facts

Jack Streeton virtually carved his initials onto the Club Championship trophy last week-end, by adding two more firsts to his rapidly growing collection. His nearest competitor for the title, Mel Moller, was second to Jack on Saturday, but faded to eighth on Sunday, to severely set back his hopes of overhauling Jack. The Sunday morning handicap race was won by Jim Newman, with Dave Blamire bringing "The Foo" in second and Ralph Swanson snaring third. Ralph deserves a big hand for his third because he was leading the race when suddenly his boat "Swanee" went over. By swift, skillful action, Ralph and his crew righted the boat, continued the race and wound up in the money.

Bridge Banter

Mrs. Martin Swanson is in charge of the next Ladies' Bridge Party, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 8. Like last week's affair, there looks like another full house, so you'd better let Mrs. Swanson or Ed Kent know you'll be on hand.

WINCHESTER GOLFERS ELIMINATED

Jack O'Leary, Arlington boy who caddies at the Winchester Country Club, was finally eliminated in the semi-finals of the junior division of the Albemarle Golf Club's open junior tournament last Friday, being defeated in that round by Ed Iarrobino of Commonwealth, in 19 holes. Tommy Cosgrove of Winchester, playing in the midget division, also went out in the semi-finals, losing to Paul Taylor of Brookline.

If you enjoyed last week's visit to the Clinical Pathological Laboratory, you will be glad to have similar facts about the function of the X-ray Department at the Winchester Hospital.

This busy Department X-ray or Roentgenology is an adjunct to all of the clinical services, and may supply a part of the information on which any diagnosis is based. The accompanying graph shows that the years 1935-48 have seen the number of X-ray patients increase from 883 to 3,635 or 4.3 times. During the same period the number of radiographs and fluoroscopies has increased to 6.9 times the number in 1935, or from 1,651 to 11,509. This is proof of more work for each patient and a broader basis of evidence for the doctor's diagnosis.

For instance, a patient admitted under the Medical service may be scheduled by his physician for X-ray studies of his gastro-intestinal tract, his kidneys or his chest. The studies may be directed toward determining the cause of obscure symptoms and the result may be his referral to the surgical service or may be the deciding factor in a purely medical course of treatment. More and more of the studies in such a case are comprehensive, not calling for X-ray of one organ only but for a complete series of all possible locations related to the ill-health. There is plenty of evidence that this increasing tendency of doctors to use extensive X-ray studies in diagnosis is paying rich dividends to the patient's health. Certain very serious conditions which do not produce gross symptoms until a very critical stage is reached can be discovered by X-ray before symptoms have appeared and when early surgery can be definitely a saving of life.

In Obstetrics, pre-natal X-ray studies are used to determine whether there is to be more than one baby, whether normal delivery can be expected, or whether interference with Cesarean Section is the wiser procedure.

The Neuro-Surgeon asks for spinal or skull studies, and places great value on what the films show. When operation follows the diagnosis of such cases, the X-ray will check and report the post-operative progress toward recovery.

Most people think of X-ray first in connection with Orthopedic Surgery because of the help given to fracture cases. It is indeed an important and busy part of the X-ray service to study broken bones and assure recovery with the least possible deformity. Frequent checks are made, covering weeks and even months after the surgeon has set the break.

One of the happiest services of the X-ray to the Surgical Department might be called a negative one. These are the cases in which X-ray examination proves conclusively a condition not requiring operation and one which should recover promptly with mild treatment. When an operation is found necessary, the X-ray studies will be a valuable supplement to other evidence for the surgeon's guidance.

As X-ray personnel two roentgenologists are available, Dr. L. Alexander Vance and his associate Dr. Ray A. Dillon and three technicians who live in the hosiptal. The maintenance of this service on a twenty-four hour, standby basis means constant readiness to handle emergency demands within the Hospital as well as unexpected outpatient cases.

FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY

In a special Labor Day report to the wage earners in the Cambridge area, the Social Security Administration office, said the amount of monthly benefits being paid to retired wage earners, their wives, and dependent children and to widows and children of wage earners who have died, represents a substantial increase over similar figures last Labor Day.

"But there are still people," Mr. Phelan continued, "who are losing payments simply because they delay coming to our office to file claims for them."

Social security payments are not started automatically when a wage earner reaches age 65 or dies. They must be applied for. Your social security office wants to help and will render all possible assistance. But you must take the first step.

Social security legislation was designed for the working man. On Labor Day when the American wage earner counts his blessings, he will remember social security. To make sure that social security does all it can for him, each social security card holder should do the following things:

1. Assure yourself that you have an official social security account number card containing your correct social security number and your name spelled properly

2. Show your account number to each new employer and see that he gets the information correct on his record.

3. Check up on your social security account every year. A postal card or phone call to your nearest social security office will bring you a form for making a formal request.

4. When you reach age 65 visit the nearest social security office. Tell your family now to visit the office if you should die.

The Winchester Police turned over to the Somerville Police Tuesday night a Somerville youth, who it is alleged, was driving a car without authority and had sideswiped an Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway bus in Winchester. After this accident he abandoned the car he was driving on Arlington street, and the machine backed down the hill and into a car at the Country Club parking lot, damaging it about the front end. The youth escaped across the golf links, but was later picked up by the Arlington Police and brought to Winchester by Officers Winthrop Palmer and Archie O'Connell. The rather involved case was turned over to the Somerville Police, where it is alleged the youth took the car he was driving.

VOL. LXVIII NO.4 THE WINCHESTER MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1948 PRICE SEVEN CENTS

G. SHERMAN BLAIR, JR.

TO SPEAK AT REPUBLICAN 21 CLUB

Of interest to the young people of Winchester is the formation of the Winchester Republican 21 Club.

This group is open to young people between the ages of 18 to 28. The purpose of the club is to keep the younger folks informed on political affairs of today. Everyone is invited to join this group and attend the first meeting on Tuesday night September 21st at 8 o'clock at the Masonic Hall. This group is being sponsored by the Republican Town Committee.

G. Sherman Blair, Jr., President of the Republican 21 Club of Massachusetts will preach at this meeting. Mr. Blair is a member of the Republican State Committee and attended the 1948 Republican Convention as an Aide to Governor Bradford.

It is earnestly hoped that the young people of Winchester will take interest in this organization and through it will become future leaders of this community.

Future announcement of the speaker for this meeting will appear in next weeks STAR.

For information regarding the above contact Charles W. Blanchard, WInchester 6-1173.

STATE PRIMARY DAY SEPT. 14

UNITARIAN CHURCH SERVICES AT MEYER CHAPEL

The Winchester Unitarian Church will hold its opening service of this season on Sunday, at 11 a. m., in its beautiful Meyer Chapel on Mystic Valley Parkway. Several selections will be sung by a young woman's choir, led by Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham, director of music and organist of the church. The flowers in the chancel are being given in memory of the late H. Arthur Hall.

Church hour class for small children will be held during the regular church service.

The School of Religion will open Oct. 5.

DOUBLE FUNERAL SERVICES

Mrs. Anna Turner who passed away in Woburn on Sunday was the mother of Mrs. Robert Scholl of Vine street. Double funeral services were held in St. Charles Church, Woburn, on Wednesday morning for Mrs. Turner and her son, George, whose body arrived in this country recently. George was killed while on active duty in France during World War II.

FIREMEN QUENCHED POLICE

Scored 19-9 Victory in Game of Century

The soft ball game of the century, between the Firemen and the Police, came off as advertised last Friday evening with the crowd of the year watching the classic on Ginn Field. Your reporter believes the score was 19-9, but what with trying to keep by-standers posted on the score and inning keep track of the constant substitutions and arguing with rival scorers, we wouldn't be too sure. We offer our figures merely as "approximate" like "Marge" Bartlett's soft ball scores, and after last Friday sort of figure that "Marge" has something in this "about" stuff.

The big crowd at the game had only one disappointment. "Mack" didn't umpire, but there were plenty of arbiters on hand. In fact they were a dime a dozen, with "Hokey" Procopio behind the bat, big "Jack" Stevenson at first, Charles Arthur Farrar at second and Jack Serika at third. It's our personal opinion that "Mack" would have done a better job of it, and it indicates the esteem in which he is held as an umpire when four men are secured to take his place.

The Firemen had it all over the Police like a tent. The boys from the Central Station were much younger on the average, were far fleeter afoot and hit much harder than the coppers. Perhaps that was because "Nutsy" Amico, who pitched for the Firemen, gave the Police nothing good to hit as his "blooper" ball looked so big coming up there that the minions of the law were breaking their backs trying to connect. Tommy Hannon connected for a homer that was a legitimate four-base wallop and "Jomma" Dolan hit the ball hard, but aside from this pair the Police weren't doing much with the willow though "Dukes" did rap out a triple late in the game, aided by some weird fielding.

DR. NORRIS ADDRESSES TEACHERS

Speaking at a convocation of all Winchester Public School teachers in the Wyman School Auditorium last Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Forbes H. Norris called for greater faith in young people and urged teachers to renew their efforts in the new school year to help young people to be good, substantial citizens and contributing members of a democratic society.

Dr. Norris paid tribute to the teaching staff of Winchester and suggested that teachers encourage able youngsters to consider seriously entering the teaching profession.

Reiterating his often stated belief in the value of schools as the greatest agency for promoting tolerance and citizenship, Dr. Norris wished for his staff a busy and worthwhile year. Prior to Dr. Norris's address, he called upon Mr. Helmet to lead the teachers in community singing, which, for enthusiasm and volume, exceeded any previous attempt of that sort.

He then called upon School Committee members Mrs. Marion Chandler and Capt. Richard Rush for a few words of greeting. Both graciously welcomed the teachers and spoke briefly in appreciation of the task in education being performed in Winchester.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Stafford A. Lindsay of Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jane Carol Lindsay, to Mr. George Maynard MacKellar of 80 Main street.

Miss Lindsay is a graduate of Punchard High School in Andover and attended the Household Nursing School of Boston. She is presently employed as a dental technician.

Mr. MacKellar is a graduate of Medford High School. He received his commission in the U.S.N.R. and the U. S. Maritime Service at Midshipman School. He is attending Tufts College.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. D. Townley-Tilson held an Open House for relatives and intimate friends on Tuesday evening, September seventh, in honor of Mrs. Townley-Tilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Osgood, on their golden wedding anniversary. The honored couple were the recepients of many beautiful flowers.

REV. DONALD B. TARR

New Assistant Pastor and Director of Religious Education at First Congregational Church

The Rev. Donald B. Tarr, formerly Pastor of Geddes Congregational Church, Syracuse, New York, began his services with the First Congregational Church September 1st.

Mrs. Tarr, who is also a graduate Director of Religious Education, will assist him in his work.

The Committee considers the Church fortunate in having secured two such competent leaders to direct the program for young people in the Church School and Forum.

Mr. and Mrs. Tarr will live at 227 Forest street.

People will have an opportunity to meet Mr. and Mrs. Tarr at the close of worship Sunday morning.

WAGNER — CADY

At a two o'clock wedding performed by Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, on Saturday afternoon, September 4, Miss Dorothy Gene Cady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Cady of 3 Hillside avenue, was married to Mr. Harrison Lathrop Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Wagner, of 25 Crescent road, at the Episcopal Church. The couple were attended by Miss Selena Cady, sister of the bride, and Mr. Philip Slocum, both of Winchester. The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Bartlett of Gloversville, N. Y., and Miss Louise Brusellis of Watertown. Messrs. Paul Fitzpatrick and George Cady, brother of the bride, both of Winchester were ushers.

The bride wore a dress of white satin with a high neck and a lace panel down the complete front, and finger-tip veil. The honor attendant wore teale taffeta under white net with embroidered off the shoulder collar. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. The bridesmaids dresses were of yellow taffeta under white net with embroidered collars. The also carried mixed flowers.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Music Hall, where decorations followed the tone of those at the church with white gladioli predominating.

The bride is a graduate of Brodeau College and the groom is at the experimental laboratory of Pratt & Whitney Company at Hartford, Conn., in which city the couple will make their future home.

REYNOLDS — McKEOWN

Miss Mary Jean McKeown daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. McKeown of 9 Rumford street and S/Sgt Charles Coltran Reynolds of Tulsa, Okla., son of Mr. Elbert Walter Reynolds, were married at St. Mary's rectory on Sunday, September 5 at four o'clock, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan. The couple were attended by Miss Joanne S. Plesk of Billerica and Mr. Thomas Edward McKeown, brother of the bride.

The bride wore ivory satin, net yoke edged with a gathered satin ruffle, fitted bodice, bouffant skirt fullness cascading down in the front to set off the three tiers gathered in drapes revealing a petticoat daintily edged in lace ruffles. Her three yard train matched her five yard lace veil topped with a garland of pearl beads. She carried an arm bouquet of fushia and gladioli and wore a strand pearl necklace.

The reception at five-thirty was held at the Town Line and upon its conclusion the couple left for a wedding trip to Montreal. The bride is a graduate of the Woburn High School and has been employed as secretary at Lever Bros., Cambridge office. The groom is in the regular army air corps and is stationed in New York, where the couple will make their future home.

MISS MOORE, MR. SMITH ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Moore of 31 Forest street, Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Marie, to Mr. Kenneth James Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Smith of 3 Lebanon street, Winchester.

McQUEEN—FARWELL

Miss Margaret Carolyn Farwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cushing Farwell of 106 Tyler terrace, Newton Center, and Mr. George H. R. McQueen of 10 Central street, son of Mrs. Albert Sise Crockett of Winchester and Col. John Crawford McQueen of San Francisco, Calif., were married on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 4, at 4 o'clock at Andover-Newton Chapel, Newton Center. Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, this town, performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father and the music was by Mr. D. Ralph Maclean.

Mrs. Walter Leonard Anderson of St. Paul, Minn., was matron of honor and the junior bridesmaids were Miss Carol Crockett, the groom's sister, and Miss Mabel Shoemaker, both of Winchester. Mr. Albert Wesley Manning 2d of Winchester was best man. Ushers included Mr. Richard J. Merrow of Arlington and Mr. Louis B. Baldwin of Cambridge.

The bride wore a wedding dress of ivory satin with net yoke encircled with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and gladioli.. The matron of honor was gowned in turquoise and carried yellow gladioli, and the junior bridesmaids wore yellow and carried deep salmon gladioli.

A reception followed the ceremony, held at the Agora Society House, Wellesley College, from 4:30 to 7. Here decorations followed those at the church of Madonna lilies and greenery.

The couple will enjoy a wedding trip along the Maine coast. The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College and the groom is attending M. I. T. They will make their home in Boston.

VAN HORNE—CARPENTER

Miss Mary Louise Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar F. Carpenter of 18 Ravine road, and Mr. Bernard Van Horne, son of Mrs. Robert M. Van Horne of Cincinnati, Ohio, were married on Monday, Sept. 6 at 12 o'clock noon, at the Church of the Epiphany, by the rector, the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father.

The organist at the wedding was Mrs. Carpenter's nephew, Mr. Donald Wood, an instructor at Dartmouth College.

A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents followed.

Mrs. Van Horne is a graduate of Vassar College and of the Massachusetts General Hospital's Training School for Nurses. She served four years abroad as a nurse in the United States Army, taking part in the invasion of Normandy as a member of a field hospital.

Mr. Van Horne is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati, and has taken graduate work at the Universities of Columbia and Chicago. He also served in World War II as a first sergeant in a topographical unit in France and Germany. He is on the staff of the Detroit Public Library. After a brief honeymoon, the couple will proceed to Detroit.

WEDDING OF LOCAL INTEREST

There is Winchester interest in the coming marriage of Miss Gloria Emerald and Mr. Calvin C. Frazer of Squantum. Miss Emerald is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Emerald, (Ellen Dyson) formerly of this town, living on Park road with Mrs. Emerald's mother, Mrs. Emily Dyson.

Miss Emerald left Saturday by plane for Bartelsville, Oklahoma, where the wedding ceremony will be performed. Mr. Frazer is under contract with the Pittsburg Pirates and is now playing with their Bartelsville team of the K.O.M. league.

They plan to return to Squantum about the middle of September.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bradbury Fellows of 24 Stowell road and Manomet have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Shirley Louise Fellows, to Mr. Charles Abbot Bean of Braintree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold U. Bean of Winterport, Maine. Miss Fellows attended Marion College, Virginia. Mr. Bean served in the Navy for two and a half years and has recently completed his studies at the Shillinger House of Music in Boston.

Miss Davidson Will Be Married in Ripley Chapel

The wedding of Miss Nancy Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer George Davidson of 19 Park avenue, and Mr. Richard Francis Fenno, Jr., son of Mr. Richard Francis Fenno of 75 Church street, will take place this Friday afternoon, September 10th, in the Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church. Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony at four-thirty. Mr. Kenneth Moffatt will supervise the music.

The wedding party will include Mrs. Leonard Pullman of Forest Hills, N. Y., the former Norma Paradis of this town, who is matron of honor. Miss Janice E. Davidson, sister of the bride, is to be flower girl and the bridesmaids are Miss Elizabeth B. Fenno of Winchester, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Harold Bowman of Venezuela, South America, the former Gloria Herrick of this town.

The list of ushers includes Mr. Conrad Rosander, Mr. Herbert B. Moore, Mr. Robert L. Maynard, all of Winchester, and Mr. Brian Sullivan of Detroit, Mich.

The bride has chosen a wedding dress of white satin with long sleeves and the traditional train. Her dress will be princess style with collar of seeded pearls and matching crown caught with veil. She will carry lillies and stephanotis. The flower girl will wear peacock blue taffeta and she is to carry small yellow chrysanthemums. The matron of honor will wear gold taffeta, carrying bronze chrysanthemums, and the bridesmaids peacock blue taffeta with yellow chrysanthemums.

Decorations chosen for the candlelight ceremony at the chapel are white gladioli, and for the following reception in the parish hall the same flowers in varied hues. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and Mr. Fenno will assist in receiving. Mrs. Davidson wearing a simple rose dress with corsage of matching flowers. The couple are spending their honeymoon in Bermuda.

Miss Davidson is a graduate of Winchester High School and Kathleen Dell School. Mr. Fenno, also a Winchester High graduate, graduated from Amherst College '48 and is a member of Chi Phi and also Phi Beta Kappa. He is a Harvard graduate student of political science. Mr. Fenno spent two years in the Navy V-12 unit and R. O. T. C.

The couple plan to make their home in Cambridge.

CASS—PHILBROOK

Miss Marion Louise Philbrook, daughter of Mrs. Marion R. Philbrook and the late Charles F. Philbrook of 15 Pierrepont road, was married in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Aug. 28 to Donald Chandler Cass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kingman Packard Cass of 52 Yale street, Rev. John P. Robertson officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dana R. Philbrook and the best man was Charles F. Philbrook, also a brother. She was gowned in white satin, with a Belgian lace veil, caught with orange blossoms, and carried a white prayer book with streamers of white gladioli and stephanotis attached.

Miss Joan Somerby of this town was honor attendant, and the matron of honor was Mrs. Douglas Kingston of Boston. They were gowned alike in blue net with picture hats to match, and carried bouquets of coral pink gladioli. Ushers were Rupert Daniels, Jr., of Adams, Earle B. Street of Boston and Douglas Kingston of Boston; Dana Brown of this town, was organist. Church decorations included white gladioli at the sides of the chancel.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's mother for the wedding party and relatives, the bridal couple left for a brief honeymoon, after which they will reside on Park Drive in Boston.

HOME WEDDING

With a setting of gladioli, delphinium and white asters, the wedding of Miss Jacqueline Carr Whitcomb and Mr. Robert Gordon Hirst took place on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mildred C. Whitcomb, 34 Ledyard road. Rev. Paul H. Chapman, pastor of the Winchester Unitarian Church, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock.

Miss Fay Pike of Winchester was the bride's attendant, and the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hirst of Monson, had his brother, Mr. Thomas Ralph Hirst of Southbridge, as his best man. The bride, escorted to the altar by Mr. Ralph G. Browne of Shaker Heights, Ohio, was given in marriage by her mother.

The bride wore a princess style white slipper satin dress cut with a sweetheart neckline. She carried white orchids, delphinium and stephanotis. Her bridesmaid was dressed in peach marquisette and carried blue delphinium and talisman roses.

Mrs. Hirst attended the Erskine school and her husband is a graduate of Tufts College. Following a honeymoon in Canada, they will make their home in Chatham.

John A. Volpe of Winchester, president of the Associated General Contractors of Massachusetts, who will speak at annual conference of the national A.G.C. in Chicago on Saturday, September 11. He is active in local community affairs

MRS. MARY L. RICHARDSON

Mrs. Mary (Lonergan) Richardson of 58 Nelson street, wife of John R. Richardson, died Sunday, September 5, at the Winchester Hospital.

Mrs. Richardson was born in Ireland but came to Winchester 40 years ago. She was a member of Saint Mary's Church.

Mrs. Richardson is survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. Bridget Shea, of Glenwood avenue.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the late residence with solemn high mass of requiem at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church. The Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott was celebrant, with Fr. Robert J. Supple as Deacon and Fr. John T. O'Neil, sub-deacon.

Interment was in Calvary cemetery, where the commital prayers were read by Fr. Supple and Fr. Sennott.

REP. CHADWICK APPOINTED TO RECESS COMMISSION

Rep. Harrison Chadwick has been appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives to serve on the seven man Recess Commission to study the laws of the Commonwealth relating to milk and milk products. The present statutes on milk control, which are of vital concern not only to producers but also to consumers, are very complex and badly in need of revision. The Commission will begin its work in the near future so that it can present its recommendations to the next session of the General Court.

CENTRAL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION HELD TEA FOR TEACHERS

Continuing a pleasant annual custom, the Central Mothers' Association entertained Dr. and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris and all the teachers of the Winchester schools at tea, following their pre-school conference at the Wyman School on Sept. 7. The tables were beautifully decorated in the kindergarten room. Delicious punch, cakes, and cookies were served by the Social Chairman, Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth. Assisting her in greeting the guests and serving were the presidents and members of the various boards: Mrs. Victor Moses, Mrs. George Saltmarsh, Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, Mrs. K. W. MacArthur, Mrs. Richard Bolster, and Mrs. Benjamin Marshall.

ENSIGN IN U. S. NAVAL RESERVE

Phinehas S. Newton, Jr., 24 Wedgemere avenue was recently commissioned an Ensign, U. S. Naval Reserve, at the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Boston.

Mr. Newton attended Kimball Union Academy and Middlebury College receiving his degree from Bowdoin College. During World War II, Mr. Newton was an aviation cadet and enlisted man in the Naval Reserve.

Mr. Newton is the son of Mrs. Ethelyn S. Newton, 24 Wedgemere avenue.

SMITH-PINKHAM WEDDING SEPT. 18

Among the approaching weddings of Winchester interest, is that of Miss Marilyn Fontaine Pinkham of Prospect street and Mr. Douglas Dean Smith of Verona, N. J.

The wedding ceremony will take place in Mt. Vernon Chapel, Boston, on Saturday, Sept. 18, at four in the afternoon, as had been planned, but owing to the very recent death of Miss Pinkham's brother, Mr. Lawrence Prime Pinkham, plans for the wedding reception to be held at Hotel Sheraton, have been cancelled.

PLANS FOR COMMUNITY FESTIVAL NEAR COMPLETION

The plans of the Community Festival which is being sponsored by the Winchester Lodge of the Order Sons of Italy are near completion.

The carnival atmosphere will predominate on the Shore Road Field on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, September 15, 16, 17, 18. Many attractions have been booked and many novel booths will be on the midway.

The proceeds of this affair are going into the building Fund which will build a youth Recreation Center on Swanton street. The Booths are going to be run entirely by members of the Winchester Mens' and Ladies' Lodges.

Some of the booths are: Panda doll booth; Radios booth; Candy booth; Refreshments booth and a groceries booth which will feature Italian salami, cheese and oil.

The committee is working hard to make this affair a huge success and it is their fervent hope that everyone will attend and make it so.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following building permits were issued for the week ending Thursday, Sept. 9:

New dwellings: 10 Ridge street, 17 York road, 14 York road, 70 Grove street, 12 Standish lane.

New garage: 83 Washington street.

Alterations: 8 Chestnut street, 27 Westland avenue, 15 Stowell road.

Reshingle: 815 Main street.

LEGION BLOOD DONORS READY

A large delegation of Legionnaires has been lined up to contribute to the establishing of a blood bank at the Winchester Hospital. The Hospital now has a refrigerator to hold the whole blood and as soon as arrangements have been completed with the Hospital, the Legion members will give the initial supply of blood.

BETA SIGMA PHI TO HOLD FIRST MEETING

Beta Sigma Phi will hold its first meeting on Monday evening, Sept. 13, at the Capone home on 15 Middlesex street. The meeting will start promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

Members will please bring their pledge manuals and program books. Please be there!

FIREMEN QUENCHED POLICE

We don't mean to say that the Firemen's extra base blows were all legitimate. "Dee" Callahan, Kerrigan and big Wyman belted out four-basers that were towering pokes, but a lot of the fire-fighters extra base blows should have been caught.

Tommy Hannon, former "Ecco" pitcher, went the route for the Police with an assortment of catchers, no one of whom was a "Bill" Dickey. "Tommy" improved as the game progressed as far as extra base hits were concerned, but his support got no better, though "Jomma" Dolan, "Jimma" Flaherty, "Billy" Haggerty and "Connie" Bowler all made grandstand catches in the losing cause. Bowler's was made after a hard run from second base to the right field foul line, and the surprised look on "Connie's" face when he recovered his breath and found he had the ball was something to see.

Francis Tansey just missed the clutch of the season when after a hard run he got his gloved hand on a hard drive at the left field foul line, went down with the ball, and lost it in a complete somersault.

"Dukes" Farrell's feet went out from under him as he tried to field a drive at second base late in the game and he sat down, but hard, the pill flying squarely over his thinning thatch, but the outstanding front jack-knife dives of the game were contributed by "Archie" O'Connell, short-time center fielder for the cops, who surprised everyone by belting a clean single to center his first time up, and nearly scoring from second on Flaherty's single to left. "Archie" did a couple of real nose dives on the way to the plate, losing his balance and crashing heavily to go all the way over the second time. Everyone was relieved when he got up under his own power after Kerrigan tagged him out.

Your reporter went to the game with the notion of keeping a box score, and so far as the Firemen are concerned he could have done so. The Police, however, didn't let little lineup technicalities stand in the way of rest for their players or getting their best batters up each inning, and as a consequence their lineup shifted with such kaleidscopic suddenness that we had to give up the ghost midway through the game.

For the Firemen in the field "Package" O'Melia made an unassisted double play, "Flats" Flaherty played a couple of short hops at shortstop with old time skill and Chief Jimmy Callahan, equipped with a blue ski hat, played a sterling first base. We were a little disappointed in the center field play of "Bobby" Haggerty and fancy that Oweney Grant didn't think much of either him or his big brother "Willie" of the cops, as softball players, we mean, of course.

The final raps of the Police was really something to see. Tommy Hannon laced a single to center and went all the way around when Amico threw wildly after fielding Bowler's slow roller. Several other Firemen aided in the scoring by throwing some equally wild chucks.

Bowler advanced to second as Amico threw out Mal Reardon, and tried to score as Norman Dempsey banged a single off "Dee" Callahan's glove at third. "Dee" recovered quickly and lined the ball to Neil Kerrigan, the ball and Officer Bowler arriving at about the same time.

Mr. Kerrigan was squarely in the base-line and Officer Bowler, standing on his "constitutional rights," barged into him and hard. To his credit be it said that Officer Bowler moved the rugged Neil slightly and the two crossed the plate together. Whether Mr. Kerrigan actually had the ball in his possession when he and "Connie" met is open to debate. Officer Bowler said "no" and stuck to it. Umpire Procopio said "yes" and as usual the game paid off on his judgment.

While Officer Bowler was stating his views, backed by others of the Police, notably Sgt. Farrell and "Billy" Haggerty, the astute Officer Dempsey had been improving the shining hour, by sneaking around to third.

Seeing the debate still in open session he set sail for home. Stentorian bellows from "Dee" Callahan, and Roy Nowell on the sidelines, warned Kerrigan, and the doughty Neil picked up the ball and charged into the onrushing Dempsey. Both men went heels-over-head and this time the ball certainly squirted from the stout Kerrigan grasp.

Dempsey, recovered sufficiently to make a dive for the plate, but Kerrigan threw a perfect football block on him, knocking him away. About that time "Package" O'Melia entered the symposium to wrap his arms firmly around the struggling Mr. Dempsey to prevent his further progress toward home.

This was too much for the "Dukes" who immediately joined the hurley burley. Grabbing Dempsey by the seat of the pants he literally upended him and Package O'Melia, Dempsey landing squarely on home plate with his head.

The Coppers claimed a run and your reporter is squarely with them in their contention, but once again "Hokey" ruled no, and remained adamant, despite the protests showered upon him by the wrathful Officer Dempsey. The latter was handicapped a bit at first in speaking his piece because of having a mouthful of dirt, but once he got rid of this gag, he did all right!

As things turned out this was the final out, but Manager Flaherty stated that he would protest to the Selectmen, so anything can happen. Following is an APPROXIMATE score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Firemen	4	0	4	2	6	0	1	0	2	19	19	6*
Police	2	0	0	4	0	0	2	0	1	9	17	10*

* Considerate scoring.

Batteries, Amico and Kerrigan. Hannon and Harrold, Reardon and Stygles.

TOWN TENNIS TOURNAMENT DRAWN

"So long Connie! Don't come back before we come after you!" To such a tune good-natured Connie Williams was escorted from her neat, well-kept home on Middlesex street last Tuesday night in order that the Tournament Committee and its interfering, loquacious guests might proceed with the dark and highly entertaining task of arranging play among the Town's hopefuls. Of course, as is the case with most good housewives, before departing Connie had been allowed to stock the pantry and the refrigerator, and later in the evening the fatigued talkers - we mean workers - were able to refresh themselves heartily. But, when did you get back, Connie?

As announced last week, the starting times have been set as follows: Men's singles, Saturday, September 11 at 10 a. m.; Women's singles, Saturday, September 11 at 2 p. m.; Men's doubles, Sunday, September 12 at 10:45 a. m.; Mixed doubles, Sunday, September 12 at 2 p. m. If you can not quite make these starting times please communicate immediately with a member of the committee. Even if you failed to get your entry in, you can still get into this tournament by contacting the committee promptly; only, don't expect to be seeded. Entry fee, .25c per person per event, is payable to the committee at the Palmer street (Wedge Pond) courts at the beginning of the event.

THE COMMITTEE: G. Ed Williams, chairman, WInchester 6-1191-W, Whit Gray, WInchester 6-1930-M, Bud Nutter, WInchester 6-0545-R (that makes it Nancy's number too).

WINCHESTER JUNIOR LEGION HAD GREAT SEASON

Won 18 and Lost 5 Against Best in Class

The Winchester Junior Legion completed a most successful season on Sunday, August 29, with a record of 18 victories, five defeats and two tied games against the best available teams in their class.

Woburn won the division league championship and was the only team able to set the local boys back twice during the season. The Tanning City lads were a veteran outfit and runners-up to the 1947 division champ, Lowell, so the double loss by Winchester wasn't entirely a surprise. As a matter of fact the locals gave the Woburn vets two mighty stiff tussles, losing the first of their games to the Tanners, 2-1, and the second, 4-2. In both games a Winchester hit or two would have made all the difference in the world, especially in the opener when the locals just failed to nip victorious Woburns.

Winchester improved tremendously through the season under the expert tutelage of "Ted" Bartlett, high school baseball coach, and it is too bad that both games with Woburn came early in the season, for the locals were playing much better ball toward the end of their campaign and in Beverly, Arlington and Waltham beat teams fully as good if not actually better than Woburn.

Don Kenton, big right hander, and rangy George "Major" Daniels, fork-sider, did the pitching for Winchester, the latter having the impressive record of 10 victories in 11 games. Kenton, pitching against many of the strongest teams had a record of six won and two lost. Don pitched a couple of truly great games against Beverly and Waltham at the end of the season, while Daniels' hurling against Malden on the last sizzling Saturday of the season, was also high class.

Freddy Patterson, slim left-handed batter, did the catching for the club and the infield included Walter Murphy and Ken Donaghey at first base, Dave Coon, second base; Daniel "Junie" Reardon, shortstop; and John Powers, third base. The regular outfield comprised Sam Kenton in left, George Daniels or Tony Cirurso in center and Leo Williams in right. Subs were Cirurso at 3rd base and second base, Eddie Crowley, first base; David Dalton, second base and Don Wilson, pitcher.

Winchester had to start the season without Ken Donaghey, hardest hitter on the team, who sustained a broken bone in his hand during the high school season and also was plagued by a leg injury. Murphy filled in acceptably for Ken, but was unavailable over the latter part of the schedule because of an injured back.

The boys played smart ball under Coach Bartlett and were prevented from amassing a more brilliant record by their lack of punch at the plate and their slowness afoot. It isn't often you will find a team of young fellows as slow on the average as this year's Winchester Junior Legion Club. They literally had to work that runner around to score, and lost several games because runners were thrown out at the plate trying to score from second on good solid hits. In the field the locals played good ball, rather better on the average than most of the teams faced. A fine nucleus is left for next year, and since all of this year's Legion team are still in high school next season's Winchester High nine should benefit immeasurably.

While Coach Bartlett is entitled to all the credit for the team's fine showing on the playing field, several members of the Legion have also contributed greatly to the success of the team. Commander Walter Burns has actively supported the team, by his interest and attendance at games, and also did a lot of taxiing players through the season. Norman Noonan was another Legionnaire who never missed a game and did more than his share of taxiing. Parker Blanchard, as chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Legion, handled the financial details of the season in efficient fashion and Tom McKee, Albie MacDonnell and Ken Hall were others who assisted by their interest and attendance at games. With only Don Kenton, Coon, Patterson, Murphy and Wilson lost from this year's club, next year's team should get an excellent start.

Ken Donaghey led this year's club in batting with the fine average of .447, made on 34 hits in 76 times at bat, including six doubles, one triple and two home runs. The lack of real punch on the club is shown by the fact that running second to Donaghey with the ash was John Powers with a .277 average. Daniels batted .275, Reardon, .244, Williams, .232, Cirurso, .200, and the rest of the team was below this modest figure. With only one batter above the .300 mark it is a real tribute to the brand of ball played by the club that it was able to avoid losing more than five of 25 games.

Those who saw the team in its season opener with Woburn and witnessed the closing season victories over Beverly and Waltham could hardly realize they were watching the same club. Coach Bartlett did literally a whale of a job of coaching, directing and generally masterminding a group of ordinary youngsters into a pretty fair junior ball team.

No mention of the Junior Legion season would be at all complete without a big word of appreciation for Ralph Bonnell of Bonnell Motors, who outfitted the team in the snappiest uniforms on the circuit and showed his keen interest in the boys in many other ways. Everyone interested in baseball in Winchester owes popular Ralph a vote of thanks. Following is the season's record:

LINCOLN MOHAWKS KNOCK WINCHESTER OUT OF PLAYOFFS

Winchester's entry in the Paul Revere Baseball League was eliminated from the league playoffs by the strong Lincoln Mohawks team in the second of a two out of three semi-final series game last Sunday at Leonard Field by a score of 11 to 3. The Mohawks had, on the previous Sunday, won the first game by an 8-7 score.

The game was marred by errors, there being a total of 10 errors by the two teams. At the end of the fourth inning the score was 1-1, but four hits and a hit batsman for the Mohawks in their half of the fifth gave them four runs. They added one more in the seventh and in the ninth inning, league-leading hitter Nick Macone belted a three-run homer to make a total of five runs for that inning.

Sam Tompkins was hit hard by the Lincoln batsmen, giving up a total of 15 hits. Sam hit a home run in the ninth inning. Jim Olivier drove in the other two Winchester runs with a long fly in the first inning and a double in the sixth. John Power, 15 year old Junior Legion third sacker, played the hot corner for the locals and handled four chances cleanly, looking very good.

Connelly, Mohawk pitcher who hasn't been beaten this year, struck out 11, while yielding eight hits. Lincoln now goes into the finals against Maynard, and is the favorite to cop the league championship. The summary:

TEELE CHAMPION

Royal P. Teele, champion of the Boston Paper Trade and perenniel president of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, dispite the determined and constant efforts of Mr. Butters to dethrone him, left the beach courts last week Wednesday evening with championship honors following an abbreviated set of matches due to darkness and a late start.

Mr. Teele went home very happy! It mattered not at all to him that the matches were few and on the unofficial side. He had won, and that was enough for him. He had given "Wild Willie" McLaughlin the business in the final match, one fall to a finish, and his joy knew no bounds, for it is not often that the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnasset has to play second fiddle to Mr. Teele's first.

For a time it looked like there would be no quorum. Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, the Dix street Magnate, failed to show up and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham was equally among the missing. Mr. Teele, Mr. McLaughlin and the Secretary were reduced to a three-handed game, after attempts to locate Henry "Tiffany" Knowlton of the Maxwell road Mugwumps had failed, when big John Bourinot, a sort of associate member of the Association, put in an appearance.

Mr. Bourinot was warmly greeted and coins were flipped, the newcomer having the misfortune to draw the Secretary as partner against Mr. Teele and Mr. McLaughlin. The Bourinot-Scribe combination went down two straight, but in the second game ran a 16-0 count to a 25-18 defeat which for any team including the Secretary is a magnificent showing.

It was nearly dark when the second series got under way with Mr. McLaughlin and his neighbor, Mr. Bourinot, opposing the Association's ranking officers, Mr. Teele always improves with the advent of darkness and the Secretary this time was also able to find the stake much better after he was unable to see it any more. The sum-total of the Teele-Scribe effort was a 25-19 victory, after which Mr. McLaughlin pulled up the stakes and announced that he was "through." Mr. Teele's caustic remarks about "sportsmanship" fell on deaf ears as the Pride of Stow stalked from the courts and was swallowed up by the night.

WHAT PRICE PROGRESS?

Editor of the Star:

A sort of nostalgic sadness stirs in the hearts of some of us when we note that practically every "improvement" of recent years has more and more encroached upon the rare natural beauty that once made our town outstanding among modern residential New England communities. Particularly regrettable are the ravages which have occurred among our lovely trees, which can never be replaced in our generation.

First came the construction of the state sewer, which ploughed its way through the bed of the Aberjona in the Mystic avenue section, eliminating the natural island which was there and heavily riprapping the bank on the railroad side. Then came the Manchester Field project, which reduced by some 50 or 60 the full-grown trees in that locality, picking up our lovely, meandering river and transposing it into our present monstrosity of a severely straight, heavily rip-rapped ditch where anything as graceful and lovely as a canoe would—even if it could get there—appear incongruous and ill at ease. The tennis-hockey field development at the southern end of Manchester Field has apparently rendered hors de combat a group of four or five trees in that area, which are slowly dying; and the newly completed parking space at its northern end has disposed of several more lovely trees and substituted a bare stretch of concrete for what was formerly a lovely green sward on either side of a pleasant, tree-lined walk. Presumably, as the parking needs expand, further encroachments will be made, while the intrepid foot traveler will pick his precarious way between a double row of parked cars, always in a state of flux.

Some towns seem to have the faculty of instituting needful changes and at the same time improving their natural beauty. Why in Winchester the reverse is true is hard to understand.

Abe Lincoln once remarked: "An awful lot of people mistake change for progress!" Its a thought that comes to mind. Incidentally, a cumbrous "snow bridge" of doubtful practical value has replaced the former foot-bridge upon which residents of Precinct 3 (who live most nearly contiguous to the so-called "improvements") used to depend when visiting the Center on foot. Somewhere in the headlong haste of the committee to put their scheme into execution they made a sort of half-promise that this would be restored, but we are still straddling chains and tramping several hundred feet further in order to reach the Square. (Anyone who has tried the new boulevard route on one of our hot days will know why it is comparatively unfrequented!)

Presumably our young people merit all that is being done for their every convenience and pleasure and comfort, but occasionally—and, of course, incidentally—why not do something for the adults? After all, aren't they the ones who have to pay the bills?

THE WAR THAT DIDN'T START

Editor of the Star:

Regarding increase in enlistments: Yes, there was a substantial increase after passage of the Selective Service Act. Up until that time the Army was not getting enough men to maintain our occupational forces, etc., to say nothing of being prepared for any emergency. It is devoutedly to be hoped that no politician in Washington will be tempted to monkey with the Selective Service Act without a thorough knowledge of the pre-Act military situation. Preparedness pays dividends as the following statement by Maj.-Gen. Alden Waitt, Chief, Chemical Warfare Service, will show:

"Throughout World War II, consideration was constantly to—and preparedness made for—a method of warfare that never was utilized. This war that never started was gas warfare, the use of toxic gas. Both Allied and Axis powers had made extensive preparations for gas warfare in World War II, but the unleashing of the death-dealing clouds never materialized. In the munition dumps at Muna Ost, in northwest Germany, were 10,000 tos of gas shells and more than 4,000 tons of bulk mustard gas. About 130,000 chemical air bombs were stored in 175 concrete bunkers at Orrel, and similar stocks at St. Georgen in southern Germany. In all, a quarter million tons of gas filled munitions were found in Germany. Large stores of gas munitions were kept on Okuna Shima, and Japanese gas grenades, bombs and shells were found up and down the length of Luzon by conquering United States forces.

The story of the factors which deferred the Axis nations from making use of these tremedous stores of gas munitions is a saga of preparedness. The Allies built up such a tremendous and superior stock of gas, that Germany and Japan never dared to utilize their stocks. Early in the war, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill made clear the Allies' position. They stated that the Allied nations would not initiate the use of toxic gas, but that as soon as the Axis loosed the first gas shell, grenade or bomb, retaliation in kind would be swift and devastating. Germany and Japan, realizing that the Allies had both the ability and the determination to carry out this threat, refrained from the use of gas througout the entire period of hostilities, although many occasions arose when its use might have made a considerable difference in the course of the war."

Our former enemies didn't dare to attack us in a well prepared field; any potential enemies we may have must be much disturbed to find us determined to be as well-prepared in every field.

To the gentleman who asked where his son would be sent: Will you please call again and let me know whether your son is enlisting or comes under Selective Service? It makes a difference and in next week's Star the writer will give you the probable destination.

Maj. Douglas H. McKillop, commanding officer of the Boston-Suburban Recruiting Office, made a visit to Winchester yesterday and paid high praise to the Star for its cooperation. He is writing Mr. Price Wilson a letter of appreciation.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mrs. Toye:

I thank you for the August 6, 13, 20 and 27 clippings from "The Winchester, Mass. Star," covering publicity on the Winchester Military Manpower Committee. This publicity is excellent and will be of great assistance in our efforts to build up the strength of the Army and Air Force.

The "Question & Answer" column is effective in creating a contact between military personnel and civilian communities and opens more doors to carry the message of the needs of the Army and Air Force.

I will forward answers to the questions you recently submitted as soon as possible.

Thank you for your cooperation, which is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

POLICE WILL WATCH OUT FOR CHILDREN

Editor of the Star:

The police officers who regularly take care of traffic conditions at the schools were unable to be in attendance on Wednesday morning, first day of school. The officers were called out on a fire alarm signal, and an ambulance call, at the same time, therefore leaving no available officers to take care of the schools.

CAMP HUNTERS REST CLOSED

Camp Hunters Rest, Groton, N. H., has closed its second year with a full complement of twenty-five boys. The last two weeks were devoted to overnight hikes of Staff Rodgers variety: a trip to Vermont and a climb to Camels Hump; a trip to Dartmouth College and a journey up the Canaan slope of Mt. Cardigan on the return; two nights on Mt. Belknap and a final competition night on Mt. Stinson.

Winchester boys fared amazingly well in the camp competitions. Jimmy Ruma won the prize for the boy showing the greatest development in swimming; John Coakley won the Junior baseball prize; Raymond Hanscomb showed tremendous speed and endurance in winning the track championship and John Morgan was acknowledged to be the best of the Senior swimmers.

TEACHERS ENTERTAINED BY CENTRAL MOTHERS ASSOCIATION

Under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth, Social Chairman of the Central Mothers' Association, presidents of the several allied clubs and their committees of mothers cooperated to give a tea for all members of the Winchester Teachers' Club and guests at the Wyman School last Tuesday afternoon immediately following the general teachers' meeting.

Refreshments of ice cold punch and an assortment of delicious home made pastries were thoroughly enjoyed.

Assisting Mrs. Wadsworth were Mrs. Richard Cunningham, President of the Central Mothers' Association; Mrs. Victor Moses and members of the Junior High School Associates; Mrs. George Saltmarsh and members of the Lincoln Mothers' Club; Mrs. Philip Wadsworth and members of the Wyman Mothers' Club; Mrs. Kenneth W. MacArthur and members of the Noonan Mothers' Club; Mrs. Richard Bolster and members of the Mystic Mothers' Club; and Mrs. Benjamin Marshall and members of the Washington Mothers' Club.

NOTICE TO BICYCLE OWNERS

Every resident of Winchester who owns a bicycle should apply at Police Headquarters for a registration certificate and number plate.

The law requires that the number plate be attached to the bicycle and the bicycle must also be equipped with a red reflector at least 2 inches in diameter, visible from the rear.

When a bicycle is sold or disposed of in any way, the plate must be returned to the police department.

The law requires bicycle operators to obey certain traffic regulations. To comply with the law and for your own safety and that of others:

Do not carry others on your bicycle unless it is built for more than one rider.

Do not "hook on" to other vehicles.

Do not ride on sidewalks.

Do not follow other vehicles too closely.

Obey traffiic lights and signs.

On one-way streets, look for the arrow and go only in the direction indicated.

Always keep to the right of the travelled part of the way.

Be careful in stopping and turning and always give proper hand signals.

Do not ride two or more abreast.

Do not weave or cut in and out of traffic.

Do not ride without hands on the handle bars.

Keep close to the side of the road.

Your number plate is a sign of your willingness to obey the law and to co-operate with the police. It is also a protection against theft of your bicycle. The number plate will last longer, will not be lost and will be clearly visible if you attach it securely to the rear mudguard.

Remember, bicycle riding is dangerous. Your disregard of the law or the traffic regulations or your own recklessness or carelessness may cause serious injury or even death to others and yourself.

Charles J. Harrold,
Chief of Police.

RED AND BLACK SHOULD BE READY FOR LEXINGTON A WEEK FROM SATURDAY

A scrimmage against the Concord High squad at Concord last Tuesday evening was teamed "very satisfactory" by Coach Henry T. Knowlton and his aides. Commenting on the scrimmage session, Coach Knowlton said that if the improvement shown after only one week's practice continues, Winchester should be set to do justice to an exacting schedule and to play winning football here against Lexington next week Saturday.

Candidates are still fighting for positions along the forward wall and in the backfield. With 62 upperclassmen to pick from, chances look bright. Pete Hutchins, Sandy Stevenson, Pete Kirwan and Dave Hutchins were only a few of the footballers seeking starting positions along the line.

Although information about freshman football won't become definite until next week, Coach Knowlton has discovered a great deal about the "Frosh" and says, "Prospects for freshman football are good."

Since football games must be won, one at a time, predictions of things to come is precarious. However, local football fans will have a chance to size up the Red and Black here against Lexington next Saturday, Sept. 18, and versus Swampscott here on the 25th.

Watertown, Winthrop, Stoneham, Framingham, Reading, Belmont, Wakefield, and Woburn complete the schedule.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

Three cases of dog bite were reported to the Board of Health for week ending Thursday, Sept. 9.

WINCHESTER HELP IS ASKED

The help of Winchester residents was asked today by the Volunteer Service Bureau, a Red Feather agency, which has just launched a concerted drive to recruit two thousand volunteer workers for the hospitals, settlement houses and other social agencies in Greater Boston.

The need for volunteer help has seldom been more urgent, according to Miss Harriet Parker, Director of the Bureau. "We have hundreds of pleas from hospitals," Miss Parker said in a recent interview. "They are asking for clinic receptionists, ward helpers, escorts and messengers. The settlement houses are equally badly in need of men and women who will act as leaders of young adults' clubs or children's groups. People with every imaginable hobby - crafts, games, carpentry, dramatics and story-telling are requested by the settlements."

"We can guarantee an obsorbing as well as useful job to anyone who will drop in at the Volunteer Bureau on 45 Bromfield street, or call us at HAncock 6-4766," continued Miss Parker. "Readers for blind students are frequently requested. Cars and drivers are in demand to take children and adults to clinics. Almost every type of social agency needs clerical help, both trained and untrained."

Most of the work requires two or three hours of regular service a week, morning, afternoon, or evening, but the Bureau is also tryirg to build up a reserve list of people who could be called upon in an emergency. Complete information about any of the work can be obtained from the Volunteer Service Bureau, 45 Bromfield street, Boston.

PROFESSIONAL MEETINGS HELD BY TEACHERS

The opening of Winchester Public Schools on Wednesday was preceded by a series of professional and social meetings for the entire teaching and supervisory staff.

At 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning all principals of elementary and secondary schools met with Dr. Forbes H. Norris superintendent of schools, at the administration office for the first principals' conference of the year.

During the remainder of the morning and early afternoon, teachers' meetings were held at the Lincoln School for the Lincoln and Mystic schools with Principal Marguerite Asher; at the Washington School for the Washington and Noonan Schools with Principal Leonor Rich; at the Wyman School with Principal Mabel Lowry; at the Junior High School with Principal Raymond Dickman; and at the High School with Principal Wade Grindle.

"Substance" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, September 12.

Golden Text: "We are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it." (Romans 8:24,25)

Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment: That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance; and I will fill their treasures." (Proverbs 8:20,21) Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"The substance, Life, intelligence, Truth and Love, which constitute Deity, are reflected by His creation; and when we subordinate the false testimony of the corporeal senses to the facts of Science, we shall see this true likeness and reflection everywhere." (p. 516)

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB NEWS

A Labor Day week-end is remarkable because it reduces fellow travellers to a common denominator. The office boss reaches his destination on the Cape via the New York, New Haven and Hartford line no sooner than his office boy, and in no greater comfort. The man driving a Cadillac in heavy traffic is not appreciably faster than the man driving a Ford. This past week-end saw an unprecedented number of die-hard vacationists grasping frantically for the summer's final sun and sea, and staging a mass higira to vacation points outside the Boston area. The net result is always the same. A common denominator is more truly achieved among the returning vacationists than in those departing; all are exhausted and the majority are sun-burned. Your reporter, who fool-like, fled with the rest, should have known better and remained in Winchester. He has heard that the week-end at the Boat Club was remarkable. There are those who say that it is one for the annals. It was remarkable for the Snipe sailers because of fluky and almost non-existent winds. And it was outstanding for those of the Club who participated in the Monday evening clam bake and square dance.

The Snipe fleet struggled through a week-end of light and uncertain winds. Three point score races had been scheduled, but the Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning races had to be called off because of the expiration of the time limit. Sunday afternoon offered the best breeze of the week-end and fine conditions for the rubber series of the Winchester-Medford sailers. At the end of the three separate inter-fleet series held during the summer the results were tied up in a large-sized Gordian knot, and the sail-off was to determine the inter-fleet champions. The five Winchester skippers sailed their Snipes against the five Comet skippers of the Medford Club in the Sunday afternoon race, sailing through the puffy breezes on the Lake to establish an early lead in the series. This lead, however, was knocked into a cocked hat on Monday afternoon in the final race of the day when the Medford skippers, sailing in the Winchester Snipes, finished 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, an over-whelming sweep. The first of the two-lap races on Monday afternoon had seen the Winchester skippers sailing the Medford Comets win, but not decisively enough to make up for the Medford sweep of the second race. One thing seemed to have been established, however, that Snipes, sailed in light and fluky airs can outsail Comets. But the fact cannot be denied that the Medford Boat Club won the Inter-Club Series for the summer. The Gordian knot was untied.

The only point score race of the week-end, that which was sailed on Monday morning, left a good deal to be desired in the way of sailing conditions. There is a story that a truce was broken on the Mystic Lakes that morning. We are surprised, for we thought that kind of thing occurred only between honorable and peace-loving nations. At any rate, the "Wild Hare", Jack Streeton driving, led the fleet to the finish line, followed by Mel Moller in "Jam II" and Al Litchfield in "Foray II".

The Monday evening clam bake and square dance was for the gourmets (or is the word gourmonds?), the hardy and the brave. Clams, lobsters and watermelon served al fresco had scarcely settled in the stomachs of the Club members and guests when a lad with a Beryl Ives voice and a humming guitar called the dancers to the roped-off square dance floor. There, throughout the moist and humid evening, men and suffering women went through the wild girations and inexplicable maneuvers of the square dance as it is done North of the Mason-Dixon Line. There was room to swing 'em (and that's what the men wanted) and as the evening progressed, under the watchful eyes of self-appointed first aiders, the dancers flung themselves with greater abandon into each new set and less consideration for bodily harm. Casualties were not ascertained, but it is reported that an occasional woman limped from the floor favoring a bruised toe or instep, or to repair the strap of a broken slipper. The young, heedless of the intricacies of the weavings, relied upon strength, but the older and more experienced of the participants, who, like the venerable Satch Paige couldn't "outstrong 'em", were forced to "outcute 'em".

At any rate, the Labor Day week-end common denominator was again established. Those who remained in Winchester and took part in the revelry at the Club found themselves as exhausted as those who had travelled abroad for their recreation. But one thing was certain, and like the far-wanders, the Boat Club members who had remained at home had an exceedingly busy and remarkable week-end, and were solid to a man in their appreciation to the members of the clam bake committee. The members had been recreated in spirit, if not in body, as they closed the door on another summer.

METHODIST CHURCH HAS NEW LOOK

The Crawford Memorial Methodist Church has been newly painted on the outside. Many tourists going through town this summer have stopped to take notice of the beauty of its colonial structure.

The Winnifred L. Crawford Memorial room also has been newly redecorated. Painters are also finishing the back vestry and other work so as to have everything ready for the opening Sunday this coming Sabbath.

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Sachems won the opening game in easy fashion from the V. F. W. in the semi-final round of the Town Softball League championship by a score of 11 to 0. It was a case of too much Redding for the V. F. W., plus the power hitting of Sam Tompkins and Dick Coon.

Redding displayed his best form of the season and was never in serious trouble as he effectively scattered three V. F. W. hits while giving up three bases on balls. Redding retired the first eight men in order before Doherty singled to right and then Redding retired six more batters in order to account for fourteen out of fifteen before the Vets put another runner on base. As is usually the case with such gilt edge twirling, his mates accorded him excellent support and gave the Vets no opportunity to start a rally.

Twelve Sachems batted in the first inning in which they scored six runs on nine hits. The big blow of the inning was a grand slam home run down the left field foul line by Tompkins which really settled the issue. Eight more Sachems batted in the fourth inning in which they scored three runs on two hits and two errors. Dick Coon drove in the three runs in this frame with a tremendous home run to left center.

The semi-final round continues with the second game between the Sachems and the V. F. W. scheduled for last night and the second game between the St. Mary's and the Sons of Italy to be played tonight. If a third game in either series is necessary it will be played on Sunday afternoon. If no third game is necessary, the final round will start on Sunday afternoon and continue each evening until the winner of the best of out five series is determined.

The Sons of Italy defeated the St. Mary's by a score of 7 to 4 in the first game of their semi-final round of the Town Softball League championship. Although the St. Mary's out hit their opponents, their seven errors kept them in trouble and gave the Sons of Italy three unearned runs which was the margin of victory. The St. Mary's were guilty also of very poor base running which deprived them of several opportunities to add to their total.

It was a close game until the last of the sixth when the Sons of Italy scored three times to take a commanding 7 to 2 lead. The St. Mary's staged a belated rally in the last inning to score two runs but again poor judgment on the bases cost them an opportunity to keep the rally alive. Bill Fiore drove in three runs for the Sons of Italy to pace their attack while Bob Fiore captured batting honors for the evening with three hits in four trips to the plate.

NEW SCHOOL TO OPEN HERE

Winchester will be proud to add the name of the Winchester Country Day School to its lists of private schools when that school opens its doors September 15 to begin its first year under the direction of Mrs. Walter M. Ennis, Jr., at 91 Grove street. Opening this year as a preschool for three and four year olds, the school is planned to develop into a preschool and primary. Mrs. Ennis hopes to add a grade a year and as soon as possible to construct a new school plant adapted to a program for children from nursery through third grade.

This year the nursery school will meet in the Ennis home, where Mrs. Ennis has given over her entire first floor, linoleumed it and adjusted it to a nursery program which offers a morning of constructive play-indoor and outdoor-music, stories, rhythm work, and juice refreshment and rest between 9 a. m. and noon. Transportation will be furnished by the school's own station wagon. Head teacher under the director will be Mrs. Joan Hennigar of Melrose, who is a graduate of Wheaton College and has trained at Nursery Training School, and B. U.

For Mrs. Ennis, September 15 marks the fulfillment of a long held dream, testified to as far back as her Winchester High School year book, in which she wrote down "Ambition: to have my own school". Since that time she has gone in straight steps toward her goal, training at Wheelock College after high school, and following that with a variety of teaching experience gathered many places including the Lincoln, Mass., Public Schools; Nottingham Play School at Belmont; Buckingham School in Cambridge; Rivers Country Day School in Brookline; and Belmont Day School.

Mr. Walter Ennis, Jr., is co-owner of the Winchester Country Day School, and as he himself is in the field of Visual Education, their interests come together naturally to make the school a wholehearted family project.

RETURN FROM WESTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon W. Jones have recently returned from a five weeks trip to the West Coast by way of the Canadian Rockies. They stopped at Banff Lake Louise and Emerald Lake. In Seattle, Washington, they spent two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. David Ward, formerly of this town. While in Seattle they spent a very pleasant evening with Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton and family at their charming home overlooking Lake Washington and from which can be seen the snow covered Peak of Mount Rainier. Mr. Rushton was at one time pastor of the First Baptist Church.

From Seattle Mr. and Mrs. Jones continued on through Oregon to San Francisco and Los Angeles. They stopped over at Grand Canyon before returning to Boston by way of Chicago.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH NEWS

Second Congregational Church will begin the new church year next Sunday morning, when several additions to the church program will be in effect. The church school will meet at ten o'clock with the Primary Department under the direction of Mrs. Warren Saunders and the Secondary Department led by Mrs. Rony Snyder. Older children in the church school will attend the service of worship at 11 as part of their regular program.

A half hour vesper service will be held at 5 o'clock to which all in the community are welcome. The service will be conducted by the Minister assisted by a member of Pilgrim Fellowship with music by the organist. Following Vespers Pilgrim Fellowship for young people in grades 8-12 will meet. During the year the young people will study their own church as well as other churches in the community. A number of active laypeople in Second church have been invited to speak to the group explaining the various aspects of the life of Second Church.

At 5:30 each Sunday the minister will teach a class for older young people and adults on the History of the Christian Church. This class will study the important events in church history, become familiar with the outstanding figures of the church and read selections from classical Christian literature.

In addition to this Sunday schedule there will be several groups meeting each month. The Bethany Society meeting on the first Tuesday and the Missionary Society on the third Thursday afternoons are service groups for women of the Parish. The Merry Martha's for women in their 20's and 30's meets in homes every other Wednesday evening to do sewing and other handiwork for the church.

A monthly Study group taught by the minister meets on the first Thursday evening to study the Life and Teachings of Jesus, and the Adult Group, meeting on the third Thursday evening of each month brings to the church eminent speakers from greater Boston churches, universities and social institutions.

Second church will offer a cordial welcome to all who wish to attend its services and participate in its activities.

FREE ADULT EDUCATION SERVICE

The Prospect Union Educational Exchange, 18 Brattle street, Harvard Square, Cambridge, TRowbridge 3080, a Red Feather Service which charges no fees, is a clearing house for educational opportunities of Greater Boston for adults and everyone is invited to bring their educational problems by telephone, letter or personal interview. Zelda Lions is Director.

An annual publication, "Educational Opportunities of Greater Boston", lists 4,000 approved courses in subjects covering every letter of the alphabets. Both public and private schools are included and they range in scope from elementary courses in reading and writing and learning a trade to advanced academic courses and engineering. Vocational courses, hobby courses, homemaking, cultural and recreational courses are all found in this listing of schools, all of which are investigated. Anyone who wishes to own a copy may secure one for one dollar, but if you wish to use it temporarily, it may be consulted at the office of the Exchange or in the public libraries.

CURRY SCHOOL OF DANCING

The Curry School of Dancing is now opening its 26th season and takes pleasure in announcing the opening of a Boston office at 350 Commonwealth avenue. This change in no way affects the scheduling of their classes. The fact that the school now teaches classes in fourteen different Massachusetts and New Hampshire towns made a central location necessary.

Therefore, information about the classes now forming may be received by writing either 350 Commonwealth avenue, Boston 15, or 76 Hillside avenue, Arlington 74, or by telephoning COpley 7-2546, ARlington 5-2409 or ARlington 5-5923.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Fortnightly opens the club season with a dessert bridge on Tuesday, Sept. 31, at 1 o'clock, at the Winchester Boat Club. Entertainment will be furnished by the dramatic committee, followed by bridge. Those who do not wish to play may enjoy good company, beautiful scenery and cool breezes. Come one, come all, and bring your friends to help swell the building fund. The affair is under the able direction of Mrs. Sidney A. Burr and her committee. Mrs. George Budd and her committee will have charge of refreshments.

Literature Group

Attention, please, all those who are interested in the Literature Committee meetings. A very interesting program has been arranged by Miss Eva M. Sherman and her committee, the subject being "Representative Writers of the Early Twentieth Century," including essayists, poets, novelists and dramatists. Watch the Star for further information about the opening meeting on November 1.

RETURNS TO STEPHENS COLLEGE

Miss Charlotte Anne Underwood of Salisbury street, third year student at Stephens College, will arrive on campus Sunday, September 12. An important event during the September 13-17 registration period will be an all-college convocation on Monday evening, September 13, as the formal opening of the 116th year in the history of Stephens College.

Miss Underwood is the daughter of Mrs. Genevra C. Underwood of 61 Salisbury street.

Our Policy on PONTIAC Deliveries and Prices

Despite the fact that Pontiac has built over a half-million cars since the resumption of production after the war, demand still exceeds supply. In the face of this production record, those who place orders now will still experience some delay in delivery. If you are among the many people who feel that Pontiac represents an outstanding value—and wish to order a Pontiac for future delivery—you will be interested in the following policy on retail distribution which we, as Pontiac dealers, will observe:

WE WANT YOUR ORDER

And the sooner you place it, the sooner you will get delivery. So if you want a Pontiac, order it now.

WE WILL ESTIMATE DELIVERY DATE

Due to conditions beyond our control, we cannot give you an exact date of delivery. But based on anticipated future shipments from the factory, we will, when you place your order, give you an honest estimate of when you may expect your car. Such estimates will be reviewed any time on request.

ORDERS FILLED BY PRIORITY

A definite proportion of the cars we receive from the factory is set aside for preferential delivery to users whose work is in the public welfare and to others with certain occupational requirements. Otherwise, all orders will be filled on the basis of the time when they are received.

YOU PAY FACTORY-SUGGESTED PRICE

Due to changing economic conditions, we cannot, when you place your order, tell you exactly how much the car will cost when delivered in the future. But, at the time of delivery you will be charged only the factory suggested price on your model—which will be shown in a published list of local prices.

YOU SPECIFY ACCESSORIES

While most of our customers order their cars equipped with accessories, we do not force accessories as a condition of sale. You specify what accessories you want when ordering your car, and these are the ones (and the only ones) it will carry when delivered. Some items may be lacking due to current shortages; but none will be added.

REGARDING TRADE-INS

Naturally, if you have a car to trade, we would like to have it in order to take care of our regular used car customers. Our appraisals are fair, based on current conditions. But if you do not have a car to turn in, we still want your order and will accept it for delivery based on the conditions outlined above.

Since this is our "home town", our business and its future is based on our good relations with the people of this community. We are most happy that so many people here—as all over the country—have made Pontiac their number one choice as a new car.

Nothing pleases us more than to turn over the keys of a new Pontiac to one of the many people whose orders we have, because we know they have chosen well—for Pontiac is always a thoroughly good car, and a thoroughly good value, this year, next year, any year.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Three special events last week brought the 1948 playground season to a very successful close. Last Thursday forty-seven youngsters from Loring Avenue and Leonard Field enjoyed an outing at Crane's Beach in Ipswich. A bus picked up the children early at the playgrounds for a full day of swimming in the ocean and sun bathing on the beautiful sand dunes of Crane's Beach. Some of the children had never had the experience of swimming in salt water and the big breakers were a special treat to them. It was a long day and a full day for all but most of them hated to leave when their time was up and just had to have one more dip. Special thanks were voted by the youngsters to Ann Costello, instructor at Loring Avenue, for her part in making arrangements for and carrying out the details of the trip.

On Friday afternoon the baseball champions of the three divisions of the Playground Baseball League and the younger boys' softball champions were the guests of the management of the Boston Braves. Twelve members of each championship team, or a total of forty-eight, made the trip by bus and enjoyed seeing the league-leading Boston Braves defeat the Phillies behind the top notch pitching of Johnny Sain. The boys saw Jeff Heath and Eddie Miller bang out home runs to provide the big thrill of the game. The usual arguments took place among the boys on the respective merits of the Braves and the Red Sox, but even the Red Sox rooters enjoyed the contest and particularly Sain's masterful pitching.

The final event of the season was a big weinie roast on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. James Breen of Wendell street. Mrs. Breen kindly offered the use of her big out door fireplace and spacious lawn to the youngsters of the Loring Avenue playground for the evening. Thirty-four children were present for the coast and the quantity of weinies consumed was amazing. After all had eaten their fill, a series of games, planned by instructors Ann Costello and John Stevenson, were played and the evening ended with a song fest. It was a very happy occasion and even the weather man cooperated by providing a perfect evening for the youngsters.

The Division of University Extension announced today that Frederick Parks of 208 Forest street, electrical engineer, would instruct a course in Machine Drafting, beginning Wednesday, Oct 6, at 8 p. m., and Mechanical Drawing, beginning Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 6 p. m., both courses to be given at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

DISCARDED ITEMS

Many homes have articles that are of no further use. Usually in the attic or spare room. Recently I purchased the contents of an estate stored in 1901. Deterioration had spoiled many things. Just think of it, 47 years in storage doing no one a bit of good. Don't be a hoarder. Take a look and if you have an old Singer, antiques of any kind, china, clocks, or bric-a-brac

MOUNT KATAHDIN TRIP

A group of Explorers from Post 6, Boy Scouts of America, returned Tuesday, August 31, from a week at Mount Katahdin, a mountain that lies deep in the wilderness of northern Maine.

The base camp was established in a shelter at Chimney Pond, at an elevation of 2,900 feet. There they were sheltered in a grove of trees, but could still enjoy a fine view of the Great Basin with its rough serrated crest line forming a tremendous semicircular amphitheatre.

The days were fully taken up with hikes over the rough scenic trails, the highlight being the climb through the "Chimney", a steep couloir with its four chockstones, where roping up was required. The party was led up this route by two experienced rock climbers of the Appalachian Mountain Club, Hector Towle, of Reading, and Francis Parsons of Winchester.

The group was composed of the following men and boys of Post 6, Francis Parsons and Stafford Rogers, leaders, W. Brad Hersey, Alfred G. Nelson, Elliott Hersey, Phil Nelson, John Holdsworth, William SuHivan, Edward Cullen, Fisher Wolfe and Fred Burtt.

The trip was so successful that plans are now under way for another trip next year. Every member of the group carried out their work details in a fine manner, special commendation should be given to John Holdsworth, our Junior Maine Guide, for his excellent job in cooking. His hot rolls, ginger bread and chocolate cake were very much appreciated.

ROTARY NEWS

At the last of the summer session meetings for this season the Rotary Club met this week with President Don Simonds again presiding. Attendance shows a slight increase and there were three make-ups this week. Milne Blanchard made up in Wolfsboro, Ralph Bonnell made up in Woburn, of all places, and faithful Church Hindes again met with the Vergennes, Vt., Rotary.

The meeting produced little in the way of highlights or new business. Charlie Koch teased the members into some rather good singing and there were several committee reports which were more or less repetitious for the benefit of those just returned from vacations.

One innovation was the drawing for a prize at the end of the meeting for those faithfuls who stayed through to the end of the meeting. In a trial run on how it was done Sam McNeilly won the mythical award but in the final Don Heath won handily over all comers.

The Hospital Committee reported by Al Elliott, stated that the tickets were going well but not coming back in sold and urged everyone to start really working. Vice-president Charlie is the only one who really has shown progress and he stands out with 275 sold to date.

STATE PRIMARY

Small Turn Out Here With Only 1428 Votes Cast

There was a small turn out in Winchester for the State Primary election Tuesday. Only 1428 votes were cast of which 1291 were Republican and 137 were Democratic. Governor Bradford was Winchester's choice for that nomination by a big margin, and Edwin L. Olander took the nomination for Auditor by over 200 votes over Russell A. Wood.

On the Democratic ticket Paul A. Dever topped Tobin by almost a hundred and Sullivan headed the ticket for Lieutenant Governor.

The vote by precincts was:

Precinct	Rep.	Dem.
1	131	13
2	202	28
3	333	22
4	306	10
5	287	19
6	32	45

WINCHESTER LODGE'S COMMUNITY FESTIVAL IN PROGRESS

The Winchester Lodge's Community Festival is now on progress on the Shore Road Field and will continue tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night. The proceeds of this affair are being put into the organizations Building Fund which will build a Community Recreation Center on land which is owned by the Winchester Lodge on Swanton street.

The carnival atmosphere has prevailed on the Shore Road since Wednesday night where free movies are being shown. Merry-go-round, Ferris Wheel, Chair-plane and several Kiddie rides are on the grounds. The booths present an interesting and varied display of prizes. An interesting and busy booth is the Italian Products Booth.

The committee in charge has worked hard to make this a success, as their goal is to increase the Building Fund of the Winchester Sons of Italy Lodge. The Lodge is going to build a Youth Recreation Center on land they have purchased on Swanton street.

WALLACE ELECTED VICE-PRESIDENT

Dr. John R. Wallace of Winchester was elected Vice-President of the American Denture Society at the close of its annual meeting at the Congress Hotel, Chicago, September 12.

SELECTIVE SERVICE HOURS

The Selective Service office in the basement of the Town Hall will be open from noon to 5 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. on September 17th and 18th. Men born in 1930 prior to September 19, 1930 will register on these dates.

KICKOFF AT 2:30 P. M.

BYFORD — HICKS

A host of Winchester residents are interested in the wedding of August 28, at Concord, Mass., of Miss Margaret Crozier Hicks, daughter of Mrs. William Hicks and the late Colonel Hicks of Lebanon and Mount Gretna, Penn., and Mr. Robert Wakefield Byford, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Byford of 195 Highland avenue, this town.

The wedding took place at the Concord Congregational church at an afternoon ceremony performed by Rev. John Wallace, pastor of the church. Decorations at the ceremony were white gladioli, larkspur and pom-pom dahlias, and the wedding march and incidental music was by the organist of the church.

The couple were attended by Miss Patricia Light of Lebanon, Penn., honor attendant, and Mr. Robert Spofford, best man. The bride wore a blue grey gabardine dressmaker suit with corsage of white orchids and stephanotis. Her costume included white shoes and white and rose hat of ostrich feathers and rose gloves. The honor attendant wore a dark brown faille suit dress with bustle back, coffee colored picture hat and shoes and white gloves. She wore a corsage of white roses.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Colonial Inn, Concord, attended by relatives and close friends of the bride and groom. The bride's mother wore a blue crepe dress with matching hat and grey shoes and bag, with a corsage of white gardenias. The mother of the groom was gowned in deep green crepe, brown hat with matching shoes and bag. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple are now on a wedding trip through the White Mountains. The bride attended the Katherine Gibbs School in Boston and the groom, a graduate of Winchester High, attended Roxbury Latin School, and Boston University after serving in the Army Medical Corps.

COWAN — WARSKY

At a Sunday afternoon wedding at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church on September 12, Miss Natalie Ethel Warsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Warsky of 12 Stowell road, was married to Mr. Francis Cowan, Jr., son of Mr. Frank Cowan of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. H. B. Beard of Milford, Conn. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Snook, pastor of the church at two o'clock amid a profusion of white gladioli and ferns.

The bride wore a suit of biege gabardine trimmed in brown, with brown accessories and white orchid corsage. Miss Barbara Warsky, the bride's sister, was honor attendant, wearing a suit of dusty blue with brown accessories and white pom-pom corsage. Mr. Donald E. Thomas of Milford, Conn., was best man. The wedding march and incidents music was played with Miss Marion Howood.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, which was decorated with white gladioli.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School '46 and of Colby Junior College '48. Mr. Cowan attended New York Military Academy and is now in the senior class at Norwich University, where he is a member of Lambda Chi Alpera. The couple will make their present home on Norwich campus.

GREENE — EBERLE

A wedding of much interest to Winchester's young people was that of last Saturday afternoon when Miss Patricia Louise Eberle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Eberle of 49 Cabot street, was married at a candlelight service at the First Congregational Church to Mr. Stephen Cutler Greene, son of Mrs. Charles E. Greene and the late Mr. Greene of 329 Highland avenue. Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony at four o'clock. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and ferns, and Mr. J. Albert Wilson, organist at the church, rendered a program of organ music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding dress of ivory white slipper satin with Venetian lace bertha and matching Juliet cap holding her veil. Her bouquet was of camelias and stephanotis. Miss Elizabeth Jennings was honor attendant, wearing white marquesette with eyelet bertha and taffeta sash, and a white coronet for her hair. Her bouquet was star shaped and of red roses. Mr. Charles E. Greene, brother of the groom, was best man.

The six bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Fry of Ridgewood, N. J., Louise Lane, cousin of the bride, Priscilla Root, Virginia Lovejoy, Susan Hight and Corinne Marion of Washington, D. C. They were dressed in white marquesette with eyelet bertha and taffeta sash and white coronet for their hair. They also carried star shaped bouquets of red roses.

The following reception lasting until six-thirty was held at the Music Hall, the couple being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Eberle and Mrs. Greene. Mrs. Eberle's dress was of blue crepe with a corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Greene wore tan crepe with corsage of yellow roses. Decorations at the Music Hall were white chrysanthemums and fern. Ushers for both the ceremony and reception were Gordon McGovern, Nelson Evart of Newton, John Patterson, John Hardie of Concord, Donald Armstrong and Theodore Atkinson.

Both the bride and groom are Winchester High School graduates. Mrs. Greene is a graduate of Colby Junior College and her husband, a graduate of Yale University, is now attending Yale Divinity School. They will make their home for the present at Milford, Conn., upon their return from a honeymoon at Brewster.

ARTHUR W. HILL

Mr. Arthur W. Hill, well known to many Winchester residents, died at the Winchester Hospital on Thursday morning, September 16. He was 72 years of age. Mr. Hill was a native of Nashua, N. H., the son of James and Emma L. (Conrey) Hill.

He married the late Lila O. Chandler of Nashua, N. H., and following his wedding made his home in Winchester for several years, and following a brief absence returned to make his home here for the past 20 years. He had been ill since last spring, retiring in June as Treasurer of the Enterprise Co-operative Bank of East Boston. He was a director of this bank at the time of his death as well as a trustee of the East Boston Savings Bank and trustee of the East Boston Unitarian Society until last June. He was a member of the Winchester Unitarian Church and had served as a church officer, and was a member of Balbec Lodge of Masons of East Boston.

Mr. Hill made his Winchester home at 51 Washington street. He is survived by three daughters, Miss Olive C. Hill of this town, Mrs. Richard H. Staples (Virginia) of Winthrop and Mrs. Willard D. Chandler (Natalie) of Des Plaines, Ill. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Harry W. Dotten of this town.

Funeral services will be held at the Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church on Saturday, September 18, at 2:00 p. m. Rev. Paul H. Chapman officiating. The burial will be in Edgewood Cemetery, Nashua, N. H.

WALTER U. EDDY

Mr. Walter Updike Eddy of 20 Bacon street, died at his home on Saturday in his 82nd year. He was a native of Providence, R. I., the son of the late John and Caroline Matilda Updike Eddy of that city, and husband of the late Alice Bradford Eddy. He leaves a son, Bradford U. Eddy, with whom he made his home.

Funeral services were held at the Church of the Epiphany on Wednesday noon, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church officiating. The burial which was private, was at Swan Point, Providence.

NEW WING AT MARYCLIFF OPENS

Archbishop Cushing Will Bless New Wing Sunday Afternoon

His Excellency, Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, will bless the recently completed wing of Marycliff Academy, High street, Winchester, on Sunday afternoon, September 19, at three o'clock. His Excellency will also speak for the occasion and officiate at Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, which will take place outdoors, if weather permits.

Classes began in the new school building on September 16 and the Religious of Christian Education, who conduct the Academy, are now preparing a simple program for the ceremony.

After Benediction there will be Open House so that the guests may visit the school building, the residence and the annex.

Through the courtesy of Reverend James P. Ryan, the St. Joseph C. Y. O. All-Boys Band of Medford will furnish the music for the ceremony and will afterwards entertain the guests with a concert. The St. Joseph Band has won the Archdiocesan Championship for the past three years.

A large gathering of parents of the pupils, alumnae and friends of Marycliff are expected to attend this ceremony at which His Excellency, the Archbishop, will make his first public appearance since his return from Rome.

MISS JAYNE EDINGTON WED TO MR. A. WILLIAM COOLIDGE

Saturday afternoon Miss Jayne Carol Edington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Scott Edington of Pine street, Winchester and Manchester, became the bride of Mr. A. William Coolidge, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Humphreys Coolidge of Wenham. The 3 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Louis J. Gallagher at "The Spruces", the Manchester summer home of the bride's parents, and a garden reception followed.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess style white satin gown with a sweetheart neckline, a rose point bertha and a long train. Her rose point veil, which had been worn by the bridegroom's grandmother, was caught to a wreath of orange blossoms, and the bridal bouquet combined lilies and bouvardia with a white orchid center.

Mrs. James Harris Dudley of Manchester was her sister's matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Humphreys Coolidge of Wenham, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Aurelia Ives Bannes of Bristol, Ct. With their off-the-shoulder gowns of pale green satin they wore emerald green horsehair picture hats. The matron of honor carried long-stemmed yellow gladioli and the bridesmaids' flowers were cream colored gladioli.

Helen and Alexandra Chapman of Wenham, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls. They wore pale green over yellow organdy with yellow horsehair halo hats and carried old-fashioned nosegays.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Edington wore a brown lace gown with a pale green hat and a corsage of pale green orchids. Mrs. Coolidge, the bridegroom's mother was gowned in pale blue chiffon and lace with a flowered hat.

Mr. Edward Cole Coolidge of Wenham was best man for his brother and the ushers, headed by Mr. F. Burnham Chapman of Wenham, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, included Mr. Frederick R. Edington, brother of the bride, and Mr. James Harris Dudley, brother-in-law of the bride, both of Manchester; Mr. Alvin F. Sortwell of Beverly Farms, Mr. Edward R. Byrnes of Beverly, and Mr. Russell A. Whitney of Watertown.

The bride was graduated from the Knox School in Cooperstown, N. Y., and attended the Mary C. Wheeler School in Providence, R.I. The bridegroom attended Proctor Academy and served three years with the Navy in the Pacific theater.

ERNEST J. CARROLL

Ernest J. Carroll, 42 year old Winchester resident passed away at a Boston hospital Thursday, September 9th.

Mr. Carroll who made his home at 26 Swanton street had been ailing since the first of the year and within the past six months underwent a series of operations but had appeared to be improving in health until his sudden death. He was a sheet metal worker by trade and up until his recent illness had been associated for nearly a decade with Stanley E. Priggin Co. of Boston.

He was born in Pinehurst, N. C., in October 1906 the son of Henry J. and Mary (Fay) Carroll. Except for a period of about 6 years when he made his home in Everett he had resided in Winchester most of his life, being educated in Winchester schools. He graduated with the Winchester High School class of 1923 and was also a graduate of the Franklin Technical Institute.

Surviving him are his wife, Agnes Russell Carroll; 3 brothers, Fred W., Henry J., Frank J., all of this town and three sisters, Mrs. Laura M. Joyce of Medford, Mrs. Violet M. Fitzgerald of Waltham and Mrs. Barbara E. Dixon of Woburn.

The funeral was held from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home, 177 Washington street, on Monday, September 13 at 8:15 a. m. with high mass of Requiem at St. Mary's Church at 9:00 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery. Robert J. Supple, who was celebrant at the mass, also read the committal prayers at the cemetery.

MARJORIE C. WALLACE

Mrs. Marjorie Caroline (Mobbs) Wallace, daughter of Mrs. Elsie M. Mobbs of 47 Vine street, and the late Wallace W. Mobbs, died Friday, Sept. 10, at the Cambridge Sanatorium after a long illness.

Mrs. Wallace was born March 8, 1910, attended the Winchester schools and was graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1927. She attended Burdett College in Boston, and later worked for the Winchester Water Department in their office on Lake street.

In 1937 she married James Warren Wallace, and has two daughters who survive her, Carole Ann and Marjorie Jean. She was a member of the First Congregational Church and was formerly a member of the Winchester Rebekah Lodge.

In addition to her daughters, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Elsie M. Mobbs; two brothers, Clifford E., of Winchester, and Dexter W. Mobbs of Bridgeport, Conn.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 3 p. m. from the home of her mother, with Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Burial was in the family lot at Wildwood Cemetery with Dr. Chidley reading the committal prayers.

She was a native of Ireland and was 85 years of age, having made her home in this town for the past 30 years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John Laughran and Miss Josephine O'Neil, both of Lebanon street.

Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Church on Thursday morning, September 16, at eight o'clock, Rev. Fr. Robert J. Supple officiating. The burial was in Albany, N. Y.

WITHERELL ESTATE REPORTED SOLD

Persistant reports about town state that Archbishop Richard J. Cushing has purchased the so-called Warren F. Witherell estate on Church street at Glen road. Reports are that the present mansion on the estate will be removed and a Catholic institution erected. The STAR has been thus far unable to verify the report.

The Witherell estate was originally erected by Abijah Thompson and following his death was purchased by the late Warren F. Witherell. The estate is assessed on 249,038 sq. ft.

MISS MARY E. BUTLER

Oldest Store Clerk in Winchester Died Tuesday

Miss Mary Elizabeth Butler, oldest store clerk in Winchester until she retired in December, 1945, died at the Winchester Hospital on Tuesday night. She made her home at 13 Stone avenue with her sister and would have observed her 83rd birthday next month. She was widely known to hundreds of Winchester people.

Miss Butler was born here in Winchester and attended the Winchester schools, graduating from the High School. She was the daughter of Edward and Honora Butler. Following her graduation she worked in various stores in Winchester until 1901, when she went with Miss Fanny J. Bowser in her dry goods store on Mt. Vernon street. She continued with Miss Bowser and until the store was taken over by Mr. G. Raymond Bancroft in 1910, and continued with Mr. Bancroft until her retirement. During this long term of service she became a well known figure to almost every woman in town, and in 1912, when the steam fire engine tipped over at Mt. Vernon street and Winchester place, it was she who snatched a new quilt off the store counter and went to the asistance of John Tansey the driver. Although not in the best of health for some time, it was not until Labor Day that she was taken seriously ill and taken to the hospital.

Her only immediate surviving relative is her sister, Mrs. Catherine T. MacDonald of Stone avenue, but she leaves three nephews and two nieces: Mr. William B. MacDonald, building inspector of the town, Mr. Edward G. MacDonald of 8 Parker road, Mr. Leonard B. MacDonald of 13 Stone avenue, Mrs. Richard Moody (Catherine) of Portland, Me., and Mrs. Henry Perry (Helen) of Atlantic.

Requiem high mass will be celebrated this Friday morning at nine o'clock at St. Mary's Church. The burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

The evening session will be called to order by the Moderator at 7:15. Following the devotional service, which will be conducted by Rev. H. C. Mathews of the First Baptist Church of Reading, there will be special music by the choir of the local church under the direction of Raymond Sheppard Pugh, organist and choir director. The main address will be given by Dr. S. Paul Jefferson, former pastor of Park Street Baptist Church, Framingham.

All members and friends of the Winchester Church are invited to attend these sessions.

LADIES LODGE SPONSORS NEW STONEHAM LODGE

For nearly an hour, on last Sunday, September 12, at the Marconi Club, 47 Pine street, Stoneham, the Winchester Degree team of the Order of Sons of Italy held the large audience spellbound as they smartly went through their complicated paces of initiating and installing the members of the new Lodge. More than a score of new members were initiated, dressed in beautiful, crisp afternoon gowns of the latest designs. Hosts for the new Ladies Lodge were the Winchester Ladies who ably indoctrinated the young members throughout the early spring and summer in order to prepare the girls for this important day.

Dr. Angelo Maietta, Chairman of the Organization Committee of the Grand Lodge spent many patient and unselfish hours in instructing the young women prior to their initiation and was present to witness the culmination of his efforts. The Grand Venerable of the Orders Sons of Italy, Anthony Julian was the guest of honor, and addressed the new members with an inspiring talk.

Many visiting officers from other lodges throughout the State were on hand to lend an air of fraternity and conviviality to the gay ceremony, which was followed by varied assortments of delicate Italian pastries accompanied by soft drinks of all descriptions.

The atmosphere of the whole ceremony was almost that of a gay wedding, light and happy, attended by young and old alike, gathered together to further the ideals of the Order, Equality, Liberty and Fraternity.

Among the newly elected officers of the Stoneham Ladies' Lodge, all of Stoneham, are:

Venerable, Madeline Lupo.

Recording Secretary, Mary Valente.

Financial Secretary, Angeline Gigante.

Treasurer, Ida Eramo.

ROTARY NEWS

Many if not all of the summer members had returned so that this week's meeting was a large one in attendance. President Don Simonds, who presided, expressed the rather wistful hope that all future meetings would be as large if not larger. Make-ups this week were scattered and more than usual. Along with the ole faithful Church Hindes in Vermont and Jimmy Cullen at Falmouth there was Gus Hakanson away down yonder in Kinsport, Tennessee, Glenn Browning away out yonder in Colorado Springs, Colorado and getting nearer to home Bill Hevey in Portsmouth, N. H. with finally Reggie Holm caught in Stoneham with no place to eat lunch.

After the usual opening song and a short space for stuffing in some lunch Charlie Murphy announced that next week's meeting would have Ed Powers of the Boston Garden as guest speaker. Other announcements concerning the business of the club and a short resume of this month's Rotarian Magazine by Gene Pollard completed the business part of the meeting.

Charlie Harrold was the guest speaker of the day and he gave a very fine classification talk on the extra duties of the police department of our town. Just to enumerate a few that Charlie mentioned there is : safety for the school children (incidently with a greatly undermanned force) dog nuisance which consists of taking care of barking dog complaints; ambulance calls which are many a year in an old ambulance; fire alarm calls which requires at least two patrolmen at each fire; house trying in the summer or any other time that people are away for any extended time; accidents in any street in town; and all this in addition to the usual duties of all police for the protection of life and property, apprehension of criminals, keeping the peace and detection of crime. It gave every Rotarian there a better understanding of the immense amount of work carried on in our fine department under the very able leadership of Chief Charlie Harrold.

Mrs. Agnes Sullivan, candy attendant at the Winchester Theatre, is enjoying a week's vacation.

GENERAL KENNEY TO HEAD SUPER-CELEBRATION TOMORROW

The people of New England will have their eyes on the skies Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 18 and 19 when the United States Air Force will celebrate their first anniversary as an autonomous branch of the Armed Forces.

Gen. George C. Kenney, Commanding General of the Strategic Air Command at Andrews Air Force Base in Washington, will arrive by plane to participate in the ceremonies to be held in Boston and at Hanscom Airport in Bedford. He will be on hand to greet the crews of the two B-29s that will arrive at Bedford at 12 noon Sept. 18. He will also be present to award the first prize to the winner of the New England Model Meet. Later, as reviewing officer for the parade to be held at the airport, he will place a wreath on the memorial to the Air Force dead of World Wars I and II.

In the evening, General Kenney will be the guest speaker at the Air Force Day banquet which is to be held in the Commonwealth Armory at 8 p. m. Highlighted for the evening will be entertainment by several stars of screen and radio.

Out at the airport in Bedford, there will be "Open House" for the public on September 18 and 19. The New England model meet will take place from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. on the 18th and will be followed by the Air Show in the afternoon. Four F-80 Shooting Star jets will be on hand from the 4th Fighter Group of Andrews Air Force Base and they will escort the B-36 which is to appear at 10 a. m. over Boston and will remain in the area for 30 minutes. Later, they will escort the two B-29s which are arriving from Furstenfelbruck, Germany.

In the afternoon of both days will be seen demonstrations by the latest bombers and fighters of the United States Air Force among which will be F-47s, F-51s, F-80 Jets, F-82s, B-17s, B-25s, B-26s, B-29s and several commercial type planes such as the DC-4 and the Constellation. Among the static displays will be demonstrations of the latest developments in aviation which are being presented by various industries through the efforts of the Air Materiel Command Procurement Field Office in Boston, the Aeronautical Research Foundation which will make quieted aircraft for its debut, General Electric's jet engine and turbo supercharger, the latest in aviation medicine, weather, communications and electronics.

The 67th Fighter Wing of the Air National Guard will also demonstrate their strength by their display of air power and the U. S. Navy will pass overhead as a birthday salute.

FIRST MEETING OF REPUBLICAN 21 CLUB

The first meeting of the Winchester Republican "21" Club will be held Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 8 p. m., at Masonic Hall. G. Sherman Blair, Jr., state president, will preside.

The speaker will be Mr. Floyd H. Gilbert, assistant attorney general. He is a veteran of five and a half years service in the Pacific theater of war., A member of the Plymouth County Republican Club, his subject will be "The Importance of Youth to Their Community and Party."

Officers will be elected at this meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Whenever possible, meetings will be scheduled during school vacations so that college students may attend.

All young people between the ages of 18 and 21 are cordially invited to attend.

This is an excellent opportunity to take active interest in civic affairs.

Miss Mary Jean Browning, a junior in Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Browning, 7 Appalachian road, is a member of the freshman week committee at Cornel. Miss Browning is active this week in welcoming 300 freshmen to the campus of the Iowa college. Opening week activities include a testing program, social affairs and a freshman talent show Saturday evening.

WINCHESTER WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB TO HAVE MANY NOTABLE EVENTS

The first board meeting of the fall season was held recently at the home of Mrs. William C. Cusack, president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club.

Programs for a most interesting year were approved by the board. The month of October will be an extremely active one for club members beginning with the first meeting which is scheduled for Wednesday, October 6. Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers will be the guest speaker.

The ways and means chairman, Mrs. Clarence A. Roberts, has arranged for the annual money-raising event which will feature a Fashion Show by Bonwit Teller of Boston. Invitations will be sent to members to attend this important occasion which will take place at the High School Auditorium on Thursday, October 14.

Mrs. Theodore C. Browne, educational chairman, announced that Philip Cummings has been re-engaged by the Club to give a series of morning coffee lectures at the Music Hall, the first to be heard on Wednesday, October 20. Mr. Cummings, well-known news commentator, analyzes the news, interpreting the significance of each new event in current history.

Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, first vice-president of the Club, reported on the formation of the new "21 Club" with Charles W. Blanchard in charge of heading up this group of young people.

The campaign committee appointed by Mrs. Cusack consists of Mrs. Philip J. Woodward, vice-chairman; Mrs. Wellington L. Caldwell, Mrs. Vincent P. Clarke, Mrs. Walter W. Winship and the following chairmen representing the six precincts:

	Precinct
Mrs. Albert M. Thompson	1
Mrs. William S. Phippen	2

MEDICAL CENTER OF THE AIR

Dr. Richard J. Clark of this town has been appointed as Committee Chairman for the Massachusetts General Hospital to organize the hospitals' programs for the Medical Center of the Air, a public service feature of WNAC and the Yankee Network. These programs are presented in cooperation with the Boston teaching hospitals, each providing panels in rotation on subjects of popular medical interest. The programs are heard at 12:30 Saturday noons.

The first program from the Massachusetts General in the current series will be presented tomorrow noon on the subject of infantile paralysis. Dr. Allan Butler, professor of pediatrics at Harvard, Dr. Joseph Barr, professor of orthopedics at Harvard and Dr. John Ayres of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health will participate. Dr. Clark serves as moderator.

Dr. Clark is a member of the cardiology department at the Massachusetts General Hospital and is currently active with its graduate teaching work.

EDDIE MARTIN FETED

Edward Martin, the new State amateur golf champion, was feted at his home course, the Winchester Country Club, by members and outside friends on Tuesday with special exercises. Martin took part in the featured foursome with Clarence Earley, runner-up to the champion at Worcester; Johnny Chew, 1947 champion and this year's medalist; and Judge Joe Monahan. At a dinner following the play Martin was presented with a special gift by the committee.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

JUNIOR DANCE TREMENDOUS SUCCESS

Last Friday evening the Junior members of the Winchester Boat Club held a Record Party Dance and it set new records for fun and action. Under the capable guidance of Dick Moriarty who was chairman of the Junior Dance Committee which included Peter Redding, Howard Ulfelder, John Powers, Janet Turner and Sheila Scanlon, everything was planned and produced to perfection.

The party started promptly at eight and no one wanted to leave when the curfew sounded. There were prizes for elimination dances, a door prize and plenty of refreshments for everyone. A minimum charge of .35c per person was made and the committee wound up with a neat profit. The money will be placed in a new Junior Fund and applied against future fun and frolics.

Sheila Scanlon handled the publicity for the party and was also responsible for the pert poster which many of you probably admired at the Club.

No small vote of thanks is also due the oldsters who made many fine contributions to the success of the affair. These included Hostesses Mrs. C. Philip O'Rourke, Mrs. William Perkins and Mrs. John I. Donovan; Entertainment Committee members Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Beck, Mrs. Vincent Scanlon, Mrs. William Sullivan and last but by no means least, that old square dancing champion who instructed the youngsters in the Virginia Reel and other intricate dances, "Weenie" Pratt.

Fleet Facts

The Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet raced three official point score races over the past weekend, and lo and behold, there were three separate winners.

First came Ralph Swanson in the Saturday afternoon set-to. Ralph raced off to a commanding lead right at the start and won going away. The real contest revolved around the scramble for second place, a thrilling duel between Jack Streeton's "Wild Hare" and Dick Simonds in "Sinbad" with Jack finally winning the place position.

Jack came back Sunday morning to practically clinch the Club Championship with a thrilling victory. Al Litchfield's "Foray II", Simonds "Sinbad" and Jim Newman's "By-George" gave Jack plenty of cause to look back now and then, but he kept ahead with Litchfield second and Dick Simonds third.

Probably the most spectacular win of the week-end was scored by Jim Newman on Sunday afternoon. Jim had to battle every inch of the way to sustain a very slight lead over Swanson, Burleigh, Simonds and Redding. Proof of the closeness of the race and the finish, the first six boats were less than 30 seconds apart at the finish. "Swanee' scampered in second and Jack Streeton just nipped Ted Burleigh for third.

Sunday noon the Junior Snipe skippers staged a thrilling two-lap race. For more than a lap it was a ding-dong contest between Dick Simonds, Allie Litchfield, Pete Redding and Rodney Long with Simonds scoring the win, Pete Redding getting second and Rodney Long piloting Blamire's "The Foo" to third. Actually Allie Litchfield finished second but he was found guilty of a misdemeanor early in the race and was disqualified.

Final Bridge Party Wednesday, September 22

The last of the popular Ladies' Bridge parties will be held at the Club next Wednesday afternoon. The party preceding this one taxed the committees' ability to the utmost, so please, please let the committee know you're planning to attend. Mrs. John Allen is in charge of this final affair. Get in touch with her or Ed Kent.

BADMINTON WILL SOON BE HERE

Now that the sun is setting earlier and the evening temperatures drop, lucky adult Winchesterites (men and women) know that badminton can not be far off. In fact, since their tennis exercise is being restricted to Saturdays and Sundays, the members of the Winchester Badminton Club can hardly wait for Tuesday evening, Oct. 5. Then it is that the Club will gather for play the first time this season in the high school gymnasium from 7:30 p. m. to 10:30. Membership in the Club is open to all adult Winchesterites and Town employees. It is predicated upon the principle that any adult interested in recreation for himself ought to be willing to bear any reasonable costs involved therewith.

The Town, specifically through the School Department, rents us the gymnasium without heat and without use of the showers or bleachers for $7.50 per evening from 7:30 to 10:30. This means that each member of the Club pays as dues $7.50 for the season which runs, holidays excluded, from October to around May 1. Those who find it impossible to pay $7.50 in a lump sum are allowed to pay 75c per evening for the first 10 evenings that they play.

All new candidates for membership are allowed to play the first evening gratis. Shuttlecocks are on sale at their cost to the Club, and rackets may be rented for 10c per evening. Gym shoes, of a type which will not marr the floor, are required of all players. If you are interested, make a note of the first meeting and come ready to play.

If you want further information, contact Jim Ware at WInchester 6-2190-W, or P. O. Box 227.

SUBURBAN P. O. BOWLING LEAGUE OPENS

The Suburban P. O. Bowling League which is comprised of all the important post offices north of Boston opened their season with a bang. Arlington took Belmont into camp by over 200 pins. Cambridge and Charlestown had a 2-2 draw. Chelsea took a 3 to 1 win over Malden by one pin, Melrose surprised everyone by a 4 to 0 victory over Reading, Somerville, league winners last year took Stoneham 4 to 0 and Winchester defeated Wakefield 4 to 0.

ATTIC INSPECTOR

Most folks blush with shame at the mere mention of the word attic. No need of it. I have just been self appointed attic inspector for this district. Let me advise you free gratis what to save for any emergency. I spend hundreds of dollars annually for attic treasures. Why not share in this Bongana. In storing excess items or the inheritance from some poor relation you are doing yourself, the goods and posterity a grave injustice. Just call your old friend Maurice O. Reebenacker the good Natured auctioneer from REading 2-1991 who believes he will like his new job as attic inspector for this district.

Daylight Raid Delights Mother

Like all vigorous youngsters, Johnny loves drama and excitement. He also has a healthy appetite. So whenever he grows hungry or thirsty he stages an ice box raid in the best Indian tradition.

Johnny's mother smiles and looks the other way. She knows that he's after a bottle of Hood's Milk, and she knows there's plenty of it on hand. She always makes sure to buy enough for Johnny and his friends, because she knows the value of milk for growing children. She buys Hood's Milk because her route salesman has explained the nutritive value of milk and has told her how Hood's quality control assures freshness and wholesomeness.

And she actually saves money by using more milk instead of other expensive foods — thereby giving Johnny the best in nutrition at minimum cost. She has learned that milk gives her more for her money than any other food. And for quality, she buys Hood's — the favorite of more New Englanders than any other brand.

LEXINGTON OPPOSES RED AND BLACK HERE SATURDAY

A veteran-studded Lexington team that tied the Concord powerhouse in last year's Thanksgiving Day feature will oppose Capt. Vern Slack's 1948 Winchester football team in the opener for both schools at Manchester Field tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

With letter men in nearly all starting positions, this year's Minutemen are being hailed as a winning combination, favored by partisans to upset the Red and Black.

With Lettermen in nearly all starting positions, this year's Minutemen are being hailed as a winning combination, favored by partisans to upset the Red and Black.

Holding Lexington as no push-over, the Red and Black has shown plenty of spirit in the practice sessions and should be mentally and physically ready to merit the support of the home town fans. This year's line is heavy and is bolstered by veterans Bob Abrahamson at center, Bob McElhinney at left guard, and Captain Slack at left end.

Mascioli, a big boy, appears to be a capable right end. Starting right tackle will be in doubt right up to game time with Milton Galucia and Charlie Capone battling for the assignment. Paul Mottolo at right guard has had considerable varsity experience and should be familiar with play at his position. Jim Quine, a converted center, will open at left tackle.

Replacements for the line are Pete Kirwan, Wimpy Burtnett, and Robert Roberto at end, John Dattilo and D. Suppa at guard, Galucia or Capone and Dom Marabella at tackle. Quine is also available for the center post, but his spirited play in recent scrimmages has won him the starting berth.

In the backfield there is no Sammy Bellino, but there are five capable operatives, all of whom have shown versatility on attack. Paul Amico continues at fullback and has added finesse to his bag of tricks. A heavier "Skitchie" Carroll returns as blocking back and should help to spring speedsters Myers, Dillingham and Gilberto into the open.

Dillingham will operate from the tailback post and Myers will operate at wingback, a position left vacant by the shift of Dillingham to tailback. The lightest member of the team, Myers can thread his way through a broken field and once he's away he's hard to overtake. Dillingham, back at tailback where he starred on his frosh team, should really turn those flanks.

Though Lexington and Winchester would appear about even with the starting lineup on the field, the greater depth of Coach Knowlton's Winchester squad may easily be the deciding factor if the hot weather continues through Saturday. What backfield replacements Assistant Coach Ted Bartlett will trot out are more or less unknown quantities, but they have given adequate opposition in the practice scrimmages.

Acting Faculty Manager G. Hartley Curtis says the reconditioned bleachers will be on the east side of the gridiron and Park Department workmen will race with time to provide as much additional seating space as it is possible to erect.

A great comic section with the Boston Sunday Globe each week. Your children will enjoy Mutt & Jeff, Cicero's Cat, Bobby Sox, The Berrys and the many other good comics too numerous to mention. Arrange to have the Boston Sunday Globe in your home each week.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO FETE PLAYERS

On Tuesday evening, September 28th at 6:30 p. m. the Winchester Softball League will tender the respective teams in the League a smoker-banquet at Waterfield Hall, Winchester in acknowledgement of their sportsmanship and good will promoted through competitive athletic activity.

The local Aberjona Post 3719, V. F. W. have offered the use of the hall to the Softball League for this date and occasion which ordinarily would be their regular meeting night.

The committee in charge has lined-up a most unusual program of talent and entertainment for the pleasure of those attending, which by the way, will be a "strictly stag" affair.

Dr. Kosloff, a well-known authority on the subject of "Russia", will be the principal speaker with Ted Bartlett, local High School Coach and Softball enthusiast "Emceeing" the program.

The committee consists of Joe Duran, Treasurer; Jim Coon, Secretary; and Bob Fiore, Ticket Chairman. All player's tickets will be secured from their respective team managers while non-players may also purchase their tickets from the same gentleman, who now have them in their possession.

As the date of the occasion draws near, all aspects of the affair give promise of a very enjoyable and entertaining evening.

UPSETS MARK TENNIS TOURNAMENT

On very temporarily perfect courts and under a smiling sky the annual Town Tennis Championships Tournament ran riot during all of last week-end at the Palmer Street courts. Even an appreciable percentage of the Town turned out to observe the excellent program which had been prepared by the hard-working Committee to which due credit must go for Friday evening's rain and the sunny skies of Saturday and Sunday. For a couple hours Saturday morning the playing surfaces certainly approximated perfection, but thereupon the perennial and well-known Palmer Street dustbowl returned to form without preventing in any way the enthusiasm of die-hard Winchesterites. One fan was heard to remark, however, that he hoped no children of his would ever have to play under such conditions; a hardly impeachable source claims, on the other hand, that the problem confronting us at Palmer Street is cosmic, not human.

So the tennis tournament is well under way. The Committee seeded the various events in accordance with known and available information, then, after providing themselves with the best possible partners, proceeded to draw the rest of us out of the well-worn hat. It was no fault of theirs if one of the Town's children, in the form of a Henry Fitts, returned after years of hardening up in skeeter-ridden Jersey to inflict crushing defeats in the singles; he yielded only four games in three matches. We shall certainly all be on hand tomorrow and Sunday to see if Henry continues to run to form.

An outstanding feature of our Town tournaments is always the showing made by our youngsters. They all play very hard and give of their very best; it would be invidious to mention names, but a glance at the results to date, given below, will show where the battles raged the fiercest. The youngsters generally require two hours to complete a match against one another.

The contests will continue tomorrow and Sunday from about 9:30 a. m. on. The results up to the time of our going to press were as follows:

SACHEMS — SONS OF ITALY 11-11

The first game of the final playoff series for the championship of the Town Softball League ended in an 11 to 11 tie, called at the end of six innings because of darkness. It was an exciting game full of spectacular plays and tense moments which was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd present.

Although greatly outhit by the Sachems, the Sons of Italy were able to combine bases on balls, errors by the Sachems, and timely hits to score their eleven runs. There was plenty of long hitting to enliven the contest with doubles by Kimball and Tompkins, triples by Chefalo, Procopio, A. Tibaudo and Halvarson, and have home runs by Tompkins and Blanchard. Tompkins batted in four runs and Halvarson and Chefalo drove in three runs apiece to pace the batters.

The Sons of Italy rallied in the top of the sixth inning to score three runs and take a one run lead on a base on balls, a three-base error, a triple by A. Tibaudo, and a long fly to the outfield by Procopio. The Sachems were not to be denied, however, and went down fighting as they tallied once in the last half of the inning to tie the score when R. Coon beat out a bunt with one out, stole second, and rode home after two were out on a timely single by Halvarson.

"Matter" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, September 19.
Golden Text: "Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the Lord your God." (Leviticus 19:4)
Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; . . . There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one." (Acts 5:12,16) Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Anciently the followers of Christ, or Truth, measured Christianity by its power over sickness, sin, and death; but modern religions generally omit all but one of these powers, -- the power over sin. We must seek the undivided garment, the whole Christ, as our first proof of Christianity, for Christ, Truth, alone can furnish us with absolute evidence." (p. 142)

MISS MARGARET E. QUILL

Miss Margaret E. Quill, who passed away suddenly at her home in Charlestown on Saturday, September 11, was formerly of this town.

Miss Quill, was the daughter of the late Michael and Ellen (Sullivan) Quill, and was born in Winchester 67 years ago. She attended the Winchester schools.

She is survived by two sisters, Katherine E. Quill of Charlestown, Mrs. Helen Boyle, and a brother Patrick Quill, both of this town.

The funeral services were held from the Lane Funeral Home on Tuesday, September 14th, at 8 a. m. High Mass of requiem was solemnized in St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott.

Seated at the altar were the Rev. Fr. Frank Sullivan of Cambridge, cousin of Miss Quill, and Rev. Fr. Henry Evers, Pastor of the Stars of The Sea Church in Salisbury.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Henry Evers.

MRS. ADA SNOW FLAGG

Mrs. Ada Snow Flagg, wife of the late Frederick Moseley Flagg, aged 84 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur O. Phinney, 69 Yale street, on Tuesday. She was a native of Chicopee and had made her home with her daughter for the past year. Besides Mrs. Phinney she leaves one other daughter, Mrs. Carroll Robinson of Springfield.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, September 16, at Springfield, conducted by her son-in-law, Rev. Arthur O. Phinney. The interment was in First Parish Cemetery, Springfield.

MARY LOUISE OLIVARI

Mary Louise Olivari, twenty month old daughter of Louis and Mary (Kelly) Olivari, of Samoset road, died suddenly, Saturday evening, September 11 at her home.

Interment was in Farmingdale, Long Island, New York.

APPOINTED BUSINESS AGENT

Mr. Albert M. Thompson of 15 Garfield avenue has been promoted from Asst. Deputy at the Charlestown State Prison to Business Agent for the Department of Correction. The appointment was made by Commissioner McDowell on September 14. Mr. Thompson has been doing prison work for eighteen years.

MARRIED AUGUST 22

Miss Patricia Frances Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Simmons of 188 Boston avenue, Medford, and Mr. Clarence Stephen Farrell, of 16 Lebanon street this town, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Farrell, were married August 22nd in Saint Raphael's Church, West Medford, Rev. Fr. Downey performing the ceremony.

The wedding was at four o'clock and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Decorations were of early fall flowers and fern.

The couple were attended by Miss Roberta Simmons, sister of the bride and Mr. Robert Farrell, the grooms brother, was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Paul Simmons, brother of the bride and Mr. Francis Farrell, the groom's brother. Music was by the church organist.

The bride wore an old fashioned style dress of white satin with lace yoke, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and white roses and wore a corsage of orchids. Her attendant wore an old fashioned style dress of lemon yellow organdy. She carried sweet peas and red roses tied with yellow ribbon.

A reception followed the ceremony at Chestnut hall, following which the couple left on a wedding trip to New Hampshire and Maine.

Mr. Farrell is associated with the moving firm of H. J. Erskine. He served 23 month in the Coast Guard and saw service at Okinawa and much transport duty. They will make their home for the present at 16 Lebanon street.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

President and Mrs. Edwin E. Aubrey, of Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pennsylvania, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Jean, and Burdette Crawford Poland, son of Mrs. Seymour Markle Jenkins, of New York City (the former Georgiana Crawford of this town), and Burdette K. Poland of Deerfield, Mass.

Miss Aubrey was graduated from the University of Chicago High School, Swarthmore High School and attended Swarthmore College. She is at present studying at the Peirce School of Business Administration in Philadelphia.

Mr. Poland, grandson of Mr. Frank E. Crawford of this town, is a graduate of Deerfield Academy and Swarthmore College class of 1948. He will sail on September 15 for a year of graduate study at the University of Grenoble, France.

JR. MRS. GUILD

Virginia Tozier to Show Movies of Trip Abroad

Next Tuesday, September 21, at 7:30 p. m., the Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church will hold its first Fall meeting with a covered dish supper in the Parish Hall. All those who are going should phone the supper chairman, Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, 5 Penn road, WInchester 6-2074-J. She will be the one to tell just what each contribution of food shall be.

After the supper, Mrs. C. W. Tozier will show some much looked forward to movies of "My Summer Abroad", which were taken on her tour of Europe this past summer.

This should be an evening of fun, so please phone Mrs. Archibald as soon as possible.

MR. CROUGHWELL AGREES

Editor of the Star:

I desire to most heartedly concur with your correspondent, Mr. Rupert Jones, on the illuminating article that appeared in last week's Star. Namely, "What Price Progres," when he asserts in regard to the trees. In my opinion the assertion is absolutely correct. Some of us very readily recall the late lamented poet Joyce Kilmer's utterances in regard to trees. When you think of the beautiful playground appropriately named for the man who created it, the little river at one time serene and unpolluted, now gone with the wind, it is no longer as nature meant it to be, an element of charm in the Winchester landscape. Never again will the beautiful willow trees weep. But what can you expect from a group of kindergarten town fathers!

Manchester Field was developed in order that the school children of Winchester could enjoy healthful and wholesome recreation in order to develop their anatomy. The trees were planted for the elderly folks, nursemaids and babies.

Now, Mr. Editor, it would require too much space to delve into the history of the park system, hence I shall be as brief as possible. The taxpayers expended more than half a million dollars on the Shore Road playground. When is was completed they expended thousands of dollars for a fence. The fence is removed and now decorates Manchester Field. The Shore Road field is abandoned. Is that sound, municipal planning? The late editor of the Star, Theodore P. Wilson, Lewis Parkhurst, the late Preston Pond, Dr. Clarence J. Allen, William J. Parsons, Edmund Sanderson, ex-chairman of the Park Board; George T. Davidson, the late Edgar J. Rich, and last but not least James J. Fitzgerald, who served the town as Selectman, volunteer fireman, call fireman, Chief of the entire Fire Department, a member of the Finance Committee for six years, a member of the Committee that erected the town stable in 1904, a member of the Fuel Committee and other committees too numerous to mention. The above named men in my opinion have done more to develop Winchester since its incorporation in 1850 than any other group of men. They served the town faithfully and received no compensation for the valuable services rendered.

The large elm tree that stood on Mount Vernon street for 150 years between Hevey's Drug Store and the Lyceum building was removed because of old age. The large elm tree on Church street opposite Dr. Chapin's house, that is now the Winchester Trust Company, was removed because old age had set in. Listen Brother, the terrific hurricane of September, 1938, failed to remove the trees on Manchester Field, but the kindergarten town fathers removed the trees in 1948.

I urge all readers of the Star to read Mr. Jones' article carefully. By the way Mr. Editor, the father of our town, namely, Col. William P. Winchester passed away August 6, 1850. The father of our park system, Forest C. Manchester, was born in 1859 and died November 27, 1899. They did not enjoy the fruits of their labor.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell.

APPRECIATES NEWSPAPER SERVICE

Editor of the Star:

I wish to take this opportunity to express to you my appreciation for the able assistance and cooperation you have rendered the United States Army and Air Force Recruiting Service through your newspaper.

To the recruiting service the press is a powerful weapon in assisting the accomplishment of its assigned mission. When its facilities are so freely extended to us, as yours have been, it enables us to tell our story to a greater number of people.

Thank you for myself as well as the members of my command.

Sincerely,
Douglas A. McKillop
Major, A. G. D.

AIR POWER IS PEACE POWER

Editor of the Star:

A salute to the U. S. Air Force on Sept. 18th on the first birthday of the Air Force as an independent unit. Elsewhere in the Star, Mr. Wilson is carrying details of the big two day celebration at the Bedford Airport. S Sgt. William Knee informs the writer that he has obtained an Army bus to transport High School Seniors to and from the Airport. These boys will be signed up on a first come first served basis and the sergeant will be present at Bedford to see that the take in everything of special interest.

Answering a question about Aviation Cadets: The Aviation Cadet program is indeed still open. The need for Cadets is a military manpower problem of increasing importance. The Air Force expects to train more than 5000 Cadets during 1949. Pilot trainees must be the highest caliber young men in the country. Requirements include 2 years of college or its equivalent —which means passing an examination which Dr. Norris and Mr. Grindle assure me any high school student who has taken the college prep. course with 4 years of math., should be able to pass successfully. Applicants must be able to pass the Air Force Qualifying examinaphysical examination plus the moral and personal examination, 19-26½ years of age. If you are appointed Aviation Cadet, you will receive orders covering your transportation to a primary flying school where you will begin a 52-week course; you receive $75 a month plus a one year paid $10,000 life insurance policy; upon successful completion of training, you will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant, Air Force Reserve, and assigned to active duty as pilot; you will serve a three year tour unless relieved earlier. Cadets who fail to complete the course will be discharged and returned to civilian status. A Cadet must agree to remain unmarried during the 52-week training period.

An unmarried Second Lieutenant makes $336.00 a month after successful completion of one year's training; if he gets married, his monthly pay is $372.00; a commissioned pilot draws a $500.00 bonus for each year of active service, plus 5% increases in base pay every 3 years of active duty, 30 days leave every year at full pay. If the Cadet wants a career in civilian aviation, his Air Force background enables him to compete on an equal basis with the best men in aviation.

Cadets may be surprised to find there is no intermediate trainer ship. You can learn to fly at 150 mph as quickly as at 95 mph; moreover, progress is much faster, morale much higher and safety record better than under the old system.

If the above does not furnish all the information wanted, please contact S/Sgt. Knee at the Police Station.

Incidentally, after a successful 12 months and 275 flying hours, a Cadet is ready for his silver wings and gold officer's bars; he will be placed on active duty and at the end of 3 years will be promoted automatically to First Lieutenant. At this point he may return to civilian life on inactive status or apply for further active duty.

Answering the question "Where will my boy be sent?"–If he enters the Army as an enlistee, he will undoubtedly have picked the branch of the service he wishes to specialize in, the school and theatre, and so he will know where he is going after his basic training. If he enters under Selective Service he will be assigned to the area wherein the Army's need is the greatest. The Army is divided into six Areas with Hqs. at Governor's Island, N. Y.; Ft. Meade, Md.; Ft. Monroe, Va.; Atlanta, Ga.; Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex. This does not mean that your son will be sent to the above exact locations as in each Area there are various posts under the jurisdiction of the above Hqs. (as in the case of Ft. Devens which comes under the First Army with Hqs. at Governor's Island, N. Y.). If you will drop in at the writer's house or go in and see Sergeant Knee, we will show you where the various posts are located.

Very truly yours,
Gladys N Toye,
Chairman
Winchester Military
Manpower Committee

SACHEMS AND SONS OF ITALY WINNERS

The V. F. W. and the Sachems battled to a 5 to 5 tie in a six-inning contest called by darkness at Ginn Field last Thursday evening. This was the most exciting contest of the series and either team could have easily won with a break or two.

The Vets jumped off to a three run lead in the first inning on a hit by Connors, a walk to Perry, a single by Plummer for two runs, and a single by Callahan for the third run. The Sachems scored all their runs in the fourth inning on a single by R. Coon ground out by Tompkins, a single by Gamage to score R. Coon, a hit by Kimball, a base on balls to O'Rourke to fill the bases, and a grand slam home run down the left field foul line by Redding.

The Vets added another run in the fifth when Higgins beat out a bunt and scored on Plummer's hit to center. The Vets tied the score in the last inning when Olivadoti reached on an error and went to second as Duran grounded out. DeTeso beat out an infield hit to first with Olivadoti scoring the tying run all the way from second on a nice bit of base running. Connors bunted safely, sending DeTeso to third base. The winning run was left on base as Higgins flied deeply to center field in a good bid to win the game.

The Sachems won their semi-final play off series by easily defeating the V. F. W. by a score of 16 to 4 before a huge crowd at Ginn Field on Sunday afternoon. It was too bad that the mammoth crowd could not have been treated to the better game that they expected but the Sachems piled up twenty one hits against indifferent V. F. W. pitching and the V. F. W. defense collapsed completely under this barrage of hits.

The Vets started out as though they were going to play one of their best games and built up at 4 to 2 lead at the end of two innings. The Sachems scored seven times in the third inning, however, featured by a tremendous three-run homer along the left field foul line by Sam Tompkins. They added four more runs in the fourth inning to sew up the game as Andre Redding banged out a two-run homer to left field.

After a shaky start in the first two innings in which the Vets scored their four runs, Redding settled down to hold them scoreless over the last five frames and gave up only three hits during this stretch. Phil O'Rourke had a perfect day at the plate with four for four, while Jim Coon, Sam Tompkins, and Babe Olivadoti had three hits apiece.

The Sons of Italy entered the finals of the playoffs by eliminating the St. Mary's in two straight games in the semi-final series by a score of 14 to 2 in the second half of a doubleheader at Ginn Field on Sunday afternoon. Big six-run scoring sprees in both the third and fourth innings iced the contest for the Sons of Italy.

Frank Procopio pitched steady ball for the winners, holding the St. Mary's to only three hits over the first six innings before he relaxed a bit in the last inning and was touched for three more bingles. Jim Tibaudo paced the batters for this contest with three safe hits while Bob Fiore continued his good hitting in a losing cause with a home run and a single.

SONS OF ITALY TAKE SACHEMS

The Sons of Italy drew first blood in the final play-off series for the Town Softball League championship by defeating the Sachems 5 to 4 in a thrill-packed game on Tuesday evening. The Sons of Italy jumped off to a 3 to 0 lead but the Sachems evened the score at 3 to 3 and then in the exciting final inning the Sons of Italy scored twice to the Sachems once to win the game.

William Fiore and Sam Tibaudo were the heroes for the Sons of Italy as they provided the one-two punch for the victors. Fiore hammered out two home runs as he drove in all five of the winners' runs. The Sachems just could not connect with the vital hit they needed as they left men on bases in every inning. Perhaps the credit for that, however, belongs to the courageous pitching of Di-Mambro.

The winning runs were scored by the Sons of Italy after two were out in the seventh when S. Tibaudo singled and Fiore pounded out a home run to right field. The Sachems tried hard to knot the count but could score only once as R. Coon beat out a hit to deep short and scored all the way from first as Halverson's single was baffled in the outfield. The Sachems were unable to score Halverson, however, and the Sons of Italy took the all important first game.

SONS OF ITALY WIN AGAIN

The Sons of Italy made it two straight over the Sachems by defeating them 12 to 3 at Ginn Field on Wednesday evening. The Sons of Italy needs only one victory to clinch the championship while the Sachems are desperate and face the unenviable prospect of winning three straight games in order to retain the championship they won last year.

The Sons of Italy hit Redding hard in this contest - the first time that he has been touched so freely in the playoffs. This was the fourth day in succession that he had pitched, however, and it was only natural that he was less effective as his fast ball had lost its zip. Frank Procopio pitched excellent ball for the winners as he limited the Sachems to five hits, their lowest total of their six play-off games, and did not issue a base on balls. Three of the Sachem's hits were the infield variety which indicates the effectiveness of Procopio's pitching, plus the fact that none of the Sachem's hits were for extra bases.

Sam Tibaudo and Bill Fiore again gave the Sons of Italy a good one-two punch as they scored six of the twelve runs collected by the two hits apiece to pace the batters for the evening.

C. Y. O. IMMACULATE CONCEPTION PARISH

The C. Y. O. of the Immaculate Conception Parish expects to have a large contingent of marchers in the C. Y. O. Parade to be held in Boston on Sunday, October 3. This Parade which is under the sponsorship of his Excellency, Archbishop Cushing, will have delegations from every parish in the Boston Archdiocese. The Immaculate Conception Parish hopes to have over three hundred marchers in the parade.

Reverend John J. Sheehan, Parish C. Y. O. Director, has invited all young people of the Parish, between twelve and twenty-five years of age, to march with the Parish unit.

The Immaculate Conception Parish Drum and Bugle Corps and the Girls Drill Team will be at the head of the Immaculate Conception Parish contingent.

Father Sheehan has asked that the boys and girls, young men and young women, within the age bracket of twelve to twenty-five, register at the Rectory as soon as possible in order that plans may be made for transportation and that the order for the insignia may be placed as quickly as possible.

The Immaculate Conception group will leave by bus from in front of the Rectory about 2:30 on Sunday, October 3, and is scheduled to start marching at 4:00 o'clock.

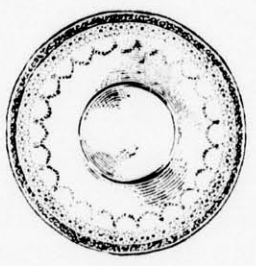

It is anticipated that almost 10,000 marchers will participate in the C. Y. O. parade.

Billie Macdonald of 42 Canterbury road, celebrated his 6th Birthday on September 2nd at a gala party held at his home. Those in attendance were Andy and Charles Cornwall, Frank Maudlin, Bobby Freeman, Stephen Rocheau, Virginia Blake, and Patsy and Larry Pooler. Miss Nancy Morse was also present. All agreed they had a good time.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Besides the two hostel trips this summer, and Ann Farquhar's trip to the International meeting at Cooperstown, N. Y., the Winchester Girl Scouts were busy making new friends in other places. At Camp Collier, near Gardner, Mass., run by the Monadnock Council of Girl Scouts, two of our Mariners were counsellors for the Mariner group... Shirley (Red) Marchant, and Barbara Howe was her assitant.

In one of the experienced campers' groups were Mary Louise Howe of Troop 14 and Jean McElroy of Troop 10. After a month of living in tents, all four returned full of pep and happy to see old friends.

All registered adults please mark October 6th, 7th and 8th on your calendars for the meetings at Swampscott. Cards will be sent out at a later date... but mark the dates now to avoid conflicts then;

ARMY OPENS NEW TRAINING CENTERS

S/Sgt William W. Knee of the local Army and Air Force Recruiting Station at the Police Station, Winchester place, announced today that the Army is opening four new Replacement Training Centers. This will increase the number of such installations to eight.

Geographical locations, existing facilities and operational economies were considered in selecting the sites to be used for processing and training the new soldiers in the basic elements of their military duties. As far as practicable, men will be sent to Training Centers closest to their homes, a factor considered of morale value in the early months of Army life.

The locations chosen, in addition to above factors, will permit the movement of incoming soldiers with the least possible impact on public transportation facilities. Those now in operation are: Fort Knox, Kentucky; Fort Ord, California; Fort Jackson, South Carolina and Fort Dix, New Jersey. The New Training Centers to be opened will be at Fort Riley, Kansas; Camp Chaffee, Arkansas; Camp Pickett, Virginia and Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky. The trainee capacities of the Camps range from 9,000 at Fort Riley to 14,000 at Camp Chaffee.

Under the Expansion of the Army Program, Camp Beckinridge will receive the first increments about August 20. After October 1, trainees will be sent to the other new Training Centers.

It is anticipated that the new soldiers will spend about ten weeks at the Training Centers, eight of which will be devoted to basic training and the other two to processing, classifying and reassignment.

Because the training at all Centers will be basic, the fact that an inductee is sent to Training Divisions designated as Airborne or Armored, for example, will not indicate that he is receiving Jump Training or instruction in Tank Tactics. Names of the Training Divisions were chosen in keeping with the Army's policy of designating Training Units by the names of active World War 2 Divisions. The training at the 17th Airborne Division at Camp Pickett for instance, will be identical with that at the 9th Infantry at Fort Dix.

The other six Training Divisions are the 3rd Armored at Fort Knox, 5th Armored at Camp Chaffee, 4th Infantry at Fort Ord, 5th Infantry at Fort Jackson, 10th Infantry at Fort Riley and the 101st Airborne at Camp Breckinridge.

After basic training, the soldiers will be assigned as needed to active units in the field.

WELLESLEY CLUB PRESENTS WINCHESTER MORNINGS OF DIVERSION

The Music Hall on Bacon street will be the scene of the Winchester Mornings of Diversion sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club on three Friday mornings this fall. Wellesley graduates and their friends will meet on October 1, October 22, and November 12 to hear artists and speakers particularly chosen to interest a Winchester audience.

Eleanor Manning O'Connor, Boston architect and consultant on decorating will speak October 1.

David Barnett, pianist, will appear on October. 22 presenting a concert with comments. Mr. Barnett is a well known pianist and composer, on the faculty of Wellesley College and the New England Conservatory of Music, an artist who has appeared at Town Hall and Carnegie Hall and who has been soloist with the Paris, St. Louis, Cincinnatti, Manhattan, and Newark Symphony orchestras.

Mr. Barnett will be followed on the last morning of the series by Dr. Jerome Seymour Bruner, member of the Harvard faculty, who will bring to his audience an interesting discussion of various phases of propaganda and studies of public opinion.

Wellesley Club members invite their friends to share with them these Winchester Mornings of Diversion. Reservations for tickets at $3.60 for the series of three may be made with the chairman of tickets, Mrs. Paul B. Leverette at WInchester 6-2961.

Among the early subscribers for the Winchester Mornings of Diversion are the following: Mrs. Robinson Abbott, Mrs. Clinton W. Bennett, Mrs. Lawrence Burke, Mrs. Joseph W. Butler, Mrs. Frederick S. Calhoun, Mrs. George E. Connor, Mrs. Donald Davis, Mrs. Thomas M. Downes, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, Mrs. Warren F. Goddu, Mrs. George Gowdy, Miss Gertrude Hall, Miss Helen A. FIFTY YEARS AGO

September 9, 1898

The annual tennis tournament of the Calumet Club will take place on the club courts on Dix street on the afternoons of Friday, September 23rd, and Saturday, September 24th. The winner in the singles will play Mr. James Nowell, the present holder of the championship cup for the championship of Winchester.

The electrical storm of last Friday evening was perhaps the brightest and most continuous seen for a long time. It interfered somewhat with the running of the cars.

A party of gentlemen went up into the observatory at Hillcrest Monday evening to watch the display of search lights on the war vessels in the harbor, the sight was most pleasing, the rays and lights being plainly seen. If a road was built to the observatory, the tower would become immensely popular, as the view is magnificent, Boston harbor being even seen.

The annual lawn party of the Winchester Catholic Total Abstinence Society was held in Prince's Grove, Monday afternoon and evening. As usual it was a big success, both socially and financially. John F. O'Connor was floor director, assisted by Thomas K. Lynch. Aides were James J. Fitzgerald, Joseph M. Donahue, John F. Holland, J. Joseph Foley, Timothy C. Noonan, Thomas Mackesey, Timothy Dwyer, James W. O'Connor, Hugh Grimes, Frank Callahan, John Shea, John Shaughnessy, William H. Foley, Alex Nelson, James Sullivan, William Sullivan, Fred Foley, George F. Lynch, James Foley, Thomas Kelley, Edward M. O'Connor, Daniel Daly, Thomas Lally, Benjamin Cullen, John Roache, John F. Gallagher, John Maloney, James Donahue, John Crawford, Frank H. O'Brien.

The Winchester Clerk's Association will meet in G.A.R. Hall next Tuesday evening.

There is a prospect of a special town meeting to be held in the near future.

Canoes and sail boats are multiplying rapidly on Mystic Lake, the proposed boathouse will create added interest to canoeing.

The Y.M.C.A. boys are organizing a football team for the coming autumn and fall. It is rather early yet to state whether High School athletics will be revived this season or not.

A grand calico party will be given by the Wedgemere Social Club in White's Hall, Friday evening, October 14.

Take a red shirt, a parboiled and distorted face, an indefatigable jaw, a toothpick, two staring eyes, a dirty shirt and bicycle suit, a cheap machine with a clicky chain, and you have a "Yahoo" or scorcher. He rides like mad. He shaves you as close as he can, and scares you to death. He is a pest and a disgrace.

Next Tuesday afternoon, September 13, at 2 o'clock at the Wadleigh School, the Supt of Schools will examine pupils, not holding grammar school diplomas, for admission to High School.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

September 7, 1923

The Winchester Post American Legion has secured the Y-D Veteran's Band to play at their lawn carnival September 29th.

The petition which is being presented to the State Department of Public Health, asking that steps be taken to clear the Aberjona River, long an objectionable feature in our town through its dirty and filthy water, is meeting with increased popularity — if such a thing is possible. To date nearly 1,000 names have been signed.

School registration on the first day totalled 1,577. It is expected that the actual number of children attending school will be larger than this figure, many coming into the schools during the next two weeks.

The resignation of John E. McNally from the Fire Department leaves the town with seven permanent men and three officers.

The stills and other paraphanlia which had been seized in various liquor raids about town was broken up this week at the police station and sold to a junk man.

Plans for a varied program for the Field Day on Leonard Field, Saturday, September 8th are complete and a good time is assured for old and young.

Mrs. Harriet E. Richards, who has rendered faithful and intelligent service as matron of the Home for Aged People since May 1, and previously in the same capacity for nearly four years, has resigned and is being succeeded by Mrs. H. E. Moore of Methuen.

It is reported that the School Committee will meet this evening to consider applications for the position of Superintendent. According to published report, some 40 applications have been received for the vacancy.

Ralph Hatch, first baseman on the Winchester Legion team, is credited with standing at the head of the players in his position in the Twilight League, both on the base and at the bat.

Life Guard William Murray of Sandy Beach states that the place will close for the season next Sunday.

COST ACCOUNTANTS TO HEAR LABOR LEADER

Joseph N. Scanlon, former president of Local 169 of the United Steelworkers of America, will be the speaker at the September meeting of Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, to be held at the Boston City Club on September 21st.

The subject of Mr. Scanlon's talk, "Labor Looks at Cost Accounting", is very timely, due to the current interest in the Taft-Hartley Act and the November elections.

Winchester residents on the committee arranging the meeting are: -

Thomas L. Morison, 4 Highland terrace and Charles Craven, 8 Wyman court.

THE SHILLADY'S RETURN TO WINCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Shillady, Jr., have returned to Winchester and are making their home at 5 Orient street. They have been living at Beacon Hill since December 1941. Mr. Shillady served in the Army during the war for two years, having been called by the Winchester Selective Service Board. Mrs. Shillady served in the WAVES for three years.

Mr. Shillady is a C. P. A. and manager of the Boston office of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., a national accounting firm.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The first fall meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held last Friday in the Red Cross Nursing Rooms, with Mrs. Kugler, president, presiding, and almost 100% attendance of board members. Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor gave the secretary's report, and Mrs. William Spaulding presented the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Jane H. Lord, Director, reported 41 new patients in June, 38 new patients in July, and 52 in August. July in Winchester, for the visiting nurses, was an unusually busy and eventful one in an otherwise quiet summer.

Mrs. Powers on Structure

Mrs. Donald Powers presented a detailed report on the structure study, asking the board members to vote their preference for a single national nursing organization, or for two organizations, one for nurses, one for nurses and laymembers. The board voiced its preference for two organizations, and the vote will be sent to the National Organization of Public Health Nursing in New York. By this vote, the Winchester board simply passes on to the National headquarters its feeling on the subject of reorganization of the nursing association, and the national organization will make further study and further material will be sent to the local boards.

Other Reports

Other reports in a busy and business-like morning of the Board's September meeting came from Mrs. Henry E. Moffette, Educational Chairman, who asked for suggestions for speakers for the October meeting, and announced a musical tea at the New Hope Baptist Church on September 19th, in the afternoon.

Mrs. Ben Schneider reported on the finance committee's work, and asked for budgets for the coming year to be submitted to her this week, after which time the WDNA's budget will go before the Community Fund Council.

Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth reported for the Nominating Committee, and Mrs. Richard Johnson for the Nursing Committee.

Miss Petersen, R. N., reported on the Massachusetts Public Health Conference at Amherst which she attended in June.

Conference Tuesday

On Tuesday afternoon there was a meeting at the Winchester Public Library of the survey, and Greater Boston Nursing Council Mrs. Kugler, Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Powers attended as the WDNA official delegates.

FORTNIGHTLY SINGERS REORGANIZE AS MARY WITHAM SINGERS

The Fortnightly Singers, formerly for many years known as the Fortnightly Glee Club, is this year reorganizing independently under the name of the Mary Witham Sigers, retaining as their Witham Singers, retaining as their expert guidance they have in the past given many distinguished performances of fine choral music.

The group also expresses great satisfaction that they are to have at the piano Mrs. Lucy Wilcox Cushman whose sensitive and artistic accompanying has been of invaluable assistance in past seasons.

The new organization already has several interesting engagements, and their coming programs are anticipated with pleasure.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL
TWENTY-YEAR INCREASE IN FOUR TYPICAL BUDGET ITEMS

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

What about food? If you read our quotations from twelve letters in the news release of August 13, you know how important the excellent meals are to the Winchester Hospital patients. Most of them put the delicious food near the top of their thank-you lists.

A Dietary Department has as many kinds of responsibility as any branch of the hospital, including the clinical services. In fact, when you think of the major expenditure of money for supplies, of the selection and training of employees, of planning and serving standard meals for staff and patients and thousands of special diets ordered by doctors for patients whose cases need variations from regular menus - when you think of all those problems, you may decide that the Head Dietitian has an appointment you do not covet. This difficult position has been held since 1942 by Miss Hilda Andrews who is also Assistant Administrator of the Hospital.

The total dietary budget of Winchester Hospital - cost of raw food, of preparation and service, and of salaries and wages - is approximately one-quarter of the total cost of hospital operation. In many hospitals of like size it is one-third or more. This fact is one proof of the unusually successful buying of the Department, but the ultimate proof of this skill is even more striking as given graphically by the picture at the head of this column. During 1947-48 the total operating expense of the Hospital was three times what it was twenty years ago, the cost of laboratory, medical and surgical supplies and the total payroll five times, - but the cost of food only twice that of twenty years ago. Further, if we make a comparison of our food cost in the year just closed with that of four other Massachusetts hospitals of approximately our size and type, we reach the following results:

	Percentage of total operating expense represented by food cost
Hospital A	19.7
Hospital B	14.6
Hospital C	15.3
Hospital D	21.5
Winchester Hospital	14.4

In common with other hospitals and like enterprises, we find the employment situations continuing very severe. The bright side of the picture is the faithful service of a few older skilled employees without whom we could not carry on. Another encouragement is appreciation on the part of a few younger workers that the experience they gain with us is a valuable beginning in a field which they make a profession. The formal training we give these workers has to be reduced to the practical minimum necessary for their daily work with us. But they gain additional knowledge from observation of meal planning and service, and they come to understand that both the quality of the food and the way it is served have a vital relation to the restoration of the patient to perfect health. Similarly, the dietary knowledge gained by the patients themselves is sometimes given formally by doctor, nurse or a member of the Dietary Department. It may, however, be given by silent demonstration of the good effect of eating the carefully planned and attractively served meals and by the patient's observation of the content of these meals.

The problem of special diets ordered by doctors is perhaps our most serious responsibility. During 1947-48 we had in Winchester Hospital an average of 67 adult patients each day, and we served an average of 16 a day or 24% of special diets. One adult patient in every four was having meals which were individually prepared, often with most minute care in weighing of ingredients and in special cooking. We take great pride in the cooperation we give to the doctors in the dietetic therapy of cases in which food is a vital part of the treatment, as well as the uniformly high quality of all of the food served.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The sixty-eighth season of the Fortnightly Women's Club of Winchester opens with a dessert bridge at the Winchester Boat Club, next Tuesday, September 21. Dessert at one o'clock followed by a short entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental music and a comedy skit entitled "A busy morning at the Winchester Hospital", after which "bridge" will be the order of the day. Interesting prizes for each table. Those who do not wish to play cards may join the "Knit and Chatter" group who, if the weather be cool may gather round the glowing fireplace or if the weather be warm may be seated along the sunny banks of the Mystic. For reservations please call Mrs. Lillian Burr, WInchester 6-1203-M, Mrs. Elizabeth Hiscoe, WInchester 6-1430, or contact Fortnightly members who will be stationed at Filene's store, Winchester on Saturday, September 18 and on Monday, September 20 from two to five o'clock.

"Bring your friends from far and near Help to keep our vision clear
To build, to build, lets heed the call.
Fortnightly needs a club-house hall."

Do You Know!

That the first Woman's Club established in America was in Boston, Massachusetts in 1818, and was known as the "Gleaners", its membership being limited to unmarried women who met to "discuss questions concerning the proper attitude to be maintained toward gentlemen".

That the Fortnightly Women's Club of Winchester, Massachusetts was established in 1881, the first meetings being held at the home of one of the founders, Mrs. Sarah Nowell, later meeting at the old Harmony Hall, Blaikie Hall, Grand Army Hall, Rangely Hall, the old Town Hall, Lyceum Hall, Waterfield Hall and for the season of 1948-1949 will convene in the Masonic Hall.

That the Fortnightly's building fund was started in 1895.

That the purpose of the Fortnightly is for the "promotion of social, educational and civic interests."

That the Club's philanthropies include scholarships for Winchester students, contributions to community service such as Winchester's Hobby Center, Winchester's community fund, Red Cross activities, War Veterans needs, civic emergencies.

That the Club maintains a committee interested in the preservation of antiques, aiding in restoring and maintaining old landmarks throughout the State of Massachusetts.

That the Club also maintains many committee workers active in the interests of Art, Drama, Music, Literature, Languages, Legislature, Conservation, all designed toward the culture and maintenance of the American home based on principles of freedom, equality and justice for all.

NOTED LECTURER TO SPEAK TO WOMEN OF THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

On Tuesday, September 28, at 2:00 p. m., the Women's Association of the First Congregational Church will be privileged to hear Dr. J. Burford Parry of the Wellesley Congregational Church, speak on "What about our Freedom?"

Dr. Parry is a Welshman, born in Mold, North Wales, the son of a coal miner. He was educated at the University, Bristol, England, and Yale University. Dr. Parry has had, and continues to receive, rare success as a lecturer in England and America. He holds the highest record for re-engagements among lecturers throughout the country. He has the gift of his race in the possession of a musical voice of range and even tone, and an unusual facility of expression.

The Home Church Guild will be the hostess guild for this meeting.

SEAL OF THE TOWN OF WINCHESTER MASS. WATERFIELD 1636 WINCHESTER 1850

PROPOSAL

FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF A GARAGE, ETC.
IN THE TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

Sealed proposals are invited by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts acting through Parker Holbrook, Town Engineer for the Town of Winchester, for the erection of a Garage, etc., at the corner of Linden and Lake Streets, Winchester, Massachusetts, in accordance with the drawings and specifications prepared by Hutchins & French, Architects, 11 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts.

Proposals must be delivered to Parker Holbrook at his office in the Town Hall, Winchester, Massachusetts before 12:00 Noon, Friday, October 1, 1948, at which time and place the bids will be publicly opened and read. A duplicate proposal also must be delivered in person to the Town Clerk of Winchester before said date.

All proposals must be in accordance with the forms provided by the Architects, fully filled out without changes, signed by legal signature of the bidder, and must be delivered in a sealed envelope addressed to Mr. Parker Holbrook, Town Engineer, Winchester, Massachusetts and bear on the outside the name and address of the bidder and the title "Proposal for Garage, etc., in Winchester".

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check made payable to the Town of Winchester in the sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00). In case the Contractor to whom the award is made shall not, within ten days after his proposal is accepted, execute the contract in accordance with his proposal, and satisfy the bonding company, his certified check shall be forefeited to the Town of Winchester. All other checks will be returned within two days, Sundays and Holidays excluded, after the contract has been executed.

The Town of Winchester reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to accept any bid if it shall be deemed for the best interests of the Town.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the Architects on and after Monday, September 20, 1948. A deposit of $5.00 will be required for each set, which amount will be refunded upon the return of the plans and specifications in good condition to the Architects not later than one week after the date of submitting bids.

MYSTIC SCHOOL PARTY

The third grade of Mystic School went on an out-of-door weiner roast during the noon hour on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at the home of Stevenson Davies.

Committees had previously been appointed, so that each child had a job of cooking and serving to do. They marched over under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Whittemore, and went to work promptly and efficiently. Everyone was courteously served as much of each item on the menu as seemed advisable, yet the class returned to school promptly at 1 o'clock, leaving the terrace in perfect order.

The host's mother was deeply gratified to see so large a group functioning smoothly and happily together, and was impressed by the good manners displayed by all.

LEGIONNAIRES LINE UP AT OPENING OF NEW BLOOD BANK AT WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

Seated: Nurse Irene Lundin, Albert F. Gaum,

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL ADDED TO AMERICAN LEGION BLOOD BANK PLAN

The first blood donor group from American Legion, Winchester Post 97, has reported to the Winchester Hospital. The following Legionnaires made up this first group: Ernest S. Barron, 206 Washington street; Daniel Coss, 49 Salem street; Donald J. Elliott, 15 Linden street; Albert F. Guam, 63 Washington street; R. Sheldon Hamilton, 74 Nelson street; Francis J. Higgins, 893 Main street; Albert J. Lynch, 70 Nelson street; Edward C. Murphy, 47 Lake street. The blood given by these men thus establishes the initial supply of the Winchester Hospital Blood Bank. Out-dated blood will be sent to laboratories where plasma is produced and stored.

Massachusetts has the honor of being the only American Legion Department to establish blood donor service, and it is justly proud of its record. Winchester Hospital is the twenty-third Massachusetts hospital in which a Legion Blood Bank is in operation, and thirty-two other hospitals, not maintaining a blood bank, are being serviced by the Legion.

The first donor group from the Winchester Legion Post has supplied the basic stock for the Winchester Hospital blood bank. This is available on physician's order to any patient by the payment of a small service charge, provided the patient's family and friends donate two pints of blood for each pint used from the blood bank. For blood not replaced, appropriate charge is made.

Interest is keen in this new blood bank at Winchester Hospital, and it is confidently expected that it will prove a valuable addition to the supply of whole blood in the area. Close cooperation will continue with the blood donor program of the American Red Cross, both in regard to emergency situations and in the use of outdated blood to increase the stock of blood plasma.

MISS CROWELL'S ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

At an informal cocktail party at their summer home at West Hyannisport, Cape Cod, on Saturday, Sept. 18, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gibbs Crowell of 60 Swan road, announced the engagement of their daughter, Ann Berry, to Mr. Malcolm Young, son of Mrs. John Wallace Young and the late Mr. Young of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Craigville, Cape Cod.

Miss Crowell, a graduate of Brimmer-May School in 1944 and Smith College in 1948, has just returned from a three months trip to Europe. She is a member of the Boston Junior League and made her debut during the 1944-45 season. Mr. Young, a graduate of Polytechnic Preparatory Country Day School, will be graduated from Yale University in February, a member of the 1945 W Class, interrupted by three years service overseas.

HARLAN L. PAINE ATTENDED HOSPITAL MEETINGS

Mr. Harlan L. Paine, administrator of the Winchester Hospital, has returned from attendance upon the sessions of the American Hospital Association at Atlantic City. This was the Golden Anniversary Convention of the Association, and the program served the double purpose of reviewing a half century of progress and charting a new course for hospitals. Leaders in government, industry, the professions and the public discussed topics looking to the future, the speakers including Frank Chambless Rand of the International Shoe Company, chairman of the Trustees of the Barnes Hospital in St. Louis; Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, and President Frank P. Graham of the University of North Carolina.

The morning sessions were in the hands of hospital executives and dealt with such vital topics as "Are We in Danger of Building Too Many Hospital Beds?", "Service Benefits versus Indemnity in Blue Cross Plans," "Why Should Ward Rates be Below Cost?", and "What Type of Auxiliary Nursing Personnel is Needed for Care of Patients?" Other conferences held in connection with the Hospital Association included the fourteenth annual meeting of the American College of Hospital Administrators and a full four days of meetings for Women's Hospital Auxiliaries.

HEAVY STORM SATURDAY

Shortly after the Winchester-Lexington football game last Saturday afternoon a terrific rainstorm hit Winchester with high winds and thunder and lightning. The severe part of the storm was of short duration, and unfortunately the rain was too heavy to do much of any good on the parched ground.

Little actual damage was reported around town, though some tree limbs were blown down and early fall fruit and late vegetables weren't helped any. Surface drainage was insufficient in some parts of the town, resulting in flooded streets, but this condition soon rectified itself.

A good part of the west side was without lights for some time, due to a broken wire on Church street, and many home owners reported blown fuses, which of course were easy to fix provided there were extras available.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

The Selective Service law requires that all male persons shall register at the time of reaching age 18 or within five (5) days of their 18th birthday. This may be done at the office of the Local Selective Service Board No. 21, City Hall, Medford, Mass., during office hours Monday through Friday, or with Special Registrar, Mrs. Alice C. Eberle, Selectmen's Office, Town Hall, Winchester, Mass., during office hours Monday through Friday.

CPL. EDWARD V. MANZIE

Repatriated War Hero Buried Wednesday

Cpl. Edward Vincent Manzie, USAAF, son of Waldo B., and Mary (Rogers) Manzie of 10 Bridge street, was laid to rest Wednesday morning in Calvary Cemetery after his long journey from the soldier's grave near Naples in Italy, to which his body was committed after his death Nov. 1, 1943, when his plane was shot down by enemy flak. He was first reported missing on that date, following the crash of the A-20 "Havoc" bomber, on which he was serving as aerial gunner and radio operator. His death was later confirmed by the finding of wreckage of a plane and a grave identified as that of the young Winchester soldier by a surviving member of the ill-fated ship.

Corporal Manzie's body arrived in Winchester Monday afternoon and was met at the station by Undertaker John Lane of Lane's Funeral Service and by representatives of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, and Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Legion Commander Walter J. Burns and Veterans' Past Commander Robert S. McKee and Donald Thomann. The body was taken to the home of Corporal Manzie's parents and there lay in state Monday and Tuesday nights, with the veterans' flags posted beside the flag-draped casket.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning, with Corporal Manzie's body being escorted from the Manzie home to St. Mary's Church by a delegation of Legionnaires and Veterans of Foreign Wars, jointly led by Comdr. Walter J. Burns of the Legion and Comdr. Francis J. Murray of the V. F. W. Legion color bearers were James Feeney and Thomas J. McKee with Martin J. Foley as guard. Veterans colors were carried by Mark Kelley and Norman Doucette with Thomas Mearls as guard.

Sgt. Guy Coulombe of the United States Army Escort Service, who accompanied Corporal Manzie's body to Winchester, marched with the honor guard, composed of Charles D. Roche of the Legion, Winchester director of veterans' services; and Robert S. McKee and Donald A. Thomann. Also in line was a firing squad from Company G of the National Guard in Woburn, commanded by Sgt. Harris M. Parker of Winchester.

At St. Mary's solemn requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. John T. O'Neil with Missioners from the Mission Church in Roxbury, Rev. Fr. William Murray, C.SS.R., and Rev. Fr. John Lynch, C.SS.R., as deacon and subdeacon. Two former curates at St. Mary's, Rev. Fr. Joseph Mahoney of St. Joseph's Church, Medford, and Rev. Fr. Joseph McGoldrick of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston, were seated in the sanctuary with another Winchester priest, Rev. Fr. Samuel Mathews, S.S.J., of Baltimore, Md.

Bearers were Thomas Kenton, Bernard Stygles, Stearns Wyman, James Maguire, Richard, and Robert Lynch, all former chums of the young soldier, Kenton and Stygles having played with him on the Winchester Cubs baseball team. During the funeral the Winchester Food Mart on Washington street, where Corporal Manzie was employed before entering the service, was closed, and following the arrival of his body, flags on the common and public buildings were displayed at half staff.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery where three volleys were fired by the National Guardsmen and taps was blowed by Bugler Frederick Fitzgerald.

Corporal Manzie was born in Winchester Feb. 7, 1920. He was graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1937, and enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Forces in May, 1942, training in the south and middle west, and going overseas in February, 1943.

He participated in the Tunisian, Caribbean and Sicily Campaigns, completing 31 missions and wearing the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters; the African Campaign Medal, the Sharpshooter's and Good Conduct Medals.

Besides his parents he leaves a sister, Mrs. Daniel Brennan, and a brother, Francis R. Manzie, both of Winchester.

MARYCLIFF ACADEMY DEDICATED

Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, chancellor of the Boston Archdiocese, blessed the new Marycliff Academy building on the old Sanborn estate off High street at dedication exercises attended by more than 700 persons last Sunday.

Mgr. Furlong presided at solemn benediction, assisted by Rev. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church, as deacon and Rev. Timothy E. O'Leary, asst. superintendent of parochial schools of the archdiocese as subdeacon.

More than 50 priests of the archdiocese assisted Mgr. Furlong as he blessed the new building. St. Joseph's CYO championship band of Medford, played during the afternoon.

CONSTANTINE G. GHIKAS

Constantine G. Ghikas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ghikas of 6 Calumet road, died Sunday morning, Sept. 19, in the Symmes Arlington Hospital, following a brief illness.He collapsed Friday afternoon while driving golf balls at the Country Side Range in Lexington, to which he had been accompanied by his brother. He was removed to the Symmes Arlington Hospital where it was at first thought he was suffering from indigestion. He improved Saturday morning, but Saturday afternoon became seriously ill and despite the effort of specialists, died Sunday morning. A cerebral hemorrhage was believed to have been the cause of his death.

Son of George C., and Magdaline (Tsirachi) Ghikas, the deceased was born in Malden Sept. 12, 1922. He was educated in the Medford schools and at Medford High School, graduating from Tufts College with the degree of A.B. in 1941, and receiving his Masters' Degree from Harvard the following year. While at Tufts he was president of the French Club and elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the honorary scholastic fraternity.

After receiving his M.A. Mr. Ghikas entered the United States Army, in which he served in the European Theatre during the war with the 86th Infantry. He was wounded in action, receiving the Purple Heart citation and medal, and being hospitalized in England and later at the Cushing General Hospital in Framingham.

Following his discharge from the army he returned to Harvard where he was a candidate for a Doctor's Degree in Romance Languages. He was to have taken examinations toward his degree this week.

Besides his parents, Mr. Ghikas is survived by a sister, Phalia, who is a secretary at Harvard, and by a brother, Panos, a well known contemporary artist and member of the faculty at Phillips Andover Academy.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the late residence with services at the Greek Cathedral of the Annunciation at Park and Ruggles streets in Boston, Rev. James Coucouzes officiated. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB OPENED 1948-49 SEASON MONDAY

The Mystic Glee Club opened its 1948-1949 season with a get-together at Masonic Hall, Monday night, September 20th. Over forty-five members spent a most enjoyable evening renewing acquaintances and limbering up summer-rested vocal cords.

The meeting was opened by the Mystic Glee Club's new president, Bob Carlson. After a short business session, in which plans for the new season were presented, the club turned to singing. With Mary Louise Wood as accompanist, the club sang several favorites including J. Maunder's arrangement of "Border Ballad" and Deems Taylor's "Waters Ripple and Flow". The entertainment committee under the able direction of Harry O'Brien topped the evening with refreshments for all.

The club was honored by the presence of three new prospective members; Robert H. Jewell of Winchester, Harold P. Hokanson of Medford, and Richard Jackson of Reading.

A cordial invitation is extended to anyone interested in singing with the club to attend the next meeting this coming Monday, September 28, 8:00 p. m., at Masonic Hall.

WHITE JOINS LAW FIRM

John W. White of 9 Yale street, Winchester, has become a member of the Boston law firm of Parker, Coulter, Daley and White. Mr. White became a member of the firm of Sawyer, Hardy, Stone and Morrison, last January 1, and has become a member of the new firm since the retirement of two partners.

State Senator Edward C. Stone, Mr. White's father-in-law, and Warren G. Reed, both partners of the older firm, have retired and the new name has been taken, as of September 1.

Mr. White is a graduate of Amherst College and Harvard Law School. During the war he served in the South Pacific area and was advanced to the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

CLAIMS WINCHESTER SCHOOLS UNSAFE

Fire Hazard Aired in Current Magazine

Statement Denied by Winchester National Fire Protection Engineer

In the current issue of Colliers, appearing this Friday morning, the first article by Amy Porter under the title of "Death in the Classroom," holds no compliments for the fireproof nature of Winchester public schools. The article is the first of two in an attempt to urge that the nation's public schools be fireproofed.

The article, which quotes a Winchester resident, Mr. James K. McElroy of 7a Bacon street, follows:

Winchester, Massachusetts Beware!

James K. McElroy, National Fire Protection Association engineer, carries in his wallet a small oblong of green burlap wainscoting. He told me, "This is the stuff that was used on the walls of the corridors of the Winecoff Hotel." (The Atlanta, Georgia, hotel disaster of 1946 in which 119 guests were burned to death.) "It is similar to that used in the hallways of the school my own child attends in Winchester, Massachusetts. It is as dangerous as dynamite. I've complained to school authorities but nothing has been done about it." Mr. McElroy fingered the oblong thoughtfully, stuck it back in his wallet.

We've had dumb luck with our school fires—four fifths of them have occurred after school hours. This can't last, say fire-prevention authorities. We may be due for a terrible schoolhouse tragedy. Next week Collier's will publish the last of two articles on this vitally important subject.

To the Citizens of Winchester:

The leading article of the October 2nd issue of Collier's magazine now on sale, makes a serious charge of the existence of a fire hazard in one of Winchester's schools. The article by Amy Porter is entitled "Death in the Classroom."

Despite this headline, the body of the article makes no mention of Winchester whatsoever until the final paragraph entitled, "Winchester, Massachusetts, Beware."

Mr. McElroy, at his own request, appeared before a special meeting of the School Committee on Sept. 22. The following letter presents the true facts of the matter and his own position with respect thereto:

7a Bacon Street
Winchester, Mass.
Sept. 22, 1948

To the Winchester School Committee:

Gentlemen:

It is unfortunate that a timely and tragically important article in the October 2nd issue of Collier's magazine titled "Death in the Classroom" should have inferred by a statement attributed to the undersigned that the Mystic School is an inherently unsafe building.

Here are the facts:

The painted burlap on the corridor walls of the Mystic School is similar to that which was used in the corridors of the Winecoff Hotel. It is not hazardous in its present condition. It will burn if exposed to a fire originating in the corridors which could cause the burlap to peel from the plastered wall. There are steps which can be taken to reduce the inherent hazard of the burlap type of interior finish material.

The two story Mystic School has modern fire resistive construction in the first floor, second floor corridor, stair tower, and toilet rooms. It has an attic space with a wood roof with slate roof covering. It was built in 1925 and is in good physical condition.

The boiler room, though a part of the building, is reinforced concrete and is cut off by a fire door from the first floor corridor. The fire door, if closed, will prevent any fire originating in the boiler room from spreading to the balance of the building.

Let me assure you that if I had thought my child was exposed to conditions "as dangerous as dynamite" you would have heard from me long ago.

The article states that "I've complained to school authorities . . ." and you are familiar with the fact that I made no formal complaint to Superintendent Norris or the School Committee. As I promised Dr. Norris on last Monday, my services are at your disposal.

Sincerely,
James K. McElroy

The School Committee cannot minimize the gravity of the appearance in a national magazine of such inaccurate allegations and has wired a copy of Mr. McElroy's letter to Collier's with request for immediate publication.

All of our school buildings have been carefully and regularly inspected by the Massachusetts Department of Public Safety which has furnished certification of each building. Upon receipt of an advanced copy of the Collier's article, the State inspector was again summoned by the School Committee to double check any possible hazards. Further exhaustive inspections of all school buildings will follow.

The safety of our children is recognized as a paramount responsibility of the School Committee and has not been neglected.

Signed:
Mr. Hazen Ayer, Chairman
Mrs. Marion Chandler
Capt. Richard M. Rush
Mr. William J. Speers, Jr.
Mr. Charles Jellison
Mr. Howard R. Bartlett

Heads Community Fund Drive

COMMUNITY FUND DRIVE OPENS SOON

Organization for Winchester's part in the great Community Fund Red Feather campaign opening in mid-October is proceeding apace under the able direction of Chairman Earl G. Carrier and Herbert Wadsworth who heads up the volunteer worker group.

Precinct Directors and Assistants have been appointed and are busily enrolling workers as a part of the 18,000 volunteers who will carry to a successful conclusion the annual Community Fund appeal for Red Feather services in 1949. Following is the list of the directors and Assistant Directors by precincts:

Precinct 1 - Donald E. Dalrymple, Director - Harry D. Bean and John A. Plumer, Assistants.

Precinct 2 - Stephen Hill, Director - Paul Stoneman and David Meskell, Assistants.

Precinct 3 - Rolland Patrick Director - Carlton Heard and Elsie Abbott, Assistants.

Precinct 4 - Charles Butler, Director - Dorothy Farnsworth and Harry Hood, Jr., Assistants.

Precinct 5 - Kern Folkers, Director - John McIntyre and E. Garrison, Assistants.

Precinct 6 - James Murray, Director.

Beginning next Monday, weekly Dutch treat luncheons for leaders of all metropolitan communities will be held, through the courtesy of one of the Red Feather services, at the Burroughs Newsboys Foundation, 10 Somerset street, Boston, next door to the Community Fund campaign headquarters at 9 Beacon street. Friendly rivalry among the various communities in completing their enrollment of local volunteer workers will be the keynote of these meetings and Winchester will hold its own with the best of them if past experience gives any indication. Dr. Charles F. Wilinsky, director of Beth Israel Hospital and a staunch friend of Red Feather services, will be the guest speaker next Monday.

A dinner meeting of chairman and division heads took place last Tuesday at the Harvard Club and was addressed by Congressman Christian Herter, of international prominence. Charles Francis Adams, President of the Fund, was present. The Winchester group who attended reported a most inspiring and enjoyable evening.

THE MARY WITHAM SINGERS BEGIN THEIR REHEARSALS

The Mary Witham Singers, independent reorganization of the Fortnightly Singers, whose programs under Mrs. Witham, with Mrs. Lucy Wilcox Cushman as accompanist, have in past seasons given pleasure to many music lovers, are to begin rehearsals on Monday, October 4, at 7:30 p. m. at Mrs. Witham's home, 81 Bacon street. Those interested in joining the group are cordially invited to meet the voice committee there at seven o'clock, or previously to telephone Mrs. Witham, WInchester 6-0467-R.

Several engagements are already planned, and interesting programs of beautiful choral music are to be anticipated.

Miss Theresa Sullivan of the Winchester Telephone Exchange staff has been spending a week's vacation at Sutton, N. H.

MRS. ELLA AUGUSTA PERRY

Mrs. Ella Augusta (William A.) Ferry, a resident for 22 years at the home for the Aged, passed away Sunday evening, Sept. 19, after a brief illness. She was one of Winchester's oldest residents and had she lived until December, would have entered her 100th year.

Mrs. Perry was born in Lawrence, Dec. 22, 1849, the daughter of Leonard Farley, and Elizabeth (Preston) Creesy. In her earlier days she lived for many years in Winchester, taking an active part in the civic life of the town. She was at one time president of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Epiphany. Later she was engaged in social service work, first in New York and then in Honolulu.

Possessing an exceedingly keen mind, and having travelled extensively, she was well informed on matters national and international. The interest and enthusiasm which she retained through her 98th year were remarkable.

Mrs. Perry made many contacts through the radio. Among them was her infailing interest in the programs of Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, with whom she was in turn a great favorite. Affectionately called "Aunt Ella" by the famous band leader and his troupe, Mrs.. Perry was twice the Pennsylvanians' guest of honor at Boston appearances, the first time several years ago at a broadcast at the Hotel Statler, and the second time last May at the Boston Garden.

During her illness Mr. Waring and his band sent Mrs. Perry a beautiful basket of flowers, touching her deeply, and at her death wrote that they had lost a devoted fan and friend. Among the floral tributes at her funeral was a beautiful casket spray from the Pennsylvanians and Mr. Waring.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, officiating. Cremation followed the service at Mt. Auburn.

LOBSTER BAKE

Mr. and Mrs. George Butler of Stoneham entertained a group of friends last week-end at the clam and lobster bake at their summer home, the Butler Cottages in Dennisport.

Among their guests were Miss Mary Keady of Winchester, Miss Helen Warren Hamil of Stoneham, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Dwyer of Glendale, Cal., and Mr. Justin Horie of this town.

Mr. Butler is widely known through his connection as pharmacist with McCormack's Apothecary.

TWO PASS BAR EXAMINATION

Two Winchester men were among the 197 successful applicants to pass the Massachusetts Bar examination last week. The examination was taken by 596 applicants, of which only 33% were successful. The two Winchester men were Mr. Sumner R. Andrews of Wildwood street and Mr. John Corbin of Wedgemere avenue.

TROOP 12 TO START WEEKLY MEETINGS

On Thursday evening, September 30th at 7:15 p. m. Troop 12 of St. Mary's parish will start the Fall Season with their first meeting, in this their second year of Scouting. Many camping trips and special events will be featured this year.

There are several Cub Scouts from Pack 12 of St. Mary's who now are eligible to join the Troop and these boys are most heartily welcome to come to this first meeting. The following Cubs are slated to join: Thomas Morrissey, Laurence Erhard, Dennis Doucette, Michael Murphy, Neil McCarron, Jr., Robert Pearson, Ernest Reardon, David Kinton. Other Cubs will follow from time to time as they become 12 years of age.

Some of the Scouts got to camp this Summer and enjoyed a wonderful experience. Among those who attended Camp Fellsland were Leo Coughlin, Bobby Thorne and Don Cullen. Leo came home with the Junior Marksman badge he having attained the necessary points at the rifle range.

Troop 12 is indebted to Mr. Robert Low of the Camping Committee for offering to them many boys' book from the Library of Mr. Warren Fogg. Troop 12 is indebted to these gentlemen and the books will aid immeasurably in establishing the Troop Library with Scout Joseph Weiss already installed as Librarian.

To sum up, don't forget the date Thursday evening, September 30th at St. Mary's School.

Thousands of People read the Globe Magazine every Sunday. You will find an interesting magazine, containing the best of fiction. Don't miss it next Sunday. Make the Boston Sunday Globe your Sunday newspaper.

SCHOOL DANCING CLASSES

The various chairmen of the 6th grade dancing classes and Junior High "Assemblies" met at the home of Mrs. Chandler Symmes last Wednesday morning. Mr. Russell Curry and Mr. Harry Raymond of the Curry School of Dancing discussed this year's classes, past customs and current problems, etc., for the benefit of new chairmen.

Sixth grade class lists were checked and each chairman was given the dates for classes at her school . . . to be confirmed by the principal. The Junior High also checked lists and dates.

For the benefit of newcomers to Winchester, the Curry School of Dancing has been offering special instruction to all sixth grade children of Winchester for a good many years. These classes are a prelude to the Junior High Assemblies ballroom etiquette and social procedure are included in the instruction.

Among those attending the meeting were: Mrs. R. A. Johnston, Mrs. Harold Nichols, Mrs. Phillip Benson, Mrs. William W. Young, Mrs. Alfred Higgins, Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth, Mrs. C. C. Peter, Mrs. James K. McElroy, Mrs. Paul Forrester was unable to be present.

GEORGE WASHINGTON MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Mothers' Association of the George Washington School will open its season with a tea on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at 3:30 p. m. This annual event always furnishes a pleasant opportunity for mothers and teachers to meet and especially for mothers of kindergarten children to be welcomed into the association.

The tea arrangements are under the direction of Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle, chairman of the social committee. The smaller children, from preschool age through the second grade, will be taken care of in the kindergarten room so that all mothers may be free to attend the meeting.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME SOCIETY ANNOUNCES

Officers and Committeemen for Coming Season

A complete roster of Officers and Committeemen is now announced for St. Mary's Holy Name Society with an indication of a most successful season looming ahead. The Officers were duly elected at the last meeting of the past season in May and the Committeemen were appointed by the Officers at a special meeting which the latter held soon thereafter. Emphasis has been placed upon a strong "Sick and Vigil Committee" to insure that a good representation will be present at a deceased member's home to offer prayers. A strong "Membership Committee" with Chairmen in each precinct will be another feature plus a very important "Youth Committee", all indicative of a very active Society for the coming year. The complete roster follows:

GIRL SCOUTS NOTES

Five Senior Wing Scouts from Winchester acted as Aides on Army Airforce Day at Bedford Airport last Sunday. These Winchester girls were the only girl scouts participating at Bedford, but there were several groups of Air-force boy scouts from other towns.

Many people stopped and spoke to the girls and complimented them on their neat appearance and bright smiles.

Beth McCall, Joan McKinley, Kathleen Finn, Betty Ann DeCourcey, and Marcia Flaherty enjoyed the trip to Bedford Airport with Mrs. Metcalf and were thrilled with the excitement of the day.

WINCHESTER COMMUNITY CONCERTS

There'll be music in Winchester again this winter! The Winchester Smith College Club is delighted to announce that it is once more sponsoring a series of concerts to be given in the high school auditorium this coming season.

Those who attended last year will remember that though this is a project for raising money for a scholarship, its benefits to the community are so great one is inclined to think of it as a purely cultural opportunity. With our famous New England weather it is a treat to be able to hear, in person, some of the country's finest artists without having to leave our own town, and a large number of last year's subscribers indicated their appreciation of this fact by asking last Spring that their subscriptions be renewed if the concerts were held.

Subscriptions are to be on sale for only one week, beginning Oct. 1, when the campaign will be officially launched at a dinner at the Winchester Country Club. Miss Adelaide Homer is president of this year's Community Concerts, with Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr., first vice-president, and Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr., and Mrs. Robert Roundey sharing the position of second vice-president, and acting as co-chairmen of the campaign. The other officers are Mrs. Melville L. Hughes, Jr., secretary, and Mr. Davenport Davis, treasurer. Mrs. Harrison Lyman is dinner chairman and Mrs. Harold Farnsworth appointment chairman.

This year's board of directors consists of Mrs. Charles S. Livingstone, Mrs. Clarence P. Whorf, Mr. Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr., Mrs. Gordon Parker, Mr. Carroll Knowlton, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Moffatt, Dr. Samuel B. Kirkwood, Mrs. Edith M. Bolster, Mr. Paul F. Avery, Miss Eleanor Anifantis and Mrs. Thomas M. Hennessey.

BAPTIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist Church opens its 1948-49 season with a home-coming rally and planning conference in the social hall of the church at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, Sept. 26.

Mr. Martin Swanson, who has just recently returned from an extended tour through Europe, will speak from his personal experience on the conditions he found there. He was particularly impressed with the peace and calm that religion brings to those who are undergoing such great disturbances in their lives This should help us in this peaceful country to place a higher value on our religion.

Three of the mothers of the young people, Mrs. Ernest Clark, Mrs. Waldo Dade and Mrs. Harold McKinley, will provide refreshments.

All young people of high school age and over are invited to attend.

WINCHESTER TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

The Winchester Toastmistress Club met at the home of Mrs. Helen Pietz, 99 Pine Ridge road, West Medford at 8:30 Tuesday evening, Sept. 14.

Mrs. Betty Choate of Winchester was the toastmistress and introduced the five minute speakers who were Mrs. Lena Smith who spoke on "Some Superstitions About Money," Mrs. Zelma Schwartz, "A Promise" and Miss Hilda Hope's speech entitled "What Price Health"

Miscellaneous articles placed in paper bags and passed out by the topic mistress, Mrs. Helen Pietz, supplied the subjects for the two minute extemporaneous speeches.

Mrs. Ruth Kelley of Winchester and Mrs. Elsie Finnegan of Malden evaluated both the five and two minute speeches for the evening.

WINCHESTER GIRL WINS EXPERT RIFLEMAN'S MEDAL

Judith Wyman, 17, of 1 Herrick street, Winchester, won the Expert Rifleman's Medal it was announced last Wednesday by the National Rifle Association, governing body of competitive rifle and pistol shooting for the United States.

Young Miss Wyman first took up the target sport several years ago. She has climbed steadily through the 13 lower rankings and needs only one more to reach the top drawer of the junior shooters - the Distinguished Rifleman's Medal.

Judith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wyman. She is a 12th grade student at Beaver Country Day School and a member of the Camp Wono Rifle Club.

At a meeting recently held at the Boston City Club, the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants announced the appointments of Activities Committee Chairmen for the 1948-1949 Season. WINCHESTER MAN IN EUROPE FOR U. N. WORLD MAGAZINE CONFERENCES

Richard D. Mathewson, son of Mrs. Richard D. Mathewson, of 18 Glen road, left Saturday, September 18, for Europe to attend a series of conferences with the European representatives of United Nations World magazine, of which Mr. Mathewson is General Manager, and to attend the opening of the General Assembly of the United Nations in Paris.

Traveling via Scandinavian Airlines, he will attend several events in London, connected with launching the British edition of UNITED NATIONS WORLD, edited by Francis Noel-Baker, the son of Philip Noel-Baker, Secretary of State for Commonwealth Relations for the British Empire. The new British edition is the recipient of the first paper allocation from the British Government granted to any new publication since before the war.

Later, in Paris, Mr. Mathewson will meet with representatives of the Scandinavian edition of the magazine and will join members of the UNW Tour to Paris who left New York earlier on the America and Queen Mary. Aboard ship, the 60 members of this tour are participating in seminar discussions about the UN and its problems, led by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Warren D. Austin.

The entire UNITED NATIONS WORLD group will attend the opening sessions of the United Nations General Assembly, and also a reception in honor of the magazine and its party, given by the French Government. At the reception, first copies of "The 1948 Yearbook of the United Nations" French edition, and a new edition of "Everyman's Guide to the UN" -- the first of a series of books, prepared by the magazine's staff for the UN -- will be released.

While in Paris, Mr. Mathewson will also be the American delegate to the Planning Committee of the International Advertising Association, the post-war revival on which Mr. Mathewson assisted during his last visit to Paris, for "Newsweek" Magazine, in 1946.

Monday forenoon Officer James Flaherty, while on duty in the square, picked up a boy who even after his arrival at headquarters, refused to give either his name or address. Investigation disclosed that he was a 10 year old Woburn boy who was reported missing from his home in that city. He was turned over to the Woburn police.

SWAMPSCOTT HERE SATURDAY

Deceptive Sculpins Hard Early-Season Foe

Winchester High School's football team will get a real testing tomorrow afternoon when the Blue and Silver Sculpins of Swampscott come to Winchester.

A year ago a polished Swampscott eleven smeared a green Winchester team all over Stackpole Field at Swampscott, plastering the locals, 24-0, with a fine exhibition of ball-handling legerdemain, from a very smooth-working T.

This year the Sculpins are minus quite a few of their key-boys from last season and do not figure to be as good as they were a year ago. Coach Knowlton believes his Winchester team is better than his club was at this time in 1947.

What will happen tomorrow is anyone's guess. Swampscott will be more polished than Winchester and further along in development, having been out since the middle of August. The Sculpins played in the Lynn Jamboree Sept. 3, and last Saturday night beat St. Mary's of Lynn, 17-6. The local coaching staff brought back the report that Swampscott looked very good against opposition that wasn't of the strongest.

Swampscott always brings a spirited team to Winchester, and the Sculpins are well coached by the talented Harold Martin. The locals have a ten pound pull in the weights of the starting teams, averaging 173 to 163 for the visitors. Whether Swampscott speed and hipper-dipper can offset this weight advantage will be answered tomorrow, but the Sculpins with tackles at 196 and 201 and a 184 pound center won't be small along the forward wall.

Winchester naturally made a lot of mistakes against Lexington last Saturday, but the locals surely opened up with a passing attack that beat anything a Winchester team has shown in an opening game for years.

Swampscott always draws well so get down early for a seat at this one. Incidentally Faculty Manager George Curtis says that the Park Department is going to have the remaining seats ready for tomorrow.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO DINE

The Winchester Softball League, which recently concluded a most successful season, will hold a banquet on Tuesday evening, Sept. 28, at 6:30 in Waterfield Hall. Hosts for the occasion are the Veterans of Foreign Wars with Senior Vice Comdr. Thomas Duddy in charge of details. Members of the Winchester Park Board and Recreation Committee have been invited to attend.

Featuring the after-dinner program will be the presentation of the trophy donated by the Winchester Sport Shop to the Sons of Italy team, winners of the Softball League Championship. Henry Knowlton, coach of the Winchester High School football team, will show movies of the Winchester-Lexington football game last Saturday with his own comments on plays and players. There will be music and it is expected that Winchester's own Ted Norris, National A.A.U. long distance swimming champion and U. S. Olympic point winner, will be on hand to speak on the Olympic trip.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Koslof, a speaker much in demand because of his "profound knowledge of the international situation." His address promises to be both interesting and provocative.

The banquet is stag and open to the public. Reservations may be made with the manager of any of the local softball teams, or by calling Robert Fiore before 6 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 25.

WINCHESTER OPENS FALL MAYFLOWER LEAGUE SEASON WITH HOCKEY VICTORY

Winchester Hockey Club, playing in remarkable form considering that the boys have not been on skates since last spring, downed the highly touted Fitchburg Hockey Club 6 to 2 at the opening of the Mayflower League fall season last Sunday at the Skating Club.

The entire first period gave all indications of a tight game. Fitchburg scored the only goal in this stanza, J. Holland getting credit for deflecting Figueira's effort into the net. The remainder of the game was a different affair. The locals seemed to find themselves as the second period began. Jim Fuller took the puck down the length of the ice and counted unassisted. Midway in the period Dean Tolman put the locals in front when he took a pass from Bob Collins and fired it home. Then Dumond racked up another for Winchester on a fast solo rush.

Wimpy Burtnett got Winchester's fourth goal as the third period began. Wimpy had been trying hard all along, but had been covered so closely that he had been unable to get loose for effective shooting. Dumond followed with his second score of the afternoon at the end of a checkerboard passing game inside the Fitchburg blue line. Tolman getting the assist. Fitchburg staged a desperate effort at this point. On a power play with five men inside the Winchester blue line St. Martin took a pass from Hood and scored. But the rally ended there. Roy Monson cut loose in the final minutes of the game and on a breakaway down the ice shot the puck past the Fitchburg goalie into the net with such force that it took several of the players and one of the officials to dislodge it from the strings.

The locals all played exceptionally well. Scott Doub, Don Ellis and Jim Fuller gave their usual dependable exhibitions on defense. Dumond with his two goals and his effective checking back had the edge among the forwards. Dean Tolman played his best game since joining the club last March. Scottie Connor made save after save in goal, two of them bordering on the sensational. For Fitchburg St. Martin, Hood and Figueira played strong games.

Two familiar faces in the Winchester lineup all last season were missing at the opening of this fall session of the league; the fast skating, hard shooting Don Armstrong is presently devoting his entire athletic skill to football at Wesleyan, while the rugged Whip Saltmarsh is away at Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H.

A small but rapid group of loyal rooters was on hand to give the locals plenty of vocal support. Coach Sherman Saltmarsh senior took the occasion to thank the members of the team for the handsome flyfishing reel they presented to him recently and they promptly responded with an impressive victory.

All hockey fans are invited to be on hand at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 26, at the Skating Club (near Harvard Stadium) when Winchester plays the Malden Legion team in its second league game.

PLEASE!

Editor of the Star:

The preoccupation of us all in the complex activities of our daily lives tends to dull our interest in anything outside that tight little circle. Occasionally some particular urgency breaks through and forces us to pause long enough to dispose of it. Thus, in spite of these persistent pressures of immediate demands, we are compelled, though sometimes reluctantly, to gain an unexpected vision of a shining world beyond our daily orbit which revitalizes our inner strength. From it we gain courage. Through it we renew our faith in the inherent decency and kindliness of humanity.

Such a vision came to me one day this Spring. A young Winchester mother was putting up a herculean fight to live, - not for herself, but for her child. The situation was brought to my attention and I approached a few friends by letter through whom it reached the Treasurer of the local branch of the Salvation Army, Mr. Davenport F. Davis.

Mr. Davis was so impressed that he made a thorough investigation and shortly thereafter I was informed that the SALVATION ARMY had approved a substantial gift of money. To this mother it was truly a gift from heaven. To me her gratitude was the shining vision of the greater glory which is beyond. Because of it I shall always feel an obligation to support the SALVATION ARMY in carrying on its great work - so quietly, unostentatiously and truly Christian in its execution.

Many of our Winchester people are unfamiliar with the work done by the SALVATION ARMY. I do hope that this true story of just one of the many unpublished instances of SALVATION ARMY charity will serve to bring every one forward with a substantial gift. The committee is asking for donations now. Let's surprise them with our generosity.

Sincerely,
Sophie Bowman Coulter.

MISS KIMBALL, MR. WOLFE ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton I. Kimball of Woodville announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Olive Marion Kimball, to John F. Wolfe, son of Dr. and Mrs. Chester F. Wolfe of Jefferson road.

Miss Kimball is a graduate of Becker Junior College. Mr. Wolfe was graduated from the University of Massachusetts and served with the 4th Armored Division during the war.

AXON — TAPLEY

White gladioli and ferns decorated the home of Mr. and Mrs Gilbert H. Tapley of Winchester on September 18th for the marriage of their youngest daughter Ruth to Mr. J. Thomas Axon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Axon of Towson, Md. The Rev. Allen Clark of Danvers officiated at the four o'clock ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore the wedding gown previously worn by her sisters, Mrs. Sanborn Vincent of Winchester and Mrs. David Hopkins of Springfield, Vermont. Fashioned of ivory satin, princess style, it had a square neckline trimmed with lace, and a train. With it she wore a fingertip veil caught to a coronet of matching lace, and carried a bouquet of white camellias.

Miss Muriel Howard of Winchester was the maid of honor. Gowned in royal blue velvet, she carried glamellias in varying tones of rose. Miss Deborah Unger, niece of the groom was flower girl and Masters William H. and Gilbert T. Vincent acted as page boys. Mr. Donald Axon was his brother' best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tapley wore a print dress of green and black tones on a white background. Mrs. Axon, mother of the groom, wore a toast colored gown. Both wore corsages of yellow butterfly orchids.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Miss Caroline Ann Thompson of Winchester at the piano. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Unger, Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. William B. Malone, Manhassett, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Walker, Ambler, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Hopkins, Chevy Chase, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Fabens, Cleveland, Ohio.

The bride was graduated from Winchester High School class of '41 and Smith College '48. The groom, from Harvard College class of '44 and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, February, '48.

After a wedding trip to Martha's Vineyard, Mr. and Mrs. Axon will make their home in Springfield, Missouri.

HEALTH DEMONSTRATION

"The two chief causes of disease are food and drink", so quoted Evangelist Brendel of Melrose. "I believe Dr. Hindhede of Denmark, whom he quoted was not too far off from being altogether right." Continuing, Mr. Brendel stated "the greatest need is not for more hospitals, sick wards, doctors, or surgery, but for a simple understanding as to how to take care of the body so one is not taken sick."

Believing the need is for more education in the principles of Healthful Living, Mr. Brendel opens his first lecture in the series next Wednesday night in the Odd Fellows Hall at 442 Main street in Malden. Beginning at 7:30 there will be things of interest to everyone who is longing to have better health and wanting to know more about the body and the food that should be nourishing the body.

The last meeting of the series will be December 19. Every Wednesday is a big night from now until then.

In addition to the demonstrations each Wednesday evening Evangelist Brendel will show colored pictures on the famous "Learn How To Be Well' lectures. Early comers will have the best seats. Doors open at 6:30.

SMITH — PINKHAM

At a 4 o'clock candlelight ceremony on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 18, in Mt. Vernon Chapel, Boston, Miss Marilyn Fontaine Pinkham, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Prime Pinkham of 18 Prospect street, became the bride of Mr. Douglas Dean Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dean Smith of Verona, N. J., The Rev. Dwight W. Smith of Mt. Vernon Church was the officiating clergyman.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Raymond Edward Pinkham, superintendent of schools of Branford, Conn., the bride wore a frost blue, three piece gabardine suit with large navy blue picture hat and navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Attending her as matron of honor was Mrs. Lawrence Prime Pinkham of Louisville, Ky., sister-in-law of the bride, who wore a two piece suit of grey faille, with hat of matching satin, and wore a corsage of purple orchids.

Mr. George Smith of Bloomfield, N. J., was best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Winfield Selwyn Prime of Wilson street, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Homer Ayer Smith of Montclair, N. J.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and was graduated with the class of 1944 from the Chandler School. The bridegroom was graduated from the Morristown Preparatory School and attended the University of Chicago. He served during the war in the Pacific area with the U. S. Navy for three years.

Owing to the recent and very sudden death of the bride's brother, Mr. Lawrence Prime Pinkham of Louisville, Ky., plans which had been made for a more extensive wedding reception, at the Hotel Sheraton, were cancelled and were confined to the bridal group and family gathering at the hotel following the ceremony.

After a two weeks' wedding trip, the young couple will return to Montclair, N. J., where they will make their future home. Mr. Smith is associated in a supervisory capacity, with the International Tel. and Tel. Co., of Clifton, N. J.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. Howard of 22 Glen road announce the engagement of their daughter, Muriel, to John D. Deacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Deacon of Waban, Mass. Miss Howard is a graduate of Colby College. Mr. Deacon served as a lieutenant in the Marine Corps during the war and is completing his senior year at Yale University.

No immediate wedding plans have been made.

MISS WORTHEN, MR. TOBEY ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Washburn Worthen of 29 Wedgemere avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Worthen, to Mr. J. Lawrence Tobey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Julien Tobey of 5 Francis circuit. Miss Worthen attended the Walnut Hill School and is a graduate of Wellesley College and Pierce Secretarial School. She is a secretary in the Department of Engineering Sciences and Applied Physics at Harvard. Mr. Tobey is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and during the war served as a lieutenant in the Navy. He is an abrasives engineer with the Norton Co., of Worcester. A November wedding is planned.

SURPRISE TEA FOR MRS. DOTTEN

Mrs. Harry Dotten was pleasantly surprised Wednesday afternoon at a tea given in her honor at the home of Mrs. Charles Murphy. All her neighbors of Reservoir street and Alben street were there and a delightful afternoon was enjoyed by each and every one. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Murphy and her sister, Mrs. Armstrong. Mrs. Dotten was presented with a neighbors.

TO PAY FOR BAND'S PANTS

High schoolers will attend a stag dance at the gymnasium tomorrow evening. Hammond's Harmonizers are contributing their services in order that the entire proceeds may be added to the Pants-for-the-band fund.

Mr. Fred Felmet has as his assistant in this undertaking Mr. Edward A. Bartlett, popular faculty member who inaugurated the stag dance idea in a successful venture last year.

Edmund W. Sanderson of Schenectady, N. Y., son of the late Edmund W. Sanderson and grandson of Water Commissioner Edmund C. Sanderson, is entering Dartmouth College this fall.

NEW TRAIN TIME SUNDAY

New train time will go into effect on the railroad Sunday when daylight saving time changes and the clocks are set back one hour. Only minor changes in the trains are made however, one Saturday inward train being taken off - that leaving Winchester at 3:14 p. m., and the former 11:00 a. m. outward weekday train leaving Boston at 10:50.

An innovation taking the railroad back to by-gone days is the stopping of the "paper train." This train now carries passengers. It will leave Boston at 1:55 a. m. and arrive in Winchester at 2:12, making a break for the boys who do their courting out of town.

New timetables in convenient pocket form may be obtained of the following:

E. H. Butterworth, Jeweler, Common street.
W. Allan Wilde, Insurance, Thompson street.
Winchester Co-operative Bank.
Winchester National Bank.

Do not forget however, that you do not turn the hands of your clock back unless electric. Either stop the clock for one hour or turn the hands all the way around.

WINCHESTER DOING WELL

Winchester is making progress in raising funds for The Salvation Army 1948-49 Greater Boston Appeal for $500,000. Local Chairman Dr. Forbes H. Norris reveals that the first report luncheon will be held in Boston on Tuesday, September 28, and it is his hope that at the time, Winchester will be able to give substantial indication of its approval of all that The Salvation Army flag represents, especially since Sunday, (September 26) is Salvation Army Flag Day.

THIS IS ONE DEER WE'LL REALLY ENJOY EATING!

A General Electric Home Freezer keeps game and fish fresh for months!

THIS YEAR you won't have to gorge on venison until you're ready to swear off hunting, and then hunger for the stuff half the winter.

With a General Electric Home Freezer, you just freeze the fish and game you get. You eat the food you want when you want it.

A General Electric Home Freezer is grand for freezing and storing vegetables and fruits, baked goods, and ice cream. Your wife saves work and you save money on these foods.

To be sure of every satisfaction a home freezer can offer, be sure you get a General Electric.

The sealed-in refrigerating system is the same type as that used in General Electric Refrigerators. More than 1,700,000 of these systems have been in service ten years or more.

In repeated laboratory tests, the General Electric Perfect Seal cabinet construction proved so efficient that it kept food frozen for several days after the current was shut off.

Do this—today!

Put on your hat, and take your wife by the hand to our store. Let us show you how the General Electric Home Freezer can pay for itself over the years . . . and what a wonderful convenience it is for you—and for her!

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my neighbors and friends for their kind expressions of sympathy, spiritual bouquets and flowers during my recent bereavement.
I wish to thank especially the Winchester Fire Department, Lever Bros., of Cambridge, and the children of the neighborhood.
John Richardson.

LINCOLN SCHOOL HAS UNIQUE COLOR SCHEMES

Unlike any other school in Winchester and perhaps unlike any other school anywhere, the Lincoln School on Westley street has the last word in color schemes.

The visitor to Lincoln School is impressed immediately upon entering the building by the inside surface of the main doors, the yellow paint giving the effect of sunshine even on the dullest day. Once inside, he is impressed by the unique corridor wall decoration which is actually a series of panels of varied colors which contrast sharply with the black asphalt floor. Since all colors are in pastel shades and of a flat surface, the effect is to illuminate the corridors from end to end.

Whereas the principal's office is decorated in gray, including all permanent fixtures. The classrooms offer separate studies.

A typical room would have white ceiling, white window frames and sashes, and white wall on the windowed side, a blue opposite wall (even the cloak closet doors), and one end in gray and the other yellow.

Each room has a distinctive color scheme developed in accordance with the age groups normally housed there. Dr. Gyorgy Kepes, lighting and color expert at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who was called in by Dr. Forbes Norris as consultant with Dr. Mildred Landis, Winchester's art consultant, first inquired about the ages of the pupils normally using each room.

Working on the theory that a satisfactory color scheme reduces fatigue and eye strain, Dr. Kepes insists that combinations of colors rather than a single color really contribute to better lighting.

Although it is rather early to predict the effectiveness of the redecorating, some Lincoln teachers have found themselves less fatigued at day's end now than formerly. Kindergarten pupils haven't mentioned the colors, and older pupils say they like them.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHER'S ASSOCIATION

On Wednesday afternoon, September 22, the first meeting of the Noonan School Mother's Association was called to order by Mrs. Rosa MacArthur promptly at 2:00 p. m. A large group of members attended. Miss Rich was recipient of a check for $25.00 presented to her by retiring president Mrs. E. McElhinney. Money to be used to increase film library for the children. The past president was presented with a toaster by Mrs. V. Haggerty in appreciation of her services.

Tickets were distributed for the first social event to be a Get Together dance in aid of the scholarship fund to be held Friday, October 1, 1948 from 8-11:30 in the Noonan School auditorium.

Many other plans were discussed.

It was decided to try a night meeting on Monday, October 25th at 7:45 p. m. At the close a white elephant penny sale will be held.

Before adjournment a reception was held for the teachers at which time in place of the usual corsages Miss Rich and her teaching staff were given a table lamp for their teachers room.

The board served a delightful collation.

THORBURN FAMILY HELD REUNION HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hanson opened their home at 28 Prince avenue on Sunday for a reunion of Mrs. Hanson's family, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thorburn of 524 Riverside avenue. It was the first time in 28 years that the entire family was together.

Present beside Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, and their son, Richard, and daughter, Joyce; were another daughter, Anita, and her husband, Kenneth Corson of 24 Wiley street, Malden; a daughter, Honora, her husband, Harold Harding and their small daughter, Mabel from Nova Scotia; a son, Bradford, of 42 Norcross street, Lowell, with his wife and son, Bradford, Jr.; a daughter, Dorothy, of the Quincy City Hospital in Quincy; a son, Donald, of 524 Riverside avenue, Medford, popular employee of the Western Auto Co., in Malden; a son, Theodore, and his wife, from Nova Scotia; and a daughter, Etta, her husband, Kenneth Rae of 16 Gorham road, West Medford, and their two daughters, Judith and Jean, and son, Robert.

A family dinner was served and was followed by motion pictures taken of the group by Mr. Hanson. Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary in November.

WINCHESTER WOMEN IN STATE GOLF PLAY

Winchester had several in the Women's State Golf Championship tournament at Weston this week, with Marilyn Wilcox, Arlington girl, landing in the championship flight. She lost 3 and 2 to Dorothy Jansen of Woodland in the first round.

Mrs. Allen Kimball, playing in the first 16, won her first round match from Mrs. H. W. Scholl, Jr., of Charles River, 5 and 4, but succumbed to the handicapper in the second round, losing to Mrs. James Howard of Eastward Ho, who had a handicap of four strokes, 2 and 1.

In the second 16 Mrs. Alan Howard survived the first two rounds and in the third 16 Mrs. R. W. Wilde was still in the competition with two rounds played.

Other Winchester women who did not fare so well were Mrs. Bonnie Sprague, Mrs. Paul Collins, Mrs. Ernest Kuypers, Mrs. F. J. Lynch and a former Winchester woman, Mrs. Charles Wansker.

HANDWRITING EXPERT AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Olive Hanna, handwriting expert and official consultant in matters of handwriting in many criminal cases, will be presented by the Philathea group of the First Baptist church in the social hall of the church at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday evening, Sept. 28. Miss Hanna has a most pleasing personality and manner and a rare way of presenting this subject in which she is so well versed, and a most enjoyable evening is in store for those who hear her.

Refreshments will be served by the Ways and Means Committee of the Philathea group, headed by Mrs. Paul E. Ward, chairman.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

EN KA SOCIETY BOARD MEETING

The activities of the En Ka Society for the winter season began on Wednesday morning, Sept. 23 at 10 o'clock with the executive board meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Forrest L. Pitman. Plans for the year were discussed and Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, chairman of the "What-Not-Shop" announced that new cards were available giving the current store hours. Store hours at the En Ka sponsored What-Not-Shop are now Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. and Saturday from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

The first regular meeting of the Society will take place on the last Tuesday in October.

Telephone conversation with his mother, Mrs. John L. Ayer, last Wednesday, revealed that Mr. Holbrook W. Ayer suffered no damage to his business or home in Miami. He reported the recent hurricane as not quite so severe as previous blows, but of much greater length. Mr. Ayer, a former Winchester boy, has many friends about town.

Standing: Parker Blanchard, Legion finance officer; Dave Coon, Ken Donaghey, John Power, George "Major" Daniels, Don Wilson, Edward A. Bartlett, manager and coach; Ralph H. Bonnell, Winchester Ford dealer. Not in picture: Don Kenton, Leo Williams, Walter Murphy, Dave Dalton and Peter Millett.

JUNIOR LEGION BASEBALL TEAM FETED

Fifteen members of the Winchester Junior Legion baseball team were guests of Winchester Post, 97, A. L., and Ralph Bonnell, Winchester Ford dealer, last Friday evening at the Green Bay Packers-Boston Yanks professional football game in Boston.

In the party were Fred Patterson, Don Kenton, Don Wilson, Ken Donaghey, Dave Coon, Danme Reardon, John Power, Sam Kenton, George Daniels, Leo Williams, Eddie Crowley, Dave Dalton, Tony Cirurso, Managers Peter Millett and Tommy Drohan and Coach Ted Bartlett. Driving the boys to the game were Legion Commander Walter Burns, Kenneth Hall, Parker Blanchard, Sheldon Hamilton, Rod MacDonnell and Connie Bowler.

After the game the party went to a restaurant for sandwiches and ice cream, the junior members of the party, to the amazement of the Legionnaires and Manager Bartlett, topping off with more ice cream and hot dogs. No casualties were reported and a good time was had by all!

HOW MUCH TIME?

Prescription compounding is a painstaking task which calls for the utmost in concentration, skill and precision. The compounding pharmacist must exert every effort to prepare a prescribed medicine which is exactly what your doctor intended. That is why we will not "rush-through" the compounding operations, but will take just that amount of time which is absolutely essential to guarantee perfect accuracy.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Fortnightly was blessed indeed with a beautiful day for their Club House Fund Dessert Bridge held at the Winchester Boat Club on Tuesday, September 21. The warm sun, the glimmering lake with its iridescent sparkle, the boats dancing in rhythmic cadence made the setting ideal for The Fortnightly's opening party of the season.

The guests were greeted by gracious hostesses of the Hospitality Committee Mrs. Jane L. Robinson, Chairman. Dessert was served at one o'clock by members of the Social Committee under the direction of Chairman, Mrs. George Budd.

Entertainment, which consisted of vocal and instrumental music and a comedy skit, was planned by Mrs. J. S. Chaffe, Chairman of Dramatics.

Mrs. Harold H. Given, our charming new President, introduced the program with a few gracious words of welcome.

Members of The Fortnightly have long appreciated and enjoyed the musical talent of Mary Ranton Witham and were delighted indeed to have her open the program with a beautifully rendered piano solo -- Warsaw Concerto, -- Addinsell --. This was followed by two vocal numbers by Suzanne Burr Armstrong, accompanied by Mrs. Witham. The audience listened with great pleasure to the young and enchanting voice of Mrs. Armstrong as she sang two well numbers of Victor Herbert's, "Thine Alone" -- Eileen -- and the "Italian Street Song" from Naughty Marietta. Mrs. Armstrong is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Burr of 43 Central street, Winchester.

A comedy skit entitled, "A Busy Morning at the Winchester Hospital" written by Mrs. William C. Hultgren, completed the program. The Cast was as follows:

Nurse Dolittle Nellie R. Hultgren
Nurse Stalls Madeleine Zimmerman
Nurse Aid Lillian Howe
Nurse Force Marjorie Galucia
Dr. Boil's Gardener Dorothy Wills
Make up Artist Mary Cass
Radio Music Maker Idabelle Winship

If you failed to see this cast in action -- you failed. Period.

Madeleine Zimmerman was great as the whistling nurse, she could well be called Whistler's Whistler.

And what is a Fortnightly show without the indispensable Lillian Howe. Nothing.

Marjorie Galucia is new in our group, but good! We are looking forward with pleasure to seeing more of her dramatic ability.

Mary Cass our filler in, our putter on, our filler up, played back stage as a very capable stage hand.

Idabelle Winship, versatile musician came through beautifully with a radio performance.

Dorothy Wills, as Dr. Boil's gardener, was well worth seeing. When we want to create a riot, on whom do we call? Dorothy Wills. When we need an ace comedienne, on whom de we call? Dorothy Wills.

Nellie Hultgren, -- "the least said the better". She's writing this article!

Bridge followed the program and all reported a good game and a good time.

The attendance exceeded all expectations, extra tables having to be set up with all available space in the Club room used.

Much credit is due to Mrs. Sidney Burr, Chairman of the Club House Fund Committee, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscoe, Co-Chairman for the Dessert Bridge, and their able co-workers.

All in all The Fortnightly Club Fund Dessert Bridge was a grand success.

"PROPHECY PREDICTS PERMANENT PEACE"

"Prophecy Predicts Permanent Peace" is the subject of the first lecture to be presented by Evangelist H. J. Brendel, Sunday night, September 26 at 7:30 in the Odd Fellows Hall in Malden at 442 Main street. This night marks the opening of a series of Prophecy Lectures to be given every Sunday night until December 19. Mr. Brendel is going to make the startling fact of permanent peace clear to everyone who attends.

Beginning promptly at 7:30 the audience will enjoy the favorite singing of Gospel Hymns and instrumental music under the direction of Ernest A. Roy of Stoneham.

This series of meetings include Wednesday and Friday evening meetings as well. On each Wednesday Mr. Brendel will show colored pictures on the subject of: "Learn How To Be Well". Health Demonstrations will be given by doctors, technicians, and nurses. Each Friday evening is devoted to the "Youth Crusade For Christ" program in the same Hall and the same time. Special quiz programs and musicals will enrapture all the youth. Seats are limited, therefore early comers will be taken care of first. Doors open at 6:30.

SONS OF ITALY SOFT BALL CHAMPIONSHIP SACHEMS BOW, 8-2, IN PLAYOFF FINAL

The Sons of Italy won the championship of the Town Softball League by defeating the Sachems last Thursday evening at Ginn Field by a score of 8 to 2. The fact that the final play off series was won so quickly was a surprise to most observers for after the teams had tied the first game, the Sons of Italy captured three in a row to win the coveted title.

The better balance and all around strength of the Sons of Italy, their greater reserve strength, and the depth of their pitching staff enabled the Sons of Italy to emerge victorious. No less than three pitchers won games for the Sons of Italy as DiMambro, Procopio, and Gangi all came through with victories in their starts against the Sachems.

Not once in the four final playoff games were the Sachems able to field their strongest line up and the pitching chores were too much for Redding to carry alone. Without Redding in top form the Sachems were unable to match the offensive and defensive strength of the Sons of Italy.

The Sachems opened the game in strong fashion as they held the Sons of Italy scoreless in the top of the first inning and scored twice in the bottom half as Derby doubled and rode home as R. Coon homered off Ciarcia's glove in deep center. This was their sole offensive display, however, as they were able to collect only one hit off the steady twirling of Gangi over the last four innings.

The Sons of Italy scored once in the second frame when Procopio walked, was sacrificed to second by Ciarcia, and scored on a error. They scored three times in the third to make it 4 to 2. Fiore singled and went to third as Derby tried to make a shoestring catch and the ball bounded by him. DelGrasso walked. A single by A. Tibaudo scored Fiore, with DelGrasso taking third. A long fly scored DelGrasso after the catch, with A. Tibaudo, moving up to second from where he scored on a single by J. Tibaudo.

The Sons of Italy wrapped up the game in the fourth with three more runs. S. Tibaudo walked, stole second, and scored as Halverson committed a two-base error on DelGrasso's fly. DelGrasso scored on A. Tibaudo's double who moved to third on a ground out by Procopio and scored on a safe bunt by Ciarcia.

The final run was scored in the fifth inning when J. Tibaudo reached on an error, was sacrificed to second by Saracco, and scored on a single by Fiore.

It was a fitting climax to a long and interesting summer of softball which saw a record number of over 150 players participating on the eleven teams in the League. Spectator interest remained at a high level all summer, climaxed by the huge turnouts at the playoff games. Players and spectators alike are grateful to the Town Recreation Committee for making possible such an interesting and healthful form of recreation.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT FINALS

Last week-end the Tournament Committee again showed itself to be one of Heaven's favorites. The inundation late Saturday afternoon put the Palmer Street courts into perfect condition for play all day Sunday, so that all parts of the tournament made excellent progress. If the Committee continues its mastery over the elements, all the finals will be played tomorrow and Sunday. As we go to press it can be reported that Henry Fitts did hold true to form last week-end, and is now waiting in the finals of the singles for the top bracket to catch up with him.

Appointments for the playing of semi-finals and finals stand as follows:

Men's singles, semi-final between Herb Ross and Art Hills, Saturday at 11; finals, Sunday at 10. Women's singles, final between Dot Hills and Marnie Norris, Saturday at 10. Men's doubles, semi-final between Hall Gamage and Jimmy Coon and Bud Nutter and G. Ed Williams'; Saturday at 11; final, Sunday at 2:30. Mixed doubles, semi-final between Jimmy and Wee-G Coon and Herb Ross and Sylvia Campbell, Saturday at 10; final, Saturday at 2:30.

Your reporter is glad to add to add to this account that ever since early Spring there has been a rumor to the effect that an anonymous donor had presented a permanent trophy for the Mixed Doubles tournament. Partaking largely of the nature of St. Thomas, we have hesitated all these months to consecrate the rumor with printer's ink. During the past week-end, however, the trophy - a beauty - did materialize, and it can now be openly proclaimed to all and sundry that such a trophy does exist. Since it came into existence at the very end of winter, the officers of the Association wisely decided to begin the long list of coming winners with Dick Hills and Lois Ladd who won the Mixed Doubles just one year ago. The Hills-Ladd team, owing to Lois' absence, has not competed in the current tournament.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO HOLD WHIST AND BRIDGE

A Whist and Bridge Party will be given by the Auxiliary to Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, on Monday evening, September 27, at 8:00 p. m. at the Legion Home, 34 Vine street.

Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

Ted Covert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Covert of Highland avenue, left Sunday to enter the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. Ted graduated from Winchester High School in June, having been captain of the cross country team and a distance runner on the track team.

ROTARY NEWS

With the Fall season well under way Rotary played to an almost capacity house this week with Don Simonds presiding. To signal the return to normalcy the luncheon consisted of rare roast beef which is rare on any table these times. Make-ups were routine and, with the exception of John Wallace's barnstorming tour of the Middle West where he made up and no doubt spoke at Chicago, they were all nearer at home. Larry Dallin got as far as Quincy and prexy Don went into the Boston Club but there seems to be no excuse for John McIntyre and Gordon Bird's make-ups at Woburn.

Among the guests was Forbes Norris's famous aquatic star son who briefly spoke of his stay in England and how really tight things are there in every way. Charlie Murphy being on temporary vacation as vice-president Dick Sheehy showed up as surprise starter and after a personal anecdote without names but using a rather long finger, he introduced the guest speaker for the day - Ed Powers of the Boston Garden.

In the limited time at his disposal Ed couldn't really do justice to the many tales and legends that have already been built around the garden for although it was only built in 1928 it is already an institution in Boston. Mr. Powers, who has been with the garden since its opening, told of the highlights of his career there and many stories of great and near-great athletes starting in 1928 with one of the greatest of all times Bruin's team he told of the advent of many attractions that were never dreamed of by the backers of the garden such as the great ice shows, the rodeo, the circus together with boxing and wrestling which of late years has greatly declined here in Boston. He paid tribute to all athletes in general and more in particular the professionals stressing the point that if our youth had more competitive sports there would be far less juvenile problems today. A very enlightening and entertaining talk. Thank you, Ed Powers...

ATTENDED WATER WORKS CONVENTION

Mr. Edmund C. Sanderson, chairman of the Water and Sewer Board, with acting Superintendent James D. Halwartz, attended the New England Water Works Convention last week at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York upon the invitation of the American Water and Sewer Association. Between five and six hundred representatives of municipal water works attended the convention.

The work of constructing the new bowling alleys at the Sport Center on Winchester place is progressing rapidly. Already the alleys have been constructed and the work of spacing them and finishing the top surface is going on. Once the alleys are completed, installing of the furnishings and decorations will go through very fast and Mr. Navaro expects to hold his opening within a few weeks.

Mary Jane has just summed up one reason why our electric companies have to keep everlastingly planning and building for the future. Year after year we all use more electricity. And to meet this steadily increasing demand there is an immense expansion program under way right now in every New England state. By 1952 this new generating capacity will deliver an additional 834,000 kilowatts. And planning has already begun for the future needs of Mary Jane and her generation.

WINCHESTER WON FOOTBALL OPENER

Lexington 20-7 Victim Before Big Crowd

Winchester High opened its 1948 football season with a 20-7 win over a pretty fair looking Lexington High team before a good sized crowd on Manchester Field last Saturday afternoon. Except for a few seats for the team there were no seats on the visitors side of the field, and the crowd standing along the sidelines overflowed into the end zones.

Winchester outweighed Lexington and the hot-weather white jerseys worn by the locals made them look even bigger. Coach Knowlton has another sizeable team this year, and for a first-game effort on a very hot afternoon the boys' showing was very satisfactory. Combining a potentially powerful running attack with a passing game good for better than 100 yards the locals, while their first team was in action, dominated play, and despite some fairly obvious mistakes, showed promise.

Lexington outrushed the locals, 167 yards to 158, due principally to a lot of ground covered by the visitors against the local scrubs late in the game. Winchester had a 10-8 edge in first downs and had a big advantage in the air, completing half of its 12 passes for 109 yards while the Minuteboys couldn't make but one of their three passes click, that one being nullified by an offside. Winchester lost 40 yards to the white pants while Lexington was set back 20, several of its penalties being costly.

The boys had hardly gotten going when Winchester scored. A forward pass from Dillingham to "Holly" Myers put the ball on Winchester's 48, first and ten, and on the next play Myers reversed from his right wingback slot 52 yards around the Lexington right flank for the first touchdown of the season, getting some nice blocking up along the line of scrimmage. Paul Amico place-kicked the extra point and the locals led, 7-0.

Midway through the second quarter a 15 yard penalty for clipping set the locals back to their 41 and two plays later Sherwood intercepted a Winchester pass and nearly got away, being tackled by Migliacci at Winchester's 35. From there the visitors largely through the effective outside running of Sullivan drove close to a touchdown, being finally stopped inside the Winchester five.

The third quarter wasn't far along when Winchester scored again. With the ball at the locals' 45 Amico faked a buck and passed to Carroll, who lateralled out to Dillingham, with Peter arching a long pass down the field to Captain Vern Slack.

It wasn't a good pass and Slack had to turn for it, but he grabbed it and pushed along about 20 yards to the Lexington 10. Amico was piled up at center, but on the next play, apparently another buck, leaped up to pass to Slack again, tall Vern taking the leather on the goal line and going over easily.

Amico failed to kick the goal, but a few minutes later the locals had scored again. A penalty forced Lexington to kick and Dillingham made a nice 20 yard run-back to Lexington's 46.

A pass from Dillingham to Slack made first down at Lexington's 29. Another pass from Pete to Mascioli reached the 19 and another first down. Dillingham picked up six off tackle and with the ball at the 13 Harry Carroll busted through on a sneak to within a half-yard of pay-dirt. Carroll carried over on the next play, and this time Dillingham passed to Myers for the extra point.

With a 20-0 lead Coach Knowlton commenced sending in subs. Sherwood made a corking runback of Slack's kickoff after the Winchester score, going 30 yards to midfield before Slack himself brought him down.

From that point, Lexington put together runs of 12, nine and 10 yards to reach first down at the locals 19. In two rushes the Minuteboys had a first down at the four, from where Adams went over inside his own left tackle. Sullivan circled Winchester's left end for the extra point, but the Minuteboys were offside and had to try again from five yards further back. They easily made the grade on a fake sweep and delayed buck Sullivan again loping through the fooled Winchester forwards without being touched.

The local "Heebie Jeebies" nearly scored on the following kickoff when Richmond passed the ball to the crossing Danny Devlin, and aided by some great blocking, Danny worked himself into the clear, only to be hauled down from behind on the Lexington 24. A potential pass play didn't go quite far enough and Lexington took over on downs, driving from its 26 to the Winchester 20 as time ran out. The summary:

DOG WEEK

A Tribute

THE DOG
Anonymous

I've never known a dog to wag
 His tail in glee he did not feel,
Nor quit his old-time friend to tag
 At some more influential heel.
The yellowest cur I ever knew
 Was to the boy who loved him true.
I've never known a dog to show
 Half-way devotion to his friend;
To seek a kinder man to know,
 Or richer; but unto the end
The humblest dog dog I ever knew
 Was to the man that loved him true.
I've never known a dog to fake
 Affection for a present gain,
A false display of love to make
 Some little favor to attain
I've never known a Prince or Spot
 That seemed to be what he was not.
And I have known a dog to bear
 Starvation's pangs from day to day,
With him who had been glad to share
 His bread and meat along the way.
No dog, however mean or rude,
 Is guilty of ingratitude.

SOFT BALL SUNDAY

Sons of Italy vs Town Line of Woburn at Ginn Field

Local soft ball fans shouldn't miss the inter-community game Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock on Ginn Field with the Sons of Italy team, champions of the Winchester Soft Ball League, meeting the champions of the Woburn City League, the Town Line Cafe.

These two teams should put on a good show. Both have a lot of strength and color, and have played together long enough to keep their feet on the ground in tough competition.

There is a world of power packed into that Town Line team with sluggers like Paul Curran, Johnny Gillis and Paul Sheerin, to mention only a few. "Cute" Higgins is the type of player that keeps a team on its toes and players like Billy Duran, "Yarby" Foley and Henry Budreau have been around long enough to know what it all is about.

The Sons of Italy team needs no introduction to local fans. Year in and year out they have won a big majority of their games, and their recent conquest of the Sachems in the Winchester soft ball league finale would indicate that they are sharp right now.

Who will umpire the game remains to be seen. He will need to be GOOD!

Proceeds from the game will be donated to "Tony" Saraco, local soft ball player who broke his leg during the recent playoffs.

DRAFT PROSPECTS REGISTERING LATE

Misunderstanding of Law Indicated by Many

W. Allan Wilde, secretary of the local Selective Service Registration board serving Winchester, told the STAR this week that there is an apparent misunderstanding of the necessity of registering for the draft if one is a male living in the United States and between the ages of 18 and 26 years. Prior military service, or membership in any of the service reserve units does not exempt one from the necessity of registering, whether or not the registrat is actually subject to draft.

It is Mr. Wilde's opinion that many Winchester young men who should have registered during the period of public registration have not done so. He bases his belief on the fact that Winchester registrants number only 752 whereas the draft authorities expected about twice this number of registration in this town.

Naturally many Winchester young men may have registered outside town as they had the right to do, but Mr. Wilde still feels that there are many men of draft age who have not registered, and has asked the STAR to remind those subject to registration that failure to do so can result in a fine of $10,000, or five years in prison, or both.

At the town hall Mrs. Alice Eberle, general clerk, has been appointed to register those youths who have reached the age of 18 since September 19. This week she has had several registrants of a higher age level who should have registered during the previous registration period.

The local authorities have taken these registrations and for the time being will continue to do so. What the ultimate outcome will be of failure to register on time can not be definitely said, but the possible penalties are such as to make it advisable for all those who should have registered, and have not, to do so at once.

PARISH PLAYERS TRYOUTS TUESDAY

The Parish Players will hold try-outs on Tuesday evening, September 28, at 7:45 p. m. in Parish Hall, First Congregational Church, for their fall play, "Pygmalion" by G. B. Shaw. There are excellent parts for both men and women in this play, and the Players extend a very cordial welcome to all those interested in theatricals to try out for this play.

Mr. Harlan Grant of Cambridge, director of successful plays for many other amateur groups, and of the Weston Summer Theatre, Weston, Vermont, will direct. The play "Pygmalion" will be presented in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire on November 4, 5 and 6.

Now available in the paper line: Dustex dusting tissue, paper napkins, coffee cups, at Wilson the Stationer, Star Building.

JONES — BROWNE

In a simple setting of Palms and white gladiolas, at the First Baptist Church on Monday afternoon, September 20, Miss Mary Sally Browne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Browne of Lewiston, Me., became the bride of Frank Proctor Jones, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Jones of Highland avenue. Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the church, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Music Hall on Bacon street.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Browne wore a gown of white Duchess satin with a yoke of seed pearls. Her veil of white illusion was arranged with a matching net crown and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Miss Joan Pulsifer Bauer of Cape Elizabeth, Me., was Miss Browne's honor attendant, and the bridesmaids were Miss Jocelyn Patterson of Freeport, Long Island, N. Y., cousin of the bride; Miss Rose Marie Cote of Lewiston, Me., Miss Martha Hocking of Wakefield and Miss Valencia Dionne of Lewiston.

The honor attendant wore a white moire taffeta dress with marquisette at the sweetheart neckline, matching lace mits and a wide-brimmed hat. Her flowers were fan-shaped split carnations shading from light to dark rose.

The bridesmaids wore dresses like that of the honor attendant with matching hats and lace mitts. Their flowers were also carnations in two shades of rose with the predominating shade, dark.

David Abbott of Winchester was best man for Mr. Jones and the ushers were Lloyd Wallis of Winchester, Malcolm S. Moore of Maplewood, N. J., David C. Wilson of Concord and Louis O. Tonry of Milton.

The bride is a graduate of Lewiston High School and of Westbrook Junior College. Mr. Jones graduated from Hebron Academy and after service at the Pensacola Air Station during the war is now a student at Bowdoin where he is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. He and his bride will make their home at 14 Belmont street in Brunswick, Me.

Eversharp Slim Jim rectractible ball-pointed pen, $1.95, at Wilson the Stationer, Star Building.

ADAMS — McGRATH

Wearing an orchid corsage with her dove grey suit and hat, Miss Helen McGrath, daughter of Mrs. James Roy McGrath of Elmwood avenue, and the late Mr. McGrath, was married on Sunday, September 12, at St. Mary's Rectory to George F. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred I. Adams of Dorchester. Rev. Fr. John O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's performed the marriage ceremony at 3 o'clock, and a reception followed at the Hotel Commander in Cambridge.

Mrs. Mary L. Fitzpatrick attended her sister, wearing a suit and hat of hunter's green and a gardenia corsage. Daniel G. McDonald of Neponset was Mr. Adam's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams are making their home at 3 Joy street in Boston.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and is a secretary with the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work. Mr. Adams is a member of the Boston Police Department and a graduate of Hyde Park High School.

Mrs. Caleb Spencer of Goodwin's Mills, Me., and her small daughter, "Kathie", has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Knowlton of Maxwell road this week.

WHAT MAKES THE WHEELS GO 'ROUND

Until we talked with Chief Engineer Edward F. Hart we had been dismissing the heat-light-power problem of the Hospital somewhat lightly with the thought "Oh, yes, it is a huge household with more radiators, more lights and a few special gadgets not found in our homes, but nothing startling." We have found that it is more than startling.

First of all, the steam. In the two H. R. T. high pressure boilers of two hundred horse-power capacity, the steam is carried at seventy-five pounds pressure for sterilizing and for laundry use. For the heating system the steam passes through reducing valves to lower the pressure. And one bit of information entirely new to us was that a considerable amount of cooking has been done with steam ever since 1927, either with live steam or in containers heated by steam jackets. The sterilization of dressings and instruments is done at 250 degrees with carefully adjusted pressure inside and outside the sterilizers. The distilled water, stored and used directly from tanks with capacities ranging from thirty gallons to ten gallons, is secured from live steam which passes through a still after sterilization.

The Hospital makes all its own ice in a machine with a twelve-hundred pound capacity, and has its own ice crusher. Two other machines supply refrigeration for five boxes of moderate storage capacity. For more adequte storage we need a walk-in box with deep freeze units.

The hot water supply for the Hospital and Nurses' Home is in a circulating system so that it is constantly at maximum temperature.

The fuel used in generating the steam is a mixture of screenings and soft coal, a great saving in expense over all other possible kinds of fuel. The amount used annually is approximately six hundred tons.

All our electricity is supplied by Edison and enters the power house on three separate lines: (1) high power for X-ray machines, (2) 220 volt current which runs the several three-phase motors, including X-ray machines, refrigeration system, the new automatically-controlled dumbwaiter, and large exhaust fans, and (3) low voltage for lighting and small motors. (It is of special importance to our protection from fire hazard that the refrigerators use non-combustible Freeon Gas.) For the patients' bell system, the 115 volt lighting current is stepped down to 12 volts.

The engineering staff consists of three senior appointees and one junior for the daytime shifts and a night engineer. A fully qualified engineer is on duty at all hours, day and night. In addition to the duties obviously connected with the services described, the engineers have charge of the anesthesia tanks, the oxygen tents, and all gauges and motors in the operating rooms which are air-conditioned by a seven and one-half ton Deleo machine.

Mr. Hart's reminiscences extend back to his taking charge in 1925 when the present power house and laundry were built in preparation for the first addition to the present Hospital. Before that, the power units were housed in what is now the Hospital Linen Room. Mr. Hart recalls the tremendous difficulties connected with supplying service to the enlarged hospital opened in 1927. Before connections were completed and things were running fairly smoothly, Miss Olive MacKay, Superintendent of Nurses, threatened to resign. Every foot of steam pipe seemed to be beating a tattoo in a different rhythm, and Miss MacKay lived in a room on the third floor of the hospital where she found sleep almost impossible. How different a picture this is from the present situation in which the engineers keep things running so smoothly that difficulties are the exception and Staff members and patients are seldom inconvenienced.

BROTHERHOOD BREAKFAST TO START OFF SEASON

Mr. Everett D. Littlefield, president of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church, announces that the first fall meeting of this group will be preceded by one of their now-famous breakfasts to be prepared and served by the men in the social hall of the church at 8:45 a. m., Sunday, Sept. 26.

Following the breakfast fellowship the Brotherhood will hear Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the church, begin his series of lessons on the story of the Religions in America.

This course promises to be a most interesting and instructive one, and all men are invited to both the breakfast and the class following at 9:30.

Winchester's new snow loader, for which funds were provided at the March Town Meeting, after considerable discussion, pro and con, has arrived and is now at the town yard. Few citizens will complain if it has very little work to do this coming winter.

Albert S. DiBenedetto of 29 Harvard street was painfully injured last Saturday morning when he was thrown from his motorcycle on upper Main street after striking a dog. Officers John Dolan and Edward Bowler took DiBenedetto to the Winchester Hospital where he was treated by Dr. William D. Barone for an injury to his left hip. The dog, a German shepherd, owned by Leroy J. Shute of 4 Horn Pond Brook road, ran off after the accident, apparently unhurt.

Swampscott is bringing a ninety piece band to Winchester for Saturday's football game, which should add a battle of music to the struggle on the gridiron. Park Department men have put up the seats on the other side of the field for this week which should be a big help. Faculty Manager George Curtis estimated a loss of revenue amounting to about $400 because the seats were not ready for the season's opener with Lexington.

Consult the Continental Travel Service, 4 Common street, WInchester 6-3077 for complete travel information.
